20 If I [9]justify myself, mine own mouth shall condemn me: if I say, I am perfect, it shall also prove me perverse.

Ch. 9. B. C. 1520.

1. In chs. 9 and 10 is recorded Job's second reply or his answer to Bildad.

2. Vs. 2-12, the apparent antagonism of God to the righteous, as indicated to Job by his own case, is a mystery.

3. Man could not have an answer for "one in a thousand of his sins."

4. Remained unpunished.

5. A Hebraism for "in a moment."

6. Job regards death as the work of God.

7. Such as I.

8. Vs. 17-20, Job declares his sufferings proved God to be almighty, but not just.

9. Job declares it impossible to plead against God.

10. Job here asserts his own innocence, a fact he shrank from in v. 20, but in his extreme agony of soul and body he yields to the temptation.

11. If God be not the author of this state of affairs, who is?

12. A courier or messenger.

13. Snow-water was regarded by the ancients as possessing peculiar cleansing power.

Ch. 10. B. C. 1520.

1. I will give "loose or rein" to my complaint.

2. Though in v. 20 of ch. 9, Job charged God with declaring him guilty, he now prays God "Fasten not guilt upon me."

3. Is it becoming thee?

4. Not limited to eyes of flesh, but comprehends the heart.

5. Job here declares that God will outlive man, therefore there is no necessity for hurried punishment, consequently to administer it would not be justice.

21 Though I were [10]perfect, yet would I not know my soul: I would despise my life.
22 This is one thing, therefore I said it, [g]He destroyeth the perfect and the wicked.
23 If the scourge slay suddenly, he will laugh at the trial of the innocent.
24 The earth is given into the hand of the wicked: he covereth the faces of the judges thereof; if not, where, and [12]who is he?
25 [11]Now my days are swifter than a post: they flee away, they see no good.
26 They are passed away as the swift ships: as the eagle that hasteth to the prey.
27 If I say, I will forget my complaint, I will leave off my heaviness, and comfort myself:
28 I am afraid of all my sorrows, I know that thou wilt not hold me innocent.
29 If I be wicked, why then labour I in vain?
30 If I wash myself with snow [13]water, and make my hands never so clean;
31 Yet shalt thou plunge me in the ditch, and mine own clothes shall abhor me.
32 For [h]he is not a man, as I am, that I should answer him, and we should come together in judgment.
33 Neither is there any [i]daysman betwixt us, that might lay his hand upon us both.
34 Let him take his rod away from me, and let not his fear terrify me:
35 Then would I speak, and not fear him; but it is not so with me.

CHAPTER 10.

1 Job, taking liberty of complaint, expostulateth with God about his afflictions. 18 He complaineth of life, and craveth a little ease before death.

1 My soul is weary of my life; I will leave my [1]complaint upon myself; I will speak in the bitterness of my soul.
2 I will say unto God, Do not [2]condemn me; shew me wherefore thou contendest with me.
3 Is [3]it good unto thee that thou shouldest oppress, that thou shouldest despise the work of thine hands, and shine upon the counsel of the wicked?
4 Hast thou [4]eyes of flesh? or [a]seest thou as man seeth?
5 Are thy days [5]as the days of man? are thy years as man's days, 6 That thou enquirest after mine iniquity, and searchest after my sin?

upholdeth him with his hand. (Ps. 37:24.) And the very God of peace sanctify you wholly; and I pray God your whole spirit and soul and body be preserved blameless unto the coming of our Lord Jesus Christ. Faithful is he that calleth you, who also will do it. (I Thes. 5:23, 24.) Remember, I pray thee, whoever perish, being innocent? or where were the righteous cut off? (Job 4:7.)

Chapter 9.

a. And enter not into judgment with thy servant: for in thy sight shall no man living be justified. (Ps. 143:2.) Therefore by the deeds of the law there shall no flesh be justified in his sight: for by the law is the knowledge of sin. (Rom. 3:20.) Knowing that a man is not justified by the works of the law, but by the faith of Jesus Christ, even we have believed in Jesus Christ, that we might be justified by the faith of Christ, and not by the works of the law: for by the works of the law shall no flesh be justified. (Gal. 2:16.)

b. Yet once, it is a little while, and I will shake the heavens, and the earth, and the sea, and the dry land (6). I will shake the heavens and the earth. (Hag. 2:6, 21.) Whose voice then shook the earth: but now he hath promised, saying, Yet once more I shake not the earth only, but also heaven. (Heb. 12:26.)

c. Behold, I go forward, but he is not there; and backward, but I cannot perceive him: On the left hand, where he doth work, but I cannot behold him: he hideth himself on the right hand, that I cannot see him. (Job 23:8, 9.) Although thou sayest thou shalt not see him, yet judgment is before him; therefore trust thou in him. (Job 35:14.)

d. Woe unto him that striveth with his Maker! Let the potsherd strive with the potsherds of the earth. Shall the clay say to him that fashioneth it, What makest thou? or thy work, He hath no hands? (Is. 45:9.) Cannot I do with you as this potter? saith the Lord. Behold, as the clay is in the potter's hand, so are ye in mine hand, O house of Israel. (Jer. 18:6.) Nay but, O man, who art thou that repliest against God? Shall the thing formed say to him that formed it, Why hast thou made me thus? (Rom. 9:20.) For shall the work say of him that made it, He made me not? or shall the thing framed say of him that framed it, He had no understanding? (Is. 29:16.)

e. If I be wicked, woe unto me; and if I be righteous, yet will I not lift up mine head. I am full of confusion; therefore see thou mine affliction. (Job 10:15.) Now we know that what things soever the law saith, it saith to them who are under the law; that every mouth may be stopped, and all the world may become guilty before God. (Rom. 3:19.)

f. Should I lie against my right? my wound is incurable without transgression. (Job 34:6.) Neither hath this man sinned, nor his parents; but that the works of God should be made manifest in him. (Jno. 9:3.)

h. That which hath been is named already, and it is known that it is man: neither may he contend with him that is mightier than he. (Ecc. 6:10.) Shall the thing formed say to him that formed it, Why hast thou made me thus? (Rom. 9:20.)

i. If one man sin against another, the judge shall judge him: but if a man sin against the Lord, who shall entreat for him? Notwithstanding they hearkened not unto the voice of their father, because the Lord would slay them. (I Sam. 2:25.) For there is one God, and one mediator between God and men, the man Christ Jesus. (I Tim. 2:5.)

a. Look not on his countenance, or on the height of his stature; because I have refused him: for the Lord seeth not as man seeth; for man looketh on the outward appearance, but the Lord looketh on the heart. (I Sam. 16:7.)

7 Thou knowest that I am [c]not wicked; and there is none that can deliver out of thine hand.

8 [7]Thine [b]hands have made me and fashioned me together round about; yet thou dost destroy me.

9 Remember, I beseech thee, that thou hast made me as the clay; and wilt thou bring me into dust again?

10 Hast thou not poured me out as milk, and curdled me like cheese?

11 Thou hast clothed me with skin and flesh, and hast fenced me with bones and sinews.

12 Thou hast granted me life and favour, and thy visitation hath preserved my spirit.

13 [8]And these things hast thou hid in thine heart: I know that this is with thee.

14 If I sin, then thou markest me, and thou wilt not acquit me from mine iniquity.

15 If I be wicked, [c]woe unto me; and if I be righteous, yet will I not lift up my head. I am full of confusion; therefore [d]see thou mine affliction;

16 For it increaseth. Thou huntest me as a fierce lion: and again thou shewest thyself marvellous upon me.

17 Thou renewest thy witnesses against me, and increasest thine indignation upon me; changes and war are against me.

18 Wherefore then hast thou brought me forth out of the womb? Oh that I had given up the ghost, and no eye had seen me!

19 I should have been as though I had not been; I should have been carried from the womb to the grave.

20 Are not my days few? cease then, and let me alone, that I may take comfort a little,

21 Before I go whence I shall not return, even to the land of darkness and [c]the shadow of death:

22 A land of darkness, as darkness itself: and of the shadow of death, without any order, and where the light is as darkness.

CHAPTER 11.

1 Zophar reproveth Job for justifying himself. 5 God's wisdom is unsearchable. 13 The assured blessing of repentance.

1 [1]Then answered Zō'phar the Nā'a-mathīte, and said,

2 [2]Should not the multitude of words be answered? and should a man full of talk be justified?

3 Should thy lies make men hold their peace? and when thou mockest, shall no man make thee ashamed?

4 For thou hast said, My doctrine is [3]pure, and I am clean in thine eyes.

5 But oh that God would speak, and open his lips against thee;

6 And that he would shew thee the secrets of wisdom, that they are double to that which is! Know therefore that [a]God exacteth of [4]thee less than thine iniquity deserveth.

7 [5]Canst thou [b]by searching find out God? canst thou find out the Almighty unto perfection?

8 It is as high as [c]heaven; what canst thou do? deeper than hell; what canst thou know?

9 The measure thereof is longer than the earth, and broader than the sea.

10 If he [7]cut off, and shut up, or gather together, then who can hinder him?

11 For [c]he knoweth vain men: he seeth wickedness also; will he not then consider it?

12 For vain man would be wise, though man be born like a wild ass's colt.

13 [8]If thou [d]prepare thine heart, and stretch out thine hands toward him;

14 If iniquity be in thine hand, put it far away, and let not wickedness dwell in thy tabernacles.

15 For then shalt thou lift up thy face without spot; yea, thou shalt be stedfast, and shalt not fear:

16 [9]Because thou shalt forget thy misery, and remember it as [10]waters that pass away:

17 And thine age shall be clearer than the noonday; thou shalt shine forth, thou shalt be as the morning.

18 [11]And thou shalt be secure, because there is hope; yea, thou shalt dig about thee, and thou shalt take thy rest in safety.

19 Also thou shalt lie down, and none shall make thee afraid; yea, many shall make suit unto thee.

20 But the eyes of the wicked shall fail, and [c]they shall not escape, and their [12]hope shall be as the giving up of the ghost.

CHAPTER 12.

1 Job maintaineth himself against his friends that reprove him. 7 He acknowledgeth God's omnipotency.

1 [1]And Jōb answered and said,

2 No doubt but [2]ye are the people, and wisdom shall die with you.

3 But I have understanding as well as you; I am not inferior to you: yea, who knoweth not such things as these?

4 I am as one mocked of his neighbour, [c]who calleth upon God, and he answereth him: the just upright man is laughed to scorn.

5 He that is ready to slip with his feet is as a [3]lamp despised in the thought of him that is at ease.

6 The tabernacles of [b]robbers prosper, and they that provoke God are secure; into whose hand God bringeth abundantly.

7 [4]But ask [c]now the [5]beasts, and they shall

6. Job had previously confessed himself to be a sinner; he therefore means here, a distinction from the gross or overtly wicked.

7. Vs. 8-12, Job declares his treatment now is not in keeping with the love and wisdom displayed in the creation of man.

8. Vs. 13-22, Job declares that a life of misery is less desirable than death.

Ch. 11. B. C. 1520.

1. In this ch. Zophar delivers his first address. It should be observed that each of Job's friends (?) appealed to a different source of authority in his attempt to convince Job of his sin. Eliphaz appeals to the spiritual world; Bildad to the wisdom of the past; Zophar, the youngest of the three, relies on himself. Zophar regards Job's calamities as direct punishments from God; as proof of his position, he portrays in beautiful imagery the happiness and security of the just, concluding with the doom of the wicked.

2. Vs. 2-6, a severe censure pronounced upon Job.

3. The claim made by Job, i. e., he was without intentional sin.

4. That is, God forgives more than he punishes, consequently Zophar seeks to inform Job that his sins are greater than his punishment.

5. Vs. 7-9, God's wisdom is unsearchable.

6. The wisdom of God is above the heavens, beneath the depths of Sheol (the under world) and broader than the sea.

7. If he pass by and gather the people together in trial, who can prevent it?

8. Vs. 13-20, Zophar exhorts Job to repentance.

9. Vs. 16, 17, present sorrows forgotten.

10. A figure—thy grief, now so tumultuous, will completely pass away, as the waters of the mountain torrents, if thou wilt only repent.

11. Vs. 18-20, Job shall always be held securely within the fold, if he repents.

12. The downfall of the wicked is beyond recovery, except through repentance, and thus without repentance, Job will die.

Ch. 12. B. C. 1520.

1. Beginning with ch. 12, is recorded Job's third reply, and in a single sentence (v. 6) he sets at naught all their pretentious arguments. Then Job turns to God, who is infinite in knowledge and power, and who holds the results of all things in his hands, and pleads the miserable lot of man, as a reason for clemency on the part of God. Job is painfully aware that in his semi-complaining appeal he takes his life in his own hands, yet so boundless is his faith in the love, justice and mercy of God, that he declares that though God should smite him, yet will he trust him. With the entire physical man overburdened with pain, and his soul pricked to the quick by the thrusts of persecuting friends, he prays to God that he will hide him in the grave until the present dark scheme shall have passed, then give him another trial under a different regime.

2. With irony, Job would meet their false reasoning.

3. As a torch to the wanderer, so Job has been to his friends. Once they gladly used his aid in their need, and they in their prosperity mock him in his need.

4. Vs. 7-12. Even the brute creation might have taught Zophar that divine wisdom about which he spoke so much.

5. The scriptures frequently summon the so-called inferior creation to instruct man in things pertaining to wisdom. The world of instinct is a mystery into which man cannot enter. "Every creature has a trumpet in his mouth to proclaim the Deity."

b. The Lord will perfect that which concerneth me: thy mercy, O Lord, endureth for ever: forsake not the works of thine own hands. (Ps. 138:8.) But now, O Lord, thou art our Father; we are the clay, and thou our potter; and all are the work of thine hand. (Is. 64:8.) Thine hands have made me and fashioned me: give me understanding, that I may learn thy commandments. (Ps. 119:73.)

c. Woe unto the wicked! it shall be ill with him: for the reward of his hands shall be given him. (Is. 3:11.) But we are all as an unclean thing, and all our righteousnesses are as filthy rags; and we all do fade as a leaf; and our iniquities, like the wind, have taken us away. (Is. 64:6.) So likewise ye, when ye shall have done all those things which are commanded you, say, We are unprofitable servants: we have done that which was our duty to do. (Luke 17:10.)

d. Look upon mine affliction and my pain; and forgive all my sins. (Ps. 25:18.)

e. Yea, though I walk through the valley of the shadow of death, I will fear no evil: for thou art with me; thy rod and thy staff they comfort me. (Ps. 23:4.) Let darkness and the shadow of death stain it; let a cloud dwell upon it; let the blackness of the day terrify it. (Job 3:5.)

Chapter 11.

a. Thou camest down also upon mount Sinai, and spakest with them from heaven, and gavest them right judgments, and true laws, good statutes and commandments. It is of the Lord's mercies that we are not consumed, because his compassions fail not. (Lam. 3:22.)

b. He hath made every thing beautiful in his time: also he hath set the world in their heart; so that no man can find out the work that God maketh from the beginning to the end. (Ecc. 3:11.) O the depth of the riches both of the wisdom and knowledge of God! how unsearchable are his judgments, and his ways past finding out! (Rom. 11:33.)

c. I the Lord search the heart, I try the reins, even to give every man according to his ways, and according to the fruit of his doings. (Jer. 17:10.) Neither is there any creature that is not manifest in his sight: but all things are naked and opened unto the eyes of him with whom we have to do. (Heb. 4:13.)

d. And he did evil, because he prepared not his heart to seek the Lord. (II Chr. 12:14.) We will not hide them from their children, showing to the generation to come the praises of the Lord, and his strength, and his wonderful works that he hath done. (Ps. 78:4.)

e. Therefore the flight shall perish from the swift, and the strong shall not strengthen his force, neither shall the mighty deliver himself. (Amos 2:14.)

a. He shall call upon me, and I will answer him: I will be with him in trouble; I will deliver him, and honor him. (Ps. 91:15.)

b. I have seen the wicked in great power, and spreading himself like a green bay tree. Yet he passed away, and, lo, he was not: yea, I sought him, but he could not be found. (Ps. 37:35, 36.)

c. Go to the ant, thou sluggard; consider her ways, and be wise. (Prov. 6:6.)

teach thee; and the fowls of the air, and they shall tell thee:

8 Or speak to the earth, and it shall teach thee: and the fishes of the sea shall declare unto thee.

9 Who knoweth not in all these that the hand of the [e]Lord hath wrought this?

10 In [d]whose hand is the soul of every living thing, and the breath of all mankind.

11 Doth not the ear try words? and the mouth taste his meat?

12 With [7]the ancient is wisdom; and in length of days understanding.

13 [8]With [e]him [e]is wisdom and strength, he hath counsel and understanding.

14 Behold, he breaketh down, and it cannot be built again: he shutteth up a man, and there can be no opening.

15 Behold, he [f]withholdeth the [10]waters, and they dry up: also he sendeth them out, and they overturn the earth.

16 With him is strength and wisdom: the deceived and the deceiver are his.

17 He leadeth counsellors away spoiled, and maketh the judges fools.

18 He looseth the bond of kings, and girdeth their loins with a girdle.

19 He leadeth princes away spoiled, and overthroweth the mighty.

20 He removeth [g]away the speech of the trusty, and taketh away the understanding of the aged.

21 He poureth contempt upon princes, and weakeneth the strength of the mighty.

22 He [h]discovereth deep things out of darkness, and bringeth out to light the shadow of death.

23 [i]He increaseth the nations, and destroyeth them: he enlargeth the nations, and straiteneth them again.

24 He taketh away the heart of the chief of the people of the earth, and causeth them to wander in a wilderness where there is no way.

25 They grope in the dark without light, and he [11]maketh them to stagger like a drunken man.

CHAPTER 13.

1 Job reproveth his friends of partiality. 14 He professeth his confidence in God: 20 and intreateth to know his sins, and God's purpose in afflicting him.

1 [1]Lo, mine eye hath seen all this, mine ear hath heard and understood it.

2 What ye know, the same do I know also: I am not inferior unto you.

3 Surely I would speak to the Almighty, and I desire to reason with God.

4 But ye are forgers of [2]lies, ye are all physicians of no value.

5 O that ye would altogether hold your peace! and [a]it should be your wisdom.

6 Hear now my [3]reasoning, and hearken to the pleadings of my lips.

7 Will ye speak wickedly for God? and talk deceitfully for him?

8 Will ye accept [4]his person? will ye contend for God?

9 Is it good that he should search you out? or as one man mocketh another, do ye so mock him?

10 He will surely reprove you, if ye do secretly accept persons.

11 Shall not his excellency make you afraid? and his dread fall upon you?

12 Your remembrances are like unto ashes, your bodies to bodies of clay.

13 [5]Hold your peace, let me alone, that I may speak, and let come on me what will.

14 Wherefore do I take my flesh in my teeth, and put my life in [6]mine hand?

15 Though [b]he slay me, yet will I [7]trust in him: but I will maintain mine own ways before him.

16 He also shall [8]be [c]my salvation: for an hypocrite shall not come before him.

17 [9]Hear diligently my speech, and my declaration with your ears.

18 Behold now, I have ordered my cause; I know that I shall be justified.

19 Who is [10]he that will plead with me? for now, if I hold my tongue, I shall give up the ghost.

20 Only do not two [11]things unto me: then will I not hide myself from thee.

21 Withdraw thine hand far from me: and let not thy [12]dread make me afraid.

22 Then call thou, [13]and I will answer: or let me speak, and answer thou me.

23 [14]How [15]many are mine iniquities and sins? make me to know my transgression and my sin.

24 [d]Wherefore hidest thou thy face, and holdest me for thine enemy?

25 Wilt thou break a leaf driven to and fro? and wilt thou pursue the dry stubble?

26 For thou writest bitter things against me, and [e]makest me to possess the iniquities of my youth.

27 Thou puttest my feet also in the [16]stocks, and lookest narrowly unto all my paths; thou settest a print upon the heels of my feet.

28 And he, as a rotten thing, consumeth, as a garment that is moth eaten.

CHAPTER 14.

1 Job intreateth God for favour, by the shortness of life, and certainty of death. 7 Though life once lost be irrecoverable, yet he waiteth for his change. 16 By sin the creature is subject to corruption.

d. O God, the God of the spirits of all flesh, shall one man sin, and wilt thou be wroth with all the congregation? (Num. 16:22.) But hast lifted up thyself against the Lord of heaven; and they have brought the vessels of his house before thee, and thou, and thy lords, thy wives, and thy concubines, have drunk wine in them; and thou hast praised the gods of silver, and gold, of brass, iron, wood, and stone, which see not, nor hear, nor know: and the God in whose hand thy breath is, and whose are all thy ways, hast thou not glorified. (Dan. 5:23.) What will this babbler say? other some, He seemeth to be a setter forth of strange gods: because he preached unto them Jesus, and the resurrection. (Acts 17:18.)

e. He is wise in heart, and mighty in strength: who hath hardened himself against him, and hath prospered? (Job 9:4.) Behold, God is mighty, and despiseth not any: he is mighty in strength and wisdom. (Job 36:5.) Touching the Almighty, we cannot find him out: he is excellent in power, and in judgment, and in plenty of justice: he will not afflict. (Job 37:23.)

f. As the Lord God of Israel liveth, before whom I stand, there shall not be dew nor rain these years, but according to my word. (I Ks. 17:1.)

g. For, behold, the Lord, the Lord of hosts, doth take away from Jerusalem and from Judah the stay and the staff, the whole stay of bread, and the whole stay of water, The mighty man, and the man of war, the judge, and the prophet, and the prudent, and the ancient, The captain of fifty, and the honorable man, and the counsellor, and the cunning artificer, and the eloquent orator. (Is. 3:1-3.)

h. Fear them not therefore; for there is nothing covered, that shall not be revealed; and hid, that shall not be known. (Mat. 10:26.) Therefore judge nothing before the time, until the Lord come, who both will bring to light the hidden things of darkness, and will make manifest the counsels of the hearts: and then shall every man have praise of God. (I Cor. 4:5.)

i. He blesseth them also, so that they are multiplied greatly; and suffereth not their cattle to decrease. (Ps. 107:38.) Thou hast multiplied the nation, and not increased the joy: they joy before thee according to the joy in harvest, and as men rejoice when they divide the spoil. (Is. 9:3.) Thou hast increased the nation, O Lord, thou hast increased the nation: thou art glorified: thou hadst removed it far unto all the ends of the earth. (Is. 26:15.)

a. Even a fool, when he holdeth his peace, is counted wise: and he that shutteth his lips is esteemed a man of understanding. (Prov. 17:28.)

b. Yea, though I walk through the valley of the shadow of death, I will fear no evil: for thou art with me; thy rod and thy staff they comfort me. (Ps. 23:4.) The wicked is driven away in his wickedness: but the righteous hath hope in his death. (Prov. 14:32.) And though after my skin worms destroy this body, yet in my flesh shall I see God. (Job 19:26.) Mark the perfect man, and behold the upright: for the end of that man is peace. (Ps. 37:37.) We are confident, I say, and willing rather to be absent from the body, and to be present with the Lord. (II Cor. 5:8.)

c. Behold, God is my salvation; I will trust, and not be afraid: for the Lord JEHOVAH is my strength and my song; he also is become my salvation. (Is. 12:2.)

d. How long wilt thou forget me, O Lord? for ever? How long wilt thou hide thy face from me? (Ps. 13:1.) I will wait upon the Lord, that hideth his face from the house of Jacob, and I will look for him. (Is. 8:17.)

e. Remember not the sins of my youth, nor my transgressions:

1 Man that is born [1]of a woman is of few days, and [a]full of trouble.
2 He [b]cometh forth like a flower, and is cut down: he fleeth also as a shadow, and continueth not.
3 And [c]dost thou open thine eyes upon such an one, and bringest me into judgment with thee?
4 Who [d]can bring a clean thing out of an unclean? not [2]one.
5 Seeing his [3]days are determined, the number of his months are with thee, thou hast appointed his bounds that he cannot pass;
6 Turn from him, that he may rest, till he shall accomplish, as an hireling, his day.
7 [4]For [5]there is hope of a tree, if it be cut down, that it will sprout again, and that the tender branch thereof will not cease.
8 Though the root thereof wax old in the earth, and the stock thereof die in the ground;
9 Yet through the [6]scent of water it will bud, and bring forth boughs like a plant.
10 But man dieth, and [7]wasteth away: yea, man giveth up the ghost, and where is he?
11 As the waters fail from the sea, and the flood decayeth and drieth up:
12 So man lieth down, and riseth not: [e]till the heavens be no more, they shall not awake, nor be raised out of their sleep.
13 O that thou wouldest [8]hide me in the grave, that thou wouldest keep me secret, until thy wrath be past, that thou wouldest appoint me a set time, and remember me!
14 If a man die, shall he live [9]again? all the days of my appointed time will I wait, [f]till my [10]change come.
15 Thou [g]shalt call, and I will answer thee: thou wilt have a desire to the work of thine hands.
16 For now thou numberest my steps: dost thou not watch over my sin?
17 My transgression is sealed up in a bag, and thou sewest up mine iniquity.
18 And surely the mountain falling cometh to nought, and the rock is removed out of his place.
19 The waters wear the stones: thou washest away the things which grow out of the dust of the earth and thou destroyest the hope of man.
20 Thou prevailest for ever against him, and he passeth: thou changest his [11]countenance, and sendest him away.
21 His sons come to honour, and [h]he knoweth it not; and they are brought low, but he perceiveth it not of them.
22 But his flesh upon him shall have pain, and [i]his soul within him shall mourn.

CHAPTER 15.

1 Eliphaz reproveth Job of impiety in justifying himself. 17 He proveth by tradition the unquietness of wicked men.

Ch. 14. B. C. 1520.

1. Like produces like. If a woman is frail and subject to suffering and infirmities her offspring will be likewise affected. Hence, Job's appeal for mercy is based upon constitutional weakness. The "sad estate of man as man," is the subject of this ch.
2. "That which is born of the flesh is flesh."
3. Not fatalism, but the divine knowledge.
4. Vs. 7-12. Job assigns another reason why God should be merciful to man, i. e., the hopelessness of his death.
5. Introducing another reason for the plea in v. 6.
6. Odor or mist.
7. Lies powerless.
8. The dead in the grave are God's hidden treasures.
9. Job gives the answer in the remaining portion of the verse. "All the days of my appointed time, will I wait till my change comes."
10. Relief.
11. Death is the seal or change put upon its victim as a token of victory.

Ch. 15. B. C. 1520.

1. With this ch. the second part of the controversy between Job and his friends (?) takes place, and Eliphaz delivers his second address.
2. In vs. 2-19, Eliphaz maintains Job's speeches prove his guilt.
3. That which is within, it means, with inmost being.
4. Job's theory that God treats the righteous and the unrighteous alike makes prayer unnecessary.
5. Thine own speech condemneth thee.
6. The same word used of the serpent in Gen. 3:1, signifying deceit.
7. Vs. 7-11, ironical questions, put to Job concerning his superior wisdom and self-sufficiency.
8. Wast thou present at the secret counsels of God, that thou shouldst possess so much wisdom?
9. Withhold or keep back to thyself.
10. Vs. 12-16. Eliphaz suggests the trouble with Job to be his ignorance of the true character of sin.
11. Eliphaz here takes up Job's admission of the frailty of man "born of woman," hence Job is a self-admitted sinner.
12. Exceeding fondness for sin.
13. Sin.
14. Vs. 20-24, Eliphaz maintains that notwithstanding their appearance, fear and anxiety constantly torment the wicked throughout their lives.
15. Writhes in pain.
16. His life prolonged for punishment because of wrongdoing.
17. Sound of many terrors, the terrors of the Lord.
18. "Behind the knight, sits dark care."
19. In the mirror of the imagination he sees himself wandering about as food for a consuming despair.
20. Trouble and anguish make war as an army against the wicked.
21. Boasteth of thyself.
22. With neck erect.
23. Masses of fat.

1 [1]Then answered Ĕl'ĭ-phăz the Tē'man-īte, and said,
2 [2]Should a wise man utter vain knowledge, and fill his [3]belly with the east wind?
3 Should he reason with unprofitable talk? or with speeches wherewith he can do no good?
4 Yea, thou castest off fear, and [4]restrainest prayer before God.
5 For thy mouth uttereth thine [5]iniquity, and thou choosest the tongue of the [6]crafty.
6 Thine own mouth condemneth thee, and not I: yea, thine own lips testify against thee.
7 [7]Art thou the first man that was born? or wast thou made before the hills?
8 [a]Hast thou heard the [8]secret of God? and dost thou [9]restrain wisdom to thyself?
9 What knowest thou, that we know not? what understandest thou, which is not in us?
10 With us are both the grayheaded and very aged men, much elder than thy father.
11 Are the consolations of God small with thee? is there any secret thing with thee?
12 [10]Why doth thine heart carry thee away? and what do thy eyes wink at, 13 That thou turnest thy spirit against God, and lettest such words go out of thy mouth?
14 What [b]is man, that he should be clean? and he which is [11]born of a woman, that he should be righteous?
15 Behold, he putteth no trust in his saints; yea, the heavens are not clean in his sight.
16 How much more abominable and filthy is man, [c]which [12]drinketh [13]iniquity like water?
17 I will shew thee, hear me; and that which I have seen I will declare;
18 Which wise men have told from their fathers, and have not hid it:
19 Unto whom alone the earth was given, and [d]no stranger passed among them.
20 [14]The wicked man [15]travaileth with pain all his days, and the number of years [16]is hidden to the oppressor.
21 A [17]dreadful sound is in his ears: [e]in prosperity the destroyer [18]shall come upon him.
22 He believeth not that he shall return out of darkness, and he is waited for of the sword.
23 He wandereth abroad for bread, saying, Where [19]is it? he knoweth that the day of darkness is ready at his hand.
24 Trouble [20]and anguish shall make him afraid; they shall prevail against him, as a king ready to the battle.
25 For he stretcheth out his hand against God, and strengtheneth [21]himself against the Almighty.
26 He runneth upon him, even on his [22]neck, upon the thick bosses of his bucklers:
27 Because he covereth his face with his fatness, and maketh [23]collops of fat on his flanks.
28 And he dwelleth in desolate cities, and in according to thy mercy remember thou me for thy goodness' sake, O Lord. (Ps. 25:7.)

a. For all his days are sorrows, and his travail grief; yea, his heart taketh not rest in the night. This is also vanity. (Ecc. 2:23.) Yet man is born unto trouble, as the sparks fly upward. (Job 5:7.)

b. What shall I cry? All flesh is grass, and all the goodliness thereof is as the flower of the field. (Is. 40:6.) For all flesh is as grass, and all the glory of man as the flower of grass. The grass withereth, and the flower thereof falleth away: But the word of the Lord endureth for ever. And this is the word which by the gospel is preached unto you. (I Pet. 1:24, 25.)

c. Lord, what is man, that thou takest knowledge of him! or the son of man, that thou makest account of him! (Ps. 144:3.) What is man, that thou art mindful of him? or the son of man, that thou visitest him? (Heb. 2:6.)

d. Behold, I was shapen in iniquity; and in sin did my mother conceive me. (Ps. 51:5.) That which is born of the flesh is flesh; and that which is born of the Spirit is spirit. (Jno. 3:6.)

e. For, behold, I create new heavens and a new earth: and the former shall not be remembered, nor come into mind. (Is. 65:17.) But the heavens and the earth, which are now, by the same word are kept in store, reserved unto fire against the day of judgment and perdition of ungodly men. (II Pet. 3:7.) And I saw a new heaven and a new earth: for the first heaven and the first earth were passed away; and there was no more sea. (Rev. 21:1.)

f. For thou wilt not leave my soul in hell; neither wilt thou suffer thine Holy One to see corruption. (Ps. 16:10.) For this corruptible must put on incorruption, and this mortal must put on immortality. (I Cor. 15:53.)

g. He shall call to the heavens from above, and to the earth, that he may judge his people. (Ps. 50:4.) Marvel not at this: for the hour is coming, in the which all that are in the graves shall hear his voice. (Jno. 5:28.) For the Lord himself shall descend from heaven with a shout, with the voice of the archangel, and with the trump of God: and the dead in Christ shall rise first. (I Thes. 4:16.)

h. For the living know that they shall die: but the dead know not any thing, neither have they any more a reward; for the memory of them is forgotten. (Ecc. 9:5.)

i. But the children of the kingdom shall be cast out into outer darkness: there shall be weeping and gnashing of teeth. (Mat. 8:12.)

a. For who hath known the mind of the Lord? or who hath been his counsellor? (Rom. 11:34.)

b. If we say that we have no sin, we deceive ourselves, and the truth is not in us. (I Jno. 1:8.) Who can bring a clean thing out of an unclean? not one. (Job 14:4.) Who can say, I have made mine heart clean, I am pure from my sin? (Prov. 20:9.) For there is not a just man upon earth, that doeth good, and sinneth not. (Ecc. 7:20.)

c. An ungodly witness scorneth judgment: and the mouth of the wicked devoureth iniquity. (Prov. 19:28.)

d. So shall ye know that I am the Lord your God dwelling in Zion, my holy mountain: then shall Jerusalem be holy, and there shall no strangers pass through her any more. (Joel 3:17.)

e. For when they shall say, Peace and safety; then sudden destruc-houses which no man inhabiteth, which are ready to become heaps.

29 He shall not be rich, neither shall his substance continue, neither shall he prolong the perfection thereof upon the earth.

30 He shall not depart out of darkness; the flame shall dry up his branches, and by [f]the breath [24]of his mouth shall he go away.

31 [25]Let not him that is [26]deceived trust [g]in vanity: for [27]vanity shall be his recompence.

32 It shall be accomplished [h]before his time, and his branch shall not be green.

33 He shall shake off his unripe grape as the vine, and shall cast off his flower [28]as the olive.

34 For the congregation of hypocrites shall be desolate, [i]and [29]fire shall consume the tabernacles of bribery.

35 They [j]conceive mischief, and bring forth vanity, and their belly prepareth [30]deceit.

CHAPTER 16.

1 Job reproveth his friends of unmercifulness. 7 He sheweth the pitifulness of his case. 17 He maintaineth his innocency.

1 [1]Then Jōb answered and said,

2 [2]I have heard many such things: miserable comforters are ye all.

3 Shall [3]vain words have an end? or what emboldeneth thee that thou [4]answerest?

4 I also could speak as ye do: if your soul were in my soul's stead, I could heap up words against you, and [a]shake mine head at you.

5 But I would strengthen you with my mouth, and the moving of my lips should asswage your grief.

6 [5]Though I speak, my grief is not asswaged: and though I forbear, what am I eased?

7 But now he hath made me weary: thou hast made desolate all my company.

8 And thou hast filled me with wrinkles, which is a witness against me: and my leanness rising up in me beareth witness to my face.

9 He teareth [6]me in his wrath, who hateth me: he gnasheth upon me with his teeth; mine enemy sharpeneth his eyes upon me.

10 They have [7]gaped upon me with their mouth; they have smitten me upon the cheek reproachfully; they have gathered themselves together against me.

11 God hath delivered me to the [8]ungodly, and turned me over into the hands of the wicked.

13 His archers compass me round about, he

24. By the breath of God's mouth he was given life, by his breath it shall be taken away.

25. Vs. 31-35, the conclusion Eliphaz would have Job to draw is: The Godless are miserable; therefore the most miserable are the most Godless; hence Job is a great sinner.

26. "Let him not trust in evil; he is deceived, for evil shall be his reward."

27. For sin, the wicked get destruction. (Gal. 6, 7)—"Be not deceived; God is not mocked; for whatsoever a man soweth, that shall he also reap."

28. Images of incompleteness, typifying the sinner's ruin as the fruit of his own conduct. (Is. 3:11) —"Woe unto the wicked! It shall be ill with him, for the rewards of his hands shall be given him."

29. A fig. employed for the wrath of God.

30. The end toward which the entire address has pointed—Job is self-deceived.

Ch. 16. B. C. 1520.

1. Chs. 16, 17, contain Job's fourth speech, his second reply to Eliphaz. In this address Job rises to the heights of sublime faith. Crushed and wounded, he imagines himself weltering in his own blood, yet in his darkest hours he has hope —hope that the blood of the innocent has power with God.

He rises to the certainty that God sees and feels his woes: conscious of his sympathy, he supplicates God to plead with God in his behalf. With a faith sublime, he believes his sufferings shall not injure the cause of virtue.

2. Vs. 2-5, Job repudiates the heartless consolation of his friends.

3. Windy words.

4. "Wherefore do ye weary yourselves contradicting?" (Umbreit.)

5. Vs. 6-17, a description of Job's sorrows, deserted and preyed upon by his friends.

6. Raschi, Cocceius, Adam Clark, Taylor Lewis, and others, think that here Job speaks of Satan with his mocking friends.

7. Opened wide.

8. The evil one.

9. Vs. 12-17, Job maintains his life of innocence, and harsh persecution.

10. The kidneys.

11. Job here compares the human body to a citadel or fortified place, within which the besiegers have forced breaches.

12. Inflamed with much tears.

13. In heaven Job rests his hope.

14. As God helped Jacob to wrestle against himself, so now Job pleads with God to plead with God for him.

Ch. 17. B. C. 1520.

1. My spirit is consumed. (R. V.)

2. Vs. 9-23, Job continues to pray for a mediator, claiming as his cause is just it would be a crime against virtue for God not to adjudicate his case.

3. And they have spit in my face. (R. V.)

4. Astonished, surprised.

5. Ewald says, "Job's main thought now is, for justice beyond death, to seek in another life the fruitage of faith, hope and charity. He reasons up to an eternal and cleaveth my reins [10]asunder, and doth not spare; he poureth out my gall upon the ground.

14 He breaketh me with [11]breach upon breach, he runneth upon me like a giant.

15 I have sewed sackcloth upon my skin, and [b]defiled my horn in the dust.

16 My face is [12]foul with weeping, and on my eyelids is the shadow of death;

17 Not for any injustice in mine hands: also my prayer is pure.

18 O earth, cover not thou my blood, and let my cry have no place.

19 Also now, [13]behold, my witness [d]is in heaven, and my record is on high.

20 My friends scorn me: but mine eye poureth out tears unto God.

21 O [c]that one might [14]plead for a man with God, as a man pleadeth for his neighbour!

22 When a few years are come, then I shall [f]go the way whence I shall not return.

CHAPTER 17.

1 Job appealeth from men to God. 6 The unmerciful dealing of men with the afflicted may astonish, but not discourage the righteous. 11 His hope is not in life, but in death.

1 [1]My breath is corrupt, my days are extinct, the [a]graves are ready for me.

2 Are there not mockers with me? and doth not mine eye continue in their provocation?

3 [2]Lay down now, put me in a surety with thee; who is he that will strike hands with me?

4 For thou hast hid their heart from understanding: therefore shalt thou not exalt them.

5 He that speaketh flattery to his friends, even the eyes of his children shall fail.

6 He hath made me also a byword of the people; and aforetime [3]I was as a tabret.

7 Mine eye also is dim by reason of sorrow, and all my members are as a shadow.

8 Upright men shall be [4]astonied at this, and the innocent shall stir up himself against the hypocrite.

9 [b]The righteous also shall hold on his way, and he that hath clean hands shall be stronger and [c]stronger.

10 [5]But as for you all, do ye return, and come now: for I cannot find one wise man among you.

11 My days are past, my purposes are broken off, even the thoughts of my heart.

12 They change the night into day: the light is short because of darkness.

13 If I wait, the grave is mine house: I have made my bed in the darkness.

14 I have said to corruption, Thou art my tion cometh upon them, as travail upon a woman with child; and they shall not escape. (I Thes. 5:3.)

f. By the blast of God they perish, and by the breath of his nostrils are they consumed. (Job 4:9.)

g. None calleth for justice, nor any pleadeth for truth: they trust in vanity, and speak lies; they conceive mischief, and bring forth iniquity. (Is. 59:4.)

h. Hast thou marked the old way which wicked men have trodden? which were cut down out of time, whose foundation was overflown with a flood. (Job 22:15, 16.) But thou, O God, shalt bring them down into the pit of destruction: bloody and deceitful men shall not live out half their days; but I will trust in thee. (Ps. 55:23.)

i. The sinners in Zion are afraid; fearfulness hath surprised the hypocrites. Who among us shall dwell with the devouring fire? Who among us shall dwell with everlasting burnings? (Is. 33:14.)

j. Behold, he travaileth with iniquity, and hath conceived mischief, and brought forth falsehood. (Ps. 7:14.) Ye have plowed wickedness, ye have reaped iniquity; ye have eaten the fruit of lies: because thou didst trust in thy way, in the multitude of thy mighty men. (Hos. 10:13.)

a. All they that see me laugh me to scorn: they shoot out the lip, they shake the head. (Ps. 22:7.) I became also a reproach unto them: when they looked upon me they shaked their heads. (Ps. 109:25.) All that pass by clap their hands at thee; they hiss and wag their head at the daughter of Jerusalem, saying, Is this the city that men call The perfection of beauty, The joy of the whole earth? (Lam. 2:15.)

b. If I regard iniquity in mine heart, the Lord will not hear me: But verily God hath heard me; he hath attended to the voice of my prayer. (Ps. 66:18, 19.)

d. For God is my witness, whom I serve with my spirit in the gospel of his Son, that without ceasing I make mention of you always in my prayers. (Rom. 1:9.) For neither at any time used we flattering words, as ye know, nor a cloak of covetousness; God is witness. (I Thess. 2:5.)

e. Woe unto him that striveth with his Maker! let the potsherd strive with the potsherds of the earth. Shall the clay say to him that fashioneth after it, What makest thou? or thy work, He hath no hands? (Is. 45:9.) Nay, but, O man, who art thou that repliest against God? Shall the thing formed say to him that formed it, Why hast thou made me thus? (Rom. 9:20.)

f. As the cloud is consumed and vanisheth away: so he that goeth down to the grave shall come up no more. He shall return no more to his house, neither shall his place know him any more. (Job 7:9, 10.) Also when they shall be afraid of that which is high, and fears shall be in the way, and the almond tree shall flourish, and the grasshopper shall be a burden, and desire shall fail: because man goeth to his long home, and the mourners go about the street. (Ecc. 12:5.)

a. For my soul is full of troubles: and my life draweth nigh unto the grave. I am counted with them that go down into the pit: I am as a man that hath no strength. (Ps. 88:3, 4.)

b. Who are kept by the power of God through faith unto salvation ready to be revealed in the last time. (I Peter 1:5.) The righteous shall be glad in the Lord, and shall trust in him; and all the upright in heart shall glory. (Ps. 64:10.) (See Ps. 112.) Teaching them to observe all things whatsoever I have commanded you: and, lo, I am with you alway, even unto the end of the world. Amen. (Mat. 28:20.)

c. He that hath clean hands, and a pure heart; who hath not lifted up his soul unto vanity, nor sworn deceitfully, (Ps. 24:4.)

[c]father: to the worm, Thou art my mother, and my sister.

15 And where is now my hope? as for my hope, who shall see it?

16 They shall go down to the bars of the pit, when our rest together is in the dust.

CHAPTER 18.

1 Bildad reproveth Job of presumption and impatience. 5 The calamities of the wicked.

1 Then [f]answered Bĭl'dăd the Shu'hīte, and said,

2 [2]How long will it be ere ye make an end of words? mark, and afterwards we will speak.

3 Wherefore are we counted as beasts, and reputed vile in your sight?

4 He teareth himself in his anger: shall the earth be forsaken for thee? and shall the rock be removed out of his place?

5 [3]Yea, [a]the light of the wicked shall be put out, and the spark of his fire shall not shine.

6 The light shall be dark in his tabernacle, and his candle shall be put out with him.

7 The steps of his strength shall be straitened, and his own counsel shall cast him down.

8 For he is cast into a net by his own feet, and he walketh upon a snare.

9 The gin shall take him by the heel, and the robber shall prevail against him.

10 The snare is laid for him in the ground, and a trap for him in the way.

11 Terrors shall make him afraid on every side, and shall [4]drive him to his feet.

12 [5]His strength shall be hungerbitten, and destruction shall be ready at his side.

13 It shall devour the strength of his skin: even the firstborn [6]of death shall devour his strength.

14 [b]His confidence shall be rooted out of his tabernacle, and it shall bring him to the king [7]of terrors.

15 It shall dwell in his tabernacle, because it is none of his: [8]brimstone [c]shall be scattered upon his habitation.

16 His roots shall be dried up beneath, and above shall his branch be cut off.

17 [9]His [d]remembrance shall perish from the earth, and he shall have no name in the street.

18 He shall be driven from light into darkness, and chased out of the world.

19 He shall neither have son nor nephew among his people, nor any remaining in his dwellings.

20 They that come after him shall be astonied at his day, as they that went before were affrighted.

21 Surely such are the dwellings of the wicked, and this is the place of him that [e]knoweth [10]not God.

CHAPTER 19.

1 Job, complaining of his friends' cruelty, sheweth there is misery enough in him to feed their cruelty. 21, 28 He craveth pity. 23 He believeth the resurrection.

1 [1]Then Jōb answered and said,

2 How [2]long will ye vex my soul, and break me in pieces with words?

3 These [3]ten times have ye reproached me: ye are not ashamed that ye make yourselves strange to me.

4 And be it indeed that I have erred, [a]mine error remaineth with myself.

5 If indeed ye will [b]magnify yourselves against me, and [4]plead against me my reproach:

6 Know now that God hath overthrown me, and hath compassed me with his net.

7 Behold, I cry out of wrong, but I am not heard: I cry aloud, but there is no judgment.

8 He hath [c]fenced up my way that I cannot pass, and he hath set darkness in my paths.

9 He hath stripped me of my glory, and taken the crown from my head.

10 He hath destroyed me on every side, and I am gone: and mine hope hath he removed like a tree.

11 He hath also kindled his wrath against me, and he counteth me unto him as one of his enemies.

12 His troops come together, and raise up their way [d]against me, and encamp round about my tabernacle.

13 [5]He hath put my [6]brethren far from me, and mine acquaintance are verily estranged from me.

14 My kinsfolk [c]have failed, and my familiar friends have forgotten me.

15 They that dwell in mine house, and my maids, count me for a stranger: I am an alien in their sight.

16 I called my servant, and he gave me no answer; I intreated him with my mouth.

17 My breath is strange to my wife, though I intreated for the children's sake of mine own body.

18 Yea, young children despised me; I arose, and they spake against me.

19 All my inward friends abhorred me: and they whom I loved are turned against me.

20 My bone cleaveth to my skin and to my flesh, and I am escaped with the skin [7]of my teeth.

21 Have pity upon me, have pity upon me, O ye my friends; for the hand of God hath touched me.

22 Why do ye persecute me as God, and are not satisfied with my flesh?

23 Oh that my words were now written! oh that they were printed in a [8]book!

24 That they were graven with an iron pen and lead in the rock for ever!

25 [9]For [f]I know that my redeemer liveth, and that he shall stand at the latter day upon the earth:

Chapter 18.

1. In this ch. is recorded Bildad's second reply. He continues to upbraid Job for his sins, and in a masterly manner does he paint the doom of the miserable sinner and in the darkest colors he draws the misfortune and calamities of Job.

2. How long will ye hunt for words? Consider and afterward we will speak. (R. V.)

3. Vs. 5-21, Bildad teaches the inevitable punishment of incorrigible sinners.

4. Terrors personified shall chase him and so close are they after the wicked man that they are said to be at his heels.

5. Close to devour him.

6. Whatever is pre-eminent in the scriptures is considered the first-born. So here the chiefest, most deadly disease that death has ever engendered.

7. Death, whose first-born has done its work.

8. Comparing the calamity of Job by the "fire of God" (Job 1:16), to the destruction of the guilty Sodom and Gomorrah with fire and brimstone. (Gen. 19:24)—"And the Lord rained upon Sodom and upon Gomorrah brimstone and fire."

9. Vs. 17-21, the cutting off of the wicked.

10. A blow at Job's solemn protestations. (Job 16:19)—"Now behold my witness is in heaven and my record is on high."

Ch. 19. B. C. 1520.

1. Job's fifth reply is recorded in this ch. Amid a complete wreck of his former self, in that darkest of all hours, when he has been forsaken by his wife, his brethren and his friends, and God seems to have thrown him overboard, still he utters words of faith that he wishes might be inscribed imperishably - and so, indeed, they are.

2. With indignation Job hurls back the reflection in ch. 18:2.

3. Used for many times.

4. That is, prove me guilty if you would magnify yourselves.

5. Vs. 13-20, Job's servants even now treat him with contempt.

6. Job mentions six different phases of friendship which has turned against him. His brethren, his acquaintance, his kinsmen, his familiar friends, the sojourners in his house, and his bosom friends.

7. In the last stages of this disease the mouth, tongue and gums are affected and filled with ulcers, but thus far Job has escaped this affliction.

8. Despairing of ever receiving justice from his friends now, he wishes his words could be preserved, imperishably to posterity—engraved, as was customary at that time—attesting his hope of vindication at resurrection.

9. In vs. 25-27 Job voices his confession of faith which he desires to have "printed in a book."

a. But the lamp of the wicked shall be put out. (Prov. 13:9.) Whoso curseth his father or his mother, his lamp shall be put out in obscure darkness. (Prov. 20:20.) The candle of the wicked shall be put out. (Prov. 24:20.)

b. The hope of the righteous shall be gladness: but the expectation of the wicked shall perish. (Prov. 10:28.)

c. Then the Lord rained upon Sodom and upon Gomorrah brimstone and fire from the Lord out of heaven, (Gen. 19:24.)

d. The face of the Lord is against them that do evil, to cut off the remembrance of them from the earth. (Ps. 34:16.) But the wicked shall be cut off from the earth, and the transgressor shall be rooted out of it. (Prov. 2:22.) The memory of the just is blessed: but the name of the wicked shall rot. (Prov. 10:7.)

e. And they bend their tongues like their bow for lies: but they are not valiant for the truth upon the earth; for they proceed from evil to evil, and they know not me, saith the Lord. (Jer. 9:3.) Pour out thy fury upon the heathen that know thee not, and upon the families that call not on thy name. (Jer. 10:25.) Not in the lust of concupiscence, even as the Gentiles which know not God. (I Thess. 4:5.) In flaming fire taking vengeance on them that know not God, and that obey not the gospel of our Lord Jesus Christ. (II Thess. 1:8.) Who is the Lord, that I should obey his voice to let Israel go? I know not the Lord, neither will I let Israel go. (Ex. 5:2.) For after that in the wisdom of God the world by wisdom knew not God, it pleased God by the foolishness of preaching to save them that believe. (I Cor. 1:21.)

a. Who can understand his errors? cleanse thou me from secret faults. (Ps. 19:12.) Behold, all souls are mine; as the soul of the father, so also the soul of the son is mine; the soul that sinneth, it shall die. (Ezek. 18:4.)

b. Hear me, lest otherwise they should rejoice over me; when my foot slippeth, they magnify themselves against me. (Ps. 38:16.) Rejoice not against me, O mine enemy: when I fall, I shall arise; when I sit in darkness, the Lord shall be a light unto me. (Mic. 7:8.)

c. He hath hedged me about, that I cannot get out; he hath made my chain heavy. Also when I cry and shout, he shutteth out my prayer. (Lam. 3:7, 8.) Why is light given to a man whose way is hid, and whom God hath hedged in? (Job 3:23.)

d. Many are the afflictions of the righteous; but the Lord delivereth him out of them all. (Ps. 34:19.)

e. A man that hath friends must show himself friendly: and there is a friend that sticketh closer than a brother. (Prov. 18:24.) Ye are my friends, if ye do whatsoever I command you. Henceforth I call you not servants; for the servant knoweth not what his lord doeth; but I have called you friend; for all things that I have heard of my Father I have made known unto you. (Jno. 15:14, 15.)

f. And we know that all things work together for good to them that love God, to them who are the called according to his purpose. (Rom. 8:28.) Who hath saved us, and called us with an holy calling, not according to our works, but according to his own purpose and grace, which was given us in Christ Jesus before the world began. (II Tim. 1:9.)

26 And though after my skin worms destroy this body, yet [g]in my flesh shall I see God:

27 Whom I shall see for myself, and mine eyes shall behold, and not another; though my reins be consumed within me.

28 [10]But ye should say, Why persecute we him, seeing the root of the matter is found in me?

29 Be ye afraid of the sword: for wrath bringeth the punishments of the sword, that ye may know [11]there is a judgment.

CHAPTER 20.

Zophar sheweth the state and portion of the wicked.

1 Then [1]answered Zō'phar the Nā'a-mathīte, and said,

2 [2]Therefore [3]do my thoughts cause me to answer, and for this I make haste.

3 I have heard the check of my reproach, and the spirit of my understanding causeth me to answer.

4 Knowest thou not this of old, since man was placed upon earth,

5 That the [a]triumphing of the wicked is short, and the joy of the [4]hypocrite but for a moment?

6 Though his [5]excellency mount up to the heavens, and his head reach unto the clouds;

7 Yet he shall perish for ever like his own dung: they which have seen him shall say, Where is he?

8 He shall fly away as a dream, and shall not be found: yea, he shall be chased away as a vision of the night.

9 The eye also which saw him shall see him no more; neither shall his place any more behold him.

10 His children shall seek to please the poor, and his hands shall restore their goods.

11 His bones are full of the sin of his youth, which shall lie down with him in the dust.

12 Though wickedness be [6]sweet in his mouth, though he hide it under his tongue;

13 Though he spare it, and forsake it not; but keep it still within his mouth:

14 Yet his meat [7]in his bowels is [8]turned, it is the gall of asps within him.

15 He hath [b]swallowed down riches, and he shall vomit them up again: God shall cast them out of his belly.

16 He shall suck the poison of asps: the viper's tongue shall slay him.

17 He shall not see the [9]rivers, the floods, the brooks of honey and butter.

18 That which he laboured for shall he restore, and shall not swallow it down: according to his substance shall the restitution be, and he shall not rejoice therein.

10. In vs. 28, 29, Job's faith becomes so strong that he ceases to be supplicant for pity and warns his persecutors to beware and not to provoke the wrath of heaven.

11. Dillmann says, "If there were no other argument for a life to come, sin would furnish one never to be refuted: the incomplete punishment of sin in this life necessitates a future life."

Ch. 20. B. C. 1520.

1. Worsted in argument, Job's antagonists allow themselves to be goaded on to greater exasperation, rather than to be won to sympathy; and in this address Zophar intends to teach Job that, instead of talking so piously, he had much better give himself to repentance.

2. Vs. 2-5, the triumph of the wicked is but for a moment.

3. Because of what thou hast said.

4. The ungodly Zōphar would hurl at Job that his boasted triumphant faith is but the triumphing of the wicked and therefore of short duration.

5. His exultation.

6. Though sin be sweet to the taste (i. e., the passion), it is deadly to the vitals of life. (Prov. 20:17) —"Bread of deceit is sweet to a man; but afterward his mouth shall be filled with gravel."

7. That is, the wickedness upon which he has fed his passions.

8. Changed into poison.

9. Rivers and brooks are used as symbols of prosperity in the East.

10. Heaven and earth combine to make certain the doom of the wicked.

Ch. 21. B. C. 1520.

1. Job's sixth reply—his second answer to Zophar. The three friends who have been upbraiding and condemning Job, adhered to the last to their main propositions—that the wicked are punished in this life. For the first time Job meets this issue face to face, devoting his entire answer to its consideration, and conclusively shows that the punishment of the wicked is in the next life.

2. As ye have no other comfort or solace to give, at least yield me the consolation of an attentive listening.

3. In vs. 7-16, though the wicked constantly defy God, he prospers them unto Sheol.

19 Because he hath [c]oppressed and hath forsaken the poor; because he hath violently taken away an house which he builded not;

20 Surely he shall not [d]feel quietness in his belly, he shall not save of that which he desired.

21 There shall none of his meat be left; therefore shall no man look for his goods.

22 In the fulness of his sufficiency he shall be in straits: every hand of the wicked shall come upon him.

23 [10]When he is about to fill his belly, God shall cast the fury of his wrath upon him, and shall rain it upon him [e]while he is eating.

24 He shall [f]flee from the iron weapon, and the bow of steel shall strike him through.

25 It is drawn, and cometh out of the body; yea, the glittering sword cometh out of his gall: terrors are upon him.

26 All darkness shall be hid in his secret places: a fire not blown shall consume him; it shall go ill with him that is left in his tabernacle.

27 The heaven [g]shall reveal his iniquity; and the earth shall rise up against him.

28 The increase of his house shall depart, and his goods shall flow away in the day of his wrath.

29 This [h]is the portion of a wicked man from God, and the heritage appointed unto him by God.

CHAPTER 21.

1 Job sheweth that even in the judgment of man he hath reason to be grieved. 7 Sometimes the wicked do so prosper, as they despise God. 27 The judgment of the wicked is in another world.

1 [1]But Jōb answered and said,

2 Hear diligently my speech, and let this be your [2]consolations.

3 Suffer me that I may speak; and after that I have spoken, mock on.

4 As for me, is my [a]complaint to man? and if it were so, why should not my spirit be troubled?

5 Mark me, and be astonished, and lay your hand upon your mouth.

6 Even when I remember I am afraid, and trembling taketh hold on my flesh.

7 [3]Wherefore [b]do the wicked live, become old, yea, are mighty in power?

8 Their seed is established in their sight with them, and their offspring before their eyes.

9 Their houses are safe from fear, neither is the rod of God upon them.

10 Their bull gendereth, and faileth not; their cow calveth, and casteth not her calf.

g. As for me, I will behold thy face in righteousness; I shall be satisfied, when I awake, with thy likeness. (Ps. 17:15.) For now we see through a glass, darkly; but then face to face; now I know in part; but then shall I know even as also I am known. (I Cor. 13:12.) Beloved, now are we the sons of God, and it doth not yet appear what we shall be; but we know that, when he shall appear, we shall be like him; for we shall see him as he is. (I John 3:2.)

a. I have seen the wicked in great power, and spreading himself like a green bay tree. Yet he passed away, and, lo, he was not; yea, I sought him, but he could not be found. (Ps. 37:35, 36.)

b. Then Judas, which had betrayed him, when he saw that he was condemned, repented himself, and brought again the thirty pieces of silver to the chief priests and elders, saying, I have sinned in that I have betrayed the innocent blood. And they said, What is that to us? see thou to that. (Mat. 27:3, 4.)

c. Rob not the poor, because he is poor; neither oppress the afflicted in the gate; For the Lord will plead their cause, and spoil the soul of those that spoiled them. (Prov. 22:22, 23.) Give to him that asketh thee, and from him that would borrow of thee turn not thou away. (Mat. 5:42.)

d. There is a sore evil which I have seen under the sun, namely, riches kept for the owners thereof to their hurt. (Ecc. 5:13.) Thou fool, this night thy soul shall be required of thee; then whose shall those things be, which thou hast provided? (Luke 12:20.)

e. And while the flesh was yet between their teeth, ere it was chewed, the wrath of the Lord was kindled against the people; and the Lord smote the people with a very great plague. (Num. 11:33.) They were not estranged from their lust. But while their meat was yet in their mouths, The wrath of God came upon them, and slew the fattest of them, and smote down the chosen men of Israel. (Ps. 78:30, 31.)

f. And it shall come to pass, that he who fleeth from the noise of the fear shall fall into the pit; and he that cometh up out of the midst of the pit shall be taken in the snare. (Is. 24:18.) As if a man did flee from a lion, and a bear met him; or went into the house, and leaned his hand on the wall, and a serpent bit him. (Amos 5:19.)

g. For, behold, the Lord cometh out of his place to punish the inhabitants of the earth for their iniquity; the earth also shall disclose her blood, and shall no more cover her slain. (Is. 26:21.) Gather unto me all the elders of your tribes, and your officers, that I may speak these words in their ears, and call heaven and earth to record against them. (Dt. 31:28.)

h. For what portion of God is there from above? And what inheritance of the Almighty from on high? Is not destruction to the wicked? and a strange punishment to the workers of iniquity? (Job 31:2, 3.)

a. My God, my God, why hast thou forsaken me? Why art thou so far from helping me, and from the words of my roaring? O my God, I cry in the daytime, but thou hearest not; and in the night season, and am not silent. (Ps. 22:1, 2.)

b. Righteous art thou, O Lord, when I plead with thee; yet let me talk with thee of thy judgments: Wherefore doth the way of the wicked prosper? wherefore are all they happy that deal very treacherously? Thou hast planted them, yea, they have taken root; they grow, yea, they bring forth fruit; thou art near in their mouth, and far from their range. But thou, O Lord, knowest me; thou hast seen me, and tried mine heart toward thee; pull them out like sheep for the slaughter, and prepare them for the day of slaughter. (Jer. 12:1-3.)

12 They take the [4]timbrel and [5]harp, and rejoice at the sound of the [6]organ.
13 They spend their days in wealth, and in a moment go down to the grave.
14 Therefore they say unto God, Depart from us; for we desire not the knowledge of thy ways.
15 What [c]is the Almighty, that we should serve him? and what profit should we have, if we pray unto him?
16 Lo, their good is not in their hand: the counsel of the wicked is far from me.
17 How [7]oft is the [d]candle of the wicked put out! and how oft cometh their destruction upon them! God distributeth sorrows in his anger.
18 They are as stubble before the wind, and as chaff that the storm [e]carrieth away.
19 God layeth up [f]his iniquity for his children: he rewardeth him, and he shall know it.
20 His eyes shall [8]see his destruction, and he shall drink of the wrath of the Almighty.
21 For what pleasure hath he in his house after him, when the number of his months is cut off in the midst?
22 Shall any teach God [9]knowledge? seeing he judgeth those that are high.
23 One dieth in his full strength, being wholly at ease and quiet.
24 His breasts are full of milk, and his bones are moistened with marrow.
25 And another dieth in the bitterness of his soul, and never eateth with pleasure.
26 They shall lie down [g]alike in the dust, and the worms shall cover them.
27 [10]Behold, I know your thoughts, and the devices which ye wrongfully imagine against me.
28 For ye say, Where is the house of the prince? and where are the dwelling places of the wicked?
29 Have ye not asked them that go by the way? and do ye not know their tokens, 30 That the [h]wicked is reserved to the day of destruction? they shall be brought forth to the day of wrath.
31 [11]Who shall declare his way to his face? and who shall repay him what he hath done?
32 Yet shall he be brought to the grave, and shall remain in the tomb.
33 The clods of the valley shall be sweet unto him, and every man shall draw after him, as there are innumerable before him.
34 How then comfort ye me in vain, seeing in your answers there remaineth falsehood?

4. A small hand drum, i. e., one beaten with the hands.

5. Supposed to be a lyre, the earliest invented musical instrument. (Gen. 4:21)—"And his brother's name was Jubal; he was the father of all such as handle the harp and organ."

6. A wind instrument, probably the pipe.

7. A question in the sense of doubt, meaning not often.

8. Job continues to answer the theory of substitution and that it is right that the parent, not the child, should see destruction.

9. Job's reply: "In all these assertions you try to teach God how he ought to teach men, rather than prove that he does in fact so deal with them."

10. In vs. 27-34, Job gives the report of travelers that the punishment of the wicked is held in abeyance.

11. In vs. 31-34, Job declares the doom of the wicked to be sure, though he rises above accountability to man in life and is honored by man in death.

Ch. 22. B. C. 1520.

1. In this ch. Eliphaz delivers his third address, and is still maintaining that God punishes not for his own profit nor for the sake of human piety, but on account of sin, therefore an infinite sufferer must necessarily be an infinite sinner. In answering Job's doctrine that the wicked prosper, he makes the discussion personal and charges Job with the guilt of oppression and cruelty to the weak and defenseless. Therefore that Job should suffer was the result of his sins, demonstrating the fact that the wicked are punished in this life.

2. Vs. 2-11, the bill of accusations.

3. He ironically asks if God punishes Job, to thus disarm him through fear.

4. No end to thine iniquities or sins.

5. Eliphaz now accuses Job of those sins generally ascribed to wicked men of wealth.

6. Our failure to do becomes a sin as well as wrongdoing. (Mat. 25:42, 43)—"For I was an hungered and ye gave me no meat, I was thirsty and ye gave me no drink; I was a stranger and ye took me not in; naked and ye clothed me not; sick and in prison and ye visited me not."

7. Vs. 12-20, Eliphaz declares that the fate of the antediluvians, should be a warning to Job.

8. Wilt thou keep?

9. Arrested by death.

10. In vs. 21-30, repentance will insure restoration in the divine favor.

CHAPTER 22.

1 Eliphaz sheweth that man's goodness profiteth not God. 5 He accuseth Job of divers sins. 21 He exhorteth him to repentance, with promises of mercy.

1 [1]Then Ĕl'ĭ-phăz the Tē'man-īte answered and said,
2 [2]Can [a]a man be profitable unto God, as he that is wise may be profitable unto himself?
3 Is it any pleasure to the Almighty, that thou art righteous? or is it gain to him, that thou makest thy ways perfect?
4 Will he [3]reprove thee for fear of thee? will he enter with thee into judgment?
5 Is not thy wickedness great? and thine [4]iniquities infinite?
6 [5]For thou hast taken a pledge from thy brother for nought, and stripped the naked of their clothing.
7 Thou hast not given [c]water [b]to the weary to drink, and thou hast withholden bread from the hungry.
8 But as for the mighty man, he had the earth; and the honourable man dwelt in it.
9 Thou hast sent widows away empty, and the arms of the fatherless have been broken.
10 Therefore snares are round about thee, and sudden fear troubleth thee;
11 Or darkness, that thou canst not see; and abundance of waters cover thee.
12 [7]Is not God in [c]the height of heaven? and behold the height of the stars, how high they are!
13 And thou sayest, How doth God know? can he judge through the dark cloud?
14 Thick clouds are a covering to him, that he seeth not; and he walketh in the circuit of heaven.
15 Hast thou marked the [8]old [d]way which wicked men have trodden?
16 Which were cut [9]down out of time, whose foundation was overflown with a flood:
17 Which said unto God, Depart from us: and what can the Almighty do for them?
18 Yet he filled [e]their houses with good things: but the counsel of the wicked is far from me.
19 The righteous see it, and are glad: and the innocent laugh them to scorn.
20 Whereas our substance is not cut down, but the remnant of them the fire consumeth.
21 [10]Acquaint now thyself with him, and be at [f]peace: thereby good shall come unto thee.

c. Who is the Lord, that I should obey his voice to let Israel go? I know not the Lord, neither will I let Israel go. (Ex. 5:2.)

d. Yea, the light of the wicked shall be put out, and the spark of his fire shall not shine. The light shall be dark in his tabernacle, and his candle shall be put out with him. (Job 18:5, 6.)

e. The ungodly are not so; but are like the chaff which the wind driveth away. (Ps. 1:4.) Let them be as chaff before the wind; and let the angel of the Lord chase them. (Ps. 35:5.) The nations shall rush like the rushing of many waters; but God shall rebuke them, and they shall flee far off, and shall be chased as the chaff of the mountains before the wind, and like a rolling thing before the whirlwind. (Is. 17:13.) Moreover the multitude of thy strangers shall be like small dust and the multitude of the terrible ones shall be as chaff that passeth away; yea, it shall be at an instant suddenly. (Is. 29:5.) Therefore they shall be as the morning cloud, and as the early dew that passeth away, as the chaff that is driven with the whirlwind out of the floor, and as the smoke out of the chimney. (Hos. 13:3.)

f. In those days they shall say no more, The fathers have eaten a sour grape, and the children's teeth are set on edge. (Jer. 31:29.) What mean ye, that ye use this proverb concerning the land of Israel, saying, The fathers have eaten sour grapes, and the children's teeth are set on edge? (Ezek. 18:2.) Thou shalt not bow down thyself to them, nor serve them; for I the Lord thy God am a jealous God, visiting the iniquity of the fathers upon the children unto the third and fourth generation of them that hate me. (Ex. 20:5.)

h. The Lord hath made all things for himself; yea, even the wicked for the day of evil. (Prov. 16:4.) The Lord knoweth how to deliver the godly out of temptations, and to reserve the unjust unto the day of judgment to be punished. (II Pet. 2:9.) This is the portion of a wicked man from God, and the heritage appointed unto him by God. (Job 20:29.)

a. O my soul, thou hast said unto the Lord, Thou art my Lord; my goodness extendeth not to thee. (Ps. 16:2.) So likewise ye, when ye shall have done all those things which are commanded you, say, We are unprofitable servants; we have done that which was our duty to do. (Luke 17:10.)

b. If I have withheld the poor from their desire, or have caused the eyes of the widow to fail; Or have eaten my morsel myself alone, and the fatherless hath not eaten thereof. (Job 31:16, 17.) Withhold not good from them to whom it is due, when it is in the power of thine hand to do it. (Prov. 3:27.) Is it not to deal thy bread to the hungry, and that thou bring the poor that are cast out to thy house? when thou seest the naked, that thou cover him; and that thou hide not thyself from thine own flesh. (Is. 58:7.) And whosoever shall give to drink unto one of these little ones a cup of cold water only in the name of a disciple, verily I say unto you, he shall in no wise lose his reward. (Mat. 10:42.) As cold waters to a thirsty soul, so is good news from a far country. (Prov. 25:25.)

c. The heaven is my throne, and the earth is my footstool; where is the house that ye build unto me? and where is the place of my rest? (Is. 66:1.) But will God indeed dwell on the earth? behold, the heaven and heaven of heavens cannot contain thee; how much less this house that I have builded? (I Ks. 8:27.)

d. The earth also was corrupt before God, and the earth was filled with violence. And God looked upon the earth, and, behold, it was corrupt; for all flesh had corrupted his way upon the earth. And God said unto Noah, The end of all flesh is come before me; for the earth is filled with violence through them; and, behold, I will destroy them with the earth. (Gen. 6:11-13.)

e. Arise, O Lord, disappoint him, cast him down; deliver my soul from the wicked, which is thy sword; From men which are thine hand, O Lord, from men of the world, which have their portion in this life, and whose belly thou fillest with thine hid treasure; they are full of children, and leave the rest of their substance to their babes. (Ps. 17:13, 14.)

f. Or let him take hold of my strength, that he may make peace with me; and he shall make peace with me. (Is. 27:5.) Therefore being 22 Receive, I pray thee, the law from his mouth, and lay up his [g]words in thine heart.

23 If thou return to the Almighty, thou shalt be built up, thou shalt put away iniquity far from thy tabernacles.
24 Then shalt thou lay up gold as dust, and the gold of Ō'phĭr as the stones of the brooks.
25 Yea, the Almighty shall be thy [11]defence, and thou shalt have [12]plenty of silver.
26 For then shalt thou have thy delight in the Almighty, and shalt lift up thy face unto God.
27 Thou shalt make thy prayer unto him, and he shall hear thee, and thou shalt pay thy vows.
28 Thou shalt also [h]decree a thing, and it shall be established unto thee: and the light shall shine upon thy ways.
29 When men are cast down, then thou shalt say, There is lifting up; and he shall save [i]the humble person.
30 He shall deliver the island of the innocent: and it is delivered by the pureness of thine hands.

CHAPTER 23.

1 Job longeth to appear before God, 6 in confidence of his mercy. 8 God, who is invisible, observeth our ways. 11 Job's innocency.

1 [1]Then Jōb answered and said,
2 [2]Even to day is my complaint bitter: my stroke is heavier than my groaning.
3 Oh that I knew where I might find him! that I might come even to his [3]seat!
4 I would order my cause before him, and fill my mouth with arguments.
5 I would know the words which he would answer me, and understand what he would say unto me.
6 [4]Will [a]he plead against me with his great power? No; but he would put strength in me.
7 There the righteous might dispute with him; so should I be delivered for ever from my judge.
8 Behold, [b]I go forward, but he is not there; and backward, but I cannot perceive him:
9 On the left hand, where he doth work, but I cannot behold him: he hideth himself on the right hand, that I cannot see him:
10 [5]But he knoweth [c]the way that I take: when [d]he hath tried me, I shall come forth as gold.
11 My foot hath held his steps, his way have I kept, and not declined.
12 Neither have I gone back from the commandment of his lips; I have esteemed the words of his mouth more than my necessary food.
13 But he is in one [6]mind, and who can turn him? and what his soul desireth, even that he doeth.
14 For he performeth the thing that is [c]appointed for me: and many such things are with him.
15 Therefore am I [f]troubled at his presence: when I consider, I am afraid of him.
16 For God maketh my heart [7]soft, and the Almighty [8]troubleth me:
17 Because I was not cut off before the darkness, neither hath he covered the darkness from my face.

CHAPTER 24.

1 Wickedness goeth often unpunished. 17 There is a secret judgment for the wicked.

1 [1]Why, seeing [a]times are not hidden from the Almighty, do they that know him not see his days?
2 Some remove [b]the [2]landmarks; they violently take away flocks, and feed thereof.
3 They drive away the ass of the fatherless, they [c]take the widow's ox for a pledge.
4 They turn the needy out of the way: [d]the poor of the earth hide themselves together.
5 Behold, as wild [3]asses in the desert, go they forth to their work; rising betimes for a [4]prey: the wilderness yieldeth food for them and for their children.
6 They reap every one his corn in the field: and they gather the vintage of the wicked.
7 They [e]cause the naked to lodge without clothing, that they have no covering in the cold.
8 They are wet with the showers of the mountains, and embrace the rock for want of a shelter.
9 [f]They pluck the fatherless from the breast, and take a pledge of the poor.
10 They cause him to go naked without clothing, and they take away the sheaf from the hungry;
11 Which make oil within their walls, and tread their winepresses, and suffer thirst.
12 Men groan from out of the city, and the soul of the wounded crieth out: [f]yet God layeth not folly to them.
13 [g]They are of those that rebel against the light; they know not the ways thereof, nor abide in the paths thereof.
14 The murderer rising with the light killeth the poor and needy, and in the night is as a thief.
15 The eye also of the adulterer waiteth for 11. Thy gold.

12. Silver of strength.

Ch. 23. B. C. 1520.

1. In chs. 23 and 24, is recorded Job's seventh reply. Eliphaz has been exhorting Job to prayer and holy living. In reply Job answers that the trouble is not upon his part but that he cannot find God; he has been hunting for him north, south, east and west, and it seems that God is hiding from him, lest by hearing his cause, love of righteousness would force him to absolve Job. The thought that, if he could secure a trial, he would come forth thoroughly vindicated, buoys Job up to almost superhuman endurance.

2. Indicating that the debate has been carried on for many days. (Ewald.)

3. Might present his case to the throne of God. From the false accusation of his friends, Job again makes a direct appeal to God.

4. God would put strength in him, as in Jacob's case.

5. Vs. 10-13, Job expresses absolute confidence in the purposes of God.

6. God is one mind always, unchangeable.

7. Faint.

8. Terri.eth me.

Ch. 24. B. C. 1520.

1. In this ch. Job seems to be possessed with the thought that God winks at evil and prospers the wicked—the problem of the mystery of evil.

2. Remove the boundary between good and evil. Such is the emotion of Job's heart, that he feels the wicked are set free without bounds.

3. Support.

4. Food.

5. In vs. 9-12, the fact that Job feels that God has hidden himself from him causes him to think that God likewise is hidden from the cry of the power everywhere.

6. Vs. 13-17, foul deeds seek the night.

justified by faith, we have peace with God through our Lord Jesus Christ. (Rom. 5:1.) For he is our peace, who hath made both one, and hath broken down the middle wall of partition between us. (Eph. 2:14.) And this is life eternal, that they might know thee the only true God, and Jesus Christ, whom thou hast sent. (Jno. 17:3.)

g. Thy word have I hid in mine heart, that I might not sin against thee. (Ps. 119:11.)

h. Commit thy works unto the Lord, and thy thoughts shall be established. (Prov. 16:3.)

i. Though the Lord be high, yet hath he respect unto the lowly; but the proud he knoweth afar off. (Ps. 138:6.) Surely he scorneth the scorners; but he giveth grace unto the lowly. (Prov. 3:34.) But he giveth more grace. Wherefore he saith, God resisteth the proud, but giveth grace unto the humble. (Js. 4:6.) Yea, all of you be subject one to another, and be clothed with humility; for God resisteth the proud, and giveth grace to the humble. (I Pet. 5:5.)

a. For I will not contend for ever, neither will I be always wroth; for the spirit should fail before me, and the souls which I have made. (Is. 57:16.)

b. Lo, he goeth by me, and I see him not; he passeth on also, but I perceive him not. (Job 9:11.) Who only hath immortality, dwelling in the light which no man can approach unto; whom no man hath seen, nor can see. (I Tim. 6:16.)

c. O Lord, thou hast searched me, and known me. Thou knowest my down-sitting and mine up-rising, thou understandest my thought afar off. Thou compassest my path and my lying down, and art acquainted with all my ways. (Ps. 139:1-3.)

d. Thou hast proved mine heart; thou hast visited me in the night; thou hast tried me, and shalt find nothing; I am purposed that my mouth shall not transgress. (Ps. 17:3.) Blessed is the man that endureth temptation; for when he is tried, he shall receive the crown of life, which the Lord hath promised to them that love him. (Js. 1:12.) That the trial of your faith, being much more precious than of gold that perisheth, though it be tried with fire, might be found unto praise and honor and glory at the appearing of Jesus Christ. (I Pet. 1:7.) And that thou shouldest visit him every morning, and try him every moment? (Job 7:18.) O let the wickedness of the wicked come to an end; but establish the just; for the righteous God trieth the hearts and reins. (Ps. 7:9.) The Lord trieth the righteous; but the wicked and him that loveth violence his soul hateth. (Ps. 11:5.)

e. That no man should be moved by these afflictions; for yourselves know that we are appointed thereunto. (I Thes. 3:3.) So am I made to possess months of vanity, and wearisome nights are appointed to me. (Job 7:3.)

f. My flesh trembleth for fear of thee; and I am afraid of thy judgments. (Ps. 119:120.)

a. It is not for you to know the times or the seasons, which the Father hath put in his own power. (Acts 1:7.)

b. Thou shalt not remove thy neighbor's landmark, which they of old time have set in thine inheritance, which thou shalt inherit in the land that the Lord thy God giveth thee to possess it. (Dt. 19:14.) Remove not the old landmark; and enter not into the fields of the fatherless. (Prov. 23:10.)

c. When thou dost lend thy brother any thing, thou shalt not go into his house to fetch his pledge (10). And if the man be poor, thou shalt not sleep with his pledge (12). Thou shalt not pervert the judgment of the stranger, nor of the fatherless; nor take a widow's raiment to pledge. (Dt. 24:10, 12, 17.) If thou at all take thy neighbor's raiment to pledge, thou shalt deliver it unto him by that the sun goeth down. (Ex. 22:26.)

d. When the wicked rise, men hide themselves; but when they perish, the righteous increase. (Prov. 28:28.)

e. And if the man be poor, thou shalt not sleep with his pledge. (Dt. 24:12.)

f. Because sentence against an evil work is not executed speedily, therefore the heart of the sons of men is fully set in them to do evil. (Ecc. 8:11.)

the twilight, saying, No eye shall see me: and disguiseth his face.

16 In the dark they dig through houses, which they had marked for themselves in the daytime: [g]they know not the light.

17 For the morning is to them even as the shadow of death: if one knows them, they are in the terrors of the shadow of death.

18 He is swift as the waters; their portion is cursed in the earth: he beholdeth not the way of the vineyards.

19 Drought and heat consume the snow waters: so doth the grave those which have sinned.

20 The womb shall forget him; the worm [7]shall feed sweetly on him; [h]he shall be no more remembered; and wickedness shall be broken as a tree.

21 He evil entreateth the barren that beareth not: and doeth not good to the widow.

22 He draweth also the mighty with his power: he riseth up, and no man is sure of life.

23 Though it be given him to be in safety, whereon he resteth; yet his [8]eyes are upon their ways.

24 They are exalted [i]for a little while, but are gone and brought low; they are taken out of the way as all other, and cut off as the tops of the ears of corn.

CHAPTER 25.

Bildad sheweth that man cannot be justified before God.

1 [1]Then answered Bĭl'dăd the Shu'hīte, and said,

2 Dominion and fear are with him, he maketh [2]peace in his high places.

3 Is there any number of his armies? and upon whom doth not [a]his light arise?

4 How [b]then can man be justified with God? or how can he be clean that is born of a woman?

5 Behold even to the moon, and it shineth not; yea, the stars are not pure in his sight.

6 How much less man, that is a worm? and the son of man, which is a worm?

CHAPTER 26.

1 Job, reproving the uncharitable spirit of Bildad, 5 acknowledgeth the power of God to be unsearchable.

1 [1]But Jōb answered and said,

2 [2]How hast thou [a]helped him that is [b]without power? how savest thou the arm that hath no strength?

3 How hast thou counselled him that hath no wisdom? and how hast thou plentifully declared the thing as it is?

4 To whom hast thou uttered words? and whose spirit came from thee?

5 [3]Dead things are formed from [4]under the waters, and the inhabitants thereof.

6 Hell [c]is naked before him, and destruction hath no covering.

7 He stretcheth out the north over the empty place, and hangeth the earth upon nothing.

8 [5]He bindeth up the waters in his thick clouds; and the cloud is not rent under them.

9 He holdeth back the face of his throne, and spreadeth his cloud upon it.

10 He hath [d]compassed the waters with bounds, until the day and night come to an end.

11 The pillars of [6]heaven tremble and are astonished at his [7]reproof.

12 He divideth the sea with his power, and by his understanding he smiteth through the proud.

13 By [e]his spirit he hath garnished the heavens; his hand hath formed the crooked serpent.

14 Lo, these are parts of his ways: but how little a portion is heard of him? but the thunder of his power who can understand?

CHAPTER 27.

1 Job protesteth his sincerity. 8 The hypocrite is without hope. 11 The blessings which the wicked have are turned into curses.

1 [1]Moreover Jōb continued his parable, and said,

2 [2]As [3]God liveth, who hath taken away my judgment; and the Almighty, who hath vexed my soul;

3 All the while my breath is in me, and the spirit of God is in my nostrils;

4 My lips shall not speak wickedness, nor my tongue utter deceit.

5 God forbid that I should justify you: till I die [a]I will not remove [4]mine integrity from me.

6 My righteousness I [b]hold fast, and will not let it go: [c]my heart [5]shall not reproach me so long as I live.

7 Let mine enemy be [6]as the wicked, and he that riseth up against me as the unrighteous.

8 For what [d]is the hope of the hypocrite, though he hath gained, when God taketh away his soul?

9 Will God hear his cry when trouble cometh [e]upon him?

7. The grave is welcome.

8. That is, God's eyes.

Ch. 25. B. C. 1520.

1. In the six verses of ch. 25, is recorded Bildad's third and last reply, in which he only seeks to scorn the idea that Job, born in corruption, could dare or hope to meet Jehovah and plead his cause as he expresses his desire to do. (Ch. 23.)

2. A glimpse into the future world, peace and tranquillity established among the heavenly hosts.

Ch. 26. B. C. 1520.

1. In ch. 26, is recorded Job's eighth reply. In this address Job reaches his climax in declaring God triumphant over all evil, which is the might and glory of God.

2. In vs. 2-4, Job administers a sharp rebuke to Bildad.

3. In vs. 5-14, Job gives a wonderful description of the majesty and glory of God.

4. A figure of the day, commonly used to intensify the terrors of sheol by declaring that it extended beneath and through the seas and was infested with the sea-monsters.

5. The holding of the waters suspended in the heavens was to Job a manifestation of divine power.

6. The popular idea that the mountains were pillars supporting the heavens is here used fig. by Job, as is evidenced from v. 7.

7. Thunder, which was often called "The voice of God." (Ps. 104:7)—"At thy rebuke they fled; at the voice of thy thunder they hastened away."

Ch. 27. B. C. 1520.

1. In ch. 27 and 28 is recorded Job's ninth and final address to his friends and his triumph over their false accusations. After Job finishes his eighth address, he pauses for an answer, but his accusers have been silenced and again he makes a most solemn appeal to God; again he takes up the discussion concerning the prosperity of the wicked, declaring it to be only apparent and transient. Throughout this address he adheres to the belief that there will be a future adjustment concerning sin and also that it should receive a measure of retribution in this life.

2. Vs. 2-10, Job assumes the oath of his innocence, fully conscious of the gravity of such an action, as no one who enjoyed his religious experience could be as the wicked.

3. That is, by the living God.

4. His integrity, which his friends had denied because of his misfortunes.

5. That is, conscience.

6. That is, they must be as the wicked sentiments which they have expressed.

g. Every one that doeth evil hateth the light, neither cometh to the light, lest his deeds should be reproved. (Jno. 3:20.)

h. The memory of the just is blessed; but the name of the wicked shall rot. (Prov. 10:7.) Thou hast rebuked the heathen, thou hast destroyed the wicked, thou hast put out their name for ever and ever. O thou enemy, destructions are come to a perpetual end; and thou hast destroyed cities; their memorial is perished with them. (Ps. 9:5, 6.)

i. I have seen the wicked in great power, and spreading himself like a green bay tree. Yet he passed away, and, lo, he was not; yea, I sought him, but he could not be found. (Ps. 37:35, 36.)

Chapter 25.

a. That ye may be the children of your Father which is in heaven; for he maketh his sun to rise on the evil and on the good, and sendeth rain on the just and on the unjust. (Mat. 5:25.) Every good gift and every perfect gift is from above, and cometh down from the Father of lights, with whom is no variableness, neither shadow of turning. (Js. 1:17.)

b. Shall mortal man be more just than God? shall a man be more pure than his Maker? (Job 4:17.) What is man, that he should be clean? and he which is born of a woman, that he should be righteous? (Job 15:14.) If thou, Lord, shouldest mark iniquities, O Lord, who shall stand? (Ps. 130:3.) And enter not into judgment with thy servant; for in thy sight shall no man living be justified. (Ps. 143:2.) I know it is so of a truth; but how should man be just with God? (Job 9:2.)

a. A word fitly spoken is like apples of gold in pictures of silver. (Prov. 25:11.)

b. What is my strength, that I should hope? and what is mine end, that I should prolong my life? Is my strength the strength of stones? or is my flesh of brass? (Job 6:11, 12.)

c. Hell and destruction are before the Lord; how much more then the hearts of the children of men? (Prov. 15:11.) Neither is there any creature that is not manifest in his sight; but all things are naked and opened unto the eyes of him with whom we have to do. (Heb. 4:13.)

d. Fear ye not me? saith the Lord; will ye not tremble at my presence, which have placed the sand for the bound of the sea by a perpetual decree, that it cannot pass it; and though the waves thereof toss themselves, yet can they not prevail; though they roar, yet can they not pass over it? (Jer. 5:22.)

e. By the word of the Lord were the heavens made; and all the host of them by the breath of his mouth. (Ps. 33:6.)

a. Though he slay me, yet will I trust in him; but I will maintain mine own ways before him. (Job 13:15.)

b. The Lord said unto Satan, hast thou considered my servant Job, that there is none like him in the earth, a perfect and an upright man, one that feareth God, and escheweth evil? and still he holdeth fast his integrity, although thou movedst me against him, to destroy him without cause. (Job 2:3.)

c. And herein do I exercise myself, to have always a conscience void of offence toward God, and toward men. (Acts 24:16.) Men and brethren, I have lived in all good conscience before God until this day. (Acts 23:1.)

d. For what is a man profited, if he shall gain the whole world, and lose his own soul? or what shall a man give in exchange for his soul? (Mat. 16:26.) None of them can by any means redeem his brother, nor give to God a ransom for him: (For the redemption of their soul is precious, and it ceaseth for ever). (Ps. 49:7, 8.)

e. They cried, but there was none to save them; even unto the Lord, but he answered them not. (Ps. 18:41.) Then shall they call upon me, but I will not answer; they shall seek me early, but they shall not find me. (Prov. 1:28.) Then shall they cry unto the Lord, but he will not hear them. (Mic. 3:4.) There they cry, but none giveth answer, because of the pride of evil men. Surely God will not hear vanity, neither will the Almighty regard it. (Job 35:12, 13.) And when ye spread forth your hands, I will hide mine eyes from you; yea, when ye make many prayers, I will not hear; your hands are full of blood. (Is. 1:15.)

10 Will he delight himself in the Almighty? will he always call upon God?

11 [7]I will teach you by the hand of God: that which is with the Almighty will I not conceal.

12 Behold, all ye yourselves have seen it; why then are ye thus altogether [8]vain?

13 This is the portion of a wicked man with God, and the heritage of oppressors, which they shall receive of the Almighty.

14 If [f]his children be multiplied, it is for the [9]sword: and his offspring shall not be satisfied with bread.

15 Those that remain of him shall be buried in death: and [g]his widows shall not weep.

16 Though he heap up silver as the dust, and prepare raiment as the clay;

17 He may prepare it, but [h]the just shall put it on, and the innocent shall divide the silver.

18 He buildeth his house as [10]a moth, and as a booth that the keeper maketh.

19 The rich man shall lie down, but he shall not be gathered: he openeth his eyes, and he is not.

20 Terrors take hold on him as waters, a tempest stealeth him away in the night.

21 The east wind carrieth him away, and he departeth: and as a storm hurleth him out of his place.

22 For God shall cast upon him, and not spare: he would fain flee out of his hand.

23 Men shall clap their hands at him, and shall hiss him out of his place.

CHAPTER 28.

1 There is a knowledge of natural things.
12 But wisdom is an excellent gift of God.

1 [1]Surely there is a vein [2]for the silver, and a place for gold where they fine it.

2 Iron is taken out of the earth, and brass is molten out of the stone.

3 [a]He setteth an end to darkness, and [3]searcheth out all perfection: the stones of darkness, and the shadow of death.

4 The flood breaketh out from the inhabitant: even the waters forgotten of the [4]foot: they are dried up, they are gone away from men.

5 As for the earth, out of it cometh bread: and under it is turned up as it were fire.

6 The stones of it are the place of sapphires: and it hath dust of gold.

7 There is a path which no fowl knoweth, and which the vulture's eye hath not seen:

8 The lion's [5]whelps have not trodden it, nor the fierce lion passed by it.

9 He putteth forth his hand upon the rock; he overturneth the mountains by the roots.

10 He cutteth out rivers among the rocks; and his eye seeth every precious thing.

11 He bindeth the floods from overflowing; and the thing that is hid bringeth he forth to light.

12 [6]But where shall [7]wisdom be found? and where is the place of understanding?

13 Man knoweth not the [b]price [8]thereof; neither is it found in the land of the living.

14 The [c]depth saith, It is not in me: and the sea saith, It is not with me.

15 It [d]cannot be gotten for gold, neither shall silver be weighed for the price thereof.

16 It cannot be valued with the gold of Ō'phĭr, with the precious onyx, or the sapphire.

17 The gold and the crystal cannot equal it: and the exchange of it shall not be for jewels of fine gold.

18 No mention shall be made of coral, or of pearls: for the price of wisdom is above rubies.

19 The [9]topaz of Ē-thĭ-ō'pĭ-à shall not equal it, neither shall it be valued with pure gold.

20 Whence then cometh [10]wisdom? and where is the place of understanding?

21 Seeing it is hid from the eyes of all living, and kept close from the fowls of the air.

22 Destruction and death say, We have heard the fame thereof with our ears.

23 [11]God [e]understandeth the way thereof, and he knoweth the place thereof.

24 For he looketh to the ends of the earth, and [f]seeth under the whole heaven;

25 To make [g]the weight for the winds; and he weigheth the waters by measure.

26 When he made a decree [12]for the rain, and a way for the lightning of the thunder:

27 Then [13]did he see it, and declare it; he prepared it, yea, and searched it out.

28 And [h]unto [14]man he said, Behold, the fear [15]of [i]the Lord, that is wisdom; and to depart from evil is understanding.

CHAPTER 29.

Job bemoaneth his former prosperity and honour.

1 [1]Moreover Jōb continued his parable, and said,

2 [2]Oh that I were as in months past, as in the days when God [3]preserved me;

3 When his candle shined upon my head, and when by his light I walked through darkness;

4 As I was in the days of my youth, when the secret of [a]God was upon my tabernacle;

5 When the Almighty was yet with me, when my [4]children were about me;

6 When [b]I washed my steps with butter, and the rock poured me out rivers of oil;

Ch. 28. B. C. 1520.

1. Job's discourse on wisdom, in this ch., is worthy of comparison with Paul's panegyric of charity. (I Cor. 13.) From the deep mysteries surrounding the punishments of the wicked, expressed in ch. 27, he passes to a discussion of divine wisdom whose ways are unsearchable.

2. "For" links the present ch. to the last 10 vs. of ch. 27.

3. The miner.

4. An expression used like "Let my right hand forget her cunning," to express temporary disability.

5. Lit., sons of pride.

6. Vs. 12-22, Job applies his preceding descriptions to wisdom.

7. Used comprehensively to express both intellectual and moral qualities.

8. Man knows not the value of wisdom.

9. One of the most precious gems, ranging in color from a wine-yellow to a carnation red, lilac or pale green. A single topaz has been known to sell for more than $1,000,000.00.

10. Job repeats this question, endeavoring to force a reply from his accusers.

11. Vs. 23-28, wisdom is of God.

12. The laws of nature.

13. Then the day of creation.

14. Unto Adam.

15. Fear, the mother of foresight.

Ch. 29. B. C. 1520.

1. Again Job pauses for a reply from his accusers, but receives none. He continues in the next three chs. to discourse with himself concerning the unsearchable ways of God. He takes a retrospective view of prosperity arising to the conception that God's favor is in itself a sufficient reward and is the greatest blessing to be desired, which makes a very material development in Job's spiritual insight and growth of faith.

2. Job now proceeds to illustrate by his own case the mysteriousness of God's dealings, as set forth in ch. 28.

3. From calamity, as in former days.

4. Job here declares the blessings of children to be next to that of God.

f. The ten sons of Haman the son of Hammedatha, the enemy of the Jews, slew they; but on the spoil laid they not their hand. (Esth. 9:10.)

g. Their priests fell by the sword; and their widows made no lamentation. (Ps. 78:64.)

h. He that by usury and unjust gain increaseth his substance, he shall gather it for him that will pity the poor. (Prov. 28:8.) For God giveth to a man that is good in his sight wisdom, and knowledge, and joy; but to the sinner he giveth travail, to gather and to heap up, that he may give to him that is good before God. This also is vanity and vexation of spirit. (Ecc. 2:26.) A good man leaveth an inheritance to his children's children; and the wealth of the sinner is laid up for the just. (Prov. 13:22.)

Chapter 28.

a. Then I saw that wisdom excelleth folly, as far as light excelleth darkness. (Ecc. 2:13.)

b. She is more precious than rubies; and all the things thou canst desire are not to be compared unto her. (Prov. 3:15.)

c. O the depth of the riches both of the wisdom and knowledge of God! how unsearchable are his judgments, and his ways past finding out. (Rom. 11:33.)

d. Receive my instruction, and not silver; and knowledge rather than choice gold. For wisdom is better than rubies; and all the things that may be desired are not to be compared to it. (Prov. 8:10, 11.) How much better is it to get wisdom than gold? and to get understanding rather to be chosen than silver. (Prov. 16:16.)

e. Known unto God are all his works from the beginning of the world. (Acts 15:18.) Neither is there any creature that is not manifest in his sight. (Heb. 4:13.)

f. The eyes of the Lord are in every place, beholding the evil and the good. (Prov. 15:3.) For his eyes are upon the ways of man, and he seeth all his goings. (Job 34:21.) For mine eyes are upon all their ways; they are not hid from my face, neither is their iniquity hid from mine eyes. (Jer. 16:17.) Neither is there any creature that is not manifest in his sight. (Heb. 4:13.)

g. He causeth the vapors to ascend from the ends of the earth; he maketh lightnings for the rain; he bringeth the wind out of his treasuries. (Ps. 135:7.)

h. The secret things belong unto the Lord our God; but those things which are revealed belong unto us and to our children for ever, that we may do all the words of this law. (Dt. 29:29.) And that from a child thou hast known the holy scriptures, which are able to make thee wise unto salvation through faith which is in Christ Jesus. (II Tim. 3:15.)

i. Keep therefore and do them; for this is your wisdom and your understanding in the sight of the nations, which shall hear all these statutes, and say, Surely this great nation is a wise and understanding people. (Dt. 4:6.) The fear of the Lord is the beginning of wisdom; a good understanding have all they that do his commandments; his praise endureth for ever. (Ps. 111:10.) The fear of the Lord is the beginning of knowledge. (Prov. 1:7.) The fear of the Lord is the beginning of wisdom; and the knowledge of the holy is understanding. (Prov. 9:10.) A wise man feareth, and departeth from evil. (Prov. 14:16.) The fear of the Lord is the instruction of wisdom. (Prov. 15:33.)

a. The secret of the Lord is with them that fear him; and he will show them his covenant. (Ps. 25:14.) For the froward is abomination to the Lord; but his secret is with the righteous. (Prov. 3:32.) If any man will do his will he shall know of the doctrine, whether it be of God, or whether I speak of myself. (Jno. 7:17.) For God, who commanded the light to shine out of darkness, hath shined in our hearts, to give the light of the knowledge of the glory of God in the face of Jesus Christ. (II Cor. 4:6.)

b. He shall not see the rivers, the floods, the brooks of honey and butter. (Job 20:17.) He made him ride on the high places of the earth,

7 When I went out to the gate through the city, when I prepared my seat in the street!
8 The young men saw me, and hid themselves: and the aged arose, and stood up.
9 The princes refrained talking, and laid their hand on their mouth.
10 The nobles held their peace, and their [c]tongue cleaved to the roof of their mouth.
11 [5]When the ear heard me, then it blessed me; and when the eye saw me, it gave witness to me:
12 Because [d]I delivered the poor that cried, and the fatherless, and him that had none to help him.
13 The blessing of him that was ready to perish came upon me: and I caused the widow's heart to sing for joy.
14 I [e]put on righteousness, and it clothed me: my judgment was as a robe and a diadem.
15 I was [f]eyes to the blind, and feet was I to the lame.
16 I was a father to the [d]poor: and the cause which I knew not I searched out.
17 And I brake the jaws of the wicked, and plucked the spoil out of his teeth.
18 [6]Then I said, I shall die in my nest, and I shall multiply my days as the sand.
19 My root was spread out [g]by the waters, and the dew lay all night upon my branch.
20 My glory was fresh in me, and my bow was renewed in my hand.
21 Unto me men gave ear, and waited, and kept silence at my counsel.
22 After my words they spake not again; and my speech dropped upon them.
23 And they waited for me as for the rain; and they opened their mouth wide as for the latter rain.
24 If I laughed on them, they believed it not; and the light of my countenance they cast not down.
25 I chose out their way, and sat chief, and dwelt as a king in the army, as one that comforteth the mourners.

CHAPTER 30.

1 Job's honour is turned into extreme contempt. 15 His prosperity into calamity.

1 But [1]now they that are younger than I have me in derision, whose fathers I would have disdained to have set with the dogs of my flock.
2 Yea, whereto might the strength of their hands profit me, in whom old age was perished?
3 For want and famine they were solitary; fleeing into the wilderness in former time desolate and waste.
4 Who cut up [2]mallows by the bushes, and juniper roots for their meat.
5 They were driven forth from among men, (they cried after them as after a thief;)
6 To dwell in the cliffs of the valleys, in caves of the earth, and in the rocks.
7 Among the bushes they brayed; under the nettles they were gathered together.
8 They were children of fools, yea, children of base men: they were viler than the earth.
9 And now am I their [3]song, yea, [a]I am their byword.
10 They abhor me, they flee far from me, and [b]spare not to spit [4]in my face.
11 Because he hath loosed my cord, and afflicted me, they have also let loose the bridle before me.
12 Upon my right hand rise the youth; they push away my feet, and they raise up against me the ways of their destruction.
13 They mar my path, they set forward my calamity, they have no helper.
14 They came upon me as a wide breaking in of waters: in the desolation they rolled themselves upon me.
15 Terrors are turned upon me: they pursue my soul as the wind: and my welfare passeth away as a cloud.
16 And now my soul is [c]poured out [5]upon me; the days of affliction have taken hold upon me.
17 My bones are [d]pierced in me in the night season: and my sinews take no rest.
18 By the great force of my disease is my garment [6]changed: it bindeth me about as the collar of my coat.
19 He hath cast me into the mire, and I am become like dust and ashes.
20 I cry [e]unto thee, and thou dost not hear me: I stand up, and thou regardest me not.
21 Thou art become cruel to me: with thy strong hand thou opposest thyself against me.
22 Thou liftest me up to the wind; thou causest me to ride upon it, and dissolvest my substance.
23 For I know that thou wilt bring me to death, and to the house appointed for all living.
24 [7]Howbeit he will not stretch out his hand to the grave, though they cry in his destruction.
25 Did [f]not I [8]weep for him that was in trouble? was not my soul grieved for the poor?
26 When I looked for good, then evil came unto me: and when I waited for light, there came darkness.
27 My bowels boiled, and rested not: the days of affliction prevented me.
28 I went mourning [g]without the sun: I stood up, and I cried in the congregation.
29 I am a brother to dragons, and a companion to owls.

5. Vs. 11-17. true prosperity rests upon the solid foundation of benevolence and righteousness.

6. In vs. 18-25, Job declares there is reason to believe that the prosperity of the righteous shall endure.

Ch. 30. B. C. 1520.

1. Job continues his lament, which has failed to move either God or man, but still he calmly holds fast to his integrity and faith and awaits the end.

2. Sea purslane, a kind of thornless bramble, bitter and somewhat saltish.

3. The song of derision of the outcasts of humanity.

4. That is, to spit before him, which in the east at that time, was considered a reproach and insult.

5. Dissolved or overcome with grief.

6. The skin; he was clothed as with a garment with the incrustation of ulcerations.

7. In vs. 24-31, Job expresses the thought that his doom has already been sealed, as those in the grave, hence God's refusal to answer his prayer.

8. Job advances the thought that the sincere sympathizer with men has reason to expect divine sympathy. (Ps. 41:1-3)—"Blessed is he who considereth the poor: the Lord will deliver him in the time of trouble. The Lord will preserve him and keep him alive; and he shall be blessed upon the earth; and thou wilt not deliver him unto the will of his enemies. The Lord will strengthen him upon the bed of languishing; thou wilt make all his bed in his sickness."

that he might eat the increase of the fields; and he made him to suck honey out of the rock, and oil out of the flinty rock; Butter of kine, and milk of sheep, with fat of lambs, and rams of the breed of Bashan, and goats, with the fat of kidneys of wheat; and thou didst drink the pure blood of the grape. (Dt. 32:13, 14.)

c. If I do not remember thee, let my tongue cleave to the roof of my mouth; if I prefer not Jerusalem above my chief joy. (Ps. 137:6.)

d. For he shall deliver the needy when he crieth; the poor also, and him that hath no helper. (Ps. 72:12.) Whoso stoppeth his ears at the cry of the poor, he also shall cry himself, but shall not be heard. (Prov. 21:13.) For with what judgment ye judge, ye shall be judged; and with what measure ye mete, it shall be measured to you again. (Mat. 7:2.)

e. Stand therefore, having your loins girt about with truth, and having on the breastplate of righteousness. (Eph. 6:14.) For he put on righteousness as a breastplate, and an helmet of salvation upon his head. (Is. 59:17.)

f. Leave us not, I pray thee; forasmuch as thou knowest how we are to encamp in the wilderness, and thou mayest be to us instead of eyes. (Num. 10:31.)

g. And he shall be like a tree planted by the rivers of water, that bringeth forth his fruit in his season; his leaf also shall not wither; and whatsoever he doeth shall prosper. (Ps. 1:3.) For he shall be as a tree planted by the waters, and that spreadeth out her roots by the river, and shall not see when he cometh, but her leaf shall be green; and shall not be careful in the year of drought, neither shall cease from yielding fruit. (Jer. 17:8.)

a. He hath made me also a byword of the people; and aforetime I was as a tabret. (Job. 17:6.) But in mine adversity they rejoiced, and gathered themselves together; yea, the abjects gathered themselves together against me, and I knew it not; they did tear me, and ceased not. (Ps. 35:15.) I made sackcloth also my garments; and I became a proverb to them. They that sit in the gate speak against me; and I was the song of the drunkards. (Ps. 69:11, 12.) I was a derision to all my people; and their song all the day (14). Behold their sitting down, and their rising up; I am their musick. (Lam. 3:14, 63.)

b. If her father had but spit in her face, should she not be ashamed seven days? let her be shut out from the camp seven days, and after that let her be received in again. (Num. 12:14.) Then shall his brother's wife come unto him in the presence of the elders, and loose his shoe from off his foot, and spit in his face, and shall answer and say, So shall it be done unto that man that will not build up his brother's house. (Dt. 25:9.) And I gave my back to the smiters, and my cheeks to them that plucked off the hair; I hid not my face from shame and spitting. (Is. 50:6.) Then did they spit in his face, and buffeted him; and others smote him with the palms of their hands. (Mat. 26:67.)

c. No, my lord, I am a woman of a sorrowful spirit; I have drunk neither wine nor strong drink, but have poured out my soul before the Lord. (I Sam. 1:15.)

d. Have mercy upon me, O Lord; for I am weak; O Lord, heal me; for my bones are vexed. (Ps. 6:2.)

e. O my God, I cry in the daytime, but thou hearest not; and in the night season, and am not silent. (Ps. 22:2.) And his disciples came and besought him, saying, Send her away; for she crieth after us. (Mat. 15:23.)

f. Rejoice with them that do rejoice, and weep with them that weep. (Rom. 12:15.)

g. I am the man that hath seen affliction by the rod of his wrath. He hath led me, and brought me into darkness, but not into light. (Lam. 3:1, 2.)

30 My skin is black upon me, and my bones are burned with heat.

31 My harp also is turned to mourning, and my organ into the voice of them that weep.

CHAPTER 31.

Job maketh a solemn protestation of his integrity in several duties.

1 [1]I made a covenant with [2]mine [a]eyes; why then should I think upon a maid?

2 For what portion of God is there from above? and what inheritance of the Almighty from on high?

3 Is not destruction to the wicked? and a strange punishment to the workers of iniquity?

4 Doth [b]not he see my ways, and count all my steps?

5 [3]If I have walked with vanity, or if my foot hath hasted to deceit;

6 Let me [4]be weighed in an even balance, that God may know mine integrity.

7 If my step hath turned out of the way, and mine heart [c]walked after mine eyes, and if any blot hath cleaved to mine hands;

8 Then let me sow, and let another eat; yea, let my offspring be rooted out.

9 [5]If mine heart have been deceived by a woman, or if I have laid wait at my neighbour's door;

10 Then let my wife [6]grind unto another, and let others bow down upon her.

11 For this is an heinous crime; yea, it is an iniquity to be punished by the judges.

12 For it is a fire that [7]consumeth to destruction, and would root all mine increase.

13 If I did despise the cause of my manservant or of my maidservant, when they contended with me;

14 What then shall I do when God riseth up? and when he visiteth, what shall I answer him?

15 Did not he that [d]made me in the womb make him? and did not one fashion us in the womb?

16 [8]If I have withheld the poor from their desire, or have caused the eyes of the widow to fail;

17 Or have eaten my morsel myself alone, and the fatherless hath not eaten thereof;

18 (For from my youth [9]he was brought up with me, as with a father, and I have [10]guided her from my mother's womb;)

19 If I have seen any perish for want of clothing, or any poor without covering;

20 If his loins have not blessed me, and if he were not warmed with the fleece of my sheep;

Ch. 31. B. C. 1520.

1. In "this masterly piece of moral painting" we have a most pleasing view of a gentle and amiable spirit ennobled by one common love of God and man. At first sight, this review of Job's life seems a Pharisaical display of virtue, a quasi-invoice of righteousness; but it is to be remembered that Job has been forced to defence under circumstances which Sir Richard Steele states "may justify a man in saying not only as much as will refute his adversaries, but if he can, he may assert things of himself praiseworthy, which ought not to be called vanity in him, but simply justice against his opponents." We have, moreover, an insight into the patriarchal religion, the most ancient religion of our race. The religion of Job was not of Israel, nor from Moses, but Abrahamic, the "din Ibrahim" (religion of Abraham), as the Arab calls it even to the present day. There is a striking resemblance between this exhibit of moral duty and the ten commandments of piety peculiar to the "din Ibrahim." There is displayed a most remarkable insight into the motives and springs of moral action—the rudiments of good and evil. The heart he regards as the fount of moral action—the field from which man may look the saint, but be the devil.

Job anticipates, to a wonderful degree, various elements of "the sermon on the mount," more especially the responsibility connected with the subtle beginnings of action, the unseen primordia of the outward deed. And yet it is worthy of special consideration that "a conscience so wonderfully delicate and enlightened as that which Job had disclosed in these his closing discourses, appears as in need of repentance, and unable to secure from God a verdict of unconditional justification." (Zockler.)

2. Determined his eyes shall not transgress. Compare the words of Christ in Mat. 5:28—"But I say unto you, that whosoever looketh on a woman to lust after her, hath committed adultery with her already, in his heart."

3. In vs. 5-8 Job declares he has never practiced deceit or advocated dishonest principles.

4. Lit., let God weigh me in a balance of righteousness and he shall know my integrity.

5. Vs. 9-15, Job affirms that he has always practiced righteousness in all the relations of domestic life.

6. Be a slave or concubine unto another if he has ever been unfaithful.

7. In the early ages, adultery was punished by burning. (Gen. 38:24.)

8. In vs. 16-23 Job declares he has ever practiced righteousness in civil life in all his dealings with others.

9. The fatherless.

10. The widow.

11. In vs. 24-34, Job declares that he has not only been virtuous in his domestic and civil life, but he has always been honorable in the discharge of his sacred and private obligations to man; he has never cherished malice or attempted revenge nor laid claim to virtues he did not possess.

12. Job returns to his wish to be heard by the Almighty.

21 If I have lifted up my hand against the fatherless, when I saw my help in the gate:

22 Then let mine arm fall from my shoulder blade, and mine arm be broken from the bone.

23 For destruction from God was a terror to me, and by reason of his highness I could not endure.

24 [11]If I have made gold my hope, or have said to the fine gold, Thou art my confidence;

25 If I rejoiced because my wealth was great, and because mine hand had gotten much;

26 [e]If I beheld the sun when it shined, or the moon walking in brightness;

27 And my heart hath been secretly enticed, or my mouth hath kissed my hand:

28 This also were an iniquity to be punished by the judge: for I should have denied the God that is above.

29 If I rejoiced at the destruction of him that hated me, or lifted up myself when evil found him:

30 Neither have I suffered my mouth [f]to sin by wishing a curse to his soul.

31 If the men of my tabernacle said not, Oh that we had of his flesh! we cannot be satisfied.

32 [g]The stranger did not lodge in the street: but I opened my doors to the traveller.

33 If I covered my transgressions as Ad'ăm, by hiding mine iniquity in my bosom:

34 Did I fear a [h]great multitude, or did the contempt of families terrify me, that I kept silence, and went not out of the door?

35 [12]Oh that one would hear me! behold, my desire is, that the Almighty would answer me, and that mine adversary had written a book.

36 Surely I would take it upon my shoulder, and bind it as a crown to me.

37 I would declare unto him the number of my steps; as a prince would I go near unto him.

38 If my land cry against me, or that the furrows likewise thereof complain;

39 If I have eaten the fruits thereof without money, or have caused the owners thereof to lose their life:

40 Let thistles grow instead of wheat, and cockle instead of barley. The words of Jōb are ended.

CHAPTER 32.

1 Elihu is angry with Job and his three friends. 11 He reproveth them for not satisfying of Job. 16 His zeal to speak.

1 [1]So these three men ceased to answer Jōb, because he was righteous [2]in his own eyes.

Ch. 32. B. C. 1520.

1. With this ch. the scene changes and another actor in this drama of life appears on the stage in the person of Elihu, a young man of high descent, probably of the lineage of Abraham. He appears to have been present before, but stood in the background as a silent listener, until he sees the accusers of Job are no longer able to answer Job's defense, and becoming impatient with a righteous indignation against the "friends," also against what he conceives to be Job's self-righteousness, he now enters the discussion with a moderation which served as a beautiful contrast to the intemperance and severity of the other three. Job has repeatedly made a very impassioned appeal to be heard by God; but before this can be, his troubled mind must be soothed, which office Elihu seems to fill in this poem, as John the Baptist, a divinely commissioned bearer of truth, prepared the way for the coming of the Son of God. God reasons with man through man, hence the office of Elihu in the Book of Job.

2. "The three friends," as they retire from the discussion, defeated, excuse their miserable failure to convince Job "because he was righteous in his own eyes."

Chapter 31.

a. That whosoever looketh on a woman to lust after her hath committed adultery with her already in his heart. (Mat. 5:28.)

b. For the eyes of the Lord run to and fro throughout the whole earth, to show himself strong in the behalf of them whose heart is perfect toward him. (II Chr. 16:9.) For his eyes are upon the ways of man, and he seeth all his goings. There is no darkness, nor shadow of death, where the workers of iniquity may hide themselves. (Job 34:21, 22.) For the ways of man are before the eyes of the Lord, and he pondereth all his goings. (Prov. 5:21.) The eyes of the Lord are in every place, beholding the evil and the good. (Prov. 15:3.) For thine eyes are open upon all the ways of the sons of men; to give every one according to his ways, and according to the fruit of his doings. (Jer. 32:19.)

c. And it shall be unto you for a fringe, that ye may look upon it, and remember all the commandments of the Lord, and do them; and that ye seek not after your own heart and your own eyes, after which ye use to go a whoring. (Num. 15:39.) And if thy right eye offend thee, pluck it out, and cast it from thee; for it is profitable for thee that one of thy members should perish, and not that thy whole body should be cast into hell. (Mat. 5:29.)

d. In the mouth of the foolish is a rod of pride; but the lips of the wise shall preserve them. (Prov. 14:3.) The rich and poor meet together; the Lord is the maker of them all. (Prov. 22:2.) Have we not all one father? hath not one God created us? why do we deal treacherously every man against his brother, by profaning the covenant of our fathers? (Mal. 2:10.) One God and Father of all, who is above all, and through all, and in you all. (Eph. 4:6.)

e. And lest thou lift up thine eyes unto heaven, and when thou seest the sun, and the moon, and the stars, even all the host of heaven, shouldest be driven to worship them, and serve them, which the Lord thy God hath divided unto all nations unto the whole heaven. (Dt. 4:19.) Take heed to yourselves, that your heart be not deceived, and ye turn aside, and serve other gods, and worship them. (Dt. 11:16.) And he brought me into the inner court of the Lord's house, and, behold, at the door of the temple of the Lord, between the porch and the altar, were about five and twenty men, with their backs toward the temple of the Lord, and their faces toward the east; and they worshipped the sun toward the east. (Ezek. 8:16.)

f. Love your enemies, bless them that curse you, do good to them that hate you, and pray for them which despitefully use you, and persecute you. (Mat. 5:44.) Bless them which persecute you; bless, and curse not. (Rom. 12:14.)

g. Behold now, my lords, turn in, I pray you, into your servant's house, and tarry all night, and wash your feet, and ye shall rise up early, and go on your ways. And they said, Nay; but we will abide in the street all night. (Gen. 19:2.) Be not forgetful to entertain strangers; for thereby some have entertained angels unawares. (Heb. 13:2.) Use hospitality one to another without grudging. (I Pet. 4:9.)

h. Thou shalt not follow a multitude to do evil; neither shalt thou

2 Then was kindled the wrath of [3]E-lī'hū the son of Băr'ă-chel the [4]Bū-zīte, of the kindred of Răm: against Jōb was his wrath kindled, because he justified himself rather than God.

3 Also against his three friends was his wrath kindled, because they had found no answer, and yet had [5]condemned Jōb.

4 Now [3]E-lī'hū had waited till Jōb had spoken, because they were elder than he.

5 When [3]E-lī'hū saw that there was no answer in the mouth of these three men, then his wrath was kindled.

6 And [3]E-lī'hū the son of Băr'ă-chel the [4]Bū'zīte answered and said, I am young, and ye are very old; wherefore I was afraid, and durst not shew you mine opinion.

7 I said, [a]Days should speak, and multitude of years should teach wisdom.

8 But there is a spirit in man: and the [b]inspiration of the Almighty giveth them understanding.

9 Great men are [c]not always wise: neither do the aged understand judgment.

10 Therefore I said, Hearken to me; I also will shew mine opinion.

11 [6]Behold, I waited for your words; I gave ear to your reasons, whilst ye searched out what to say.

12 Yea, I attended unto you, and, behold, there was none of you that convinced Jōb, or that answered his words:

13 Lest ye [d]should say, We have found [7]out wisdom: God [8]thrusteth him down, not man.

14 Now he hath not directed his words against me: neither will I answer him with your speeches.

15 They were [9]amazed, they answered no more: they left off speaking.

16 When I had waited, (for they spake not, but stood still, and answered no more;)

17 I said, I will answer also my part, I also will shew mine opinion.

18 For I am full of matter, the spirit within me constraineth me.

19 Behold, my belly is as wine which hath no vent; it is ready to burst like new bottles.

20 I will speak, that I may be refreshed: I will open my lips and answer.

21 Let me not, I pray you, accept any man's person, neither let me give flattering titles unto man.

22 For I know not to give flattering titles; in so doing my maker would soon take me away.

CHAPTER 33.

1 Elihu offereth to reason with Job. 8 He excuseth God from giving man an account of his ways, by his greatness. 14 God calleth man to repentance by visions, 19 by afflictions, 23 and by his ministry.

1 Wherefore, [1]Jōb, I pray thee, hear my speeches, and hearken to all my words.

2 Behold, now I have opened my mouth, my tongue hath spoken in my mouth.

3 My words shall be of the [a]uprightness of my heart: and my lips shall utter knowledge clearly.

4 The spirit of God hath [b]made me, and the breath of the Almighty hath given me life.

5 If thou canst answer me, set thy words in order before me, stand up.

6 Behold, I am according to thy wish in God's stead: I also am formed out of the clay.

7 Behold, my terror shall not make thee afraid, neither shall my [2]hand be heavy upon thee.

8 Surely thou hast spoken [3]in mine hearing, and I have heard the voice of thy words, saying,

9 I am clean without transgression, I am innocent; neither is there iniquity in me.

10 Behold, he [c]findeth occasions against me, he counteth me for his enemy, 11 He putteth my feet in the stocks, he marketh all my paths.

12 Behold, in [4]this thou art not just: I will answer thee, that God is greater than man.

13 Why dost thou strive against him? for he giveth not account of any of his matters.

14 For God [5]speaketh once, yea twice, yet man perceiveth it not.

15 In a dream, in a vision of the night, when deep sleep falleth upon men, in slumberings upon the bed;

16 Then he openeth the ears of men, and sealeth their instruction, 17 That he may withdraw man from his purpose, and hide pride from man.

18 He keepeth back his soul from the pit, and his life from perishing by the sword.

19 [6]He is [7]chastened also with pain upon his bed, and the multitude of his bones with strong pain:

20 So that his life abhorreth bread, and his soul dainty meat.

21 His flesh is consumed away, that it cannot be seen; and his bones that were not seen stick out.

22 Yea, his soul draweth near unto the grave, and his life to the destroyers.

23 [8]If there be [d]a messenger with him, an interpreter, one among a thousand, to shew unto man his uprightness:

24 Then he is gracious unto him, and saith, Deliver him from going down to the pit: I have found a ransom.

25 His flesh shall be fresher than a child's: he shall return to the days of his youth:

26 He shall pray [e]unto God, and he will be favourable unto him: and he shall see his face with joy: for he will render unto man his righteousness.

27 He looketh upon men, and if any say, I have sinned, and perverted that which was right, and it profited me not;

28 He will deliver his soul from going into the pit, and his life shall see the light.

29 [9]Lo, all these things worketh God oftentimes with man,

30 To bring back his soul from the pit, to be enlightened with the light of the living.

3. Son of Barachel, the Buzite of the family of Ram, therefore a descendant from Nahor, brother of Abraham. (Gen. 22:20, 21.) He is introduced as an interlocutor in the Book of Job.

4. The name of a son of Nahor, Abraham's brother.

5. In their extremity, the only way they could justify God was to condemn Job.

6. Vs. 11-14. Elihu tells the three friends that their failure was because of their dealings in personal invectives, rather than the principles of right, wrong and reason.

7. The friends were prevented from convincing Job because of their inordinate vanity.

8. That is, God putteth him to flight.

9. Confounded.

Ch. 33. B. C. 1520.

1. The first time Job has been addressed by his name. In Vs. 1-7 Elihu tells Job to give attention and if he cannot answer him (Elihu) how foolish must his challenge of God have been.

2. In Job 9:34; 13:21; 23:6, Job expresses a fear to contend with God lest the Divine Majesty should overwhelm him; but Elihu assures Job that he can listen to him, as he is human like unto himself.

3. That is, spoken openly, charging God with cruelty, which had greatly astonished Elihu.

4. In this (i. e., thy view of God) thou art wrong.

5. In many ways God seeks to gently reprove man of sin.

6. In vs. 19-22 Elihu declares that if man will not be obedient to the gentle reproof of God, then the divine visitations of dangerous diseases will fall upon him.

7. That is, purifies, not as Eliphaz would declare, to burn up, to punish.

8. In vs. 23-28 Elihu declares that an intercessor and mediator will seek out a ransom for man, a prophecy finding its fulfillment in Christ.

9. The fifth time the word shabhath (pit) has been used in this description.

speak in a cause to decline after many to wrest judgment. (Ex. 23:2.) The fear of man bringeth a snare; but whoso putteth his trust in the Lord shall be safe. (Prov. 29:25.)

Chapter 32.

a. For enquire, I pray thee, of the former age, and prepare thyself to the search of their fathers: (For we are but of yesterday, and know nothing, because our days upon earth are a shadow). (Job 8:8, 9.)

b. Who hath put wisdom in the inward parts? or who hath given understanding to the heart? (Job 38:36.)

c. For after that in the wisdom of God the world by wisdom knew not God, it pleased God by the foolishness of preaching to save them that believed (21). For ye see your calling, brethren, how that not many wise men after the flesh, not many mighty, not many noble, are called. (I Cor. 1:21, 26.)

d. Let not the wise man glory in his wisdom, neither let the mighty man glory in his might, let not the rich man glory in his riches. (Jer. 9:23.) I know that the way of man is not in himself; it is not in man that walketh to direct his steps. (Jer. 10:23.)

a. Remembering without ceasing your work of faith, and labor of love, and patience of hope in our Lord Jesus Christ, in the sight of God and our Father; knowing, brethren beloved, your election of God. (I Thes. 1:3, 4.)

b. And the Lord God formed man of the dust of the ground, and breathed into his nostrils the breath of life; and man became a living soul. (Gen. 2:7.) By the word of the Lord were the heavens made; and all the host of them by the breath of his mouth. (Ps. 33:6.)

c. Wherefore hidest thou thy face, and holdest me for thine enemy? (24). For thou writest bitter things against me, and makest me to possess the iniquities of my youth. (Job. 13:24, 26.)

d. Behold, I will send my messenger, and he shall prepare the way before me; and the Lord, whom ye seek, shall suddenly come to his temple, even the messenger of the covenant, whom ye delight in; behold, he shall come, saith the Lord of hosts. (Mal. 3:1.)

e. Offer unto God thanksgiving; and pay thy vows unto the most High; And call upon me in the day of trouble; I will deliver thee, and thou shalt glorify me. (Ps. 50:14, 15.) The Lord is nigh unto all them that call upon him, to all that call upon him in truth. (Ps. 145:18.) Let us lift up our heart with our hands unto God in the heavens. (Lam. 3:41.) Ask, and it shall be given you; seek, and ye shall find; knock, and it shall be opened unto you; For every one that asketh receiveth; and he that seeketh findeth; and to him that knocketh it shall be opened. (Mat. 7:7, 8.) And he spake a parable unto them to this end, that men ought always to pray, and not to faint. (Luke 18:1.)

31 Mark well, O Jōb, hearken unto me: hold thy peace, and I will speak.
32 If thou hast any thing to say, answer me: speak, for I desire to justify thee.
33 If not, [f]hearken unto me: hold thy peace, and I shall teach thee wisdom.

CHAPTER 34.

1 Elihu accuseth Job for charging God with injustice. 10 God omnipotent cannot be unjust. 31 Man must humble himself unto God.

1 [1]Furthermore E-lī'hū answered and said,
2 Hear my words, O ye wise men; and give ear unto me, ye that have knowledge.
3 For the ear trieth words, as the mouth tasteth meat.
4 Let us choose [2]to us judgment: let us know among ourselves what is good.
5 [3]For Jōb hath said, [a]I am righteous: and [b]God hath taken away my judgment.
6 Should I lie against my right? my wound is incurable without transgression.
7 What man is like Jōb, who drinketh up [4]scorning like water?
8 Which goeth in company with the workers of iniquity, and walketh with wicked men.
9 For he hath said, [c]It [5]profiteth a man nothing that he should delight himself with God.
10 [6]Therefore hearken unto me, ye men of understanding: [d]far [7]be it from God, that he should do wickedness; and from the Almighty, that he should commit iniquity.
11 For the [e]work of a man shall he render unto him, and cause every man to find according to his ways.
12 Yea, [8]surely God will not do wickedly, neither will the Almighty pervert judgment.
13 Who hath given him a charge over the earth? or who hath disposed the whole world?
14 If he set his heart upon man, if he [f]gather unto himself his spirit and his breath;
15 All flesh shall perish together, and man shall turn again unto dust.
16 If now thou hast understanding, hear this: hearken to the voice of my words.
17 Shall even [g]he that hateth right govern? and wilt thou condemn him that is most just?
18 Is it fit to say to a king, Thou art wicked? and to princes, Ye are ungodly?
19 How much less to him that [h]accepteth not the persons of princes, nor regardeth the rich more than the poor? for they all are the work of his hands.
20 In a moment shall they die, and the people shall be troubled at midnight, and pass away: and the mighty shall be taken away without hand.

Ch. 34. B. C. 1520.

1. After closing his first discourse, Elihu pauses and waits for Job to answer; but upon Job's not doing so, Elihu begins his second discourse in this ch. to establish the justice of God. He bases his argument on the necessity of the divine nature's being upright and just.

2. Prove the right.

3. In vs. 5-9 Elihu cites the principal objectionable sayings of Job.

4. Who scoffeth in derision, as the wicked.

5. An expression used of Job in ch. 21: 15, though he applies it to the wicked.

6. In vs. 10-30 Elihu declares the nature of God makes it impossible for him to do wrong, and necessary for him to do right.

7. Far from God be wickedness and iniquity.

8. Of a surety God will not do wickedly. R. V.

9. Vs. 21-24, the deeds of all men are open and known to God.

10. Nothing hidden, not even in sheol.

11. Without searching them out.

12. Vs. 31-37 declare that Job has "spoken without knowledge" and added "rebellion unto his sin" and he must repent.

Ch. 35. B. C. 1520.

1. In this ch. is recorded Elihu's third discourse. In vs. 2-16 he shows Job that he is in error when he claims that piety does not work a man's good, although man's righteousness is too imperfect to have any claims upon God, therefore, the reward which God gives is gratuitous and not merited.

2. In vs. 1, 2 Elihu states the subject of the ch.—i. e., his answer to "What profit shall I have if I be cleansed from my sin?"

3. That is, Elihu attributes to Job the sentiment that he had been more just to God than God had been to him.

4. Lit., what shall I gain more than by sin?

21 [9]For his eyes are upon the ways of man, and he seeth all his goings.
22 There is no darkness, nor [10]shadow of death, where the workers of iniquity may hide themselves.
23 For he [i]will not lay upon man more than right; that he should enter into judgment with God.
24 He shall break in pieces mighty men without [11]number, and set others in their stead.
25 Therefore he knoweth their works, and he overturneth them in the night, so that they are destroyed.
26 He striketh them as wicked men in the open sight of others;
27 Because they turned back from him, and would not consider any of his ways:
28 So that they cause the cry of the poor to come unto him, and he heareth the cry of the afflicted.
29 When he giveth quietness, who then can make trouble? and when he hideth his face, who then can behold him? whether it be done against a nation, or against a man only:
30 That the hypocrite [j]reign not, lest the people be ensnared.
31 [12]Surely it is meet to be said unto God, I have borne chastisement, I will not offend any more:
32 That which I see not teach thou me: if I have done iniquity, I will do no more.
33 Should it be according to thy mind? he will recompense it, whether thou refuse, or whether thou choose; and not I: therefore speak what thou knowest.
34 Let men of understanding tell me, and let a wise man hearken unto me.
35 Jōb hath spoken without knowledge, and his words were without wisdom.
36 My desire is that Jōb may be tried unto the end because of his answers for wicked men.
37 For he addeth rebellion unto his sin, he clappeth his hands among us, and multiplieth his words against God.

CHAPTER 35.

1 Comparison is not to be made with God, because our good or evil cannot extend unto him. 9 Many cry in their afflictions, but are not heard for want of faith.

1 [1]E-lī'hū spake [2]moreover, and said,
2 Thinkest thou this to be right, that thou saidst, My [3]righteousness is more than God's?
3 For thou saidst, What advantage will it be unto thee? and, What [4]profit shall I have, if I be cleansed from my sin?

f. Come, ye children, hearken unto me; I will teach you the fear of the Lord. (Ps. 34:11.)

a. I am clean without transgression, I am innocent; neither is there iniquity in me. (Job 33:9.)

b. As God liveth, who hath taken away my judgment; and the Almighty, who hath vexed my soul. (Job 27:2.)

c. This is one thing, therefore I said it, He destroyeth the perfect and the wicked. (Job 9:22.)

d. That be far from thee to do after this manner, to slay the righteous with the wicked; and that the righteous should be as the wicked, that be far from thee: Shall not the Judge of all the earth do right? (Gen. 18:25.) He is the Rock, his work is perfect; for all his ways are judgments; a God of truth and without iniquity, just and right is he. (Dt. 32:4.) What shall we say then? Is there unrighteousness with God? God forbid. (Rom. 9:14.)

e. If thou sayest, Behold, we know it not; doth not he that pondereth the heart consider it? and he that keepeth thy soul, doth not he know it? and shall not he render to every man according to his works? (Prov. 24:12.) For the Son of man shall come in the glory of his Father with his angels; and then he shall reward every man according to his works. (Mat. 16:27.) For we must all appear before the judgment seat of Christ; that every one may receive the things done in his body, according to that he hath done, whether it be good or bad. (II Cor. 5:10.) And my reward is with me, to give every man according as his work shall be. (Rev. 22:12.)

f. Then shall the dust return to the earth as it was; and the spirit shall return unto God who gave it. (Ecc. 12:7.) Thou hidest thy face, they are troubled; thou takest away their breath, they die, and return to their dust. (Ps. 104:29.)

g. He that ruleth over man must be just, ruling in the fear of God. (II Sam. 23:3.) Wait on the Lord, and keep his way, and he shall exalt thee to inherit the land; when the wicked are cut off, thou shalt see it. I have seen the wicked in great power, and spreading himself like a green bay tree. (Ps. 37:34, 35.) If thou seest the oppression of the poor, and violent perverting of judgment and justice in a province, marvel not at the matter; for he that is higher than the highest regardeth; and there be higher than they. (Ecc. 5:8.) In the land shall be his possession in Israel; and my princes shall no more oppress my people; and the rest of the land shall they give to the house of Israel according to their tribes. (Ezek. 45:8.) Hear this word, ye kine of Bashan, that are in the mountain of Samaria, which oppress the poor, which crush the needy, which say to their masters, Bring, and let us drink. The Lord God hath sworn by his holiness, that, lo, the day shall come upon you, that he will take you away with hooks, and your posterity with fish hooks. (Amos 4:1, 2.)

h. For the Lord your God is God of gods, and Lord of lords, a great God, a mighty, and a terrible, which regardeth not persons, nor taketh reward. (Dt. 10:17.) He saw in a vision evidently about the ninth hour of the day an angel of God coming in to him, and saying unto him, Cornelius. (Acts 10:3.) For there is no respect of persons with God. (Rom. 2:11.) And, ye masters, do the same things unto them, forbearing threatening; knowing that your Master also is in heaven; neither is there respect of persons with him. (Eph. 6:9.) But he that doeth wrong shall receive for the wrong which he hath done; and there is no respect of persons. (Col. 3:25.)

i. And after all that has come upon us for our evil deeds, and for our great trespass, seeing that thou our God hast punished us less than our iniquities deserve, and hast given us such deliverance as this. (Ezra 9:13.)

j. When the righteous are in authority, the people rejoice: but when the wicked beareth rule, the people mourn (2). If a ruler hearken to lies, all his servants are wicked. (Prov. 29:2, 12.)

4 I will answer thee, and thy companions with thee.
5 Look unto the heavens, and see; and behold the clouds which are higher than thou.
6 If thou sinnest, what doest thou against him? or if thy transgressions be multiplied, what doest thou unto him?
7 [a]If thou be righteous, what givest thou him? or what receiveth he of thine hand?
8 Thy wickedness may hurt a man as thou art; and thy righteousness may profit the son of man.
9 [5]By reason of the multitude of oppressions they make the oppressed to cry: they cry out by reason of the arm of the mighty.
10 But none saith, [b]Where is God my maker, [c]who giveth songs in the night;
11 Who [d]teacheth us more than the beasts of the earth, and maketh us wiser than the fowls of heaven?
12 There [e]they cry, but none giveth answer, because of the pride of evil men.
13 Surely God will not hear [5]vanity, neither will the Almighty regard it.
14 Although thou sayest thou shalt not see him, yet judgment is before him; therefore trust thou in him.
15 But now, because it is not so, [7]he hath visited in his anger; yet he [8]knoweth it not in great extremity:
16 Therefore doth Jōb open his mouth in vain; he multiplieth words without knowledge.

CHAPTER 36.

1 Elihu sheweth how God is just in his ways.
16 How Job's sins hinder God's blessings.
24 God's works are to be magnified.

1 [1]E-lī'hū also [2]proceeded, and said,
2 Suffer me a little, and I will shew thee that I have yet to speak in God's behalf.
3 I will fetch my knowledge from afar, and will ascribe righteousness to my Maker.
4 For truly my words shall not be false: he that is perfect in knowledge is with thee.
5 [3]Behold, God is mighty, and despiseth not any: he is mighty in strength [a]and wisdom.
6 He preserveth [4]not the life of the wicked: but giveth right to the poor.
7 He withdraweth not his eyes from the righteous: but with kings are they on the throne; yea, he doth establish them for ever, and they are exalted.

5. In vs. 9-16 Elihu declares that piety which has to be called forth through suffering is of but little value.

6. A vain and empty cry.

7. God.

8. Job.

Ch. 36. B. C. 1520.

1. In chs. 36, 37 is recorded Elihu's fourth and last discourse. In reading the discourse of Elihu it is interesting to observe that at first he enters upon his task simply the preacher of repentance, speaking plainly and simply, with as little art as possible, but now he stands forth "the eulogist and glorifier of God. Rising to the exigencies of the occasion, he at once surpasses all the former speakers in power, loftiness and adornment of his discourse. Nay, even rivaling in this respect the representative of Jehovah himself." (Zockler.)

2. This being Elihu's fourth speech, he is exceeding the others, hence his politeness in saying, "bear with me a little farther."

3. In vs. 5-7 Elihu begins to advance some general principles concerning the government of God; first, that God is not the promoter of the interests of the wicked, but he is committed to the final and eternal promotion of the righteous.

4. An answer to Job in ch. 21:7—"Wherefore do the wicked live?"

5. In vs. 8-12 the second general principle is stated—the sufferings of the righteous are intended to be restorative to both temporal and spiritual prosperity; failing, they entail destruction.

6. Vs. 13-15, third general principle—hypocrisy provokes the wrath of God.

7. Vs. 16-18, as an affectionate God, the Lord seeks to draw the soul out of trouble into spiritual prosperity.

8. From the grasp or mouth of trouble.

9. Thine own death; leave that in the hands of God.

8 [5]And if they be [b]bound in fetters, and be holden in cords of affliction;
9 Then he sheweth them their work, and their transgressions that they have exceeded.
10 He openeth also their ear to discipline, and commandeth that they return from iniquity.
11 If they obey and serve him, they shall spend [c]their days in prosperity, and their years in pleasures.
12 But if they obey not, they shall perish by the sword, and they shall die without knowledge.
13 [6]But the hypocrites in heart heap up wrath: they cry not when he bindeth them.
14 They die [d]in youth, and their life is among the unclean.
15 He delivereth the [e]poor in his affliction, and openeth their ears in oppression.
16 [7]Even so would he have removed thee out of the [8]strait into a broad place, where there is no straitness; and that which should be set on thy table should be full of fatness.
17 But thou hast fulfilled the judgment of the wicked: judgment and justice take hold on thee.
18 Because there is wrath, beware lest he take thee away with his stroke: then a great ransom cannot [f]deliver thee.
19 Will he esteem thy riches? no, not gold, nor all the forces of strength.
20 Desire not the [9]night, when people are cut off in their place.
21 Take heed, regard not iniquity: for this [g]hast thou chosen rather than affliction.
22 Behold, God exalteth by his power: who [h]teacheth like him?
23 Who hath enjoined him his way? or who [i]can say, Thou hast wrought iniquity?
24 Remember that thou [j]magnify his work, which men behold.
25 Every man may see it; man may behold it afar off.
26 Behold, God is great, and [k]we know him not, neither can the number [l]of his years be searched out.
27 For he maketh small the drops of water: [m]they pour down rain according to the vapour thereof:
28 Which the clouds do drop and distil upon man abundantly.
29 Also can any understand the spreadings of the clouds, or the noise of his tabernacle?

Chapter 35.

a. If thou be wise, thou shalt be wise for thyself; but if thou scornest, thou alone shalt bear it. (Prov. 9:12.) For who hath known the mind of the Lord? or who hath been his counsellor? Or who hath first given to him? (Rom. 11:34, 35.)

b. I, even I, am he that comforteth you; who art thou, that thou shouldest be afraid of a man that shall die, and of the son of man which shall be made as grass; And forgettest the Lord thy Maker, that hath stretched forth the heavens, and laid the foundations of the earth; and hast feared continually every day because of the fury of the oppressor, as if he were ready to destroy? and where is the fury of the oppressor? (Is. 51:12, 13.)

c. Yet the Lord will command his loving-kindness in the daytime, and in the night his song shall be with me, and my prayer unto the God of my life. (Ps. 42:8.)

d. Thou madest him to have dominion over the works of thine hands; thou hast put all things under his feet; All sheep and oxen, yea, and the beasts of the field. (Ps. 8:6, 7.) And we know that the Son of God is come, and hath given us an understanding, that we may know him that is true, and we are in him that is true, even in his Son Jesus Christ. This is the true God, and eternal life. (I Jno. 5:20.)

e. Then shall they call upon me, but I will not answer; they shall seek me early, but they shall not find me. (Prov. 1:28.) Hide not thy face far from me; put not thy servant away in anger; thou hast been my help; leave me not; neither forsake me, O God of my salvation. (Job 27:9.)

Chapter 36.

a. With him is strength and wisdom; the deceived and the deceiver are his. (Job 12:16.) Touching the Almighty, we cannot find him out; he is excellent in power, and in judgment, and in plenty of justice; he will not afflict. (Job 37:23.)

b. For he satisfieth the longing soul, and filleth the hungry soul with goodness. Such as sit in darkness and in the shadow of death, being bound in affliction and iron. (Ps. 107:9, 10.)

c. If ye be willing and obedient, ye shall eat the good of the land; But if ye refuse and rebel, ye shall be devoured with the sword; for the mouth of the Lord hath spoken it. (Is. 1:19, 20.) For bodily exercise profiteth little; but godliness is profitable unto all things, having promise of the life that now is, and of that which is to come. (I Tim. 4:8.)

d. But thou, O God, shalt bring them down into the pit of destruction; bloody and deceitful men shall not live out half their days; but I will trust in thee. (Ps. 55:23.)

e. For he hath not despised nor abhorred the affliction of the afflicted; neither hath he hid his face from him; but when he cried unto him, he heard. (Ps. 22:24.)

f. None of them can by any means redeem his brother, nor give to God a ransom for him: (For the redemption of their soul is precious, and it ceaseth for ever). (Ps. 49:7, 8.) What man is he that liveth, and shall not see death? shall he deliver his soul from the hand of the grave? Selah. (Ps. 89:48.)

g. Choosing rather to suffer affliction with the people of God, than to enjoy the pleasures of sin for a season. (Heb. 11:25.)

h. Who hath directed the Spirit of the Lord, or being his counsellor hath taught him? (Is. 40:13.) O the depth of the riches both of the wisdom and knowledge of God! how unsearchable are his judgments, and his ways past finding out! For who hath known the mind of the Lord? or whom hath been his counsellor? (Rom. 11:33, 34.) Who hath known the mind of the Lord, that he may instruct him? But we have the mind of Christ. (I Cor. 2:16.)

i. He is the Rock, his work is perfect; for all his ways are judgment; a God of truth and without iniquity, just and right is he. (Dt. 32:4.) Wherefore now let the fear of the Lord be upon you; take heed and do it; for there is no iniquity with the Lord our God, nor respect of persons, nor taking of gifts. (II Chr. 19:7.)

j. O Lord, how great are thy works! and thy thoughts are very deep. (Ps. 92:5.) Great and marvellous are thy works, Lord God Almighty; just and true are thy ways, thou King of saints. (Rev. 15:3.)

k. For now we see through a glass, darkly; but then face to face; now I know in part; but then shall I know even as also I am known. (I Cor. 13:12.)

l. Before the mountains were brought forth, or ever thou hadst formed the earth and the world, even from everlasting to everlasting, thou art God. (Ps. 90:2.) O my God, take me not away in the midst of my days; thy years are throughout all generations (24). But thou art the same, and thy years shall have no end. (Ps. 102:24, 27.)

m. Thou visitest the earth, and waterest it; thou greatly enrichest it with the river of God, which is full of water; thou preparest them corn, when thou hast so provided for it. Thou waterest the ridges thereof abundantly; thou settlest the furrows thereof; thou makest it soft with showers; thou blesseth the springing thereof. (Ps. 65:9, 10.)

30 Behold, he spreadeth his light upon it, and covereth the bottom of the sea.
31 For by them judgeth he the people; he giveth meat in abundance.
32 With clouds he covereth the light; and commandeth it not to shine by the cloud that cometh betwixt.
33 The noise [10]thereof sheweth concerning it, the cattle also concerning the vapour.

CHAPTER 37.

1 God is to be feared because of his great works. 15 His wisdom is unsearchable in them.

1 [1]At this also my heart trembleth, and is moved out of his place.
2 Hear attentively the noise of his voice, and the sound that goeth out of his mouth.
3 He directeth it under the whole heaven, and his lightning unto the ends of the earth.
4 After it a voice roareth: he thundereth with the voice of his excellency; and he will not stay them when his voice is heard.
5 God thundereth marvellously with his voice; great things doeth he, which we cannot comprehend.
6 For he saith to the snow, Be thou on the earth; likewise to the small rain, and to the great rain of his strength.
7 He sealeth up the hand of every man; that all men may know his work.
8 Then the beasts go into dens, and remain in their places.
9 Out of the south cometh the whirlwind: and cold out of the north.
10 By the breath of God frost is given: and the breadth of the waters is straitened.
11 Also by [2]watering he wearieth the thick cloud: he scattereth his bright cloud:
12 And it is turned round about by his counsels: that they may do whatsoever he commandeth them upon the face of the world in the earth.
13 He causeth it to come, whether for correction, or for his land, or for mercy.
14 Hearken unto this, O Jōb: stand still, and consider the wondrous works of God.
15 Dost thou know [3]when God disposed them, and caused the light of his cloud to shine?
16 Dost thou know the balancings of the clouds, the wondrous [a]works of him which is perfect in knowledge?
17 How thy garments are warm, when he quieteth the earth by the south wind?
18 Hast thou with him [b]spread out the sky, which is strong, and as a molten [4]looking glass?
19 Teach us what we shall say unto him; for we cannot order our speech by reason of darkness.

10. Lit., "His thunder announces his coming, even to the cattle." (Ewald.)

Ch. 37. B. C. 1520.

1. In all phenomena of nature the power, majesty and wisdom of God are apparent.

2. With moisture he loadeth the clouds.

3. How?

4. Mirrors were then made of highly polished molten metal, which is here used as an image of the bright, smiling skies.

5. Regardeth those wise in their own conceit.

Ch. 38. B. C. 1520.

1. In chs. 38, 39 is recorded Jehovah's discourse, "the aim of which is to prove that the Almighty and only wise God, with whom no mortal should dispute, might also ordain suffering, simply to prove and test the righteous." (Zockler.) Elihu has discharged his duty, that of convincing the mind of Job and thus preparing his soul for conviction—a work which belongs not to man but to God, hence Jehovah appears at this time.

2. Jehovah.

3. A recognition of the nobleness of manhood, of normal man. (I Cor. 6:13)—"Watch thee, stand fast in the faith, quit you like men, be strong."

4. The day of Creation.

5. An order of angels.

6. Sons of Elohim.

7. A figure of speech—the sea is but an infant in the hand of God.

8. The dawn of day.

9. The fountains beneath the sea.

10. The deep caverns of the sea or middle of the sea, which can only be known by searching.

11. Job has been talking of death, but has he even seen the gate?

20 Shall it be told him that I speak? if a man speak, surely he shall be swallowed up.
21 And now men see not the bright light which is in the clouds: but the wind passeth, and cleanseth them.
22 Fair weather cometh out of the north: with God is terrible majesty.
23 Touching the Almighty, [c]we cannot find him out: [d]he is excellent in power, and in judgment, and in plenty of justice: he [e]will not afflict.
24 Men do therefore [f]fear him: he [5]respecteth not any that are wise of heart.

CHAPTER 38.

1 God challengeth Job to answer. 4 God, by his mighty works, convinceth Job of ignorance, 31 and of imbecility.

1 [1]Then the [2]Lord answered [a]Jōb out of the whirlwind, and said,
2 Who is this that darkeneth counsel by words without knowledge?
3 Gird up now thy loins like [3]a man; for I will demand of thee, and answer thou me.
4 Where [b]wast thou when I [4]laid the foundations of the earth? declare, if thou hast understanding.
5 Who hath laid the measures thereof, if thou knowest? or who hath stretched the line upon it?
6 Whereupon are the foundations thereof fastened? or who laid the corner stone thereof;
7 When the morning [5]stars sang together, and all the sons [6]of God shouted for joy?
8 Or [c]who shut up the sea with doors, when it brake forth, as if it had issued out of the womb?
9 When I made the cloud the garment thereof, and thick darkness a [7]swaddlingband for it,
10 And brake up for it my decreed place, and set bars and doors, 11 And said, Hitherto shalt thou come, but no further: and here shall thy proud waves be stayed?
12 Hast thou commanded the [8]morning since thy days: and caused the dayspring to know his place;
13 That it might take hold of the ends of the earth, that the wicked might be shaken out of it?
14 It is turned as clay to the seal; and they stand as a garment.
15 And from the wicked their light is withholden, and the high arm shall be broken.
16 Hast thou entered into the [9]springs of the sea? or hast thou walked in the [10]search of the depth?
17 Have [d]the gates of [11]death been opened unto thee? or hast thou seen the doors of the shadow of death?

Chapter 37.
a. O Lord, how manifold are thy works! in wisdom hast thou made them all; the earth is full of thy riches. (Ps. 104:24.)
b. I am the Lord that maketh all things; that stretcheth forth the heavens alone; that spreadeth abroad the earth by myself. (Is. 44:24.)
c. Who only hath immortality, dwelling in the light which no man can approach unto; whom no man hath seen, nor can see; to whom be honor and power everlasting. Amen. (I Tim. 6:16.) So that the priests could not stand to minister by reason of the clouds; for the glory of the Lord had filled the house of God. (II Chr. 5:14.) Thou canst not see my face: for there shall no man see me, and live. (Ex. 33:20.)
d. Behold, God is mighty, and despiseth not any; he is mighty in strength and wisdom. (Job 36:5.) With him is strength and wisdom; the deceived and the deceiver are his. (Job 12:16.)
e. For he doth not afflict willingly, nor grieve the children of men. (Lam. 3:33.)
f. And fear not them which kill the body, but are not able to kill the soul; but rather fear him which is able to destroy both soul and body in hell. (Mat. 10:28.) Fear not; for God is come to prove you, and that his fear may be before your faces, that ye sin not. (Ex. 20:20.) The fear of the Lord is the beginning of wisdom; a good understanding have they that do his commandments. (Ps. 111:10.) Fear God, and keep his commandments; for this is the whole duty of man. (Ecc. 12:13.) That all the people of the earth might know the hand of the Lord, that it is mighty; that ye might fear the Lord your God for ever. (Josh. 4:24.) The fear of the Lord is to hate evil; pride, and arrogancy, and the evil way, and the froward mouth, do I hate. (Prov. 8:13.) And by the fear of the Lord men depart from evil. (Prov. 16:6.)

a. And it came to pass on the third day in the morning, that there were thunders and lightnings, and a thick cloud upon the mount, and the voice of the trumpet exceeding loud; so that all the people that was in the camp trembled (16). And mount Sinai was altogether on a smoke, because the Lord descended upon it in fire; and the smoke thereof ascended as the smoke of a furnace, and the whole mount quaked greatly. (Ex. 19:16, 18.) The Lord hath his way in the whirlwind and in the storm, and the clouds are the dust of his feet. (Nah. 1:3.)
b. When he gave to the sea his decree, that the waters should not pass his commandment; when he appointed the foundations of the earth. (Prov. 8:29.) Who hath ascended up into heaven, or descended? who hath gathered the wind in his fists? who hath bound the waters in a garment? who hath established all the ends of the earth? what is his name, and what is his son's name, if thou canst tell? (Prov. 30:4.)
c. He gathereth the waters of the sea together as an heap; he layeth up the depth in storehouses. (Ps. 33:7.) Thou hast set a bound that they may not pass over; that they turn not again to cover the earth. (Ps. 104:9.) Fear ye not me? saith the Lord; will ye not tremble at my presence, which have placed the sand for the bound of the sea by a perpetual decree, that it cannot pass it; and though the waves thereof toss themselves, yet can they not prevail; though they roar, yet can they not pass over it? (Jer. 5:22.)
d. Have mercy upon me, O Lord; consider my trouble which I suffer of them that hate me, thou that liftest me up from the gates of death. (Ps. 9:13.)

18 Hast thou perceived the breadth of the earth? declare if thou knowest it all.
19 Where is the way where light dwelleth? and as for darkness, where is the place thereof, 20 That thou shouldest take it to the bound thereof, and that thou shouldest know the paths to the house thereof?
21 Knowest thou it, because thou wast then born? or because the number of thy days is great?
22 Hast thou entered into the [12]treasures of the snow? or hast thou seen the [12]treasures of the hail,
23 Which I have reserved against the time of trouble, against the day of battle and war?
24 By what way is the light parted, which scattereth the east wind upon the earth?
25 Who hath divided a [13]watercourse for the overflowing of waters, or a way for the lightning of thunder;
26 To cause it to rain on the earth, where no man is; on the wilderness, wherein there is no man;
27 To [e]satisfy the desolate and waste ground; and to cause the bud of the tender herb to spring forth?
28 Hath the rain a [14]father? or who hath begotten the drops of dew?
29 Out of whose womb came the ice? and the [f]hoary frost of heaven, who hath gendered it?
30 The waters are hid as with a stone, and the face of the deep is frozen.
31 Canst thou bind the [15]sweet influences of [g]Plē'ia-dēs, or loose [16]the bands of O-rī'on?
32 Canst thou bring forth [17]Măz'za-rŏth in his season? or canst thou guide Ärc-tū'rus [18]with his sons.
33 Knowest thou [h]the [19]ordinances of heaven? canst thou set the dominion thereof in the earth?
34 Canst thou lift up thy voice to the clouds, that abundance of waters may cover thee?
35 Canst thou send lightnings, that they may go, and say unto thee, Here we are?
36 [i]Who hath put wisdom in the inward parts? or who hath given understanding to the heart?
37 Who can number the clouds in wisdom? or who can stay the [20]bottles of heaven, 38 When the dust groweth into hardness, and the clods cleave fast together?
39 Wilt thou hunt the prey for the lion? or fill the appetite of the young lions, 40 When they couch in their dens, and abide in the covert to lie in wait?
41 [j]Who provideth for the raven his food? when his young ones cry unto God, they wander for lack of meat.

CHAPTER 39.

1 Of the wild goats and hinds. 5 Of the wild ass. 9 The unicorn. 13 The peacock, stork, and ostrich. 19 The horse. 26 The hawk. 27 The eagle.

1 [1]Knowest thou the [2]time when the wild goats of the rock bring forth? or canst thou mark when the hinds do calve?
2 Canst thou number the months that they fulfil? or knowest thou the time when they bring forth?
3 They bow themselves, they bring forth their young ones, they cast out their sorrows.
4 Their young ones are in good liking, they grow up with corn; they go forth, and return not unto them.
5 Who hath sent out the wild ass free? or who hath loosed the bands of the wild ass?
6 [a]Whose house I have made the wilderness, and the barren land his dwellings.
7 He scorneth the multitude of the city, neither regardeth he the crying of the driver.
8 The range of the mountains is his pasture, and he searcheth after every green thing.
9 Will the [b]unicorn be willing to serve thee, or abide by thy crib?
10 Canst thou bind the unicorn with his band in the furrow? or will he harrow the valleys after thee?
11 Wilt thou trust him, because his strength is great? or wilt thou leave thy labour to him?
12 Wilt thou believe him, that he will bring home thy seed, and gather it into thy barn?
13 Gavest thou the goodly wings unto the peacocks? or wings and feathers unto the ostrich?
14 Which leaveth her eggs in the earth, and warmeth them in dust, 15 And forgetteth that the foot may crush them, or that the wild beast may break them.
16 She is [c]hardened against her young ones, as though they were not her's: her labour is in vain without fear;
17 Because God hath deprived her of wisdom, neither hath he [d]imparted to her understanding.
18 What time she lifteth up herself on high, she scorneth the horse and his rider.
19 Hast thou given the horse strength? hast thou clothed his neck with thunder?
20 Canst thou make him afraid as a grasshopper? the glory of his nostrils is terrible.
21 He paweth in the valley, and rejoiceth in his strength: [e]he goeth on to meet the armed men.
22 He mocketh at fear, and is not affrighted; neither turneth he back from the sword.
23 The quiver rattleth against him, the glittering spear and the shield.
24 He swalloweth the ground with fierceness and rage: neither believeth he that it is the sound of the trumpet.
25 He saith among the trumpets, Ha, ha; and he smelleth the battle afar off, the thunder of the captains, and the shouting.
26 Doth the hawk fly by thy wisdom, and stretch her wings toward the south?

12. The storehouses from which God draws the snow and the hail.

13. Dost thou know the division of the falling water into drops?

14. Can Job assign any visible origin for the rain?

15. Lit., canst thou forbid the sweet flowers to come forth, when the seven stars arise in the spring?

16. Lit., canst thou open up the bands of winter, when Orion ties them up?

17. The 12 signs of the zodiac.

18. The great bear and the three stars which form the tail.

19. The laws which guide the stars in the heavens and control the seasons.

20. Rain-filled clouds.

Ch. 39. B. C. 1520.

1. In this ch. the questions applied to Job are taken from the animate creation. He has been measuring himself with God, but can he answer the secret of the difference between wild and tame animals of the same genus; does he understand the law of gestation; or the migratory instincts of rapacious birds? Job is plied with these and many similar questions until he sees the mystery of suffering to be but one of the many mysteries of nature; and he who cannot understand the natural world is foolish in condemning the government of the spiritual world. As rapidly as Job is able to comprehend it, the truth is unfolded to him that the "path of suffering is the path of glory."

2. God not only knows but directs these laws of nature. Knowest thou them?

e. He turneth the wilderness into a standing water, and dry ground into water-springs. (Ps. 107:35.)
f. He giveth snow like wool; he scattereth the hoar frost like ashes. (Ps. 147:16.)
g. Which maketh Arcturus, Orion, and Pleiades, and the chambers of the south. (Job 9:9.) Lift up your eyes on high, and behold who hath created these things, that bringeth out their host by number; he calleth them all by names by the greatness of his might, for that he is strong in power; not one faileth. (Is. 40:26.) Seek him that maketh the seven stars and Orion, and turneth the shadow of death into the morning, and maketh the day dark with night; that calleth for the waters of the sea, and poureth them out upon the face of the earth; the Lord is his name. (Amos 5:8.)
h. Thus saith the Lord, which giveth the sun for a light by day, and the ordinances of the moon and of the stars for a light by night, which divideth the sea when the waves thereof roar; The Lord of hosts is his name: If those ordinances depart from before me, saith the Lord, then the seat of Israel also shall cease from being a nation before me for ever. (Jer. 31:35, 36.) He hath also established them for ever and ever; he hath made a decree which shall not pass. (Ps. 148:6.)
i. Behold, thou desirest truth in the inward parts; and in the hidden part thou shalt make me to know wisdom. (Ps. 51:6.) For God giveth to a man that is good in his sight wisdom, and knowledge, and joy; but to the sinner he giveth travail, to gather and to heap up, that he may give to him that is good before God. This also is vanity and vexation of spirit. (Ecc. 2:26.)
j. He giveth to the beast his food, and to the young ravens which cry. (Ps. 147:9.) Behold the fowls of the air; for they sow not, neither do they reap, nor gather into barns; yet your heavenly Father feedeth them. Are ye not much better than they? (Mat. 6:26.)

Chapter 39.

a. Behold, as wild asses in the desert, go they forth to their work; rising betimes for a prey; the wilderness yieldeth food for them and for their children. (Job 24:5.) A wild ass used to the wilderness, that snuffeth up the wind at her pleasure; in her occasion who can turn her away? all they that seek her will not weary themselves; in her month they shall find her. (Jer. 2:24.)
b. God brought them out of Egypt; he hath as it were the strength of an unicorn. (Num. 23:22.) His glory is like the firstling of his bullock, and his horns are like the horns of unicorns: with them he shall push the people together to the ends of the earth. (Dt. 33:17.)
c. For what saith the scripture? Abraham believed God, and it was counted unto him for righteousness. (Rom. 4:3.)
d. Who teacheth us more than the beasts of the earth, and maketh us wiser than the fowls of heaven? (Job 35:11.)
e. I hearkened and heard, but they spake not aright; no man repented him of his wickedness, saying, What have I done? every one turned to his course, as the horse rusheth into the battle. (Jer. 8:6.)

27 Doth the eagle mount up at thy command, and [f]make her nest on high?
28 She dwelleth and abideth on the rock, upon the crag of the rock, and the strong place.
29 From thence she seeketh the prey, and her eyes behold afar off.
30 Her young ones also suck up blood: and where the slain are, there is she.

CHAPTER 40.

1 Job humbleth himself to God. 6 God stirreth him up to shew his righteousness, power, and wisdom. 15 Of the behemoth.

1 [1]Moreover the Lord answered Jōb, and said,
2 Shall he that [a]contendeth with the Almighty instruct him? he that reproveth God, let him answer it.
3 ¶ [3]Then Jōb answered the [2]Lord, and said,
4 Behold, I am [b]vile; what shall I answer thee? I [c]will lay mine hand upon my mouth.
5 Once have I spoken; but I will not answer: yea, twice; but I will proceed no further.
6 ¶ [4]Then [d]answered the Lord unto Jōb out of the whirlwind, and said, 7 Gird up thy loins now like a man: I will demand of thee, and declare thou unto me.
8 Wilt thou [e]also disannul my judgment? wilt thou condemn me, that thou mayest be righteous?
9 Hast thou an arm like God? or canst thou thunder with [f]a voice like him?
10 [g]Deck thyself now with majesty and excellency; and array thyself with glory and beauty.
11 Cast abroad the rage of thy wrath: and behold every one that is proud, and abase him.
12 Look on every one that is [h]proud, and bring him low; and tread down the wicked in their place.
13 Hide them in the dust together; and bind their faces in secret.
14 Then will I also confess unto thee that thine own right hand can save thee.
15 ¶ [5]Behold now [6]behemoth, which I made with thee; he eateth grass as an ox.
16 Lo now, his strength is in his loins, and his force is in the navel of his belly.

Ch. 40. B. C. 1520.

1. In this ch. God pauses for Job to answer. It is significant to observe here that God closes v. 1, which is the close of the present address, with "Let him answer." The same original verb that Job so defiantly used in closing his address. (Job 31:35)—"Let the Almighty answer."

2. Jehovah.

3. In vs. 4, 5 is recorded Job's confession.

4. In vs. 6-14 God answers Job and tells him to take upon himself the attributes of deity, then he will confess that he is able to save himself.

5. Vs. 15-24, before Job assumes to be equal with God, he should try to compete with some of the animals which are the creatures of God.

6. Supposed to be the hippopotamus.

Ch. 41. B. C. 1520.

1. Vs. 1-11, the intractableness of the leviathan.

2. The crocodile.

3. If Job is not able to stand before the leviathan would he dare appear before God?

4. Vs. 12-22, Jehovah resumes the description of the leviathan, that he may present the wisdom necessary in creating a reptile whose eyes and mouth, nostrils and breath are a source of terror.

17 He moveth his tail like a cedar: the sinews of his stones are wrapped together.
18 His bones are as strong pieces of brass; his bones are like bars of iron.
19 He is the chief of the ways of God: he that made him can make his sword to approach unto him.
20 Surely the mountains [i]bring him forth food, where all the beasts of the field play.
21 He lieth under the shady trees, in the covert of the reed, and fens.
22 The shady trees cover him with their shadow; the willows of the brook compass him about.
23 Behold, he drinketh up a river, and hasteth not: he trusteth that he can draw up [j]Jordan into his mouth.
24 He taketh it with his eyes: his nose pierceth through snares.

CHAPTER 41.

Of God's great power in the leviathan.

1 [1]Canst thou draw out [2]leviathan [a]with an hook? or his tongue with a cord which thou lettest down?
2 Canst thou put [b]an hook into his nose? or bore his jaw through with a thorn?
3 Will he make many supplications unto thee? will he speak soft words unto thee?
4 Will he make a covenant with thee? wilt thou take him for a servant for ever?
5 Wilt thou play with him as with a bird? or wilt thou bind him for thy maidens?
6 Shall the companions make a banquet of him? shall they part him among the merchants?
7 Canst thou fill his skin with barbed irons? or his head with fish spears?
8 [3]Lay thine hand upon him, remember the battle, do no more.
9 Behold, the hope of him is in vain: shall not one be cast down even at the sight of him?
10 None is so fierce that dare stir him up: who [c]then is able to stand before me?
11 Who hath prevented me, that I should repay him? whatsoever is [d]under the whole heaven is mine.
12 [4]I will not conceal his parts, nor his power, nor his comely proportion.
13 Who can discover the face of his gar-

f. Thy terribleness hath deceived thee, and the pride of thine heart, O thou that dwelleth in the clefts of the rock, that holdest the height of the hill; though thou shouldest make thy nest as high as the eagle, I will bring thee down from thence, saith the Lord. (Jer. 49:16.)

a. Why dost thou strive against him? for he giveth not account of any of his matters. (Job 33:13.) For he addeth rebellion unto his sin, he clappeth his hands among us, and multiplieth his words against God. (Job 34:37.) Woe unto him that striveth with his Maker! Let the potsherd strive with the potsherds of the earth. Shall the clay say to him that fashioneth it, What makest thou? or thy work, He hath no hands? (Is. 45:9.) O man, who art thou that repliest against God? Shall the thing formed say to him that formed it, Why hast thou made me thus? (Rom. 9:20.)

b. O my God, I am ashamed, and blush to lift up my face to thee, my God; for our iniquities are increased over our head, and our trespass is grown up unto the heavens. (Ezra 9:6.) Against thee, thee only, have I sinned, and done this evil in thy sight; that thou mightest be justified when thou speakest, and be clear when thou judgest. (Ps. 51:4.)

c. The princes refrained talking, and laid their hand on their mouth. (Job 29:9.) I was dumb, I opened not my mouth; because thou didst it. (Ps. 39:9.) Be silent, O all flesh, before the Lord; for he is raised up out of his holy habitation. (Zech. 2:13.) Mark me, and be astonished, and lay your hand upon your mouth. (Job 21:5.)

d. Then the Lord answered Job out of the whirlwind. (Job 38:1.)

e. Against thee, thee only, have I sinned, and done this evil in thy sight; that thou mightest be justified when thou speakest, and be clear when thou judgest. (Ps. 51:4.) God forbid; yea, let God be true, but every man a liar; as it is written, That thou mightest be justified in thy sayings, and mightest overcome when thou art judged. (Rom. 3:4.)

f. After it a voice roareth; he thundereth with the voice of his excellency; and he will not stay them when his voice is heard. (Job 37:4.) The voice of the Lord is upon the waters; the God of glory thundereth; the Lord is upon many waters. (Ps. 29:3.)

g. The Lord reigneth, he is clothed with majesty; the Lord is clothed with strength, wherewith he hath girded himself; the world also is established, that it cannot be moved. (Ps. 93:1.) Bless the Lord, O my soul. O Lord my God, thou art very great; thou art clothed with honor and majesty. (Ps. 104:1.)

h. For the day of the Lord of hosts shall be upon every one that is proud and lofty, and upon every one that is lifted up; and he shall be brought low. (Is. 2:12.) And those that walk in pride he is able to abase. (Dan. 4:37.)

i. He causeth the grass to grow for the cattle, and herb for the service of man; that he may bring forth food out of the earth. (Ps. 104:14.)

j. And Lot lifted up his eyes, and beheld all the plain of Jordan, that it was well watered every where, before the Lord destroyed Sodom and Gomorrah, even as the garden of the Lord, like the land of Egypt, as thou comest unto Zoar. (Gen. 13:10.) If thou hast run with the footmen, and they have wearied thee, then how canst thou contend with horses? and if in the land of peace, wherein thou trustedst they wearied thee, then how wilt thou do in the swelling of Jordan? (Jer. 12:5.)

a. There go the ships; there is that leviathan, whom thou hast made to play therein. (Ps. 104:26.) In that day the Lord with his sore and great and strong sword shall punish leviathan the piercing serpent, even leviathan that crooked serpent; and he shall slay the dragon that is in the sea. (Is. 27:1.) Thou brakest the heads of leviathan in pieces, and gavest him to be meat to the people inhabiting the wilderness. (Ps. 74:14.)

b. Because thy rage against me, and thy tumult, is come up into mine ears, therefore will I put my hook in thy nose, and my bridle in thy lips, and I will turn thee back by the way by which thou camest. (Is. 37:29.)

c. He is wise in heart, and mighty in strength; who hath hardened himself against him, and hath prospered? (Job 9:4.) Do we provoke the Lord to jealousy? are we stronger than he? (I Cor. 10:22.) Can thine heart endure, or can thine hands be strong, in the days that I shall deal with thee? I the Lord have spoken it, and will do it. (Ezek. 22:14.)

d. Behold, the heaven and the heaven of heavens is the Lord's thy God, the earth also, with all that therein is. (Dt. 10:14.) The earth is the Lord's, and the fulness thereof; the world, and they that dwell therein. (Ps. 24:1.) The earth is the Lord's, and the fulness thereof. (I Cor. 10:26.) Now therefore, if ye will obey my voice indeed, and keep my covenant, then ye shall be a peculiar treasure unto me above all people; for all the earth is mine. (Ex. 19:5.) Which removeth the mountains, and they know not; which overturneth them in his anger. Which shaketh the earth out of her place, and the pillars thereof tremble. Which commandeth the sun, and it riseth not; and sealeth up the stars. Which alone spreadeth out the heavens and treadeth upon the waves of the sea. Which maketh Arcturus, Orion, and Pleiades, and the chambers of the south. Which doeth great things past finding out; yea, and wonders without number. (Job 9:5-10.)

ment? or who can come to him with his double bridle?

14 Who can open the [5]doors of his face? his teeth are terrible round about.

15 His scales are his [6]pride, shut up together as with a close seal.

16 One is so near to another, that no air can come between them.

17 They are joined one to another, they stick together, that they cannot be sundered.

18 By his [7]neesings a light doth shine, and his eyes are like the eyelids of the morning.

19 Out of his mouth go burning lamps, and sparks of fire leap out.

20 Out of his nostrils goeth smoke, as out of a seething pot or caldron.

21 His breath kindleth coals, and a flame goeth out of his mouth.

22 In his neck remaineth strength, and sorrow is turned into joy before him.

23 The flakes of his flesh are joined together: they are firm in themselves; they cannot be moved.

24 His heart is as firm as a stone; yea, as hard as a piece of the nether millstone.

25 When he raiseth up himself, the mighty are afraid: by reason of breakings they purify themselves.

26 The sword of him that layeth at him cannot hold: the spear, the dart, nor the habergeon.

27 He esteemeth iron as straw, and brass as rotten wood.

28 The arrow cannot make him flee: slingstones are turned with him into stubble.

29 Darts are counted as stubble: he laugheth at the shaking of a spear.

30 Sharp stones are under him: he spreadeth sharp pointed things upon the mire.

31 He maketh the deep to boil like a pot: he maketh the sea like a pot of ointment.

32 He maketh a path to shine after him; one would think the deep to be hoary.

33 Upon earth there is not his like, who is made without fear.

34 He beholdeth all high things: he is a king over all the children of pride.

CHAPTER 42.

1 Job submitteth himself unto God. 7 God, preferring Job's cause, maketh his friends submit themselves, and accepteth him. 10 He magnifieth and blesseth Job. 16 Job's age and death.

1 [1]Then Jōb answered the Lord, and said,

2 I know that thou [a]canst do every thing, and that no thought can be withholden from thee.

3 Who is he that hideth counsel without knowledge? therefore have I uttered that I understood not; [b]things too wonderful for me, which I knew not.

4 Hear, I beseech thee, and I will speak: I will demand of thee, and declare thou unto me.

5 I have [c]heard of thee by the hearing of the ear: but now mine eye seeth thee.

6 Wherefore I abhor myself, and repent in dust and ashes.

7 ¶ [2]And was it so, that after the Lord had spoken these words unto Jōb, the Lord said to Ēl'ī-phăz the Tē'man-īte, My wrath is kindled against thee, and against thy two friends: for ye have not spoken of me the thing that is right, as my servant Jōb hath.

8 Therefore take unto you now seven bullocks and seven rams, and [d]go to my servant Jōb, and offer up for yourselves a burnt [4]offering; and my servant Jōb shall pray [e]for you: for him will I accept: lest I deal with you after your folly, in that ye have not spoken of me the thing which is right, like my servant Jōb.

9 So Ēl'ī-phăz the Tē'man-īte and Bĭl'dăd the Shu'hīte and Zō'phar the Nā'a-math-īte went, and did [f]according as the [3]Lord commanded them: the Lord also accepted Jōb.

10 [g]And the [3]Lord turned the captivity of Jōb, when he prayed for his friends: also the Lord gave Jōb twice as much as he had before.

11 Then came there unto him all his brethren, and all his sisters, and all they that had been of his acquaintance before, and did eat bread with him in his house: and they bemoaned him, and comforted him over all the evil that the [3]Lord had brought upon him: every man also gave him a piece of money, and every one an earring of gold.

12 [g]So the [3]Lord blessed [g]the latter end of Jōb more than his beginning: for he had fourteen thousand sheep, and six thousand camels, and a thousand yoke of oxen, and a thousand she asses.

13 He had also seven sons and three daughters.

14 And he called the name of the first, Je-mī'mà; and the name of the second, Ke-zī'à; and the name of the third, [h]Kĕr'en-hap'puch.

15 And in all the land were no women found so fair as the daughters of Jōb: and their father gave them inheritance among their brethren.

16 After this [7]lived [i]Jōb an hundred and forty years, and saw his sons, and his sons' sons, even four generations.

17 So Jōb died, being old and full of days.

5. His jaws which open back to his eyes and ears.

6. His strong shields.

7. Sneezing. It has been abundantly attested by travelers that, when sneezing, this reptile forces a heavy spray through its nostrils, through which the sun shines, producing a beautiful, luminous appearance.

Ch. 42. B. C. 1520.

1. In vs. 2-6 of this ch. is recorded Job's second and last reply to God.

2. Vs. 7, 8, Jehovah addresses Eliphaz and his friends and condemns their folly.

3. Jehovah.

4. The sacrifice to be completely burned as a sweet savor to Jehovah, offered when one was in the mood of grief or apprehension, to secure protection against threatened danger or disaster.

5. Vs. 11, 12. Job restored to his former dignity and honor.

6. Vs. 12-17. the end of Job is made more blessed than the beginning.

7. Job is supposed to have lived to be 240 years old. If he lived 140 years after his restoration, he was something like 100 years old when his calamities came upon him.

Chapter 42.

a. Is any thing too hard for the Lord? (Gen. 18:14.) Ah Lord God; behold, thou hast made the heaven and the earth by thy great power and stretched out arm, and there is nothing too hard for thee. (Jer. 32:17.) For with God nothing shall be impossible. (Luke 1:37.)

b. Many, O Lord my God, are thy wonderful works which thou hast done, and thy thoughts which are to us-ward; they cannot be reckoned up in order unto thee; if I would declare and speak of them, they are more than can be numbered. (Ps. 40:5.) Lord, my heart is not haughty, nor mine eyes lofty; neither do I exercise myself in great matters, or in things too high for me. (Ps. 131:1.) To him that stretched out the earth above the waters. (Ps. 136:6.)

c. So then faith cometh by hearing, and hearing by the word of God. (Rom. 10:17.)

d. Therefore if thou bring thy gift to the altar, and there rememberest that thy brother hath ought against thee; Leave there thy gift before the altar, and go thy way; first be reconciled to thy brother, and then come and offer thy gift. (Mat. 5:23, 24.)

e. So Abraham prayed unto God; and God healed Abimelech, and his wife, and his maid-servants; and they bare children. (Gen. 20:17.) Confess your faults one to another, and pray one for another, that ye may be healed. The effectual fervent prayer of a righteous man availeth much. (Js. 5:16.)

f. The righteous shall be glad in the Lord, and shall trust in him; and all the upright in heart shall glory. (Ps. 64:10.) But the path of the just is as the shining light, that shineth more and more unto the perfect day. (Prov. 4:18.) For whosoever shall do the will of my Father which is in heaven, the same is my brother, and sister, and mother. (Mat. 12:50.)

g. Though thy beginning was small, yet thy latter end should greatly increase. (Job 8:7.) Ye have heard of the patience of Job, and have seen the end of the Lord; that the Lord is very pitiful, and of tender mercy. (Js. 5:11.)

h. For thou art the glory of their strength. (Ps. 89:17.) Lo, children are an heritage of the Lord. (Ps. 127:3.) Thy wife shall be as a fruitful vine by the sides of thine house; thy children like olive plants round about thy table. Behold, that thus shall the man be blessed that feareth the Lord. The Lord shall bless thee out of Zion; and thou shalt see the good of Jerusalem all the days of thy life. Yea, thou shalt see thy children's children, and peace upon Israel. (Ps. 128:3-6.)

i. Thou shalt come to thy grave in a full age, like as a shock of corn cometh in in his season. (Job 5:26.) Length of days is in her right hand. (Prov. 3:16.)

BOOK OF PSALMS

NOTE.—"Because of the essential nature and scope of sacred lyrical poetry, no book of the Bible so intertwines itself with all other sacred books and so interpenetrates all Bible history and prophecy, all secular and spiritual knowledge, as the Psalms." The book contains 150 Psalms written by several authors, viz.: David, 84; Asaph, 12; Sons of Korah, a Levitical family, 11; Heman, the Ezrehite, 1; Ethan, brother of Heman, son of Zerah, of the tribe of Judah, 1; Solomon, 12; Moses, 1 (Psalm 90). As David wrote the greatest number, he is called the "sweet psalmist of Israel." It is the purpose throughout the Psalms to develop the religious teachings of man's relation to God, and man's relation to man. "I am Jehovah, your God," resounds throughout the Psalms, as the reason assigned for social virtue and kindness in man's relation to man. The question is asked, "Who shall abide in God's tabernacle and dwell in his holy hill"? Immediately the answer is given, "He who is upright, true, and practices all virtue towards men." It was the intention of God for man to enjoy the blessings of this life, therefore in a warning tone the Psalmist asks, "Who is happy?" and immediately answers, "He who delights in the law of the Lord." God is ever and constantly leading man toward a perfect life on earth. In the Psalms he gives him a definition of the perfect man, "One who loves the sanctuary and the worship of God, in their spiritual and not merely their formal import, and who trusts the Lord steadfastly for temporal as for spiritual blessings." In the character set forth by the Psalms as the perfect man towards God are seen single heartedness, intentional absence of guile, purity of heart as the mainspring of actions, justice, fortitude, self control, rectitude in dealings between man and man, generosity, sympathy with the sufferings, affection toward friends, humility and a broken and contrite heart.

PSALM 1.

1 The happiness of the godly. 4 The unhappiness of the ungodly.

1 [1]Blessed [a]is the man that [2]walketh not in the [4]counsel [b]of the [3]ungodly, nor [5]standeth in the way of [6]sinners, nor [7]sitteth in the [8]seat of the [9]scornful.

2 But his [11]delight is in the law of the [12]Lord; and in his law doth he meditate day and [13]night.

3 And he shall be like a tree planted by the rivers of water, that bringeth forth his fruit in his season; his leaf also shall not wither; and whatsoever he doeth shall [c]prosper.

4 The [3]ungodly are not [14]so: but are like the chaff which the wind driveth away.

5 Therefore the [3]ungodly [d]shall not stand in the [15]judgment, nor sinners in the congregation of the righteous.

6 For [e]the [12]Lord knoweth the way of the righteous: but the way of the ungodly shall [16]perish.

PSALM 2.

1 The kingdom of Christ. 10 Kings are exhorted to accept it.

1 [1]Why do the [2]heathen rage, and the people [3]imagine a [4]vain thing?

2 The kings of the earth set themselves, and the rulers take counsel together, against the [5]Lord, and against [a]his [6]anointed, saying,

3 Let [b]us break [7]their bands asunder, and cast away their cords from us.

4 He [c]that sitteth in the heavens shall laugh: the [5]Lord shall have them in derision.

5 Then [8]shall he speak unto them in his wrath, and [9]vex them in his sore displeasure.

6 Yet have I set my king upon my holy hill of Zĭ'ŏn.

7 I will declare the [10]decree: the [5]Lord hath said unto me, [d]Thou art [11]my Son; this day have I [12]begotten thee.

8 Ask [e]of me, and I shall give thee the heathen for thine inheritance, and the uttermost parts of the earth for thy possession.

9 Thou [f]shalt break them with a rod [13]of iron; thou shalt dash them in pieces like a potter's vessel.

10 Be wise now therefore, O ye kings: be instructed, ye judges of the earth.

11 Serve the [5]Lord with fear, and rejoice with trembling.

12 [14]Kiss the Son, lest he be [g]angry, and ye perish from the way, when his wrath is kindled but a little. Blessed [h]are all they that put their trust in him.

PSALM 3.

The security of God's protection.

A [1]Psalm of [2]Dā'vid, when he fled from Āb'salŏm his son.

1 [3]Lord, how are they increased that trouble me! many are they that rise up against me.

2 Many there be which say of my soul, [a]There is no help for him in God. [4]Sē'lah.

Psalm 1.

1. It is universally conceded by Hebrew scholars that Ps. 1 is rightly placed first in the series, as it forms an introduction to the entire book. Its subject is the law of God, the blessings of those who keep it, and the certain doom and despair of those who neglect it, which is the subject of the whole book. This Psalm is closely allied in its admonitory character to Ps. 37, 49 and 73. Its testimony concerning the beauty of the divine law is like Ps. 19 and 119. It was written by David or Ezra and is for the purpose of a preface or foreword to the Book of Psalms.
2. Fig., the habit of daily life.
3. The wicked, here supposed to mean men void of true piety though otherwise moral.
4. Influenced by.
5. Abideth.
6. Those who have missed the mark of God's desire toward them.
7. Who contenteth himself.

16. Not annihilated, but plans, expectations and enjoyments to be destroyed.

Psalm 2.

1. Written on the delivery of the promise by Nathan to David, a prophecy of the Messiah. In Acts 4:25 the approximate date of writing and name of the author is given, "Who by the mouth of thy servant David hast said, Why did the heathen rage and the people imagine vain things?" In this Ps. is set forth the futility of man's hostile attitude toward God, also God's determination to perfect his purpose, and therefore the danger attending those who resist him.
2. Conspirators; a prophetic vision of the raging opposition of the enemies of God, as the raging of the sea.
3. Meditate.
4. Vanity, emptiness.
5. Jehovah, the covenant-name of God.
6. Messiah in Heb., Christ in Greek.
7. Their Jehovah and his Messiah.
8. Then, at the time when the wicked or heathen thought they were about to succeed.
9. To trouble, perplex, cause a miscarriage of their plans.
10. The author here in prophecy speaks in the person of Christ, called in v. 2, the Anointed; in v. 6, Jehovah's King, and in v. 7, Jehovah's Son.
11. The author of decree, Jehovah.
12. Give expression to this decree or order.
13. The scepter, emblem of authority and symbol of severity.

Psalm 3.

1. This Ps. is founded on II Sam. 15:17 (David's flight from Absalom) and is very closely allied to Ps. 4.

3 But thou, O [3]Lord, art a shield for me; my glory, and [b]the lifter [5]up of mine head.
4 I cried [c]unto the [3]Lord with my voice, and he heard me out of his holy hill. [4]Sē'lah.
5 I [d]laid me down and slept; I awaked; for the [3]Lord sustained me.
6 I will not be [6]afraid of ten thousands of people, that have set themselves against me round about.
7 [7]Arise, O [3]Lord; save me, O my God: for thou hast [8]smitten all mine enemies upon the cheek bone; thou hast broken the teeth of the ungodly.

2 O ye sons of [3]men, how long will ye turn my glory into shame? how long will ye love vanity, and seek after [4]leasing? [5]Sē'lah.
3 But know [7]that the [8]Lord hath set apart him that is [8]godly for himself: the [6]Lord will [b]hear when I call unto him.

(I Sam. 12:10.) Therefore thou deliveredst them into the hand of their enemies, who vexed them: and in the time of their trouble, when they cried unto thee, thou heardest them from heaven; and according to thy manifold mercies thou gavest them saviours, who saved them out of the hand of their enemies. (Neh. 9:27.) They cried unto thee, and were delivered: they trusted in thee and were not confounded. (Ps. 22:5.) Nevertheless he regarded their affliction, when he heard their cry. (Ps. 106:44.) Go and proclaim these words toward the north, and say, Return, thou backsliding Israel, saith the Lord; and I will not cause mine anger to fall upon you: for I am merciful, saith the Lord, and I will not keep anger for ever. (Jer. 3:12.) Be ye therefore merciful, as your Father also is merciful. (Luke 6:36.) And the publican standing afar off, would not lift up so much as his eyes unto heaven, but smote upon his breast, saying, God be merciful to me a sinner. (Luke 18:13.)

b. Depart from me, all ye workers of iniquity; for the Lord hath heard the voice of my weeping (8). The Lord hath heard my supplication; the Lord will receive my prayer. (Ps. 6:8, 9.) I have called upon thee, for thou wilt hear me, O God: incline thine ear unto me, and hear my speech. (Ps. 17:6.)

(Dt. 12:10.)

a. Let the words of my mouth, and the meditation of my heart, be acceptable in thy sight, O Lord, my strength and my redeemer. (Ps. 19:14.) My meditation of him shall be sweet: I will be glad in the Lord. (Ps. 104:34.)

b. And the children of Israel cried unto the Lord, saying, We have sinned against thee, both because we have forsaken our God, and also served Baalim. (Jud. 10:10.) And they cried unto the Lord, and said, We have sinned, because we have forsaken the Lord, and have served Baalim and Ashtaroth: but now deliver us out of the hand of our enemies, and we will serve thee. (I Sam. 12:10.) Therefore thou deliveredst them into the hand of their enemies, who vexed them: and in the time of their trouble, when they cried unto thee, thou heardest them from heaven; and according to thy manifold mercies thou gavest them saviours, who saved them out of the hand of their enemies. (Neh. 9:27.) They cried unto thee, and were delivered: they trusted in thee, and were not confounded. (Ps. 22:5.) Nevertheless he regarded their affliction, when he heard their cry. (Ps. 106:44.) c. The Lord is nigh unto all them that call upon him, to all that call upon him in truth. (Ps. 145:18.) Let us lift up our heart with our hands unto God in the heavens. (Lam. 3:41.) Ask, and it shall be given you; seek, and ye shall find; knock, and it shall be opened unto you (7). For every one that asketh receiveth; and he that seeketh findeth; and to him that knocketh it shall be opened. (Mat. 7:7, 8.) And he spake a parable unto them to this end, that men ought always to pray, and not to faint. (Luke 18:1.)

d. For his anger endureth but a moment; in his favor is life: weeping may endure for a night, but joy cometh in the morning. (Ps. 30:5.)

e. Thou art of purer eyes than to behold evil, and canst not look on iniquity; wherefore lookest thou upon them that deal treacherously, and holdest thy tongue when the wicked devoureth the man that is more righteous than he? (Hab. 1:13.)

in the multitude of thy mercy: and in thy [g]fear will [f]I worship toward thy holy temple.

8 [h]Lead me, O [3]Lord, in thy righteousness because of mine enemies; make thy way straight before my face.

9 For [9]there is no faithfulness in their mouth; their inward part is very wickedness; their throat is an open sepulchre; they flatter with their tongue.

10 Destroy thou them, [10]O God; let them fall by their own counsels; cast them out in the multitude of their transgressions; for they have rebelled against thee.

11 But let all [11]those that put their trust in thee rejoice: let them ever shout for joy, because thou defendest them: let them also that [i]love thy name be joyful in thee.

12 For thou, [3]Lord, [j]wilt bless the righteous; with favour wilt thou compass him as with a shield.

PSALM 6.

1 David's complaint in his sickness. 8 By faith he triumpheth over his enemies.

To the [1]chief Musician on [2]Nĕğ'ĭ-nŏth upon [3]Shem'ĭ-nĭth, A Psalm of Dā'vid.

1 O [4]Lord, rebuke me not in thine anger, neither chasten me in thy hot displeasure.

2 Have mercy upon me, O [4]Lord; for I am weak: O [4]Lord, [a]heal me; for my bones are vexed.

3 My soul is also sore vexed: but thou, O [4]Lord, [5]how long?

4 Return, O [4]Lord, deliver [c]my soul: oh save me for thy mercies' sake.

5 For in [d]death [5]there is no [6]remembrance of thee: in the grave who shall give thee thanks?

6 I am weary with my groaning; all the night make I my bed [7]to swim; I water my couch with my tears.

7 Mine eye is consumed because of grief; it waxeth old because of all mine enemies.

8 Depart [e]from me, all ye [f]workers of iniquity; for the [4]Lord hath heard the voice of my weeping.

9 The [4]Lord [g]hath heard my supplication; the [4]Lord will receive my prayer.

10 Let all mine [h]enemies be ashamed and sore vexed: let them return and be ashamed [i]suddenly.

1 David prayeth against the malice of his enemies. 10 By faith he seeth his defence, and the destruction of his enemies.

[1]Shĭg-gā'ion [2]of Dā'vid, which he sang unto the [3]Lord, concerning the words of [4]Cūsh the Bĕn'ja-mīte.

1 O [3]Lord my God, in [a]thee do I put my trust: save me from all them that persecute me, and deliver me:

2 Lest he tear my soul like a lion, rending it in pieces, while there is none to deliver.

3 O [3]Lord my God, if I have [5]done this; if there be iniquity in my hands;

4 If I have rewarded evil unto him that was at peace with me; (yea, I have delivered him that without cause is mine enemy:)

5 Let the enemy persecute my soul, and take it; yea, let him tread down my life upon the earth, and lay mine honour in the dust. [6]Sē'lah.

6 Arise, O [3]Lord, in thine anger, lift up thyself because of the rage of mine enemies: and awake for me to the judgment that thou hast commanded.

7 So shall the congregation of the people compass thee about: for their sakes therefore return thou on high.

8 The [3]Lord shall judge the people: judge me, [b]O [3]Lord, according to my righteousness, and according to mine integrity that is in me.

9 Oh let [c]the wickedness of the wicked come to an end; but establish [c]the just; [d]for the righteous God trieth the hearts and reins.

10 My defence is of God, which saveth the upright in heart.

9. The "for" states the reason for the prayer (v. 8), that is, his enemies have no faithfulness nor reliability; they know not the truth and have no fixed principle.

10. Visit upon them the consequences of their sins.

11. Let those who trust thee receive the reward of their righteousness.

f. See a, Ps. 4.

g. And Moses said unto the people, Fear not; for God is come to prove you, and that his fear may be before your faces, that ye sin not. (Ex. 20:20.) The fear of the Lord is the beginning of wisdom: a good understanding have all they that do his commandments: his praise endureth for ever. (Ps. 111:10.) Let us hear the conclusion of the whole matter: Fear God; and keep his commandments: for this is the whole duty of man. (Ecc. 12:13.) That all the people of the earth might know the hand of the Lord, that it is mighty: that ye might fear the Lord your God for ever. (Josh. 4:24.) The fear of the Lord is to hate evil: pride, and arrogancy, and the evil way, and the froward mouth, do I hate. (Prov. 8:13.) By mercy and truth iniquity is purged: and by the fear of the Lord men depart from evil. (Prov. 16:6.)

h. Teach me thy way, O Lord, and lead me in a plain path, because of mine enemies. (Ps. 27:11.) For thou art my rock and my fortress; therefore for thy name's sake lead me, and guide me. (Ps. 31:3.)

i. But as it is written, Eye hath not seen, nor ear heard, neither have entered into the heart of man, the things which God hath prepared for them that love him. (I Cor. 2:9.)

j. His seed shall be mighty upon earth: the generation of the upright shall be blessed. (Ps. 112:2.)

a. Come, and let us return unto the Lord: for he hath torn, and he will heal us; he hath smitten, and he will bind us up. (Hos. 6:1.) I said, Lord, be merciful unto me: heal my soul; for I have sinned against thee. (Ps. 41:4.) He healeth the broken in heart, and bindeth up their wounds. (Ps. 147:3.) Heal me, O Lord, and I shall be healed; save me, and I shall be saved; for thou art my praise. (Jer. 17:14.)

b. Return, O Lord, how long? and let it repent thee concerning thy servants. (Ps. 90:13.)

c. Arise, O Lord, disappoint him, cast him down: deliver my soul from the wicked, which is thy sword. (Ps. 17:13.)

d. Wilt thou show wonders to the dead? shall the dead arise and praise thee? Selah (10). Shall thy loving-kindness be declared in the grave? or thy faithfulness in destruction? (11). Shall thy wonders be known in the dark? and thy righteousness in the land of forgetfulness? (Ps. 88:10-12.) Whatsoever thy hand findeth to do, do it with thy might; for there is no work, nor device, nor knowledge, nor wisdom, in the grave, whither thou goest. (Ecc. 9:10.) For the grave cannot praise thee, death cannot celebrate thee; they that go down into the pit cannot hope for thy truth. (Is. 38:18.)

e. Depart from me, ye evildoers: for I will keep the commandments of my God. (Ps. 119:115.) Surely thou wilt slay the wicked, O God: depart from me therefore, ye bloody men. (Ps. 139:19.) And then will I profess unto them, I never knew you: depart from me, ye that work iniquity. (Mat. 7:23.) But he shall say, I tell you, I know you not whence ye are: depart from me, all ye workers of iniquity. (Luke 13:27.)

f. The foolish shall not stand in thy sight: thou hatest all workers of iniquity. (Ps. 5:5.) Have all the workers of iniquity no knowledge? who eat up my people as they eat bread, and call not upon the Lord. (Ps. 14:4.) Is not destruction to the wicked? and a strange punishment to the workers of iniquity? (Job 31:3.) Which goeth in company with the workers of iniquity, and walketh with wicked men (8). There is no darkness, nor shadow of death, where the workers of iniquity may hide themselves. (Job 34:8, 22.) The way of the Lord is strength to the upright: but destruction shall be to the workers of iniquity. (Prov. 10:29.)

g. But verily God hath heard me; he hath attended to the voice of my prayer (19). Blessed be God, which hath not turned away my prayer, nor his mercy from me. (Ps. 66:19, 20.) I love the Lord, because he hath heard my voice and my supplications. (Ps. 116:1.)

h. My tongue also shall talk of thy righteousness all the day long: for they are confounded, for they are brought unto shame, that seek my hurt. (Ps. 71:24.) Let them be ashamed and confounded together that seek after my soul to destroy it; let them be driven backward and put to shame that wish me evil. (Ps. 40:14.) When I cry unto thee, then shall mine enemies turn back: this I know; for God is for me. (Ps. 56:9.) Let them be turned back for a reward of their shame that say, Aha, aha! (Ps. 70:3.)

i. How are they brought into desolation, as in a moment! they are utterly consumed with terrors. (Ps. 73:19.)

a. In the Lord put I my trust: how say ye to my soul, Flee as a bird to your mountain? (Ps. 11:1.) In thee, O Lord, do I put my trust; let me never be ashamed: deliver me in thy righteousness. (Ps. 31:1.) In thee, O Lord, do I put my trust: let me never be put to confusion. (Ps. 71:1.)

b. For God shall bring every work into judgment, with every secret thing, whether it be good, or whether it be evil. (Ecc. 12:14.) And, behold, I come quickly; and my reward is with me, to give every man according as his work shall be. (Rev. 22:12.) Wherefore, if meat make my brother to offend, I will eat no flesh while the world standeth, lest I make my brother to offend. (I Cor. 8:13.) For we know him that hath said, Vengeance belongeth unto me, I will recompense, saith the Lord. And again, The Lord shall judge his people. (Heb. 10:30.)

c. Evil shall slay the wicked: and they that hate the righteous shall be desolate. (Ps. 34:21.) And he shall bring upon them their own iniquity, and shall cut them off in their own wickedness; yea, the Lord our God shall cut them off. (Ps. 94:23.)

d. But the Lord said unto Samuel, Look not on his countenance, or on the height of his stature; because I have refused him: for the Lord seeth not as man seeth; for man looketh on the outward appearance, but the Lord looketh on the heart. (I Sam. 16:7.) But, O Lord of hosts, that judgest righteously, that triest the reins and the heart, let me see thy vengeance on them: for unto thee have I revealed my cause. (Jer. 11:20.)

e. And of Zion it shall be said, This and that man was born in her: and the Highest himself shall establish her. (Ps. 87:5.) The children of thy servants shall continue, and their seed shall be established before thee. (Ps. 102:28.) In righteousness shalt thou be established; thou shalt be far from oppression; for thou shalt not fear: and from terror; for it shall not come near thee. (Is. 54:14.) But the Lord is faithful, who shall stablish you, and keep you from evil. (II Thes. 3:3.)

11 God judgeth the [f]righteous, and God is angry with the wicked every day.
12 If he turn not, he will whet [7]his sword; he hath bent his bow, and made it ready.
13 He hath also prepared for him the instruments of death; he ordaineth his arrows against the persecutors.
14 Behold, he [e]travaileth with iniquity, and hath conceived mischief, and brought forth falsehood.
15 He made a pit, and digged it, and [f]is fallen into the [9]ditch which he made.
16 His mischief [g]shall return upon his own head, and his violent dealing shall come down upon his own pate.
17 I [h]will praise [h]the [3]Lord according to his righteousness: and will sing praise to the name of the [3]Lord most high.

PSALM 8.

God's glory is magnified by his works, and by his love to man.

[1]To the chief Musician upon [2]Gĭt'tith, A Psalm of Dā'vid.

1 O [3]Lord our Lord, how [a]excellent is thy name in all the earth! who hast set thy glory above the heavens.
2 Out of [b]the [4]mouth of babes and [5]sucklings hast thou ordained [6]strength because of thine enemies, that thou mightest still the enemy and the avenger.
3 When I [c]consider thy heavens, the work of thy fingers, the moon and the stars, which thou hast ordained;
4 What [d]is [7]man, that thou art mindful of him? and the son of man, that thou visitest him?
5 For thou hast made him a [8]little lower than the angels, and hast crowned him with glory and honour.

7. David now borrows his imagery from the weapons of the warrior. "Whet his sword" means sure punishment.
8. Bring forth with pain; thus his character and punishment are both described and he shall reap what he has sowed.
9. His purpose will be disappointing unto him. He shall suffer the effect of what he has tried to fasten upon another.

Psalm 8.

1. This Ps. was written near the end of David's life and celebrates the glory of God and the dignity of man in the image of God, and has been called the "lyric echo of the first ch. of Gen."

3. Jehovah, the covenant-name of God.
4. The infant is a wonderful illustration of God's power, in its physical constitution, instincts and mentality.

6. Laid the foundation of power.
7. The author here rises to man's true rank and greatness in the image of God.
8. For a little while or time, lower than the angels, for the suffering of death. But the sequel shows that, by resurrection and ascension to the right hand of God, human nature is carried above the rank of angels, which illustrates the ultimate dignity of man in the image of God.
9. The power belonging to the image of God in man, thus making him partly regal in his nature.

Psalm 9.

1. This Ps. was written by David after the removal of the ark to Zion and after a great victory over his enemies, and glorifies the divine government for providing security to God's people and punishment to the wicked.
2. The name or title of a tune.
3. Jehovah, the covenant-name of God.

6 Thou [e]madest him to have [9]dominion over the works of thy hands; thou [f]hast put all things under his feet:
7 All sheep and oxen, yea, and the beasts of the field;
8 The fowl of the air, and the fish of the sea, and whatsoever passeth through the paths of the seas.
9 O [3]Lord our Lord, how [g]excellent is thy name in all the earth!

PSALM 9.

1 [1]David praiseth God for executing of judgment. 11 [e]He inciteth others to praise him.

To the chief Musician upon [2]Mŭth-lab'ben, A Psalm of Dā'vid.

1 I will praise thee, O [3]Lord, [a]with my whole heart; I [b]will shew forth all thy marvellous works.
2 I will be glad and rejoice in thee: I will sing praise to thy name, O thou most High.
3 When mine enemies are turned back, they shall fall and perish at thy presence.
4 For thou hast maintained my right and my cause; thou satest in the throne [c]judging right.
5 Thou hast rebuked the heathen, thou hast destroyed the wicked, thou hast [d]put out their name for ever and ever.
6 O thou enemy, destructions are come to a perpetual end: and thou hast destroyed cities; their memorial is perished with them.
7 But [e]the [3]Lord shall endure for ever: he hath prepared his throne for judgment.
8 And he shall judge [e]the world in righteousness, he shall minister judgment to the people in uprightness.
9 The [3]Lord also will be a [f]refuge for the oppressed, a refuge in times of trouble.

But the God of all grace, who hath called us unto his eternal glory by Christ Jesus, after that ye have suffered a while, make you perfect, stablish, strengthen, settle you. (I Pet. 5:10.)

f. So they hanged Haman on the gallows that he had prepared for Mordecai. Then was the king's wrath pacified. (Esth. 7:10.) His own iniquities shall take the wicked himself, and he shall be holden with the cords of his sins. (Prov. 5:22.) He that diggeth a pit shall fall into it; and whoso breaketh an hedge, a serpent shall bite him. (Ecc. 10:8.)

g. And the Lord shall return his blood upon his own head, who fell upon two men more righteous and better than he, and slew them with the sword, thy father David not knowing thereof, to wit, Abner the son of Ner, captain of the host of Israel, and Amasa, the son of Jether, captain of the host of Judah. (I Ks. 2:32.) But when Esther came before the king, he commanded by letters that his wicked device, which he devised against the Jews, should return upon his own head, and that he and his sons should be hanged on the gallows. (Esth. 9:25.)

h. My mouth shall show forth thy righteousness and thy salvation all the day; for I know not the numbers thereof (15). I will go in the strength of the Lord God: I will make mention of thy righteousness, even of thine only. (Ps. 71:15, 16.)

a. Sing forth the honor of his name: make his praise glorious. (Ps. 66:2.) And blessed be his glorious name for ever; and let the whole earth be filled with his glory. Amen, and Amen. (Ps. 72:19.) Let them praise thy great and terrible name; for it is holy. (Ps. 99:3.) If thou wilt not observe to do all the words of this law that are written in this book, that thou mayest fear this glorious and fearful name, THE LORD THY GOD. (Dt. 28:58.) As a beast goeth down into the valley, the Spirit of the Lord caused him to rest: so didst thou lead thy people, to make thyself a glorious name. (Is. 63:14.) And he shall stand and feed in the strength of the Lord, in the majesty of the name of the Lord his God; and they shall abide: for now shall he be great unto the ends of the earth. (Micah 5:4.) But cursed be the deceiver, which hath in his flock a male, and voweth, and sacrificeth unto the Lord a corrupt thing: for I am a great King, saith the Lord of hosts, and my name is dreadful among the heathen. (Mal. 1:14.)

b. At that time Jesus answered and said, I thank thee, O Father, Lord of heaven and earth, because thou hast hid these things from the wise and prudent, and hast revealed them unto babes. (Mat. 11:25.) And said unto him, Hearest thou what these say? And Jesus saith unto them, Yea; have ye never read, Out of the mouth of babes and sucklings thou hast perfected praise? (Mat. 21:16.) But God hath chosen the foolish things of the world to confound the wise; and God hath chosen the weak things of the world to confound the things which are mighty. (I Cor. 1:27.)

c. The works of the Lord are great, sought out of all them that have pleasure therein. (Ps. 111:2.) The heavens are thine, the earth also is thine: as for the world and the fulness thereof, thou hast founded them. (Ps. 89:11.) Thou, even thou, art Lord alone; thou hast made heaven, the heaven of heavens, with all their host, the earth, and all things that are therein, the seas, and all that is therein, and thou preservest them all; and the host of heaven worshippeth thee. (Neh. 9:6.)

d. What is man, that thou shouldest magnify him? and that thou shouldest set thine heart upon him? (Job 7:17.) Lord, what is man, that thou takest knowledge of him! or the son of man, that thou makest account of him! (Ps. 144:3.) But one in a certain place testified, saying, What is man that thou art mindful of him? or the son of man, that thou visitest him? (Heb. 2:6.)

e. And God said, Let us make man in our image, after our likeness: and let them have dominion over the fish of the sea, and over the fowl of the air, and over the cattle, and over all the earth, and over every creeping thing that creepeth upon the earth. (Gen. 1:26.)

f. For he hath put all things under his feet. But when he saith all things are put under him, it is manifest that he is excepted, which did put all things under him. (I Cor. 15:27.) O Lord, how manifold are thy works! in wisdom hast thou made them all: the earth is full of thy riches. (Ps. 104:24.) See v. 1.

Psalm 9.

a. I will praise thee, O Lord my God, with all my heart: and I will glorify thy name for evermore. (Ps. 86:12.)

b. That I may publish with the voice of thanksgiving, and tell of all thy wondrous works. (Ps. 26:7.) Many, O Lord my God, are thy wonderful works which thou hast done, and thy thoughts which are to us-ward: they cannot be reckoned up in order unto thee: if I would declare and speak of them, they are more than can be numbered. (Ps. 40:5.) O God, thou hast taught me from my youth; and hitherto have I declared thy wondrous works. (Ps. 71:17.) We will not hide them from their children, showing to the generation to come the praises of the Lord, and his strength, and his wonderful works that he hath done. (Ps. 78:4.) Declare his glory among the heathen, his wonders among all people. (Ps. 96:3.) O Lord, thou art my God; I will exalt thee, I will praise thy name; for thou hast done wonderful things; thy counsels of old are faithfulness and truth. (Is. 25:1.)

c. O let the nations be glad and sing for joy: for thou shalt judge the people righteously, and govern the nations upon earth. Selah. (Ps. 67:4.) Say among the heathen that the Lord reigneth: the world also shall be established that it shall not be moved: he shall judge the people righteously. (Ps. 96:10.) But, O Lord of hosts, that judgest righteously, that triest the reins and the heart, let me see thy vengeance on them: for unto thee have I revealed my cause. (Jer. 11:20.) Who, when he was reviled, reviled not again; when he suffered, he threatened not; but committed himself to him that judgeth righteously. (I Pet. 2:23.)

d. The memory of the just is blessed: but the name of the wicked shall rot. (Prov. 10:7.) Let them be blotted out of the book of the living, and not be written with the righteous. (Ps. 69:28.) Let me alone, that I may destroy them, and blot out their name from under heaven: and I will make of thee a nation mightier and greater than they. (Dt. 9:14.) The Lord will not spare him, but then the anger of the Lord and his jealousy shall smoke against that man, and all the curses that are written in this book shall lie upon him, and the Lord shall blot out his name from under heaven. (Dt. 29:20.)

e. Before the mountains were brought forth, or ever thou hadst formed the earth and the world, even from everlasting to everlasting, thou art God. (Ps. 90:2.) They shall perish; but thou remainest; and they all shall wax old as doth a garment. (Heb. 1:11.)

f. The Lord is my rock, and my fortress, and my deliverer; my God, my strength, in whom I will trust; my buckler, and the horn of my salvation, and my high tower. (Ps. 18:2.) Because of his strength will I wait upon thee: for God is my defence (9). But I will sing of thy power; yea, I will sing aloud of thy mercy in the morning: for thou hast been my defence and refuge in the day of my trouble (16). Unto

10 And they that know [g]thy name will put their trust in thee: for thou, [3]Lord, hast not [h]forsaken them that seek thee.

11 Sing praises to the [3]Lord, which dwelleth in Zī'ŏn: declare among the people his doings.

12 When he maketh inquisition for blood, he remembereth them: he forgetteth not the cry of the humble.

13 Have [i]mercy upon me, O [3]Lord; [j]consider my trouble which I suffer of them that hate me, thou that liftest me up from the gates of death:

14 That I may shew forth all thy praise in the gates of the daughter of Zī'ŏn: I will rejoice in thy salvation.

15 The heathen are sunk down in the pit that they made: in the net which they hid is their own foot taken.

16 The [3]Lord is [k]known by the judgment which he executeth: the wicked is snared in the work of his own hands. [4]Hig-gā'ion. [5]Sē'lah.

17 The wicked shall be turned into [6]hell, and all the nations [l]that forget God.

18 For the needy [m]shall not alway be forgotten: the expectation [n]of the poor shall not perish for ever.

19 Arise, O [3]Lord; let not man prevail: let the heathen be judged in thy sight.

20 Put them in fear, O [3]Lord: that the nations may know themselves to be but men. [6]Sē'lah.

1 David complaineth to God of the outrage of the wicked. 12 He prayeth for remedy. 16 He professeth his confidence.

1 [1]Why [2]standest thou afar off, O [3]Lord? why hidest thou thyself in times of trouble?

2 The [4]wicked in his pride doth persecute the [5]poor: [a]let them be taken in the devices that they have imagined.

3 For the wicked boasteth [b]of his heart's [c]desire, and blesseth the covetous, whom the [3]Lord abhorreth.

4 The wicked, [d]through the pride of his countenance, will not seek after God: God is not in all his thoughts.

5 His ways are [e]always grievous; thy judgments are far above out of his sight: as for all his enemies, he [6]puffeth at them.

6 He hath said in his heart, [f]I shall not be moved: for I shall never be in adversity.

7 His mouth [g]is full of cursing and deceit and fraud: under [h]his [7]tongue is mischief and vanity.

8 He sitteth in the lurking places of the [i]villages: in the secret places doth he murder the innocent: his eyes are privily set against the poor.

9 He lieth [j]in wait secretly as a lion in his den: he lieth in wait to catch the poor: he doth catch the poor, when he draweth him into his net.

10 He croucheth, and humbleth himself, that the poor may fall by his strong ones.

11 He hath said [k]in his heart, [8]God hath forgotten: he hideth his face; he will never see it.

12 [9]Arise, O [3]Lord; O God, [10]lift up thine hand: forget not the humble.

13 Wherefore doth [l]the wicked contemn God? he hath said in his heart, Thou wilt not [11]require it.

14 Thou hast [m]seen it; for thou beholdest mischief and spite, to requite it with thy hand: the poor committeth [n]himself unto thee; thou art the helper [o]of the fatherless.

15 Break thou [p]the arm of the wicked and the evil man: seek out his wickedness till thou find none.

i. Hear, O Lord, and have mercy upon me: Lord, be thou my helper. (Ps. 30:10.) Have mercy upon me, O Lord, for I am in trouble: mine eye is consumed with grief, yea, my soul and my belly. (Ps. 31:9.) And the Lord passed by before him, and proclaimed, The Lord, The Lord God, merciful and gracious, long-suffering, and abundant in goodness and truth. (Ex. 34:6.) With the merciful thou wilt show thyself merciful; with an upright man thou wilt show thyself upright. (Ps. 18:25.) Go and proclaim these words toward the north, and say, Return, thou backsliding Israel, saith the Lord; and I will not cause mine anger to fall upon you: for I am merciful, saith the Lord, and I will not keep anger for ever. And when the melting fire burneth, the fire causeth the waters to boil, to make thy name known to thine adversaries, that the nations may tremble at thy presence! (Is. 64:2.) Therefore, as I live, saith the Lord God, I will even do according to thine anger, and according to thine envy which thou hast used out of thy hatred against them; and I will make myself known among them, when I have judged thee. 2 For, lo, the wicked bend their bow, they make ready their arrow upon the string, that they may [3]privily shoot at the upright in heart.

3 If the [4]foundations be destroyed, what can the righteous do?

4 [b]The [2]Lord is in his holy temple, the [2]Lord's throne is in heaven: [c]his eyes behold, his eyelids try, the children of men.

5 The [2]Lord [d]trieth the righteous: but the wicked and him that loveth violence his soul hateth.

1 Help, [3]Lord; for the [a]godly [4]man ceaseth; for the faithful fail from among the children of men.

3 The [3]Lord shall cut off all [c]flattering lips, and the tongue that [d]speaketh proud things:

4 Who have said, With our tongue will we prevail; our lips are our own: who is lord over us?

5 For [7]the oppression [c]of the poor, for the sighing of the needy, now will I arise, [8]saith the [3]Lord; I will set him in safety from him that puffeth at him.

6 The words of the [3]Lord are [f]pure words: as silver tried in a furnace of earth, purified [9]seven times.

3 Consider and hear me, O [3]Lord my God: lighten [b]mine eyes, [c]lest I sleep the sleep of death;

4 Lest mine enemy say, I have prevailed against him; and those that trouble me rejoice when I am moved.

5 But I [d]have [4]trusted in thy mercy; my heart shall rejoice in thy salvation.

6 I will [5]sing unto the [3]Lord, because he hath [e]dealt bountifully with me.

A Prayer of Dā'vid.

1 Hear [3]the right, O [2]Lord, attend unto my cry, give ear unto my prayer, that goeth not out of [4]feigned lips.

2 Let my sentence come forth from thy presence; let thine eyes behold the things that are equal.

3 Thou hast [5]proved [a]mine heart; thou hast visited me in the night; thou hast [6]tried me, and shalt [7]find nothing; I am purposed that my mouth [b]shall not transgress.

4 Concerning the [8]works of men, by [c]the word of thy lips I have kept me from the paths of the destroyer.

5 Hold up my goings in thy paths, that my footsteps slip not.

6 I have called upon thee, for thou wilt hear me, O God: incline thine ear unto me, and hear my speech.

7 Shew thy marvellous lovingkindness, O thou that savest by thy right hand them which put their trust in thee from those that rise up against them.

8 Keep [d]me as the [9]apple of the eye, [c]hide me under the shadow of thy wings.

9 From the wicked that oppress me, from my deadly enemies, [f]who compass me about.

10 They are inclosed in their own fat: with their mouth they speak proudly.

11 They have now compassed us in our steps: they have set their eyes bowing down to the earth;

12 Like a lion that is greedy of his prey, and as it were a young lion lurking in secret places.

13 Arise, O [2]Lord, [10]disappoint him, cast him down: deliver [g]my soul from the wicked, which is thy sword:

1 I will love thee, O [3]Lord, my strength.

2 The [3]Lord [a]is my [4]rock, and my fortress, and my deliverer; my God, my strength, [b]in whom I will trust; my buckler, and the horn of my salvation, and my high tower.

3 I will call upon the [3]Lord, [c]who is worthy to be praised: so shall I be saved from mine enemies.

4 The [d]sorrows of death compassed me, and the floods of ungodly men made me afraid.

5 The [5]sorrows of hell compassed me about: the [6]snares of death prevented me.

6 In my distress I [c]called upon the [3]Lord, and cried unto my God: he heard my voice out of his temple, and my cry came before him, even into his ears.

8 There went up a [8]smoke out of his nostrils, and fire out of his mouth devoured: coals were kindled by it.

9 He bowed [9]the heavens also, and came down: and darkness was under his feet.

fly: yea, he [h]did fly upon the wings of the wind.

11 He made darkness his [11]secret place; his [i]pavilion round about him were dark [12]waters and thick clouds of the skies.

12 At the [13]brightness that was before him his thick clouds passed, hail stones and coals of fire.

13 The [3]Lord also thundered in the heavens, and the Highest gave [j]his [14]voice; hail [15]stones and coals of fire.

14 Yea, [k]he sent out his arrows, and scattered them; and he shot out lightnings, and [16]discomfited them.

16 He sent from above, he took me, he drew me out of many waters.

17 He delivered me from my strong enemy, and from them which hated me: for they were too strong for me.

18 They [17]prevented me in the day of my calamity: but the [3]Lord [l]was my stay.

19 He [m]brought me forth also into a large place; he delivered me, because he delighted in me.

20 [n]The [3]Lord rewarded me according to my righteousness; according to the cleanness of my hands hath he recompensed me.

21 For I have kept the ways of the [3]Lord, and have not [o]wickedly departed from my God.

22 For all his judgments were before me, and I did not put away his statutes from me.

23 I was also upright before him, and I kept myself from mine iniquity.

24 Therefore [p]hath the [3]Lord [18]recompensed me according to my righteousness, according to the cleanness of my hands in his eyesight.

25 With [q]the merciful thou wilt shew thyself merciful; with an upright man thou wilt shew thyself upright;

26 With the pure thou wilt shew [r]thyself pure; and with the [s]froward thou wilt shew thyself froward.

28 For thou wilt light my candle: the [3]Lord my God will [u]enlighten my darkness.

29 For by thee I have run through a troop; and by my God have I leaped over a wall.

30 As for God, [v]his way is perfect: the word [w]of the [3]Lord is tried: he is a buckler to all those that trust in him.

32 It is God that girdeth me with strength, and maketh my way perfect.

33 He maketh my feet like hinds' feet, and setteth me upon my high places.

34 He teacheth my hands to war, so that a bow of steel is broken by mine arms.

35 Thou hast also given me the shield of thy salvation: and thy right hand hath holden me up, and [z]thy gentleness hath made me great.

36 Thou hast enlarged my steps under me, that my feet did not slip.

37 I have pursued mine enemies, and overtaken them: neither did I turn again till they were consumed.

38 I have wounded them that they were not able to rise: they are fallen under my feet.

39 For thou hast girded me with strength unto the battle: thou hast subdued under me those that rose up against me.

40 Thou hast also [aa]given me the necks of mine enemies; that I might destroy them that hate me.

41 They cried, but there was none to save them: [bb]even unto the [3]Lord, but he answered them not.

42 Then did I beat them small as the dust before the wind: I did cast them out as the dirt in the streets.

43 Thou hast delivered me from the strivings of the people; and thou hast made me the

4 Their line is gone out through all the earth, and their words to the end of the world. In them hath he set a tabernacle for the sun,

5 Which is [b]as a bridegroom coming out of his chamber, and rejoiceth as a strong man to run a race.

6 His going forth [c]is from the end of the heaven, and his circuit unto the ends of it: and there is nothing hid from the heat thereof.

7 The [d]law of the [3]Lord is [4]perfect, [e]converting the soul: [f]the testimony of the [3]Lord is sure, [g]making wise the simple.

8 The [h]statutes of the [3]Lord are right, rejoicing the heart: the commandment of the [3]Lord is [i]pure, enlightening [j]the eyes.

9 The [k]fear of the [3]Lord is clean, enduring for ever: the judgments of the Lord are true and righteous altogether.

11 Moreover by them is thy [l]servant warned: and [m]in keeping of them there is great reward.

12 Who can [n]understand his errors? cleanse [o]thou me from secret faults.

13 Keep back thy servant also from [p]presumptuous sins; let them not have dominion [q]over me: then shall I be upright, and I shall be innocent from the great transgression.

14 Let the [5]words of my mouth, and [r]the meditation [6]of my heart, be acceptable in thy sight, O Lord, my strength, and my [s]redeemer.

[1]PSALM 21.

1 A thanksgiving for victory. 7 Confidence of further success.

To the chief Musician, A Psalm of Dā'vid.

1 The king shall joy in thy strength, O [2]Lord; and in thy salvation how [a]greatly shall he rejoice!

2 Thou hast given him [b]his heart's desire, and hast not withholden the request of his lips. [3]Sē'lah.

3 For thou preventest him with the blessings of goodness: thou settest a crown of pure gold on his head.

4 He asked [4]life of thee, [c]and thou gavest it him, even length of days for ever and ever.

5 His glory is great in thy salvation: honour [d]and majesty hast thou laid upon him.

6 For thou hast made him most blessed for ever: thou hast made him exceeding glad with thy countenance.

7 For the king trusteth [e]in the [2]Lord, and through the mercy of the most High he shall not be moved.

8 Thine hand shall find out all thine enemies: thy right hand shall find out those that hate thee.

9 Thou shalt make them as [f]a fiery oven in the time of thine anger: the [2]Lord shall swallow them up in his wrath, and the [g]fire shall devour them.

10 Their [h]fruit shalt thou destroy from the earth, and their seed from among the children of men.

11 For they intended evil against thee: they imagined a mischievous device, which they are not able to perform.

12 Therefore shalt thou make them turn their back, when thou shalt make ready thine arrows upon thy strings against the face of them.

13 Be thou exalted, Lord, in thine own strength: so will we sing [i]and praise thy power.

1 David [1]complaineth in discouragement. 9 He prayeth in distress. 23 He praiseth God.

To the chief Musician upon [2]Āij'e-lēth Shā'här, A Psalm of Dā'vid.

1 My [3]God, [a]my God, why hast thou forsaken me? why art thou so far from helping me, and from [b]the words of my [4]roaring?

2 O my God, I cry in the daytime, but thou hearest not; and in the night season, and am not silent.

3 But thou art holy, [c]O thou that inhabitest the praises of Īs'ra-el.

4 Our fathers trusted in thee: they trusted, and thou didst deliver them.

5 They [d]cried unto thee, and were delivered: they trusted in thee, and were not confounded.

6 But I am a worm, and no man; a reproach [e]of men, and despised of the people.

7 All [f]they that see me laugh me to scorn: they shoot out the lip, they shake the head, saying,

8 He [5]trusted on the Lord that he would deliver him: let him deliver him, [g]seeing he delighted in him.

9 But thou art he that took me out of the womb: thou didst make me hope when I was upon my mother's breasts.

10 I was cast upon thee from the womb: thou art my God from my mother's belly.

3 Yea, let none that wait on thee be ashamed: let them be [4]ashamed which transgress without cause.

4 Shew [d]me thy ways, O [2]Lord; teach me thy paths.

5 Lead me in thy truth, [d]and teach me: for thou art the God [e]of my salvation; on thee do I wait all the day.

2 Examine me, [d]O [2]Lord, and prove me; try [5]my reins and my heart.

3 For thy lovingkindness is before mine eyes: and I have [e]walked in thy truth.

4 [6]I [f]have not sat with vain persons, neither will I go in with dissemblers.

5 I have [g]hated the congregation of evil-doers; and will not sit with the wicked.

6 [h]I will wash mine hands in [7]innocency: so will I compass thine altar, O [2]Lord:

7 That I may publish with the voice of thanksgiving, and tell of all thy wondrous works.

8 [2]Lord, I have loved the habitation of thy house, and the place where thine honour dwelleth.

1 David [1]sustaineth his faith by the power of God, 4 by his love to the service of God, 9 by prayer.

A Psalm of Dā'vid.

1 The [2]Lord is [a]my light and my [b]salvation; whom [c]shall I fear? the [2]Lord is the [d]strength of my life; of whom shall I [c]be afraid?

2 When the wicked, even mine enemies and my foes, came upon me to eat [3]up my flesh, they [4]stumbled and fell.

3 Though an host should encamp against me, my heart shall not [c]fear: though war should rise against me, in this will I be confident.

4 One thing have I desired of the [2]Lord, that will I seek after; that I may dwell in the house of the [2]Lord all the days of my life, to behold the [5]beauty of the Lord, and to enquire [c]in his temple.

5 For [f]in the time of trouble he shall hide me in his [6]pavilion: in the secret of his tabernacle shall he hide me; he shall set me up upon a rock.

6 And now shall mine head be lifted up above mine enemies round about me: therefore will I offer in his tabernacle sacrifices of joy; I will sing, yea, I will sing praises unto the [2]Lord.

7 Hear, O [2]Lord, when I cry with my voice: [g]have mercy also upon me, and answer me.

8 When thou saidst, [h]Seek ye my face; my heart said unto thee, Thy face, [2]Lord, will I seek.

(Jud. 9:15.)

d. He giveth power to the faint; and to them that have no might he increaseth strength. (Is. 40:29-31.)

Psalm 30.

a. But unto thee have I cried, O Lord; and in the morning shall my prayer prevent thee. (Ps. 88:13.) They cried unto thee, and were delivered: they trusted in thee, and were not confounded. (Ps. 22:5.) Nevertheless he regarded their affliction, when he heard their cry. (Ps. 106:44.) Then they cry unto the Lord in their trouble, and he saveth them out of their distresses. (Ps. 107:19.)

5 For his anger endureth but a moment; [d]in his favour is life: weeping may endure for a night, but joy cometh in the morning.

6 And in my prosperity I said, I shall never be moved.

7 [3]Lord, by thy favour thou hast made my mountain to stand strong: thou [c]didst hide thy face, and I was troubled.

8 I [a]cried to thee, O [3]Lord; and unto the Lord I made supplication.

9 What profit is there in my blood, when I go down to the pit? [f]Shall the dust praise thee? shall it declare thy truth?

10 Hear, O [3]Lord, and [g]have mercy upon me: Lord, be thou my helper.

11 Thou hast turned for me my mourning into [5]dancing: thou hast put off my sackcloth, and girded me with gladness;

12 To the end that my glory may sing praise to thee, and not be silent. O Lord my God, I will give thanks unto thee for ever.

[1]PSALM 31.

1 David shewing his confidence in God craveth his help. 9 He prayeth in his calamity. 19 He praiseth God for his goodness.

To the chief [2]Musician, A Psalm of Dā'vid.

1 In thee, [a]O [3]Lord, do I put my trust; let me never [b]be [4]ashamed: deliver me in thy righteousness.

2 Bow down thine ear to me; deliver [c]me speedily: be thou my strong rock, for an house of defence to save me.

3 For thou [d]art my rock and my fortress; therefore for [e]thy name's sake lead me, and guide me.

4 Pull me out of the net that they have laid privily for me: for [f]thou art my strength.

5 Into [g]thine hand I [6]commit my spirit: thou hast redeemed me, O [3]Lord God of truth.

6 I have hated them that regard lying vanities: but I trust in the [3]Lord.

7 I will be glad and rejoice in thy mercy: for thou hast considered my trouble; thou hast known my soul in adversities;

8 And hast not shut me up into the hand of the enemy: thou hast set my feet in a large room.

9 Have mercy [h]upon me, O [3]Lord, for I am in trouble: mine eye [6]is consumed with grief, yea, my [6]soul and my [6]belly.

10 For my life is spent with grief, and my years with sighing: my strength faileth because of mine iniquity, and my bones are consumed.

11 I was a reproach among all mine enemies, but [i]especially among my neighbours, and a fear to mine acquaintance: they that did see me without fled from me.

12 I am forgotten as a dead man out of mind: I am like a broken vessel.

13 For I have heard the slander of many: fear [j]was on every side: while they took counsel together against me, they devised to take away my life.

14 But I [a]trusted in thee, O [3]Lord: I said, Thou art my God.

15 My times are in thy hand: [c]deliver me from the hand of mine enemies, and from them that persecute me.

16 Make [k]thy face to shine upon thy servant: save me for thy mercies' sake.

17 Let [b]me not be ashamed, O [3]Lord; for I have called upon thee: let the wicked be ashamed, and let them be silent in the grave.

18 Let [l]the lying lips be put to silence; which speak grievous things proudly and contemptuously against the righteous.

19 Oh [m]how great is thy goodness, which thou hast laid up for them that fear thee; which thou hast wrought for them that trust in thee before the sons of men!

20 Thou [n]shalt hide them in the secret of thy presence from the pride of man: thou shalt keep them secretly in a pavilion from the strife of tongues.

21 Blessed be the Lord: for he hath shewed me his marvellous kindness in a strong city.

22 For I said in my haste, I am cut off from before thine eyes: nevertheless thou heardest the voice of my supplications when I cried unto thee.

1 Blessedness consisteth in remission of sins. 3 Confession of sins giveth ease to the conscience. 8 God's promises bring joy.

A Psalm of Dā'vid, [2]Mās'chĭl.

1 Blessed is he whose [a]transgression is forgiven, whose sin is covered.

2 Blessed is the man unto whom the [3]Lord [b]imputeth not iniquity, and [c]in whose spirit there is no [4]guile.

3 When I kept silence, my bones waxed old through my roaring all the day long.

4 For day and night thy hand was heavy upon me: my moisture is turned into the drought of summer. Sē'lah.

5 I acknowledged [5]my sin unto thee, and mine iniquity have I not hid. I said, [d]I will confess my transgressions unto the Lord; and thou forgavest the iniquity of my sin. Sē'lah.

6 For this [e]shall every one that is godly pray unto thee [f]in a time when thou mayest be found: surely in the [g]floods of great waters they shall not come nigh unto him.

7 [h]Thou art my hiding place; thou shalt preserve me from trouble; thou shalt compass me about with songs of deliverance. Sē'lah.

8 I will [i]instruct thee and teach thee in the way which thou shalt go: [j]I will guide thee with mine eye.

14 From the place of his habitation he looketh upon all the inhabitants of the earth.
15 He fashioneth their hearts alike; [g]he considereth all their works.
16 There is no king saved by the multitude of an host: a mighty man is not delivered by much strength.
17 An horse is a vain thing for safety: neither shall he deliver any by his great strength.
18 Behold, the [f]eye of the [2]Lord is upon them that [c]fear him, upon them that hope in his mercy;
19 To deliver [h]their soul from death, and to keep them alive in famine.
20 Our soul waiteth for the [2]Lord: he is our help and our shield.

7 [e]The [5]angel of the [3]Lord [f]encampeth round about them that fear him, and delivereth them.
8 O [g]taste and see that the [3]Lord is good: blessed is the man that [h]trusteth in him.
9 [i]O fear the [3]Lord, ye his saints: for there is [j]no want to them that fear him.
10 The young lions do lack, and suffer hunger: but they that [k]seek the [3]Lord shall not want any good thing.
11 Come, ye children, hearken unto me: I will teach you the fear of the [3]Lord.
12 [c]What [l]man is he that desireth life, and loveth many days, that he may see good?
13 Keep thy [m]tongue from evil, and thy lips from [n]speaking guile.
14 Depart from evil, and do good; seek peace, and pursue it.
15 [o]The eyes of the [3]Lord are upon the righteous, and his ears are open unto their cry.
16 The face [p]of the [3]Lord is against them

i. And the Lord passed by before him, and proclaimed, The Lord, The Lord God, merciful and gracious, long-suffering, and abundant in goodness and truth. (Ex. 34:6.) With the merciful thou wilt show thyself merciful: with an upright man thou wilt show thyself upright. (Ps. 18:25.) Go and proclaim these words toward the north, and say, Return, thou backsliding Israel, saith the Lord; and I will not cause mine anger to fall upon you: for I am merciful, saith the Lord, and I will not keep anger for ever. (Jer. 3:12.) Be ye therefore merciful, as your Father also is merciful. (Luke 6:36.) And the publican, standing afar off, would not lift up so much as his eyes unto heaven, but smote upon his breast, saying, God be merciful to me a sinner. (Luke 18:13.)

And he went out to meet Asa, and said unto him, Hear ye me, Asa, and all Judah and Benjamin; The Lord is with you, while ye be with him; and if ye seek him, he will be found of you; but if ye forsake him, he will forsake you. (II Chr. 15:2.)

c. I cried unto the Lord with my voice, and he heard me out of his holy hill. Selah. (Ps. 3:4.) Therefore thou deliveredst them into the hand of their enemies, who vexed them: and in the time of their trouble, when they cried unto thee, thou heardest them from heaven; and according to thy manifold mercies thou gavest them saviours, who saved them out of the hand of their enemies. (Neh. 9:27.) They cried unto thee, and were delivered: they trusted in thee, and were not confounded. (Ps. 22:5.) Nevertheless he regarded their affliction, when he heard their cry. (Ps. 106:44.)

For the eyes of the Lord are over the righteous, and his ears are open unto their prayers: but the face of the Lord is against them that do evil. (I Pet. 3:10-12.)

m. Set a watch, O Lord, before my mouth; keep the door of my lips. (Ps. 141:3.) He that keepeth his mouth keepeth his life: but he that openeth wide his lips shall have destruction. (Prov. 13:3.) If any man among you seem to be religious, and bridleth not his tongue, but deceiveth his own heart, this man's religion is vain. (Js. 1:26.)

n. Who, when he was reviled, reviled not again; when he suffered, he threatened not: but committed himself to him that judgeth righteously. (I Pet. 2:23.) He withdraweth not his eyes from the righteous; but with kings are they on the throne; yea, he doth establish them for ever, and they are exalted. (Job 36:7.) that do evil, [q]to cut off the remembrance of them from the earth.

17 The righteous cry, and the Lord heareth, and delivereth [r]them out of all their troubles.

18 The [3]Lord [s]is nigh unto them that are of a [t]broken heart; and saveth such as be [u]of a contrite spirit.

19 Many are the afflictions of the righteous: but the [3]Lord delivereth him out of them all.

20 He keepeth all his bones: [v]not one of them is broken.

21 Evil [w]shall slay the wicked: and they that hate the righteous shall be desolate.

22 The [3]Lord [x]redeemeth the soul of his servants: and none of them that trust in him shall be desolate.

[1]PSALM 35.

1 David prayeth for his own safety, and his enemies' confusion. 11 He complaineth of their wrong dealing.

A Psalm of Dā'vid.

1 Plead [2]my cause, O [3]Lord, with them that [a]strive with me: fight against them that fight against me.

2 Take hold of shield and buckler, and stand up for [b]mine help.

3 Draw out also the spear, and stop the way against them that [5]persecute me: say unto my soul, I am thy salvation.

4 [4]Let them be confounded and put to shame that seek after my soul: let them be [c]turned back and brought to confusion that devise my hurt.

5 Let them be as chaff before the wind: and let the angel of the [3]Lord chase them.

6 Let their way be dark and slippery: and let the angel of the [3]Lord [5]persecute them.

7 For without cause have they hid for me their net in a pit, which without cause they have digged for my soul.

8 Let [d]destruction come upon him at [6]unawares; and [c]let his net that he hath hid catch himself: into that very destruction let him fall.

9 And my soul shall be joyful in the [3]Lord: it [f]shall rejoice in his salvation.

10 All my bones shall say, [3]Lord, [g]who is like unto thee, which deliverest the poor from him that is too strong for him, yea, the poor and the needy from him that spoileth him?

11 False witnesses did rise up; they laid to my charge things that I knew not.

12 They rewarded [h]me evil for good to the spoiling of my soul.

13 But as for me, when they were sick, my clothing was sackcloth: I humbled my soul with fasting; and my prayer returned into mine own bosom.

14 I behaved myself as though he had been my friend or brother: I bowed down heavily, as one that mourneth for his mother.

15 But in mine adversity they rejoiced, and gathered themselves together: yea, the abjects gathered themselves together against me, and I knew it not; they did tear me, and ceased not:

16 With hypocritical mockers in feasts, they gnashed upon me with their teeth.

17 [3]Lord, how long wilt thou look on? rescue my soul from their destructions, my darling from the lions.

18 I will give thee thanks in the great congregation: I will praise thee among much people.

19 Let not them that are mine enemies [6]wrongfully rejoice over me: neither let them wink with the eye that hate me without a cause.

20 For they speak not peace: but they devise deceitful matters against them that are quiet in the land.

21 Yea, they opened their mouth wide against me, and said, Aha, aha, our eye hath seen it.

Psalm 35.

And when he had opened the book, he found the place where it was written (17), The Spirit of the Lord is upon me, because he hath anointed me to preach the gospel to the poor; he hath sent me to heal the broken-hearted, to preach deliverance to the captives, and recovering of sight to the blind, to set at liberty them that are bruised. (Luke 4:17, 18.) The Spirit of the Lord God is upon me; because the Lord hath anointed me to preach good tidings unto the meek; he hath sent me to bind up the broken-hearted, to proclaim liberty to the captives, and the opening of the prison to them that are bound. (Is. 61:1.)

h. They also that render evil for good are mine adversaries; because I follow the thing that good is. (Ps. 38:20.) And they have rewarded me evil for good, and hatred for my love. (Ps. 109:5.) Shall evil be recompensed for good? for they have digged a pit for my soul. Remember that I stood before thee to speak good for them, and to turn away thy wrath from them. (Jer. 18:20.) Jesus answered them, Many good works I have shown you from my Father; for which of those works do ye stone me? (Jno. 10:32.)

22 This thou [i]hast seen, O [3]Lord: keep not silence: O [3]Lord, be not far from me.
23 Stir up thyself, and awake to my judgment, even unto my cause, my God and my [3]Lord.
24 Judge me, O [3]Lord my God, according to [j]thy righteousness; and let them not rejoice over me.
25 Let them not say in their hearts, Ah, so would we have it: let them not say, We have swallowed him up.
26 Let them be ashamed and brought to confusion together that rejoice at mine hurt: let them be clothed with shame and dishonour that magnify themselves against me.
27 Let them shout for joy, and be glad, that favour my righteous cause: yea, let them say continually, Let the [3]Lord be magnified, which hath pleasure in the prosperity of his servant.
28 And my tongue shall speak of thy righteousness and of thy praise all the day long.

[1]PSALM 36.

1 The grievous estate of the wicked. 5 The excellency of God's mercy. 10 David prayeth for favour to God's children.

To the chief Musician, A [2]Psalm of Dā'vid the servant of the Lord.

1 The transgression of the [a]wicked saith within my heart, that there is no [b]fear of God before his eyes.
2 For he flattereth himself in his own eyes, until his iniquity be found to be hateful.
3 The words of his mouth are iniquity and deceit: he hath left off to be wise, and to do good.
4 He [c]deviseth mischief upon his bed; he setteth himself in a way that is not good; he abhorreth not evil.
5 Thy [d]mercy, O [3]Lord, is in the heavens; and thy faithfulness reacheth unto the clouds.
6 Thy righteousness is like the great mountains; [e]thy judgments are a great deep: O [3]Lord, [f]thou preservest man and beast.

8 They shall be abundantly satisfied with the fatness of thy house; and thou shalt make them drink of [h]the river of thy pleasures.
9 For [i]with thee is the fountain of life: in thy light shall we see light.
10 O continue thy lovingkindness unto them that know thee; and thy righteousness to the upright in heart.
11 Let not the foot of pride come against me, and let not the hand of the wicked remove me.
12 There are the workers of iniquity fallen: they are cast down, and shall not be able to rise.

4 Delight [d]thyself also in the [3]Lord; and he shall give thee the desires [e]of thine heart.
5 Commit [f]thy way unto the [3]Lord; trust also in him; and he shall bring it to pass.
6 And he shall [g]bring forth thy righteousness as the light, and thy judgment as the noonday.
7 Rest in the Lord, and wait patiently for him: [d]fret not thyself because of him who prospereth in his way, because of the man who bringeth wicked devices to pass.

He will fulfil the desire of them that fear him: he also will hear their cry, and will save them. (Ps. 145:19.) Ask, and it shall be given you; seek, and ye shall find; knock, and it shall be opened unto you (7). For every one that asketh receiveth; and he that seeketh findeth; and to him that knocketh it shall be opened. (Mat. 7:7, 8.)
f. Cast thy burden upon the Lord, and he shall sustain thee: he shall never suffer the righteous to be moved. (Ps. 55:22.) Commit thy works unto the Lord, and thy thoughts shall be established. (Prov. 16:3.) Casting all your care upon him; for he careth for you. (I Pet. 5:7.)
g. I will bear the indignation of the Lord, because I have sinned against him, until he plead my cause, and execute judgment for me: he will bring me forth to the light, and I shall behold his righteousness. (Mic. 7:9.) Light is sown for the righteous, and gladness for the upright in heart. (Ps. 97:11.) Then shall thy light break forth as the morning, and thine health shall spring forth speedily: and thy righteousness shall go before thee; the glory of the Lord shall be thy reward (8). And if thou draw out thy soul to the hungry, and satisfy the afflicted soul; then shall thy light rise in obscurity, and thy darkness be as the noon-day. (Is. 58:8, 10.)

8 Cease from anger, and [h]forsake wrath: [i]fret not thyself in any wise to do evil.
9 For [j]evildoers shall be cut off: but those that wait upon the Lord, they shall inherit the earth.
10 For yet a little while, [k]and the wicked shall not be: yea, thou shalt diligently consider his place, and it shall not be.
11 But the [l]meek shall inherit the earth; and shall delight themselves in the abundance of peace.
12 The wicked plotteth against the just, and gnasheth upon him with his teeth.
13 The Lord shall laugh at him: for he seeth that [m]his day is coming.
14 The [j]wicked have drawn out the sword, and have bent their bow, to cast down the poor and needy, and to slay such as be of upright conversation.
15 Their [j]sword shall enter into their own heart, and their bows shall be broken.
16 A [n]little that a righteous man hath is better than the riches of many wicked.
17 For the arms [o]of the wicked shall be broken: but the [5]Lord [p]upholdeth the righteous.
18 The [3]Lord [q]knoweth the days of the upright: and their inheritance shall be for ever.
19 They shall not be [r]ashamed in the evil time: and [s]in the days of famine they shall be satisfied.
20 But the wicked [t]shall perish, and the enemies of the Lord shall be as the fat of lambs: they shall consume; into smoke shall they consume away.
21 The wicked borroweth, and payeth not again: but the righteous [u]sheweth mercy, and giveth.

5. The word "good" is not in the original. The Psalmist uses the word "man" in its noblest sense, in contradistinction to mean man.

22 For such as be blessed of him shall inherit the earth; and they that be [v]cursed of him shall be cut off.
23 The [w]steps of a [5]good man are ordered by the [3]Lord: and he delighteth in his way.
24 Though [x]he fall, he shall not be utterly cast down: for the Lord upholdeth him with his hand.
25 I have been young, and now am old; yet have I not seen the righteous [y]forsaken, nor his seed begging bread.
26 He is ever merciful, and lendeth; and his seed is blessed.
27 Depart from evil, and do good; and dwell for evermore.
28 For the Lord [z]loveth judgment, and [y]forsaketh not his saints; they are preserved for ever: but the seed of the [aa]wicked shall be cut off.
29 The righteous shall inherit the land, and dwell therein for ever.
30 The mouth [bb]of the righteous speaketh wisdom, and his tongue talketh of judgment.
31 The law [cc]of his God is in his heart; none of his steps shall slide.
32 The wicked watcheth the righteous, and seeketh to slay him.
33 The Lord will not leave him in his hand, nor [dd]condemn him when he is judged.
34 Wait on the Lord, and keep his way, and he shall exalt thee to inherit the land: when the [aa]wicked are cut off, thou shalt see it.
35 I have seen the wicked in great power, and spreading himself like a green bay tree.
36 Yet he passed away, and, lo, he was not: yea, I sought him, but he could not be found.
37 Mark the perfect man, and behold the upright: for the [ee]end of that man is peace.

h. Let all bitterness, and wrath, and anger, and clamor, and evil speaking, be put away from you, with all malice. (Eph. 4:31.) But now ye also put off all these; anger, wrath, malice, blasphemy, filthy communication out of your mouth. (Col. 3:8.)

i. For I was envious at the foolish, when I saw the prosperity of the wicked. (Ps. 73:3.) Be ye angry, and sin not: let not the sun go down upon your wrath. (Eph. 4:26.)

j. Tribulation and anguish, upon every soul of man that doeth evil, of the Jew first, and also of the Gentile. (Rom. 2:9.) I also could speak as ye do: if your soul were in my soul's stead, I could heap up words against you, and shake mine head at you. (Job. 16:4.) Evil pursueth sinners: but to the righteous good shall be repaid. (Prov. 13:21.) Many sorrows shall be to the wicked: but he that trusteth in the Lord, mercy shall compass him about. (Ps. 32:10.)

k. He shall return no more to his house, neither shall his place know him any more. (Job 7:10.) See vs. 35, 36.

l. Blessed are the meek: for they shall inherit the earth. (Mat. 5:5.)

m. David said furthermore, As the Lord liveth, the Lord shall smite him; or his day shall come to die; or he shall descend into battle, and perish. (I Sam. 26:10.) They that come after him shall be astonished at his day, as they that went before were affrighted. (Job. 18:20.)

n. But godliness with contentment is great gain. (I Tim. 6:6.) Thou hast put gladness in my heart, more than in the time that their corn and their wine increased. (Ps. 4:7.) Better is little with the fear of the Lord than great treasure and trouble therewith. (Prov. 15:16.) Better is a little with righteousness than great revenues without right. (Prov. 16:8.)

o. Break thou the arm of the wicked and the evil man: seek out his wickedness till thou find none. (Ps. 10:15.) And from the wicked their light is withholden, and the high arm shall be broken. (Job 38:15.) Son of man, I have broken the arm of Pharaoh king of Egypt; and lo, it shall not be bound up to be healed, to put a roller to bind it, to make it strong to hold the sword. (Ezek. 30:21.)

p. By thee have I been holden up from the womb: thou art he that took me out of my mother's bowels: my praise shall be continually of thee. (Ps. 71:6.) The Lord upholdeth all that fall, and raiseth up all those that be bowed down. (Ps. 145:14.)

q. For the Lord knoweth the way of the righteous: but the way of the ungodly shall perish. (Ps. 1:6.) I will be glad and rejoice in thy mercy: for thou hast considered my trouble; thou hast known my soul in adversities. (Ps. 31:7.)

r. For the scripture saith, Whosoever believeth on him shall not be ashamed. (Rom. 10:11.) In thee, O Lord, do I put my trust: let me never be ashamed: deliver me in thy righteousness. (Ps. 31:1.) O my God, I trust in thee: let me not be ashamed, let not mine enemies triumph over me. (Ps. 25:2.)

s. In famine he shall redeem thee from death: and in war from the power of the sword. (Job 5:20.) To deliver their soul from death, and to keep them alive in famine. (Ps. 33:19.)

t. For lo, they that are far from thee shall perish: thou hast destroyed all them that go a whoring from thee. (Ps. 73:27.) As smoke is driven away, so drive them away: as wax melteth before the fire, so let the wicked perish at the presence of God. (Ps. 68:2.) For my days are consumed like smoke, and my bones are burned as an hearth. (Ps. 102:3.)

u. A good man soweth favor, and lendeth: he will guide his affairs with discretion. (Ps. 112:5.) But love ye your enemies, and do good, and lend, hoping for nothing again; and your reward shall be great, and ye shall be the children of the Highest: for he is kind unto the unthankful and to the evil. (Luke 6:35.) As it is written, He hath dispersed abroad; he hath given to the poor: his righteousness remaineth for ever. (II Cor. 9:9.)

v. The curse of the Lord is in the house of the wicked: but he blesseth the habitation of the just. (Prov. 3:33.) If ye will not hear, and if ye will not lay it to heart, to give glory unto my name, saith the Lord of hosts, I will even send a curse upon you, and I will curse your blessings: yea, I have cursed them already, because ye do not lay it to heart. (Mal. 2:2.)

w. He will not suffer thy foot to be moved: he that keepeth thee will not slumber. (Ps. 121:3.) A man's heart deviseth his way: but the Lord directeth his steps. (Prov. 16:9.) He brought me up also out of an horrible pit, out of the miry clay, and set my feet upon a rock, and established my goings. (Ps. 40:2.) Which holdeth our soul in life, and suffereth not our feet to be moved. (Ps. 66:9.) O that my ways were directed to keep thy statutes! (Ps. 119:5.)

x. Rejoice not against me, O mine enemy: when I fall, I shall arise; when I sit in darkness, the Lord shall be a light unto me. (Mic. 7:8.) Persecuted, but not forsaken; cast down but not destroyed. (II Cor. 4:9.) For a just man falleth seven times, and riseth up again; but the wicked shall fall into mischief. (Prov. 24:16.) The Lord upholdeth all that fall, and raiseth up all those that be bowed down. (Ps. 145:14.)

y. When the poor and needy seek water, and there is none, and their tongue faileth for thirst, I the Lord will hear them, I the God of Israel will not forsake them. (Is. 41:17.) Let your conversation be without covetousness; and be content with such things as ye have: for he hath said, I will never leave thee nor forsake thee. (Heb. 13:5.) For the Lord loveth judgment, and forsaketh not his saints; they are preserved for ever: but the seed of the wicked shall be cut off. (Ps. 37:28.)

z. For the righteous Lord loveth righteousness; his countenance doth behold the upright. (Ps. 11:7.) He loveth righteousness and judgment: the earth is full of the goodness of the Lord. (Ps. 33:5.)

aa. Their fruit shalt thou destroy from the earth, and their seed from among the children of men. (Ps. 21:10.) But the wicked shall be cut off from the earth, and the transgressors shall be rooted out of it. (Prov. 2:22.) Thou shalt not be joined with them in burial, because thou hast destroyed thy land, and slain thy people: the seed of evil-doers shall never be renowned. (Is. 14:20.)

bb. In the lips of him that hath understanding wisdom is found: but a rod is for the back of him that is void of understanding. (Prov. 10:13.) With my lips have I declared all the judgments of thy mouth. (Ps. 119:13.)

cc. I delight to do thy will, O my God: yea, thy law is within my heart. (Ps. 40:8.) Thy word have I hid in mine heart, that I might not sin against thee. (Ps. 119:11.) And these words, which I command thee this day, shall be in thine heart. (Dt. 6:6.) Hearken unto me, ye that know righteousness, the people in whose heart is my law; fear ye not the reproach of men, neither be ye afraid of their revilings. (Is. 51:7.) But this shall be the covenant that I will make with the house of Israel: After those days, saith the Lord, I will put my law in their inward parts, and write it in their hearts; and will be their God, and they shall be my people. (Jer. 31:33.)

dd. For he shall stand at the right hand of the poor, to save him from those that condemn his soul. (Ps. 109:31.) The Lord redeemeth the soul of his servants: and none of them that trust in him shall be desolate. (Ps. 34:22.)

ee. And the work of righteousness shall be peace; and the effect of righteousness, quietness and assurance for ever. (Is. 32:17.) He shall enter into peace; they shall rest in their beds, each one walking in his 38 But the transgressors shall be destroyed together: the end of the wicked [aa]shall be cut off.

39 But the salvation of the righteous is of the Lord: he is their strength in the time of trouble.

40 And the Lord shall help them, and deliver them: he shall deliver them from the wicked, and save them, [ff]because they trust in him.

[1]PSALM 38.

David moveth God to take compassion of his pitiful case.

A Psalm of Dā'vid, to bring to [2]remembrance.

1 O [3]Lord, rebuke me not in thy wrath: neither chasten me in thy hot displeasure.

2 For thine arrows stick fast in me, and thy hand presseth me sore.

3 There is no soundness in my flesh because of thine [a]anger; neither is there any rest in my bones because of my sin.

4 For mine iniquities are gone over mine head: as an heavy burden they are too heavy for me.

5 My wounds stink and are corrupt because of my foolishness.

6 I am troubled; I am bowed down greatly; I go mourning all the day long.

7 For my [4]loins are filled with a loathsome disease: and there is no soundness in my flesh.

8 I am feeble and sore broken: I have roared by reason of the disquietness of my heart.

9 [5]Lord, all my desire is before thee; and my groaning is not hid from thee.

10 My heart panteth, my strength faileth me: as for the light of mine eyes, it also is gone from me.

11 My lovers and my [b]friends stand aloof from my sore; and my kinsmen stand afar off.

12 They also that seek after my life lay snares for me: and they that seek my hurt speak mischievous things, and imagine deceits all the day long.

13 But I, as a deaf man, heard not; and I was as a dumb man that openeth not his mouth.

14 Thus I was as a man that heareth not, and in whose mouth are no reproofs.

15 For in thee, O [3]Lord, [c]do I hope: thou wilt hear, O [3]Lord my God.

16 For I said, Hear me, lest otherwise they should rejoice over me: when my foot slippeth, they magnify themselves against me.

17 For I am ready to halt, and my sorrow is continually before me.

18 For I will [d]declare mine iniquity; I will be sorry [e]for my sin.

19 But mine enemies are [6]lively, and they are strong: and they that hate me wrongfully are multiplied.

20 They also that render evil for good are mine adversaries; [f]because I follow the thing that good is.

21 Forsake [g]me not, O [3]Lord: O my God, be not far from me.

22 Make haste to help me, O [3]Lord [h]my salvation.

[1]PSALM 39.

1 David's care of his thoughts. 7 The reverence of God's judgments, 10 and prayer, are his bridles of impatiency.

To the chief Musician, even to [2]Jĕd'u-thŭn, A Psalm of Dā'vid.

1 I said, I will [a]take heed to my ways, that [b]I sin not with my tongue: I will keep my mouth with a bridle, while the wicked is before me.

2 I was dumb with silence, I held my peace, even from good; and my sorrow was stirred.

3 My heart was hot within me; while I was musing [c]the fire burned: then spake I with my tongue,

4 [3]Lord, make me to [d]know mine end, and the measure of my days, what it is; that I may know how frail I am.

5 Behold, thou hast made my days as an

Psalm 38.

1. This Ps. was written on the occasion of the series of divine judgments upon David, his house and his kingdom after his sins. It is unsurpassed in the depth and tenderness of its spirit.

2. To record.

3. Jehovah, the covenant-name of God.

4. The seat of strength.

5. Vs. 9-15 relate to the trust of the writer in God.

6. Full of life, strong.

Psalm 39.

1. This Ps. was written near the close of David's life, when in a series of quiet reflections, he comments on the brevity of life, the vanity of things earthly, and the unsatisfying nature of worldly prosperity.

2. One of David's choristers (I Chr. 16:41, 42).

uprightness. (Is. 57:2.) Then we which are alive and remain shall be caught up together with them in the clouds, to meet the Lord in the air: and so shall we ever be with the Lord. (I Thes. 4:17.)

ff. And they were helped against them, and the Hagarites were delivered into their hand, and all that were with them: for they cried to God in the battle, and he was entreated of them; because they put their trust in him. (I Chr. 5:20.) If it be so, our God whom we serve is able to deliver us from the burning fiery furnace, and he will deliver us out of thine hand, O king. (Dan. 3:17.) Then was the king exceeding glad for him, and commanded that they should take Daniel up out of the den. So Daniel was taken up out of the den, and no manner of hurt was found upon him, because he believed in his God. (Dan. 6:23.) Our fathers trusted in thee: they trusted, and thou didst deliver them. (Ps. 22:4.)

a. And the Lord was angry with Solomon, because his heart was turned from the Lord God of Israel, which had appeared unto him twice. (I Ks. 11:9.) Then said I, Ah, Lord God! behold I cannot speak: for I am a child. (Jer. 1:6.)

b. And by chance there came down a certain priest that way: and when he saw him, he passed by on the other side. (Luke 10:31.) I was a reproach among all mine enemies, but especially among my neighbors, and a fear to mine acquaintance: they that did see me without fled from me. (Ps. 31:11.) My kinsfolk have failed, and my familiar friends have forgotten me. (Job 19:14.)

c. O the hope of Israel, the saviour thereof in time of trouble, why shouldest thou be as a stranger in the land, and as a wayfaring man that turneth aside to tarry for a night? (Jer. 14:8.) All that found them have devoured them: and their adversaries said, We offend not, because they have sinned against the Lord, the habitation of justice, even the Lord, the hope of their fathers. (Jer. 50:7.)

d. I acknowledged my sin unto thee, and mine iniquity have I not hid. I said, I will confess my transgressions unto the Lord; and thou forgavest the iniquity of my sin. Selah. (Ps. 32:5.) He that covereth his sins shall not prosper: but whoso confesseth and forsaketh them shall have mercy. (Prov. 28:13.)

e. Now I rejoice, not that ye were made sorry, but that ye sorrowed to repentance: for ye were made sorry after a godly manner, that ye might receive damage by us in nothing (9). For godly sorrow worketh repentance to salvation not to be repented of: but the sorrow of the world worketh death. (II Cor. 7:9, 10.)

f. And who is he that will harm you, if ye be followers of that which is good? (I Pet. 3:13.) If I have told you earthly things, and ye believe not, how shall ye believe, if I tell you of heavenly things? (Jno. 3:12.)

g. My God, my God, why hast thou forsaken me? why art thou so far from helping me, and from the words of my roaring? (1) Be not far from me; for trouble is near; for there is none to help (11). But be not thou far from me, O Lord: O my strength, haste thee to help me. (Ps. 22:1, 11, 19.) This thou hast seen, O Lord: keep not silence: O Lord, be not far from me. (Ps. 35:22.)

h. The Lord is my strength and song, and he is become my salvation: he is my God, and I will prepare him an habitation; my father's God, and I will exalt him. (Ex. 15:2.) Behold, God is my salvation; I will trust, and not be afraid: for the Lord JEHOVAH is my strength and my song; he also is become my salvation. (Is. 12:2.)

a. That the Lord may continue his word which he spake concerning me, saying, If thy children take heed to their way, to walk before me in truth with all their heart and with all their soul, there shall not fail thee (said he) a man on the throne of Israel. (I Ks. 2:4.) Wherewithal shall a young man cleanse his way? By taking heed thereto according to thy word. (Ps. 119:9.) But Jehu took no heed to walk in the law of the Lord God of Israel with all his heart: for he departed not from the sins of Jeroboam, which made Israel to sin. (II Ks. 10:31.)

b. Keep thy tongue from evil and thy lips from speaking guile. (Ps. 34:13.) But he said unto her, Thou speakest as one of the foolish women speaketh. What! shall we receive good at the hand of God, and shall ye not receive evil? In all this did not Job sin with his lips. (Job 2:10.) Even so the tongue is a little member, and boasteth great things. Behold, how great a matter a little fire kindleth! (5). And the tongue is a fire, a world of iniquity: so is the tongue among our members, that it defileth the whole body, and setteth on fire the course of nature; and it is set on fire of hell (6). For every kind of beasts, and of birds, and of serpents, and of things in the sea, is tamed, and hath been tamed of mankind (7). But the tongue can no man tame; it is an unruly evil, full of deadly poison (8). Therewith bless we God, even the Father; and therewith curse we men, which are made after the similitude of God (9). Out of the same mouth proceedeth blessing and cursing. My brethren, these things ought not so to be (10). Doth a fountain send forth at the same place sweet water and bitter? (11) Can the fig tree, my brethren, bear olive berries? either a vine, figs? so can no fountain both yield salt water and fresh. (Ja. 3:5-12.)

c. Then I said, I will not make mention of him, nor speak any more in his name. But his word was in mine heart as a burning fire shut up in my bones, and I was weary with forbearing, and I could not stay. (Jer. 20:9.) For day and night thy hand was heavy upon me: my moisture is turned into the drought of summer. Selah. (Ps. 32:4.) And they said one to another, Did not our heart burn within us, while he talked with us by the way, and while he opened to us the scriptures? (Luke 24:32.)

d. So teach us to number our days, that we may apply our hearts unto wisdom. (Ps. 90:12.) How many are the days of thy servant? when wilt thou execute judgment on them that persecute me? (Ps. 119:84.) What is my strength, that I should hope? and what is mine end, that I should prolong my life? (Job 6:11.)

handbreadth; and [e]mine age is as nothing before thee: verily every man at his best state is altogether vanity. [4]Sē'lah.

6 Surely every man walketh in a vain shew: surely they are disquieted in vain: he heapeth up riches, and knoweth not who shall gather them.

7 And now, [2]Lord, what wait I for? my hope [f]is in thee.

8 Deliver [g]me from all my transgressions: make me not the reproach of the foolish.

9 I was dumb, I opened not my mouth; because thou didst it.

10 Remove thy stroke away from me: I am consumed by the blow of thine hand.

11 When thou with rebukes [h]dost correct man for iniquity, thou makest his beauty to consume away like a moth: surely every man is vanity. Sē'lah.

12 Hear [i]my prayer, O [2]Lord, and give ear unto my cry; hold not thy peace at my tears: for I am [j]a stranger with thee, and a sojourner, as all my fathers were.

13 O spare me, that I may recover strength, before I go hence, and be no more.

[1]PSALM 40.

1 The benefit of confidence in God. 6 Obedience is the best sacrifice. 11 The sense of David's evils inflameth his prayer.

To the chief Musician, A Psalm of Dā'vid.

1 I waited patiently for the [2]Lord; and he inclined unto me, and heard [a]my cry.

2 He brought me up also out of an horrible pit, out of the miry clay, and set my feet upon a rock, and established my goings.

3 And he hath put a new song in my mouth, even praise unto our God: many shall see it, and [b]fear, and shall trust [c]in the [2]Lord.

4 Blessed is [c]that man that maketh the [2]Lord his trust, and respecteth not the proud, nor such as turn aside to lies.

5 Many, O [2]Lord my God, are thy wonderful works which thou hast done, and thy thoughts which are to us-ward: they cannot be reckoned up in order unto thee: if I would declare and speak of them, they are more than can be numbered.

6 Sacrifice and [d]offering thou didst not desire; mine ears hast thou opened: burnt offering and sin offering hast thou not required.

7 Then said I, Lo, I come: in the volume of the [3]book it is [e]written of me,

8 [f]I delight to do thy will, O my God: yea, thy law is [g]within my heart.

9 I have preached righteousness in the great congregation: lo, I have not refrained my lips, O [2]Lord, [h]thou knowest.

10 [i]I have not hid thy righteousness within my heart; I have declared thy faithfulness and thy salvation: I have not concealed thy lovingkindness and thy truth from the great congregation.

11 [4]Withhold [j]not thou thy tender mercies from me, O [2]Lord: [k]let thy lovingkindness and thy truth continually preserve me.

12 For innumerable evils have compassed me about: mine iniquities have taken hold upon me, so that I am not able to look up; they are more than the hairs of mine head: therefore my heart faileth me.

13 Be pleased, O [2]Lord, to [l]deliver me: O [2]Lord, make haste to help me.

14 Let them be ashamed and [m]confounded together that seek after my soul to destroy it; let them be driven backward and put to shame that wish me evil.

15 Let them be desolate for a reward of their shame that say unto me, Aha, aha.

16 Let all those that seek [n]thee rejoice [o]and

1. This Ps. was written late in David's life, about the close of the time when his many enemies had taken advantage of his sickness to menace the peace of his kingdom. Its subject is confidence in God, its purpose, to show that the best sacrifice which can be offered to Jehovah is service.

2. Jehovah, the covenant-name of God.

3. The law of Moses.

4. Beginning with v. 11 the tone of thanksgiving changes to a prayer and confession of sin.

4. Pause, rest, silence.

Psalm 40.

e. For a thousand years in thy sight are but as yesterday when it is past, and as a watch in the night. (Ps. 90:4.) Remember how short my time is: wherefore hast thou made all men in vain? (Ps. 89:47.)

f. For in thee, O Lord, do I hope: thou wilt hear, O Lord my God. (Ps. 38:15.)

g. Deliver my soul from the sword; my darling from the power of the dog. (Ps. 22:20.) Arise, O Lord, disappoint him, cast him down: deliver my soul from the wicked, which is thy sword. (Ps. 17:13.) Deliver me in thy righteousness, and cause me to escape: incline thine ear unto me, and save me. (Ps. 71:2.) Bow down thine ear to me; deliver me speedily: be thou my strong rock for an house of defence to save me. (Ps. 31:2.)

h. So it shall be a reproach and a taunt, an instruction and an astonishment unto the nations that are round about thee, when I shall execute judgments in thee in anger and in fury and in furious rebukes. I the Lord have spoken it. (Ezek. 5:15.) But was rebuked for his iniquity: the dumb ass speaking with man's voice forbade the madness of the prophet. (II Pet. 2:16.)

i. Hear my prayer, O Lord, and let my cry come unto thee. (Ps. 102:1.) Hear my prayer, O Lord, give ear to my supplications: in thy faithfulness answer me, and in thy righteousness. (Ps. 143:1.) The Lord is nigh unto all them that call upon him, to all that call upon him in truth. (Ps. 145:18.) Let us lift up our heart with our hands unto God in the heavens. (Lam. 3:41.) Ask, and it shall be given you; seek, and ye shall find; knock, and it shall be opened unto you. (Mat. 7:7.)

j. These all died in faith, not having received the promises, but having seen them afar off, and were pursuaded of them, and embraced them, and confessed that they were strangers and pilgrims on the earth. (Heb. 11:13.) I am a stranger in the earth: hide not thy commandments from me. (Ps. 119:19.) Dearly beloved, I beseech you as strangers and pilgrims, abstain from fleshly lusts, which war against the soul. (I Pet. 2:11.)

a. We have sinned against thee, both because we have forsaken our God and have also served Baalim. (Jud. 10:10.) We have sinned because we have forsaken the Lord and have served Baalim and Ashtaroth. (I Sam. 12:10.) The eyes of the Lord are upon the righteous, and his ears are open unto their cry. (Ps. 34:15.)

b. Fear not: for God is come to prove you, and that his fear may be before your faces, that ye sin not. (Ex. 20:20.) The fear of the Lord is the beginning of wisdom: a good understanding have all they that do his commandments. (Ps. 111:10.) Fear God, and keep his commandments: for this is the whole duty of man. (Ecc. 12:13.) That all the people of the earth might know the hand of the Lord, that it is mighty: that ye might fear the Lord your God for ever. (Josh. 4:24.) The fear of the Lord is to hate evil. (Prov. 8:13.) And by the fear of the Lord men depart from evil. (Prov. 16:6.)

c. See 1, Ps. 32.

d. For I desired mercy and not sacrifice; and the knowledge of God more than burnt offerings. (Hos. 6:6.) But go ye and learn what that meaneth, I will have mercy, and not sacrifice: for I am not come to call the righteous, but sinners to repentance. (Mat. 9:13.) Sacrifice and offering thou wouldest not, but a body hast thou prepared me (5): In burnt offerings and sacrifices for sin thou hast had no pleasure. (Heb. 10:5, 6.)

e. These are the words which I spake unto you, while I was yet with you, that all things must be fulfilled which were written in the law of Moses, and in the prophets, and in the Psalms concerning me. (Luke 24:44.) Search the scriptures; for in them ye think ye have eternal life: and they are they which testify of me. (Jno. 5:39.)

f. My meat is to do the will of him that sent me, and to finish his work. (Jno. 4:34.) For I delight in the law of God after the inward man. (Rom. 7:22.)

g. The law of his God is in his heart; none of his steps shall slide. (Ps. 37:31.) Forasmuch as ye are manifestly declared to be the epistle of Christ ministered by us, written not with ink, but with the Spirit of the living God; not in tables of stone, but in fleshy tables of the heart. (II Cor. 3:3.)

h. Thou knowest my down-sitting and mine up-rising, thou understandest my thought afar off (2). For there is not the word in my tongue but, lo, O Lord, thou knowest it altogether. (Ps. 139:2, 4.) The Lord God of gods, the Lord God of gods, he knoweth, and Israel he shall know. (Josh. 22:22.)

i. And how I kept back nothing that was profitable unto you, but have shown you, and have taught you publicly, and from house to house (20). For I have not shunned to declare unto you all the counsel of God. (Acts 20:20, 27.)

j. See i, Ps. 33.

k. O send out thy light and thy truth: let them lead me; let them bring me unto thy holy hill, and to thy tabernacles. (Ps. 43:3.) He shall send from heaven and save me from the reproach of him that would swallow me up. Selah. God shall send forth his mercy and his truth. (Ps. 57:3.) O prepare mercy and truth, which may preserve him. (Ps. 61:7.) Mercy and truth preserve the king. (Prov. 20:28.)

l. Deliver my soul from the sword; my darling from the power of the dog. (Ps. 22:20.) Arise, O Lord, disappoint him, cast him down: deliver my soul from the wicked, which is thy sword. (Ps. 17:13.) Deliver me in thy righteousness, and cause me to escape: incline thine ear unto me, and save me. (Ps. 71:2.) Bow down thine ear to me; deliver me speedily: be thou my strong rock, for an house of defence to save me. (Ps. 31:2.)

m. Let them be confounded and put to shame that seek after my soul: let them be turned back and brought to confusion that devise my hurt (4). Let them be ashamed and brought to confusion together that rejoice at mine hurt: let them be clothed with shame and dishonor that magnify themselves against me. (Ps. 35:4, 26.) Let them be ashamed and confounded that seek after my soul: let them be turned backward, and put to confusion that desire my hurt. (Ps. 70:2.) Let them be confounded and consumed that are adversaries to my soul; let them be covered with reproach and dishonor that seek my hurt. (Ps. 71:13.)

o. Be glad in the Lord, and rejoice, ye righteous: and shout for joy, all ye that are upright in heart. (Ps. 32:11.) Finally, my brethren, rejoice in the Lord. To write the same things to you, to me indeed is not grievous, but for you, it is safe. (Phil. 3:1.) Rejoice in the Lord alway: and again I say, Rejoice. (Phil. 4:4.) Rejoice in the Lord, O ye righteous: for praise is comely for the upright (1). For the word of the Lord is right; and all his works are done in truth. (Ps. 33:1, 4.)

1 David's zeal to serve God in the temple.

To the chief Musician, [2]Măs'chĭl, for the sons of Kō'rah.

1 As the hart panteth after the water brooks, so panteth [a]my soul after thee, O God.

2 My [b]soul thirsteth for God, for [c]the living God: when shall I come and appear before God?

3 My tears have been my meat day and night, while they continually say unto me, Where [d]is thy God?

4 When I remember these things, [e]I pour out my soul in me: for I had gone with the multitude, I went with them to the house of God, with the voice of joy and praise, with a multitude that kept holyday.

5 Why art thou cast down, O my soul? and why art thou disquieted in me? [f]hope thou in God: for I shall yet praise him for the help of his countenance.

6 O my God, my soul is cast down within me: therefore will I remember thee from the

He hath put forth his hands against such as be at peace with him: he hath broken his covenant. (Ps. 55:12, 13, 20.) My kinsfolk have failed, and my familiar friends have forgotten me (14). All my inward friends abhorred me: and they whom I loved are turned against me. (Job 19:14, 19.) For I heard the defaming of many, fear on every side. Report, say they, and we will report it. And it shall come to pass, that in the place where it was said unto them, Ye are not my people; there shall they be called the children of the living God. (Rom. 9:26.)

d. Wherefore should the heathen say, Where is now their God? (Ps. 115:2.) Let the priests, the ministers of the Lord, weep between the porch and the altar, and let them say, Spare thy people, O Lord, and give not thine heritage to reproach, that the heathen should rule over them: wherefore should they say among the people, Where is their God? 7 Deep [g]calleth unto deep at the noise of thy waterspouts: [h]all thy waves and thy billows are gone over me.

8 Yet the [3]Lord will [i]command his loving-kindness in the daytime, and in the night his song shall be with me, and my prayer unto the God of my life.

9 I will say unto God [j]my rock, Why hast thou forgotten me? why go I mourning because of the oppression of the enemy?

10 As with a sword in my bones, mine enemies reproach me; while they say daily unto me, Where is thy God?

11 Why art thou cast down, O my soul? and why art thou disquieted within me? hope thou in God: for I shall yet praise him, who is the health of my countenance, and my God.

1 David promiseth to serve God joyfully. 5 He encourageth his soul to trust in God.

1 Judge [a]me, O [2]God, and plead my cause against an ungodly nation: O [b]deliver me from the [3]deceitful and unjust man.

2 For thou art the God of [c]my strength: why dost thou cast me off? why go I mourning because of the oppression of the enemy?

3 O send out thy light and thy truth: let them lead me; let them bring me unto thy holy hill, and to thy tabernacles.

4 Then will I go unto the altar of God, unto God my exceeding joy: yea, upon the harp will I praise thee, O God my God.

[1]PSALM 44.

1 The church, in memory of former favours, 7 complaineth of their present evils.

To the [2]chief Musician for the sons of Kō'rah, Măs'chĭl.

1 We have heard with our ears, O God, our fathers have told us, what work thou didst in their days, in the times of old.

2 How thou didst drive [3]out the heathen with thy hand, and plantedst them; how thou didst afflict the people, and cast them out.

3 For they got not the land in possession by their own sword, neither did their own arm save them: but thy right hand, and thine arm, and the light of thy countenance, because thou hadst a favour unto them.

4 Thou art my King, O God: command deliverances for Jā'cob.

5 Through thee [a]will we push down our enemies: through thy name will we tread them under that rise up against us.

6 For [b]I will not trust in my bow, neither shall my sword save me.

7 But thou hast saved us from our enemies, and hast put them to shame that hated us.

8 In [c]God we boast all the day long, and praise thy name for ever. [4]Sē'lah.

9 [5]But thou hast cast off, and [d]put us to shame; and goest not forth with our armies.

10 Thou makest us to [e]turn back from the enemy: and they which hate us spoil for themselves.

11 Thou hast given us like sheep appointed for meat; and hast [f]scattered us among the heathen.

12 Thou sellest [g]thy people for nought, and dost not increase thy wealth by their price.

13 Thou makest us a [h]reproach to our neighbours, a scorn and a [i]derision to them that are round about us.

14 Thou makest us a [j]byword among the heathen, a shaking of the head among the people.

15 My confusion is continually before me, and the shame of my face hath covered me,

And the anger of the Lord was hot against Israel, and he delivered them into the hands of spoilers that spoiled them, and he sold them into the hands of their enemies round about, so that they could not any longer stand before their enemies. (Jud. 2:14.)

h. We are become a reproach to our neighbors, a scorn and derision to them that are round about us. (Ps. 79:4.) All that pass by the way spoil him: he is a reproach to his neighbors. (Ps. 89:41.)

i. Thou makest us a strife unto our neighbors: and our enemies laugh among themselves. (Ps. 80:6.) Thus saith the Lord God; Thou shalt drink of thy sister's cup deep and large: thou shalt be laughed to scorn and had in derision; it containeth much. (Ezek. 23:32.)

j. He hath made me also a byword of the people; and aforetime I was as a tabret. (Job 17:6.) And I will deliver them to be removed into all the kingdoms of the earth for their hurt, to be a reproach and a proverb, a taunt and a curse, in all places whither I shall drive them. (Jer. 24:9.)

16 For the voice of him that reproacheth and blasphemeth; by reason of the enemy and avenger.

17 All [k]this is come upon us; yet have [l]we not forgotten thee, neither have we dealt falsely in thy covenant.

18 Our heart is not turned back, neither have our steps declined from thy way;

19 Though thou hast sore broken us in the place of dragons, and covered us with the shadow of death.

20 If we have [l]forgotten the name of our God, or stretched out our hands to a strange god;

21 Shall not [m]God search this out? for he knoweth the secrets of the heart.

22 Yea, for thy sake are we killed all the day long; we are counted as sheep for the slaughter.

23 Awake, why sleepest thou, O Lord? arise, cast us not off for ever.

24 Wherefore hidest thou thy face, and forgettest our affliction and our oppression?

25 For our soul is bowed down to the dust: our belly cleaveth unto the earth.

26 Arise for our help, and redeem us for thy mercies' sake.

1 The majesty and grace of Christ's kingdom.
10 The duty of the church, and the benefits thereof.

To the chief Musician upon Sho-shăn'nim, for the sons of Kō'rah, Măs'chĭl, A Song of [2]loves.

1 My heart is inditing a good matter: I speak of the things which I have made touching the king: my tongue is the pen of a ready writer.

2 Thou art fairer than the children of men: grace is poured into thy lips: therefore [3]God hath blessed thee for ever.

3 Gird thy sword upon thy thigh, O most mighty, with thy glory and thy majesty.

4 And in thy majesty ride prosperously because of truth and meekness and righteousness; and thy right hand shall teach thee terrible things.

5 Thine [a]arrows are sharp in the heart of the king's enemies; whereby the people fall under thee.

6 Thy [b]throne, O God, is for ever and ever: the sceptre of thy kingdom is a [c]right sceptre.

7 Thou lovest [d]righteousness, and hatest wickedness: therefore God, [e]thy God, hath anointed thee with the oil of gladness above thy [4]fellows.

8 All thy garments smell of myrrh, and aloes, and cassia, out of the ivory palaces, whereby they have made thee glad.

9 Kings' daughters were among thy honourable women: upon thy right hand did stand the queen in gold of Ō'phĭr.

10 [5]Hearken, O daughter, and consider, and incline thine ear; forget also thine own people, and thy father's house;

11 So shall the king greatly desire thy beauty: for he is thy [6]Lord; and worship thou him.

12 And the daughter of Tȳre shall be there with a gift; even the rich among the people shall intreat thy favour.

13 The [f]king's daughter is all glorious within: her clothing is of wrought gold.

14 She shall be brought unto the king in raiment of needlework: the virgins her companions that follow her shall be brought unto thee.

15 With gladness and rejoicing shall they be brought: they shall enter into the king's palace.

16 Instead of thy fathers shall be thy children, [g]whom thou mayest make princes in all the earth.

17 [h]I will make thy name to be remembered in all generations: therefore shall the people praise thee for [7]ever and ever.

I the Lord search the heart, I try the reins, even to give every man according to his ways, and according to the fruit of his doings. (Jer. 17:10.) And thou, Solomon my son, know thou the God of thy father, and serve him with a perfect heart and with a willing mind: for the Lord searcheth all hearts, and understandeth all the imaginations of the thoughts: if thou seek him, he will be found of thee; but if thou forsake him, he will cast thee off for ever. [1]PSALM 48.

The ornaments and privileges of the church.

A Song and Psalm for the sons of Kō'rah.

1 Great is the [2]Lord, and [a]greatly to be praised in the city of our God, in the mountain of his holiness.

2 Beautiful for situation, the joy of the [3]whole earth, is mount Zī'ŏn, on the sides of the north, the city of the great King.

3 God [b]is known in her palaces for a refuge.

4 For, lo, the kings were assembled, they passed by together.

5 They saw it, and so they marvelled; they were troubled, and hasted away.

6 Fear took hold upon them there, and pain, as of a woman in travail.

7 Thou breakest the [4]ships of Tär'shish with an east wind.

8 As we have heard, so have we seen in the city of the [2]Lord of hosts, in the city of our God: God will [c]establish it for ever. [5]Sē'lah.

9 We have thought of thy lovingkindness, O God, in the midst of thy temple.

10 According to [d]thy name, O God, so is thy praise unto the ends of the earth: thy right hand is full of righteousness.

11 Let mount Zī'ŏn rejoice, let the daughters of Jū'dah be glad, because of thy judgments.

12 Walk about Zī'ŏn, and go round about her: tell the towers thereof.

13 Mark ye well her bulwarks, consider her palaces; that ye may tell it to the generation following.

14 For [e]this God is our God for ever and ever: he will be our [f]guide even unto death.

An earnest persuasion to build the faith of resurrection, not on worldly power, but on God.

my words; and my Father will love him and we will come unto him and make our abode with him. (Jno. 14:23.) Draw nigh to God and he will drew nigh to you. (Ja. 4:8.) For what nation is there so great, who hath God so nigh unto them, as the Lord our God is in all things that we call upon him for? (Dt. 4:7.)

c. Yea, though I walk through the valley of the shadow of death, I will fear no evil: for thou art with me; thy rod and thy staff they comfort me. (Ps. 23:4.) When thou passest through the waters I will be with thee; and through the rivers, they shall not overflow thee; when thou walkest through the fire, thou shalt not be burned; neither shall the flame kindle upon thee. (Is. 43:2.)

d. For the Lord thy God walketh in the midst of thy camp to deliver thee, and to give up thine enemies before thee; therefore shall thy camp be holy: that he see no unclean thing in thee, and turn away from thee. (Jer. 25:30.) And the Lord shall utter his voice before his army; for his camp is very great: for he is strong that executeth his word. (Joel 2:11.)

f. And the Lord of hosts is he that toucheth the land, and it shall melt, and all that dwell therein shall mourn; and it shall rise up wholly like a flood, and shall be drowned as by the flood of Egypt. (Amos 9:5.) And the mountains shall be molten under him, and the valleys shall be cleft, as wax before the fire, and as waters that are poured down a steep place. (Mic. 1:4.) The mountains quake at him and the hills melt, and the earth is burned at his presence, yea, the world, and all that dwell therein. (Nah. 1:5.)

b. Thou hast said in thine heart, I will ascend into heaven, I will exalt my throne above the stars of God: I will sit also upon the mount of the congregation, in the sides of the north. (Is. 14:13.) To an inheritance incorruptible, and undefiled, and that fadeth not away, reserved in heaven for you. (I Pet. 1:4.)

c. And the Lord shall be King over all the earth: in that day shall there be one Lord and his name one. (Zech. 14:9.)

a. The Lord is great and greatly to be praised: he is to be feared above all gods. (Ps. 96:4.) Great is the Lord and greatly to be praised; and his greatness is unsearchable. (Ps. 145:3.) For great is the Lord and greatly to be praised; he also is to be feared above all gods. (I Chr. 16:25.)

b. Rest in the Lord, and wait patiently for him; fret not thyself because of him who prospereth in his way, because of the man who bringeth wicked devices to pass. (Ps. 37:7.) The Lord of hosts is with us; the God of Jacob is our refuge: Selah. (Ps. 46:7.)

To the chief Musician, A Psalm for the sons of Kō'rah.

1 Hear [a]this, all ye people; give ear, all ye inhabitants of the world:
2 Both low and high, rich and poor, together.
3 My mouth shall speak of wisdom; and the meditation [b]of my heart shall be of understanding.
4 I will incline mine ear to a [2]parable: I will open my dark [3]saying upon the harp.
5 Wherefore should I [c]fear in the days of evil, when the iniquity of my heels shall compass me about?
6 They that [d]trust in their wealth, and boast themselves in the multitude of their riches;
7 None of them can by any means redeem his brother, nor [e]give to God a ransom for him:
8 (For [f]the [4]redemption of their soul is precious, and it [5]ceaseth for ever:)
9 That he should still live for ever, and not see corruption.
10 For he seeth that wise men die, likewise the fool and the brutish person perish, and leave their [g]wealth to others.
11 Their inward thought is, that their houses shall continue for ever, and their dwelling places to all generations; they call their lands after their own names.
12 Nevertheless man being in honour abideth not: he is like the beasts that perish.
13 This their way is their folly: yet their posterity approve their sayings. [6]Sē'lah.
14 Like sheep they are laid in the grave; death shall feed on them; and [h]the upright shall have dominion over them in the morning; and their beauty shall consume in the grave from their dwelling.
15 But God [i]will redeem my soul from the power of the grave: for he shall [j]receive me. Sē'lah.
16 Be not thou afraid when one is made rich, when the glory of his house is increased;
17 For when he dieth he shall carry nothing away: his glory shall not descend after him.
18 Though while he lived he blessed his soul: and men will praise thee, when thou doest well to thyself.
19 He shall go to the generation of his fathers; they shall never see light.
20 Man that is in honour, and understandeth not, is like the beasts that perish.

1 The majesty of God in the church. 7 The pleasure of God is not in ceremonies, 14 but in obedience.

A Psalm of [2]Ā'saph.

1 The mighty God, even the [3]Lord, hath spoken, and called the earth from the rising of the sun unto the going down thereof.
2 Out of Zī'ŏn, the [a]perfection of beauty, God hath shined.
3 Our God shall come, and shall not keep silence: a fire shall devour before him, and it shall be very tempestuous round about him.
4 He [b]shall call to the heavens from above, and to the earth, that he may judge his people.
5 Gather [c]my saints together unto me; those that have made a covenant [d]with me by sacrifice.
6 And the heavens [e]shall declare his righteousness: for God is [f]judge himself. Sē'lah.
7 Hear, O my people, and I will speak; O Īs'ra-el, and I will [4]testify against thee: I am God, even thy God.
8 I [h]will not reprove [g]thee for thy sacrifices or thy burnt offerings, to have been continually before me.
9 I will take no bullock out of thy house, nor he goats out of thy folds.
10 For every beast of the forest is mine, and the cattle upon a thousand hills.
11 I know all the fowls of the mountains: and the wild beasts of the field are mine.

1. This Ps. was written at a time when the people of God were longing for the riches of this world and envious of the prosperity of the wicked. Its subject is, God the judge of the righteous and the wicked.

a. Give ear, O my people, to my law: incline your ears to the words of my mouth. (Ps. 78:1.) Hear, O heavens, and give ear, O earth. (Is. 1:2.) Hear, all ye people; hearken, O earth, and all that therein is. (Mic. 1:2.)

b. Let the words of my mouth, and the meditation of my heart, be acceptable in thy sight, O Lord, my strength and my redeemer. (Ps. 19:14.)

d. If I have made gold my hope, or have said to the fine gold, Thou art my confidence (24). This also were an iniquity to be punished by the judge: for I should have denied the God that is above. (Job 31:24, 28.) Lo, this is the man that made not God his strength; but trusted in the abundance of his riches, and strengthened himself in his wickedness. (Ps. 52:7.) He that trusteth in his riches shall fall. (Prov. 11:28.) Children, how hard is it for them that trust in riches to enter into the kingdom of God! (Mk. 10:24.)

Because there is wrath, beware lest he take thee away with his stroke: then a great ransom cannot deliver thee (18). Will he esteem thy riches? no, not gold, nor all the forces of strength. (Job 36:18-19).

f. Because there is wrath, beware lest he take thee away with his stroke: then a great ransom cannot deliver thee. (Job 36:18.)

But God said unto him, Thou fool, this night thy soul shall be required of thee: then whose shall those things be which thou hast provided? (Luke 12:20.)

h. And ye shall tread down the wicked; for they shall be ashes under the soles of your feet in the day that I shall do this, saith the Lord of hosts. (Mal. 4:3.) That ye may eat and drink at my table in my kingdom, and sit on thrones judging the twelve tribes of Israel. (Luke 22:30.) Do ye not know that the saints shall judge the world? and if the world shall be judged by you, are ye unworthy to judge the smallest matters? (I Cor. 6:2.) And he that overcometh and keepeth my works unto the end, to him will I give power over the nations. (Rev. 2:26.)

j. Thou wilt show me the path of life; in thy presence is fulness of joy; at thy right hand there are pleasures for evermore. (Ps. 16:11.) Thou shalt guide me with thy counsel, and afterward receive me to glory. (Ps. 73:24.) And Enoch walked with God: and he was not; for God took him. (Gen. 5:24.)

a. Beautiful for situation, the joy of the whole earth, is mount Zion, on the sides of the north, the city of the great King. (Ps. 48:2.) They hiss and wag their head at the daughter of Jerusalem, saying, Is this the city that men call The perfection of beauty, The joy of the whole earth? (Lam. 2:15.)

b. Hear, ye, O mountains, the Lord's controversy, and ye strong foundations of the earth: for the Lord hath a controversy with his people, and he will plead with Israel. (Mic. 6:2.) I call heaven and earth to witness against you this day, that ye shall soon utterly perish from off the land whereunto ye go over Jordan to possess it; ye shall not prolong your days upon it, but shall utterly be destroyed. (Dt. 4:26.) Hear, O heavens, and give ear, O earth: for the Lord hath spoken, I have nourished and brought up children, and they have rebelled against me. (Is. 1:2.)

c. I have commanded my sanctified ones, I have also called my mighty ones for mine anger, even them that rejoice in my highness. (Is. 13:3.) Sing unto the Lord, O ye saints of his, and give thanks at the remembrance of his holiness. (Ps. 30:4.) For the Lord loveth judgment, and forsaketh not his saints; they are preserved for ever: but the seed of the wicked shall be cut off. (Ps. 37:28.)

d. All the paths of the Lord are mercy and truth unto such as keep his covenant and his testimonies. (Ps. 25:10.) And he took the book of the covenant, and read in the audience of the people, and they said, All that the Lord hath said will we do, and be obedient. (Ex. 24:7.) And in it have I put the ark, wherein is the covenant of the Lord, that he made with the children of Israel. (II Chr. 6:11.)

e. And the heavens shall praise thy wonders, O Lord; thy faithfulness also in the congregation of the saints. (Ps. 89:5.) The heavens declare his righteousness, and all the people see his glory. (Ps. 97:6.)

f. See c, Ps. 45.

g. Sacrifice and offering thou didst not desire; mine ears hast thou opened: burnt offering and sin offering hast thou not required. (Ps. 40:6.) For thou desirest not sacrifice, else would I give it; thou delightest not in burnt offering. (Ps. 51:16.) To what purpose is the multitude of your sacrifices unto me? saith the Lord; I am full of the burnt offerings of rams, and the fat of fed beasts; and I delight not in the blood of bullocks, or of lambs, or of he-goats. (Is. 1:11.)

h. Will the Lord be pleased with thousands of rams, or with ten thousands of rivers of oil? shall I give my first-born for my transgression, the fruit of my body for the sin of my soul? (Mic. 6:7.) Neither is worshipped with men's hands, as though he needed any thing, seeing he giveth to all life, and breath, and all things. (Acts 17:25.)

12 If I were hungry, I would not tell thee: for the world is mine, and the fulness thereof.
13 Will I eat the flesh of bulls, or drink the blood of goats?
14 [i]Offer unto God thanksgiving; and pay thy vows unto the most High:
15 And [j]call upon me in the day of trouble: I will [k]deliver thee, and thou shalt [l]glorify me.
16 But unto the [m]wicked God saith, What hast thou to do to declare my statutes, or that thou shouldest take my covenant in thy mouth?
17 Seeing [n]thou hatest [5]instruction, and castest my [6]words behind thee.
18 When thou sawest a thief, then thou consentedst with [o]him, and hast been partaker with adulterers.
19 Thou givest thy mouth to evil, and thy [p]tongue frameth deceit.
20 Thou sittest and [q]speakest against thy brother; thou slanderest thine own mother's son.
21 These things hast thou done, and [r]I kept silence; thou [s]thoughtest that I was altogether such an one as thyself: but I will reprove thee, and set them in order before thine eyes.
22 Now consider this, ye that [s]forget God, lest I tear you in pieces, and there be none to deliver.
23 Whoso offereth praise glorifieth me: and to him that ordereth his conversation aright will I shew the salvation of God.

1 David prayeth for remission of sins, 6 and for sanctification.

To the chief Musician, A Psalm of Dā'vid, when Nā'than the prophet came unto him, after he had [2]gone in to Băth'-shĕ-bà.

1 Have mercy [a]upon me, O God, according to thy lovingkindness: according unto the multitude of thy tender mercies [b]blot out my transgressions.
2 Wash [c]me thoroughly from mine iniquity, and cleanse [d]me from my sin.
3 For [e]I acknowledge my transgressions: and [3]my sin is ever before me.
4 Against [f]thee, thee only, have I sinned, and done this evil [g]in thy sight: [h]that thou mightest be justified when thou speakest, and be clear when thou judgest.
5 Behold, [i]I was [5]shapen in iniquity; and in sin did my mother conceive me.
6 Behold, thou desirest truth [j]in the [6]inward parts: and in the hidden [6]part thou shalt make me [k]to know wisdom.
7 Purge me with [l]hyssop, and I shall be clean: wash me, and I shall be whiter than snow.

Psalm 51.

1. This is a penitential Ps. of the highest order and was written on the occasion of David's confession of his sins.

2. About one year after. (II Sam. 12:14)—"How be it because by this deed thou hast given great occasion to the enemies of the Lord to blaspheme, the child also that is born unto thee, shall surely die."

3. The plural is used, illustrating "Each single sin is the mother of many." David had committed adultery, which caused him to bring about the death of Uriah, used deceit to cover his sin, dishonor his family, weaken his kingdom, break the seventh commandment.

4. Lit., his sin against humanity was a sin against God.

5. Born with a sinful nature.

6. Lit., the inner man, as in Luke 11:39, "And the Lord said unto him, now do ye Pharisees make clean the outside of the cup and the platter; but your inward part is full of ravening and wickedness."

j. Thou shalt make thy prayer unto him, and he shall hear thee, and thou shalt pay thy vows. (Job 22:27.) He shall call upon me, and I will answer him: I will be with him in trouble; I will deliver him and honor him. (Ps. 91:15.) Then they cried unto the Lord in their trouble, and he delivered them out of their distresses (6). Then they cried unto the Lord in their trouble, and he saved them out of their distresses. (Ps. 107:6, 13.) They shall call on my name and I will hear them. (Zech. 13:9.)

k. See r, Ps. 34.

l. Ye that fear the Lord, praise him; all ye the seed of Jacob, glorify him; and fear him, all ye the seed of Israel. (Ps. 22:23.)

m. Tribulation and anguish, upon every soul of man that doeth evil, of the Jew first, and also of the Gentile. (Rom. 2:9.) Their sorrows shall be multiplied that hasten after another god. (Ps. 16:4.) Many sorrows shall be to the wicked. (Ps. 32:10.) For, lo, they that are far from thee shall perish. (Ps. 73:27.) Evil pursueth sinners. (Prov. 13:21.)

n. Thou therefore which teachest another, teachest thou not thyself? thou that preachest a man should not steal, dost thou steal? (21). Thou that sayest a man should not commit adultery, dost thou comm't adultery? thou that abhorrest idols, dost thou commit sacrilege? (Rom. 2:21, 22.) How have I hated instruction, and my heart despised reproof. (Prov. 5:12.) Whoso loveth instruction loveth knowledge, but he that hateth reproof is brutish. (Prov. 12:1).

o. Who knowing the judgment of God that they which commit such things are worthy of death, not only do the same, but have pleasure in them that do them. (Rom. 1:32.)

p. The words of his mouth are iniquity and deceit. (Ps. 36:3.) Thy tongue deviseth mischiefs: like a sharp razor, working deceitfully. (Ps. 52:2.)

q. Yea, young children despise me; I arose, and they spake against me. (Job 19:18.) And the brother shall deliver up the brother to death, and the father the child: and the children shall rise up against their parents, and cause them to be put to death. (Mat. 10:21.)

r. Because sentence against an evil work is not executed speedily, therefore the heart of the sons of men is fully set in them to do evil. (Ecc. 8:11.) I have long time holden my peace; I have been still and refrained myself: now will I cry like a travailing woman; I will destroy and devour at once. (Is. 42:14.) Have not I held my peace even of old, and thou fearest me not? (Is. 57:11.)

s. So are the paths of all that forget God; and the hypocrite's hope shall perish. (Job 8:13.) For he breaketh me with a tempest, and multiplieth my wounds without cause. (Job 9:17.)

a. The Lord, The Lord God, merciful and gracious, long-suffering, and abundant in goodness and truth. (Ex. 34:6.) Hear me when I call, O God of my righteousness: thou hast enlarged me when I was in distress; have mercy upon me and hear my prayer. (Ps. 4:1.) With the merciful thou wilt show thyself merciful. (Ps. 18:25.) And I will not cause mine anger to fall upon you: for I am merciful, saith the Lord, and I will not keep anger for ever. (Jer. 3:12.) Be ye therefore merciful as your Father also is merciful. (Luke 6:36.) God be merciful to me a sinner. (Luke 18:13.) Turn unto me according to the multitude of thy tender mercies. (Ps. 69:16.) And he remembered for them his covenant, and repented according to the multitude of his mercies. (Ps. 106:45.) Be merciful unto me, O God, be merciful unto me; for my soul trusteth in thee. (Ps. 57:1.)

b. Blotting out the handwriting of ordinances, that was against us, which was contrary to us, and took it out of the way, nailing it to his cross. (Col. 2:14.) I, even I, am he that blotteth out thy transgressions for mine own sake, and will not remember thy sins. (Is. 43:25.) I have blotted out, as a thick cloud, thy transgressions, and as a cloud thy sins: return unto me; for I have redeemed thee. (Is. 44:22.) Repent ye therefore, and be converted, that your sins may be blotted out, when the times of refreshing shall come from the presence of the Lord. (Acts 3:19.) See vs. 9, 10.

c. How much more shall the blood of Christ, who through the eternal Spirit offered himself without spot to God, purge your conscience from dead works to serve the living God. (Heb. 9:14.) But if we walk in the light as he is in the light, we have fellowship one with another, and the blood of Jesus Christ his Son cleanseth us from all sin. (I Jno. 1:7.) Unto him that loved us, and washed us from our sins in his own blood. (Rev. 1:5.) Wash you, make you clean; put away the evil of your doings from before mine eyes; cease to do evil. (Is. 1:16.) When the Lord shall have washed away the filth of the daughters of Zion, and shall have purged the blood of Jerusalem from the midst thereof by the spirit of judgment, and by the spirit of burning. (Is. 4:4.) O Jerusalem, wash thine heart from wickedness, that thou mayest be saved. (Jer. 4:14.) Arise, and be baptized, and wash away thy sins, calling on the name of the Lord. (Acts 22:16.)

d. And I will cleanse them from all their iniquity, whereby they have sinned against me; and I will pardon all their iniquities, whereby they have sinned, and whereby they have transgressed against me. (Jer. 33:8.) In the day that I shall have cleansed you from all your iniquities, I will also cause you to dwell in the cities, and the wastes shall be builded. (Ezek. 36:33.) How much more shall the blood of Christ, who through the eternal Spirit offered himself without spot to God, purge your conscience from dead works to serve the living God! (Heb. 9:14.) But if we walk in the light, as he is in the light, we have fellowship one with another, and the blood of Jesus Christ his Son cleanseth us from all sin (7). If we say that we have no sin, we deceive ourselves, and the truth is not in us (8). If we confess our sins he is faithful and just to forgive us our sins, and to cleanse us from all unrighteousness. (I Jno. 1:7-9.)

e. I acknowledged my sin unto thee, and mine iniquity have I not hid. I said, I will confess my transgressions unto the Lord, and thou forgavest the iniquity of my sin. Selah. (Ps. 32:5.) For our transgressions are multiplied before thee, and our sins testify against us: for our transgressions are with us; and as for our iniquities, we know them. (Is. 59:12.)

f. Lord, be merciful unto me: heal my soul; for I have sinned against thee. (Ps. 41:4.) Yea, I know that thou didst this in the integrity of thy heart; for I also withheld thee from sinning against me. (Gen. 20:6.) There is none greater in this house than I; neither hath he kept back any thing from me but thee, because thou art his wife: how then can I do this great wickedness, and sin against God? (Gen. 39:9.) I have sinned against the Lord. And Nathan said unto David, The Lord hath also put away thy sin; thou shalt not die. (II Sam. 12:13.)

g. Father, I have sinned against Heaven, and in thy sight, and am no more worthy to be called thy son. (Luke 15:21.)

h. God forbid: yea, let God be true, but every man a liar; as it is written, That thou mightest be justified in thy sayings, and mightest overcome when thou art judged. (Rom. 3:4.)

i. Who can bring a clean thing out of an unclean? not one. (Job 14:4.) The wicked are estranged from the womb: they go astray as soon as they be born, speaking lies. (Ps. 58:3.) Yea, thou castest off fear, and restrainest prayer before God. (Job 15:4.) Among whom also we all had our conversation in times past in the lusts of our flesh, fulfilling the desires of the flesh and of the mind; and were by nature the children of wrath, even as others. (Eph. 2:3.)

j. He that walketh uprightly, and worketh righteousness, and speaketh the truth in his heart. (Ps. 15:2.) Who hath put wisdom in the inward parts? or who hath given understanding to the heart? (Job 38:36.)

k. For the Lord giveth wisdom: out of his mouth cometh knowledge and understanding. (Prov. 2:6.) For God giveth to a man that is good in his sight wisdom, and knowledge, and joy. (Ecc. 2:26.) If any of you lack wisdom let him ask of God, that giveth to all men liberally, and upbraideth not; and it shall be given him. (Js. 1:5.)

l. And ye shall take a bunch of hyssop, and dip it in the blood that is in the basin, and strike the lintel and the two side posts with the blood that is in the basin; and none of you shall go out at the door of his house until the morning. (Ex. 12:22.) For when Moses had spoken every precept to all the people according to the law, he took the blood of calves and of goats, with water, and scarlet wool, and hyssop, and sprinkled both the book and all the people. (Heb. 9:19.)

8 Make me to hear joy [m]and gladness; that the bones which thou hast broken may rejoice.
9 Hide thy face from my sins, and blot out all mine iniquities.
10 Create [7]in [n]me a clean heart, O God; and renew a right [8]spirit within me.
11 Cast [o]me not away from thy presence; and take not thy [9]holy spirit from me.
12 Restore unto me the joy of thy salvation; and uphold me with thy [q]free spirit.
13 Then will I teach transgressors thy ways; and sinners shall be converted unto thee.
14 Deliver me from [9]bloodguiltiness, O God, thou God of my salvation: and my tongue shall sing aloud of thy righteousness.
15 O Lord, open thou [10]my lips; and my mouth shall shew forth thy praise.
16 For thou desirest not sacrifice; else would I give it: thou delightest not in burnt offering.
17 The sacrifices of God are a broken spirit: a broken and a contrite heart, O God, thou wilt not despise.
18 Do good in thy [11]good pleasure unto Zĭ'ŏn: build thou the walls of Je-ru'sa-lĕm.
19 Then shalt thou be pleased with [r]the sacrifices of righteousness, with burnt offering and whole burnt offering: then shall they offer bullocks upon thine altar.

David prophesieth the destruction of Doeg.

To the chief Musician, Măs'chĭl, A Psalm of Dā'vid, when [2]Dō'eg the Ē'dom-īte came and told Saul, and said unto him, Dā'vid is come to the house of A-hĭm'e-lĕch.

1 Why boastest thou [3]thyself in mischief, O [4]mighty man? the goodness of God endureth continually.
2 Thy [a]tongue deviseth mischiefs; like a sharp razor, working deceitfully.
3 Thou lovest evil more than good; and lying [b]rather than to speak righteousness. [5]Sē'lah.
4 Thou lovest all devouring words, O thou deceitful tongue.
5 God shall likewise destroy thee for ever, he shall take thee away, and pluck thee out of thy dwelling place, and root thee out of the land of the living. [5]Sē'lah.
6 The [c]righteous also shall see, and fear, and shall laugh at him:
7 Lo, this is the man that made not God his strength; but trusted in the abundance of his riches, and strengthened himself in his wickedness.
8 But I am like a [6]green olive tree in the house of God: [d]I trust in the mercy of [e]God for ever and ever.
9 I will praise thee for ever, because thou hast done it: and I will wait on thy name; for it is good before thy saints.

David describeth the corruption of a natural man, 4 and convinceth the wicked by the light of their conscience.

To the chief Musician upon Mā'ha-lath, Măs'chĭl, A Psalm of Dā'vid.

1 The [a]fool hath said in his heart, There is no God. Corrupt are they, and have done abominable iniquity: [b]there is none that doeth good.
2 God looked down from heaven upon the children of men, to see if there were any that did understand, that did [c]seek God.
3 Every [d]one of them is gone back: they are altogether become filthy; there is none that doeth good, no, not one.
4 Have the workers of iniquity [e]no knowledge? who eat up my people as they eat bread: they have not called upon God.
5 There were they in great [f]fear, where no fear was: for God hath scattered the bones of him that encampeth against thee: thou hast put them to shame, because God hath despised them.
6 Oh that the salvation of Ĭs'ra-el were come out of Zĭ'ŏn! When God bringeth back the captivity of his people, Jā'cob shall rejoice, and Ĭs'ra-el shall be glad.

David prayeth for salvation.

To the chief Musician on Nĕg'ĭ-nŏth, Măs'chĭl, A Psalm of Dā'vid, when the Zĭph'ĭms came and said to Saul, Doth not Dā'vid hide himself with us?

1 Save me, O God, [2]by thy name, and judge me by thy strength.
2 Hear my prayer, O God; give ear to the words of my mouth.
3 For strangers are risen up against me, and oppressors seek after my soul: they have not set God before them. [3]Sē'lah.
4 [4]Behold, God is mine helper: the Lord [a]is with them that uphold my soul.
5 He shall reward [5]evil unto mine enemies: cut them off in thy truth.

David complaineth of his fearful case.

To the chief Musician on Nĕg'ĭ-nŏth, Măs'chīl, A Psalm of Dā'vid.

1 Give ear [a]to my prayer, O God; and hide not thyself from my supplication.

2 Attend unto me, [b]and hear me: I [2]mourn in my complaint, and make a noise;

3 Because of the voice of the enemy, because of the oppression of the wicked: for they cast iniquity upon me, and in wrath they hate me.

4 [c]My heart is sore pained within me: and the terrors of [d]death are fallen upon me.

5 Fearfulness and trembling are come upon me, and horror hath [e]overwhelmed me.

6 And I said, Oh that I had wings like a dove! for then would I fly away, and be at rest.

7 Lo, then would I wander far off, [3]and remain in the wilderness. [4]Sē'lah.

8 I would hasten my escape from the windy storm and tempest.

9 Destroy, O [5]Lord, and divide their tongues: for I have seen violence and strife in the city.

10 Day and night they go about it upon the walls thereof: mischief also and sorrow are in the midst of it.

11 Wickedness is in the midst thereof: deceit and guile depart not from her streets.

12 For it was not an enemy that reproached me; then I could have borne it: neither was it he that hated me that did magnify himself against me; then I would have hid myself from him:

13 But it was thou, a man mine equal, my [f]guide, and mine acquaintance.

2. The original "Maroon" here translated as a title of deity is given that meaning nowhere else in the scripture. Elsewhere it means high place, as in Is. 22:16. The meaning is that David's enemies are of the nobles, those high places.

14 We took sweet counsel together, and walked unto the house of God in company.

15 Let death seize upon them, and let them [g]go down quick into hell: for wickedness is in their dwellings, and among them.

16 As for me, I will call upon God; and the [5]Lord shall save me.

17 Evening, [h]and morning, and at noon, will I pray, and cry aloud: and he shall hear my voice.

18 He hath delivered my soul in peace from the battle that was against me: for [i]there were many with me.

19 God shall hear, and afflict them, [j]even he that abideth of old. Sē'lah. Because they have no changes, therefore they [k]fear not God.

20 He hath put forth his hands against such as be at peace with him: he hath broken his covenant.

21 The words [l]of his mouth were smoother than butter, but war was in his heart: his words were [l]softer than oil, yet were they drawn swords.

22 Cast thy [m]burden upon the [5]Lord, and he shall sustain thee: [n]he shall never suffer the righteous to be moved.

23 But thou, O God, shalt bring them down into the pit of [o]destruction: bloody and deceitful men shall not live out half their days; but I will [p]trust in thee.

To the chief Musician upon Jō'nath-ē'lem-rechō'kim, Mĭch'tam of Dā'vid, when the Phĭlĭs'tĭnes took him in Găth.

1 Be [a]merciful unto me, O God: for man would swallow [b]me up; he fighting daily oppresseth me.

3 What [c]time I am afraid, I will trust in thee.

And lead us not into temptation, but deliver us from evil. (Mat. 6:13.) Him, being delivered by the determinate counsel and foreknowledge of God, ye have taken, and by wicked hands have crucified and slain. (Acts 2:23.) What shall we then say to these things? If God be for us, who can be against us? (Rom. 8:31.) There is no wisdom nor understanding nor counsel against the Lord. (Prov. 21:30.) Thou shalt compass me about with songs of deliverance. Selah. 6 They gather themselves together, they hide themselves, they mark my steps, when they wait for my soul.
7 Shall they escape [e]by iniquity? in thine anger cast down the people, O God.
8 Thou tellest my wanderings: put thou my tears into thy [3]bottle: [f]are they not in thy book?
9 When I cry unto thee, then shall mine enemies turn back: this I know; for [g]God is for me.
10 In God will I praise his word: in the Lord will I praise his word.
11 In God have I put [d]my trust: I will not be afraid what man can do unto me.

[1]PSALM 57.

David complaineth of his dangerous case.

To the chief Musician, Al-tăs'chith, Mĭch'tam of Dā'vid, when he fled from Saul in the cave.

1 Be merciful [a]unto me, O God, be merciful unto me: for my soul trusteth [b]in thee: yea, in the shadow of thy wings will I make my refuge, until these calamities be overpast.
2 I will cry unto God most high; unto God [c]that performeth all things for me.
3 He [d]shall send [2]from heaven, and save me from the reproach of him that would swallow me up. [3]Sē'lah. God [e]shall send forth his mercy and his truth.
4 My soul is among [4]lions: and I lie even among them that are set on [5]fire, even the sons of men, whose teeth are spears and arrows, and their [f]tongue a sharp sword.
5 Be thou [g]exalted, O God, above the heavens; let thy glory be above all the earth.
6 They have prepared a net for my steps; my soul is bowed down: they have digged a pit before me, into the midst whereof they are fallen themselves. [3]Sē'lah.
7 [h]My heart is fixed, O God, my heart is fixed: I will sing and give praise.
8 Awake up, my glory; awake, psaltery and harp: I myself will awake early.
9 I will praise thee, O Lord, among the people: I will sing unto thee among the nations.
10 For [i]thy mercy is great unto the heavens, and thy truth unto the clouds.
11 Be thou exalted, O God, above the heavens: let thy glory be above all the earth.

David reproveth wicked judges. 3 He describeth the nature of the wicked, 6 devoteth them to God's judgments.

To the chief Musician, Al-tăs'chith, Mĭch'tam of Dā'vid.

1 Do ye indeed speak righteousness, O congregation? do ye judge uprightly, O ye sons of men?
2 Yea, in heart ye work wickedness; [a]ye weigh the violence of your hands in the earth.
3 The wicked are [b]estranged from the womb: they go astray as soon as they be born, speaking lies.
4 Their poison is [c]like the poison of a serpent: they are like the deaf [2]adder that stoppeth her ear;
5 Which will not hearken to the voice of charmers, charming never so wisely.
6 Break their teeth, O God, in their mouth: break out the great teeth of the young lions, O [3]Lord.
7 Let them [d]melt away as waters which run

David prayeth to be delivered from his enemies.

To the chief Musician, Āl-tăs'chith, Mĭch'tam of Dā'vid; when Saul sent, and they watched the house to kill him.

1 Deliver [a]me from mine enemies, O my God: defend me from them that rise up against me.

2 Deliver [a]me from the workers of iniquity, and save me from bloody men.

3 For, lo, they lie in [3]wait for my soul: the mighty are gathered against me; [b]not for my transgressions, nor for my sin, O [2]Lord.

4 They run and prepare themselves without my fault: awake to help me, and behold.

5 Thou therefore, O [2]Lord God of hosts, the God of Ĭs'ra-el, [c]awake to visit all the heathen: be not merciful to any wicked transgressors. Sē'lah.

6 They return at evening: they make a noise like a dog, and go round about the city.

7 Behold, they [d]belch out with their mouth: swords are in their lips: for who, [e]say they, doth hear?

8 But thou, O [2]Lord, shalt laugh at them; thou shalt have all the heathen in derision.

9 Because of his strength will I wait upon thee: for God is my defence.

10 The God of my mercy shall prevent me: God shall let me see my desire upon mine enemies.

11 Slay them not, lest my people forget: scatter [f]them by thy power; and bring them down, O [2]Lord our [g]shield.

12 For the sin of their mouth and the words of their lips let them even be taken in their pride: and for cursing and lying which they speak.

13 Consume them in wrath, consume them, that they may not be: and let them know that God ruleth in Jā'cob unto the ends of the earth. [4]Sē'lah.

14 And at evening let them return; and let them make a noise like a dog, and go round about the city.

15 Let them [5]wander up and down for meat, and grudge if they be not satisfied.

16 But I will sing of thy power; yea, I will sing aloud of thy mercy in the morning: for thou hast been my defence and [g]refuge in the day of my trouble.

17 Unto thee, O my strength, will I sing: for God is my [g]defence, and the God [h]of my mercy.

David complaining to God of former judgment.

To the chief Musician upon Shu'shan-ē'duth, Mĭch'tam of Dā'vid, to teach; when he strove with Ā'ram-nā-ha-rā'im and with Ā'ram-zō'bah, when Jō'ăb returned, and smote of Ē'dom in the valley of salt twelve thousand.

1 O God, thou hast cast us off, thou hast scattered us, thou hast been [a]displeased; O turn thyself to us again.

2 Thou hast made the earth to tremble; thou hast broken it: heal the [b]breaches thereof; for it shaketh.

3 Thou [c]hast shewed thy people hard things:

faint, and every man's heart shall melt. (Is. 13:7.) For the tidings; because it cometh: and every heart shall melt, and all hands shall be feeble, and every spirit shall faint, and all knees shall be weak as water. (Ez. 21:7.)

e. Or as an hidden untimely birth I had not been; as infants which never saw light. (Job 3:16.) If a man beget an hundred children and live many years, so that the days of his years be many, and his soul be not filled with good, and also that he have no burial; I say, that an untimely birth is better than he. (Ecc. 6:3.)

f. So persecute them with thy tempest, and make them afraid with thy storm. (Ps. 83:15.) The east wind carrieth him away and he departeth; and as a storm hurleth him out of his place. (Job 27:21.) As the whirlwind passeth so is the wicked no more: but the righteous is an everlasting foundation. (Prov. 10:25.)

g. The righteous shall be glad in the Lord and shall trust in him; and all the upright in heart shall glory. (Ps. 64:10.) Be glad in the Lord and rejoice, ye righteous; and shout for joy all ye that are upright in heart. (Ps. 32:11.) The righteous shall see it and rejoice. (Ps. 107:42.) The righteous see it and are glad. (Job 22:19.)

h. Only with thine eyes shalt thou behold and see the reward of the wicked. (Ps. 91:8.) Rejoice, O ye nations, with his people: for he will avenge the blood of his servants, and will render vengeance to his adversaries, and will be merciful unto his land, and to his people. (Dt. 32:43.) But, O Lord of hosts, that judgest righteously, that triest the reins and the heart, let me see thy vengeance on them; for unto thee have I revealed my cause. (Jer. 11:20.)

i. The Lord rewarded me according to my righteousness; according to the cleanness of my hands hath he recompensed me. (Ps. 18:20.) Moreover by them is thy servant warned: and in keeping of them there is great reward. (Ps. 19:11.) Say ye to the righteous that it shall be well with him: for they shall eat the fruit of their doings. (Is. 3:10.) Rejoice ye in that day and leap for joy: for behold, your reward is great in heaven (23). But love ye your enemies, and do good, and lend, hoping for nothing again; and your reward shall be great, and ye shall be the children of the Highest. (Luke 6:23, 35.) See Rom. 2:6-11.

j. Say among the heathen that the Lord reigneth: the world also shall be established that it shall not be moved: he shall judge the people righteously. (Ps. 96:10.) And he shall judge the world in righteousness, he shall minister judgment to the people in uprightness. (Ps. 9:8.) For thou shalt judge the people righteously, and govern the nations upon earth. Selah. (Ps. 67:4.) But God is the judge: he putteth down one and setteth up another. (Ps. 75:7.) Lift up thyself, thou Judge of the earth; render a reward to the proud. (Ps. 94:2.)

And lead us not into temptation, but deliver us from evil: For thine is the kingdom, and the power, and the glory, for ever. Amen. (Mat. 6:13.) Thou shalt compass me about with songs of deliverance. Selah. (Ps. 32:7.)

b. Wherefore doth my Lord thus pursue after his servant? for what have I done? or what evil is in mine hand? (I Sam. 26:18.) O Lord my God, if I have done this; if there be iniquity in my hands (3); If I have rewarded evil unto him that was at peace with me; (yea I have delivered him that without cause is mine enemy.) (Ps. 7:3, 4.) They that hate me without a cause are more than the hairs of mine head: they that would destroy me, being mine enemies wrongfully, are mighty: then I restored that which I took not away. (Ps. 69:4.)

c. (Dan. 4:35.) They are dead, they shall not live; they are deceased, they shall not rise; therefore hast thou visited and destroyed them, and made all their memory to perish. (Is. 26:14.)

d. How long shall they utter and speak hard things? and all the workers of iniquity boast themselves? (Ps. 94:4.) 5 That thy beloved [g]may be delivered; save with thy right hand, and hear me.

6 God hath spoken in his holiness; I will rejoice, I will divide [3]Shĕ'chem, and mete out the valley of [4]Sŭc'coth.

7 Gĭl'e-ăd is mine, and Ma-năs'seh is mine; Ē'phră-ĭm also is the strength of mine head; [h]Jū'dah is my lawgiver;

8 Mō'ab [i]is my washpot; over Ē'dom will I cast out my shoe: Phĭ-lĭs'tĭa, triumph thou because of me.

9 Who will bring me into the [5]strong city? who will lead me into Ē'dom?

10 Wilt not thou, O God, which hadst cast us off? and thou, O God, which didst not go out with our armies?

11 Give us help [j]from trouble: for vain is the help of man.

12 Through God [k]we shall do [5]valiantly: for he it is that shall tread down our enemies.

3 For thou hast been a shelter for me, and [d]a strong tower from the enemy.

4 I will abide in [e]thy tabernacle for ever: I will [f]trust in the [2]covert of thy wings. [3]Sĕ'lah.

5 For thou, O God, hast heard my vows: thou hast given me the [g]heritage of those that [h]fear thy name.

6 Thou wilt prolong the king's life: and his years as many generations.

7 He shall abide before God for ever: O prepare mercy and truth, which may preserve him.

8 So will I sing [i]praise unto thy name for ever, that I may daily perform my vows.

with their mouth, but they curse inwardly. Sē'lah.

5 My soul, wait thou [d]only upon God; for my expectation is from him.

6 He only [b]is my rock and my salvation: he is my defence; I shall not be moved.

7 In God is [a]my salvation and my glory: the rock of my strength, and my refuge, is in God.

8 Trust [c]in him at all times; ye people, pour [f]out your heart before him: God is a refuge for us. [3]Sē'lah.

9 Surely men of low degree are [g]vanity, and men of high degree are a lie: to be laid in the balance, they are altogether lighter [4]than vanity.

10 Trust [h]not in oppression, and become not vain in robbery: [i]if riches increase, set not your heart upon them.

11 God hath [j]spoken once; twice have I heard this; that [k]power belongeth unto God.

12 Also unto thee, [l]O Lord, belongeth mercy: for [m]thou renderest to every man according to his work.

1 David's thirst for God. 9 His confidence of his enemies' destruction.

A Psalm of Dā'vid, when he was in the wilderness of Jū'dah.

1 O God, thou art my God; early will [a]I seek thee: my soul thirsteth for thee, my flesh longeth for thee in a dry and thirsty land, where no water is;

2 To see thy power and thy glory, so as I have seen thee in the sanctuary.

3 Because [b]thy lovingkindness is better than life, my lips shall praise thee.

4 Thus will I bless [c]thee while I live: I will lift up my hands in thy name.

3. Pause, silence, rest.

4. An estimate of man after sin has corrupted him.

1. This Ps. was written on the occasion of Saul's persecution of David. Its subject is a prayer for deliverance from secret enemies.

2. Complaint. (R. V.)

5 My soul shall be satisfied as with marrow and fatness; and my mouth shall praise thee with joyful lips:

6 When I remember thee upon my bed, and meditate [d]on thee in the night watches.

7 Because thou hast been [e]my help, therefore in the shadow of thy [2]wings will I rejoice.

8 My soul followeth [f]hard after thee: thy right hand upholdeth me.

9 But those that seek my soul, to destroy it, shall go into the lower parts of the earth.

10 They shall fall [3]by the sword: they shall be a portion for foxes.

11 But the king shall rejoice in God; every one [g]that sweareth by him shall glory: but the [h]mouth of them that speak lies shall be stopped.

[1]PSALM 64.

David prayeth for deliverance.

To the chief Musician, A Psalm of Dā'vid.

1 Hear my voice, O God, in [a]my [2]prayer: preserve my life from fear of the enemy.

2 Hide me [b]from the secret counsel of the wicked; from the insurrection of the workers of iniquity:

3 Who whet their tongue [c]like a sword, and bend their bows to shoot their arrows, even bitter words:

4 That they may shoot in secret [d]at the perfect: suddenly do they shoot at him, and fear not.

5 They encourage themselves in an evil matter: they commune of laying snares privily; they say, Who shall see them?

6 They search out iniquities; they accomplish a diligent search: both the inward thought of every one of them, and the heart, is deep.

e. See f, Ps. 61.

f. No, my lord; I am a woman of a sorrowful spirit, I have drunk neither wine nor strong drink, but have poured out my soul before the Lord. (I Sam. 1:15.) When I remember these things I pour out my soul in me. (Ps. 42:4.) Trust in him at all times; ye people, pour out your heart before him. (Ps. 62:8.)

g. Behold, thou hast made my ways as an hand breadth; and mine age is as nothing before thee; verily every man at his best state is altogether vanity. Selah. (Ps. 39:5.) All nations before him are as nothing; and they are counted to him less than nothing, and vanity. (Is. 40:17.)

h. Trust ye in the Lord for ever: for in the Lord JEHOVAH is everlasting strength. (Is. 26:4.)

i. Take heed, and beware of covetousness: for a man's life consisteth not in the abundance of the things which he possesseth. (Luke 12:15.) They that trust in their wealth, and boast themselves in the multitude of their riches. (Ps. 49:6.) Lo, this is the man that made not God his strength; but trusted in the abundance of his riches, and strengthened himself in his wickedness. (Ps. 52:7.) If I rejoiced because my wealth was great, and because mine hand had gotten much. (Job 31:25.) Children, how hard is it for them that trust in riches to enter into the kingdom of God! (Mk. 10:24.)

j. For God speaketh once, yea twice, yet man perceiveth it not. (Job 33:14.) Once have I spoken; but I will not answer; yea, twice; but I will proceed no further. (Job. 40:5.)

k. Alleluia; Salvation, and glory, and honor, and power, unto the Lord our God. (Rev. 19:1.) Thine, O Lord, is the greatness, and the power, and the glory, and the victory, and the majesty: for all that is in the heaven and in the earth is thine; thine is the kingdom, O Lord, and thou art exalted as head above all. (I Chr. 29:11.)

l. For thou, Lord, art good, and ready to forgive; and plenteous in mercy unto all them that call upon thee. (Ps. 86:5.) For he is gracious and merciful, slow to anger, and of great kindness, and repenteth him of the evil. (Joel 2:13.) The Lord is merciful and gracious, slow to anger, and plenteous in mercy. (Ps. 103:8.) Let Israel hope in the Lord: for with the Lord there is mercy, and with him is plenteous redemption. (Ps. 130:7.)

m. And if ye call on the Father, who without respect of persons judgeth according to every man's work, pass the time of your sojourning here in fear. (I Pet. 1:17.) For God shall bring every work into judgment, with every secret thing, whether it be good, or whether it be evil. (Ecc. 12:14.) And, behold, I come quickly; and my reward is with me, to give every man according as his work shall be. (Rev. 22:12.) Wherefore, if meat make my brother to offend, I will eat no flesh while the world standeth, lest I make my brother to offend. (I Cor. 8:13.) I will recompense, saith the Lord. And again, The Lord shall judge his people. (Heb. 10:30.)

a. Ask, and it shall be given you; seek, and ye shall find; knock, and it shall be opened unto you. (Mat. 7:7.) For thou, Lord, hast not forsaken them that seek thee. (Ps. 9:10.) The Lord is with you, while ye be with him; and if ye seek him, he will be found of you; but if ye forsake him, he will forsake you. (II Chr. 15:2.) Seek the Lord and his strength, seek his face continually. (I Chr. 16:11.) I sought the Lord, and he heard me, and delivered me from all my fears. (Ps. 34:4.)

b. For God so loved the world, that he gave his only begotten Son, that whosoever believeth in him should not perish, but have everlasting life. (Jno. 3:16.) Hear me, O Lord; for thy loving-kindness is good; turn unto me according to the multitude of thy tender mercies. (Ps. 69:16.) But God commendeth his love toward us, in that, while we were yet sinners, Christ died for us. (Rom. 5:8.)

c. I will sing unto the Lord as long as I live; I will sing praise to my God while I have my being. (Ps. 104:33.) While I live will I praise the Lord; I will sing praises unto my God while I have any being. (Ps. 146:2.)

d. I will bless the Lord, who hath given me counsel; my reins also instruct me in the night seasons. (Ps. 16:7.) Yet the Lord will command his loving-kindness in the day time, and in the night his song shall be with me, and my prayer unto the God of my life. (Ps. 42:8.) I have remembered thy name, O Lord, in the night, and have kept thy law. (Ps. 119:55.)

e. Who delivered us from so great a death, and doth deliver: in whom we trust that he will yet deliver us. (II Cor. 1:10.) The Lord knoweth how to deliver the godly out of temptations, and to reserve the unjust unto the day of judgment to be punished. (II Pet. 2:9.)

f. With my soul have I desired thee in the night; yea, with my spirit within me will I seek thee early: for when thy judgments are in the earth, the inhabitants of the world will learn righteousness. (Is. 26:9.)

g. Thou shalt fear the Lord thy God, and serve him, and shalt swear by his name. (Dt. 6:13.) I have sworn by myself, the word is gone out of my mouth in righteousness, and shall not return, That unto me every knee shall bow, every tongue shall swear. (Is. 45:23.) And he that sweareth in the earth shall swear by the God of truth. (Is. 65:16.)

h. So the poor hath hope, and iniquity stoppeth her mouth. (Job 5:16.) And all iniquity shall stop her mouth. (Ps. 107:42.) That every mouth may be stopped, and all the world may become guilty before God. (Rom. 3:19.)

a. See a, Ps. 61.

b. Deliver me, O Lord, from mine enemies: I flee unto thee to hide me. (Ps. 143:9.)

c. My soul is among lions: and I lie even among them that are set on fire, even the sons of men, whose teeth are spears and arrows, and their tongue a sharp sword. (Ps. 57:4.) They have sharpened their tongues like a serpent; adders' poison is under their lips. Selah. (Ps. 140:3.)

d. He sitteth in the lurking places of the villages: in the secret places doth he murder the innocent: his eyes are privily set against the poor. (Ps. 10:8.) For lo, the wicked bend their bow, they make ready their arrow upon the string, that they may privily shoot at the upright in heart. (Ps. 11:2.)

7 But God [3]shall [e]shoot at them with an arrow; suddenly shall they be wounded.
8 So [f]they shall make their own tongue to fall upon themselves: all that see them shall flee away.
9 And all men shall [g]fear, and shall declare the work of God; for they shall wisely consider of his doing.
10 The righteous [h]shall be glad in the [4]Lord, and shall trust [i]in him; and all the upright in heart shall glory.

[1]PSALM 65.

1 David praiseth God for his grace. 4 The blessedness of God's chosen by reason of benefits.

To the chief Musician, A Psalm and Song of Dā'vid.

1 Praise waiteth for thee, O God, in Sī'ŏn: and unto thee shall the vow be performed:
2 O thou [a]that hearest prayer, [b]unto thee shall all flesh come.
3 Iniquities prevail against me: as for our transgressions, thou shalt purge [c]them away.
4 Blessed [d]is the man whom thou choosest, and causest to approach unto thee, that he may dwell in thy courts: we shall be satisfied with the goodness of thy house, even of thy holy temple.
5 By [e]terrible things in righteousness wilt thou answer us, O God of our salvation; who art the confidence of all the ends of the earth, and of them that are afar off upon the sea:
6 Which by his strength setteth fast the mountains; being girded with power:
7 Which [f]stilleth the noise of the seas, the noise of their waves, and the tumult of the people.
8 They also that dwell in the uttermost parts are afraid at [2]thy tokens: thou makest the outgoings of the morning and evening to rejoice.
9 Thou visitest the earth, and waterest it: thou greatly enrichest it with the river of God, which is full of water: thou preparest them corn, when thou hast so provided for it.
10 Thou waterest the ridges thereof abundantly: thou settlest the furrows thereof: thou makest it soft with showers: thou blessest the springing thereof.
11 Thou crownest the year with thy goodness; and thy [g]paths drop fatness.
12 They drop upon the pastures of the wilderness: and the little hills rejoice on every side.

2 Sing forth the honour of his name: make his praise glorious.
3 Say unto God, How terrible art thou in thy works! [b]through the greatness of thy power shall thine enemies submit themselves unto thee.

7 He ruleth by his power for ever; his [g]eyes behold the nations: let not the rebellious exalt themselves. Sē'lah.
8 O bless our God, ye people, and make the voice of his praise to be heard:
9 Which holdeth [h]our soul in life, and suffereth not our feet to be moved.
10 For thou, O God, hast proved us: [i]thou hast tried us, as silver is tried.

(Ps. 145:18.) Let us lift up our heart with our hands unto God in the heavens. (Lam. 3:41.) Ask, and it shall be given you; seek, and ye shall find; knock, and it shall be opened unto you: For every one that asketh receiveth; and he that seeketh findeth; and to him that knocketh it shall be opened. (I Jno. 2:1, 2.)

g. The Lord is in his holy temple, the Lord's throne is in heaven: his eyes behold, his eyelids try, the children of men. (Ps. 11:4.)

11 Thou broughtest us into the net; thou laidst affliction upon our loins.
12 Thou hast caused men to ride over our heads; we went through fire and through water: but thou broughtest us out into a wealthy place.
13 I will go into thy house with burnt offerings: [j]I will pay thee my vows, 14 Which my lips have uttered, and my mouth hath spoken, when I was in trouble.
15 I will offer unto thee burnt sacrifices of fatlings, with the incense of rams; I will offer bullocks with goats. Sē'lah.
16 Come and hear, all ye that [k]fear God, and I will declare what he hath done for my soul.
17 I cried unto him with my mouth, and he was extolled with my tongue.
18 [l]If I regard iniquity in my heart, the [3]Lord will not hear me:
19 But verily God [m]hath heard me; he hath attended to the voice of my prayer.
20 Blessed be God, which hath not turned away my prayer, nor his mercy [n]from me.

[1]PSALM 68.

A prayer at the removing of the ark.

To the chief Musician, A Psalm or Song of Dā'vid.

1 Let God arise, let his enemies be scattered: let them also that hate him flee before him.
2 As smoke is driven away, so drive them away: as wax melteth before the fire, [a]so let the wicked perish at the presence of God.
3 But let the righteous [b]be glad; let them rejoice before God: yea, let them exceedingly rejoice.
4 Sing unto God, sing praises to his name: extol him that rideth upon the heavens by his name [2]JAH, and rejoice before him.
5 A father [c]of the fatherless, and a judge of the widows, is God in his holy habitation.
6 God setteth the solitary in families: he bringeth [d]out those which are bound with chains: but the rebellious dwell in a dry land.
7 O God, when thou wentest forth before thy people, when thou didst march through the wilderness; [3]Sē'lah:
8 The earth [e]shook, the heavens also dropped at the presence of God: even Sī'nāi itself was moved at the presence of God, the God of Ĭs'ra-el.
9 Thou, O God, didst send a [f]plentiful rain, whereby thou didst confirm thine inheritance, when it was weary.
10 Thy congregation hath dwelt therein: thou, O God, [g]hast prepared of thy goodness for the poor.

the righteous God trieth the hearts and reins. (Ps. 7:9.) Behold, I have refined thee, but not with silver; I have chosen thee in the furnace of affliction. (Is. 48:10.)

k. See f, Ps. 60.

l. If iniquity be in thine hand, put it far away, and let not wickedness dwell in thy tabernacles (14). For then shalt thou lift up thy face without spot; yea, thou shalt be stedfast, and shalt not fear. (Job 11:14, 15.) The Lord is far from the wicked: but he heareth the prayer of the righteous. (Prov. 15:29.) And when ye spread forth your hands, I will hide mine eyes from you: yea, when ye make many prayers, I will not hear: your hands are full of blood. (Is. 1:15.) Ye ask, and receive not, because ye ask amiss, that ye may consume it upon your lusts. (Ja. 4:3.)

m. And the children of Israel cried unto the Lord, saying, We have sinned against thee, both because we have forsaken our God, and also served Baalim. (Jud. 10:10.) (I Sam. 12:10.) They cried unto thee, and were delivered: they trusted in thee, and were not confounded. (Ps. 22:5.) Nevertheless he regarded their affliction, when he heard their cry. (Ps. 106:44.) Then they cry unto the Lord in their trouble, and he saveth them out of their distresses. (Ps. 107:19.)

(Jer. 3:12.) Be ye therefore merciful, as your Father also is merciful. (Luke 6:36.) 13 Though ye have lien among the pots, yet shall ye be as the wings of a dove covered with silver, and her feathers with yellow gold.
14 When the Almighty scattered kings in it, it was white [5]as snow in Săl'mŏn.
15 The hill of God is as the hill of Bā'shăn; an high hill as the hill of Bā'shăn.
16 Why leap ye, ye high hills? this is the hill which God desireth to dwell in; yea, the [4]Lord will dwell in it for ever.
17 The chariots [h]of God are twenty thousand, even [6]thousands of angels: the [4]Lord is among them, as in Sī'nāi, in the holy place.
18 Thou [i]hast ascended on high, thou hast led captivity [7]captive: thou hast received gifts for men; yea, for the rebellious also, that the [4]Lord God might dwell among them.
19 Blessed be the [4]Lord, who daily loadeth us with benefits, even the God of our salvation. [3]Sē'lah.
20 He that is our God is the God of salvation; and [j]unto God the [4]Lord belong the issues from death.
21 But God shall wound the head of his enemies, and the hairy scalp of such an one as goeth on still in his trespasses.
22 The [4]Lord said, I will bring again from Bā'shăn, I will bring my people again from the depths of the sea:
23 That thy foot may be dipped in the blood of thine enemies, and the tongue of thy dogs in the same.
24 They have seen thy goings, O God; even the goings of my God, my King, in the sanctuary.
25 The singers went before, the players on instruments followed after; among them were the damsels playing with timbrels.
26 Bless ye God in the congregations, even the [4]Lord, from the fountain of Īs'ra-el.
27 There is little Bĕn'ja-min with their ruler, the princes of Jū'dah and their council, the princes of Zĕb'u-lun, and the princes of Năph'ta-lī.

34 Ascribe ye strength unto God: his excellency is over Īs'ra-el, and his strength is in the clouds.
35 O God, thou art terrible out of thy holy places: the God of Īs'ra-el is he [m]that giveth strength and power unto his people. Blessed be God.

To the chief Musician upon Sho-shăn'nim, A Psalm of Dā'vid.

1 Save me, O God; for [a]the [2]waters are come in unto my soul.
2 I sink in deep mire, where there is no standing: I am come into deep waters, where the floods overflow me.
3 I am weary of my crying: my throat is dried: mine eyes fail while I wait for my God.
4 They that [b]hate me without a cause are more than the hairs of mine head: they that would destroy me, being mine enemies wrongfully, are mighty: then I restored that which I took not away.
5 O God, thou knowest my foolishness; and my sins are not hid from thee.
6 Let not them that wait on thee, O [3]Lord God of hosts, be [c]ashamed for my sake: let not those that seek thee be confounded for my sake, O God of Īs'ra-el.
7 Because for thy sake I have borne reproach; shame hath covered my face.
8 I [d]am become a stranger unto my brethren, and an alien unto my mother's children.
9 For the zeal of thine house hath eaten me up; and the reproaches of them that reproached thee are fallen upon me.
10 When I wept, and chastened my soul with fasting, that was to my reproach.
11 I made sackcloth also my garment; and [e]I became a proverb to them.
12 They that sit in the gate speak against me; and I was the song of the drunkards.
13 But as for me, my prayer is unto thee, O [3]Lord, [f]in an acceptable time: O God, in the

d. He is despised and rejected of men; a man of sorrows, and acquainted with grief: and we hid as it were our faces from him; he was despised, and we esteemed him not. (Is. 53:3.) He came unto his own, and his own received him not. (Jno. 1:11.) For neither did his brethren believe in him. (Jno. 7:5.)

e. And I will deliver them to be removed into all the kingdoms of the earth for their hurt, to be a reproach and a proverb, a taunt and a curse, in all places whither I shall drive them. (Jer. 24:9.)

f. Seek ye the Lord while he may be found, call ye upon him while he is near. (Is. 55:6.) (For he saith, I have heard thee in a time accepted, and in the day of salvation have I succored thee: behold, now is the accepted time; behold, now is the day of salvation.) (II Cor. 6:2.) The Lord is nigh unto all them that call upon him, to all that call upon multitude of thy [g]mercy hear me, in the truth of thy salvation.

14 Deliver [h]me out of the mire, and let me not sink: let me be delivered from them that hate me, and out of the deep waters.

15 Let not the waterflood overflow me, neither let the deep swallow me up, and let not the pit shut her mouth upon me.

16 Hear me, O [3]Lord; for thy lovingkindness is good: turn unto me according to the [g]multitude of thy tender mercies.

17 And hide not thy face from thy servant; for I am in trouble: hear me speedily.

18 Draw nigh unto my soul, and redeem it: [h]deliver me because of mine enemies.

19 Thou hast known [i]my reproach, and my shame, and my dishonour: mine adversaries are all before thee.

20 Reproach hath broken my heart; and I am full of heaviness: and I looked for some to take pity, but there was none; and for comforters, but I found none.

21 They gave me also [4]gall for my meat; [j]and in my thirst they gave me vinegar to drink.

22 Let their table become a snare before them: and that which should have been for their welfare, let it become a trap.

23 Let their eyes be darkened, that they see not; and make their loins continually to shake.

24 Pour out thine indignation upon them, and let thy wrathful anger take hold of them.

25 Let their habitation be desolate; and let none dwell in their tents.

26 For they persecute [k]him whom thou hast smitten; and they talk to the grief of those whom thou hast wounded.

27 Add iniquity unto their iniquity: and let them not come into thy righteousness.

28 Let them [l]be blotted out of the book of the living, [m]and not be written with the righteous.

29 But I am poor and sorrowful: let thy salvation, O God, set me up on high.

34 Let the heaven and earth praise him, the seas, and every thing that moveth therein.

35 For [o]God will save Zī'ŏn, and will build the cities of Jū'dah: that they may dwell there, and have it in possession.

1 Make [a]haste, O God, [b]to deliver me; make haste to help me, O [2]Lord.

2 Let them [c]be ashamed and confounded that seek after my soul: let them be turned backward, and put to confusion, that desire my hurt.

3 Let them be turned back for a reward of their shame that say, [3]Aha, aha.

4 Let [d]all those that seek thee rejoice and be glad in thee: and let such as love thy salvation say continually, Let God be magnified.

5 But I am poor and needy: make [a]haste unto me, O God: thou art my help and my deliverer; O [2]Lord, make no tarrying.

1 David prayeth both for himself and against the enemies of his soul, 17 and for perseverance. 19 He praiseth God.

him in truth. (Ps. 145:18.) Let us lift up our heart with our hands unto God in the heavens. (Lam. 3:41.) Ask, and it shall be given you; seek, and ye shall find; knock, and it shall be opened unto you (7). For every one that asketh receiveth; and he that seeketh findeth; and to him that knocketh it shall be opened. (Mat. 7:7, 8.)

g. See a, Ps. 67.

h. Deliver my soul from the sword; my darling from the power of the dog. (Ps. 22:20.) Thou hast proved mine heart; thou hast visited me in the night; thou hast tried me, and shalt find nothing; I am purposed that my mouth shall not transgress. (Ps. 17:3.) Deliver me in thy righteousness, and cause me to escape: incline thine ear unto me, and save me. (Ps. 71:2.) Bow down thine ear to me; deliver me speedily: be thou my strong rock, for an house of defence to save me. (Ps. 31:2.)

i. But I am a worm, and no man; a reproach of men, and despised of the people. (Ps. 22:6.) Looking unto Jesus the author and finisher of our faith; who for the joy that was set before him endured the cross, despising the shame, and is set down at the right hand of the throne of God. (Heb. 12:2.) I looked on my right hand, and beheld, but there was no man that would know me: refuge failed me; no man cared for my soul (4). I cried unto thee, O Lord: I said, Thou art my refuge and my portion in the land of the living. (Ps. 142:4, 5.)

j. They gave him vinegar to drink mingled with gall: and when he had tasted thereof, he would not drink (34). And they gave him to drink wine mingled with myrrh: but he received it not. (Mark 15:23.) After this, Jesus knowing that all things were now accomplished, that the scripture might be fulfilled, saith, I thirst (28). Now there was set a vessel full of vinegar: and they filled a sponge with vinegar, and put it upon hyssop, and put it to his mouth (29). When Jesus therefore had received the vinegar, he said, It is finished; and he bowed his head, and gave up the ghost. (Jno. 19:28-30.)

k. Surely he hath borne our griefs, and carried our sorrows: yet we did esteem him stricken, smitten of God, and afflicted. (Is. 53:4.)

l. Yet now, if thou wilt forgive their sin; and if not, blot me, I pray thee, out of thy book which thou hast written. (Ex. 32:32.) He that overcometh, the same shall be clothed in white raiment; and I will not blot out his name out of the book of life, but I will confess his name before my Father, and before his angels. (Rev. 3:5.)

m. Notwithstanding in this rejoice not, that the spirits are subject unto you; but rather rejoice, because your names are written in heaven (Luke 10:20.) To the general assembly and church of the first-born, which are written in heaven, and to God the Judge of all, and to the spirits of just men made perfect. (Heb. 12:23.)

p. His soul shall dwell at ease; and his seed shall inherit the earth. (Ps. 25:13.) The children of thy servant shall continue, and their seed shall be established before thee. (Ps. 102:28.)

a. Be pleased, O Lord, to deliver me: O Lord, make haste to help me (13). Let them be ashamed and confounded together that seek after my soul to destroy it: let them be driven backward and put to shame that wish me evil (14). Let them be desolate for a reward of their shame that say unto me, Aha, aha (15). Let all those that seek thee rejoice and be glad in thee: let such as love thy salvation say continually, The Lord be magnified (16). But I am poor and needy; yet the Lord thinketh upon me: thou art my help and my deliverer: make no tarrying, O my God. (Ps. 40:13-17.)

b. Be not afraid of their faces: for I am with thee to deliver thee, saith the Lord. (Jer. 1:8.) So that we may boldly say, The Lord is my helper, and I will not fear what man shall do unto me. (Heb. 13:6.) If it be so, our God whom we serve is able to deliver us from the burning fiery furnace, and he will deliver us out of thine hand, O king. (Dan. 3:17.) And lead us not into temptation, but deliver us from evil: For thine is the kingdom, and the power, and the glory, for ever. Amen. (Mat. 6:13.) Him being delivered by the determinate counsel and foreknowledge of God, ye have taken and by wicked hands have crucified and slain. (Acts 2:23.) Thou art my hiding place; thou shalt preserve me from trouble; thou shalt compass me about with songs of deliverance. Selah. (Ps. 32:7.) What shall we then say to these things? If God be for us, who can be against us? (Rom. 8:31.)

c. Let mine adversaries be clothed with shame, and let them cover themselves with their own confusion, as with a mantle. (Ps. 109:29.)

d. Although the fig tree shall not blossom, neither shall fruit be in the vines; the labor of the olive shall fail, and the fields shall yield no meat; the flock shall be cut off from the fold, and there shall be no herd in the stalls (17). Yet I will rejoice in the Lord, I will joy in the God of my salvation. (Hab. 3:17, 18.) By whom also we have access by faith into this grace wherein we stand, and rejoice in hope of the glory of God. (Rom. 5:2.) Finally, my brethren, rejoice in the Lord. To write the same things to you, to me indeed is not grievous, but for you it is safe. (Phil. 3:1.) Whom having not seen, ye love; in whom, though now ye see him not, yet believing, ye rejoice with joy unspeakable and full of glory. (I Pet. 1:8.)

a. Judge me, O Lord; for I have walked in mine integrity: I have trusted also in the Lord; therefore I shall not slide. (Ps. 26:1.) I have hated them that regard lying vanities: but I trust in the Lord. (Ps. 31:6.) In God I will praise his word, in God I have put my trust; I will

2 Deliver [b]me in thy righteousness, and cause me to escape: incline thine ear unto me, and save me.
3 Be thou my strong habitation, whereunto I may continually resort: thou hast given commandment to save me; for thou art my rock and my fortress.
4 [b]Deliver me, O my God, out of the hand of the wicked, out of the hand of the unrighteous and cruel man.
5 For thou [c]art my hope, O [2]Lord God: thou art my trust from my youth.
6 By thee have I been holden up from the womb: thou art he that took me out of my mother's bowels: my praise shall be continually of thee.
7 [d]I am as a wonder unto many; but thou art my strong refuge.
8 Let my mouth be filled with thy praise and with thy honour all the day.
9 Cast me not off in the time of old age; forsake me not when my strength faileth.
10 For mine enemies speak against me; and they that lay wait for my soul [e]take counsel together, 11 Saying, God hath forsaken him: persecute and take him; for there is none to deliver him.
12 O [f]God, be not far from me: O my God, [g]make haste for my help.
13 Let them be confounded and consumed that are adversaries to my soul; let them be covered with reproach and dishonour that seek my hurt.
14 But I will hope continually, and will yet praise thee more and more.
15 My mouth shall shew forth thy righteousness and thy salvation all the day; for I know not the numbers thereof.
16 I will go in [h]the strength of the [2]Lord God: I will make mention of thy righteousness, even of thine only.
17 O God, thou hast taught me from my youth: and hitherto have I declared thy wondrous works.
18 Now also when I am old and greyheaded, O God, forsake me not; until I have shewed thy strength unto this generation, and thy power to every one that is to come.
19 Thy [3]righteousness also, O God, is very high, who hast done great things: [i]O God, who is like unto thee!
20 Thou, which hast shewed me great and sore troubles, shalt quicken me again, and shalt bring me up again from the depths of the earth.
21 Thou shalt increase my greatness, and comfort me on every side.
22 I will also praise thee with the psaltery, even thy truth, O my God: unto thee will I sing with the harp, O thou Holy One of Is'-ra-el.
23 My lips shall greatly rejoice when I sing unto thee; and my soul, which thou hast redeemed.
24 My tongue also shall talk of thy righteousness all the day long: for they are confounded, for they are brought unto shame, that seek my hurt.

Of the increase of his government and peace there shall be no end, upon the throne of David, and upon his kingdom, to order it, and to establish it with judgment and with justice from henceforth even for ever. [1]PSALM 73.

1 The prophet, prevailing in a temptation, 2 sheweth the occasion thereof, the prosperity of the wicked. 15 Knowledge of God's purpose, in destroying of the wicked, and sustaining the righteous.

A Psalm of Ā'saph.

1 Truly God is good to Īs'ra-el, even to such as are of a [a]clean heart.

2 But as for me, my feet were almost gone; my steps had well nigh slipped.

3 For I was envious [b]at the foolish, when I saw the [c]prosperity of the wicked.

4 For there are no bands in their death: but their strength is firm.

5 They are not in trouble like other men; neither are they plagued like other men.

6 Therefore pride compasseth them about as a chain; violence covereth them as a garment.

7 Their eyes stand out with fatness: they have more than heart could wish.

8 They are [2]corrupt, and speak wickedly concerning oppression: they [d]speak [3]loftily.

9 They set their mouth [e]against the heavens, and their tongue walketh through the earth.

10 Therefore his people return hither: and waters of a full cup are wrung out to them.

11 And they say, How doth God know? and is there knowledge in the most High?

12 Behold, these are the ungodly, who prosper in the world; they increase in riches.

13 Verily I have cleansed my heart in vain, and washed my hands in innocency.

14 For all the day long have I been plagued, and chastened every morning.

15 If I say, I will speak thus; behold, I should offend against the generation of thy children.

16 When I thought to know this, it was too painful for me;

17 Until [f]I went into the sanctuary of God; then understood I their end.

18 Surely thou didst set them in slippery places: thou castedst them down into destruction.

19 How are they brought into desolation, as in a moment! they are utterly consumed with terrors.

20 As a dream when one awaketh; so, O Lord, when thou awakest, thou shalt despise their image.

21 Thus my heart was grieved, and I was pricked in my reins.

22 So foolish was I, and ignorant: I was as a beast before thee.

23 Nevertheless I am continually with thee: thou hast holden me by my right hand.

24 Thou shalt guide me with thy counsel, and [g]afterward receive me to glory.

25 Whom [4]have [h]I in heaven but thee? and there is none upon earth that I desire beside thee.

26 My flesh and my heart faileth: but God is the [i]strength of my heart, and my portion for ever.

27 For, lo, they that are far from thee shall perish: thou hast destroyed all them that go a whoring from thee.

28 But it is good for me to [j]draw near to God: I have put [k]my trust in the [5]Lord God, that I may declare all thy works.

e. He that hath pity upon the poor lendeth unto the Lord; and that which he hath given will he pay him again. (Prov. 19:17.) He that by usury and unjust gain increaseth his substance, he shall gather it for him that will pity the poor. (Prov. 28:8.)

f. And I will bless them that bless thee, and curse him that curseth thee; and in thee shall all families of the earth be blessed. (Gen. 12:3.) And thou shalt swear, The Lord liveth, in truth, in judgment, and in righteousness; and the nations shall bless themselves in him, and in him shall they glory. (Jer. 4:2.)

g. For he hath regarded the low estate of his handmaiden; for behold, from henceforth all generations shall call me blessed. (Lu. 1:48.) Wherefore God also hath highly exalted him, and given him a name which is above every name (9). That at the name of Jesus every knee should bow, of things in heaven, and things in earth, and things under the earth (10). And that every tongue should confess that Jesus Christ is Lord, to the glory of God the Father. (Phil. 2:9-11.)

a. He that hath clean hands, and a pure heart; who hath not lifted up his soul unto vanity, nor sworn deceitfully. (Ps. 24:4.) Create in me a clean heart, O God; and renew a right spirit within me. (Ps. 51:10.) Blessed are the pure in heart: for they shall see God. (Mat. 5:8.)

b. Fret not thyself because of evil doers, neither be thou envious against the workers of iniquity. (Ps. 37:1.) Let not thine heart envy sinners: but be thou in the fear of the Lord all the day long. (Prov. 23:17.)

c. Rest in the Lord, and wait patiently for him: fret not thyself because of him who prospereth in his way, because of the man who bringeth wicked devices to pass. (Ps. 37:7.) Righteous art thou, O Lord, when I plead with thee: yet let me talk with thee of thy judgments: Wherefore doth the way of the wicked prosper? wherefore are all they happy that deal very treacherously? (Jer. 12:1.)

d. For when they speak great swelling words of vanity, they allure through the lusts of the flesh, through much wantonness, those that were clean escaped from them who live in error. (II Pet. 2:18.) These are murmurers, complainers, walking after their own lusts; and their mouth speaketh great swelling words, having men's persons in admiration because of advantage. (Jude 16.)

e. And he opened his mouth in blasphemy against God, to blaspheme his name, and his tabernacle, and them that dwell in heaven. (Rev. 13:6.)

f. Thy way, O God, is in the sanctuary: who is so great a God as our God? (Ps. 77:13.) One thing have I desired of the Lord, that will I seek after; that I may dwell in the house of the Lord all the days of my life, to behold the beauty of the Lord, and to enquire in his temple. (Ps. 27:4.)

g. And if I go and prepare a place for you, I will come again, and receive you unto myself; that where I am, there ye may be also. (Jno. 14:3.) For we know that if our earthly house of this tabernacle were dissolved, we have a building of God, an house not made with hands, eternal in the heavens. (II Cor. 5:1.) Henceforth there is laid up for me a crown of righteousness, which the Lord, the righteous judge, shall give me at that day: and not to me only, but unto all them also that love his appearing. (II Tim. 4:8.)

h. Yea, doubtless, and I count all things but loss for the excellency of the knowledge of Christ Jesus my Lord: for whom I have suffered the loss of all things, and do count them but dung, that I may win Christ. (Phil. 3:8.)

i. The Lord is their strength, and he is the saving strength of his anointed. (Ps. 28:8.) Pull me out of the net that they have laid privily for me: for thou art my strength. (Ps. 31:4.) The Lord is my rock, and my fortress, and my deliverer; my God, my strength, in whom I will trust; my buckler, and the horn of my salvation, and my high tower. (Ps. 18:2.) The Lord is my light and my salvation; whom shall I fear? the Lord is the strength of my life; of whom shall I be afraid? (Ps. 27:1.) But the salvation of the righteous is of the Lord: he is their strength in the time of trouble. (Ps. 37:39.)

j. Let us draw near with a true heart in full assurance of faith, having our hearts sprinkled from an evil conscience, and our bodies washed with pure water. (Heb. 10:22.) Draw nigh to God, and he will draw nigh to you. Cleanse your hands, ye sinners; and purify your hearts, ye double-minded. (Ja. 4:8.) Blessed is the man whom thou choosest, and causest to approach unto thee, that he may dwell in thy courts: we shall be satisfied with the goodness of thy house, even of thy holy temple. (Ps. 65:4.)

1 The prophet complaineth of the desolation of the sanctuary. 10 He moveth God to help in consideration of his power.

Mās'chĭl of Ā'saph.

1 O God, why hast [a]thou cast us off for ever? why doth thine anger [b]smoke against the sheep of thy pasture?

2 Remember thy congregation, which thou hast purchased of old; the [2]rod of thine inheritance, which thou hast [c]redeemed; this mount Zī'ŏn, wherein thou hast dwelt.

3 Lift up thy feet unto the perpetual desolation; even all that the enemy hath done wickedly in the sanctuary.

4 Thine enemies roar in the midst of thy congregations; [d]they set up their ensigns [3]for signs.

5 A man was famous according as he had lifted up axes upon the thick trees.

6 But now they break down the carved work thereof at once with axes and hammers.

7 They have cast fire into thy sanctuary, they have defiled by casting down the dwelling place of thy name to the ground.

8 They said in their hearts, Let us destroy them together: they have burned up all the synagogues of God in the land.

9 We see not our signs: [e]there is no more any prophet: neither is there among us any that knoweth how long.

10 O God, how long shall the adversary [f]reproach? shall the enemy blaspheme [g]thy name for ever?

11 Why withdrawest thou thy hand, even thy right hand? pluck it out of thy bosom.

12 For God is my King of old, working salvation in the midst of the earth.

13 Thou didst divide the sea by thy strength: thou brakest the heads of the dragons in the waters.

14 Thou brakest the heads of [4]leviathan in pieces, and gavest him to [h]be meat to the people inhabiting the wilderness.

15 Thou didst [i]cleave the fountain and the flood: [j]thou driedst up mighty rivers.

16 The day is thine, the night also is thine: thou hast [k]prepared the light and the sun.

2. The land surveyor's rod. (Ezek. 40:1.)

3. Signals of victory were erected in the holy places as a direct challenge to Jehovah on the part of the heathen conqueror.

4. Crocodiles, the symbol of Egypt.

5. The emblem of innocence and fidelity, also timidity.

Psalm 75.

1. This Ps. was written on the occasion of the overthrow of Sennacherib's army. Its subject is the humbling of the proud and the exaltation of the righteous.

2. Pause, silence, rest.

3. Defiantly, meaning lift not yourself up in defiance.

17 Thou hast set all the borders of the earth: thou hast made summer and winter.

18 Remember this, that the enemy hath reproached, O Lord, and that the foolish people have blasphemed thy name.

19 O deliver not the soul of thy [5]turtledove unto the multitude of the wicked: forget not the congregation of thy poor for ever.

20 Have respect unto the [l]covenant: for the dark places of the earth are full of the habitations of cruelty.

21 O let not the oppressed return ashamed: let the poor and needy praise thy name.

22 Arise, O God, plead thine own cause: remember how the foolish man reproacheth thee daily.

23 Forget not the voice of thine enemies: the tumult of those that rise up against thee increaseth continually.

1 The prophet praiseth God. 2 He promiseth to judge uprightly.

To the chief Musician, Āl-tăs'chith, A Psalm or Song of Ā'saph.

1 Unto thee, O God, do we give thanks, unto thee do we give thanks: for that thy name is near thy wondrous works declare.

2 When I shall receive the congregation I will judge uprightly.

3 The earth and all the inhabitants thereof are dissolved: I [a]bear up the pillars of it. [2]Sē'lah.

4 I said unto the fools, Deal not foolishly: and to the wicked, Lift not up the horn:

5 Lift not up your [3]horn on high: speak not with a stiff neck.

6 For promotion cometh neither from the east, nor from the west, nor from the south.

7 But [b]God is the judge: he putteth down one, and setteth up another.

8 For in the hand of the Lord there is a cup, and the wine is red; it is full of mixture; and he poureth out of the same: but the dregs thereof, [c]all the wicked of the earth shall wring them out, and drink them.

9 But I will declare for ever; I will sing praises to the God of Jā'cob.

a. But thou hast cast off, and put us to shame; and goest not forth with our armies. (Ps. 44:9.) Will the Lord cast off for ever? and will he be favorable no more? (Ps. 77:7.)

b. There went up a smoke out of his nostrils, and fire out of his mouth devoured: coals were kindled by it. (Ps. 18:8.) How long, Lord? wilt thou hide thyself for ever? shall thy wrath burn like fire? (Ps. 89:46.) The Lord will not spare him, but then the anger of the Lord and his jealousy shall smoke against that man, and all the curses that are written in this book shall lie upon him, and the Lord shall blot out his name from under heaven. (Dt. 29:20.)

c. Thou hast with thine arm redeemed thy people, the sons of Jacob and Joseph. Selah. (Ps. 77:15.) And he saved them from the hand of him that hated them, and redeemed them from the hand of the enemy. (Ps. 106:10.) Thou in thy mercy hast led forth the people which thou hast redeemed: thou hast guided them in thy strength unto thy holy habitation. (Ex. 15:13.) In all their affliction he was afflicted, and the angel of his presence saved them: in his love and in his pity he redeemed them; and he bare them, and carried them all the days of old. (Is. 63:9.)

d. He delivereth and rescueth, and he worketh signs and wonders in heaven and in earth, who hath delivered Daniel from the power of the lions. (Dan. 6:27.)

e. And the child Samuel ministered unto the Lord before Eli. And the word of the Lord was precious in those days; there was no open vision. (I Sam. 3:1.) He will keep the feet of his saints, and the wicked shall be silent in darkness; for by strength shall no man prevail. (I Sam. 2:9.) Mischief shall come upon mischief, and rumor shall be upon rumor; then shall they seek a vision of the prophet; but the law shall perish from the priest, and counsel from the ancients. (Ez. 7:26.) Behold the days come, saith the Lord God, that I will send a famine in the land, not a famine of bread, nor a thirst for water, but of hearing the words of the Lord. (Amos 8:11.)

f. For the voice of him that reproacheth and blasphemeth; by reason of the enemy and avenger. (Ps. 44:16.) And render unto our neighbors seven fold into their bosom their reproach, wherewith they have reproached thee, O Lord. (Ps. 79:12.) Wherewith thine enemies have reproached, O Lord; wherewith they have reproached the footsteps of thine anointed. (Ps. 89:51.)

g. And he that blasphemeth the name of the Lord, he shall surely be put to death, and all the congregation shall certainly stone him: as well the stranger, as he that is born in the land, when he blasphemeth the name of the Lord, shall be put to death. (Lev. 24:16.)

h. Pardon, I beseech thee, the iniquity of this people according unto the greatness of thy mercy, and as thou hast forgiven this people, from Egypt even until now. (Num. 14:19.) They that dwelt in the wilderness shall bow before him; and his enemies shall lick the dust. (Ps. 72:9.)

i. He clave the rocks in the wilderness, and gave them drink as out of the great depths. (Ps. 78:15.) He opened the rock, and the waters gushed out; they ran in the dry places like a river. (Ps. 105:41.) Which turned the rock into a standing water, the flint into a fountain of waters. (Ps. 114:8.) And Moses lifted up his hand, and with his rod he smote the rock twice: and the water came out abundantly, and the congregation drank, and their beasts also. (Num. 20:11.) And they thirsted not when he led them through the deserts: he caused the waters to flow out of the rock for them: he clave the rock also, and the waters gushed out. (Is. 48:21.)

j. The sea saw it, and fled: Jordan was driven back. (Ps. 114:3.) And Moses stretched out his hand over the sea; and the Lord caused the sea to go back by a strong east wind all that night, and made the sea dry land, and the waters were divided (21). And the children of Israel went into the midst of the sea upon the dry ground: and the waters were a wall unto them on their right hand, and on their left. (Ex. 14:21, 22.) For we have heard how the Lord dried up the water of the Red sea for you, when ye came out of Egypt; and what ye did unto the two kings of the Amorites, that were on the other side Jordan, Sihon and Og, whom ye utterly destroyed. (Josh. 2:10.)

k. He appointed the moon for seasons: the sun knoweth his going down. (Ps. 104:19.) To him that made great lights: for his mercy endureth for ever (7). The sun to rule by day: for his mercy endureth for ever. (Ps. 136:7, 8.)

l. And I will establish my covenant between me and thee and thy seed after thee in their generations for an everlasting covenant, to be a God unto thee, and to thy seed after thee. (Gen. 17:7.) He hath remembered his covenant for ever, the word which he commanded to a thousand generations. (Ps. 105:8.)

a. Who being the brightness of his glory, and the express image of his person, and upholding all things by the word of his power, when he had by himself purged our sins, sat down on the right hand of the Majesty on high. (Heb. 1:3.)

b. And the heavens shall declare his righteousness: for God is judge himself. Selah. (Ps. 50:6.)

c. Thou shalt break them with a rod of iron; thou shalt dash them in pieces like a potter's vessel. (Ps. 2:9.) Their sorrows shall be multiplied that hasten after another God: their drink offerings of blood will I not offer, nor take up their names into my lips. (Ps. 16:4.) Evil pursueth sinners: but to the righteous good shall be repaid. (Prov. 13:21.) Many sorrows shall be to the wicked: but he that trusteth in the Lord, 10 All the horns [4]of the wicked also will I cut off; but the horns of the righteous shall be exalted.

[1]PSALM 76.

A declaration of God's majesty in the church.

To the chief Musician on Nĕg'ī-nŏth, A Psalm or Song of Ā'saph.

1 In Jū'dah is God known: his name is great in Ĭs'ra-el.

2 In [2]Sā'lem also is his tabernacle, and his dwelling place in Zī'ŏn.

3 There brake he the arrows of the bow, the shield, and the sword, and the battle. [3]Sē'lah.

4 Thou art more glorious and excellent than the mountains of prey.

5 The stouthearted are spoiled, they [a]have slept their sleep: and none of the men of might have found their hands.

6 At thy rebuke, O God of Jā'cob, both [b]the chariot and horse are cast into a dead sleep.

7 Thou, even thou, art [c]to be feared: and who [d]may stand in thy sight when once thou art angry?

8 Thou didst cause judgment to be heard from heaven; the earth feared, and was still,

9 When God arose to judgment, to save all the meek of the earth. [3]Sē'lah.

10 Surely the [e]wrath of man shall praise thee: the remainder of wrath shalt thou restrain.

11 Vow, [f]and pay unto the [4]Lord your God: let all that be round about him bring presents unto him that ought to be feared.

12 He shall cut off the spirit of princes: he is terrible to the kings of the earth.

The psalmist sheweth what fierce combat he had with diffidence.

To the chief Musician, to Jĕd'tu-hŭn, A Psalm of Ā'saph.

1 I cried [a]unto God with my voice, even unto God with my voice; and he gave ear unto me.

2 In [b]the day of my trouble I [c]sought the Lord: my [2]sore ran in the night, and ceased not: my soul refused to be comforted.

3 I remembered God, and was troubled: I complained, and my spirit was overwhelmed. [3]Sē'lah

4 Thou holdest mine eyes [4]waking: I am so troubled that I cannot speak.

5 I have considered the days of old, the years of ancient times.

6 I call to remembrance my song in the night: I commune with mine own heart: and my spirit made diligent search.

7 Will the Lord cast off for ever? and will he be favourable no more?

8 Is [d]his mercy clean gone for ever? doth his promise fail for evermore?

9 Hath God forgotten to be gracious? hath he in anger shut up his tender [d]mercies? [3]Sē'lah.

10 [5]And I said, This is [e]my infirmity: but I will remember the years of the right hand of the most High.

11 I will remember the works of the [2]Lord: surely I will remember thy wonders of old.

12 I will meditate also of all thy work, and talk of thy doings.

13 Thy [f]way, O God, is in the sanctuary: who is so great a God as our God?

14 Thou art the God that doest wonders: thou hast declared thy strength among the people.

15 Thou hast with thine arm redeemed thy people, the sons of Jā'cob and Jō'sĕph. [3]Se'lah.

16 The [g]waters saw thee, O God, the waters saw thee; they were afraid: the depths also were troubled.

17 The clouds poured [6]out water: the skies sent out a [7]sound: thine arrows [8]also went abroad.

18 The voice of thy thunder was in the heaven: the lightnings lightened the world: the earth trembled and shook.

19 Thy way is in the sea, and thy path in the great waters, [h]and thy footsteps are not known.

20 Thou leddest thy people like a flock by the hand of Mō'sĕs and Aär'on.

[1]PSALM 78.

An exhortation to learn and preach the law of God.

mercy shall compass him about. (Ps. 32:10.) For, lo, they that are far from thee shall perish: thou hast destroyed all them that go a whoring from thee. (Ps. 73:27.)

a. Consider and hear me, O Lord my God: lighten mine eyes, lest I sleep the sleep of death. (Ps. 13:3.) In their heat I will make their feasts, and I will make them drunken, that they may rejoice, and sleep a perpetual sleep, and not wake, saith the Lord. (Jer. 51:39.)

b. And he led them on safely, so that they feared not: but the sea overwhelmed their enemies. (Ps. 78:53.) Then sang Moses and the children of Israel this song unto the Lord, and spake, saying, I will sing unto the Lord, for he hath triumphed gloriously: the horse and his rider hath he thrown into the sea. (Ex. 15:1.) And Miriam answered them, Sing ye to the Lord, for he hath triumphed gloriously; the horse and his rider hath he thrown into the sea. (Ex. 15:21.)

c. God is greatly to be feared in the assembly of the saints, and to be had in reverence of all them that are about him. (Ps. 89:7.) For the Lord is great, and greatly to be praised: he is to be feared above all gods. (Ps. 96:4.) For great is the Lord, and greatly to be praised: he also is to be feared above all gods. (I Chr. 16:25.)

d. Who can stand before his indignation? and who can abide in the fierceness of his anger? his fury is poured out like fire, and the rocks are thrown down by him. (Nah. 1:6.) If thou, Lord, shouldest mark iniquities, O Lord, who shall stand? (Ps. 130:3.) O Lord God of Israel, thou art righteous: for we remain yet escaped, as it is this day: behold, we are before thee in our trespasses: for we cannot stand before thee because of this. (Ezra 9:15.) But who may abide the day of his coming? and who shall stand when he appeareth? for he is like a refiner's fire, and l[i]ke fuller's soap. (Mal. 3:2.) For the great day of his wrath is come; and who shall be able to stand? (Rev. 6:17.)

e. Now I know that the Lord is greater than all gods: for in the thing wherein they dealt proudly he was above them. (Ex. 18:11.) For the scripture saith unto Pharaoh, Even for this same purpose have I raised thee up, that I might show my power in thee, and that my name might be declared throughout all the earth. (Rom. 9:17.)

f. When thou vowest a vow unto God, defer not to pay it; for he hath no pleasure in fools: pay that which thou hast vowed. (Ecc. 5:4.) Offer unto God thanksgiving; and pay thy vows unto the Most High. (Ps. 50:14.)

a. And the children of Israel cried unto the Lord, saying, We have sinned against thee, both because we have forsaken our God, and also served Baalim. (Jud. 10:10.) And they cried unto the Lord, and said, We have sinned, because we have forsaken the Lord, and have served Baalim and Ashtaroth: but now deliver us out of the hand of our enemies, and we will serve thee. (I Sam. 12:10.) Therefore thou deliveredst them into the hand of their enemies, who vexed them: and in the time of their trouble, when they cried unto thee, thou heardest them from heaven; and according to thy manifold mercies thou gavest them saviours, who saved them out of the hand of their enemies. (Neh. 9:27.) They cried unto thee, and were delivered: they trusted in thee, and were not confounded. (Ps. 22:5.) Nevertheless he regarded their affliction, when he heard their cry. (Ps. 106:44.) Then they cry unto the Lord in their trouble, and he saveth them out of their distresses. (Ps. 107:19.)

b. And call upon me in the day of trouble: I will deliver thee, and thou shalt glorify me. (Ps. 50:15.) In the day of my trouble I will call upon thee: for thou wilt answer me. (Ps. 86:7.)

c. With my soul have I desired thee in the night; yea, with my spirit within me will I seek thee early: for when thy judgments are in the earth, the inhabitants of the world will learn righteousness. (Is. 26:9.)

d. Then I said, I am cast out of thy sight; yet I will look again toward thy holy temple. (Jon. 2:4.) Hear me when I call, O God of my righteousness; thou hast enlarged me when I was in distress; have mercy upon me, and hear my prayer. (Ps. 4:1.) With the merciful thou wilt show thyself merciful; with an upright man thou wilt show thyself upright. (Ps. 18:25.) Hear me, O Lord; for thy loving-kindness is good: turn unto me according to the multitude of thy tender mercies. (Ps. 69:16.) Be ye therefore merciful, as your Father also is merciful. (Luke 6:36.) And the publican, standing afar off, would not lift up so much as his eyes unto heaven, but smote upon his breast, saying, God be merciful to me a sinner. (Luke 18:13.)

e. Woe is me for my hurt! my wound is grievous: but I said, Truly this is a grief, and I must bear it. (Jer. 10:19.) And straightway the father of the child cried out, and said with tears, Lord, I believe; help thou mine unbelief. (Mk. 9:24.)

f. Until I went into the sanctuary of God; then understood I their end. (Ps. 73:17.)

g. And Moses stretched out his hand over the sea; and the Lord caused the sea to go back by a strong east wind all that night, and made the sea dry land, and the waters were divided. (Ex. 14:21.)

h. Touching the Almighty, we cannot find him out: he is excellent in power, and in judgment, and in plenty of justice: he will not afflict. (Job 37:23.)

Psalm 78.

a. Now therefore, if ye will obey my voice indeed, and keep my

2 I [b]will open my mouth in a [2]parable: I will utter dark sayings of old:
3 Which we have heard and known, and our fathers have told us.
4 We [c]will not hide them from their children, shewing to the generation to come the praises of the [3]Lord, and his strength, and his [d]wonderful works that he hath done.
5 For he established a [e]testimony in Jā'cob, and appointed a law in Īs'ra-el, which he commanded our fathers, that they should make them known to their children:
6 That the [f]generation to come might know them, even the children which should be born; who should arise and declare them to be their children:
7 That they might set their hope in God, and not [g]forget the works of God, but keep his [h]commandments:
8 And might not be as their fathers, a stubborn and rebellious generation; a generation that set not their heart aright, and whose spirit was not stedfast with God.
9 The children of Ē'phrā'ĭm, being armed, and carrying bows, turned back in the day of battle.
10 They kept not the covenant of God, and refused to [i]walk in his law;
11 And [j]forgat his works, and his wonders that he had shewed them.
12 Marvellous things did he in the sight of their fathers, in the land of Ē'gўpt, in the field of Zō'an.
13 He [k]divided the sea, and caused them to pass through; and he made the waters to stand [4]as an heap.
14 In the daytime also he led them with a cloud, and all the night with a light of fire.
15 [l]He clave the rocks in the wilderness, and gave them drink as out of the great depths.
16 He brought streams also out of the rock, and caused waters to run down like rivers.
17 And they sinned yet more against him by provoking the most High in the wilderness.
18 And [m]they [5]tempted God in their heart by asking meat for their lust.
19 Yea, they spake against God; they said, Can God furnish a table in the wilderness?
20 Behold, he smote the rock, that the waters gushed out, and the streams overflowed; can he give bread also? can he provide flesh for his people?
21 Therefore the Lord heard this, and was wroth: so a fire was kindled against Jā'cob, and anger also came up against Īs'ra-el;
22 Because they [n]believed not in God, and trusted not in his salvation:
23 Though he had commanded the clouds from above, [o]and opened the doors of heaven, 24 And had rained down manna upon them to eat, and had given them of the corn of heaven.
25 Man did eat [6]angels' food: he sent them meat to the full.
26 He caused an east wind to blow in the heaven: and by his power he brought in the south wind.
27 He rained flesh also upon them as dust, and feathered fowls like as the sand of the sea:
28 And he let it fall in the midst of their camp, round about their habitations.
29 So they did eat, and were well filled: for he gave them their own desire;
30 They were not estranged from their lust. But while their meat was yet in their mouths, 31 The wrath of God came upon them, and slew [7]the fattest of them, and smote down the chosen men of Īs'ra-el.
32 For all [8]this they sinned still, and believed not for his wondrous works.
33 Therefore their days did he [9]consume in [10]vanity, and their years in trouble.
34 When he [p]slew them, then they sought him: and they returned and enquired early after God.
35 And they remembered that God was their [q]rock, and the high God their redeemer.
36 Nevertheless they did flatter him with covenant, then ye shall be a peculiar treasure unto me above all people: for all the earth is mine. (Ex. 19:5.) Hearken unto me, my people; and give ear unto me, O my nation: for a law shall proceed from me, and I will make my judgment to rest for a light of the people. (Is. 51:4.)

b. I will incline mine ear to a parable: I will open my dark saying upon the harp. (Ps. 49:4.) All these things spake Jesus unto the multitude in parables; and without a parable spake he not unto them (34). That it might be fulfilled which was spoken by the prophet saying, I will open my mouth in parables; I will utter things which have been kept secret from the foundation of the world. (Mat. 13:34, 35.)

c. And thou shalt teach them diligently unto thy children, and shalt talk of them when thou sittest in thine house, and when thou walkest by the way, and when thou liest down, and when thou risest up. (Dt. 6:7.) And thou shalt show thy son in that day, saying, This is done because of that which the Lord did unto me when I came forth out of Egypt. (Ex. 13:8.) That this may be a sign among you, that when your children ask their fathers in time to come, saying, What mean ye by these stones? (Josh. 4:6.)

d. O God, thou hast taught me from my youth: and hitherto have I declared thy wondrous works. (Ps. 71:17.) Dost thou know the balancings of the clouds, the wondrous works of him which is perfect in knowledge? (Job 37:16.)

e. The law of the Lord is perfect, converting the soul: the testimony of the Lord is sure, making wise the simple. (Ps. 19:7.) This he ordained in Joseph for a testimony, when he went out through the land of Egypt: where I heard a language that I understood not. (Ps. 81:5.) To the law and to the testimony: if they speak not according to this word, it is because there is no light in them. (Is. 8:20.)

f. This shall be written for the generations to come: and the people which shall be created shall praise the Lord. (Ps. 102:18.)

g. Only take heed to thyself, and keep thy soul diligently, lest thou forget the things which thine eyes have seen, and lest they depart from thy heart all the days of thy life: but teach them thy sons, and thy sons' sons. (Dt. 4:9.) Then beware lest thou forget the Lord, which brought thee forth out of the land of Egypt, from the house of bondage. (Dt. 6:12.) Then thine heart be lifted up, and thou forget the Lord thy God, which brought thee forth out of the land of Egypt, from the house of bondage. (Dt. 8:14.)

h. Ye shall not add unto the word which I command you, neither shall ye diminish ought from it, that ye may keep the commandments of the Lord your God which I command you. (Dt. 4:2.) And Moses called all Israel, and said unto them, Hear, O Israel, the statutes and judgments which I speak in your ears this day, that ye may learn them, and keep, and do them (1). O that there were such an heart in them, that they would fear me, and keep all my commandments always, that it might be well with them, and with their children for ever. (Dt. 5:1, 29.) And Moses with the elders of Israel commanded the people, saying, Keep all the commandments which I command you this day. (Dt. 27:1.) But take diligent heed to do the commandment and the law, which Moses the servant of the Lord charged you, to love the Lord your God, and to walk in all his ways, and to keep his commandments, and to cleave unto him, and to serve him with all your heart and with all your soul. (Josh. 22:5.)

i. Blessed are the undefiled in the way, who walk in the law of the Lord. (Ps. 119:1.) And they came in, and possessed it: but they obeyed not thy voice, neither walked in thy law; they have done nothing of all that thou commandedst them to do. therefore thou hast caused all this evil to come upon them. (Jer. 32:23.) They are not humbled even unto this day, neither have they feared, nor walked in my law, nor in my statutes, that I set before you and before your fathers (10). Because ye have burned incense, and because ye have sinned against the Lord, and have not obeyed the voice of the Lord, nor walked in his law, nor in his statutes, nor in his testimonies; therefore this evil is happened unto you, as at this day. (Jer. 44:10, 23.)

j. Can a maid forget her ornaments, or a bride her attire? yet my people have forgotten me days without number. (Jer. 2:32.)

k. Thou didst divide the sea by thy strength; thou brakest the heads of the dragons in the waters. (Ps. 74:13.) To him which divided the Red sea into parts: for his mercy endureth for ever. (Ps. 136:13.) And Moses stretched out his hand over the sea; and the Lord caused the sea to go back by a strong east wind all that night, and made the sea dry land, and the waters were divided. (Ex. 14:21.)

l. Behold, I will stand before thee there upon the rock in Horeb; and thou shalt smite the rock, and there shall come water out of it, that the people may drink. And Moses did so in the sight of the elders of Israel. (Ex. 17:6.) And Moses lifted up his hand, and with his rod he smote the rock twice: and the water came out abundantly, and the congregation drank, and their beasts also. (Num. 20:11.) And did all drink the same spiritual drink: for they drank of that spiritual Rock that followed them: and that Rock was Christ. (I Cor. 10:4.)

m. When your fathers tempted me, proved me, and saw my work. (Ps. 95:9.) But lusted exceedingly in the wilderness, and tempted God in the desert. (Ps. 106:14.) Ye shall not tempt the Lord your God, as ye tempted him in Massah. (Dt. 6:16.) Neither let us tempt Christ, as some of them also tempted, and were destroyed of serpents. (I Cor. 10:9.)

n. Yet in this thing ye did not believe the Lord your God. (Dt. 1:32.) Likewise when the Lord sent you from Kadesh-barnea, saying, Go up and possess the land which I have given you; then ye rebelled against the commandment of the Lord your God, and ye believed him not, nor hearkened to his voice. (Dt. 9:23.) And to whom sware he that they should not enter into his rest, but to them that believe not? (Heb. 3:18.)

o. Bring ye all the tithes into the storehouse, that there may be meat in mine house, and prove me now herewith, saith the Lord of hosts, if I will not open you the windows of heaven, and pour you out a blessing, that there shall not be room enough to receive it. (Mal. 3:10.)

p. I will go and return to my place, till they acknowledge their offence, and seek my face: in their affliction they will seek me early. (Hos. 5:15.)

q. The Lord is my rock, and my fortress, and my deliverer; my their mouth, and they lied unto him with their tongues.

37 For their heart was not right with him, neither were they stedfast in his covenant.

38 But he, being full of [r]compassion, forgave their iniquity, and destroyed them not: yea, many a time turned he his anger away, and did not stir up all his wrath.

39 For he remembered [s]that they were but flesh; a wind that passeth away, and cometh not again.

40 How oft did they provoke him in the wilderness, and grieve him in the desert!

41 Yea, they turned back and [11]tempted [m]God, and limited the Holy One of Īs'ra-el.

42 They remembered not his hand, nor the day when he delivered them from the enemy.

43 [12]How he had wrought his signs in Ē'gўpt, and his wonders in the field of Zō'an:

44 And had turned their rivers into blood; and their floods, that they could not drink.

45 He sent divers sorts [13]of flies among them, which devoured them; and frogs, [14]which destroyed them.

46 He gave also their increase unto the caterpiller, and their labour unto the locust.

47 He destroyed their vines [15]with hail, and their sycomore trees with [16]frost.

48 He gave up their cattle also to the hail, and their flocks to [17]hot thunderbolts.

49 He cast upon them the [t]fierceness of his anger, wrath, and indignation, and trouble, by sending evil angels among them.

50 He made a way to his [u]anger; he spared not their soul from death, but gave their life over to the pestilence;

51 And smote all the firstborn in Ē'gўpt; the chief of their strength in the tabernacles of [18]Hăm:

52 But made his own people to go forth like sheep, and guided them in the wilderness like a flock.

53 And he led them on safely, so that they feared not: but the sea overwhelmed their enemies.

54 And he brought them to the border of his [v]sanctuary, even to this mountain, which his right hand had purchased.

55 [19]He cast out the heathen also before them, and divided them an inheritance by line, and made the tribes of Īs'ra-el to dwell in their tents.

56 Yet [m]they [20]tempted and [21]provoked the most high God, and kept not his testimonies:

57 But turned back, and dealt unfaithfully like their fathers: they were turned aside like a deceitful bow.

58 For they provoked him to anger with their [22]high [n]places, and moved him to jealousy with their graven images.

59 When God [23]heard this, he was wroth, and greatly abhorred Īs'ra-el:

60 So that he forsook the [24]tabernacle of Shī'lōh, the tent which he placed among men;

61 And [x]delivered his [25]strength [y]into captivity, and his glory into the enemy's hand.

62 He gave [z]his people over also unto the [26]sword; and was wroth with his inheritance.

63 The [aa]fire [27]consumed their young men; and their maidens [28]were not given to marriage.

64 Their priests [29]fell by the sword; and their widows [30]made no lamentation.

65 Then the [s]Lord [31]awaked as one out of sleep, and like a mighty man that shouteth by reason of wine.

66 And he smote his enemies in the [32]hinder parts: he put them to a perpetual reproach.

67 Moreover he refused the tabernacle of Jō'sęph, and chose not the tribe of Ē'phrăĭm:

68 But chose [33]the tribe of Jū'dah, the mount Zī'ŏn which he loved.

69 And he built his sanctuary like high palaces, like the earth which he hath established for ever.

70 He chose Dā'vid also his servant, and took him from the sheepfolds:

71 From following the ewes great with young he brought him [bb]to feed Jā'cob his people, and Īs'ra-el his inheritance.

72 So he fed them according to the [cc]integrity of his heart; and guided them by the skilfulness of his hands.

PSALM 79.

1 The psalmist complaineth of the desolation of Jerusalem. 8 He prayeth for deliverance, 13 and promiseth thankfulness.

[1]A Psalm of Ā'saph.

1 O God, the heathen are come into thine inheritance; thy holy temple have they defiled; [a]they have laid Je-rų'sa-lĕm on heaps.

2 The dead bodies of thy servants have they given to be meat unto the fowls of the heaven, the flesh of thy saints unto the beasts of the earth.

3 Their blood have they shed like water round about Je-rų'sa-lĕm; [b]and there was none to bury them.

Psalm 79.

1. This Ps. was written on the occasion of the destruction of Jerusalem and the temple and is closely allied to Ps. 74.

God, my strength, in whom I will trust; my buckler, and the horn of my salvation, and my high tower. (Ps. 18:2.) For thou art my rock and my fortress; therefore for thy name's sake lead me, and guide me. (Ps. 31:3.) To show that the Lord is upright: he is my rock, and there is no unrighteousness in him. (Ps. 92:15.) O come, let us sing unto the Lord; let us make a joyful noise to the Rock of our salvation. (Ps. 95:1.)

r. And the Lord passed by before him, and proclaimed, The Lord, The Lord God, merciful and gracious, long-suffering, and abundant in goodness and truth. (Ex. 34:6.) And refused to obey, neither were mindful of thy wonders that thou didst among them; but hardened their necks, and in their rebellion appointed a captain to return to their bondage: but thou art a God ready to pardon, gracious and merciful, slow to anger, and of great kindness, and forsookest them not. (Neh. 9:17.) But thou, O Lord, art a God full of compassion, and gracious, long-suffering, and plenteous in mercy and truth. (Ps. 86:15.) Thou showest loving-kindness unto thousands, and recompensest the iniquity of the fathers into the bosom of their children after them: The Great, the Mighty God, the Lord of hosts, is his name. (Jer. 32:18.)

s. And the Lord said, My Spirit shall not always strive with man, for that he also is flesh: yet his days shall be an hundred and twenty years. (Gen. 6:3.) That which is born of the flesh is flesh; and that which is born of the Spirit is spirit. (Jno. 3:6.)

t. But unto them that are contentious, and do not obey the truth, but obey unrighteousness, indignation and wrath. (Rom. 2:8.)

u. For a fire is kindled in mine anger, and shall burn unto the lowest hell, and shall consume the earth with her increase, and set on fire the foundations of the mountains. (Dt. 32:22.) Then the earth shook and trembled; the foundations of heaven moved and shook, because he was wroth. (II Sam. 22:8.) The fierce anger of the Lord shall not return, until he have done it, and until he have performed the intents of his heart: in the latter days ye shall consider it. (Jer. 30:24.) Who can stand before his indignation? and who can abide in the fierceness of his anger? His fury is poured out like fire, and the rocks are thrown down by him. (Nah. 1:6.)

v. And in the greatness of thine excellency thou hast overthrown them that rose up against thee: thou sentest forth thy wrath, which consumed them as stubble. (Ex. 15:7.)

w. Ye shall utterly destroy all the places, wherein the nations which ye shall possess served their gods, upon the high mountains, and upon the hills, and under every green tree. (Dt. 12:2.)

x. Seek the Lord and his strength, seek his face continually. (I Chr. 16:11.)

y. And the ark of God was taken; and the two sons of Eli, Hophni and Phinehas, were slain. (I Sam. 4:11.)

z. And the children of Benjamin came forth out of Gibeah, and destroyed down to the ground of the Israelites that day twenty and two thousand men. (Jud. 20:21.) And the Philistines fought, and Israel was smitten, and they fled every man into his tent: and there was a very great slaughter; for there fell of Israel thirty thousand footmen. (I Sam. 4:10.)

aa. And when the people complained, it displeased the Lord: and the Lord heard it; and his anger was kindled; and the fire of the Lord burnt among them and consumed them that were in the uttermost parts of the camp. (Num. 11:1.) For there is a fire gone out of Heshbon, a flame from the city of Sihon; it hath consumed Ar of Moab, and the lords of the high places of Arnon. (Num. 21:28.) Lord, when thy hand is lifted up, they will not see; but they shall see, and be ashamed for their envy at the people; yea, the fire of thine enemies shall devour them. (Is. 26:11.)

a. Therefore shall Zion for your sake be plowed as a field, and Jerusalem shall become heaps, and the mountain of the house as the high places of the forest. (Mic. 3:12.)

b. And the people to whom they prophesy shall be cast out in the bours, a scorn and derision to them that are round about us.

5 How long, [4]Lord? wilt thou be angry for ever? shall thy [c]jealousy burn like fire?

6 Pour out thy wrath upon the heathen that have not known thee, and upon the kingdoms that have not called upon thy name.

7 For they have devoured Jā'cob, and laid waste his dwelling place.

8 [d]O remember not [2]against us former iniquities: let thy tender mercies speedily [3]prevent us: for we are brought very low.

9 Help us, O God of our salvation, for the glory of thy name: and deliver us, and purge away our sins, [e]for thy name's sake.

10 Wherefore should the heathen say, Where is their God? let him be known among the heathen in our sight by the revenging of the blood of thy servants which is shed.

11 Let the sighing of the prisoner come before thee; according to the greatness of thy power preserve thou those that are appointed to die;

12 And render [g]unto our neighbours sevenfold into their bosom their reproach, wherewith they have reproached thee, O [4]Lord.

13 So we thy people and [f]sheep of thy pasture will give thee thanks for ever: we will shew forth thy praise to all generations.

PSALM 80.

To the chief Musician upon Sho-shăn'nim-Ē'duth, A Psalm of Ā'saph.

1 [1]Give ear, O Shepherd of Ĭs'ra-el, thou that leadest Jō'şeph like a flock; [a]thou that dwellest [2]between the [3]cherubim, shine forth.

3 Turn [4]us again, [b]O God, and cause thy face to shine; and we shall be saved.

2. Do not compel us to answer for the sins of former generations.

Psalm 81.

1. This Ps. was written on the occasion of the dedication of the second temple in the time of Ezra. The passover was kept at this time. (Ezra 6:16-22.) The purpose of this Ps. was to encourage the people to cheerfully attend the annual festivals.

2. After the manner of Gath.

3. The tambourine.

5 Thou feedest them with the bread [6]of [c]tears; and givest them tears [6]to drink in great measure.

6 Thou makest us a [7]strife unto our neighbours: and our enemies laugh among themselves.

7 [8]Turn us again, O God of hosts, and cause thy face to shine; and we shall be saved.

8 Thou hast brought a [9]vine [d]out of Ē'gўpt: thou hast cast out the heathen, and planted it.

9 Thou preparedst room before it, and didst cause it to take deep root, and it filled the land.

10 The hills were covered with the shadow of it, and the boughs thereof were like the goodly cedars.

11 She sent out her boughs unto the [10]sea, and her branches unto the river.

12 Why hast thou then [e]broken down her hedges, so that all they which pass by the way do pluck her?

13 The boar out of the wood doth waste it, and the wild beast of the field doth devour it.

14 Return, [f]we beseech thee, O God of hosts: look down from heaven, and behold, and visit this vine;

15 And the vineyard which thy right hand hath planted, and the branch that thou madest strong for thyself.

16 It is [11]burned with fire, it is cut down: they perish at the [g]rebuke of thy countenance.

17 Let thy hand be upon the man of thy right hand, upon the son of man whom thou madest strong for thyself.

18 So will not we go back from thee: [12h]quicken us, and we will call upon thy name.

19 Turn us again, O Lord [13]God of hosts, cause [i]thy face to shine; and we shall be saved.

An exhortation to a solemn praising of God.

To the chief Musician upon [2]Gĭt'tith, A Psalm of Ā'saph.

1 Sing aloud unto God [a]our strength: make a joyful noise unto the God of Jā'cob.

2 Take a psalm, and bring hither the [3]tim-streets of Jerusalem because of the famine and the sword; and they shall have none to bury them, them, their wives, nor their sons, nor their daughters: for I will pour their wickedness upon them. (Jer. 14:16.)

c. Therefore wait ye upon me, saith the Lord, until the day that I rise up to the prey: for my determination is to gather the nation, that I may assemble the kingdoms, to pour upon them mine indignation, even all my fierce anger: for all the earth shall be devoured with the fire of my jealousy. (Zeph. 3:8.)

d. I, even I, and he that blotteth out thy transgressions for mine own sake, and will not remember thy sins. (Is. 43:25.)

e. Therefore thou shalt say this word unto them; Let mine eyes run down with tears night and day, and let them not cease: for the virgin daughter of my people is broken with a great breach, with a very grievous blow. (Jer. 14:17.)

f. O God, why hast thou cast us off for ever? why doth thine anger smoke against the sheep of thy pasture? (Ps. 74:1.) And I will raise up for them a plant of renown, and they shall be no more consumed with hunger in the land, neither bear the shame of the heathen any more. Thus shall they know that I the Lord their God am with them, and that they, even the house of Israel, are my people, saith the Lord God. And ye my flock, the flock of my pasture, are men, and I am your God, saith the Lord God. (Ez. 34:29-31.)

g. And the Lord said unto him, Therefore whosoever slayeth Cain, vengeance shall be taken on him sevenfold. And the Lord set a mark upon Cain, lest any finding him should kill him. (Gen. 4:15.) And if ye walk contrary unto me, and will not hearken unto me; I will bring seven times more plagues upon you according to your sins (21). Then I will walk contrary unto you also in fury; and I, even I, will chastise you seven times for your sins. (Lev. 26:21, 28.) The words of the Lord are pure words: as silver tried in a furnace of earth, purified seven times. (Ps. 12:6.) Seven times a day do I praise thee because of thy righteous judgments. (Ps. 119:164.) But if he be found, he shall restore sevenfold; he shall give all the substance of his house. (Prov. 6:31.) Moreover the light of the moon shall be as the light of the sun, and the light of the sun shall be sevenfold, as the light of seven days, in the day that the Lord bindeth up the breach of his people, and healeth the stroke of their wound. (Is. 30:26.)

a. The Lord reigneth; let the people tremble: he sitteth between the cherubim; let the earth be moved. (Ps. 99:1.) And there I will meet with thee, and I will commune with thee from above the mercyseat, from between the two cherubim which are upon the ark of the testimony, of all things which I will give thee in commandment unto the children of Israel. (Ex. 25:22.) So the people sent to Shiloh, that they might bring from thence the ark of the covenant of the Lord of hosts, which dwelleth between the cherubim: and the two sons of Eli, Hophni and Phinehas, were there with the ark of the covenant of God. (I Sam. 4:4.) And David arose and went with all the people that were with him from Baale of Judah, to bring up from thence the ark of God, whose name is called by the name of the Lord of hosts that dwelleth between the cherubim. (II Sam. 6:2.)

b. Turn thou us unto thee, O Lord, and we shall be turned; renew our days as of old. (Lam. 5:21.) O God, thou hast cast us off, thou hast scattered us, thou hast been displeased; O turn thyself to us again. (Ps. 60:1.) Turn us, O God of our salvation, and cause thine anger toward us to cease. (Ps. 85:4.)

c. My tears have been my meat day and night, while they continually say unto me, Where is thy God? (Ps. 42:3.) For I have eaten ashes like bread, and mingled my drink with weeping. (Ps. 102:9.)

d. For the vineyard of the Lord of hosts is the house of Israel, and the men of Judah his pleasant plant: and he looked for judgment, but behold oppression; for righteousness, but behold a cry. (Is. 5:7.) Yet I had planted thee a noble vine, wholly a right seed; how then art thou turned into the degenerate plant of a strange vine unto me? (Jer. 2:21.) Many pastures hath destroyed my vineyard, they have trodden my portion under foot, they have made my pleasant portion a desolate wilderness. (Jer. 12:10.) And it grew, and became a spreading vine of low stature, whose branches turned toward him, and the roots thereof were under him: so it became a vine, and brought forth branches, and shot forth sprigs. (Ez. 17:6.)

e. For the Lord hath turned away the excellency of Jacob, as the excellency of Israel: for the emptiers have emptied them out, and marred their vine branches. (Nah. 2:2.)

f. Cry yet, saying, Thus saith the Lord of hosts; My cities through prosperity shall yet be spread abroad; and the Lord shall yet comfort Zion, and shall yet choose Jerusalem. (Zech. 1:17.)

g. When thou with rebukes dost correct man for iniquity, thou makest his beauty to consume away like a moth: surely every man is vanity. Selah. (Ps. 39:11.) At thy rebuke, O God of Jacob, both the chariot and the horse are cast into a dead sleep. (Ps. 76:6.)

h. Thou, which hast shown me great and sore troubles, shalt quicken me again, and shalt bring me up again from the depths of the earth. (Ps. 71:20.)

i. The Lord make his face shine upon thee, and be gracious unto thee (25): The Lord lift up his countenance upon thee, and give thee peace. (Num. 6:25, 26.) God be merciful unto us, and bless us; and cause his face to shine upon us: Selah. (Ps. 67:1.) Now therefore, O our God, hear the prayer of thy servant, and his supplications, and cause thy face to shine upon thy sanctuary that is desolate, for the Lord's sake. (Dan. 9:17.)

a. The Lord is my light and my salvation; whom shall I fear? the Lord is the strength of my life; of whom shall I be afraid? (Ps. 27:1.) But the salvation of the righteous is of the Lord: he is their strength in the time of trouble. (Ps. 37:39.)

6 I removed his shoulder from the burden: his hands were delivered from the pots.
7 Thou calledst in trouble, and I [c]delivered thee; [d]I answered thee in the secret place [7]of thunder: I proved thee at the waters of Měr'ĭ-bah. Sē'lah.

A prayer against them that oppress the church.

A Song or Psalm of [2]Ā'saph.

1 Keep not thou silence, O God: hold not thy peace, and be not [3]still, O God.
2 For, lo, [a]thine enemies make a tumult: and they that hate thee have lifted up the head.
3 They have taken [4]crafty counsel against thy people, and consulted against thy [5]hidden [b]ones.

4 I will make mention of [6]Rā'hăb [c]and [7]Băb'-ў-lon to them that know me: behold Phĭ-lĭs'tiȧ, and [8]Tўre, with [9]Ē-thĭ-ō'pĭ-ȧ; this man was born there.

5 And of Zī'ŏn it shall be said, This and that man was born in her: and the [d]highest himself shall establish her.

43 Thou hast also turned the edge of his sword, and hast not made him to stand in the battle.
44 Thou hast made his glory to cease, and cast his throne down to the ground.
45 The days of his youth hast thou shortened: thou hast [y]covered him with shame. [4]Sē'lah.
46 How long, [2]Lord? wilt thou hide thyself for ever? shall thy wrath burn like fire?
47 Remember how short my time is: wherefore hast thou made all men in vain?
48 What man is he that liveth, and shall not see death? shall he deliver his soul from the hand of the grave? Sē'lah.
49 Lord, where are thy former lovingkindnesses, which thou swarest unto [z]Dā'vid in thy truth?
50 Remember, Lord, the reproach of thy servants; how I do bear in my bosom the reproach of all the mighty people;
51 Wherewith thine enemies have reproached, O Lord; wherewith they have reproached the footsteps of thine anointed.
52 Blessed be the [2]Lord for evermore. Amen, and Amen.

[1]PSALM 90.

Moses prayeth for the knowledge and sensible experience of God's good providence.

A Prayer of Mō'ṣeṣ the man of God.

1 Lord, thou hast been [a]our dwelling place in all generations.
2 Before the [b]mountains were brought forth, or ever thou hadst formed the earth and the world, even from everlasting to everlasting, thou art God.
3 Thou turnest man to destruction; and sayest, [c]Return, ye children of men.
4 For [d]a thousand years in thy sight are but as yesterday when it is past, and as a watch in the night.
5 Thou carriest them away as with a flood; they are as a sleep: in the morning they are like grass which groweth up.
6 In [e]the morning it flourisheth, and groweth up; in the evening it is cut down, and withereth.
7 For we are [2]consumed by thine anger, and by thy wrath are we troubled.
8 Thou [f]hast set our [3]iniquities before thee, our [g]secret sins in the light of thy countenance.
9 For all our days are passed away in thy wrath: we spend our years as a tale that is told.
10 The days of our years are threescore years and ten; and if by reason of strength they be fourscore years, yet is their strength [h]labour and sorrow; for it is soon cut off, and we fly away.
11 Who knoweth the power of thine anger? even according to thy fear, so is thy wrath.
12 [i]So teach us to number our days, that we may apply [j]our hearts unto wisdom.
13 Return, O Lord, how long? and let it [4]repent [k]thee concerning thy servants.
14 O satisfy [l]us early with thy mercy; that we may rejoice and be glad all our days.
15 Make us glad according to the days wherein thou hast afflicted us, and the years wherein we have seen evil.
16 Let [m]thy work appear unto thy servants, and thy glory unto their children.
17 And let the [5]beauty [n]of the Lord our God be upon us: [o]and [6]establish thou the work of our hands upon us; yea, the work of our hands establish thou it.

Thou hast known my reproach, and my shame, and my dishonor: mine adversaries are all before thee. (Ps. 69:9, 19.)

y. My confusion is continually before me, and the shame of my face hath covered me. (Ps. 44:15.) Let them be confounded and consumed that are adversaries to my soul: let them be covered with reproach and dishonor that seek my hurt. (Ps. 71:13.) Let mine adversaries be clothed with shame, and let them cover themselves with their own confusion as with a mantle. (Ps. 109:29.)

z. Incline your ear, and come unto me: hear and your soul shall live; and I will make an everlasting covenant with you, even the sure mercies of David. (Is. 55:3.)

a. Be thou my strong habitation, whereunto I may continually resort: thou hast given commandment to save me; for thou art my rock and my fortress. (Ps. 71:3.) He that dwelleth in the secret place of the Most High shall abide under the shadow of the Almighty. (Ps. 91:1.) The eternal God is thy refuge, and underneath are the everlasting arms. (Dt. 33:27.) Although I have cast them far off among the heathen, and although I have scattered them among the countries, yet will I be to them as a little sanctuary in the countries where they shall come. (Ez. 11:16.)

d. But beloved, be not ignorant of this one thing, that one day is with the Lord as a thousand years, and a thousand years as one day. (II Pet. 3:8.)

f. These things hast thou done, and I kept silent; thou thoughtest that I was altogether such an one as thyself: but I will reprove thee, and set them in order before thine eyes. (Ps. 50:21.) i. Lord, make me to know mine end, and the measure of my days, what it is; that I may know how frail I am. (Ps. 39:4.) See then that ye walk circumspectly, not as fools, but as wise (15), Redeeming the time, because the days are evil (16). Wherefore be ye not unwise, but understanding what the will of the Lord is. (Eph. 5:15-17.) Then the man that lay with her shall give unto the damsel's father fifty shekels of silver, and she shall be his wife; because he hath humbled her, he may not put her away all his days. (Dt. 22:29.)

j. My son, if thou wilt receive my words, and hide my commandments with thee (1); So that thou incline thine ear unto wisdom, and apply thine heart to understanding (2); Yea, if thou criest after knowledge, and liftest up thy voice for understanding (3); If thou seekest her as silver, and searchest for her as hid treasures (4); Then shalt thou understand the fear of the Lord, and find the knowledge of God (5). For the Lord giveth wisdom; out of his mouth cometh knowledge and understanding. (Prov. 2:1-6.)

k. For the Lord shall judge his people, and repent himself for his servants, when he seeth that their power is gone and there is none shut up, or left. (Dt. 32:36.) Nevertheless he regarded their affliction when he heard their cry. (Ps. 106:44.) And the Lord repented of the evil which he thought to do unto his people. (Ex. 32:14.) Who satisfieth thy mouth with good things; so that thy youth is renewed like the eagle's. (Ps. 103:5.) And I will satiate the soul of the priests with fatness, and my people shall be satisfied with my goodness, saith the Lord. (Jer. 31:14.)

m. O Lord, I have heard thy speech, and was afraid: O Lord, revive thy work in the midst of the years, in the midst of the years make known; in wrath remember mercy. (Hab. 3:2.) We have heard with our ears, O God, our fathers have told us, what work thou didst in their days, in the times of old. (Ps. 44:1.) I will meditate also of all thy work, and talk of thy doings. (Ps. 77:12.) For thou, Lord, hast made me glad through thy work: I will triumph in the works of thy hands. (Ps. 92:4.) So then neither is he that planteth any thing, neither he that watereth; but God that giveth the increase. (I Cor. 3:7.)

The happy state of the godly.

1 He that dwelleth in the [2]secret [a]place of the most High shall abide under the [3][b]shadow of the Almighty.

2 I will say of the [4]Lord, He is my refuge [c]and my fortress: my God; in him will I [d]trust.

3 Surely he shall [e]deliver thee from the snare of the fowler, and from the noisome pestilence.

4 He [f]shall cover thee with his feathers, and under his wings shalt thou trust: his truth [g]shall be thy shield and buckler.

5 Thou [h]shalt not be afraid for the terror by [5]night; nor for the arrow that flieth by day;

6 Nor for the pestilence that walketh in darkness; nor for the destruction that wasteth at noonday.

7 A thousand shall fall at thy side, and ten thousand at thy right hand; but it shall not come nigh thee.

8 Only [i]with thine [6]eyes shalt thou behold and see the reward of the wicked.

9 Because thou hast made the [4]Lord, which is [c]my refuge, even the most High, thy habitation;

10 There [j]shall [7]no evil befall thee, neither shall any plague come nigh thy dwelling.

11 For he shall give his [k]angels charge over thee, to keep thee in all thy ways.

12 They shall bear thee up in their hands, lest thou dash thy foot against a stone.

13 Thou shalt tread upon the [8]lion and [9]adder: the young lion and the dragon shalt thou trample under feet.

14 Because he hath set his love upon me, therefore I will deliver him: I will set him on high, because he hath known my name.

15 [l]He shall call upon me, and [m]I will answer him: I will be with him in trouble; I will deliver him, and [n]honour him.

16 With [o]long life will I satisfy him, and shew him my salvation.

[1]PSALM 92.

The prophet exhorteth to praise God.

A Psalm or Song for the sabbath day.

1 It is a good thing to give thanks unto the [2]Lord, and to sing praises unto thy name, O most High:

2 To shew forth thy lovingkindness in the morning, and thy faithfulness every night,

3 Upon an instrument of ten strings, and upon the psaltery; upon the harp with a solemn sound.

4 For thou, [2]Lord, hast made me glad through [a]thy work: I will triumph in the works of thy hands.

5 O [2]Lord, how great are thy works! and [b]thy thoughts are very deep.

6 A [3]brutish man knoweth not; neither doth a fool understand this.

7 When [c]the wicked spring as the grass, and when all the workers of iniquity do flourish; it is that they shall be destroyed for ever:

8 But thou, [2]Lord, art most high for evermore.

9 For, lo, thine enemies, O [2]Lord, for, lo, thine enemies shall perish; all the workers of iniquity shall [d]be [4]scattered.

10 But my horn shalt thou exalt like the horn of an [5]unicorn: I shall be anointed with fresh oil.

11 Mine eye also shall see my desire on mine enemies, and mine ears shall hear my desire of the wicked that rise up against me.

12 The righteous [e]shall flourish like the palm tree: he shall grow like a cedar in Lĕb'-a-non.

Thou art my hiding place; thou shalt preserve me from trouble; thou shalt compass me about with songs of deliverance. Selah. (Ps. 32:7.)

Jesus said unto him, It is written again, Thou shalt not tempt the Lord thy God. (Mat. 4:6, 7.) Are they not all ministering spirits, sent forth to minister for them who shall be heirs of salvation? (Heb. 1:14.) For it is written, He shall give his angels charge over thee, to keep thee (10); And in their hands they shall bear thee up, lest at any time thou dash thy foot against a stone. (Dt. 6:2.)

Psalm 92.

a. Many, O Lord my God, are thy wonderful works which thou hast done, and thy thoughts which are to us-ward: they cannot be reckoned up in order unto thee: if I would declare and speak of them, they are more than can be numbered. (Ps. 40:5.) Let thy work appear unto thy servants, and thy glory unto their children. (Ps. 90:16.)

b. This also cometh forth from the Lord of hosts, which is wonderful in counsel, and excellent in working. (Is. 28:29.) The counsel of the Lord standeth for ever, the thoughts of his heart to all generations. (Ps. 33:11.) Many, O Lord my God, are thy wonderful works which thou hast done, and thy thoughts which are to us-ward: they cannot be reckoned up in order unto thee: if I would declare and speak of them, they are more than can be numbered. His branches shall spread, and his beauty shall be as the olive tree, and his smell as Lebanon. (Hos. 14:5, 6.)

13 Those that be [f]planted in the house of the [2]Lord shall flourish [g]in the courts of our God.

[1]PSALM 93.

The majesty, power, and holiness of Christ's kingdom.

1 The [2]Lord [a]reigneth, [b]he is clothed with majesty; the [2]Lord is clothed [c]with strength, wherewith he hath girded himself: the world also is stablished, that it cannot be moved.
2 Thy [d]throne is established of old: thou art from everlasting.
3 The floods have lifted up, O [2]Lord, the floods have lifted up their voice; the floods lift up their waves.
4 The [2]Lord [e]on high is mightier than the noise of many [3]waters, yea, than the mighty waves of the sea.
5 Thy testimonies are very sure: holiness [f]becometh thine house, O [2]Lord, for ever.

1 The prophet, calling for justice, complaineth of tyranny and impiety. 8 He teacheth God's providence.

1 O [2]Lord God, to whom [a]vengeance belongeth; O God, to whom vengeance belongeth, shew thyself.

5 They break in pieces thy people, O [2]Lord, and afflict thine heritage.
6 They slay the widow and the stranger, and murder the fatherless.
7 Yet they say, The [2]Lord shall not see, neither shall the God of Jā'cob regard it.
8 Understand, ye [3]brutish among the people: and ye [4]fools, when will ye be wise?
9 [e]He that planted the ear, shall he not hear? he that formed the eye, shall he not see?
10 He that chastiseth the heathen, shall not he correct? he that [f]teacheth man knowledge, shall not he know?
11 The [2]Lord [g]knoweth the thoughts of man, that they are vanity.
12 Blessed is [h]the man whom thou chastenest, O [2]Lord, and teachest him out of thy law;
13 That thou mayest give him rest from the days of adversity, until the pit be digged for the wicked.
14 For the Lord will not cast off his people, neither will he forsake his inheritance.
15 But judgment [i]shall return unto righteousness: and all the upright in heart shall follow it.
16 Who will rise up for me against the evildoers? or who will [j]stand up for me against the workers of iniquity?

f. Thy people also shall be all righteous: they shall inherit the land for ever, the branch of my planting, the work of my hands, that I may be glorified. (Is. 60:21.) And the vineyard which thy right hand hath planted, and the branch that thou madest strong for thyself. (Ps. 80:15.)

Every branch in me that beareth not fruit he taketh away: and every branch that beareth fruit he purgeth it, that it may bring forth more fruit. (Jno. 15:2.) And the fruit of righteousness is sown in peace of them that make peace. (Js. 3:18.)
i. Good and upright is the Lord: therefore will he teach sinners in the way. (Ps. 25:8.) Therefore hearken unto me, ye men of understanding: far be it from God, that he should do wickedness; and from the Almighty that he should commit iniquity. (Job 34:10.)

a. How beautiful upon the mountains are the feet of him that bringeth good tidings, that publisheth peace; that bringeth good tidings of good, that publisheth salvation; that saith unto Zion, Thy God reigneth! (Is. 52:7.) And I heard as it were the voice of a great multitude, and as the voice of many waters, and as the voice of mighty thundering, saying, Alleluia: for the Lord God omnipotent reigneth. (Rev. 19:6.) Say among the heathen that the Lord reigneth: the world also shall be established that it shall not be moved: he shall judge the people righteously. (Ps. 96:10.) The Lord reigneth; let the earth rejoice; let the multitude of isles be glad thereof. (Ps. 97:1.)

e. The Lord sitteth upon the flood; yea, the Lord sitteth King for ever. (Ps. 29:10.) Which stilleth the noise of the seas, the noise of their waves, and the tumult of the people. (Ps. 65:7.) But thou, Lord, art most high for evermore. (Ps. 92:8.)
f. Know ye not that ye are the temple of God, and that the Spirit of God dwelleth in you? (16). If any man defile the temple of God, him shall God destroy: for the temple of God is holy, which temple ye are. (I Cor. 3:16, 17.) Give unto the Lord the glory due unto his name; worship the Lord in the beauty of holiness. (Ps. 29:2.) O worship the Lord in the beauty of holiness; fear before him, all the earth. (Ps. 96:9.)

a. The sword without, and terror within shall destroy both the young man and the virgin, the suckling also with the man of gray hairs. (Dt. 32:25.) Say to them that are of a fearful heart, Be strong, fear not; behold, your God will come with vengeance, even God with a recompense; he will come and save you. (Is. 35:4.) God is jealous, and the Lord revengeth; the Lord revengeth and is furious; the Lord will take vengeance on his adversaries, and he reserveth wrath for his enemies. (Nah. 1:2.) Dearly beloved, avenge not yourselves, but rather give place unto wrath: for it is written, Vengeance is mine; I will repay, saith the Lord. (Rom. 12:19.)
b. That be far from thee to do after this manner, to slay the righteous with the wicked: and that the righteous should be as the wicked, that be far from thee: Shall not the Judge of all the earth do right? (Gen. 18:25.) The Lord is righteous in all his ways, and holy in all his works. (Ps. 145:17.) Justice and judgment are the habitation of thy throne: mercy and truth shall go before thy face. (Ps. 89:14.) Before the Lord: for he cometh to judge the earth: with righteousness shall he judge the world, and the people with equity. (Ps. 98:9.) Judge not according to the appearance, but judge righteous judgment. (Jno. 7:24.) He is the Rock, his work is perfect; for all his ways are judgment: a God of truth and without iniquity, just and right is he. (Dt. 32:4.) Also unto thee, O Lord, belongeth mercy: for thou renderest to every man according to his work. (Ps. 62:12.) Thy righteousness also, O God, is very high, who hast done great things; O God, who is like unto thee! (Ps. 71:19.)
c. Behold, as wild asses in the desert, go they forth to their work; rising betimes for a prey: the wilderness yieldeth for them and for their children. (Job 24:5.) I have seen the wicked in great power, and spreading himself like a green bay tree (35). Yet he passed away, and lo, he was not; yea, I sought him, but he could not be found. (Ps. 37:35, 36.)
d. To execute judgment upon all, and to convince all that are ungodly among them of all their ungodly deeds which they have ungodly committed, and of all their hard speeches which ungodly sinners have spoken against him. (Jude 15.)
e. And the Lord said unto him, Who hath made man's mouth? or maketh the dumb, or deaf, or seeing, or the blind? have not I the Lord? (Ex. 4:11.) The hearing ear, and the seeing eye, the Lord hath made even both of them. (Prov. 20:12.)
f. Who teacheth us more than the beasts of the earth, and maketh us wiser than the fowls of heaven? (Job 35:11.) For his God doth instruct him to discretion, and doth teach him. (Is. 28:26.)
g. For the wisdom of this world is foolishness with God. For it is written, He taketh the wise in their own craftiness (19). And again, The Lord knoweth the thoughts of the wise, that they are vain. (I Cor. 3:19, 20.) For he knoweth vain men: he seeth wickedness also; will he not then consider it? (Job. 11:11.)
h. Behold, happy is the man whom God correcteth: therefore despise not thou the chastening of the Almighty. (Job 5:17.) And ye have forgotten the exhortation which speaketh unto you as unto children, My son, despise not thou the chastening of the Lord, nor faint when thou art rebuked of him (5). For whom the Lord loveth he chasteneth, and scourgeth every son whom he receiveth. (Heb. 12:5, 6.) Thou shalt also consider in thine heart, that, as a man chasteneth his son, so the Lord thy God chasteneth thee. (Dt. 8:5.) My son, despise not the chastening of the Lord: neither be weary of his correction (11). For whom the Lord loveth he correcteth; even as a father the son in whom he delighteth. (Prov. 3:11, 12.) As many as I love, I rebuke and chasten: be zealous therefore, and repent. (Rev. 3:19.)
i. Clouds and darkness are round about him: righteousness and judgment are the habitation of his throne. (Ps. 97:2.) A bruised reed shall he not break, and the smoking flax shall he not quench: he shall bring forth judgment unto truth. (Is. 42:3.) I will bear the indignation of the Lord, because I have sinned against him, until he plead my cause, and execute judgment for me: he will bring me forth to the light, and I shall behold his righteousness. (Mic. 7:9.)
j. Arise, O Lord, disappoint him, cast him down: deliver my soul

17 Unless the [2]Lord had been my help, my soul had almost dwelt in silence.
18 When I said, My foot slippeth; [k]thy mercy, O [2]Lord, held me up.
19 In the multitude of my thoughts within me thy comforts delight my soul.
20 Shall the throne of iniquity have fellowship with thee, which frameth mischief by a law?
21 They gather themselves together against the soul of the righteous, and [l]condemn the innocent blood.
22 But the [2]Lord is my defence; and [m]my God is the rock of my refuge.
23 And he [n]shall bring upon them their own iniquity, and shall cut them off in their own wickedness; yea, the [2]Lord our God shall cut them off.

1 An exhortation to praise God, 8 and not to tempt him.

1 O come, let us sing unto the [2]Lord: let us make a joyful noise to [a]the rock of our salvation.
2 Let us come before his presence [b]with thanksgiving, and make a joyful noise unto him [c]with psalms.
3 For the [2]Lord is a great God, and a great King above all gods.
4 In his hand are the deep [3]places of the earth: the strength [3]of the hills is his also.
5 The sea is his, and he made it: and his hands formed the dry land.
6 O come, [d]let us worship and bow down: let us kneel before the [2]Lord our maker.
7 For he is our God; and we are the people of his pasture, and the sheep of his hand. [e]To day if ye will hear his voice,
8 Harden not your heart, as [f]in the provocation, and as in the day of temptation in the wilderness:
9 When your [g]fathers tempted me, proved me, and saw my work.
10 Forty [h]years long was I grieved with this generation, and said, It is a people that do err in their heart, and they have not known my ways:
11 Unto whom I sware in my wrath that they should not enter into my rest.

1 An exhortation to praise God, 4 for his greatness, 8 for his kingdom, 11 for his general judgment.

1 O sing unto the [2]Lord a new song: sing unto the [2]Lord, all the earth.
2 Sing unto the [2]Lord, bless his name; shew forth his salvation from day to day.
3 Declare his glory among the heathen, his wonders among all people.
4 For the [2]Lord is great, and greatly to be praised: he is to be feared [a]above all gods.
5 For [b]all the gods of the nations are idols: [c]but the [2]Lord made the heavens.
6 Honour and majesty are before him: strength and beauty are in his sanctuary.
7 Give [d]unto the [2]Lord, O ye kindreds of the people, give unto the Lord glory and strength.
8 Give unto the [2]Lord the glory due unto his name: bring an offering, and come into his courts.
9 O worship the [2]Lord in the beauty of holiness: [a]fear before him, all the earth.
10 Say among the heathen [e]that the [2]Lord reigneth: the world also shall be established that it shall not be moved: he shall [f]judge the people righteously.

from the wicked, which is thy sword. (Ps. 17:13.) Deliver me from the workers of iniquity, and save me from bloody men. (Ps. 59:2.)

k. And the Lord passed by before him, and proclaimed, The Lord, The Lord God, merciful and gracious, long-suffering, and abundant in goodness and truth. (Ex. 34:6.) Go and proclaim these words, toward the north, and say, Return, thou backsliding Israel, saith the Lord; and I will not cause mine anger to fall upon you: for I am merciful, saith the Lord, and will not keep anger for ever. (Jer. 3:12.) Be ye therefore merciful, as your Father also is merciful. (Luke 6:36.) And the publican, standing afar off, would not lift up so much as his eyes unto heaven, but smote upon his breast, saying, God be merciful to me a sinner. (Luke 18:13.) Hear me, O Lord; for thy loving-kindness is good; turn unto me according to the multitude of thy tender mercies. (Ps. 69:16.) m. The Lord is my rock, and my fortress, and my deliverer: my God, my strength in whom I will trust; my buckler, and the horn of my salvation, and my high tower. (Ps. 18:2.) n. But the wicked shall be cut off from the earth, and the transgressors shall be rooted out of it. (Prov. 2:22.) Tribulation and anguish, upon every soul of man that doeth evil, of the Jew first, and also of the Gentile. (Rom. 2:9.) Their sorrows shall be multiplied that hasten after another God: their drink offerings of blood will I not offer, nor take up their names into my lips. (Ps. 16:4.) Evil pursueth sinners: but to the righteous good shall be repaid. (Prov. 13:21.) Many sorrows shall be to the wicked; but he that trusteth in the Lord, mercy shall compass him about. (Ps. 32:10.) g. Because all those men which have seen my glory, and my miracles which I did in Egypt, and in the wilderness, and have tempted me now these ten times, and have not hearkened to my voice. h. Wherefore I was grieved with that generation and said, They do always err in their heart: and they have not known my ways (10). But with whom was he grieved forty years? was it not with them that had sinned, whose carcasses fell in the wilderness? (Heb. 3:10, 17.) He brought them out after that he had shown wonders and signs in the land of Egypt, and in the Red sea, and in the wilderness forty years. (Acts 7:36.) Therefore the Lord hath recompensed me according to my righteousness; according to my cleanness in his eyesight (25). And the mountain burned with fire unto the midst of heaven, with darkness, clouds, and thick darkness. (Dt. 4:11.)

b. A fiery stream issued and came forth from before him: thousand thousands ministered unto him, and ten thousand times ten thousand stood before him: the judgment was set and the books were opened. (Dan. 7:10.) Before him went the pestilence, and burning coals went forth at his feet. (Hab. 3:5.) There went up a smoke out of his nostrils, and fire out of his mouth devoured: coals were kindled by it. (Ps. 18:8.)

c. For behold the day cometh that shall burn as an oven; and all the proud, yea, and all that do wickedly, shall be stubble: and the day that cometh shall burn them up, saith the Lord of hosts, that it shall leave them neither root nor branch. They that make a graven image are all of them vanity (9). Behold, all his fellows shall be ashamed; and the workmen, they are of men: let them all be gathered together, let them stand up; yet they shall fear, and they shall be ashamed together. (Is. 44:9, 11.)

(Dan. 6:22.) And the Lord shall help them, and deliver them: he shall deliver them from the wicked, and save them because they trust in him. (Ps. 37:40.) e. It is a light thing that thou shouldest be my servant to raise up the tribes of Jacob, and to restore the preserved of Israel: I will also give thee for a light to the Gentiles, that thou mayest be my salvation unto the end of the earth. (Is. 49:6.) And all flesh shall see the salvation of God. (Luke 3:6.)

f. See f, Ps. 96.

Psalm 99.

a. Give ear O Shepherd of Israel, thou that leadest Joseph like a flock; thou that dwellest between the cherubim, shine forth. (Ps. 80:1.) 4 The [e]king's strength also loveth judgment; thou dost [f]establish equity, thou executest judgment and righteousness in Jā'cob.

5 Exalt ye the [2]Lord our God, and worship at his footstool; for he is holy.

6 Mō'ṣes and Aâr'on among his priests, and Săm'u-el among them that call upon his name; they called upon the [2]Lord, [g]and he answered them.

7 He [h]spake unto them in the [4]cloudy pillar: they kept his [i]testimonies, and the ordinance that he gave them.

8 Thou answeredst them, O [2]Lord our God: thou wast a God that [j]forgavest [5]them, though thou tookest [k]vengeance of their [6]inventions.

9 Exalt the [2]Lord our God, and worship at his holy hill; for the [2]Lord our God is holy.

An exhortation to praise God cheerfully.

A Psalm of praise.

1 Make a joyful noise unto the [2]Lord, all ye lands.

2 Serve [a]the [2]Lord with gladness: come before his presence with singing.

David maketh a vow and profession of godliness.

A Psalm of Dā'vid.

1 I will sing [a]of mercy and judgment: unto thee, O [2]Lord, will I sing.

2 I will [b]behave myself [3]wisely in a [4]perfect way. O when wilt thou come unto me? I will [c]walk within my house with a perfect heart.

3 I will set no wicked thing before mine eyes: I hate the work of them [d]that turn aside; it shall not cleave to me.

4 A [5]froward heart shall depart from me: I will not [e]know a wicked [6]person.

5 Whoso privily slandereth his neighbour, him will I cut off: him that hath an high look and a proud heart will not I suffer.

6 Mine eyes shall be upon the faithful of the land, that they may dwell with me: he that walketh in a perfect way, he shall serve me.

7 He that worketh deceit shall not dwell within my house: he that telleth lies shall not tarry in my sight.

8 I will [f]early destroy all the wicked of the land; that I may cut off all [g]wicked doers from the [7]city of the [2]Lord.

b. And hide not thy face from thy servant; for I am in trouble: hear me speedily. (Ps. 69:17.)

3 [c]For my days are consumed like smoke, and [d]my bones are burned as an hearth.
4 My heart is smitten, and withered like grass; so that I forget to eat my bread.
5 By reason of the voice of my groaning my bones cleave to my skin.
6 I am like a [3]pelican [e]of the wilderness: I am like an owl of the desert.
7 I watch, and am as a sparrow alone upon the house top.
8 Mine enemies reproach me all the day; and they that are mad against me [f]are sworn against me.
9 For I have eaten ashes like bread, and mingled my drink with weeping, 10 Because of thine indignation and thy wrath: for [g]thou hast lifted me up, and cast me down.
11 My days are like a shadow that declineth; and [h]I am withered like grass.
12 But thou, O [2]Lord, shalt [i]endure for ever; and thy remembrance unto all generations.
13 Thou shalt arise, and have mercy upon Zī'ŏn: for the time to favour her, yea, the set [4]time, is come.
14 For thy servants take pleasure in her stones, and favour the dust thereof.
15 So the heathen shall [k]fear the name of the Lord, and all the kings of the earth thy glory.
16 When the Lord shall build up Zī'ŏn, he shall appear in his glory.
17 He [l]will regard the prayer of the destitute, and not despise their prayer.
18 This shall [m]be [5]written for the generation to come: and [n]the people which shall be created shall praise the [2]Lord.
19 For he hath [o]looked down from the height of his sanctuary; from heaven did the [2]Lord behold the earth;
20 To hear the groaning of the prisoner; to loose those that are appointed to death;
21 To declare the name of the [2]Lord in Zī'ŏn, and his praise in Je-rū'sa-lĕm; 22 When the [p]people are gathered together, and the kingdoms, to serve the [2]Lord.
23 He weakened my strength in the way; he shortened my days.
24 I said, O my God, take me not away in the midst of my days: thy years are throughout all generations.
25 Of [q]old hast thou laid the foundation of the earth: and the heavens are the work of thy hands.
26 They [r]shall perish, but thou shalt endure: yea, all of them shall wax old like a garment; as a vesture shalt thou change them, and they shall be changed:
27 But [s]thou art the same, and thy years shall have no end.
28 The children of thy servants shall continue, and their seed shall be established before thee.

2. Jehovah, the covenant-name of God.

3. An allusion to the second day's work. (Gen. 1:6, 7.)

2 Who coverest thyself with light as with a garment: who [3]stretchest out the heavens like a curtain:
3 Who [a]layeth [4]the beams of his chambers in the waters: who maketh the clouds his chariot: who walketh upon the wings of the wind:
4 Who maketh his angels spirits; his ministers a flaming [5]fire:
5 Who laid the foundations of the earth, that it should not be removed for ever.
6 Thou coveredst it with the deep as with a garment: the waters stood above the mountains.
7 At thy [b]rebuke they fled; at the voice of thy thunder they hasted away.
8 They go up by the mountains; they go down by the valleys unto the place which thou hast founded for them.
9 Thou hast set a bound [c]that they may not pass over; that they turn not again to cover the earth.
10 He sendeth the springs into the valleys, which run among the hills.
11 They give drink to every beast of the field: the wild asses quench their thirst.
12 By them shall the fowls of the heaven have their habitation, which sing among the branches.
13 He watereth the hills from his chambers: the earth is satisfied with the fruit of thy works.
14 [d]He causeth the grass to grow for the cattle, and herb for the service of man: that he may bring fortn [e]food out of the earth;
15 And wine that maketh glad the heart of man, and oil to make his face to shine, and bread which strengtheneth man's heart.
16 The trees of the [2]Lord are full of sap; the cedars of Lĕb'a-non, which he hath planted;
17 Where the birds make their nests: as for the stork, the fir trees are her house.
18 The high hills are a refuge for the wild goats; and the rocks for the conies.

at the Red sea. (Ps. 106:7.) He is the Rock, his work is perfect: for all his ways are judgment: a God of truth and without iniquity, just and right is he. (Dt. 32:4.)

f. And the Lord passed by before him, and proclaimed, The Lord, The Lord God, merciful and gracious, long-suffering, and abundant in goodness and truth. (Ex. 34:6.) But thou, O Lord, art a God full of compassion, and gracious, long-suffering, and plenteous in mercy and truth. (Ps. 86:15.) The Lord is long-suffering, and of great mercy, forgiving iniquity and transgression, and by no means clearing the guilty, visiting the iniquity of the fathers upon the children unto the third and fourth generation. (Num. 14:18.) And refused to obey, neither were mindful of thy wonders that thou didst among them; but hardened their necks, and in their rebellion appointed a captain to return to their bondage: but thou art a God ready to pardon, gracious and merciful, slow to anger, and of great kindness, and forsookest them not. (Neh. 9:17.) (Though Jesus himself baptised not, but his disciples.) (Jno. 4:2.)

g. Who is a God like unto thee, that pardoneth iniquity, and passeth by the transgression of the remnant of his heritage? he retaineth not his anger for ever, because he delighteth in mercy. (Mic. 7:18.) For his anger endureth but a moment; in his favor is life: weeping may endure for a night, but joy cometh in the morning. (Ps. 30:5.) For I will not contend for ever, neither will I be always wroth: for the spirit should fail before me, and the souls which I have made. (Is. 57:16.)

h. And after all that is come upon us for our evil deeds, and for our great trespass, seeing that thou our God hast punished us less than our iniquities deserve, and hast given us such deliverance as this. (Ezra 9:13.) It is of the Lord's mercies that we are not consumed, because his compassions fail not. (Lam. 3:22.)

i. See k, Ps. 94.

j. See f, Ps. 60.

k. I, even I, am he that blotteth out thy transgressions for mine own sake, and will not remember thy sins. (Is. 43:25.) In whom we have redemption through his blood, the forgiveness of sins, according to the riches of his grace. (Eph. 1:7.) Behold, for peace I had great bitterness: but thou hast in love to my soul delivered it from the pit of corruption: for thou hast cast all my sins behind thy back. (Is. 38:17.) For then must he often have suffered since the foundation of the world: but now once in the end of the world hath he appeared to put away sin by the sacrifice of himself. (Heb. 9:26.)

l. And they shall be mine, saith the Lord of hosts, in that day when I make up my jewels; and I will spare them, as a man spareth his own son that serveth him. (Mal. 3:17.)

m. Therefore shall ye keep my commandments, and do them: I am the Lord. (Lev. 22:31.) My son, forget not my law; but let thine heart keep my commandments. (Prov. 3:1.) Thou shalt keep therefore his statutes, and his commandments, which I command thee this day, that it may go well with thee, and with thy children after thee, and that thou mayest prolong thy days upon the earth, which the Lord thy God giveth thee, for ever. (Dt. 4:40.) Therefore shall ye keep all the commandments which I command you this day, that ye may be strong, and go in and possess the land, whither ye go to possess it. (Dt. 11:8.) But it shall come to pass, if thou wilt not hearken unto the voice of the Lord thy God, to observe to do all his commandments and his statutes which I command thee this day; that all these curses shall come upon thee, and overtake thee. (Dt. 28:15.) That thou mightest fear the Lord thy God, to keep all his statutes and his commandments, which I command thee, thou, and thy son, and thy son's son, all the days of thy life; and that thy days may be prolonged. (Dt. 6:2.)

n. And Jacob went on his way, and the angels of God met him (1). And when Jacob saw them, he said, This is God's host: and he called the name of that place Mahanaim. (Gen. 32:1, 2.) Praise ye him, all his angels: praise ye him, all his hosts. (Ps. 148:2.) And suddenly there was with the angel a multitude of the heavenly host praising God, and saying. (Luke 2:13.)

o. A fiery stream issued and came forth from before him: thousand thousands ministered unto him, and ten thousand times ten thousand stood before him: the judgment was set, and the books were opened. (Dan. 7:10.) Who maketh his angels spirits; his ministers a flaming fire. (Ps. 104:4.)

a. It is he that buildeth his stories in the heaven, and hath founded his truth in the earth; he that calleth for the waters of the sea, and poureth them out upon the face of the earth: The Lord is his name. (Amos 9:6.)

b. Then the channels of waters were seen, and the foundations of the world were discovered at thy rebuke, O Lord, at the blast of the breath of thy nostrils. (Ps. 18:15.) He rebuked the Red sea also, and it was dried up: so he led them through the depths, as through the wilderness. (Ps. 106:9.) Wherefore, when I came, was there no man? when I called, was there none to answer? Is my hand shortened at all, that it cannot redeem? or have I no power to deliver? behold, at my rebuke I dry up the sea, I make the rivers a wilderness: their fish stinketh, because there is no water, and dieth for thirst. (Is. 50:2.)

c. And I will establish my covenant with you; neither shall all flesh be cut off any more by the waters of the flood; neither shall there any more be a flood to destroy the earth. (Gen. 9:11.)

d. And God said, Behold, I have given you every herb bearing seed, which is upon the face of all the earth, and every tree, in the which is the fruit of a tree yielding seed; to you it shall be for meat (29). And to every beast of the earth, and to every fowl of the air, and to every thing that creepeth upon the earth, wherein there is life, I have given every green herb for meat: and it was so. (Gen. 1:29, 30.)

e. He giveth to the beast his food, and to the young ravens which cry. (Ps. 147:9.)

19 [f]He appointed the moon for seasons: the sun knoweth his going down.
20 Thou makest darkness, and it is night: wherein all the beasts of the forest do creep forth.
21 The young lions roar after their prey, and seek their meat from God.
22 The sun ariseth, they gather themselves together, and lay them down in their dens.
23 Man goeth forth unto his work and to his labour until the evening.
24 O [2]Lord, how manifold are thy works! [g]in wisdom hast thou made them all: the earth is full of thy riches.
25 So is this great and wide sea, wherein are things creeping innumerable, both small and great beasts.
26 There go the ships: there is that [6][h]leviathan, whom thou hast made to play therein.
27 These wait all upon thee; that thou mayest give them their meat in due season.
28 That thou givest them they gather: thou openest thine hand, they are filled with good.
29 Thou hidest thy face, they are troubled: thou takest away their breath, they die, and return to their dust.
30 Thou [i]sendest forth thy spirit, they are created: and thou renewest the face of the earth.
31 The glory of the [2]Lord shall endure for ever: the Lord shall rejoice in his works.
32 He looketh on the earth, and it trembleth: he toucheth the hills, and they smoke.
33 I will sing unto the [2]Lord as long as I live: I will sing praise to my God while I have my being.
34 My meditation of him shall be sweet: I will be glad in the [2]Lord.
35 Let [j]the sinners be consumed out of the earth, and let the wicked be no more. Bless thou the [2]Lord, O my soul. Praise ye the [2]Lord.

[1]PSALM 105.

1 An exhortation to praise God. 7 God's providence over Abraham, 16 over Joseph, 23 over Jacob in Egypt, 26 over Moses delivering the Israelites, 37 over the Israelites brought out of Egypt.

6. Sea monsters.

Psalm 105.

1. This Ps. was written by David on the occasion of the second removal of the ark. The first 15 vs. are given in I Chr. 16:8-22.

2. The same as Isaiah 12:4. Three forms of glorifying God are mentioned in this verse, viz., give thanks, call upon his name, teach his deeds.

3. Jehovah, the covenant-name of God.

4. Same as for ever.

5. Alluding to Pharaoh and Abimelech. (Gen. 12-17)—"And Jehovah plagued Pharaoh and his house with great plagues, because of Sarah, Abram's wife." (Gen. 20:3)—"But God came to Abimelech in a dream of the night and said to him, Behold thou art but a dead man, because of the woman whom thou hast taken, for she is a man's wife."

6. By his will.

1 O [a]give [b]thanks [2]unto the [3]Lord; call upon his name: make known his deeds among the people.
2 Sing unto him, sing psalms unto him: [c]talk ye of all his wondrous works.
3 Glory ye in his holy name: let the heart of them rejoice [d]that seek the [3]Lord.
4 Seek the [3]Lord, and his strength: seek his face evermore.
5 Remember his marvellous works that he hath done; his wonders, and the judgments of his mouth;
6 O ye seed of Ā'bră-hăm his servant, ye children of Jā'cob his chosen.
7 He is the [3]Lord our God; [e]his judgments are in all the earth.
8 He hath [f]remembered his covenant for ever, the word which he commanded to a thousand [4]generations.
9 Which [g]covenant he made with Ā'bră-hăm, and his oath unto Ī'ṣaac;
10 And confirmed the same unto Jā'cob for a law, and to Ĭs'ra-el for an everlasting covenant:
11 Saying, [h]Unto thee will I give the land of Cā'năan, the lot of your inheritance:
12 When [i]they were but a few men in number; yea, very few, and strangers in it.
13 When they went from one nation to another, from one kingdom to another people;
14 He [j]suffered no man to do them wrong: yea, [k]he reproved [5]kings for their sakes;
15 Saying, Touch not mine anointed, and do my prophets no harm.
16 Moreover he called for a famine upon the land: he brake the whole staff of bread.
17 He sent a man before them, even Jō'ṣeph, who was sold for a servant:
18 Whose feet they hurt with fetters: he was laid in iron:
19 Until the time that his word came: the word of the [3]Lord tried him.
20 The king sent and loosed him; even the ruler of the people, and let him go free.
21 He made him lord of his house, and ruler of all his substance:
22 To bind his princes at his [6]pleasure; and teach his senators wisdom.

f. And God said, Let there be lights in the firmament of the heaven to divide the day from the night; and let them be for signs, and for seasons, and for days, and years. (Gen. 1:14.)

g. To him that by wisdom made the heavens: for his mercy endureth for ever. (Ps. 136:5.) The Lord by wisdom hath founded the earth; by understanding hath he established the heavens. (Prov. 3:19.) He hath made the earth by his power, he hath established the world by his wisdom, and hath stretched out the heavens by his discretion. (Jer. 10:12.)

h. Canst thou draw out leviathan with an hook? or his tongue with a cord which thou lettest down? (Job 41:1.)

i. Then said he unto me, Prophesy unto the wind, prophesy, son of man, and say to the wind, Thus saith the Lord God; Come from the four winds, O breath, and breathe upon these slain, that they may live. (Ez. 37:9.)

j. But the wicked shall be cut off from the earth, and the transgressors shall be rooted out of it. (Prov. 2:22.) Tribulation and anguish, upon every soul of man that doeth evil, of the Jew first, and also of the Gentile. (Rom. 2:9.) Their sorrows shall be multiplied that hasten after another God: their drink offerings of blood will I not offer, nor take up their names into my lips. (Ps. 16:4.) Evil pursueth sinners: but to the righteous good shall be repaid. (Prov. 13:21.) Many sorrows shall be to the wicked: but he that trusteth in the Lord, mercy shall compass him about. (Ps. 32:10.) For, lo, they that are far from thee shall perish: thou hast destroyed all them that go a whoring from thee. (Ps. 73:27.)

a. And in that day shall ye say, Praise the Lord, call upon his name, declare his doings among the people, make mention that his name is exalted. (Is. 12:4.) Praise ye the Lord. O give thanks unto the Lord; for he is good: for his mercy endureth for ever. (Ps. 106:1.) O give thanks unto the Lord; for he is good; for his mercy endureth for ever. (I Chr. 16:34.)

b. Moses and Aaron among his priests, and Samuel among them that call upon his name; they called upon the Lord, and he answered them. (Ps. 99:6.)

c. Make me to understand the way of thy precepts: so shall I talk of thy wondrous works. (Ps. 119:27.) I will speak of the glorious honor of thy majesty, and of thy wondrous works. (Ps. 145:5.)

d. Ask, and it shall be given you; seek, and ye shall find; knock, and it shall be opened unto you. (Mat. 7:7.) And they that know thy name will put their trust in thee: for thou, Lord, hast not forsaken them that seek thee. (Ps. 9:10.) And he went out to meet Asa, and said unto him, Hear ye me, Asa, and all Judah and Benjamin; The Lord is with you, while ye be with him; and if ye seek him, he will be found of you; but if ye forsake him, he will forsake you. (II Chr. 15:2.) I sought the Lord, and he heard me, and delivered me from all my fears. (Ps. 34:4.)

e. With my soul have I desired thee in the night; yea, with my spirit within me will I seek thee early: for when thy judgments are in the earth, the inhabitants of the world will learn righteousness. (Is. 26:9.)

f. To perform the mercy promised to our fathers, and to remember his holy covenant. (Luke 1:72.) And he remembered for them his covenant, and repented according to the multitude of his mercies. (Ps. 106:45.)

g. Wherein God, willing more abundantly to show unto the heirs of promise the immutability of his counsel, confirmed it by an oath. (Heb. 6:17.) And I will make my covenant between me and thee, and will multiply thee exceedingly. (Gen. 17:2.) And said, By myself have I sworn, saith the Lord, for because thou hast done this thing, and hast not withheld thy son, thine only son (16). That in blessing I will bless thee, and in multiplying I will multiply thy seed as the stars of the heaven, and as the sand which is upon the sea shore; and thy seed shall possess the gate of his enemies (17.) And in thy seed shall all the nations of the earth be blessed; because thou hast obeyed my voice. (Gen. 22:16-18.)

h. In the same day the Lord made a covenant with Abram, saying, Unto thy seed have I given this land, from the river of Egypt unto the great river, the river Euphrates. (Gen. 15:18.)

i. The Lord did not set his love upon you, nor choose you, because ye were more in number than any people; for ye were the fewest of all people. (Dt. 7:7.) And Jacob said to Simeon and Levi, Ye have troubled me, to make me to stink among the inhabitants of the land, among the Canaanites and the Perizzites: and I being few in number, they shall gather themselves together against me, and slay me; and I shall be destroyed, I and my house. (Gen. 34:30.)

j. And they journeyed: and the terror of God was upon the cities that were round about them, and they did not pursue after the sons of Jacob. (Gen. 35:5.) Now therefore restore the man his wife; for he is a prophet, and he shall pray for thee, and thou shalt live: and if thou restore her not, know thou that thou shalt surely die, thou, and all that are thine. (Gen. 20:7.)

k. And the Lord plagued Pharaoh and his house with great plagues because of Sarai, Abram's wife. (Gen. 12:17.) But God came to Abimelech in a dream by night, and said to him, Behold, thou art but a dead man, for the woman which thou hast taken; for she is a man's wife (3). Now therefore restore the man his wife; for he is a prophet, and he shall pray for thee, and thou shalt live: and if thou restore her not, know thou that thou shalt surely die, thou, and all that are thine. (Gen. 20:3, 7.)

23 Ĭs'ra-el also came into Ē'ġўpt; and Jā'cob sojourned in the land [7]of Hăm.
24 And he increased his people greatly; and made them stronger than their enemies.
25 He turned their heart to hate his people, to deal subtilly with his servants.
26 He sent Mō'şeş his servant; and Aâr'on whom he had chosen.
27 They shewed his signs among them, and wonders in the land of Hăm.
28 He sent darkness, and made it dark; and [l]they rebelled not against his word.
29 He turned their waters into blood, and slew their fish.
30 Their land brought forth frogs in abundance, in the chambers of their kings.
31 He spake, and there came divers sorts of flies, and lice in all their coasts.
32 He gave them hail for rain, and flaming fire in their land.
33 He smote their vines also and their fig trees; and brake the trees of their coasts.
34 He spake, and the locusts came, and caterpillers, and that without number, 35 And did eat up all the herbs in their land, and devoured the fruit of their ground.
36 He smote also all the firstborn in their land, [m]the chief of all their strength.
37 He brought them forth also with silver and gold: and there was not one feeble person among their tribes.
38 Ē'ġўpt was glad when they departed: for the fear of them fell upon them.
39 [n]He spread a cloud for a covering; and fire to give light in the night.
40 The [o]people asked, and he brought quails, and satisfied them with the bread [8]of heaven.
41 He [p]opened the [8]rock, and the waters gushed out; they ran in the dry places like a river.
42 For he remembered [q]his holy promise, and Ā'bră-hăm his servant.
43 And he brought forth his people with joy, and his chosen with gladness:
44 And gave them the lands of the heathen: and they inherited the labour of the people;
45 That [r]they might observe his statutes, and keep his laws. Praise ye the [3]Lord.

7. Called from Ham, the father of Mizraim.

8. Manna.

9. Referring to Horeb. (Ex. 17:6) —"Behold I will stand before thee there, upon the rock in Horeb, and thou shalt smite the rock and there shall come water out of it, that the people may drink."

Psalm 106.

1. This Ps. was originally written by David as part of Ps. 105, on the occasion of the removal of the ark, but it was afterward divided into separate parts to serve different occasions. The object of this Ps. is to arouse the people to public worship and the faithful observance of the covenant.

2. Jehovah, the covenant-name of God.

3. The character of the man who shall enjoy true happiness.

[1]PSALM 106.

The story of the people's rebellion, and God's mercy.

1 Praise ye the [2]Lord. O give thanks unto the [2]Lord; for he is [a]good: for his mercy endureth for ever.
2 Who [b]can utter the mighty acts of the [2]Lord? who can shew forth all his praise?
3 Blessed [3]are they that [c]keep judgment, and he that [d]doeth righteousness at all times.
4 Remember me, O [2]Lord, with the favour [e]that thou bearest unto thy people: O visit me with thy salvation;
5 That I may see the good of thy chosen, that I may rejoice in the gladness of thy nation, that I may glory with thine inheritance.
6 We [f]have sinned with our fathers, we have committed iniquity, we have done wickedly.
7 Our fathers understood not thy wonders in Ē'ġўpt; they remembered not the multitude of thy mercies; but provoked him at the sea, even at the Red sea.
8 Nevertheless he saved them [g]for his name's sake, that he might make his mighty power to be known.
9 He [h]rebuked the Red sea also, and it was dried up: so he led them through the depths, as through the wilderness.
10 And he saved them from the hand of him that hated them, and redeemed them from the hand of the enemy.
11 And the waters covered their enemies: there was not one of them left.
12 Then believed they his words; they sang his praise.
13 They soon forgat [i]his works; they waited not for his counsel:
14 But [j]lusted exceedingly in the wilderness, and tempted God in the desert.

---

l. He spake unto them in the cloudy pillar: they kept his testimonies, and the ordinance that he gave them. (Ps. 99:7.)

m. Reuben, thou art my firstborn, my might, and the beginning of my strength, the excellency of dignity, and the excellency of power. (Gen. 49.3.) Who smote the firstborn of Egypt, both of man and beast. (Ps. 135:8.) To him that smote Egypt in their firstborn: for his mercy endureth for ever. (Ps. 136:10.)

n. And the Lord went before them by the day in a pillar of a cloud, to lead them the way; and by night in a pillar of fire, to give them light; to go by day and night. (Ex. 13:21.) In the daytime also he led them with a cloud, and all the night with a light of fire. (Ps. 78:14.) And the Lord will create upon every dwelling place of mount Zion, and upon her assemblies, a cloud and smoke by day, and the shining of a flaming fire by night: for upon all the glory shall be a defence. (Is. 4:5.)

o. I have heard the murmurings of the children of Israel: speak unto them, saying, At even ye shall eat flesh, and in the morning ye shall be filled with bread; and ye shall know that I am the Lord your God. (Ex. 16:12.)

p. And did all drink the same spiritual drink: for they drank of that spiritual Rock that followed them: and that Rock was Christ. (I Cor. 10:4.)

q. And also that nation, whom they shall serve, will I judge: and afterward shall they come out with great substance. (Gen. 15:14.)

r. Now therefore hearken, O Israel, unto the statutes and unto the judgments, which I teach you, for to do them, that ye may live, and go in and possess the land which the Lord God of your fathers giveth you. (Dt. 4:1.)

a. And he said unto him, Why callest thou me good? there is none good but one, that is, God: but if thou wilt enter into life, keep the commandments. (Mat. 19:17.) For the Lord is good; his mercy is everlasting; and his truth endureth to all generations. (Ps. 100:5.)

b. Many, O Lord my God, are thy wonderful works which thou hast done, and thy thoughts which are to us-ward: they cannot be reckoned up in order unto thee: if I would declare and speak of them, they are more than can be numbered. (Ps. 40:5.)

c. Jesus said unto him, Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy mind. (Mat. 22:37.) And thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thine heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy might. (Dt. 6:5.) And now, Israel, what doth the Lord thy God require of thee, but to fear the Lord thy God, to walk in all his ways, and to love him, and to serve the Lord thy God with all thy heart and with all thy soul. (Dt. 10:12.) My son, give me thine heart, and let thine eyes observe my ways. (Prov. 23:26.)

d. Lord, who shall abide in thy tabernacle? who shall dwell in thy holy hill? (1). He that walketh uprightly and worketh righteousness, and speaketh the truth in his heart. (Ps. 15:1, 2.) And herein do I exercise myself, to have always a conscience void of offence toward God, and toward men. (Acts 24:16.) And let us not be weary in well doing: for in due season we shall reap, if we faint not. (Gal. 6:9.)

e. For they got not the land in possession by their own sword, neither did their own arm save them: but thy right hand, and thine arm, and the light of thy countenance, because thou hadst a favor unto them. (Ps. 44:3.) Look thou upon me, and be merciful unto me, as thou usest to do unto those that love thy name. (Ps. 119:132.)

f. We have sinned, and have committed iniquity, and have done wickedly, and have rebelled, even by departing from thy precepts and from thy judgments. (Dan. 9:5.) Yet if they shall bethink themselves in the land whither they were carried captives, and repent, and make supplication unto thee in the land of them that carried them captives, saying, We have sinned, and have done perversely, we have committed wickedness. (I Ks. 8:47.) Since the days of our fathers have we been in a great trespass unto this day; and for our iniquities have we, our kings, and our priests, been delivered into the hand of the kings of the lands, to the sword, to captivity, and to a spoil, and to confusion of face, as it is this day. (Ezra 9:7.) We have dealt very corruptly against thee, and have not kept the commandments, nor the statutes, nor the judgments which thou commandest thy servant Moses. (Neh. 1:7.) We lie down in our shame, and our confusion covereth us: for we have sinned against the Lord our God, we and our fathers, from our youth even unto this day, and have not obeyed the voice of the Lord our God. (Jer. 3:25.)

g. But I wrought for my name's sake, that it should not be polluted before the heathen in whose sight I brought them out. (Ez. 20:14.)

h. He rebuketh the sea, and maketh it dry, and drieth up all the rivers: Bashan languisheth and Carmel and the flower of Lebanon languisheth. (Nah. 1:4.) Then he remembered the days of old, Moses, and his people, saying, Where is he that brought them out of the sea with the shepherd of his flock? where is he that put his Holy Spirit within him? (Is. 63:11.)

i. And the people murmured against Moses, saying, What shall we drink? (Ex. 15:24.) And the whole congregation of the children of Israel murmured against Moses and Aaron in the wilderness. (Ex. 16:2.) Wherefore the people did chide with Moses, and said, Give us water that we may drink. And Moses said unto them, Why chide ye with me? wherefore do ye tempt the Lord? (Ex. 17:2.)

j. And they tempted God in their heart by asking meat for their lust. (Ps. 78:18.) And the mixed multitude that was among them fell a lusting: and the children of Israel also wept again, and said, Who shall give us flesh to eat? (Num. 11:4.) Now these things were our examples, to the intent we should not lust after evil things, as they also lusted (6). Neither let us tempt Christ, as some of them also tempted, and were destroyed of serpents. (I Cor. 10:6, 9.) Wherefore the people did chide with Moses, and said, Give us water that we may drink. And Moses said unto them, Why chide ye with me? wherefore do ye tempt the Lord? (Ex. 17:2.)

15 And he gave [k]them their request; but sent [l]leanness into their soul.
16 They envied Mō'şeş also in the camp, and Aâr'on the saint of the [2]Lord.
17 The earth opened and swallowed up Dā'than, and covered the company of A-bī'răm.
18 And a fire was kindled in their company; the flame [m]burned up the wicked.
19 They [n]made a calf in Hō'reb, and worshipped the molten image.
20 Thus [o]they changed their glory into the similitude of an ox that eateth grass.
21 They [i]forgat God their saviour, which had done great things in Ē'gўpt;
22 Wondrous works in the land of Hăm, and terrible things by the Red sea.
23 Therefore he said that he would destroy them, had not Mō'şeş his chosen stood [p]before him in the breach, to turn away his wrath, lest he should destroy them.
24 Yea, they despised the pleasant land, they believed not his word:
25 But murmured in their tents, and hearkened not unto the voice of the [2]Lord.
26 Therefore he lifted up [q]his hand against them, to overthrow them in the wilderness:
27 To overthrow their seed also among the nations, and to scatter them in the lands.
28 They [r]joined themselves also unto Bā'al-pē'or, and ate the sacrifices of the dead.
29 Thus they provoked him to anger with their inventions: and the plague brake in upon them.

4. The waters of Meribah.

5. The first step in the sin of Moses—he allowed his meekness to give way to anger.

30 Then stood up Phĭn'e-has, and executed judgment: and so the plague was stayed.
31 And that [s]was counted unto him for righteousness unto all generations for evermore.
32 They angered him also at the waters of [t]strife, [t]so that it went ill with Mō'şeş for their sakes:
33 Because they provoked [5]his spirit, so that he [u]spake unadvisedly with his lips.
34 They [v]did not destroy the nations, concerning [w]whom the [2]Lord commanded them:
35 But were mingled among the heathen, and learned their works.
36 And [x]they served their idols: which were a snare unto them.
37 Yea, [y]they sacrificed their sons and their daughters unto devils, 38 And shed innocent blood, even the blood of their sons and of their daughters, whom they sacrificed unto the idols of Cā'năan: and [z]the land was polluted with blood.
39 Thus were they [aa]defiled with their own works, and went a whoring with their own inventions.
40 Therefore was the wrath [bb]of the [2]Lord kindled against his people, insomuch that he abhorred his own inheritance.
41 And [cc]he gave them into the hand of the heathen; and they that hated them ruled over them.
42 Their enemies also oppressed them, and they were brought into subjection under their hand.

k. So they did eat, and were well filled: for he gave them their own desire. (Ps. 78:29.) And there went forth a wind from the Lord, and brought quails from the sea, and let them fall by the camp, as it were a day's journey on this side, and as it were a day's journey on the other side, round about the camp, and as it were two cubits high upon the face of the earth. (Num. 11:31.)

l. Therefore shall the Lord, the Lord of hosts, send among his fat ones leanness; and under his glory he shall kindle a burning like the burning of a fire. (Is. 10:16.)

m. Tribulation and anguish, upon every soul of man that doeth evil, of the Jew first, and also the Gentile. (Rom. 2:9.) Their sorrows shall be multiplied that hasten after another god: their drink offerings of blood will I not offer nor take up their names into my lips. (Ps. 16:4.) Evil pursueth sinners: but to the righteous good shall be repaid. (Prov. 13:21.) Many sorrows shall be to the wicked: but he that trusteth in the Lord, mercy shall compass about him. (Ps. 32:10.) For, lo, they that are far from thee shall perish: thou hast destroyed all them that go a whoring from thee. (Ps. 73:27.)

n. And he received them at their hand and fashioned it with a graving tool, after he had made it a molten calf: and they said, These be thy gods, O Israel, which brought thee up out of the land of Egypt. (Ex. 32:4.)

o. And changed the glory of the uncorruptible God into an image made like to corruptible man, and to birds, and four-footed beasts, and creeping things. (Rom. 1:23.)

p. And Moses besought the Lord his God, and said, Lord, why doth thy wrath wax hot against thy people, which thou hast brought forth out of the land of Egypt with great power, and with a mighty hand? (11). And the Lord repented of the evil which he thought to do unto his people. (Ex. 32:11, 14.) Thus I fell down before the Lord forty days and forty nights, as I fell down at the first; because the Lord had said he would destroy you (25). I prayed therefore unto the Lord, and said, O Lord God, destroy not thy people and thine inheritance, which thou hast redeemed through thy greatness, which thou hast brought forth out of Egypt with a mighty hand (26). Remember thy servants, Abraham, Isaac and Jacob; look not unto the stubbornness of this people, nor to their wickedness, nor to their sin (27). Lest the land whence thou broughtest us out say, Because the Lord was not able to bring them into the land which he promised them, and because he hated them, he hath brought them out to slay them in the wilderness (28). Yet they are thy people and thine inheritance, which thou broughtest out by thy mighty power and by thy stretched out arm. (Dt. 9:25-29.)

q. Unto whom I swear in my wrath that they should not enter into my rest. (Ps. 95:11.) For we which have believed do enter into rest, as he said, As I have sworn in my wrath, if they shall enter into my rest: although the works were finished from the foundation of the world. (Heb. 4:3.) Say unto them, As truly as I live, saith the Lord, as ye have spoken in mine ears, so will I do to you (28): Your carcasses shall fall in this wilderness; and all that were numbered of you, according to your whole number, from twenty years old and upward, which have murmured against me (29). Doubtless ye shall not come into the land, concerning which I sware to make you dwell therein, save Caleb the son of Jephunneh, and Joshua the son of Nun (30.) But your little ones, which ye said should be a prey, them will I bring in, and they shall know the land which ye have despised (31). But as for you, your carcasses, they shall fall in this wilderness (32). And your children shall wander in the wilderness forty years, and bear your whoredoms, until your carcasses be wasted in the wilderness (33). After the number of the days in which ye searched the land, even forty days, each day for a year, shall ye bear your iniquity, even forty years, and ye shall know my breach of promise (34). I the Lord have said, I will surely do it unto all this evil congregation, that are gathered together against me: in this wilderness they shall be consumed, and there they shall die. (Num. 14:28-35.)

r. I found Israel like grapes in the wilderness; I saw your fathers as the first-ripe in the fig tree at her first time: but they went to Baal-peor, and separated themselves unto that shame; and their abominations were according as they loved. (Hos. 9:10.)

s. And he believed in the Lord; and he counted it to him for righteousness. (Gen. 15:6.) For what saith the scripture? Abraham believed God, and it was counted unto him for righteousness (3). Cometh this blessedness then upon the circumcision only, or upon the uncircumcision also? for we say that faith was reckoned to Abraham for righteousness. (Rom. 4:3, 9.) Even as Abraham believed God, and it was accounted to him for righteousness. (Gal. 3:6.) Phinehas, the son of Eleazar, the son of Aaron the priest, hath turned my wrath away from the children of Israel, while he was zealous for my sake among them, that I consumed not the children of Israel in my jealousy (11). Wherefore say, Behold, I give unto him my covenant of peace (12). And he shall have it and his seed after him, even the covenant of an everlasting priesthood; because he was zealous for his God, and made an atonement for the children of Israel. (Num. 25:11-13.)

t. Also the Lord was angry with me for your sakes, saying, Thou also shalt not go in thither. (Dt. 1:37.)

u. For in many things we offend all. If any man offend not in word, the same is a perfect man, and able also to bridle the whole body. (Js. 3:2.)

v. And the children of Benjamin did not drive out the Jebusites that inhabited Jerusalem; but the Jebusites dwell with the children of Benjamin in Jerusalem unto this day. (Jud. 1:21.)

w. And when the Lord thy God shall deliver them before thee; thou shalt smite them, and utterly destroy them; thou shalt make no covenant with them, nor show mercy unto them. (Dt. 7:2.)

x. And they forsook the Lord God of their fathers, which brought them out of the land of Egypt, and followed other gods, of the gods of the people that were round about them, and bowed themselves unto them, and provoked the Lord to anger. (Jud. 2:12.)

y. Thou shalt not do so unto the Lord thy God: for every abomination to the Lord, which he hateth, have they done unto their gods; for even their sons and their daughters they have burnt in the fire to their gods. (Dt. 12:31.) They sacrifice unto devils, not to God; to gods whom they knew not, to new gods that came newly up, whom your fathers feared not. (Dt. 32:17.) Moreover thou hast taken thy sons and thy daughters, whom thou hast borne unto me, and these hast thou sacrificed unto them to be devoured. Is this of thy whoredoms a small matter (20), That thou hast slain my children, and delivered them to cause them to pass through the fire for them? (Ez. 16:20, 21.) But I say, that the things which the Gentiles sacrifice, they sacrifice to devils, and not to God: and I would not that ye should have fellowship with devils. (I Cor. 10:20.)

z. So ye shall not pollute the land wherein ye are: for blood it defileth the land: and the land can not be cleansed of the blood that is shed therein, but by the blood of him that shed it. (Num. 35:33.)

aa. But those things which proceed out of the mouth come forth from the heart; and they defile the man. (Mat. 15:18.) If any man defile the temple of God, him shall God destroy; for the temple of God is holy, which temple ye are. (I Cor. 3:17.) For all that do these things are an abomination unto the Lord; and because of these abominations the Lord thy God doth drive them out from before thee. (Dt. 18:12.)

bb. When God heard this, he was wroth, and greatly abhorred Israel. (Ps. 78:59.) And the anger of the Lord was hot against Israel, and he delivered them into the hands of spoilers that spoiled them, and he sold them into the hands of their enemies round about, so that they could not any longer stand before their enemies. (Jud. 2:14.)

cc. And the anger of the Lord was hot against Israel and he delivered them into the hands of spoilers that spoiled them, and he sold them into the hands of their enemies round about, so that they could not any longer stand before their enemies. (Jud. 2:14.) Therefore thou deliveredst them into the hand of their enemies, who vexed them: and in the time of their trouble, when they cried unto thee, thou heardest them, from heaven; and according to thy manifold mercies thou gavest

43 Many times did he [dd]deliver them; but they provoked him with their counsel, and were brought low for their iniquity.
44 Nevertheless he regarded their affliction, when [ee]he heard their cry:
45 And he [ff]remembered for them his covenant, and [6]repented [gg]according to the multitude of his mercies.
46 He [hh]made them also to be pitied of all those that carried them captives.
47 Save us, O [2]Lord our God, and gather us from among the heathen, to give thanks unto thy holy name, and to triumph in thy praise.
48 Blessed be the Lord God of Is'ra-el from everlasting to everlasting: and let all the people say, Amen. Praise ye the [2]Lord.

[1]PSALM 107.

1 The psalmist exhorteth the redeemed, in praising God, to observe his manifold providence, 4 over travellers, 10 over captives, 17 over sick men, 23 over seamen, 33 and in divers varieties of life.

1 O give thanks unto the [2]Lord, for [a]he is good: for his mercy endureth for ever.
2 Let the redeemed of the [2]Lord say so, whom he hath redeemed from the hand of the enemy;
3 And [b]gathered them out of the lands, from the east, and from the west, from the north, and from the south.
4 They wandered in the wilderness in a solitary way; they found no city to dwell in.
5 Hungry and thirsty, their soul fainted in them.
6 Then [c]they cried unto the [2]Lord in their trouble, and he delivered [d]them out of their distresses.
7 And he led them forth by the [e]right way, that they might go to a city of habitation.
8 [f]Oh that men would praise the [2]Lord for his goodness, and for his wonderful works to the children of men!
9 For he satisfieth the longing soul, and filleth the hungry soul with goodness.
10 Such as sit in darkness and in the shadow of death, being bound in affliction and iron;
11 Because they rebelled against the words of God, and contemned [g]the counsel of the most High:
12 Therefore he brought down their heart with labour; they fell down, and there was [h]none to help.
13 Then [i]they cried unto the [2]Lord in their trouble, and he saved them out of their distresses.
14 [j]He brought them out of darkness and the shadow of death, and [k]brake their bands in sunder.
15 Oh that men would praise the [2]Lord for his goodness, and for his wonderful works to
the children of men!
16 For he hath broken the gates of brass, and cut the bars of iron in sunder.
17 [3]Fools [l]because of their transgression, and because of their iniquities, are afflicted.
18 Their soul abhorreth all manner of meat;
and they draw near unto the gates of death.
19 Then they [i]cry unto the [2]Lord in their trouble, and he saveth them out of their distresses.
20 He [m]sent his word, and healed them, and delivered [d]them from their destructions.
21 Oh that men would praise the [2]Lord for

Psalm 107.

1. This is the first of the fifth division, which includes the remainder of the book. Its occasion was the return of the exiles at the erection of the great altar. (Ezra 3:1-7.)

2. Jehovah, the covenant-name of God.

3. Thoughtless, inconsiderate, perverse.

them saviours, who saved them out of the hand of their enemies. (Neh. 9:27.)

dd. See b, Ps. 70.

ee. And the children of Israel cried unto the Lord, saying, We have sinned against thee, both because we have forsaken our God, and also served Baalim. (Jud. 10:10.) And when the children of Israel cried unto the Lord, the Lord raised up a deliverer to the children of Israel, who delivered them, even Othniel the son of Kenaz, Caleb's younger brother. (Jud. 3:9.) See Jud. 6:7-24.

ff. And that I also have walked contrary unto them, and have brought them into the land of their enemies; if then their uncircumcised hearts be humbled, and they then accept of the punishment of their iniquity (41): Then will I remember my covenant with Jacob, and also my covenant with Isaac, and also my covenant with Abraham will I remember; and I will remember the land. (Lev. 26:41, 42.) He hath remembered his covenant for ever, the word which he commanded to a thousand generations. (Ps. 105:8.)

gg. But though he cause grief, yet will he have compassion according to the multitude of his mercies. (Lam. 3:32.) For the Lord shall judge his people, and repent himself for his servants, when he seeth that their power is gone, and there is none shut up, or left. (Dt. 32:36.) And rend your hearts, and not your garments, and turn unto the Lord your God: for he is gracious and merciful, slow to anger, and of great kindness, and repenteth him of the evil. (Joel 2:13.) Thou hast forsaken me, saith the Lord, thou art gone backward: therefore will I stretch out my hand against thee, and destroy thee; I am weary with repenting. (Jer. 15:6.)

hh. And I will show mercies unto you, that he may have mercy upon you, and cause you to return to your own land. (Jer. 42:12.) And forgive thy people that have sinned against thee, and all their transgressions wherein they have transgressed against thee, and give them compassion before them who carried them captive, that they may have compassion on them. (I Ks. 8:50.) For if ye turn again unto the Lord, your brethren and your children shall find compassion before them that lead them captive, so that they shall come again into this land: for the Lord your God is gracious and merciful, and will not turn away his face from you, if ye return unto him. (II Chr. 30:9.) For we were bondmen; yet our God hath not forsaken us in our bondage, but hath extended mercy unto us in the sight of the kings of Persia, to give us a reviving, to set up the house of our God, and to repair the desolations thereof, and to give us a wall in Judah and in Jerusalem. (Ezra 9:9.)

a. And he said unto him, Why callest thou me good? there is none good but one, that is, God: but if thou wilt enter into life, keep the commandments. (Mat. 19-17.) For the Lord is good; his mercy is everlasting; and his truth endureth to all generations. (Ps. 100:5.) Praise ye the Lord. O give thanks unto the Lord; for he is good: for his mercy endureth for ever. (Ps. 106:1.)

b. Fear not: for I am with thee; I will bring thy seed from the east, and gather thee from the west. (Is. 43:5.) When I have brought them again from the people, and gathered them out of their enemies' lands, and am sanctified in them in the sight of many nations (27). Then shall they know that I am the Lord their God, which caused them to be led into captivity among the heathen: but I have gathered them unto their own land, and have left none of them any more there. (Ez. 39:27, 28.)

c. And call upon me in the day of trouble: I will deliver thee and thou shalt glorify me. (Ps. 50:15.) Then they cried unto the Lord in their trouble, and he saved them out of their distresses (13). Then they cry unto the Lord in their trouble, and he saveth them out of their distresses (19). Then they cry unto the Lord in their trouble, and he bringeth them out of their distresses. (Ps. 107:13, 19, 28.)

d. See b, Ps. 70.

e. That led them by the right hand of Moses with his glorious arm, dividing the waters before them, to make himself an everlasting name? (Is. 63:12.) Lead me, O Lord, in thy righteousness because of mine enemies; make thy ways straight before my face. (Ps. 5:8.) Then I proclaimed a fast there, at the river Ahava, that we might afflict ourselves before our God, to seek of him a right way for us, and for our little ones, and for all our substance. (Ezra 8:21.)

f. See vs. 15, 21, 31.

g. Thy testimonies also are my delight and my counsellors. (Ps. 119:24.) But the Pharisees and lawyers rejected the counsel of God against themselves, being not baptized of him. (Luke 7:30.) But ye have set at nought all my counsel, and would none of my reproof. (Prov. 1:25.)

h. And the anger of the Lord was hot against Israel, and he delivered them into the hands of spoilers that spoiled them, and he sold them into the hands of their enemies round about, so that they could not any longer stand before their enemies. (Jud. 2:14.) Be not far from me; for trouble is near; for there is none to help. (Ps. 22:11.)

i. And the children of Israel cried unto the Lord, saying, We have sinned against thee, both because we have forsaken our God and also served Baalim. (Jud. 10:10.) And they cried unto the Lord, and said, We have sinned, because we have forsaken the Lord, and have served Baalim and Ashtaroth: but now deliver us out of the hand of our enemies, and we will serve thee. (I Sam. 12:10.) Therefore thou deliveredst them into the hand of their enemies, who vexed them: and in the time of their trouble, when they cried unto thee, thou heardest them from heaven; and according to thy manifold mercies thou gavest them saviours, who saved them out of the hand of their enemies. (Neh. 9:27.) They cried unto thee, and were delivered: they trusted in thee, and were not confounded. (Ps. 22:5.) Nevertheless he regarded their affliction, when he heard their cry. (Ps. 106:44.)

j. God setteth the solitary in families: he bringeth out those which are bound with chains: but the rebellious dwell in a dry land. (Ps. 68:6.) And, behold, the angel of the Lord came upon him, and a light shined in the prison: and he smote Peter on the side, and raised him up, saying, Arise up quickly. And his chains fell off from his hands. (Acts 12:7.)

k. O Lord, truly I am thy servant; I am thy servant, and the son of thine handmaid: thou hast loosed my bonds. (Ps. 116:16.) For of old time I have broken thy yoke, and burst thy bands; and thou saidst, I will not transgress; when upon every high hill and under every green tree thou wanderest, playing the harlot. (Jer. 2:20.) For now will I break his yoke from off thee, and will burst thy bonds in sunder. (Nah. 1:13.) And ought not this woman, being a daughter of Abraham, whom Satan hath bound, lo, these eighteen years, be loosed from this bond on the sabbath day? (Luke 13:16.)

l. Wherefore doth a living man complain, a man for the punishment of his sins? (Lam. 3:39.) Behold, it is written before me: I will not keep silence, but will recompense, even recompense into their bosom (6), Your iniquities, and the iniquities of your fathers together, saith the Lord, which have burned incense upon the mountains, and blasphemed me upon the hills: therefore will I measure their former work into their bosom. (Is. 65:6, 7.) All thy lovers have forgotten thee; they seek thee not; for I have wounded thee with the wound of an enemy, with the chastisement of a cruel one, for the multitude of thine iniquity: because thy sins were increased (14). Why criest thou for thine affliction? thy sorrow is incurable for the multitude of thine iniquity: because thy sins were increased, I have done these things unto thee. (Jer. 30:14, 15.) And your tires shall be upon your heads, and your shoes upon your feet: ye shall not mourn nor weep; but ye shall pine away for your iniquities, and mourn one toward another. (Ez. 24:23.)

m. He sendeth forth his commandment upon earth: his word run-his goodness, and for his wonderful works to the children of men!

22 And [n]let them sacrifice the sacrifices of thanksgiving, and declare his works with rejoicing.

23 They that go down to the sea in ships, that do business in great waters;

24 These see the works of the [2]Lord, and his wonders in the deep.

25 For he commandeth, and raiseth the stormy wind, which lifteth up the waves thereof.

26 They mount up to the heaven, they go down again to the depths: their soul is melted because of trouble.

27 They reel to and fro, and stagger like a drunken man, and are at their wit's end.

28 Then [i]they cry unto the [2]Lord in their trouble, and he bringeth them out of their distresses.

29 He [o]maketh the storm a calm, so that the waves thereof are still.

30 Then are they glad because they be quiet; so he bringeth them unto their desired haven.

31 Oh that men would praise the [2]Lord for his goodness, and for his wonderful works to the children of men!

32 Let them exalt him also in the congregation of the people, and praise him in the assembly of the elders.

33 He [p]turneth rivers into a wilderness, and the watersprings into dry ground;

34 A [q]fruitful land into barrenness, for the wickedness of them that dwell therein.

35 He [r]turneth the wilderness into a standing water, and dry ground into watersprings.

36 And there he maketh the hungry to dwell, that they may prepare a city for habitation;

37 And sow the fields, and plant vineyards, which may yield fruits of increase.

38 He blesseth them also, so that they are multiplied greatly; and suffereth not their cattle to decrease.

39 Again, they are [s]minished and brought low through oppression, affliction, and sorrow.

40 He [t]poureth contempt upon princes, and causeth them to wander in the wilderness, where there is no way.

41 Yet [u]setteth he the poor on high from affliction, and maketh him families like a flock.

42 The [v]righteous shall see it, and rejoice: and all [w]iniquity shall stop her mouth.

43 Whoso [x]is wise, and will observe these things, even they shall understand the loving-kindness of the [2]Lord.

Psalm 108.

1. This Ps. was written on the occasion of the conquest of Edom by Joab; its subject is, Praise God, the Victor.

2. Jehovah, the covenant-name of God.

[1]PSALM 108.

David prayeth for God's assistance according to his promise.

A Song or Psalm of Dā'vid.

1 O God, my heart [a]is fixed; I will sing and give praise, even with my glory.

2 Awake, psaltery and harp: I myself will awake early.

3 I will praise thee, O [2]Lord, among the people: and I will sing praises unto thee among the nations.

4 For thy [b]mercy is great above the heavens: and thy truth reacheth unto the clouds.

5 Be thou exalted, O God, above the heavens: and thy glory above all the earth;

6 That thy [c]beloved may be delivered: save with thy right hand, and answer me.

7 God hath spoken in his holiness; I will rejoice, I will divide Shĕ'chem, and mete out the valley of Sŭc'coth.

8 Gĭl'e-ăd is mine; Ma-năs'seh is mine; Ē'phrăĭm also is the strength of mine head; Jū'dah is my lawgiver;

9 Mō'ab is my washpot; over Ē'dom will I cast out my shoe; over Phĭ-lĭs'tĭă will I triumph.

10 Who will bring me into the strong city? who will lead me into Ē'dom?

11 Wilt not thou, O God, who hast cast us off? and wilt not thou, O God, go forth with our hosts?

12 Give us help from trouble: for vain is the help of man.

13 Through God we shall do valiantly: for he it is that shall tread down our enemies.

Psalm 109.

1. This Ps. has been called the "Imprecatory Psalm." Many people have experienced much trouble in reading it because of failing to recognize in the execrated Doeg the prophetic foreshadowing of Judas Iscariot and failing to see, also, that when speaking of his persecutors, David speaks in the person of Christ. In no sense should it be accepted as an expression of personal revenge on the part of David.

[1]PSALM 109.

David, complaining of his slanderous enemies, under the person of Judas devoteth them.

To the chief Musician, A Psalm of Dā'vid.

1 Hold not thy peace, O God of my praise;

2 For the mouth of the wicked and the mouth of the deceitful are opened against me: they have spoken [a]against me with a lying tongue.

3 They compassed me about also with words

I am not worthy that thou shouldest come under my roof: but speak the word only, and my servant shall be healed. (Mat. 8:8.)

n. I will offer to thee the sacrifice of thanksgiving, and will call upon the name of the Lord. (Ps. 116:17.) By him therefore let us offer the sacrifice of praise to God continually, that is, the fruit of our lips giving thanks to his name. (Heb. 13:15.)

o. Thou rulest the raging of the sea: when the waves thereof arise, thou stillest them. (Ps. 89:9.) And he saith unto them, Why are ye fearful, O ye of little faith? Then he arose, and rebuked the winds and the sea; and there was a great calm. (Mat. 8:26.)

p. And Elijah the Tishbite, who was of the inhabitants of Gilead, said unto Ahab, As the Lord God of Israel liveth, before whom I stand, there shall not be dew nor rain these years, but according to my word. (I Ks. 17:1.)

q. And Lot lifted up his eyes, and beheld all the plain of Jordan, that it was well watered every where, before the Lord destroyed Sodom and Gomorrah, even as the garden of the Lord, like the land of Egypt, as thou comest unto Zoar. (Gen. 13:10.) And he overthrew those cities, and all the plain, and all the inhabitants of the cities, and that which grew upon the ground. (Gen. 19:25.)

r. I will open rivers in high places, and fountains in the midst of the valleys: I will make the wilderness a pool of water, and the dry land springs of water. (Is. 41:18.)

s. In those days the Lord began to cut Israel short: and Hazael smote them in all the coasts of Israel. (II Ks. 10:32.) Wherefore, as I live, saith the Lord God; Surely, because thou hast defiled my sanctuary with all thy detestable things, and with all thine abominations, therefore will I also diminish thee; neither shall mine eyes spare, neither will I have any pity. (Ez. 5:11.) It shall be the basest of the kingdoms; neither shall it exalt itself any more above the nations: for I will diminish them, that they shall no more rule over the nations. (Ez. 29:15.)

t. He poureth contempt upon princes, and weakeneth the strength of the mighty. (Job 12:21.)

u. He raiseth up the poor out of the dust, and lifteth up the beggar from the dung hill, to set them among princes, and to make them inherit the throne of glory: for the pillars of the earth are the Lord's, and he hath set the world upon them. (I Sam. 2:8.) Deliver me from mine enemies, O my God: defend me from them that rise up against me. (Ps. 59:1.) He raiseth up the poor out of the dust, and lifteth the needy out of the dung hill (7). That he may set him with princes, even with the princes of his people. (Ps. 113:7, 8.)

v. The righteous see it, and are glad: and the innocent laugh them to scorn. (Job 22:19.)

w. So the poor hath hope, and iniquity stoppeth her mouth. (Job 5:16.) Tribulation and anguish, upon every soul of man that doeth evil, of the Jew first, and also of the Gentile. (Rom. 2:9.) Their sorrows shall be multiplied that hasten after another god: their drink offerings of blood will I not offer, nor take up their names into my lips. (Ps. 16:4.) Evil pursueth sinners: but to the righteous good shall be repaid. (Prov. 13:21.) Many sorrows shall be to the wicked: but he that trusteth in the Lord, mercy shall compass him about. (Ps. 32:10.) For, lo, they that are far from thee shall perish: thou hast destroyed all them that go a whoring from thee. (Ps. 73:27.)

x. Who is wise, and he shall understand these things? prudent, and he shall know them? for the ways of the Lord are right, and the just shall walk in them: but the transgressors shall fall therein. (Hos. 14:9.)

a. My heart is fixed, O God, my heart is fixed; I will sing and give praise (7). Awake up, my glory: awake, psaltery and harp: I myself will awake early (8): I will praise thee, O Lord, among the people; I will sing unto thee among the nations (9): For thy mercy is great unto the heavens, and thy truth unto the clouds (10). Be thou exalted, O God, above the heavens: let thy glory be above all the earth. (Ps. 57:7-11.)

b. For the Lord is good; his mercy is everlasting; and his truth endureth to all generations. (Ps. 100:5.) Hear me when I call, O God of my righteousness: thou hast enlarged me when I was in distress; have mercy upon me and hear my prayer. (Ps. 4:1.) Hear me, O Lord: for thy loving-kindness is good: turn unto me according to the multitude of thy tender mercies. (Ps. 69:16.) And he remembered for them his covenant and repented according to the multitude of his mercies. (Ps. 106:45.) Be ye therefore merciful as your Father also is merciful. (Luke 6:36.) God be merciful to me a sinner. (Luke 18:13.)

Psalm 109.

a. His mouth is full of cursing and deceit and fraud: under his tongue is mischief and vanity. (Ps. 10:7.) Thou lovest all devouring words, O thou deceitful tongue. (Ps. 52:4.)

of hatred; and fought against me without [b]a cause.

4 For my love they are my adversaries: but I give myself unto prayer.

5 And they have rewarded me evil for good, and hatred for my love.

6 Set thou a wicked man over him: and let Sā'tan stand at his right hand.

7 When he shall be judged, let him be condemned: and [c]let his prayer [2]become sin.

8 Let his days be few; and [d]let another take his office.

9 Let [e]his children be fatherless, and his wife a widow.

10 Let his children be continually vagabonds, and beg: let them seek their bread also out of their desolate places.

11 Let the [3]extortioner catch all that he hath; and let the strangers spoil his labour.

12 Let there be none to extend mercy unto him: neither let there be any to favour his fatherless children.

13 Let his [f]posterity be cut off; and in the generation following let their [g]name be blotted out.

14 Let the [h]iniquity of his fathers be remembered with the [4]Lord; and let not the sin of his mother [i]be blotted out.

15 Let them be before the [4]Lord continually, that he may cut off the memory of them from [j]the earth.

16 Because that he remembered not to shew mercy, but persecuted the poor and needy man, that he might even slay the broken in heart.

18 As he clothed [l]himself with cursing like as with his garment, so let it come into his [5]bowels like water, and like oil into his bones.

19 Let it be unto him as the [l]garment which covereth him, and for a girdle wherewith he is girded continually.

20 Let this be the reward [m]of mine adversaries from the [4]Lord, and of them that speak evil against my soul.

21 But do thou for me, O God the Lord, for thy name's sake: because thy mercy is good, deliver thou me.

22 For I am poor [n]and needy, and my heart is [o]wounded within me.

23 I am gone like the shadow when it declineth: I am tossed up and down as the locust.

24 My knees are weak through [6]fasting; and my flesh faileth of fatness.

25 I became also a reproach unto them: when they looked upon me they shaked their heads.

26 Help me, O [4]Lord my God: O save me according to thy [f]mercy:

27 That they may know that this is thy hand; that thou, [4]Lord, hast done it.

28 Let them curse, but [p]bless thou: when they arise, let them be ashamed; but let [q]thy servant rejoice.

29 Let mine adversaries be clothed with sname, and let them cover themselves with their own confusion, as with a mantle.

30 I will greatly praise the [4]Lord with my mouth; yea, I will praise him among the multitude.

31 For he shall stand at the right hand of the [r]poor, to save him from those that condemn his soul.

Thou hast rebuked the heathen, thou hast destroyed the wicked, thou hast put out their name for ever and ever (5). O thou enemy, destructions are come to a perpetual end: and thou hast destroyed cities; their memorial is perished with them. (Ps. 9:5, 6.)

h. Thou shalt not bow down thyself to them, nor serve them: for I the Lord thy God am a jealous God, visiting the iniquity of the fathers upon the children unto the third and fourth generation of them that hate me. (Ex. 20:5.) The Lord is long-suffering, and of great mercy, forgiving iniquity and transgression, and by no means clearing the guilty, visiting the iniquity of the fathers upon the children unto the third and fourth generation. (Num. 14:18.) Behold, it is written before me: I will not keep silence, but will recompense, even recompense into their bosom (6). Your iniquities, and the iniquities of your fathers together, saith the Lord, which have burned incense upon the mountains, and blasphemed me upon the hill: therefore will I measure their former work into their bosom. (Is. 65:6, 7.) Thou showest loving-kindness unto thousands, and recompensest the iniquity of the fathers into the bosom of their children after them: the Great, the Mighty God, the Lord of hosts, is his name. (Jer. 32:18.)

i. And cover not their iniquity, and let not their sin be blotted out from before thee: for they have provoked thee to anger before the builders. (Neh. 4:5.) (Jer. 18:23.)

(Ez. 7:27.)

m. He shall reward evil unto mine enemies: cut them off in thy truth. (Ps. 54:5.) p. And David said to Abishai and to all his servants, Behold, my son, which came forth of my bowels, seeketh my life: how much more now may this Benjamite do it? let him alone, and let him curse; for the Lord hath bidden him (11). It may be that the Lord will look on mine affliction, and that the Lord will requite me good for his cursing this day. (II Sam. 16:11, 12.)

2 Blessed [b]be the name of the [2]Lord from this time forth and for evermore.
3 From the [c]rising of the sun unto the going down of the same the [2]Lord's name is to be praised.
4 The [2]Lord is high above all nations, and his glory above the heavens.
5 Who is like unto the [2]Lord our God, who dwelleth on high,
6 Who humbleth himself to behold the things that are in heaven, and in the earth!
7 He [d]raiseth up the poor out of the dust, and lifteth the needy out of the dunghill;
8 That he may set him with princes, even with the princes of his people.
9 He maketh the barren woman to keep house, and to be a joyful mother of children. Praise ye the [2]Lord.

[1]PSALM 114.

An exhortation to fear God in his church.

1 When Ĭs'ra-el went out of Ē'gўpt, the house of Jā'cob from a people of strange language;
2 Jū'dah was his sanctuary, and Ĭs'ra-el his dominion.
3 The sea saw it, and fled: [a]Jor'dan was driven back.
4 The [b]mountains [2]skipped like rams, and the little hills like lambs.
5 What ailed thee, O thou sea, that thou fleddest? thou Jor'dan, that thou wast driven back?
6 Ye mountains, that ye skipped like rams; and ye little hills, like lambs?
7 Tremble, thou earth, at the presence of the Lord, at the presence of the God of Jā'cob;
8 Which [c]turned the rock into a [d]standing water, the flint into a fountain of waters.

[1]PSALM 115.

1 Because God is truly glorious, 4 and idols are vanity, 9 he exhorteth to confidence in God. 12 God is to be blessed for his blessings.

1 Not unto us, O [5]Lord, not unto us, but unto [a]thy name give glory, for thy mercy, and for thy truth's sake.
2 Wherefore should the heathen say, [b]Where is now [2]their God?
3 But our [3]God [c]is in the heavens: he hath done whatsoever he hath pleased.
4 Their [d]idols are silver and gold, the work of men's hands.
5 They have mouths, but they speak not: eyes have they, but they see not:
6 They have ears, but they hear not: noses have they, but they smell not:
7 They have hands, but they handle not: feet have they, but they walk not: neither speak they through their throat.
8 They [e]that [4]make them are like unto them; so is every one that trusteth in them.
9 O Ĭs'ra-el, trust [f]thou in the [5]Lord: he [g]is their help and their shield.
10 O house of Aâr'on, [f]trust in the [5]Lord: he is their [g]help and their shield.
11 Ye that [h]fear the [5]Lord, [f]trust in the [5]Lord: he is their help [g]and their shield.
12 The [5]Lord hath been mindful of us: he will [i]bless us; he will bless the house of Ĭs'ra-el; he will bless the house of Aâr'on.
13 He [j]will bless them that [h]fear the [5]Lord, both small and great.

c. For all the gods of the people are idols: but the Lord made the heavens. (I Chr. 16:26.) At the same time my reason returned unto me; and for the glory of my kingdom, mine honor and brightness returned unto me; and my counsellors and my lords sought unto me: and I was established in my kingdom, and excellent majesty was added unto me. (Dan. 4:36.) What profiteth the graven image that the maker thereof hath graven it, the molten image and a teacher of lies, that the maker of his work trusteth therein, to make dumb idols? (18). Woe unto him that saith to the wood, Awake; to the dumb stone, Arise, it shall teach! Behold, it is laid over with gold and silver, and there is no breath at all in the midst of it (19). But the Lord is in his holy temple: let all the earth keep silence before him. (Hab. 2:18-20.)

d. For the customs of the people are vain: for one cutteth a tree out of the forest, the work of the hands of the workmen with the ax. They deck it with silver and with gold; they fasten it with nails and with hammers that it move not. (Jer. 10:3, 4.) The idols of the heathen are silver and gold, the work of men's hands (15). They have mouths but they speak not; eyes have they, but they see not (16); They have ears but they hear not; neither is there any breath in their mouths. (Ps. 135:15-17.)

e. They that make a graven image are all of them vanity; and their delectable things shall not profit; and they are their own witnesses; they see not, nor know; that they may be ashamed. (Is. 44:9.) They that observe lying vanities forsake their own mercy. (Jon. 2:8.)

f. Let your conversation be without covetousness; and be content with such things as ye have: for he hath said, I will never leave thee not forsake thee (5). So that we may boldly say, The Lord is my helper, and I will not fear what man shall do unto me. (Heb. 13:5, 6.) I have trusted also in the Lord; therefore I shall not slide. (Ps. 26:1.) I have hated them that regard lying vanities: but I trust in the Lord. (Ps. 31:6.) In God I will praise his word: in God I have put my trust; I will not fear what flesh can do unto me. (Ps. 56:4.) In thee, O Lord, do I put my trust; let me never be put to confusion (1). Deliver me in thy righteousness, and cause me to escape: incline thine ear unto me and save me (2). Be thou my strong habitation, whereunto I may continually resort: thou hast given commandment to save me; for thou art my rock and my fortress. (Ps. 71:1-3.) He is my refuge and my fortress: my God; in him will I trust. (Ps. 91:2.) In the Lord put I my trust. (Ps. 11:1.) O taste and see that the Lord is good: blessed is the man that trusteth in him. (Ps. 34:8.) Blessed is the man that trusteth in thee. (Ps. 84:12.) Blessed is the man that trusteth in the Lord, and whose hope the Lord is. (Jer. 17:7.)

g. Our soul waiteth for the Lord: he is our help and our shield. (Ps. 33:20.) Every word of God is pure: he is a shield unto them that put their trust in him. (Prov. 30:5.)

h. See f, Ps. 60.

i. Blessed be the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, who hath blessed us with all spiritual blessings in heavenly places in Christ. (Eph. 1:3.)

j. A blessing, if ye obey the commandments of the Lord your God, which I command you this day. (Dt. 11:27.) Blessings are upon the head of the just. (Prov. 10:6.)

14 The [5]Lord shall increase you more and more, you and your children.
15 Ye are blessed of the [5]Lord which made heaven and earth.
16 The heaven, even the heavens, are the [5]Lord's: but the earth hath he given to the children of men.
17 The dead praise not the [5]Lord, neither any that go down into silence.
18 [k]But we will bless the [5]Lord from this time forth and for evermore. Praise the [5]Lord.

1 The psalmist professeth his love and duty to God for his deliverance. 12 He studieth to be thankful.

1 I love the [2]Lord, because he hath [a]heard my voice and my supplications.
2 Because he hath inclined his ear unto me, therefore will I call upon him as long as I live.
3 The sorrows of death compassed me, and the pains of [3]hell gat hold upon me: I found trouble and sorrow.
4 Then called I upon the name of the [2]Lord; O [2]Lord, I beseech thee, deliver my soul.
5 Gracious is the [2]Lord, and [b]righteous; yea, our God is merciful.
6 The [2]Lord preserveth the simple: I was brought [4]low, and he helped me.
7 Return unto thy [c]rest, O my soul; for the [2]Lord hath dealt bountifully with thee.
8 For thou hast [d]delivered my soul from death, mine eyes from tears, and my feet from falling.
9 I will walk before the [2]Lord in the land of the living.
10 I [e]believed, therefore have I spoken: I was greatly afflicted:
11 I said in my [5]haste, [f]All men are [6]liars.
12 What [g]shall I render unto the [2]Lord for all his benefits toward me?
13 I will take the cup of salvation, and call upon the name of the [2]Lord.
14 [h]I will pay my vows unto the [2]Lord now in the presence of all his people.
15 Precious [i]in the sight of the [2]Lord is the death of his saints.
16 O [2]Lord, truly I am thy servant; I am thy servant, and the son of thine handmaid: thou hast loosed my bonds.
17 I will offer to thee the sacrifice of thanksgiving, and will call upon the name of the [2]Lord.
18 I will pay my vows unto the [2]Lord now in the presence of all his people, 19 In the courts of the [2]Lord's house, in the midst of thee, O Je-ru'sa-lĕm. Praise ye the [2]Lord.

1 O give thanks unto the [2]Lord; for [a]he is good: because his mercy [b]endureth for ever.
2 Let Is'ra-el now say, that his mercy [b]endureth for ever.
3 Let the house of Aâr'on now say, that his mercy [b]endureth for ever.
4 Let them now that [c]fear the [2]Lord say, that his mercy [b]endureth for ever.
5 I called upon the [2]Lord [d]in distress: the [2]Lord answered me, and set me in a large place.
6 The [2]Lord is [e]on my side; I will not fear: what can man do unto me?
7 The [2]Lord [f]taketh my part with them that help me: therefore shall I see my desire upon them that hate me.
8 It is [g]better to trust in the [2]Lord than to put confidence in man.
9 It is [h]better to [i]trust in the [2]Lord than to put confidence in princes.
10 All [3]nations compassed me about: but in the name of the [2]Lord will I destroy them.

And lead us not into temptation, but deliver us from evil. (Mat. 6:13.) Him being delivered by the determinate counsel and foreknowledge of God, ye have taken, and by wicked hands have crucified the slain. (Acts 2:23.) [1]PSALM 124.

The godly bless God for a miraculous deliverance.

1 If it [2]had not been the [3]Lord who was [a]on our side, now may Ĭs'ra-el say;
2 If it had not been the [3]Lord who was on our side, when men rose up against us:
3 Then they had swallowed us up quick, when their wrath was kindled against us:
4 Then the [b]waters had overwhelmed us, the stream had gone over our soul:
5 Then the proud waters had gone over our soul.
6 Blessed be the [3]Lord, who hath not given us as a prey to their teeth.
7 Our soul is escaped as a bird out of the snare of the fowlers: the snare is broken, and we are escaped.
8 Our [c]help is in the name of the [3]Lord, who made heaven and earth.

2 As the mountains are round about Je-rŭ'sa-lĕm, so the Lord [b]is round about his people from henceforth even for ever.
3 For the [3]rod of the wicked shall not rest upon the lot of the righteous; lest the righteous put forth their hands unto iniquity.
4 Do good, O [2]Lord, unto those that be good, and to them that are upright in their hearts.
5 As for such as turn aside unto their crooked ways, the [2]Lord shall lead them forth with the workers of iniquity: but peace [c]shall be upon Ĭs'ra-el.

The church, celebrating her return out of captivity.

A Song of degrees for Sŏl'o-mon.

1 Except the [2]Lord build the house, they labour in vain that build it: except the [2]Lord keep the city, the watchman waketh but in vain.
2 It is vain for you to rise up early, to sit up late, to [a]eat the bread [3]of sorrows: for so he giveth his beloved sleep.
3 Lo, [b]children are an heritage of the [2]Lord: and [c]the fruit of the womb is his reward.
4 As arrows are in the hand of a mighty man; so are children of the youth.

2 Ye that stand in the house of the Lord, in the courts of the house of our God,
3 Praise the Lord; for the [a]Lord is good: sing praises unto his name; for it is pleasant.
4 For the Lord [b]hath chosen Jā'cob unto himself, and Ĭs'ra-el for his peculiar treasure.
5 For I know that the [c]Lord is great, and that our Lord is above all gods.
6 Whatsoever the Lord pleased, that did he in heaven, and in earth, in the seas, and all deep places.
7 He [d]causeth the vapours to ascend from the ends of the earth; he maketh lightnings for the rain; he bringeth the wind out of his treasuries.
8 Who [e]smote the firstborn of Ē'gўpt, both of man and beast.
9 Who sent tokens and wonders into the midst of thee, O Ē'gўpt, upon Phā'raōh, and upon all his servants.
10 Who smote great nations, and slew mighty kings; 11 Sī'hŏn king of the Ām'or-ītes, and Ōg king of Bā'shăn, and all the kingdoms of Cā'năan:
12 And gave their land for an heritage, an heritage unto Ĭs'ra-el his people.
13 Thy [f]name, O Lord, endureth for ever; and thy memorial, O Lord, throughout all generations.
14 For the Lord [g]will judge his people, and he will [2]repent himself concerning his servants.
15 The idols of the heathen are silver and gold, the work of men's hands.
16 They have mouths, but they speak not; eyes have they, but they see not;
17 They have ears, but they hear not; neither is there any breath in their mouths.
18 They that make them are like unto them: so is every one that trusteth in them.
19 Bless the Lord, O house of Ĭs'ra-el: bless the Lord, O house of Aâr'on:
20 Bless the Lord, O house of Lē'vī: ye that fear the Lord, bless the Lord.

[1]PSALM 137.

1 The constancy of the Jews in captivity. 7 The prophet curseth Edom and Babel.

1 By the rivers of Băb'ў-lon, there we sat down, yea, we wept, when we remembered Zī'ŏn.

2 We hanged [a]our [2]harps upon the willows in the midst thereof.

3 For there they that carried us away captive required of us a song; and they that wasted us required of us mirth, saying, Sing us one of the songs of Zī'ŏn.

4 How shall we sing the Lord's song in a strange land?

5 If I forget thee, O Je-rụ'sa-lĕm, let my right hand forget her cunning.

6 If I do not remember thee, let my [b]tongue cleave to the roof of my mouth; if I prefer not Je-rụ'sa-lĕm above my chief joy.

7 Remember, O Lord, the children of Ē'dom in the day of Je-rụ'sa-lĕm; who said, Rase it, rase it, even to the foundation thereof.

8 O daughter of Băb'ў-lon, who art to be destroyed; happy shall he be, [d]that rewardeth thee as thou hast served us.

9 Happy shall he be, that taketh and [3]dasheth thy little ones against the stones.

[1]PSALM 138.

David praiseth God for the truth of his word.

A Psalm of Dā'vid.

1 I will praise thee with my whole heart: before [a]the gods will I sing praise unto thee.

2 I will worship [b]toward thy [2]holy temple, and praise thy name for thy lovingkindness and for thy truth: for thou hast magnified thy [c]word above all thy name.

3 In the day when I cried thou answeredst me, [d]and strengthenedst me with strength in my soul.

4 All the kings of the earth shall praise thee, O Lord, when they hear the words of thy mouth.

5 Yea, they shall sing in the ways of the Lord: for great is the glory of the Lord.

6 Though the Lord be high, yet [e]hath he respect unto the lowly: but the proud he knoweth afar off.

7 Though [f]I walk in the midst of trouble, thou wilt revive me: thou shalt stretch forth thine hand against the wrath of mine enemies, and thy right hand shall save me.

8 [g]The Lord will perfect that which concerneth me: thy mercy, O Lord, endureth for ever: forsake not the works of thine own hands.

[1]PSALM 139.

2. The place of thy holiness.

Psalm 139.

1. Ps. 139 is the prayer of David when anointed king over all Israel.

2. Jehovah, the covenant-name of God.

3. Watch, guard.

4. Surrounded.

5. Celestial heights.

6. The lowest depth, the under world.

7. Way of eternity.

1 O [2]Lord, thou hast searched me, and known me.

2 Thou knowest my downsitting and mine uprising, thou understandest [a]my thought afar off.

3 Thou [3]compassest my path and my lying down, and art acquainted with all my ways.

4 For there is not a word in my tongue, but, lo, O [2]Lord, [b]thou knowest it altogether.

5 Thou hast [4]beset me behind and before, and laid thine hand upon me.

6 Such knowledge is too wonderful for me; it is high, I cannot attain unto it.

7 Whither shall I go from thy spirit? or whither shall I flee from thy presence?

8 If I ascend up into [5]heaven, thou art there: [c]if I make my bed in [6]hell, behold, thou art there.

9 If I take the wings of the morning, and dwell in the uttermost parts of the sea;

10 Even there shall thy hand lead me, and thy right hand shall hold me.

11 If I say, Surely the darkness shall cover me; even the night shall be light about me.

12 Yea, the darkness [d]hideth not from thee; but the night shineth as the day: the darkness and the light are both alike to thee.

13 For thou hast possessed my reins: thou hast covered me in my mother's womb.

14 I will praise thee; for I am fearfully and wonderfully made: marvellous are thy works; and that my soul knoweth right well.

15 My substance was not hid from thee, when I was made in secret, and curiously wrought in the lowest parts of the earth.

16 Thine eyes did see my substance, yet being unperfect; and in thy book all my members were written, which in continuance were fashioned, when as yet there was none of them.

17 How precious also are thy thoughts unto me, O God! how great is the sum of them!

18 If I should count them, they are more in number than the sand: when I awake, I am still with thee.

19 Surely thou wilt [e]slay the wicked, O God: depart from me therefore, ye bloody men.

20 For they [f]speak against thee wickedly, and thine enemies take thy name in vain.

21 Do not hate them, O [2]Lord, that hate thee? and am not I grieved with those that rise up against thee?

22 I hate them with perfect hatred: I count them mine enemies.

23 Search [g]me, O God, and know my heart: try me, and know my thoughts:

24 And see if there be any wicked way in me, and [h]lead me in the [7]way everlasting.

Psalm 137.

c. The Lord is well pleased for his righteousness' sake; he will magnify the law, and make it honorable. (Is. 42:21.)

d. And he said unto me, My grace is sufficient for thee: for my strength is made perfect in weakness. Most gladly therefore will I rather glory in my infirmities, that the power of Christ may rest upon me. (II Cor. 12:9.)

e. Surely he scorneth the scorners: but he giveth grace unto the lowly. (Prov. 3:34.) But he giveth more grace. Wherefore he saith, God resisteth the proud, but giveth grace unto the humble. (Ja. 4:6.)

f. He restoreth my soul: he leadeth me in the paths of righteousness for his name's sake (3). Yea, though I walk through the valley of the shadow of death, I will fear no evil: for thou art with me; thy rod and thy staff they comfort me. (Ps. 23:3, 4.) Quicken me, O Lord, for thy name's sake: for thy righteousness' sake bring my soul out of trouble. (Ps. 143:11.)

f. To execute judgment upon all, and to convince all that are ungodly among them of all their ungodly deeds which they have ungodly committed, and of all their hard speeches which ungodly sinners have spoken against him. (Jude 15.)

g. Let me be weighed in an even balance, that God may know mine integrity. (Job 31:6.) Examine me, O Lord, and prove me; try my reins and my heart. (Ps. 26:2.)

h. Jesus saith unto him, I am the way, the truth, and the life: no man cometh unto the Father, but by me. (Jno. 14:6.)

[1]PSALM 140.

1 David prayeth to be delivered from Saul and Doeg. 12 He comforteth himself by confidence in God.

To the chief Musician, A Psalm of Dā'vid.

1 Deliver [a]me, O [2]Lord, from the evil [3]man: preserve me from the violent man;

2 Which imagine mischiefs in their heart; continually are they gathered together for war.

3 They have sharpened their tongues like a serpent; adders' poison is under their lips. Sē'lah.

4 Keep me, O [2]Lord, from the hands of the wicked; preserve me from the [4]violent man; who have purposed to overthrow my goings.

5 The proud have hid a snare for me, and cords; they have spread a net by the wayside; they have set gins for me. Sē'lah.

6 I said unto the [2]Lord, [b]Thou art my God: hear the voice of my supplications, O [2]Lord.

7 O God the [2]Lord, the [c]strength of my salvation, thou hast covered my head in the day of battle.

8 Grant not, O [2]Lord, [d]the desires of the wicked: further not his wicked device; lest they exalt themselves. Sē'lah.

9 As for the head of those that compass me about, let the mischief of their own lips cover them.

10 [e]Let burning coals fall upon them: let them be cast into the fire; into deep pits, that they rise not up again.

11 Let not an evil speaker be established in the earth: evil shall hunt the violent man and overthrow him.

12 I know that the [2]Lord will [f]maintain the cause of the afflicted, and the right of the poor.

13 Surely the righteous shall give thanks unto thy name: the upright shall dwell in thy presence.

1 David prayeth that his suit may be acceptable, 3 his conscience sincere, 7 and his life safe from snares.

A Psalm of Dā'vid.

1 [2]Lord, I cry unto thee: make haste unto me; give ear unto my voice, when I cry unto thee.

2 Let my prayer be set forth before thee as incense; and the lifting up of my hands as the evening sacrifice.

3 Set a watch, O [2]Lord, before [a]my mouth; keep the door of my lips.

4 Incline [b]not my heart to any evil thing, to practise wicked works with men that work iniquity: [c]and let me not eat of their dainties.

6 When their judges are overthrown in stony places, they shall hear my words; for they are sweet.

7 Our bones are scattered at the grave's mouth, as when one cutteth and cleaveth wood upon the earth.

8 But mine eyes are unto thee, O God the Lord: in thee is my trust; leave not my soul destitute.

9 Keep me from the snares which they have laid for me, and the gins of the workers of iniquity.

10 Let [d]the wicked fall into their own nets, whilst that I withal escape.

[1]PSALM 142.

David sheweth that in his trouble all his comfort was in prayer unto God.

Mās'chĭl of Dā'vid; A Prayer when he was in the cave.

1 I cried [a]unto the [2]Lord with my voice; with my voice unto the [2]Lord did I make my supplication.

2 I poured out my complaint before him; I shewed before him my trouble.

3 When my spirit was overwhelmed within me, then thou knewest my path. In the way wherein I walked have they privily laid a snare for me.

4 I looked on my right hand, and beheld, but there was no man that would know me: [b]refuge failed me; no man cared for my soul.

5 I cried unto thee, O [2]Lord: I said, Thou art [b]my refuge and my portion in the land of the living.

6 Attend unto [a]my cry; for I am [c]brought very low: deliver [d]me from my persecutors; for they are stronger than I.

7 Bring my soul out of prison, that I may praise thy name: the righteous [e]shall compass me about; for thou shalt deal bountifully with me.

supplications: in thy faithfulness answer me, and in thy righteousness.

2 And enter [3]not into judgment with thy servant: for [b]in thy sight shall no man living be justified.

3 For the [c]enemy hath persecuted my soul; he hath smitten my life down to the ground; he hath made me to dwell in darkness, as those that have been long dead.

4 Therefore is [d]my spirit overwhelmed within me; my heart within me is desolate.

5 I remember the days of old; I meditate on all thy works; I muse on the work of thy hands.

6 I stretch forth my hands unto thee: my soul thirsteth after thee, as a thirsty land. Sē'lah.

7 Hear me speedily, O [2]Lord: my spirit faileth: hide not thy face from me, lest I be like unto them that go down into the pit.

8 Cause me to hear thy lovingkindness in the morning; for in thee do I [e]trust: cause me to know the way wherein I should walk; for I lift up my soul unto thee.

9 Deliver [f]me, O [2]Lord, from mine enemies: I flee unto thee to hide me.

10 Teach [g]me to do thy will; for thou art my God: [h]thy spirit is good; lead me into the land of uprightness.

11 Quicken me, O [2]Lord, for thy name's sake: for thy righteousness' sake bring my soul out of trouble.

12 And of thy mercy cut off mine enemies, and destroy all them that afflict my soul: for I am thy servant.

[1]PSALM 144.

1 David blesseth God for his mercy both to him and to man. 9 He promiseth to praise God.

A Psalm of Dā'vid.

1 Blessed be the [2]Lord my [a]strength, which teacheth my hands to war, and my fingers to fight:

2 My [3]goodness, and my fortress; my high tower, and my deliverer; my shield, and he in whom [b]I trust; who subdueth my people under me.

3 [2]Lord, [c]what is man, that thou takest knowledge of him! or the son of man, that thou makest account of him!

4 Man is like to vanity: his days are as a shadow that passeth away.

5 Bow thy heavens, O [2]Lord, and come down: touch the mountains, and they shall smoke.

6 Cast forth lightning, and scatter them: shoot out thine arrows, and destroy them.

7 Send thine hand from above; rid me, and deliver me out of great waters, from the hand of strange children;

8 Whose mouth speaketh vanity, and their right hand is a right hand of falsehood.

9 I will sing a new song unto thee, O God: upon a psaltery and an instrument of ten strings will I sing praises unto thee.

10 It is he that giveth salvation unto kings: who delivereth Dā'vid his servant from the nurtful sword.

11 Rid me, and [d]deliver me from the hand of strange children, whose mouth speaketh vanity, and their right hand is a right hand of falsehood:

12 That our sons may be as plants grown up in their youth; that our daughters may be as corner stones, polished after the similitude of a palace:

13 That our garners may be full, affording all manner of store: that our sheep may bring forth thousands and ten thousands in our streets:

14 That our oxen may be strong to labour; that there be no breaking in, nor going out; that there be no complaining in our streets.

15 Happy is [e]that people, that is in such a case: yea, happy is that people, whose God is the [2]Lord.

1 David praiseth God for his goodness, 17 and for his saving mercy.

1 I will extol thee, my God, O king; and I will bless thy name for ever and ever.

2 Every day will I bless thee; and I will praise thy name for ever and ever.

3 Great is the [2]Lord, and greatly to be praised; [a]and his greatness is unsearchable.

4 One generation shall praise thy works to another, and shall declare thy mighty acts.

5 I will speak of the glorious honour of thy majesty, and of thy wondrous works.

6 And men shall speak of the might of thy terrible acts: and I will declare thy greatness.

7 They shall abundantly utter the memory of thy great goodness, and shall sing of thy righteousness.

8 The [2]Lord [b]is gracious, and full of compassion; slow to anger, and of great [c]mercy.

9 The [2]Lord [d]is good to all: and his tender mercies are over all his works.

10 All [e]thy works shall praise thee, O [2]Lord; and thy saints shall bless thee.

b. Keeping mercy for thousands, forgiving iniquity and transgression and sin, and that will by no means clear the guilty; visiting the iniquity of the fathers upon the children, and upon the children's children, unto the third and to the fourth generation. (Ex. 34:7.) Shall mortal man be more just than God? shall a man be more pure than his maker? (Job 4:17.) I know it is so of a truth: but how should man be just with God? (2) If he will contend with him, he cannot answer him one of a thousand. (Job 9:2, 3.)

c. O Lord my God, in thee do I put my trust: save me from all them that persecute me, and deliver me (1): Lest he tear my soul like a lion, rending it in pieces, while there is none to deliver. (Ps. 7:1, 2.)

d. From the end of the earth will I cry unto thee, when my heart is overwhelmed lead me to the rock that is higher than I. (Ps. 61:2.) When my spirit was overwhelmed within me, then thou knewest my path. In the way wherein I walked have they privily laid a snare for me. (Ps. 142:3.)

e. See f, Ps. 115.

f. See d, Ps. 116.

g. Show me thy ways, O Lord: teach me thy paths. (Ps. 25:4.)

h. But the Comforter, which is the Holy Ghost, whom the Father will send in my name, he shall teach you all things, and bring all things to your remembrance, whatsoever I have said unto you. (Jno. 14:26.) That good thing which was committed unto thee keep by the Holy Ghost which dwelleth in us. (II Tim. 1:14.)

Psalm 144.

a. The Lord is my rock, and my fortress, and my deliverer, my God, my strength, in whom I will trust; my buckler, and the horn of my salvation, and my high tower (2). For who is God save the Lord? or who is a rock save our God? (Ps. 18:2, 31.) For thou art my rock and my fortress; therefore for thy name's sake lead me, and guide me. (Ps. 31:3.) To show that the Lord is upright: he is my rock, and there is no unrighteousness in him. (Ps. 92:15.)

Deliver me in thy righteousness, and cause me to escape: incline thine ear unto me, and save me. (Ps. 71:2.) Bow down thine ear to me; deliver me speedily: be thou my strong rock, for an house of defence to save me. (Ps. 31:2.)

e. Happy art thou, O Israel: who is like unto thee, O people saved by the Lord, the shield of thy help, and who is the sword of thy excellency! and thine enemies shall be found liars unto thee; and thou shalt tread upon their high places. (Num. 14:18.)

That ye may be the children of your Father which is in heaven: for he maketh his sun to rise on the evil and on the good, and sendeth rain on the just and on the unjust. (Mat. 5:45.)

e. The heavens declare the glory of God; and the firmament showeth his handiwork (1). Day unto day uttereth speech, and night unto night showeth knowledge. (Ps. 19:1, 2.)

12 To make known to the sons of men his mighty acts, and the glorious majesty of his kingdom.
13 Thy kingdom is [f]an everlasting kingdom, and thy dominion endureth throughout all generations.
14 The [2]Lord upholdeth all that fall, and raiseth up all those that be bowed down.
15 The eyes of all wait upon thee; and thou givest them their meat in due season.
16 Thou openest thine hand, and satisfiest the desire of every living thing.
17 The [2]Lord is righteous in all his ways, and holy in all his works.
18 The [2]Lord [g]is nigh unto all them that call upon him, to all that call upon him [h]in truth.
19 He will [i]fulfil the desire of them that [j]fear him: he also will hear their cry, and will save them.
20 The [2]Lord [k]preserveth all them that love him: but all the wicked will he destroy.
21 My mouth shall speak the praise of the [2]Lord: and let all flesh bless his holy name for ever and ever.

1 The psalmist voweth perpetual praises to God. 5 God is only worthy to be trusted.

1 Praise ye the [2]Lord. Praise the Lord, O my [3]soul.
2 While I live will I praise the Lord: I will sing praises unto my God while I have any being.
3 Put not your trust in princes, nor in the son of man, in whom there is no help.
4 His [a]breath goeth forth, he returneth to his earth; in that very day his thoughts perish.
5 Happy [b]is he that hath the God of Jā'cob for his help, whose hope is in the Lord his God:
6 Which made heaven, and earth, the sea, and all that therein is: [c]which keepeth truth for ever:
7 Which executeth judgment for the oppressed: which giveth [d]food to the hungry. The Lord looseth the prisoners:
8 The Lord openeth the eyes of the blind: the Lord raiseth them that are bowed down: the Lord loveth the righteous:
9 The Lord preserveth the strangers; he [e]relieveth the fatherless and widow: but the way of the wicked he turneth upside down.
10 The Lord shall reign for ever, even thy God, O Zī'ŏn, unto all generations. Praise ye the Lord.

THE PROVERBS

NOTE.—The Book of Proverbs is pronounced by most Biblical scholars to be one of the greatest handbooks on right living ever published. It is preeminently an ideal educational book, teaching the whole duty of man. It declares that no one can be truly wise who is so utterly unwise as to disobey God or be ignorant of his rules of government of the universe or of man. In its teaching is given a complete outline of a perfect man. Nowhere is pronounced in more positive terms the folly of one's endeavoring to live contrary to the dictates of right; therefore to measure up to the perfect standard of a man, one must be obedient to the principles of righteousness. It condemns in the strongest language possible idleness, enviousness, drunkenness and strife; and commends at all times the true spirit of industry, frugality, chastity, temperance and integrity. Therefore it would teach as a second principle of the perfect man, both parts of the fourth commandment. Nowhere in all the range of literature or among the experiences of unfortunate man has there been pronounced such a withering condemnation upon the wiles and cunning of the woman who forgets the covenant of her God and whose house is the way of hell. As a third principle in the life of the perfect man, Prov. would command virtue and temperance in all things. In it is taught the measure of honor due from man to God, his Creator, filial devotion, respect to relatives, and the guiding principles of honesty and uprightness between man and man. In the Book of Psalms are first of all, lessons teaching holiness of the heart. In Prov. an honest, godly, frugal and industrious life is urged. Coleridge says, "The Book of Prov. is the best statesman's manual which was ever written. An adherence to the political economy and spirit of that collection of apothegms and essays would do more to eradicate from the people the causes of extravagance, debasement and ruin than all the contributions to political economy of all other writers together." In Prov. every duty in life is enjoined and skillfully commended to our observance, and every vice and species of folly is guarded against.

CHAPTER 1.

1 The use of the proverbs. 7 An exhortation to fear God, and believe his word. 10 To avoid the enticing of sinners.

1 [1]The [2]proverbs [a]of [3]Sŏl'o-mon the son of Dā'vid, king of Ĭs'ra-el;

2 To know [4]wisdom [b]and instruction; to perceive the words of understanding;

3 To [c]receive the instruction of wisdom, justice, and judgment, and equity;

4 To give subtilty to the simple, to the young man knowledge and discretion.

5 A wise man will hear, and will increase learning; and a man of understanding shall attain unto wise counsels:

6 To understand a proverb, and the interpretation; the words of the wise, and their [5]dark sayings.

7 [6]¶ The [c]fear [7]of the Lord is [d]the beginning of knowledge: but [8]fools despise wisdom and instruction.

8 [9]My [10]son, [11]hear the [12]instruction of thy father, and forsake not the law of thy mother:

9 For they shall be an ornament of grace unto thy head, and chains about thy neck.

10 ¶ My son, if sinners entice thee, [f]consent thou not.

11 If they say, Come with us, let us lay wait for blood, let us lurk privily for the innocent without cause:

12 Let us swallow them up alive as the grave; and whole, as those that go down into the pit:

13 We shall find all precious substance, we shall fill our houses with spoil:

14 Cast in thy lot among us; let us all have one purse:

15 My son, [g]walk not thou in the way with them; refrain thy foot from their path:

16 For their feet run to evil, and make haste to shed blood.

17 Surely in vain the net is spread in the sight of any bird.

18 And they lay wait for their own blood; they lurk privily for their own lives.

19 [h]So are the ways of every one that is greedy of gain; which taketh away the life of the owners thereof.

20 ¶ [13]Wisdom [i]crieth without; she uttereth her voice in the streets:

21 She crieth in the chief place of concourse, in the openings of the gates: in the city she uttereth her words, saying,

22 How long, ye simple ones, will ye love simplicity? and the scorners delight in their scorning, and fools hate knowledge?

23 Turn you at my reproof: behold, [j]I will pour out my spirit unto you, I will make known my words unto you.

24 ¶ Because [k]I have called, and ye refused; I have stretched out my hand, and no man regarded;

25 But ye [l]have set at nought all my counsel, and would none of my reproof:

26 I also will laugh at your calamity; I will mock when your fear cometh;

27 When your fear cometh as desolation, and your destruction cometh as a whirlwind; when distress and anguish cometh upon you.

28 [m]Then shall they call upon me, but I will not answer; they shall seek me early, but they shall not find me:

29 For that they [n]hated knowledge, and did not choose the [o]fear [14]of the Lord:

And have no fellowship with the unfruitful works of darkness, but rather reprove them. (Eph. 5:11.) When thou sawest a thief, then thou consentedst with him, and hast been partaker with adulterers. (Ps. 50:18.) Thou shalt not consent unto him, nor hearken unto him; neither shall thine eye pity him, neither shalt thou spare, neither shalt thou conceal him. (Dt. 13:8.)

g. Blessed is the man that walketh not in the counsel of the ungodly, nor standeth in the way of sinners, nor sitteth in the seat of the scornful. (Ps. 1:1.) Enter not into the path of the wicked, and go not in the way of evil men. (Prov. 4:14.)

h. For the love of money is the root of all evil: which while some coveted after, they have erred from the faith, and pierced themselves through with many sorrows. (I Tim. 6:10.) He that is greedy of gain troubleth his own house; but he that hateth gifts shall live. (Prov. 15:27.)

i. Doth not wisdom cry? and understanding put forth her voice? (1). She standeth in the top of high places, by the way in the places of the paths (2). She crieth at the gates, at the entry of the city, at the coming in at the doors. (Prov. 8:1-3.) She hath sent forth her maidens: she crieth upon the highest places of the city. (Prov. 9:3) In whom are hid all the treasures of wisdom and knowledge. (Col. 2:3.)

j. And it shall come to pass afterward, that I will pour out my spirit upon all flesh; and your sons and your daughters shall prophesy, your old men shall dream dreams, your young men shall see visions. (Joel 2:28.)

k. I also will choose their delusions, and will bring their fears upon them; because when I called, none did answer; when I spake, they did not hear: but they did evil before mine eyes, and chose that in which I delighted not. (Is. 66:4.) But they refused to hearken, and pulled away the shoulder, and stopped their ears, that they should not hear. (Zech. 7:11.)

l. But the Pharisees and lawyers rejected the counsel of God against themselves, being not baptised of him. (Luke 7:30.)

m. Will God hear his cry when trouble cometh upon him? (Job 27:9.) And when ye spread forth your hands, I will hide mine eyes from you: yea, when ye make many prayers, I will not hear: your hands are full of blood. (Is. 1:15.) Ye ask, and receive not, because ye ask amiss, that ye may consume it upon your lusts. (Ja. 4:3.) They cried, but there was none to save them: even unto the Lord, but he answered them not. (Ps. 18:41.) Therefore thus saith the Lord, Behold, I will bring evil upon them, which they shall not be able to escape; and though they shall cry unto me, I will not hearken unto them. (Jer. 11:11.) Therefore will I also deal in fury: mine eye shall not spare, neither will I have pity: and though they cry in mine ears with a loud voice, yet will I not hear them. (Ez. 8:18.) Then shall they cry unto the Lord, but he will not hear them: he will even hide his face from them at that time, as they have behaved themselves ill in their doings. (Mic. 3:4.)

n. Therefore they say unto God, Depart from us; for we desire not the knowledge of thy ways. (Job 21:14.)

o. And Moses said unto the people, Fear not: for God is come to prove you, and that his fear may be before your faces, that ye sin not. (Ex. 20:20.) The fear of the Lord is the beginning of wisdom: a good understanding have all they that do his commandments: his praise endureth for ever. (Ps. 111:10.) Let us hear the conclusion of the whole matter: Fear God, and keep his commandments, for this is the whole duty of man. (Ecc. 12:13.) That all the people of the earth might know 30 They [p]would none of my counsel: they despised all my reproof.

31 Therefore [q]shall they eat of the fruit of their own way, and be filled with their own devices.

32 For the turning away of the simple shall slay them, and the prosperity of fools shall destroy them.

33 But [r]whoso hearkeneth unto me shall dwell safely, and shall be quiet from fear of evil.

CHAPTER 2.

1 Wisdom promiseth godliness to her children, 10 and safety from evil company, 20 and direction in good ways.

1 [1]My son, if thou wilt receive my words, and [2]hide my commandments with thee;

2 So that thou [3]incline thine ear unto wisdom, and apply [4]thine heart to understanding;

3 Yea, if thou criest after knowledge, and liftest up thy voice for understanding;

4 If thou [a]seekest her as silver, and searchest for her as for hid treasures;

5 Then shalt thou understand the fear [b]of the Lord, and find the knowledge of God.

6 For the Lord [c]giveth wisdom: out of his mouth cometh knowledge and understanding.

7 He layeth up sound wisdom for the righteous: [d]he is a buckler to them that walk uprightly.

8 He keepeth [5]the paths of judgment, and preserveth the [e]way of his saints.

9 Then [6]shalt thou understand righteousness, and judgment, and equity; yea, every good path.

10 ¶ [7]When wisdom entereth into thine heart, and knowledge is pleasant unto thy soul;

11 Discretion shall preserve thee, understanding [f]shall keep thee:

12 To deliver [g]thee from the way of the evil man, from the man that speaketh froward things;

13 Who leave the paths of uprightness, to [h]walk in the ways of darkness;

14 Who rejoice to do evil, and delight in the frowardness of the wicked;

15 Whose ways are [i]crooked, and they froward in their paths:

16 To deliver thee from the strange woman, even from the stranger which flattereth with her words;

17 Which forsaketh the guide of her youth, and forgetteth the [j]covenant of her God.

18 For her house inclineth unto death, and her paths unto the dead.

19 None [k]that go unto her return again, neither take they hold of the paths of life.

20 That thou mayest [l]walk in the way of good men, and keep the paths [m]of the righteous.

21 For the upright shall dwell in the land, and the perfect shall remain in it.

22 But the [n]wicked shall be cut off from the earth, and the transgressors shall be rooted out of it.

CHAPTER 3.

1 An exhortation to obedience, 5 to faith, 7 to mortification, 9 to devotion, 11 to patience. 13 The happy gain of wisdom. 27 An exhortation to charitableness, 30 peaceableness, 31 and contentedness. 33 The cursed state of the wicked.

1 [1]My son, forget not my law; [a]but let thine heart keep my commandments:

2 For length of days, and long life, and peace, shall they add to thee.

3 Let not mercy [b]and truth forsake thee: bind them about thy neck; [c]write them upon the table of thine heart:

4 So shalt thou find favour and good understanding in the sight of God and man.

5 ¶ Trust [d]in the Lord with all thine heart;

Ch. 3. B. C. 1000.

1. In vs. 1-26 the reader is exhorted to obey and honor God.

the hand of the Lord, that it is mighty: that ye might fear the Lord your God for ever. (Josh. 4:24.) The fear of the Lord is to hate evil: pride and arrogancy, and the evil way, and the froward mouth, do I hate. (Prov. 8:13.) By mercy and truth iniquity is purged: and by the fear of the Lord men depart from evil. (Prov. 16:6.)

p. But my people would not hearken to my voice; and Israel would none of me. (Ps. 81:11.) See v. 25.

q. Even as I have seen, they that plow iniquity and sow wickedness, reap the same. (Job 4:8.) The backslider in heart shall be filled with his own ways: and a good man shall be satisfied from himself. (Prov. 14:14.) He that soweth iniquity shall reap vanity: and the rod of his anger shall fail. (Prov. 22:8.) Woe unto the wicked! it shall be ill with him: for the reward of his hands shall be given him. (Is. 3:11.)

r. When thou liest down, thou shalt not be afraid: yea, thou shalt lie down, and thy sleep shall be sweet (24). Be not afraid of sudden fear, neither of the desolation of the wicked, when it cometh (25). For the Lord shall be thy confidence, and shall keep thy foot from being taken. (Prov. 3:24-26.) What man is he that feareth the Lord? him shall he teach in the way that he shall choose (12). His soul shall dwell at ease; and his seed shall inherit the earth. (Ps. 25:12, 13.)

Chapter 2.

a. Again, the kingdom of heaven is like unto treasure hid in a field; the which when a man hath found, he hideth, and for joy thereof goeth and selleth all that he hath, and buyeth that field. (Mat. 13:44.) For the merchandise of it is better than the merchandise of silver, and the gain thereof than fine gold. (Prov. 3:14.)

b. The fear of the Lord is the beginning of knowledge: but fools despise wisdom and instruction. (Prov. 1:7.) And unto man he said, Behold, the fear of the Lord, that is wisdom; and to depart from evil is understanding. (Job 28:28.)

c. Give therefore thy servant an understanding heart to judge thy people, that I may discern between good and bad: for who is able to judge this thy so great a people? (I Ks. 3:9.) If any of you lack wisdom, let him ask of God, that giveth to all men liberally, and upbraideth not; and it shall be given him. (Ja. 1:5.)

d. For the Lord God is a sun and shield: the Lord will give grace and glory: no good thing will he withhold from them that walk uprightly. (Ps. 84:11.) Every word of God is pure: he is a shield unto them that put their trust in him. (Prov. 30:5.)

e. He will keep the feet of his saints, and the wicked shall be silent in darkness; for by strength shall no man prevail. (I Sam. 2:9.) Which holdeth our soul in life, and suffereth not our feet to be moved. (Ps. 66:9.)

f. When thou goest, it shall lead thee; when thou sleepest, it shall keep thee; and when thou awakest, it shall talk with thee. (Prov. 6:22.)

g. He that trusteth in his own heart is a fool: but whoso walketh wisely, he shall be delivered. (Prov. 28:26.)

h. And this is the condemnation, that light is come into the world, and men loved darkness rather than light, because their deeds were evil. (Jno. 3:19.) Having the understanding darkened, being alienated from the life of God through the ignorance that is in them, because of the blindness of their heart. (Eph. 4:18.)

i. The way of the wicked is as darkness: they know not at what they stumble. (Prov. 4:19.) They know not, neither will they understand; they walk on in darkness: all the foundations of the earth are out of course. (Ps. 82:5.) And this is the condemnation, that light is come into the world, and men loved darkness rather than light, because their deeds were evil (19). For every one that doeth evil hateth the light, neither cometh to the light, lest his deeds should be reproved. (Jno. 3:19, 20.)

j. Therefore shall a man leave his father and his mother, and shall cleave unto his wife: and they shall be one flesh. (Gen. 2:24.)

k. Her house is the way to hell, going down to the chambers of death. (Prov. 7:27.)

l. That ye be not slothful, but followers of them who through faith and patience inherit the promises. (Heb. 6:12.)

m. But the path of the just is as the shining light, that shineth more and more unto the perfect day. (Prov. 4:18.)

n. The righteous shall never be removed: but the wicked shall not inhabit the earth. (Prov. 10:30.) For evil doers shall be cut off: but those that wait upon the Lord, they shall inherit the earth (9). The righteous shall inherit the land, and dwell therein for ever. (Ps. 37:9, 29.) But the transgressors shall be destroyed together: the end of the wicked shall be cut off. (Ps. 37:38.)

Chapter 3.

a. Thus saith the Lord, Stand ye in the ways, and see, and ask for the old paths, where is the good way, and walk therein, and ye shall find rest for your souls. But they said, We will not walk therein. (Jer. 6:16.)

b. Do they not err that devise evil? but mercy and truth shall be to them that devise good. (Prov. 14:22.) Whereas thou camest but yesterday, should I this day make thee go up and down with us? Seeing I go whither I may, return thou, and take back thy brethren: mercy and truth be with thee. (II Sam. 15:20.)

c. Forasmuch as ye are manifestly declared to be the epistle of Christ ministered by us, written not with ink, but with the Spirit of the living God; not in tables of stone, but in fleshy tables of the heart. (II Cor. 3:3.) The sin of Judah is written with a pen of iron, and with the point of a diamond: it is graven upon the table of their heart, and upon the horns of your altars. (Jer. 17:1.) Bind them upon thy fingers, write them upon the table of thine heart. (Prov. 7:3.)

d. Judge me, O Lord; for I have walked in mine integrity: I have trusted also in the Lord; therefore I shall not slide. (Ps. 26:1.) I have hated them that regard lying vanities: but I trust in the Lord. (Ps. 31:6.) In God I will praise his word, in God I have put my trust; I will not fear what flesh can do unto me. (Ps. 56:4.) In thee, O Lord, do I put my trust: let me never be put to confusion (1). Deliver me in thy righteousness, and cause me to escape: incline thine ear unto me, and save me (2). Be thou my strong habitation, whereunto I may continually resort: thou hast given commandment to save me; for thou art my rock and my fortress. (Ps. 71:1-3.) I will say of the Lord, He is my refuge and my fortress: my God; in him will I trust. (Ps. 91:2.) O taste and see that the Lord is good: blessed is the man that trusteth in him. (Ps. 34:8.) O Lord of hosts, blessed is the man that trusteth in thee. (Ps. 84:12.) Blessed is the man that trusteth in the Lord, and whose hope the Lord is. (Jer. 17:7.)

and lean not [e]unto thine own understanding.
6 In [f]all thy ways acknowledge him, and he shall [g]direct thy paths.
7 ¶ Be [h]not wise in thine own eyes: [i]fear the Lord, and depart from evil.
8 It shall be health to thy [2]navel, and marrow to thy bones.
9 [j]Honour the Lord with thy substance, and with the firstfruits of all thine increase:
10 So shall thy barns be filled with plenty, and thy presses shall burst out with new wine.
11 ¶ My son, [k]despise not the chastening of the Lord; neither be weary of his correction:
12 For whom the Lord loveth he correcteth; even as a father the son in whom he delighteth.
13 ¶ Happy is the man that findeth wisdom, and the man that getteth understanding.
14 For the [l]merchandise of it is better than the merchandise of silver, and the gain thereof than fine gold.
15 She is more precious than rubies: and all [m]the things thou canst desire are not to be compared unto her.
16 Length [n]of days is in her right hand; and in her left hand riches and honour.
17 Her [o]ways are ways of pleasantness, and all her paths are peace.
18 She is [3]a tree of life to them that lay hold upon her: and happy is every one that retaineth her.
19 The Lord by wisdom hath founded the earth; by understanding hath he established the heavens.
20 By his knowledge the depths are broken up, and the clouds drop down the dew.
21 ¶ My son, let not them depart from thine eyes: keep sound wisdom and discretion:
22 So shall they be life unto thy soul, and grace to thy neck.
23 Then shalt thou walk in thy way safely, and thy foot shall not stumble.
24 When thou liest down, thou shalt not be afraid: yea, thou shalt lie down, and thy sleep shall be sweet.
25 Be not afraid of sudden fear, neither of the desolation of the wicked, when it cometh.
26 For the Lord shall be thy confidence, and shall keep thy foot from being taken.
27 ¶ [4]Withhold not [p]good from them to whom it is due, when it is in the power of thine hand to do it.
28 Say not unto thy neighbour, Go, and come again, and to morrow I will give; when thou hast it by thee.
29 Devise [q]not evil against thy neighbour, seeing he dwelleth securely by thee.
30 ¶ Strive [r]not with a man without cause, if he have done thee no harm.
31 ¶ Envy thou not the oppressor, and choose none of his ways.
32 For the froward is abomination to the Lord: but his secret is with the righteous.
33 ¶ [5]The [s]curse of the Lord is in the house of the wicked: but [t]he blesseth the habitation of the just.
34 Surely he [u]scorneth the scorners: but he giveth grace unto the lowly.
35 The [v]wise shall inherit glory: but shame shall be the promotion of fools.

2. Sinews and bones.

3. "In short, wisdom leads into a paradise and supplies the place of the tree of life." (Patrick.)

4. Exhortation of certain duties and avoidance of certain evils. (Vs. 27-32.)

5. Vs. 33-35, the decisions of God upon the wise and unwise.

CHAPTER 4.

1 Solomon, to persuade obedience, 3 sheweth what instruction he had of his parents, 5 to study wisdom, 14 and to shun the path of the wicked. 23 He exhorteth to faith, 23 and sanctification.

Ch. 4. B. C. 1000.

1 [1]Hear, ye children, the instruction of a father, and attend to know understanding.

1. In vs. 1-4 the author states that his instructions have been tried and proven.

2 For I give you good doctrine, forsake ye not my law.
3 For I was my father's son, tender and only beloved in the sight of my mother.
4 [2]He [a]taught me also, and said unto me, Let thine heart retain my words: keep my commandments, and live.

2. Directed.

5 Get wisdom, get understanding: forget it not; neither [3]decline from the words of my mouth.
6 Forsake her not, and she shall preserve thee: [b]love her, and she shall keep thee.

3. Turn away from.

e. Thus saith the Lord, Let not the wise man glory in his wisdom, neither let the mighty man glory in his might, let not the rich man glory in his riches. (Jer. 9:23.)
f. Be careful for nothing; but in every thing in prayer and supplication with thanksgiving let your requests be made known unto God. (Phil. 4:6.)
g. O Lord, I know that the way of man is not in himself: it is not in man that walketh to direct his steps. (Jer. 10:23.) I have raised him up in righteousness, and I will direct all his ways: he shall build my city, and he shall let go my captives, not for price nor reward, saith the Lord of hosts. (Is. 45:13.)
h. Be of the same mind one toward another. Mind not high things, but condescend to men of low estate. Be not wise in your own conceits. (Rom. 12:16.)
i. The fear of the Lord is to hate evil: pride, and arrogancy, and the evil way, and the froward mouth, do I hate. (Prov. 8:13.) By mercy and truth iniquity is purged: and by the fear of the Lord men depart from evil. (Prov. 16:6.) There was a man in the land of Uz, whose name was Job; and that man was perfect and upright, and one that feared God, and eschewed evil. (Job 1:1.) And unto man he said, Behold, the fear of the Lord, that is wisdom; and to depart from evil is understanding. (Job 28:28.)
j. Bring ye all the tithes into the storehouse, that there may be meat in mine house, and prove me now herewith, saith the Lord of hosts, if I will not open you the windows of heaven, and pour you out a blessing, that there shall not be room enough to receive it. (Mal. 3:10.) The first of the first-fruits of thy land thou shalt bring into the house of the Lord thy God. Thou shalt not seethe the kid in his mother's milk. (Ex. 23:19.) That thou shalt take of the first of all the fruit of the earth, which thou shalt bring of thy land that the Lord thy God giveth thee, and shalt put it in a basket, and shalt go unto the place which the Lord thy God shall choose to place his name there. (Dt. 26:2.)
k. Behold, happy is the man whom God correcteth; therefore despise not the chastening of the Almighty. (Job 5:17.) Blessed is the man whom thou chastenest, O Lord, and teachest him out of thy law; (Ps. 94:12.) And ye have forgotten the exhortation which speaketh unto you as unto children, My son, despise not thou the chastening of the Lord, nor faint when thou art rebuked of him (5): For whom the Lord loveth he chasteneth, and scourgeth every son whom he receiveth. (Heb. 12:5, 6.)
l. Receive my instruction and not silver; and knowledge rather than choice gold (10). My fruit is better than gold, yea, than fine gold; and my revenue than choice silver. (Prov. 8:10, 19.) How much better is it to get wisdom than gold! and to get understanding rather to be chosen than silver! (Prov. 16:16.) It cannot be gotten for gold, neither shall silver be weighed for the price thereof (15). It cannot be valued with the gold of Ophir, with the precious onyx or the sapphire (16). The gold and the crystal cannot equal it: and the exchange of it shall not be for jewels of fine gold (17). No mention shall be made of coral, or of pearls: for the price of wisdom is above rubies (18). The topaz of Ethiopia shall not equal it, neither shall it be valued with pure gold. (Job 28:15-19.)
m. For wisdom is better than rubies; and all the things that may be desired are not to be compared to it. (Prov. 8:11.) No mention shall be made of coral, or of pearls: for the price of wisdom is above rubies. (Job. 28:18.)
n. For bodily exercise profiteth little: but godliness is profitable unto all things, having promise of the life that now is, and of that which is to come. (I Tim. 4:8.)
o. Take my yoke upon you, and learn of me; for I am meek and lowly in heart: and ye shall find rest unto your souls. (Mat. 11:29.)
p. Render therefore to all their dues: tribute to whom tribute is due; custom to whom custom; fear to whom fear; honor to whom honor. (Rom. 13:7.) As we have therefore opportunity, let us do good unto all men, especially unto them who are of the household of faith. (Gal. 6:10.)
q. Frowardness is in his heart, he deviseth mischief continually; he soweth discord. (Prov. 6:14.) Do they not err that devise evil? but mercy and truth shall be to them that devise good. (Prov. 14:22.)
r. If it be possible, as much as lieth in you, live peaceably with all men. (Rom. 12:18.)
s. If ye will not hear, and if ye will not lay it to heart, to give glory unto my name, saith the Lord of hosts, I will even send a curse upon you, and I will curse your blessings: yea, I have cursed them already, because ye do not lay it to heart. (Mal. 2:2.)
t. And he shall be like a tree planted by the rivers of water, that bringeth forth his fruit in his season; his leaf also shall not wither; and whatsoever he doeth shall prosper. (Ps. 1:3.)
u. But he giveth more grace. Wherefore he saith, God resisteth the proud, but giveth grace unto the humble. (Ja. 4:6.) Likewise, ye younger, submit yourselves unto the elder. Yea, all of you be subject one to another, and be clothed with humility: for God resisteth the proud, and giveth grace to the humble. (I Pet. 5:5.)
v. And many of them that sleep in the dust of the earth shall awake, some to everlasting life, and some to shame and everlasting contempt. (Dan. 12:2.)
Chapter 4.
a. And thou, Solomon my son, know thou the God of thy father, and serve him with a perfect heart, and with a willing mind: for the Lord searcheth all hearts, and understandeth all the imaginations of the thoughts: if thou seek him, he will be found of thee; but if thou forsake him, he will cast thee off for ever. (I Chr. 28:9.)
b. And with all deceivableness of unrighteousness in them that perish; because they received not the love of the truth, that they might be saved. (II Thes. 2:10.)

7 Wisdom [c]is the principal thing; therefore get wisdom: and with all thy getting get understanding.
8 [d]Exalt her, and she shall promote thee: she shall bring thee to [4]honour, when thou dost embrace her.
9 She shall give to thine head an ornament of grace: a crown of glory shall she deliver to thee.
10 Hear, O my son, and receive my sayings; and the years of thy life shall be many.
11 I have taught thee in the way of wisdom; I have led thee in right paths.
12 When thou goest, thy steps shall not be straitened; and when thou runnest, thou shalt not stumble.
13 Take fast hold of instruction; let her not go: keep her; for she is thy life.
14 ¶ Enter not into the path of the wicked, and go not in the way of evil men.
15 Avoid it, pass not by it, turn from it, and pass away.
16 For they sleep not, except they have done mischief; and their sleep is taken away, unless they cause some to fall.
17 For they [5]eat the bread of wickedness, and drink the wine of violence.
18 [e]But the path of the just is as the shining light, that shineth more and more unto the perfect day.
19 The [f]way of the wicked is as darkness: they know not at what they stumble.
20 ¶ My son, attend to my words; incline thine ear unto my sayings.
21 Let them not depart from thine eyes; keep them in the midst of thine heart.
22 For they are life unto those that find them, and health to all their flesh.
23 ¶ Keep thy heart with all diligence; for [g]out of it are the [6]issues of life.
24 Put away from thee [h]a froward mouth, and perverse lips put far from thee.
25 Let thine eyes look right on, and let thine eyelids look straight before thee.
26 Ponder the path of thy feet, and let all thy ways be established.
27 Turn not to the right hand nor to the left: [i]remove thy foot from evil.

CHAPTER 5.

1 Solomon exhorteth to the study of wisdom. 3 He sheweth the mischief of whoredom and riot. 15 He exhorteth to contentedness, liberality, and chastity.

1 [1]My son, attend unto my wisdom, and bow thine ear to my understanding:
2 That thou mayest regard discretion, and that thy lips may keep knowledge.
3 ¶ For the lips of a strange woman drop as an honeycomb, and her mouth is smoother than oil:
4 But her end is bitter as wormwood, sharp as a [a]twoedged sword.
5 Her feet go down [b]to death; her steps take hold on hell.
6 Lest thou shouldest ponder the path of life, her ways are moveable, that thou canst not know them.
7 Hear me now therefore, O ye children, and depart not from the words of my mouth.
8 Remove thy way far from her, and come not nigh the door of her house:
9 Lest thou give thine honour unto others, and thy years unto the cruel:
10 Lest strangers be filled with thy wealth; and thy labours be in the house of a stranger;
11 And thou mourn at the last, when thy flesh and thy body are consumed, 12 And say, How have I hated instruction, and my heart despised reproof;
13 And have not obeyed the voice of my teachers, nor inclined mine ear to them that instructed me!
14 I was almost in all evil in the midst of the congregation and assembly.
15 ¶ [2]Drink waters out of thine own [3]cistern, and running waters out of thine own [3]well.
16 Let thy fountains be dispersed abroad, and rivers of waters in the streets.
17 Let them be only thine own, and not strangers' with thee.
18 Let thy fountain be blessed: and rejoice [c]with the wife of thy youth.
19 Let [d]her be as the loving hind and pleasant roe; let her breasts satisfy thee at all times; and be thou [4]ravished always with her love.
20 And why wilt thou, my son, be [4]ravished with a strange woman, and embrace the bosom of a stranger?
21 For the [e]ways of man are before the eyes of the Lord, and he [5]pondereth all his goings.
22 ¶ His [f]own iniquities shall take the wicked himself, and he shall be holden with the cords of his sins.
23 He [g]shall die without instruction; and in the greatness of his folly he shall go astray.

CHAPTER 6.

1 Against suretiship, 6 idleness, 12 and mischievousness. 16 Seven things hateful to God. 20 The blessings of obedience.

1 [1]My son, if thou be surety for thy friend, if thou hast stricken thy hand with a stranger,
2 Thou art snared with the words of thy

4. Nothing is to be more highly prized than a cultivated mind and heart, the true meaning of wisdom as here used, as a result of which honor will follow as a natural consequence.

5. Their attachment for wickedness is as strong as their appetite for food.

6. The goings forth, the fountain of, the source.

Ch. 5. B. C. 1000.

1. In vs. 1-14 are recorded exhortations to chastity, regarding the unlawful indulgence of sexual desire.

2. The constant gratifications of his lust even caused him to think evil when in the assembly of the righteous.

3. Thine own wife.

4. Fully satisfied, absolutely enraptured with.

5. Considereth, taketh account of.

Ch. 6. B. C. 1000.

1. In ch. 5 the author treats of the chastity and honor due the married life, while in ch. 6 he treats of two evils which have a tendency to reduce the family to distress, viz., slothfulness and foolish suretyship. In vs. 1-5 he admonishes against indiscriminately assuming the risks of others.

c. But one thing is needful: and Mary hath chosen that good part, which shall not be taken away from her. (Luke 10:42.)
d. Wherefore the Lord God of Israel saith, I said indeed that thy house, and the house of thy father, should walk before me for ever: but now the Lord saith, Be it far from me; for them that honor me I will honor, and they that despise me shall be lightly esteemed. (I Sam. 2:30.)
e. Ye are the light of the world. A city that is set on an hill cannot be hid. (Mat. 5:14.) That ye may be blameless and harmless, the sons of God, without rebuke, in the midst of a crooked and perverse nation, among whom ye shine as lights in the world. (Phil. 2:15.)
f. He will keep the feet of his saints, and the wicked shall be silent in darkness; for by strength shall no man prevail. (I Sam. 2:9.) Then Jesus said unto them, Yet a little while is the light with you. Walk while ye have the light, lest the darkness come upon you: for he that walketh in darkness knoweth not whither he goeth. (Jno. 12:35.)
g. O generation of vipers, how can ye, being evil, speak good things? for out of the abundance of the heart the mouth speaketh. (Mat. 12:34.) But those things which proceed out of the mouth come forth from the heart; and they defile the man (18). For out of the heart proceed evil thoughts, murders, adulteries, fornications, thefts, false witness, blasphemies. (Mat. 15:18, 19.) For from within, out of the heart of men, proceed evil thoughts, adulteries, fornications, murders, (Mk. 7:21.) A good man out of the good treasure of his heart bringeth forth that which is good; and an evil man out of the evil treasure of his heart bringeth forth that which is evil: for of the abundance of the heart his mouth speaketh. (Luke 6:45.)
h. Let no corrupt communication proceed out of your mouth, but that which is good to the use of edifying, that it may minister grace unto the hearers. (Eph. 1:29.)
i. Ye shall observe to do therefore as the Lord your God hath commanded you: ye shall not turn aside to the right hand or to the left. (Dt. 5:32.) And thou shalt not go aside from any of the words which I command thee this day, to the right hand, or to the left, to go after other gods to serve them. (Dt. 28:14.) Only be thou strong and very courageous, that thou mayest observe to do according to all the law, which Moses my servant commanded thee: turn not from it to the right hand or to the left, that thou mayest prosper whithersoever thou goest. (Josh. 1:7.)

Chapter 5.

a. For the word of God is quick, and powerful, and sharper than any two-edged sword, piercing even to the dividing asunder of soul and spirit, and of the joints and marrow, and is a discerner of the thoughts and intents of the heart. (Heb. 4:12.)
b. Marriage is honorable in all, and the bed undefiled: but whoremongers and adulterers, God will judge. (Heb. 13:4.)
c. Yet ye say, Wherefore? Because the Lord hath been witness between thee and the wife of thy youth, against whom thou hast dealt treacherously: yet is she thy companion, and the wife of thy covenant. (Mal. 2:14.)
d. Thy two breasts are like two young roes that are twins, which feed among the lilies. (Song 4:5.)
e. For the eyes of the Lord run to and fro throughout the whole earth, to show himself strong in the behalf of them whose heart is perfect toward him. Herein thou hast done foolishly: therefore from henceforth thou shalt have wars. (II Chr. 16:9.) Doth not he see my ways, and count all my steps? (Job 31:4.) For his eyes are upon the ways of man, and he seeth all his goings. (Job 34:21.) Great in counsel, and mighty in work: for thine eyes are open upon all the ways of the sons of men: to give every one according to his ways, and according to the fruit of his doings. (Jer. 32:19.) And they consider not in their hearts that I remember all their wickedness: now their own doings have beset them about; they are before my face. (Hos. 7:2.) Neither is there any creature that is not manifest in his sight: but all things are naked and opened unto the eyes of him with whom we have to do. (Heb. 4:13.)
f. The heathen are sunk down in the pit that they made: in the net which they hid is their own foot taken. (Ps. 9:15.)
g. Doth not their excellency which is in them go away? they die, even without wisdom. (Job 4:21.) But if they obey not, they shall perish by the sword, and they shall die without knowledge. (Job 36:12.)

mouth, thou art taken with the words of thy mouth.

3 Do this now, my son, and deliver thyself, when thou art come into the hand of thy friend; go, humble thyself, and make sure thy friend.

4 Give not sleep to thine eyes, nor slumber to thine eyelids.

5 Deliver thyself as a roe from the hand of the hunter, and as a bird from the hand of the fowler.

6 ¶ [2]Go [a]to the [3]ant, thou sluggard; consider her ways, and be wise:

7 Which having no guide, overseer, or ruler,

8 Provideth [4]her meat in the summer, and gathereth her food in the harvest.

9 How long wilt thou sleep, O sluggard? when wilt thou arise out of thy sleep?

10 Yet a little sleep, a little slumber, a little folding of the hands to sleep:

11 So shall thy poverty come as one that travelleth, and thy want as an armed man.

12 ¶ [5]A naughty [6]person, a wicked man, walketh with a froward mouth.

13 He winketh with his eyes, he speaketh with his feet, he teacheth with his fingers;

14 Frowardness is in his heart, he [b]deviseth mischief continually; he soweth discord.

15 Therefore shall his calamity come suddenly; suddenly shall he be [c]broken without remedy.

16 ¶ [7]These six things doth the Lord hate: yea, seven are an abomination unto him:

17 A proud look, [d]a lying tongue, and hands [c]that shed innocent blood,

18 An [f]heart that deviseth wicked imaginations, [g]feet that be swift in running to mischief, 19 A false witness that speaketh lies, and he that soweth discord among brethren.

20 ¶ [8]My [h]son, keep thy father's commandment, and forsake not the law of thy mother:

21 Bind them continually upon thine heart, [9]and tie them about thy neck.

22 When thou goest, it shall lead thee; when thou sleepest, it shall keep thee; and when thou awakest, it shall talk with thee.

23 For [i]the commandment is a lamp; and the law is light; and reproofs of instruction are the way of life:

24 To keep [10]thee from the evil woman, from the flattery of the tongue of a strange woman.

25 [j]Lust not after her beauty in thine heart; neither let her take thee with her [11]eyelids.

26 For by means of a whorish woman a man is brought to a piece of bread: and the adulteress will hunt for the precious life.

2. Vs. 6-11 admonish against slothfulness.

3. And learn industry.

4. It has been asserted by many critics, that ants never feed on grain, nor store up food of any kind, certainly extraordinary statements, if correct. However, Mr. E. R. Leland, in the Popular Science Monthly, gives the observations of Mr. Trahearne Moggridge throughout southern Europe, proving conclusively that ants have been found which lay by a store of supplies for winter. Again Dr. Darwin asserts that large brownish ants called agricultural ants (atta male faciens) dwelt in caved cities, and like thrifty farmers, they cultivate certain grasses and grains if they do not otherwise find it, cut it, thrash it, season it, and store it away in bins for winter use; and further, if any of it happens to get damp they will carry it out, sun it, stir it and dry it, then return it to its bin; thus far surpassing anything that Solomon ever wrote concerning the ant. "Solomon's statement concerning the ant has afforded one of the stock arguments against the truth of scripture, and yet we have his statements not only corroborated to the very letter by those who have visited Palestine for the express purpose of investigating its zoölogy, but far surpassed by the observations of a scientific man (of the United States) who had watched the insects for a series of years."

5. Vs. 12-15 give a picture of the wicked man.

6. A man of Belial, worthless, wicked.

7. Vs. 16-19, the writer exhorts against the practice of seven vices.

8. Vs. 20-35, exhort filial obedience.

9. Treasure them in your affections.

10. Thus one object of the Proverbs is to restrain the reader from sensual debasement.

11. The oriental women paint their eyelids so as to give them great artificial beauty.

Ch. 7. B. C. 1000.

1. This ch. is really a continuation of the teachings of the second and fifth chs., also the latter part of ch. 6, i. e. exhortation to filial obedience and the cultivation of wisdom and the walking in paths of purity.

2. That is, love, cherish and respect her.

27 Can a man take fire in his bosom, and his clothes not be burned?

28 Can one go upon hot coals, and his feet not be burned?

29 So he that goeth in to his neighbour's wife; whosoever toucheth her shall not be innocent.

30 Men do not despise a thief, if he steal to satisfy his soul when he is hungry;

31 But if he be found, [k]he shall restore sevenfold; he shall give all the substance of his house.

32 But whoso committeth adultery with a woman lacketh understanding: he that doeth it destroyeth [l]his own soul.

33 A wound and dishonour shall he get; and his reproach shall not be wiped away.

34 For jealousy [m]is the rage of a man: therefore he will not spare in the day of vengeance.

35 He will not regard any ransom; neither will he rest content, though thou givest many gifts.

CHAPTER 7.

1 Solomon persuadeth to a sincere and kind familiarity with wisdom. 6 In an example of his own experience, he sheweth 10 the cunning of an whore, 22 and the desperate simplicity of a young wanton. 24 He exhorteth from such wickedness.

1 [1]My son, keep my words, and [a]lay up my commandments with thee.

2 Keep my [a]commandments, and live; [b]and my law as the apple of thine eye.

3 Bind [c]them upon thy fingers, write them upon the table of thine heart.

4 Say unto wisdom, Thou art [2]my sister; and call understanding thy kinswoman:

5 That they may keep thee from the strange woman, from the stranger which flattereth with her words.

6 ¶ For at the window of my house I looked through my casement,

7 And beheld among the simple ones, I discerned among the youths, a young man [d]void of understanding,

8 Passing through the street near her corner; and he went the way to her house,

9 In the twilight, in the evening, in the black and dark night:

10 And, behold, there met him a woman with the attire of an harlot, and subtil of heart.

11 (She is loud and stubborn; [e]her feet abide not in her house:

Chapter 6.

a. But ask now the beasts, and they shall teach thee; and the fowls of the air, and they shall tell thee. (Job 12:7.)

b. Woe to them that devise iniquity, and work evil upon their beds! when the morning is light, they practice it, because it is in the power of their hand. (Mic. 2:1.) Devise not evil against thy neighbor, seeing he dwelleth securely by thee. (Prov. 3:29.)

c. And shalt say unto them, Thus saith the Lord of hosts; Even so will I break this people and this city, as one breaketh a potter's vessel, that cannot be made whole again: and they shall bury them in Tophet, till there be no place to bury. (Jer. 19:11.)

d. Deliver my soul, O Lord, from lying lips, and from a deceitful tongue. (Ps. 120:2.)

e. And when ye spread forth your hands, I will hide mine eyes from you: yea, when ye make many prayers, I will not hear: your hands are full of blood. (Is. 1:15.)

f. And God saw that the wickedness of man was great in the earth, and that every imagination of the thoughts of his heart was only evil continually. (Gen. 6:5.)

g. Their feet are swift to shed blood. (Rom. 3:15.)

h. Children obey your parents in the Lord: for this is right. (Eph. 6:1.)

i. The statutes of the Lord are right, rejoicing the heart: the commandment of the Lord is pure, enlightening the eyes. (Ps. 19:8.)

j. But I say unto you, That whosoever looketh on a woman to lust after her hath committed adultery with her already in his heart. (Mat. 5:28.)

k. If a man shall steal an ox, or a sheep, and kill it, or sell it; he shall restore five oxen for an ox, and four sheep for a sheep. (Ex. 22:1.)

l. For it is a fire that consumeth to destruction, and would root out all mine increase. (Job 31:12.) Marriage is honorable in all, and the bed undefiled: but whoremongers and adulterers God will judge. (Heb. 13:4.)

m. Wrath is cruel, and anger is outrageous; but who is able to stand before envy? (Prov. 27:4.) Set me as a seal upon thine heart, as a seal upon thine arm: for love is strong as death: jealousy is cruel as the grave: the coals thereof are coals of fire, which hath a most vehement flame. (Song S. 8:6.)

Chapter 7.

a. Ye shall therefore keep my statutes, and my judgments: which if a man do, he shall live in them: I am the Lord. (Lev. 18:5.) Incline your ear, and come unto me; hear, and your soul shall live; and I will make an everlasting covenant with you, even the sure mercies of David. (Is. 55:3.)

b. Then shalt thou prosper, if thou takest heed to fulfil the statutes and judgments which the Lord charged Moses with concerning Israel: be strong, and of good courage; dread not, nor be dismayed. (I Chr. 22:13.) My son, forget not my law; but let thine heart keep my commandments. (Prov. 3:1.) Only be thou strong and very courageous, that thou mayest observe to do according to all the law, which Moses my servant commanded thee: turn not from it to the right hand or to the left, that thou mayest prosper whithersoever thou goest. (Josh. 1:7.) Thou shalt keep therefore his statutes, and his commandments, which I command thee this day, that it may go well with thee, and with thy children after thee, and that thou mayest prolong thy days upon the earth, which the Lord thy God givest thee, for ever. (Dt. 4:40.)

c. And thou shalt bind them for a sign upon thine hand, and they shall be as frontlets between thine eyes. (Dt. 6:8.)

d. For my people is foolish, they have not known me; they are sottish children, and they have none understanding: they are wise to do evil, but to do good they have no knowledge. (Jer. 4:22.)

e. And withal they learn to be idle, wandering about from house to house; and not only idle, but tattlers also and busy bodies, speaking things which they ought not. (I Tim. 5:13.) To be discreet, chaste, keepers at home, good, obedient to their own husbands, that the word of God be not blasphemed. (Tit. 2:5.)

12 Now is she without, now in the streets, and lieth in wait at every corner.)
13 So she caught him, and kissed him, and with an [3]impudent face said unto him, 14 I have peace offerings with me; this day have I payed my vows.
15 Therefore came I forth to meet thee, diligently to seek thy face, and I have found thee.
16 I have decked my bed with coverings of tapestry, with carved works, with fine linen of Ē'gўpt.
17 I have perfumed my bed with myrrh, aloes, and cinnamon.
18 Come, let us take our fill of love until the morning: let us solace ourselves with loves.
19 For the goodman is not at home, he is gone a long journey:
20 He hath taken a bag of money with him, and will come home at the day appointed.
21 With her much fair speech she caused him to yield, with the flattering of her lips she forced him.
22 He goeth after her straightway, as an ox goeth to the slaughter, or as a fool to the correction of the stocks;
23 Till a dart strike through his liver; as a bird hasteth to the snare, and knoweth not that it is for his life.
24 ¶ Hearken unto me now therefore, O ye children, and attend to the words of my mouth.
25 Let not thine heart decline to her ways, go not astray in her paths.
26 For she hath cast down many wounded: yea, [f]many strong men have been slain by her.
27 Her house is the way to [4]hell, going down to the chambers of death.

CHAPTER 8.

1 The fame, 6 and evidency of wisdom. 10 The excellency, 12 the nature, 15 the power, 18 the riches, 22 and the eternity of wisdom.

1 [1]Doth not [a]wisdom cry? and understanding put forth her voice?
2 She standeth in the top of high places, by the way in the places of the paths.
3 She crieth at the gates, at the entry of the city, at the coming in at the doors.
4 Unto you, O men, I call; and my voice is to the sons of man.
5 [2]O ye [3]simple, understand wisdom: and, [3]ye fools, be ye of an understanding heart.
6 Hear; for I will speak of excellent things; and the opening of my lips shall be right things.
7 For my mouth shall [b]speak truth; and wickedness is an abomination to my lips.
8 All the words of my mouth are in righteousness; there is nothing froward or perverse in them.
9 They are all plain to him that understandeth, and right to them that find knowledge.
10 Receive my [c]instruction, and not silver; and knowledge rather than choice gold.
11 [d]For wisdom is better than rubies; and all the things that may be desired are not to be compared to it.
12 I wisdom dwell with prudence, and find out knowledge of witty inventions.
13 [e]The [4]fear of the Lord is to hate evil: pride, and arrogancy, and the evil way, and [f]the froward mouth, do I hate.
14 Counsel is mine, and sound wisdom: I am understanding; [g]I have strength.
15 [h]By me kings reign, and princes decree justice.
16 By me princes rule, and nobles, even all the judges of the earth.
17 [i]I love them that love me; and [j]those that seek me early shall find me.
18 Riches [k]and honour are with me; yea, durable riches and righteousness.
19 [l]My fruit is better than gold, yea, than fine gold; and my revenue than choice silver.
20 I [m]lead in the way of righteousness, in the midst of the paths of judgment:
21 That I may cause those that love me to inherit substance; and I will fill their [5]treasures.
22 The [n]Lord possessed me in the beginning of his way, before his works of old.
23 I was set up from [6]everlasting, from the beginning, or ever the earth was.
24 When there were no depths, I was brought forth; when there were no fountains abounding with water.
25 Before the mountains were settled, before the hills was I brought forth:
26 While as yet he had not made the earth, nor the fields, nor the highest part of the dust of the world.
27 When he prepared the heavens, I was there: when he set a compass upon the face of the depth:
28 When he established the clouds above: when he strengthened the fountains of the deep:
29 When he gave to the sea his decree, that the waters should not pass his commandment: when he appointed the foundations of the earth:
30 Then I was by him, as one brought up with him: and I was daily his delight, rejoicing always before him;
31 Rejoicing in the habitable part of his earth; and my delights were with the sons of men.
32 [7]Now therefore hearken unto me, O ye children: for blessed are they that keep my ways.
33 Hear instruction, and be wise, and refuse it not.

3. Bold, familiar airs.

4. The infernal world.

Ch. 8. B. C. 1000.

1. In contrast to the base character of ch. 7, the author in ch. 8 makes the strongest possible appeals for the acquisition of wisdom as personified under the character of a pure, lovely, affectionate woman; sincere in all of her affections and always conferring good upon her associates.

2. Vs. 5-21 detail the excellent things to which wisdom invites.

3. Inexperienced, unsuspecting.

4. Equivalent to true piety.

5. The heritage of those who love wisdom.

6. From eternity.

7. Vs. 32-36 detail the blessings resulting from observing wisdom's instructions, and a warning to those who heed not her teachings. Their conduct will bring their destruction, hence they are represented as loving death, because they love the things which bring death.

f. Did not Solomon king of Israel sin by these things? yet among many nations was there no king like him, who was beloved of his God, and God made him king over all Israel: nevertheless even him did outlandish women cause to sin. (Neh. 13:26.)

Chapter 8.

a. Wisdom crieth without; she uttereth her voice in the streets (20): She crieth in the chief place of concourse, in the openings of the gates: in the city, she uttereth her words. (Prov. 1:20, 21.)

b. Jesus answered and said unto them, Though I bear record of myself, yet my record is true: for I know whence I came, and whither I go; but ye cannot tell whence I come, and whither I go. (Jno. 8:14.) Now I say that Jesus Christ was a minister of the circumcision for the truth of God, to confirm the promises made unto the fathers. (Rom. 15:8.)

c. For the merchandise of it is better than the merchandise of silver, and the gain thereof than fine gold (14). She is more precious than rubies: and all the things thou canst desire are not to be compared unto her. (Prov. 3:14, 15.)

d. No mention shall be made of coral, or of pearls: for the price of wisdom is above rubies. (Job 28:18.)

e. By mercy and truth iniquity is purged: and by the fear of the Lord men depart from evil. (Prov. 16:6.) Be not wise in thine own eyes: fear the Lord, and depart from evil. (Prov. 3:7.)

f. Put away from thee a froward mouth, and perverse lips put far from thee. (Prov. 4:24.)

g. Wisdom strengtheneth the wise more than ten mighty men which are in the city. (Ecc. 7:19.)

h. And he changeth the times and the seasons: he removeth kings, and setteth up kings: he giveth wisdom unto the wise: and knowledge to them that know understanding. (Dan. 2:21.) And Jesus came and spake unto them, saying, All power is given unto me in heaven and in earth. (Mat. 28:18.) Let every soul be subject unto the higher powers. For there is no power but of God: the powers that be are ordained of God. (Rom. 13:1.)

i. Wherefore the Lord God of Israel saith, I said indeed that thy house and the house of thy father, should walk before me for ever: but now the Lord saith, Be it far from me; for them that honor me I will honor, and they that despise me shall be lightly esteemed. (I Sam. 2:30.) He that hath my commandments, and keepeth them, he it is that loveth me: and he that loveth me shall be loved of my Father, and I will love him, and will manifest myself to him. (Jno. 14:21.)

j. If any of you lack wisdom, let him ask of God that giveth to all men liberally, and upbraideth not; and it shall be given him. (Ja. 1:5.)

k. But seek ye first the kingdom of God, and his righteousness; and all these things shall be added unto you. (Mat. 6:33.)

l. It cannot be gotten for gold, neither shall silver be weighed for the price thereof. (Job 28:15.)

m. For the Lamb which is in the midst of the throne shall feed them, and shall lead them unto living fountains of waters: and God shall wipe away all tears from their eyes. (Rev. 7:17.)

n. The Lord by wisdom hath founded the earth; by understanding hath he established the heavens. (Prov. 3:19.) In the beginning was the Word, and the Word was with God, and the Word was God. (Jno. 1:1.)

34 Blessed is the man that heareth me, watching daily at my gates, waiting at the posts of my doors.
35 For [o]whoso findeth me findeth life, and shall obtain favour of the Lord.
36 But he that sinneth against me [p]wrongeth his own soul: all they that hate me [8]love death.

CHAPTER 9.

1 The discipline, 4 and doctrine of wisdom.
13 The custom, 16 and error of folly.

1 [1]Wisdom hath builded her house, she hath hewn out her seven pillars:
2 She hath killed her beasts; she hath mingled her wine; she hath also furnished her table.
3 She hath sent forth her maidens: she crieth upon the highest places of the city,
4 Whoso is simple, let him turn in hither: as for him that wanteth understanding, she saith to him,
5 Come, [a]eat of my bread, and drink of the wine which I have mingled.
6 Forsake the foolish, and live; and go in the way of understanding.
7 He that reproveth a scorner getteth to himself shame: and he that rebuketh a wicked man getteth himself a blot.
8 Reprove not [b]a scorner, lest he hate thee: rebuke a wise man, and he will love thee.
9 Give instruction to a wise man, and he will yet be wiser: teach a just man, and he will increase in learning.
10 The [2]fear [c]of the Lord is the beginning of wisdom: and the knowledge of the holy is understanding.
11 For by me thy days shall be multiplied, and the years of thy life shall be increased.
12 [d]If thou be wise, thou shalt be wise for thyself: but if thou scornest, thou alone shalt bear it.
13 ¶ [3]A foolish woman is clamorous: she is simple, and knoweth nothing.
14 For she sitteth at the door of her house, on a seat in the high places of the city, 15 To call passengers who go right on their ways:
16 Whoso is simple, let him turn in hither: and as for him that wanteth understanding, she saith to him, 17 Stolen [e]waters are sweet, and bread [f]eaten in secret is pleasant.
18 But he knoweth not that the dead are there; and that her guests are in the [g]depths of [4]hell.

Ch. 9. B. C. 1000.

1. The discourse on wisdom is continued in this ch. In vs. 1-12, wisdom is represented as making a feast and inviting her guests.

2. This expression in modern language would read, to fear the Lord is the first and most important thing, in order to obtain knowledge.

3. Vs. 13-18 present a contrast in the picture of wisdom's opponent, the seductive harlot.

4. A dark picture of impurity.

Ch. 10. B. C. 1000.

1. The first nine chs. constitute an introductory discourse or foreword for the rest of the book and were doubtless written as one discourse or composition, ch. 10 beginning the book proper.

2. For historical account of Solomon, see note 14, ch. ., 1 Kings.

3. According to whether they accept or reject wisdom's ways.

4. A prating fool, one debased in his words.

5. Punishment is for him, who rejects wisdom's ways.

6. The unwise.

CHAPTER 10.

From this chapter to the five and twentieth are sundry observations of moral virtues, and their contrary vices.

1 [1]The proverbs of [2]Sŏl'o-mon. A wise [3]son maketh a glad father: but a foolish son is the [3]heaviness of his mother.
2 Treasures of [a]wickedness profit nothing: but righteousness delivereth from death.
3 [b]The Lord will not suffer the soul of the righteous to famish: but he casteth away the substance of the wicked.
4 He becometh poor that dealeth with a slack hand: but [c]the land of the diligent maketh rich.
5 He that gathereth in summer is a wise son: but he that sleepeth in harvest is a son that causeth shame.
6 Blessings are upon the head of the just: but violence covereth the mouth of the wicked.
7 The memory of the just is blessed: but the name of the wicked shall rot.
8 The wise in heart will receive commandments: but a [4]prating fool shall fall.
9 He [d]that walketh uprightly walketh surely: but he that perverteth his ways shall be known.
10 He that winketh with the eye causeth sorrow: but a [4]prating fool shall fall.
11 The mouth of [e]a righteous man is a well of life: but violence covereth the mouth of the wicked.
12 Hatred stirreth up strifes: but love [f]covereth all sins.
13 In the lips of him that hath understanding wisdom is found: but a rod [5]is for the back of him that is void of understanding.
14 Wise men lay up knowledge: but the mouth of the foolish is near destruction.
15 [g]The rich man's wealth is his strong city: the destruction of the poor is their poverty.
16 The labour of the righteous tendeth to life: the fruit of the wicked to sin.
17 He is in the way of life that keepeth instruction: but he that refuseth reproof erreth.
18 He that hideth hatred with lying lips, and he that uttereth a slander, is a fool.
19 In the multitude of words there wanteth not sin: but he that refraineth his lips is wise.
20 The tongue of the just is as choice silver: the heart of the wicked is little worth.
21 The lips of the righteous feed many: but [6]fools die for want of wisdom.
22 [h]The blessing of the Lord, it maketh rich, and he addeth no sorrow with it.

o. Yea doubtless, and I count all things but loss for the excellency of the knowledge of Christ Jesus my Lord: for whom I have suffered the loss of all things, and do count them but dung, that I may win Christ (8), And be found in him, not having mine own righteousness, which is of the law, but that which is through the faith of Christ, the righteousness which is of God by faith. (Phil. 3:8, 9.)
p. How shall we escape, if we neglect so great salvation; which at the first began to be spoken by the Lord, and was confirmed unto us by them that heard him. (Heb. 2:3.)

Chapter 9.

a. Ho, every one that thirsteth, come ye to the waters, and he that hath no money; come ye, buy, and eat; yea, come, buy wine and milk without money, and without price. (Is. 55:1.) I am come unto my garden, my sister, my spouse; I have gathered my myrrh with my spice; I have eaten my honeycomb with my honey; I have drunk my wine with my milk: eat, O friends; drink, yea, drink abundantly, O beloved. (Song 5:1.) Jesus answered them and said, Verily, verily, I say unto you, Ye seek me, not because ye saw the miracles, but because ye did eat of the loaves, and were filled. (Jno. 6:26.)
b. Give not that which is holy unto the dogs, neither cast ye your pearls before swine, lest they trample them under their feet, and turn again and rend you. (Mat. 7:6.) A scorner loveth not one that reproveth him; neither will he go unto the wise. (Prov. 15:12.)
c. Behold, the fear of the Lord, that is wisdom. (Job 28:28.) The fear of the Lord is the beginning of knowledge: but fools despise wisdom and instruction. (Prov. 1:7.)
d. If thou sinnest, what doest thou against him? or if thy transgressions be multiplied, what doest thou unto him? (6). If thou be righteous, what givest thou him? or what receiveth he of thine hand? (Job. 35:6, 7.)
e. Bread of deceit is sweet to a man; but afterwards his mouth shall be filled with gravel. (Prov. 20:17.) Drink waters out of thine own cistern, and running waters out of thine own well. (Prov. 5:15.)
f. See e, ch. 9.
g. Her house is the way to hell, going down to the chambers of death. (Prov. 7:27.)

Chapter 10.

a. They that trust in their wealth, and boast themselves in the multitude of their riches (6); None of them can by any means redeem his brother, nor give to God a ransom for him. (Ps. 49:6, 7.)
b. Wherefore, O king, let my counsel be acceptable unto thee, and break off thy sins by righteousness, and thine iniquities by showing mercy to the poor; if it may be a lengthening of thy tranquillity. (Dan. 4:27.)
c. The thoughts of the diligent tend only to plenteousness; but of every one that is hasty only to want. (Prov. 21:5.) The soul of the sluggard desireth, and hath nothing: but the soul of the diligent shall be made fat. (Prov. 13:4.)
d. Yea, though I walk through the valley of the shadow of death, I will fear no evil: for thou art with me; thy rod and thy staff they comfort me. (Ps. 23:4.) Then shalt thou walk in thy way safely, and thy foot shall not stumble. (Prov. 3:23.) Whoso walketh uprightly shall be saved: but he that is perverse in his ways shall fall at once. (Prov. 28:18.) He that walketh righteously, and speaketh uprightly; He shall dwell on high; his place of defence shall be the munitions of rocks: bread shall be given him; his waters shall be sure. (Is. 33:15, 16.)
e. The mouth of the righteous speaketh wisdom, and his tongue talketh of judgment. (Ps. 37:30.) The law of the wise is a fountain of life, to depart from the snares of death. (Prov. 13:14.) The words of a man's mouth are as deep waters, and the well-spring of wisdom as a flowing brook. (Prov. 18:4.)
f. And above all things have fervent charity among yourselves: for charity shall cover the multitude of sins. (I Pet. 4:8.)
g. Charge them that are rich in this world, that they be not high minded, nor trust in uncertain riches, but in the living God, who giveth us richly all things to enjoy; (I Tim. 6:17.)
h. That I may cause those that love me to inherit substance; and I will fill their treasures. (Prov. 8:21.) The Lord hath blessed my mas-

23 It is as sport to a fool to do mischief: but a man of understanding hath wisdom.
24 [i]The fear of the wicked, it shall come upon him: but the desire of the [j]righteous shall be granted.
25 As the whirlwind passeth, so is the wicked no more: but the righteous is an everlasting foundation.
26 As vinegar to the teeth, and as smoke to the eyes, so is the sluggard to them that send him.
27 [k]The fear of the Lord prolongeth days: but the [l]years of the wicked shall be shortened.
28 The [m]hope of the righteous shall be gladness: but the [n]expectation of the wicked shall perish.
29 The way of the Lord is [o]strength to the upright: but [p]destruction shall be to the workers of iniquity.
30 The righteous shall never be removed: but the wicked shall not inhabit the earth.
31 The mouth of the just bringeth forth wisdom: but the [7]froward tongue shall be cut out.
32 The lips of the righteous know what is acceptable: but the mouth of the wicked speaketh frowardness.

CHAPTER 11.

1 A [a]false [1]balance is abomination to the Lord: but [b]a just weight is his delight.
2 When [c]pride cometh, then cometh shame: but with the lowly is wisdom.
3 The integrity of the upright shall guide them: but the perverseness of transgressors shall destroy them.
4 [d]Riches [2]profit not in the day of [3]wrath: but righteousness [e]delivereth from death.
5 The righteousness [f]of the perfect shall direct his way: but the wicked shall fall by his own wickedness.
6 The [g]righteousness of the upright shall deliver them: but [h]transgressors shall be taken in their own [4]naughtiness.
7 When a wicked man dieth, his expectation [i]shall perish: and the hope of unjust men perisheth.
8 The righteous [j]is delivered out of trouble, and the wicked cometh in his stead.
9 An [k]hypocrite with his mouth destroyeth his neighbour: but through knowledge shall the just be delivered.
10 When it goeth well with the righteous, the city rejoiceth: and when the wicked perish, there is shouting.
11 By the blessing of the upright the city is [5]exalted: but it is overthrown by the mouth of the wicked.
12 He that is [6]void of wisdom despiseth his neighbour: but a man of understanding holdeth his peace.
13 A [l]talebearer revealeth secrets: but he that is of a faithful spirit concealeth the matter.
14 Where no [m]counsel is, the people fall: but [n]in the multitude of counsellors there is safety.
15 He that is surety for a stranger shall smart for it: and he that hateth suretiship is sure.
16 A gracious woman retaineth honour: and strong men retain riches.
17 The merciful man doeth good to his own soul: but he that is cruel troubleth his own flesh.
18 The wicked worketh a deceitful work: but [o]to him that soweth righteousness shall be a sure reward.

ter greatly; and he is become great: and he hath given him flocks, and herds, and silver and gold and man-servants and maid-servants, and camels, and asses. (Gen. 24:35.) But thou shalt remember the Lord thy God: for it is he that giveth thee power to get wealth, that he may establish his covenant, which he sware unto thy fathers, as it is this day. (Dt. 8:18.)

i. When your fear cometh as desolation, and your destruction cometh as a whirlwind; when distress and anguish cometh upon you. (Prov. 1:27.) A dreadful sound is in his ears: in prosperity the destroyer shall come upon him. (Job. 15:21.) I also will choose their delusions, and will bring their fears upon them; because when I called, none did answer; when I spake, they did not hear: but they did evil before mine eyes, and chose that in which I delighted not. (Is. 66:4.)

j. Blessed are they which do hunger and thirst after righteousness: for they shall be filled. (Mat. 5:6.) And this is the confidence that we have in him, that, if we ask any thing according to his will, he heareth us (14). And if we know that he hear us, whatsoever we ask, we know that we have the petitions that we desired of him. (I Jno. 5:14, 15.) The sacrifice of the wicked is an abomination to the Lord: but the prayer of the upright is his delight. (Prov. 15:8.)

k. For length of days, and long life, and peace, shall they add to thee. (Prov. 3:2.) For by me thy days shall be multiplied, and the years of thy life shall be increased. (Prov. 9:11.) The fear of the Lord is a fountain of life, to depart from the snares of death. (Prov. 14:27.)

l. It shall be accomplished before his time, and his branch shall not be green (32). He shall shake off his unripe grape as the vine, and shall cast off his flower as the olive. (Job 15:32, 33.) But thou, O God, shalt bring them down into the pit of destruction: bloody and deceitful men shall not live out half their days; but I will trust in thee. (Ps. 55:23.)

m. Beloved, now are we the sons of God, and it doth not yet appear what we shall be: but we know that, when he shall appear, we shall be like him; for we shall see him as he is. (I Jno. 3:2.)

n. When a wicked man dieth, his expectation shall perish: and the hope of unjust men perisheth. (Prov. 11:7.) So are the paths of all that forget God; and the hypocrite's hope shall perish. (Job 8:13.) But the eyes of the wicked shall fail, and they shall not escape, and their hope shall be as the giving up of the ghost. (Job. 11:20.)

o. But they that wait upon the Lord shall renew their strength; they shall mount up with wings as eagles; they shall run, and not be weary; and they shall walk and not faint. (Is. 40:31.) I can do all things through Christ which strengtheneth me. (Phil. 4:13.)

p. For the Lord knoweth the way of the righteous: but the way of the ungodly shall perish. (Ps. 1:6.) It is joy to the just to do judgment: but destruction shall be to the workers of iniquity. (Prov. 21:15.)

Chapter 11.

a. Divers weights and divers measures, both of them are alike abomination to the Lord (10). Divers weights are an abomination unto the Lord; and a false balance is not good. (Prov. 20:10, 23.) Ye shall do no unrighteousness in judgment, in meteyard, in weight, or in measure (35). Just balances, just weights, a just ephah, and a just hin, shall ye have: I am the Lord your God, which brought you out of the land of Egypt. (Lev. 19:35, 36.) Thou shall not have in thy bag divers weights, a great and a small (13). Thou shalt not have in thine house divers measures, a great and a small (14). But thou shalt have a perfect and just weight, a perfect and just measure shalt thou have: that thy days may be lengthened in the land which the Lord thy God giveth thee (15). For all that do such things, and all that do unrighteously, are an abomination unto the Lord thy God. (Dt. 25:13-16.)

b. A just weight and balance are the Lord's; all the weights of the bag are his work. (Prov. 16:11.) Just balances, just weights, a just ephah, and a just hin, shall ye have: I am the Lord your God, which brought you out of the land of Egypt. (Lev. 19:36.)

c. Pride goeth before destruction, and an haughty spirit before a fall. (Prov. 16:18.) Before destruction the heart of man is haughty, and before honor is humility. (Prov. 18:12.) A man's pride shall bring him low: but honor shall uphold the humble in spirit. (Prov. 29:23.)

d. Neither their silver nor their gold shall be able to deliver them in the day of the Lord's wrath; but the whole land shall be devoured by the fire of his jealousy: for he shall make even a speedy riddance of all them that dwell in the land. (Zeph. 1:18.) Treasures of wickedness profit nothing; but righteousness delivereth from death. (Prov. 10:2.) They shall cast their silver in the streets, and their gold shall be removed: their silver and their gold shall not be able to deliver them in the day of the wrath of the Lord: they shall not satisfy their souls, neither fill their bowels; because it is the stumbling block of their iniquity. (Ez. 7:19.)

e. And the Lord said unto Noah, Come thou and all thy house into the ark; for thee have I seen righteous before me in this generation. (Gen. 7:1.)

f. In all thy ways acknowledge him, and he shall direct thy paths. (Prov. 3:6.)

g. For bodily exercise profiteth little; but godliness is profitable unto all things, having promise of the life that now is, and of that which is to come. (I Tim. 4:8.) Treasures of wickedness profit nothing: but righteousness delivereth from death. (Prov. 10:2.)

h. He that diggeth a pit shall fall into it; and whoso breaketh an hedge, a serpent shall bite him. (Ecc. 10:8.) The heathen are sunk down in the pit that they made: in the net which they hid is their own foot taken. (Ps. 9:15.)

i. See Prov. 10:28.

j. The righteous cry, and the Lord heareth, and delivereth them out of all their troubles. (Ps. 34:17.) And the Lord shall deliver me from every evil work, and will preserve me unto his heavenly kingdom: to whom be glory for ever and ever. Amen. (II Tim. 4:18.)

k. So are the paths of all that forget God; and the hypocrite's hope shall perish: (Job 8:13.)

l. Thou shalt not go up and down as a tale-bearer among thy people: neither shalt thou stand against the blood of thy neighbor: I am the Lord. (Lev. 19:16.) He that goeth about as a tale-bearer revealeth secrets: therefore meddle not with him that flattereth with his lips. (Prov. 20:19.) And withal they learn to be idle, wandering about from house to house; and not only idle, but tattlers also and busybodies, speaking things which they ought not. (I Tim. 5:13.)

m. Without counsel purposes are disappointed: but in the multitude of counsellors they are established. (Prov. 15:22.) Every purpose is established by counsel: and with good advice make war. (Prov. 20:18.) For by wise counsel thou shalt make thy war: and in multitude of counsellors there is safety. (Prov. 24:6.)

n. Then shall the King say unto them on his right hand, Come, ye blessed of my Father, inherit the kingdom prepared for you from the foundation of the world (34); For I was an hungered and ye gave me meat; I was thirsty, and ye gave me drink; I was a stranger, and ye took me in (35): Naked, and ye clothed me: I was sick, and ye visited me: I was in prison, and ye came unto me. (Mat. 25:34-36.)

19 As righteousness [p]tendeth to life: so he that pursueth evil [q]pursueth it to his own death.

20 They that are of a [7]froward heart are abomination to the Lord: but such as are upright in their way are his delight.

21 Though hand join in hand, the wicked shall not be unpunished: but the seed of the righteous shall be delivered.

22 As a jewel of gold in a swine's snout, so is a fair woman which is without discretion.

23 The desire of the righteous is only good: but the expectation of the wicked [r]is wrath.

24 There is that scattereth, and yet increaseth; and there is that withholdeth more than is meet, but it tendeth to poverty.

25 The [s]liberal soul shall be made fat: and he that [t]watereth shall be watered also himself.

26 He that [u]withholdeth corn, the people shall curse him: but blessing shall be upon the head of him that selleth it.

27 He that diligently seeketh good procureth favour: [v]but he that seeketh mischief, it shall come unto him.

28 He [w]that trusteth in his riches shall fall: but the righteous [x]shall flourish as a branch.

29 He that troubleth his own house shall inherit the wind: and the fool shall be servant to the wise of heart.

30 The fruit of the righteous is a tree of life; and he that [y]winneth souls is wise.

31 Behold, [z]the righteous shall be recompensed in the earth: much more the wicked and the sinner.

CHAPTER 12.

1 Whoso loveth instruction loveth knowledge: but he that hateth reproof is [1]brutish.

2 A good man obtaineth favour of the Lord: but a man of wicked devices will he condemn.

3 A man shall not be established by wickedness: but the root of the righteous shall not be moved.

4 A virtuous [a]woman is a crown to her husband: but she that maketh ashamed is as rottenness in his bones.

5 The thoughts of the righteous are right: but the counsels of the wicked are deceit.

6 The words of the wicked are to lie in wait for blood: but the mouth of the upright shall deliver them.

7 The [b]wicked are overthrown, and are not: but the house of the righteous shall stand.

8 A man shall be commended according to his wisdom: but he that is of a [2]perverse heart shall be despised.

9 He that is [3]despised, and hath a servant, is better than he that honoureth himself, and lacketh bread.

10 A righteous man regardeth the life of his beast: but the tender mercies of the wicked are cruel.

11 [c]He that tilleth his land shall be satisfied with bread: but he that followeth [d]vain persons is void of understanding.

12 The wicked desireth the net of evil men: but the [e]root of the righteous yieldeth fruit.

13 The wicked is snared by the transgression of his lips: [f]but the just shall come out of trouble.

14 A man shall be satisfied with good by the fruit of his mouth: and the [g]recompence of a man's hands shall be rendered unto him.

15 [h]The way of a fool is [4]right in his own eyes: but he that hearkeneth unto counsel is wise.

16 A fool's wrath is [5]presently known: but a prudent man covereth shame.

fallow ground: for it is time to seek the Lord, till he come and rain righteousness upon you. (Hos. 10:12.) For he that soweth to his flesh shall of the flesh reap corruption; but he that soweth to the Spirit shall of the Spirit reap life everlasting (8). And let us not be weary in well doing: for in due season we shall reap, if we faint not. (Gal. 6:8, 9.)

p. The labor of the righteous tendeth to life: the fruit of the wicked to sin. (Prov. 10:16.) In the way of righteousness is life; and in the pathway thereof there is no death. (Prov. 12:28.) The fear of the Lord tendeth to life: and he that hath it shall abide satisfied; he shall not be visited with evil. (Prov. 19:23.)

q. The man that wandereth out of the way of understanding shall remain in the congregation of the dead. (Prov. 21:16.) For the wages of sin is death; but the gift of God is eternal life through Jesus Christ our Lord. (Rom. 6:23.) Then when lust hath conceived, it bringeth forth sin: and sin, when it is finished, bringeth forth death. (Js. 1:15.)

r. But unto them that are contentious, and do not obey the truth, but obey unrighteousness, indignation and wrath (8), Tribulation and anguish, upon every soul of man that doeth evil, of the Jew first and also of the Gentile. (Rom. 2:8, 9.)

s. But this I say, He which soweth sparingly shall reap also sparingly; and he which soweth bountifully shall reap also bountifully (6). Every man according as he purposeth in his heart, so let him give; not grudgingly, or of necessity: for God loveth a cheerful giver. (II Cor. 9:6, 7.) Honor the Lord with thy substance, and with the first-fruits of all thine increase (9). So shall thy barns be filled with plenty, and thy presses shall burst out with new wine. (Prov. 3:9, 10.)

t. Blessed are the merciful: for they shall obtain mercy. (Mat. 5:7.)

u. Hear this, O ye that swallow up the needy, even to make the poor of the land to fail (4), Saying, When will the new moon be gone, that we may sell corn? and the sabbath, that we may set forth wheat, making the ephah small, and the shekel great, and falsifying the balances by deceit? (Amos 8:4, 5.)

v. So they hanged Haman on the gallows that he had prepared for Mordecai. Then was the king's wrath pacified. (Esth. 7:10.) He made a pit, and digged it, and is fallen into the ditch which he made (15). His mischief shall return upon his own head, and his violent dealing shall come down upon his own pate. (Ps. 7:15, 16.) They have prepared a net for my steps; my soul is bowed down: they have digged a pit before me, unto the midst whereof they are fallen themselves. Selah. (Ps. 57:6.)

w. If I have made gold my hope, or have said to the fine gold, Thou art my confidence (24); This also were an iniquity to be punished by the judge: for I should have denied the God that is above. (Job 31:24, 28.) And whosoever shall speak a word against the Son of man, it shall be forgiven him: but unto him that blasphemeth against the Holy Ghost it shall not be forgiven (10). So is he that layeth up treasure for himself, and is not rich toward God. (Luke 12:10, 21.)

x. For he shall be as a tree planted by the waters, and that spreadeth out her roots by the river, and shall not see when heat cometh, but her leaf shall be green; and shall not be careful in the year of drought, neither shall cease from yielding fruit. (Jer. 17:8.)

y. For though I be free from all men, yet have I made myself servant unto all, that I might gain the more. (I Cor. 9:19.)

z. For the time is come that judgment must begin at the house of God: and if it first begin at us, what shall the end be of them that obey not the gospel of God? (I Pet. 4:17.) A wise man heareth his father's instruction, but a scorner heareth not rebuke (1). He that keepeth his mouth keepeth his life: but he that openeth wide his lips shall have destruction. (Prov. 13:1, 3.) The Lord rewardeth me according to my righteousness: according to the cleanness of my hands hath he recompensed me (21). Therefore the Lord hath recompensed me according to my righteousness; according to my cleanness in his eyesight. (II Sam. 22:21, 25.)

a. For a man indeed ought not to cover his head, forasmuch as he is the image and glory of God: but the woman is the glory of the man. (I Cor. 11:7.) Who can find a virtuous woman? for her price is far above rubies (10). The heart of her husband doth safely trust in her, so that he shall have no need of spoil. (Prov. 31:10, 11.)

b. Therefore whosoever heareth these sayings of mine, and doeth them, I will liken him unto a wise man, which built his house upon a rock. (Mat. 7:24.) Therefore he knoweth their works, and he overturneth them in the night, so that they are destroyed. (Job 34:25.) As the whirlwind passeth, so is the wicked no more: but the righteous is an everlasting foundation. (Prov. 10:25.)

c. In the sweat of thy face shalt thou eat bread, till thou return unto the ground; for out of it wast thou taken: for dust thou art, and unto dust shalt thou return. (Gen. 3:19.) He that tilleth his land shall have plenty of bread: but he that followeth after vain persons shall have poverty enough. (Prov. 28:19.)

d. And they gave him threescore and ten pieces of silver, out of the house of Baal-berith, wherewith Abimelech hired vain and light persons, which followed him. (Jud. 9:4.) I have not sat with vain persons, neither will I go in with dissemblers. (Ps. 26:4.)

e. For he shall be as a tree planted by the waters, and that spreadeth out her roots by the river, and shall not see when heat cometh, but her leaves shall be green; and shall not be careful in the year of drought, neither shall cease from yielding fruit. (Jer. 17:8.) I am the vine, ye are the branches: He that abideth in me, and I in him, the same bringeth forth much fruit; for without me ye can do nothing. (Jno. 15:5.)

f. The Lord knoweth how to deliver the godly out of temptations, and to reserve the unjust unto the day of judgment to be punished. (II Pet. 2:9.) The righteous is delivered out of trouble, and the wicked cometh in his stead. (Prov. 11:8.) Whoso keepeth his mouth and his tongue keepeth his soul from troubles. (Prov. 21:23.)

g. Therefore shall they eat of the fruit of their own way, and be filled with their own devices. (Prov. 1:31.) If thou sayest, Behold, we knew it not; doth not he that pondereth the heart consider it? and he that keepeth thy soul, doth not he know it? and shall not he render to every man according to his works? (Prov. 24:12.) For the work of a man shall he render unto him, and cause every man to find according to his ways. (Job. 34:11.) Say ye to the righteous, that it shall be well with him: for they shall eat the fruit of their doings (10). Woe unto the wicked! it shall be ill with him: for the reward of his hands shall be given him. (Is. 3:10, 11.)

h. The Pharisee stood and prayed thus with himself, God, I thank thee, that I am not as other men are, extortioners, unjust, adulterers, or even as this publican. (Luke 18:11.) There is a way which seemeth right unto a man, but the end thereof are the ways of death. (Prov. 14:12.) All the ways of a man are clean in his own eyes; but the Lord weigheth the spirits. (Prov. 16:2.) Every way of a man is right in his own eyes: but the Lord pondereth the hearts. (Prov. 21:2.) 17 He that speaketh truth sheweth forth righteousness: but a false witness deceit.

18 There is that speaketh like the piercings of a sword: but the tongue of the wise is health.
19 The [i]lip of truth shall be established for ever: [j]but a lying tongue is but for a moment.
20 Deceit is in the heart of them that [6]imagine evil: but to the counsellors of peace is joy.
21 [k]There shall no [7]evil happen to the just: but the wicked shall be filled with mischief.
22 [l]Lying lips are abomination to the Lord: but they that deal truly are his delight.
23 A prudent man concealeth knowledge: but the heart of fools proclaimeth foolishness.
24 The [m]hand of the diligent shall bear rule: but the slothful shall be under tribute.
25 Heaviness in the heart of man maketh it stoop: but [n]a good word maketh it glad.
26 The righteous is more excellent than his neighbour: but the way of the wicked seduceth them.
27 The slothful man roasteth not that which he took in hunting: but the substance of a diligent man is precious.
28 In the way of [o]righteousness is life; and in the pathway thereof there is no death.

CHAPTER 13.

1 A wise son [1]heareth his father's instruction: [a]but a scorner heareth not rebuke.
2 A man shall [2]eat good by the fruit of his mouth: but the soul of the transgressors shall eat violence.
3 He that [3]keepeth [b]his mouth keepeth his life: but he that openeth wide his lips shall have destruction.
4 The soul of the sluggard desireth, and hath nothing: but the soul of the diligent shall be made fat.
5 A righteous man hateth lying: but a wicked man is loathsome, and cometh to shame.
6 Righteousness [c]keepeth him that is upright in the way: but wickedness overthroweth the sinner.
7 There is that maketh himself rich, yet hath nothing: there is that maketh [d]himself poor, yet hath great riches.
8 The ransom of a man's life are his riches: but the poor heareth not rebuke.
9 The light of the righteous rejoiceth: but the lamp of the wicked shall be put out.
10 Only by [4]pride cometh contention: but with the well advised is wisdom.
11 Wealth [e]gotten by [5]vanity shall be diminished: but he that gathereth by labour shall increase.
12 Hope [8]deferred maketh the heart sick: but when the desire cometh, it is a tree of life.
13 Whoso [f]despiseth the [7]word [g]shall be destroyed: but he that feareth the commandment shall be rewarded.
14 [h]The law of the wise is a fountain of life, to depart from the snares of death.
15 Good understanding giveth favour: but the way of transgressors is hard.
16 [i]Every prudent man dealeth with knowledge: but a fool layeth open his folly.
17 A wicked messenger falleth into mischief: but a faithful ambassador is health.
18 Poverty and shame shall be to him that refuseth instruction: but he that regardeth reproof shall be honoured.
19 The desire accomplished is sweet to the soul: but it is abomination to fools to depart from evil.
20 [j]He that walketh with wise men shall be wise: but a companion of [8]fools shall be destroyed.
21 [k]Evil [9]pursueth sinners: but to the righteous good [10]shall be repayed.
22 A good man leaveth an inheritance to his children's children: and the wealth of the sinner is laid up for the just.
23 Much food is in the tillage of the poor: but there is that is destroyed for want of judgment.
24 [l]He that spareth his rod hateth his son: but he that loveth him chasteneth him betimes.
25 The righteous eateth to the satisfying of his soul: but the [11]belly of the wicked shall want.

j. A false witness shall not be unpunished, and he that speaketh lies shall perish. (Prov. 19:9.) Thou lovest all devouring words, O thou deceitful tongue. (Prov. 11:20.) For without are dogs, and sorcerers, and whoremongers, and murderers, and idolators, and whosoever loveth and maketh a lie. (Rev. 22:15.)
m. And the man Jeroboam was a mighty man of valor: and Solomon seeing the young man that he was industrious, he made him ruler over all the charge of the house of Joseph. (I Ki. 11:28.) He becometh poor that dealeth with a slack hand: but the hand of the diligent maketh rich. (Prov. 10:4.)

Chapter 13.

a. He that reproveth a scorner getteth to himself shame: and he that rebuketh a wicked man getteth himself a blot (7). Reprove not a scorner, lest he hate thee: rebuke a wise man, and he will love thee. (Prov. 9:7, 8.) The tongue of the wise useth knowledge aright: but the mouth of fools poureth out foolishness. (Prov. 15:2.)
b. For in many things we offend all. If any man offend not in word, the same is a perfect man, and able also to bridle the whole body. (Js. 3:2.) A man shall be satisfied with good by the fruit of his mouth: and the recompense of a man's hands shall be rendered unto him. (Prov. 12:14.)

(Prov. 23:13, 14.)

Chapter 14.

a. And all the people that were in the gate, and the elders, said, but the foolish plucketh [z]it down with her hands.

2 He that [b]walketh in his uprightness [3]feareth [c]the Lord: [d]but he that is [4]perverse in his ways despiseth him.

3 In the mouth of the foolish is a rod of pride: [e]but the lips of the wise shall preserve them.

4 Where no oxen are, the crib is clean: but much increase is by the strength of the ox.

5 A [f]faithful witness will not lie: but a false witness will [5]utter lies.

6 A scorner seeketh wisdom, and [6]findeth it not: but [g]knowledge is easy unto him that understandeth.

7 Go from the presence of a foolish man, when thou perceivest not in him the lips of knowledge.

8 The wisdom of the prudent is to understand his way: but the [h]folly of fools is deceit.

9 [i]Fools make a mock at sin: but among the righteous there is favour.

10 The heart knoweth his own bitterness; and a stranger doth not intermeddle with his joy.

11 [j]The house of the wicked shall be [7]overthrown: but the tabernacle of the upright shall flourish.

12 There [k]is a way which seemeth right unto a man, but [l]the end thereof are the ways of death.

13 Even in laughter the heart is sorrowful; and the end of that mirth is heaviness.

14 The [8]backslider in heart shall be [m]filled with his own ways: and a good man shall be satisfied from himself.

15 The simple believeth every word: but the prudent man looketh well to his going.

16 A [n]wise man feareth, and departeth from evil: but the fool rageth, and is confident.

17 He that is soon angry dealeth foolishly: and a man of wicked devices is hated.

18 The simple inherit folly: but the prudent are crowned with knowledge.

2. Through lack of instruction destroy her family.

3. Righteously revereth.

4. Wicked.

5. That is, he who utters falsehood is a lying witness.

6. Wisdom reveals herself to true seekers, not to the scoffers.

7. Smitten, destroyed.

8. That declineth.

19 The evil bow before the good; and the wicked at the gates of the righteous.

20 [o]The poor is hated even of his own neighbour: but the rich hath many friends.

21 He that despiseth his neighbour sinneth: [p]but he that hath mercy on the poor, happy is he.

22 Do they not err that devise evil? but mercy and truth shall be to them that devise good.

23 In all labour there is profit: but the talk of the lips tendeth only to penury.

24 The crown of the wise is their riches: but the foolishness of fools is folly.

25 A true witness delivereth souls: but a deceitful witness speaketh lies.

26 In the [c]fear of the Lord is strong confidence: and his children shall have a place of refuge.

27 The [c]fear of the Lord is a fountain of life, to depart from the snares of death.

28 In the multitude of people is the king's honour: but in the want of people is the destruction of the prince.

29 He [q]that is slow to wrath is of great understanding: but he that is hasty of spirit exalteth folly.

30 A sound heart is the life of the flesh: but envy the rottenness of the bones.

31 He [r]that oppresseth the poor reproacheth his Maker: but he that honoureth him hath mercy on the poor.

32 The wicked is driven away in his wickedness: but the [s]righteous hath hope in his death.

33 Wisdom resteth in the heart of him that hath understanding: but that which is in the midst of fools is made known.

34 Righteousness exalteth a nation: but sin is a reproach to any people.

35 The king's favour is toward a wise servant: but his wrath is against him that causeth shame.

CHAPTER 15.

1 A soft answer turneth away wrath: but grievous words stir up anger.

We are witnesses. The Lord make the woman that is come into thine house like Rachel and like Leah, which two did build the house of Israel: and do thou worthily in Ephratah, and be famous in Bethlehem. (Ruth. 4:11.)

b. Better is the poor that walketh in his integrity, than he that is perverse in his lips, and is a fool. (Prov. 19:1.) Better is the poor that walketh in his uprightness, than he that is perverse in his ways, though he be rich. (Prov. 28:6.)

c. See o, ch. 1, Prov.

d. I am as one mocked of his neighbor; who calls upon God, and he answereth him: the just upright man is laughed to scorn. (Job 12:4.) Whose ways are crooked, and they froward in their paths. (Prov. 2:15.)

e. And they that be wise shall shine as the brightness of the firmament; and they that turn many to righteousness as the stars for ever and ever. (Dan. 12:3.) The words of the wicked are to lie and wait for blood; but the mouth of the upright shall deliver them. (Prov. 12:6.)

f. Thou shalt not bear false witness against thy neighbor. (Ex. 20:16.) Thou shalt not raise a false report; put not thine hand with the wicked to be an unrighteous witness. (Ex. 23:1.) And from Jesus Christ, who is the faithful witness, and the first begotten of the dead, and the prince of the kings of the earth. Unto him that loved us, and washed us from our sins in his own blood. (Rev. 1:5.) And unto the angel of the church of the Laodiceans write: These things saith the Amen, the faithful and true witness, the beginning of the creation of God. (Rev. 3:14.)

g. Wisdom is before him that hath understanding: but the eyes of the fool are in the ends of the earth. (Prov. 17:24.) They are all plain to him that understandeth, and right to them that find knowledge. (Prov. 8:9.) It is as sport to a fool to do mischief: but a man of understanding hath wisdom. (Prov. 10:23.)

h. For the wisdom of this world is foolishness with God. For it is written, He taketh the wise in their own craftiness. (I Cor. 3:19.) See v. 24.

i. How that they told you there should be mockers in the last time, who should walk after their own ungodly lust. (Jude 18.) To what purpose is the multitude of your sacrifices unto me? saith the Lord: I am full of the burnt offerings of rams, and the fat of fed beasts; and I delight not in the blood of bullocks, or of lambs, or of he goats. (Is. 1:11.) The wind hath bound her up in her wings, and they shall be ashamed because of their sacrifices. (Hos. 4:19.)

j. He shall lean upon his house, but it shall not stand: he shall hold it fast, but it shall not endure. (Job 8:15.) The curse of the Lord is in the house of the wicked: but he blesseth the habitation of the just. (Prov. 3:33.) The wicked are overthrown, and are not: but the house of the righteous shall stand. (Prov. 12:7.) The Lord will destroy the house of the proud: but he will establish the border of the widow. (Prov. 15:25.)

k. Enter ye in at the strait gate: for wide is the gate, and broad is the way, that leadeth to destruction, and many there be which go in thereat. (Mat. 7:13.) The way of a fool is right in his own eyes; but he that hearkeneth unto counsel is wise. (Prov. 12:15.)

l. What fruit had ye then in those things whereof ye are now ashamed? for the end of those things is death. (Rom. 6:21.)

m. So I gave them up unto their own hearts' lust: and they walked in their own counsels. (Ps. 81:12.) Woe unto the wicked! it shall be ill with him: for the reward of his hands shall be given him. (Is. 3:11.) For our rejoicing is this, the testimony of our conscience, that in simplicity and godly sincerity, not with fleshly wisdom, but by the grace of God, we have had our conversation in the world, and more abundantly to you-ward. (II Cor. 1:12.)

n. A prudent man foreseeth the evil, and hideth himself: but the simple pass on, and are punished. (Prov. 22:3.) Be not wise in thine own eyes: fear the Lord, and depart from evil. (Prov. 3:7.) And unto man he said, Behold, the fear of the Lord, that is wisdom; and to depart from evil is understanding. (Job 28:28.) Depart from evil, and do good; seek peace, and pursue it. (Ps. 34:14.)

o. All the brethren of the poor do hate him: how much more do his friends go far from him? he pursueth them with words, yet they are wanting to him. (Prov. 19:7.)

p. Blessed is he that considereth the poor: the Lord will deliver him in time of trouble. (Ps. 41:1.)

q. He that is slow to anger is better than the mighty; and he that ruleth his spirit than he that taketh a city. (Prov. 16:32.) The discretion of a man deferreth his anger; and it is his glory to pass over a transgression. (Prov. 19:11.) Be not hasty in thy spirit to be angry: for anger resteth in the bosom of fools. (Ecc. 7:9.) Wherefore, my beloved brethren, let every man be swift to hear, slow to speak, slow to wrath. (Js. 1:19.)

r. And the King shall answer and say unto them, Verily I say unto you, Inasmuch as ye have done it unto one of the least of these my brethren, ye have done it unto me. (Mat. 25:40.) But whoso hath this world's good, and seeth his brother have need, and shutteth up his bowels of compassion from him, how dwelleth the love of God in him? (I Jno. 3:17.)

s. Though he slay me, yet will I trust in him: but I will maintain mine own ways before him. (Job. 13:15.) And though after my skin worms destroy this body, yet in my flesh shall I see God. (Job 19:26.) Yea, though I walk through the valley of the shadow of death, I will fear no evil; for thou art with me: thy rod and thy staff they comfort me. (Ps. 23:4.) Mark the perfect man, and behold the upright: for the end of that man is peace. (Ps. 37:37.) We are confident, I say, and willing rather to be absent from the body, and to be present with the Lord. (II Cor. 5:8.) And the Lord shall deliver me from every evil work, and will preserve me unto his heavenly kingdom: to whom be glory for ever and ever. Amen. (II Tim. 4:18.)

2 The tongue of the wise useth knowledge aright: but the mouth of fools poureth out foolishness.

3 The [a]eyes of the Lord are in every place, beholding the evil and the good.

4 A wholesome tongue is a tree of life: but perverseness therein is a breach in the spirit.

5 A fool despiseth his father's instruction: but he that regardeth reproof is prudent.

6 In the house of the righteous is much treasure: but in the revenues of the wicked [b]is trouble.

7 The lips of the wise disperse knowledge: but the heart of the foolish doeth not so.

8 The sacrifice [c]of the wicked [1]is an abomination to the Lord: but the prayer of the upright is his delight.

9 The way of the wicked is an [d]abomination unto the Lord: but he loveth him that [e]followeth after righteousness.

10 Correction is grievous unto him that forsaketh the way: and he that hateth reproof shall [2]die.

11 Hell and destruction are before the Lord: how much more then [f]the hearts of the children of men?

12 A scorner loveth not one that reproveth him: neither will he go unto the wise.

13 A merry heart maketh a cheerful countenance: but by sorrow of the heart the spirit is broken.

14 The heart of him that hath understanding seeketh knowledge: but the mouth of fools feedeth on foolishness.

15 All the days of the afflicted are evil: but he that is of a merry heart hath a continual feast.

16 Better [g]is little with the [h]fear of the Lord than great treasure and trouble therewith.

17 Better is a dinner of herbs where love is, than a stalled ox and hatred therewith.

18 A wrathful man stirreth up strife: but he that is slow to anger appeaseth strife.

19 The way of the slothful man is an hedge of thorns: but the way of the righteous [i]is made plain.

Ch. 15. B. C. 1000.

1. The worship or sacrifice of the unrepentant is not acceptable to God.

2. Come to a bad end.

3. Or correction.

4. Obeyeth.

Ch. 16. B. C. 1000.

1. "Man proposes, God disposes."

2. Knows, tests or proves the purposes.

20 A wise son maketh a glad father: but a foolish man despiseth his mother.

21 Folly is joy to him that is destitute of wisdom: but a man of understanding walketh uprightly.

22 Without counsel purposes are disappointed: but in the multitude of counsellors they are established.

23 A man hath joy by the answer of his mouth: and a word spoken in due season, how good is it!

24 The [j]way of life is above to the wise, that he may depart from hell beneath.

25 The Lord will destroy the house of the proud: but he will establish the border of the widow.

26 The thoughts of the wicked are an abomination to the Lord: but the words of the pure are pleasant words.

27 He [k]that is greedy of gain troubleth his own house; but he that hateth gifts shall live.

28 The heart of the righteous studieth to [l]answer: but the mouth of the wicked poureth out evil things.

29 The Lord is [m]far from the wicked: but he heareth the prayer of the righteous.

30 The light of the eyes rejoiceth the heart: and a good report maketh the bones fat.

31 The ear that heareth the reproof of life abideth among the wise.

32 He that refuseth [3]instruction despiseth his own soul: but he that [4]heareth reproof getteth understanding.

33 The [h]fear of the Lord is the instruction of wisdom; and before honour is humility.

CHAPTER 16.

1 The preparations [3]of the [a]heart in man, and [b]the answer of the tongue, is from the Lord.

2 All the ways of a man are clean in his own eyes; but the Lord [c]weigheth [2]the spirits.

3 Commit [d]thy works unto the Lord, and thy thoughts shall be established.

4 [e]The Lord hath made all things for himself: [f]yea, even the wicked for the [3]day of evil.

Chapter 15.

a. For his eyes are upon the ways of man, and he seeth all his goings. (Job 34:21.) For mine eyes are upon all their ways: they are not hid from my face, neither is their iniquity hid from mine eyes. (Jer. 16:17.) Neither is there any creature that is not manifest in his sight: but all things are naked and opened unto the eyes of him with whom we have to do. (Heb. 4:13.)

b. Thou shalt break them with a rod of iron; thou shalt dash them in pieces like a potter's vessel. (Ps. 2:9.) Their sorrows shall be multiplied that hasten after another god: their drink offerings of blood will I not offer, nor take up their names into my lips. (Ps. 16:4.) Evil pursueth sinners: but to the righteous good shall be repaid. (Prov. 13:21.) Many sorrows shall be to the wicked: but he that trusteth in the Lord, mercy shall compass him about. (Ps. 32:10.) For, lo, they that are far from thee shall perish: thou hast destroyed all them that go a whoring from thee. (Ps. 73:27.)

c. For I the Lord love judgment, I hate robbery for burnt offering; and I will direct their work in truth, and I will make an everlasting covenant with them. (Is. 61:8.) To what purpose cometh there to me incense from Sheba, and the sweet cane from a far country? your burnt offerings are not acceptable, nor your sacrifices sweet unto me. (Jer. 6:20.) Though ye offer me burnt offerings and your meat offerings, I will not accept them: neither will I regard the peace offerings of your fat beasts. (Amos 5:22.)

d. A false balance is abomination to the Lord: but a just weight is his delight. (1) They that are of a froward heart are abomination to the Lord: but such as are upright in their way are his delight. (Prov. 11:1, 20.) Lying lips are abomination to the Lord: but they that deal truly are his delight. (Prov. 12:22.) Every one that is proud in heart is an abomination to the Lord: though hand join in hand, he shall not be unpunished. (Prov. 16:5.) Divers weights, and divers measures, both of them are alike abomination to the Lord. (Prov. 20:10.)

e. But thou, O man of God, flee these things; and follow after righteousness, godliness, faith, love, patience, meekness. (I Tim. 6:11.)

f. But Jesus did not commit himself unto them, because he knew all men. (Jno. 2:24.) And they prayed, and said, Thou, Lord, which knowest the hearts of all men, show whether of these two thou hast chosen. (Acts 1:24.) And I will kill her children with death; and all the churches shall know that I am he which searcheth the reins and hearts: and I will give unto every one of you according to your works. (Rev. 2:23.)

g. But godliness with contentment is great gain. (I Tim. 6:6.) Better is a little with righteousness than great revenues without right. (Prov. 16:8.) A little that a righteous man hath is better than the riches of many wicked. (Ps. 37:16.) Two are better than one; because they have a good reward for their labor. (Ecc. 4:9.)

h. See o, ch. 1, Prov.

i. And an highway shall be there, and a way, and it shall be called The way of holiness; the unclean shall not pass over it; but it shall be for those: the wayfaring men, though fools, shall not err therein. (Is. 35:8.)

j. For our conversation is in heaven; from whence also we look for the Saviour, the Lord Jesus Christ. (Phil. 3:20.) If ye then be risen with Christ, seek those things which are above, where Christ sitteth on the right hand of God (1). Set your affection on things above, not on things on the earth. (Col. 3:1, 2.)

k. Woe unto them that join house to house, that lay field to field, till there be no place, that they may be placed alone in the midst of the earth! (Is. 5:8.)

l. For after this manner in the old time the holy women also, who trusted in God, adorned themselves, being in subjection unto their own husbands. (I Pet. 3:5.)

m. That at that time ye were without Christ, being aliens from the commonwealth of Israel, and strangers from the covenants of promise, having no hope and without God in the world. (Eph. 2:12.) Likewise the Spirit also helpeth our infirmities: for we know not what we should pray for as we ought: but the Spirit itself maketh intercession for us with groanings which cannot be uttered. (Rom. 8:26.)

Chapter 16.

a. O Lord, I know that the way of man is not in himself: it is not in man that walketh to direct his steps. (Jer. 10:23.) There are many devices in a man's heart; nevertheless the counsel of the Lord, that shall stand. (Prov. 19:21.)

b. But when they deliver you up, take no thought how or what ye shall speak: for it shall be given you in that same hour what ye shall speak. (Mat. 10:19.)

c. But the Lord said unto Samuel, Look not on his countenance, or on the height of his stature; because I have refused him: for the Lord seeth not as man seeth; for man looketh on the outward appearance, but the Lord looketh on the heart. (I Sam. 16:7.)

d. Commit thy way unto the Lord; trust also in him; and he shall bring it to pass. (Ps. 37:5.) Therefore I say unto you, Take no thought for your life, what ye shall eat, or what ye shall drink; nor yet for your body, what ye shall put on. Is not the life more than meat, and the body than raiment? (Mat. 6:25.) Be careful for nothing; but in every thing by prayer and supplication with thanksgiving let your requests be made known unto God. (Phil. 4:6.) Casting all your care upon him; for he careth for you. (I Pet. 5:7.)

e. Even every one that is called by my name: for I have created him for my glory, I have formed him; yea, I have made him. (Is. 43:7.) For of him, and through him, and to him, are all things: to whom be glory for ever. Amen. (Rom. 11:36.)

f. That the wicked is reserved to the day of destruction? they shall 5 Every one that is proud in heart is an abomination to the Lord: though hand join in hand, he shall not be unpunished.

6 By [g]mercy and truth iniquity is purged: and by the fear [h]of the Lord men depart from evil.
7 When a man's ways [e]please the Lord, he maketh even his enemies to be at peace with him.
8 Better is a little with righteousness than great revenues without right.
9 A man's heart deviseth his way: [j]but the Lord directeth his steps.
10 A divine sentence is in the lips of the king: his mouth transgresseth not in judgment.
11 A just [k]weight and balance are the Lord's: all the weights of the bag are his work.
12 It is an abomination to kings to commit wickedness: for the throne is established by righteousness.
13 Righteous lips are the delight of kings; and they love him that speaketh right.
14 The wrath of a king is as messengers of death: but a wise man will pacify it.
15 In the light of the king's countenance is life; and his favour is as a cloud of the latter rain.
16 How much better is it to get wisdom than gold! and to get understanding rather to be chosen than silver!
17 The [l]highway of the upright is to depart from evil: he that keepeth his way preserveth his soul.
18 Pride [m]goeth before destruction, and an haughty spirit before a fall.
19 Better it is to be of an humble spirit with the [n]lowly, than to divide the spoil with the proud.
20 He that handleth a matter wisely shall find good: and whoso trusteth [o]in the Lord, happy is he.
21 The wise in heart shall be called prudent: and the sweetness of the lips increaseth learning.
22 Understanding is a wellspring of life unto him that hath it: but the instruction of fools is folly.
23 The heart [p]of the wise teacheth his mouth, and addeth learning to his lips.
24 Pleasant words are as an honeycomb, sweet to the soul, and health to the bones.
25 There is a way that seemeth right unto a man, but the end thereof are the ways of death.
26 He that laboureth laboureth for himself; for his mouth craveth it of him.
27 An ungodly man diggeth up evil: and in his lips there is as a burning fire.
28 A froward man soweth strife: and a whisperer separateth chief friends.
29 A violent man enticeth his neighbour, and leadeth him into the way that is not good.
30 He shutteth his eyes to devise froward things: moving his lips he bringeth evil to pass.
31 The hoary head is a crown of glory, if it be found in the way of righteousness.
32 He that is slow to anger is better than the mighty; and he that [q]ruleth his spirit than he that taketh a city.
33 The lot is cast into the lap; but the whole disposing thereof is of the Lord.

CHAPTER 17.

1 Better is a dry morsel, and quietness therewith, than an house full of [1]sacrifices with strife.
2 A wise servant shall have rule over a son that causeth shame, and shall have part of the inheritance among the brethren.
3 The [a]fining pot is for silver, and the furnace for gold: but the [2]Lord trieth the hearts.
4 A wicked doer giveth heed to false lips; and a liar giveth ear to a naughty tongue.
5 Whoso mocketh the poor [b]reproacheth his Maker: and he that is glad at calamities shall not be unpunished.
6 Children's children are the crown of old men; and a glory of children are their fathers.
7 Excellent speech becometh not a fool: much less do lying lips a prince.
8 A gift is as a precious stone in the eyes of him that hath it: whithersoever it turneth, it [c]prospereth.
9 He that covereth a transgression seeketh love; but he that repeateth a matter separateth very friends.
10 A reproof entereth more into a wise man than an hundred stripes into a fool.
11 An evil man seeketh only rebellion: therefore a cruel messenger shall be sent against him.
12 Let a bear robbed of her whelps meet a man, rather than a fool in his folly.
13 Whoso [d]rewardeth evil for good, evil shall not depart from his house.

3. That is, sin and suffering are indissolubly united.

2. Jehovah purifies the heart.

be brought forth to the day of wrath. (Job 21:30.) What if God, willing to show his wrath, and to make his power known, endured with much long-suffering the vessels of wrath fitted to destruction. (Rom. 9:22.)

g. Wherefore, O king, let my counsel be acceptable unto thee, and break off thy sins by rightcousness, and thine iniquities by showing mercy to the poor; if it may be a lengthening of thy tranquillity. (Dan. 4:27.) But rather give alms of such things as ye have; and, behold, all things are clean unto you. (Luke 11:41.)

h. See o, ch. 1, Prov.

i. That ye might walk worthy of the Lord unto all pleasing, being fruitful in every good work, and increasing in the knowledge of God. (Col. 1:10.)

j. O Lord, I know that the way of man is not in himself: it is not in man that walketh to direct his steps. (Jer. 10:23.)

k. Just balances, just weights, a just ephah, and a just hin, shall ye have: I am the Lord your God, which brought you out of the land of Egypt. (Lev. 19:36.) The king's favor is toward a wise servant: but his wrath is against him that causeth shame. (Prov. 14:35.) He that loveth pureness of heart, for the grace of his lips the king shall be his friend. (Prov. 22:11.)

l. And an highway shall be there, and a way, and it shall be called The way of holiness; the unclean shall not pass over it; but it shall be for those: the wayfaring men, though fools, shall not err therein. (Is. 35:8.) And herein do I exercise myself, to have always a conscience void of offence toward God, and toward men. (Acts 24:16.)

m. When pride cometh, then cometh shame: but with the lowly is wisdom. (Prov. 11:2.) Before destruction the heart of man is haughty, and before honor is humility. (Prov. 18:12.) Thy terribleness hath deceived thee, and the pride of thine heart, O thou that dwellest in the clefts of the rock, that holdest the height of the hill: though thou shouldest make thy nest as high as the eagle, I will bring thee down from thence, saith the Lord. (Jer. 49:16.) The pride of thine heart hath deceived thee, thou that dwellest in the clefts of the rock, whose habitation is high; that saith in his heart, Who shall bring me down to the ground? (3). Though thou exalt thyself as the eagle, and though thou set thy nest among the stars, thence will I bring thee down, saith the Lord. (Obad. 3, 4.)

n. Surely he scorneth the scorners: but he giveth grace unto the lowly. (Prov. 3:34.) A man's pride shall bring him low: but honor shall uphold the humble in spirit. (Prov. 29:23.) For thus saith the high and lofty One that inhabiteth eternity, whose name is Holy; I dwell in the high and holy place, with him also that is of a contrite and humble spirit, to revive the spirit of the humble, and to revive the heart of the contrite ones. (Is. 57:15.)

o. Blessed is the man that trusteth in the Lord, and whose hope the Lord is. (Jer. 17:7.)

p. The mouth of the righteous speaketh wisdom, and his tongue talketh of judgment. (Ps. 37:30.) O generation of vipers, how can ye, being evil, speak good things? for out of the abundance of the heart the mouth speaketh. (Mat. 12:34.)

q. The discretion of a man deferreth his anger; and it is his glory to pass over a transgression. (Prov. 19:11.) Be not hasty in thy spirit to be angry: for anger resteth in the bosom of fools. (Ecc. 7:9.) Wherefore, my beloved brethren, let every man be swift to hear, slow to speak, slow to wrath (19): For the wrath of man worketh not the righteousness of God. (Js. 1:19, 20.)

Chapter 17.

a. I the Lord search the heart, I try the reins, even to give every man according to his ways, and according to the fruit of his doings. (Jer. 17:10.) And he shall sit as a refiner and purifier of silver: and he shall purify the sons of Levi, and purge them as gold and silver, that they may offer unto the Lord an offering in righteousness. (Mal. 3:3.)

b. If I rejoiced at the destruction of him that hated me, or lifted up myself when evil found him. (Job 31:29.)

c. But the Lord was with Joseph and showed him mercy, and gave him favor in the sight of the keeper of the prison. (Gen. 39:21.) And Pharaoh said unto his servants, Can we find such a one as this is, a man in whom the Spirit of God is? (Gen. 41:38.) Then this Daniel was preferred above the presidents and princes, because an excellent spirit was in him: and the king thought to set him over the whole realm. (Dan. 6:3.)

d. Shall evil be recompensed for good? for they have digged a pit

14 The beginning of [3]strife is [4]as when one letteth out water: therefore [e]leave off contention, before it be meddled with.

15 He that [f]justifieth the wicked, and he that condemneth the just, even they both are abomination to the Lord.

16 Wherefore is there a price in the hand of a fool to get wisdom, seeing he hath no heart to it?

17 A friend loveth at all times, and a brother is born for adversity.

18 A man void of understanding striketh hands, and becometh surety in the presence of his friend.

19 He loveth transgression that loveth strife: and he that exalteth his gate seeketh destruction.

20 He that hath a [5]froward heart findeth no good: and he that hath a perverse tongue falleth into mischief.

21 He that begetteth a fool doeth it to his sorrow: and the father of a fool hath no joy.

22 A merry heart doeth good like a medicine: but a broken spirit drieth the bones.

23 A wicked man taketh a [6]gift out of the bosom [g]to pervert the ways of judgment.

24 Wisdom [h]is before him that hath understanding; but the eyes of a fool are in the ends of the earth.

25 A foolish son is a grief to his father, and bitterness to her that bare him.

26 Also to punish the just is not good, nor to strike princes for equity.

27 He that [i]hath knowledge spareth his words: and a man of understanding is of an excellent spirit.

28 Even a fool, when he holdeth his peace, is counted wise: and he that shutteth his lips is esteemed a man of understanding.

CHAPTER 18.

1 Through [a]desire a man, having separated himself, seeketh and intermeddleth with all wisdom.

2 A fool hath no delight in understanding, but that his heart may discover itself.

3 When the wicked cometh, then cometh also contempt, and with [1]ignominy reproach.

4 The words of a man's mouth are as deep waters, [b]and the wellspring of wisdom as a flowing brook.

5 It [c]is not good to accept the person of the wicked, to overthrow the righteous in judgment.

3. Discord, contention.

4. A breaking forth of water, i. e., a little at first, but rapidly widening.

5. A crooked disposition.

6. A bribe.

1. Shame or dishonor.

2. Quarrel.

Ch. 19. B. C. 1000.

1. Crooked and deceitful.

2. Make slippery and dangerous the way.

6 A fool's lips enter into [2]contention, and his mouth calleth for strokes.

7 A fool's mouth is his destruction, and his lips are the snare of his soul.

8 The words of a talebearer are as wounds, and they go down into the innermost parts of the belly.

9 He also that is slothful in his work is brother to him that is a great waster.

10 [d]The name of the Lord is a strong tower: the righteous runneth into it, and is safe.

11 The rich man's wealth is his strong city, and as an high wall in his own conceit.

12 Before destruction the heart of man is haughty, and before honour is humility.

13 He that [e]answereth a matter before he heareth it, it is folly and shame unto him.

14 The spirit of a man will sustain his infirmity; but a wounded spirit who can bear?

15 The [f]heart of the prudent getteth knowledge; and the ear of the wise seeketh knowledge.

16 A [g]man's gift maketh room for him, and bringeth him before great men.

17 He that is first in his own cause seemeth just; but his neighbour cometh and searcheth him.

18 The lot causeth contentions to cease, and parteth between the mighty.

19 A brother offended is harder to be won than a strong city: and their contentions are like the bars of a castle.

20 A man's belly shall be satisfied with the fruit of his mouth; and with the increase of his lips shall he be filled.

21 [h]Death and life are in the power of the tongue: and they that love it shall eat the fruit thereof.

22 Whoso findeth a wife findeth a good thing, and obtaineth favour of the Lord.

23 The poor useth intreaties; but the rich answereth roughly.

24 [i]A man that hath friends must shew himself friendly: and there is a friend that sticketh closer than a brother.

CHAPTER 19.

1 Better [a]is the poor that walketh in his integrity, than he that is [1]perverse in his lips, and is a fool.

2 Also, that the [b]soul be without knowledge, it is not good; and he that hasteth with his feet sinneth.

3 The foolishness of man [2]perverteth his way: [c]and his heart fretteth against the Lord.

for my soul. Remember that I stood before thee to speak good for them, and to turn away thy wrath from them. (Jer. 18:20.) Recompense to no man evil for evil. (Rom. 12:17.)

e. And that ye study to be quiet, and to do your own business, and to work with your own hands, as we commanded you. (I Thess. 4:11.)

f. Keep thee far from a false matter; and the innocent and righteous slay thou not: for I will not justify the wicked. (Ex. 23:7.) Which justify the wicked for reward, and take away the righteousness of the righteous from him! (Is. 5:23.)

And thou shalt take no gift: for the gift blindeth the wise, and perverteth the words of the righteous. (Ex. 23:8.)

b. The wise man's eyes are in his head; but the fool walketh in darkness: and I myself perceived also that one event happeneth to them all. (Ecc. 2:14.)

l. Wherefore, my beloved brethren, let every man be swift to hear, slow to speak, slow to wrath. (Js. 1:19.) In the multitude of words there wanteth not sin: but he that refraineth his lips is wise. (Prov. 10:19.)

Chapter 18.

a. But, beloved, remember ye the words which were spoken before of the apostles of our Lord Jesus Christ (17). These be they who separate themselves, sensual, having not the Spirit. (Jude 17, 19.)

b. Give ear, O my people, to my law: incline your ears to the words of my mouth. I will open my mouth in a parable: I will utter dark sayings of old. (Ps. 78:1, 2.) O generation of vipers, how can ye, being evil, speak good things? for out of the abundance of the heart the mouth speaketh (34). A good man out of the good treasure of the heart, bringeth forth good things: and an evil man out of the evil treasure, bringeth forth evil things (35). But I say unto you, That every idle word that men shall speak, they shall give account thereof in the day of judgment (36). For by thy words thou shalt be justified, and by thy words thou shalt be condemned. (Mat. 12:34-37.)

c. Ye shall do no unrighteousness in judgment: thou shalt not respect the person of the poor, nor honor the person of the mighty: but in righteousness shalt thou judge thy neighbor. (Lev. 19:15.) Thou shalt not pervert judgment, thou shalt not respect persons, neither take a gift: for a gift doth blind the eyes of the wise, and pervert the words of the righteous. (Dt. 16:19.)

d. The Lord is my rock, and my fortress, and my deliverer; my God, my strength, in whom I will trust; my buckler, and the horn of my salvation, and my high tower. (Ps. 18:2.) For thou hast been a shelter for me, and a strong tower from the enemy. (Ps. 61:3.) I will say of the Lord, He is my refuge and my fortress: my God; in him will I trust. (Ps. 91:2.)

e. It is a snare to the man who devoureth that which is holy, and after vows to make enquiry. (Prov. 20:25.) Doth our law judge any man, before it hear him, and know what he doeth? (Jno. 7:51.)

f. That the God of our Lord Jesus Christ, the Father of glory, may give unto you the spirit of wisdom and revelation in the knowledge of him. (Eph. 1:17.)

g. And say ye moreover, Behold, thy servant Jacob is behind us. For he said, I will appease him with a present that goeth before me, and afterward I will see his face; peradventure he will accept of me. (Gen. 32:20.)

h. For by thy words thou shalt be justified, and by thy words thou shalt be condemned. (Mat. 12:37.) The wicked is snared by the transgression of his lips. (Prov. 12:13.) He that keepeth his mouth keepeth his life: but he that openeth wide his lips shall have destruction. (Prov. 13:3.)

i. Ye are my friends, if ye do whatsoever I command you (14). Henceforth I call you not servants; for the servant knoweth not what his Lord doeth: but I have called you friends; for all things that I have heard of my Father I have made known unto you. (Jno. 15:14, 15.)

Chapter 19.

a. Better is the poor that walketh in his uprightness, than he that is perverse in his ways, though he be rich. (Prov. 28:6.)

b. For I bear them record that they have a zeal of God, but not according to knowledge. (Rom. 10:2.) In flaming fire taking vengeance on them that know not God, and that obey not the gospel of our Lord Jesus Christ. (II Thes. 1:8.)

c. Rest in the Lord, and wait patiently for him: fret not thyself because of him who prospereth in his way, because of the man who bringeth wicked devices to pass. (Ps. 37:7.)

4 Wealth maketh many friends; but the poor is separated from his neighbour.
5 [d]A false witness shall not be unpunished, and he that speaketh lies shall not escape.
6 Many will intreat the favour of the prince: and every man is a friend to him that giveth gifts.
7 All the brethren of the poor do hate him: how much more do his friends go far from him? he pursueth them with words, yet they are wanting to him.
8 He that getteth wisdom loveth his own soul: he that keepeth understanding shall find good.
9 [e]A false witness shall not be unpunished, and he that speaketh lies shall perish.
10 Delight is not seemly for a fool; much less [f]for a servant to have rule over princes.
11 The discretion of a man deferreth his anger; [g]and it is his glory to pass over a transgression.
12 The king's wrath is as the roaring of a lion; but his favour is as dew upon the grass.
13 A foolish son is the calamity of his father: and the contentions of a wife are a continual dropping.
14 House [h]and riches are the inheritance of fathers: and a prudent wife is from the Lord.
15 Slothfulness casteth into a deep sleep; and an idle soul shall suffer hunger.
16 He [i]that keepeth the commandment keepeth his own soul; but he that despiseth his ways shall die.
17 He [j]that hath pity upon the poor lendeth unto the Lord; and that which he hath given will he pay him again.
18 Chasten thy son while there is hope, and let not thy soul spare for his crying.
19 A man of great wrath shall suffer punishment: for if thou deliver him, yet thou must do it again.
20 Hear counsel, and receive instruction, that thou mayest be wise in thy latter end.
21 [k]There are many devices in a man's heart; nevertheless the counsel of the Lord, that shall stand.
22 The desire of a man is his kindness: and a poor man is better than a liar.

3. Scoffer.

4. Greedily entereth into.

Ch. 20. B. C. 1000.

1. Purposes or plans, formed in secret.

23 [l]The fear of the Lord tendeth to life: and he that hath it shall abide satisfied; he shall not be visited with evil.
24 A slothful man hideth his hand in his bosom, and will not so much as bring it to his mouth again.
25 Smite a [3]scorner, and the simple will beware: and reprove one that hath understanding, and he will understand knowledge.
26 He that wasteth his father, and chaseth away his mother, is a son that causeth shame, and bringeth reproach.
27 Cease, my son, to hear [m]the instruction that causeth to err from the words of knowledge.
28 An ungodly witness scorneth judgment: and the mouth of the wicked [4]devoureth iniquity.
29 Judgments are prepared for scorners, and stripes for the [n]back of fools.

CHAPTER 20.

1 Wine [a]is a mocker, strong drink is raging: and whosoever is deceived thereby is not wise.
2 The fear of a king is as the roaring of a lion: whoso provoketh him to anger sinneth against his own soul.
3 It is [b]an honour for a man to cease from strife: but every fool will be meddling.
4 The sluggard will not plow by reason of the cold; therefore shall he beg in harvest, and have nothing.
5 Counsel [1]in the heart of man is like deep water; but a man of understanding will draw it out.
6 [c]Most men will proclaim every one his own goodness: but a faithful man who can find?
7 The just man walketh in his integrity: his children are blessed after him.
8 A king that sitteth in the throne of judgment scattereth away all evil with his eyes.
9 [d]Who can say, I have made my heart clean, I am pure from my sin?
10 Divers weights, and divers measures, both of them are alike abomination to the Lord.
11 Even a child is [e]known by his doings,

d. Thou shalt not raise a false report: put not thine hand with the wicked to be an unrighteous witness. (Ex. 23:1.) A false witness shall perish: but the man that heareth speaketh constantly. (Prov. 21:28.) If a false witness rise up against any man to testify against him that which is wrong (16); Then both the men, between whom the controversy is, shall stand before the Lord, before the priests and the judges, which shall be in those days (17); And the judges shall make diligent inquisition: and, behold, if the witness be a false witness, and hath testified falsely against his brother (18); Then shall ye do unto him, as he had thought to have done unto his brother: so shalt thou put the evil away from among you. (Dt. 19:16-19.)

e. And the king commanded, and they brought those men which had accused Daniel, and they cast them into the den of lions, them, their children, and their wives; and the lions had the mastery of them, and brake all their bones in pieces or ever they came at the bottom of the den. (Dan. 6:24.)

f. There is an evil which I have seen under the sun, as an error which proceedeth from the ruler (5): Folly is set in great dignity, and the rich sit in low place. (Ecc. 10:5, 6.)

g. But I say unto you, Love your enemies, bless them that curse you, do good to them that hate you, and pray for them which despitefully use you, and persecute you. (Mat. 5:44.) Dearly beloved, avenge not yourselves, but rather give place unto wrath: for it is written, Vengeance is mine; I will repay, saith the Lord. (Rom. 12:19.)

h. Behold, the third time I am ready to come to you; and I will not be burdensome to you: for I seek not yours, but you: for the children ought not to lay up for the parents, but the parents for the children. (II Cor. 12:14.)

i. And he said unto him, Thou hast answered right: this do, and thou shalt live. (Lev. 10:28.) But he said, Yea rather, blessed are they that hear the word of God, and keep it. (Luke 11:28.) The highway of the upright is to depart from evil: he that keepeth his way preserveth his soul. (Prov. 16:17.)

j. But this I say, He which soweth sparingly shall reap also sparingly; and he which soweth bountifully shall reap also bountifully. (II Cor. 9:6.) For God is not unrighteous to forget your work and labor of love, which ye have shown toward his name, in that ye have ministered to the saints, and do minister. (Heb. 6:10.)

k. But he is in one mind, and who can turn him? and what his soul desireth, even that he doeth. (Job 23:13.) The preparations of the heart in man, and the answer of the tongue, is from the Lord (1). A man's heart deviseth his way: but the Lord directeth his steps. (Prov. 16:1, 9.)

l. For bodily exercise profiteth little: but godliness is profitable unto all things, having promise of the life that now is, and of that which is to come. (I Tim. 4:8.) The fear of the Lord is a fountain of life, to depart from the snares of death. (Prov. 14:27.)

m. That we henceforth be no more children, tossed to and fro, and carried about with every wind of doctrine, by the sleight of men, and cunning craftiness, whereby they lie in wait to deceive. (Eph. 4:14.) If there come any unto you, and bring not this doctrine, receive him not into your house, neither bid him God speed. (II Jno. 10.)

n. In the lips of him that hath understanding wisdom is found: but a rod is for the back of him that is void of understanding. (Prov. 10:13.) A fool's lips enter into contention, and his mouth calleth for strokes. (Prov. 18:6.) A whip for the horse, a bridle for the ass, and a rod for the fool's back. (Prov. 26:3.)

Chapter 20.

a. And he drank of the wine, and was drunken; and he was uncovered within his tent. (Gen. 9:21.) But they also have erred through wine, and through strong drink are out of the way; the priest and the prophet have erred through strong drink, they are swallowed up of wine, they are out of the way through strong drink; they err in vision, they stumble in judgment. (Is. 28:7.) Whoredom and wine and new wine take away the heart. (Hos. 4:11.)

b. And Abram said unto Lot, Let there be no strife, I pray thee, between me and thee, and between my herdmen and thy herdmen; for we be brethren. (Gen. 13:8.) A wicked doer giveth heed to false lips; and a liar giveth ear to a naughty tongue. (Prov. 17:4.)

c. Therefore when thou doest thine alms, do not sound a trumpet before thee, as the hypocrites do in the synagogues and in the streets, that they may have glory of men. Verily I say unto you, They have their reward. (Mat. 6:2.) Whoso boasteth himself of a false gift is like clouds and wind without rain. (Prov. 25:14.) The Pharisee stood and prayed thus with himself, God, I thank thee, that I am not as other men are, extortioners, unjust, adulterers, or even as this publican. (Luke 18:11.)

d. If they sin against thee, (for there is no man that sinneth not,) and thou be angry with them, and deliver them to the enemy, so that they carry them away captives unto the land of the enemy, far or near. (I Ks. 8:46.) If we say that we have no sin, we deceive ourselves, and the truth is not in us. (I Jno. 1:8.) If they sin against thee, (for there is no man which sinneth not,) and thou be angry with them, and deliver them over before their enemies, and they carry them away captives unto a land far off or near. (II Chr. 6:36.) Who can bring a clean thing out of an unclean? not one. (Job 14:4.) What then? are we better than they? No, in no wise: for we have before proved both Jews and Gentiles, that they are all under sin. (Rom. 3:9.)

e. Ye shall know them by their fruits. Do men gather grapes of thorns, or figs of thistles? (Mat. 7:16.)

whether his work be pure, and whether it be right.

12 [f]The hearing ear, and the seeing eye, the Lord hath made even both of them.

13 Love [g]not [2]sleep, lest thou come to poverty; open thine [3]eyes, and thou shalt be satisfied with bread.

14 It is naught, it is naught, saith the buyer: but when he is gone his way, then he boasteth.

15 There is gold, and a multitude of rubies[4]: but the lips of knowledge are a precious jewel.

16 Take his garment that is surety for a stranger: and take a pledge of him for a strange woman.

17 Bread of [4]deceit is sweet to a man; but afterwards his mouth shall be filled with gravel.

18 Every purpose is established by counsel: and with good advice make war.

19 He that goeth about as a talebearer revealeth secrets: therefore meddle not with him that flattereth with his lips.

20 Whoso [5]curseth [h]his father or his mother, his lamp shall be put out in obscure darkness.

21 An inheritance may be gotten hastily at the beginning; [i]but the end thereof shall not be blessed.

22 Say [j]not thou, I will recompense evil; but wait on the Lord, and he shall save thee.

23 Divers weights are an abomination unto the Lord; and a false balance is not good.

24 [k]Man's goings are of the Lord; how can a man then understand his own way?

25 It is a snare to the man who devoureth that which is holy, and after vows to [6]make enquiry.

26 A wise king scattereth the wicked, and bringeth the wheel over them.

27 The spirit of man is the candle of the Lord, searching all the inward parts of the belly.

28 Mercy and truth preserve the king: and his throne is upholden by mercy.

29 The glory of young men is their strength: and the beauty of old men is the grey head.

30 The blueness of a wound cleanseth away evil: so do stripes the [7]inward parts of the belly.

3. Be diligent.

4. Enjoyment or possessions acquired by fraud or unfair means.

5. May mean either vile language or speaking lightly of.

3. The lamp or light of the wicked.

4. Snare or death-trap.

5. Crooked, unsteady.

6. Contentious, quarreling.

7. The scoffer.

8. That is, refuseth to listen to entreaty or advice or restraint.

CHAPTER 21.

1 The king's heart is in the hand of the Lord, as the rivers of water: he turneth it whithersoever he will.

2 Every way of a man is right in his own eyes: [a]but the Lord [1]pondereth the hearts.

3 To [b]do justice and judgment is more [2]acceptable to the Lord than sacrifice.

4 An high look, and a proud heart, and the [3]plowing of the wicked, is sin.

5 The thoughts of the diligent tend only to plenteousness; but of every one that is hasty only to want.

6 The getting of treasures by a lying tongue is a [4]vanity tossed to and fro of them that seek death.

7 The robbery of the wicked shall [c]destroy them; because they refuse to do judgment.

8 The way of man is [5]froward and strange: but as for the pure, his work is right.

9 It is better to dwell in a corner of the house top, than with a [6]brawling woman in a wide house.

10 The [d]soul of the wicked desireth evil: his neighbour findeth no favour in his eyes.

11 When the [7]scorner is punished, the simple is made wise: and when the wise is instructed, he receiveth knowledge.

12 The [e]righteous man wisely considereth the house of the wicked: but God overthroweth the wicked [f]for their wickedness.

13 [g]Whoso stoppeth [8]his ears at the cry of the poor, he also shall cry himself, but shall not be heard.

14 A gift in secret pacifieth anger: and a reward in the bosom strong wrath.

15 It is joy to the just to do judgment: but destruction shall be to the workers of iniquity.

16 The man that wandereth out of the way of understanding shall remain in the congregation of the dead.

17 He that loveth pleasure shall be a poor man: he that loveth wine and oil shall not be rich.

18 [h]The wicked shall be a ransom for the righteous, and the transgressor for the upright.

f. And the Lord said unto him, Who hath made man's mouth? or who maketh the dumb, or deaf, or the seeing, or the blind? have not I the Lord? (Ex. 4:11.) For of him, and through him, and to him, are all things: to whom be glory for ever. Amen. (Rom. 11:36.)

g. Not slothful in business: fervent in spirit; serving the Lord. (Rom. 12:11.) How long wilt thou sleep, O sluggard? when wilt thou arise out of thy sleep? (9). Yet a little sleep, a little slumber, a little folding of the hands to sleep. (Prov. 6:9, 10.) Slothfulness casteth into a deep sleep; and an idle soul shall suffer hunger. (Prov. 19:15.) Yet a little sleep, a little slumber, a little folding of the hands to sleep. (Prov. 24:33.)

h. For every one that curseth his father or his mother shall surely be put to death; he hath cursed his father or his mother; his blood shall be upon him. (Lev. 20:9.) For God commanded, saying, Honor thy father and mother: and, He that curseth father or mother, let him die the death. (Mat. 15:4.)

i. Shall not all these take up a parable against him, and a taunting proverb against him, and say, Woe to him that increaseth that which is not his! how long? and to him that ladeth himself with thick clay! (Hab. 2:6.)

j. To me belongeth vengeance, and recompence; their foot shall slide in due time: for the day of their calamity is at hand, and the things that shall come upon them make haste. (Dt. 32:35.) Recompense to no man evil for evil. Provide things honest in the sight of all men. (Rom. 12:17.) Not rendering evil for evil, or railing for railing: but contrariwise blessing; knowing that ye are thereunto called, that ye should inherit a blessing. (I Pet. 3:9.)

k. O Lord, I know that the way of man is not in himself: it is not in man that walketh to direct his steps. (Jer. 10:23.) Not that we are sufficient of ourselves to think anything as of ourselves; but our sufficiency is of God. (II Cor. 3:5.)

Chapter 21.

a. But Jesus did not commit himself unto them, because he knew all men (24). And needed not that any should testify of man: for he knew what was in man. (Jno. 2:24, 25.) And I will kill her children with death; and all the churches shall know that I am he which searcheth the reins and heart: and I will give unto every one of you according to your works. (Rev. 2:23.)

b. For I desired mercy, and not sacrifice; and the knowledge of God more than burnt offerings. (Hos. 6:6.) The sacrifice of the wicked is an abomination to the Lord: but the prayer of the upright is his delight. (Prov. 15:8.) And Samuel said, Hath the Lord as great delight in burnt offerings and sacrifices, as in obeying the voice of the Lord? Behold, to obey is better than sacrifice, and to hearken than the fat of rams. (I Sam. 15:22.) To what purpose is the multitude of your sacrifices unto me? saith the Lord; I am full of the burnt offerings of rams, and the fat of fed beasts; and I delight not in the blood of bullocks, or of lambs, or of he goats (11). Wash you, make you clean; put away the evil of your doings from before mine eyes; cease to do evil (16); Learn to do well; seek judgment, relieve the oppressed, judge the fatherless, plead for the widow. (Is. 1:11, 16, 17.)

c. His mischief shall return upon his own head, and his violent dealing shall come down upon his own pate. (Ps. 7:16.) But thou, O God, shalt bring them down into the pit of destruction: bloody and deceitful men shall not live out half their days; but I will trust in thee. (Ps. 55:23.)

d. The best of them is as a brier: the most upright is sharper than a thorn hedge: the day of thy watchmen and thy visitation cometh; now shall be their perplexity (4). Trust ye not in a friend, put ye not confidence in a guide: keep the doors of thy mouth from her that lieth in thy bosom. (Mic. 7:4, 5.) Do ye think that the scripture saith in vain, The spirit that dwelleth in us lusteth to envy? (Js. 4:5.)

e. Who is wise, and he shall understand these things? prudent, and he shall know them? for the ways of the Lord are right, and the just shall walk in them: but the transgressors shall fall therein. (Hos. 14:9.) Neither murmur ye, as some of them also murmured, and were destroyed of the destroyer. (I Cor. 10:10.)

f. But unto them that are contentious, and do not obey the truth, but obey unrighteousness, indignation and wrath (8), Tribulation and anguish, upon every soul of man that doeth evil, of the Jew first, and also of the Gentile. (Rom. 2:8, 9.)

g. For with what judgment ye judge, ye shall be judged: and with what measure ye mete, it shall be measured to you again. (Mat. 7:2.) And he would not; but went and cast him into prison, till he should pay the debt (30). So when his fellow-servants saw what was done, they were very sorry, and came and told unto their lord all that was done (31). Then his lord, after that he had called him, said unto him, O thou wicked servant, I forgave thee all that debt, because thou desiredst me (32). Shouldest not thou also have had had compassion on thy fellow-servant, even as I had pity on thee? (33). And his lord was wroth, and delivered him to the tormentors, till he should pay all that was due unto him. (Mat. 18:30-34.) But whoso hath this world's good, and seeth his brother have need, and shutteth up his bowels of compassion from him, how dwelleth the love of God in him? (I Jno. 3:17.)

h. For I am the Lord thy God, the Holy One of Israel, thy Saviour: I gave Egypt for thy ransom, Ethiopia and Seba for thee (3). Since thou wast precious in my sight, thou hast been honorable, and I have loved thee; therefore will I give men for thee, and people for thy life. (Is. 43:3, 4.)

19 It is better to dwell in the wilderness, than with a contentious and an angry woman.
20 [i]There is treasure to be desired and oil in the dwelling of the wise; but a foolish man spendeth it up.
21 He [j]that followeth after righteousness and mercy findeth life, righteousness, and honour.
22 A wise man scaleth the city of the mighty, and casteth down the strength of the confidence thereof.
23 Whoso keepeth his mouth and his tongue keepeth his soul from troubles.
24 Proud and haughty scorner is his name, who dealeth in proud wrath.
25 The desire of the slothful killeth him; for his hands refuse to labour.
26 He coveteth greedily all the day long: but the righteous [k]giveth and spareth not.
27 The sacrifice of the wicked is [l]abomination: how much more, when he bringeth it with a wicked mind?
28 A false witness shall perish: but the man that heareth speaketh constantly.
29 A wicked man [9]hardeneth his face: but as for the upright, he directeth his way.
30 There is no wisdom nor understanding nor counsel against the Lord.
31 The horse is prepared against the day of battle: but safety is of the Lord.

CHAPTER 22.

1 A good [a]name is rather to be chosen than great riches, and loving favour rather than silver and gold.
2 The rich [b]and poor meet together: the Lord is [1]the maker of them all.
3 A [2]prudent [c]man foreseeth the evil, and hideth himself: but the simple pass on, and are punished.
4 By humility and the fear of the Lord are riches, and honour, and life.
5 Thorns and snares are in the way of the froward: [d]he that doth keep his soul shall be far from them.
6 Train up a child [e]in the [3]way he should go: and when he is old, he will not depart from it.
7 The rich ruleth over the poor, and the borrower is servant to the lender.
8 He that [f]soweth iniquity shall reap [4]vanity: and the rod of his anger shall fail.
9 He that hath a bountiful eye shall be blessed; for he giveth of his bread to the poor.
10 Cast out the [5]scorner, and contention shall go out; yea, strife and reproach shall cease.
11 He that loveth pureness of heart, for the grace of his lips the king shall be his friend.
12 The eyes of the Lord preserve knowledge, and he overthroweth the words of the transgressor.
13 The slothful man saith, There is a lion without, I shall be slain in the streets.
14 The [g]mouth of strange women is a deep pit: he that is abhorred of the Lord shall fall therein.
15 Foolishness is bound in the heart of a child; but the rod of correction shall drive it far from him.
16 He [h]that oppresseth the poor to increase his riches, and he that giveth to the rich, shall surely come to want.
17 [6]Bow down thine ear, and hear the words of the wise, and apply thine heart unto my knowledge.
18 For it is a pleasant thing if thou keep them within thee; they shall withal be fitted in thy lips.
19 That thy trust may be in the Lord, I have made known to thee this day, even to thee.
20 Have not I written to thee excellent things in counsels and knowledge, 21 That I might make thee know the certainty of the words of truth; that [i]thou mightest answer the words of truth to them that send unto thee?
22 Rob not the poor, because he is poor: neither [j]oppress the afflicted in the gate:
23 For the Lord will plead their cause, and spoil the soul of those that spoiled them.
24 Make no [7]friendship with an angry man; and with a [8]furious man thou shalt not go:
25 Lest thou learn his ways, and get a snare to thy soul.
26 Be not thou one of them that strike hands, or of them that are sureties for debts.
27 If thou hast nothing to pay, why should he take away thy bed from under thee?
28 Remove not the ancient [k]landmark, which thy fathers have set.

9. Bold, impudent expression.

Ch. 22. B. C. 1000.

3. Early instruct and discipline.

4. Trouble, calamity.

5. The scoffer, the wicked.

6. Vs. 17-21 are an exhortation to give attention to the words of the wise.

i. They that were foolish took their lamps, and took no oil with them (3). But the wise took oil in their vessels with their lamps. (Mat. 25:3, 4.) That I may cause those that love me to inherit substance; and I will fill their treasures. (Prov. 8:21.) By humility and the fear of the Lord are riches, and honor and life. (Prov. 22:4.) Wealth and riches shall be in his house: and his righteousness endureth for ever. (Ps. 112:3.)

j. Therefore, my beloved brethren, be ye stedfast, unmovable, always abounding in the work of the Lord, forasmuch as ye know that your labor is not in vain in the Lord. (I Cor. 15:58.) The way of the wicked is an abomination unto the Lord: but he loveth him that followeth after righteousness. (Prov. 15:9.) Blessed are they which do hunger and thirst after righteousness: for they shall be filled. (Mat. 5:6.)

k. He is ever merciful, and lendeth; and his seed is blessed. (Ps. 37:26.) A good man showeth favor, and lendeth: he will guide his affairs with discretion (5). He hath dispersed, he hath given to the poor; his righteousness endureth for ever; his horn shall be exalted with honor. (Ps. 112:5, 9.) Give to him that asketh thee, and from him that would borrow of thee turn not thou away. (Mat. 5:42.) Let him that stole steal no more: but rather let him labor, working with his hands the thing which is good, that he may have to give to him that needeth. (Eph. 4:28.)

l. The sacrifice of the wicked is an abomination to the Lord: but the prayer of the upright is his delight. (Prov. 15:8.) I will take no bullock out of thy house, nor he goats out of thy folds. (Ps. 50:9.) He that killeth an ox is as if he slew a man; he that sacrificeth a lamb, as if he cut off a dog's neck; he that offereth an oblation, as if he offered swine's blood; he that burneth incense, as if he blessed an idol. Yea, they have chosen their own ways, and their soul delighteth in their abominations. (Is. 66:3.) Though ye offer me burnt offerings and your meat offerings, I will not accept them: neither will I regard the peace offerings of your fat beasts. (Amos 5:22.)

Chapter 22.

a. He is in the way of life that keepeth instruction: but he that refuseth reproof erreth. (Prov. 10:17.) A good name is better than precious ointment; and the day of death than the day of one's birth. (Ecc. 7:1.)

b. Hear this, all ye people; give ear, all ye inhabitants of the world (1): Both low and high, rich and poor, together. (Ps. 49:1, 2.) My brethren, have not the faith of our Lord Jesus Christ, the Lord of glory, with respect of persons. (Js. 2:1.)

c. Come, my people, enter thou into thy chambers, and shut thy doors about thee: hide thyself as it were for a little moment, until the indignation be overpast. (Is. 26:20.) That by two immutable things, in which it was impossible for God to lie, we might have a strong consolation, who have fled for refuge to lay hold upon the hope set before us. (Heb. 6:18.)

d. We know that whosoever is born of God sinneth not; but he that is begotten of God keepeth himself, and that wicked one toucheth him not. (I Jno. 5:18.) Whoso keepeth his mouth and his tongue keepeth his soul from troubles. (Prov. 21:23.)

e. And, ye fathers, provoke not your children to wrath: but bring them up in the nurture and admonition of the Lord. (Eph. 6:4.)

f. Ye have plowed wickedness, ye have reaped iniquity: ye have eaten the fruit of lies; because thou didst trust in thy way, in the multitude of thy mighty men. (Hos. 10:13.) Be not deceived; God is not mocked: for whatsoever a man soweth, that shall he also reap (7). For he that soweth to his flesh shall of the flesh reap corruption; but he that soweth to the Spirit shall of the Spirit reap life everlasting. (Gal. 6:7, 8.)

g. And I find more bitter than death the woman, whose heart is snares and nets, and her hands as bands: whoso pleaseth God shall escape from her; but the sinner shall be taken by her. (Ecc. 7:26.)

h. For the oppression of the poor, for the sighing of the needy, now will I arise, saith the Lord; I will set him in safety from him that puffeth at him. (Ps. 12:5.) For he shall have judgment without mercy, that hath shown no mercy; and mercy rejoiceth against judgment. (Js. 2:13.)

i. But sanctify the Lord God in your hearts: and be ready always to give an answer to every man that asketh you a reason of the hope that is in you with meekness and fear. (I Pet. 3:15.)

j. And I will come near to you to judgment; and I will be a swift witness against the sorcerers, and against the adulterers, and against false swearers, and against those that oppress the hireling in his wages, the widow, and the fatherless, and that turn aside the stranger from his right, and fear not me, saith the Lord of hosts. (Mal. 3:5.)

k. And this is the case of the slayer, which shall flee thither, that he may live: Whoso killeth his neighbor ignorantly, whom he hated not in time past. (Dt. 19:4.)

29 Seest thou a man [l]diligent in his business? he shall stand before kings; he shall not stand before mean men.

CHAPTER 23.

Ch. 23. B. C. 1000.

1 When thou sittest to eat with a ruler, consider diligently what is before thee:
2 And put a knife to [1]thy throat, if thou be a man given to appetite.
3 Be not desirous of his dainties: for they are deceitful meat.
4 Labour [a]not [2]to be rich: [b]cease from thine own wisdom.
5 Wilt thou set thine eyes upon that which is not? for riches certainly make themselves wings; they fly [c]away as an eagle toward heaven.
6 Eat [c]thou not the bread of him that hath an evil eye, neither desire thou his dainty meats:
7 For as he thinketh in his heart, so is he: Eat and drink, saith he to thee; but his heart is not with thee.
8 The morsel which thou hast eaten shalt thou vomit up, and lose thy sweet words.
9 [d]Speak not in the ears of a fool: for he will despise the wisdom of thy words.
10 Remove not the old landmark; and enter not into the fields of the fatherless:
11 For [e]their redeemer is mighty; he shall plead their cause with thee.
12 Apply thine heart unto instruction, and thine ears to the words of knowledge.
13 Withhold not [3]correction from the child: for if thou beatest him with the rod, he shall not die.
14 Thou shalt beat him with the rod, and shalt [f]deliver his soul from hell.
15 My son, if thine heart be wise, my heart shall rejoice, even mine.
16 Yea, my reins shall rejoice, when thy lips speak right things.
17 Let not thine heart envy sinners: but be thou in the fear [g]of the Lord all the day long.
18 For [h]surely there is an end; and thine expectation shall not be cut off.
19 Hear thou, my son, and be wise, and guide thine heart in the way.
20 Be [i]not among winebibbers; among riotous eaters of flesh:
21 For the drunkard and the glutton shall come to poverty: and drowsiness shall clothe a man with rags.
22 [j]Hearken unto thy father that begat thee, and despise not thy mother when she is old.
23 [k]Buy the truth, and sell it not; also wisdom, and instruction, and understanding.
24 The father of the righteous shall greatly rejoice: and he that begetteth a wise child shall have joy of him.
25 Thy father and thy mother shall be glad, and she that bare thee shall rejoice.
26 My son, give me thine heart, and let thine eyes observe my ways.
27 For a whore is a deep [4]ditch; and a [4]strange woman is a narrow pit.
28 She also lieth in wait as for a prey, and increaseth the transgressors among men.
29 [l]Who hath woe? who hath sorrow? who hath contentions? who hath babbling? who hath wounds without cause? who hath redness of eyes?
30 They that tarry long at the wine; they that go to seek mixed wine.
31 Look not thou upon the wine when it is red, when it giveth his colour in the cup, when it moveth itself aright.
32 At the last it biteth like a serpent, and stingeth like an adder.
33 Thine eyes shall behold strange women, and thine heart shall utter perverse things.
34 Yea, thou shalt be as he that lieth down in the midst of the sea, or as he that lieth upon the top of a mast.
35 [m]They have stricken me, shalt thou say, and I was not sick; they have beaten me, and I felt it not: when [n]shall I awake? I will seek it yet again.

1. That is, thou wilt be in great danger from over-indulgence.
2. Deceitfully, or over-anxiously.
3. That is, discipline.
4. Lewd.

CHAPTER 24.

Ch. 24. B. C. 1000.

1 Be not thou [1]envious against evil men, neither desire to be with them.
2 For their heart studieth destruction, and their lips talk of mischief.
3 Through wisdom is an house builded; and by understanding it is established:
4 And by knowledge shall the chambers be filled with all precious and pleasant riches.
5 A wise man [2]is strong; [a]yea, a man of knowledge increaseth strength.
6 For by wise counsel thou shalt make thy war: and in multitude of counsellors there is safety.

1. Jealous, angry or excited, heated inwardly.
2. Powerful.
3. Inaccessible to him.

1. And the man Jeroboam was a mighty man of valor: and Solomon seeing the young man that he was industrious, he made him ruler over all the charge of the house of Joseph. (I Ks. 11:28.) The hand of the diligent shall bear rule: but the slothful shall be under tribute. (Prov. 12:24.) Not slothful in business; fervent in spirit; serving the Lord. (Rom. 12:11.)

Chapter 23.

a. But they that will be rich fall into temptation and a snare, and into many foolish and hurtful lusts, which drown men in destruction and perdition (9). For the love of money is the root of all evil; which while some coveted after, they have erred from the faith, and pierced themselves through with many sorrows. (I Tim. 6:9, 10.)

b. Be of the same mind one toward another. Mind not high things, but condescend to men of low estate. Be not wise in your own conceits. (Rom. 12:16.) Trust in the Lord with all thine heart; and lean not unto thine own understanding (5). Be not wise in thine own eyes: fear the Lord, and depart from evil. (Prov. 3:5, 7.)

c. Incline not my heart to any evil thing, to practice wicked words with men that work iniquity: and let me not eat of their dainties. (Ps. 141:4.) Beware that there be not a thought in thy wicked heart, saying, The seventh year, the year of release, is at hand; and thine eye be evil against thy poor brother, and thou givest him naught; and he cry unto the Lord against thee, and it be sin unto thee. (Dt. 15:9.) He that hasteth to be rich hath an evil eye, and considereth not that poverty shall come upon him. (Prov. 28:22.)

d. Give not that which is holy unto the dogs, neither cast ye your pearls before swine, lest they trample them under their feet, and turn again and rend you. (Mat. 7:6.)

e. For the oppression of the poor, for the sighing of the needy, now will I arise, saith the Lord; I will set him in safety from him that puffeth at him. (Ps. 12:5.) Their Redeemer is strong; the Lord of hosts is his name: he shall thoroughly plead their cause, that he may give rest to the land, and disquiet the inhabitants of Babylon. (Jer. 50:34.)

f. To deliver such an one unto Satan for the destruction of the flesh, that the spirit may be saved in the day of the Lord Jesus. (I Cor. 5:5.)

g. Happy is the man that feareth alway: but he that hardeneth his heart shall fall into mischief. (Prov. 28:14.)

h. But Abraham said, Son, remember that thou in thy lifetime receivedst thy good things, and likewise Lazarus evil things: but now he is comforted, and thou art tormented. (Luke 16:25.)

i. Woe unto them that are mighty to drink wine, and men of strength to mingle strong drink. (Is. 5:22.) And take heed to yourselves, lest at any time your hearts be overcharged with surfeiting, and drunkenness, and cares of life, and so that day come upon you unawares. (Luke 21:34.) And be not drunk with wine, wherein is excess; but be filled with the Spirit. (Eph. 5:18.)

j. Children, obey your parents in the Lord: for this is right (1). Honor thy father and mother; which is the first commandment with promise (2); That it may be well with thee, and thou mayest live long on the earth. (Eph. 6:1-3.)

k. Again, the kingdom of heaven is like unto treasure hid in a field; the which when a man hath found, he hideth, and for joy thereof goeth and selleth all that he hath and buyeth that field. (Mat. 13:44.) Wisdom is the principal thing; therefore get wisdom: and with all thy getting get understanding. (Prov. 4:7.) The heart of the prudent getteth knowledge; and the ear of the wise seeketh knowledge. (Prov. 18:15.)

l. Woe unto them that rise up early in the morning, that they may follow strong drink; that continue until night, till wine inflame them! (11). And the harp, and the viol, the tabret, and pipe, and wine, are in their feasts: but they regard not the work of the Lord, neither consider the operation of his hands (12). Woe unto them that are mighty to drink wine, and men of strength to mingle strong drink. (Is. 5:11, 12, 22.)

m. O Lord, are not thine eyes upon the truth? thou hast stricken them, but they have not grieved; thou hast consumed them, but they have refused to receive correction: they have made their faces harder than a rock; they have refused to return. (Jer. 5:3.)

n. Come ye, say they, I will fetch wine, and we will fill ourselves with strong drink; and to-morrow shall be as this day, and much more abundant. (Is. 56:12.) But it is happened unto them according to the true proverb, The dog is turned to his own vomit again; and the sow that was washed to her wallowing in the mire. (II Pet. 2:22.)

Chapter 24.

a. The words of wise men are heard in quiet more than the cry of him that ruleth among fools (17). Wisdom is better than weapons of war: but one sinner destroyeth much good. (Ecc. 9:17, 18.) A wise man scaleth the city of the mighty, and casteth down the strength of the confidence thereof. (Prov. 21:22.)

7 Wisdom is [3]too high for a fool: he openeth not his mouth in the gate.
8 He that deviseth to do evil shall be called a mischievous person.
9 The [b]thought of foolishness is sin: and the scorner is an abomination to men.
10 If thou faint in the day of adversity, thy strength is small.
11 [c]If thou forbear to deliver them that are drawn unto death, and those that are ready to be slain;
12 If thou sayest, Behold, we knew it not; doth not he that pondereth the heart consider it? and he that keepeth thy soul, doth not he know it? and shall not he render to every man [d]according to his works?
13 My son, eat thou honey, because it is good; and the honeycomb, which is sweet to thy taste:
14 So shall the knowledge of wisdom be unto thy soul: when thou hast found it, then there shall be a reward, and thy expectation shall not be cut off.
15 Lay not wait, O wicked man, against the dwelling of the righteous; spoil not his resting place:
16 For [e]a just man falleth [4]seven times, and riseth up again: but the wicked shall fall into mischief.
17 Rejoice not when thine enemy falleth, and let not thine heart be glad when he stumbleth:
18 Lest the Lord see it, and it displease him, and he turn away his wrath from him.
19 Fret not thyself because of evil men, neither be thou envious at the wicked;
20 For [f]there shall be no reward to the evil man; the candle of the wicked shall be put out.
21 My son, [g]fear thou the Lord and the king: and meddle not with them that are given to change:
22 For their calamity shall rise suddenly; and who knoweth the ruin of them both?
23 These things also belong to the wise. [h]It is not good to have respect of persons in judgment.
24 He that saith unto the wicked, Thou art righteous; him shall the people curse, nations shall abhor him:
25 But to them that rebuke him shall be delight, and a good blessing shall come upon them.
26 Every man shall kiss his lips that giveth a right answer.
27 Prepare thy work without, and make it fit for thyself in the field; and afterwards build thine house.
28 Be [i]not a witness against thy neighbour without cause; and deceive not with thy lips.
29 [j]Say not, I will do so to him as he hath done to me: I will render to the man according to his work.
30 I went by the field of the slothful, and by the vineyard of the man void of understanding;
31 And, lo, [k]it was all grown over with thorns, and nettles had covered the face thereof, and the stone wall thereof was broken down.
32 Then I saw, and considered it well: I looked upon it, and received instruction.
33 Yet a little sleep, a little slumber, a little folding of the hands to sleep:
34 So shall thy poverty come as one that travelleth; and thy want as an armed man.

4. Indefinitely, or an indefinite number of times hath he fallen into calamity.

CHAPTER 25.

Ch. 25. B. C. 700.

1 Observations about kings, 8 and about avoiding causes of quarrels, and sundry causes thereof.

1 [1]These are also proverbs of Sŏl'o-mon, which the men of Hĕz-e-kī'ah king of Jū'dah copied out.
2 [a]It is the glory of God to conceal a thing: but the honour of kings is [b]to search out a matter.
3 The heaven for height, and the earth for depth, and the heart of kings is unsearchable.
4 Take away the dross from the silver, and there shall come forth a vessel for the finer.
5 Take away the wicked from before the king, and his throne shall be established in righteousness.
6 Put [c]not forth thyself in the presence of the king, and stand not in the place of great men:
7 For better it is that it be said unto thee, Come up hither; than that thou shouldest be put lower in the presence of the prince whom thine eyes have seen.
8 [d]Go not forth hastily to strive, lest thou know not what to do in the end thereof, when thy neighbour hath put thee to shame.
9 [2]Debate [e]thy cause with thy neighbour himself; and [3]discover [f]not a secret to another:

1. A new section or composition, as a separate part.

2. To reason with.

b. For out of the heart proceed evil thoughts, murders, adulteries, fornications, thefts, false witness, blasphemies. (Mat. 15:19.) Repent therefore of this thy wickedness, and pray God, if perhaps the thought of thine heart may be forgiven thee. (Acts 8:22.)
c. Hereby perceive we the love of God, because he laid down his life for us: we ought to lay down our lives for the brethren. (I Jno. 3:16.)
d. Who will render to every man according to his deeds. (Rom. 2:6.) And I will kill her children with death; and all the churches shall know that I am he which searcheth the reins and hearts: and I will give unto every one of you according to your works. (Rev. 2:23.)
e. Many are the afflictions of the righteous: but the Lord delivereth him out of them all. (Ps. 34:19.) Rejoice not against me, O mine enemy: when I fall, I shall arise; when I sit in darkness, the Lord shall be a light unto me. (Mic. 7:8.)
f. Upon the wicked he shall rain snares, fire and brimstone, and an horrible tempest: this shall be the portion of their cup. (Ps. 11:6.) Woe unto the wicked! it shall be ill with him: for the reward of his hands shall be given him. (Is. 3:11.) Let not him that is deceived trust in vanity: for vanity shall be his recompence. (Job 15:31.)
g. Render therefore to all their dues: tribute to whom tribute is due; custom to whom custom; fear to whom fear; honor to whom honor. (Rom. 13:7.) Honor all men. Love the brotherhood. Fear God. Honor the king. (I Pet. 2:17.)
h. Ye shall not respect persons in judgment; but ye shall hear the small as well as the great; ye shall not be afraid of the face of man; for the judgment is God's; and the cause that is too hard for you, bring it unto me, and I will hear it. (Dt. 1:17) Judge not according to the appearance, but judge righteous judgment. (Jno. 7:24.)
i. Ye shall not steal, neither deal falsely, neither lie one to another. (Lev. 19:11.) Thou shalt not bear false witness against thy neighbor. (Ex. 20:16.) Wherefore putting away lying, speak every man truth with his neighbor: for we are members one of another. (Eph. 4:25.)
j. But I say unto you, That ye resist not evil: but whosoever shall smite thee on thy right cheek, turn to him the other also (39). And if any man will sue thee at the law, and take away thy coat, let him have thy cloak also (40). And whosoever shall compel thee to go a mile, go with him twain (41). Give to him that asketh thee, and from him that would borrow of thee turn not thou away. (Mat. 5:39-42.) Let all bitterness, and wrath, and anger, and clamor, and evil speaking, be put away from you, with all malice (31): And be ye kind one to another, tender-hearted, forgiving one another, even as God for Christ's sake hath forgiven you. (Eph. 4:31, 32.)
k. And unto Adam he said, Because thou hast hearkened unto the voice of thy wife, and hast eaten of the tree, of which I commanded thee, saying, Thou shalt not eat of it: cursed is the ground for thy sake; in sorrow shalt thou eat of it all the days of thy life (17); Thorns also and thistles shall it bring forth to thee; and thou shalt eat the herb of the field. (Gen. 3:17, 18.) But that which beareth thorns and briers is rejected, and is nigh unto cursing; whose end is to be burned. (Heb. 6:8.)
a. O the depth of the riches both of the wisdom and knowledge of God! how unsearchable are his judgments, and his ways past finding out! (Rom. 11:33.) The proverbs of Solomon the son of David, king of Israel. (Prov. 1:1.)
b. And God gave Solomon wisdom and understanding exceeding much, and largeness of heart, even as the sand that is on the sea shore (29). And Solomon's wisdom excelled the wisdom of all the children of the east country, and all the wisdom of Egypt. (I Ks. 4:29, 30.) I was a father to the poor: and the cause which I knew not I searched out. (Job 29:16.)
c. When thou art bidden of any man to a wedding, sit not down in the highest room; lest more honorable than thou be bidden of him (8); And he that bade thee and him come and say to thee, Give this man place; and thou begin with shame to take the lowest room (9). For whosoever exalteth himself shall be abased; and he that humbleth himself shall be exalted. (Luke 14:8, 9, 11.) For promotion cometh neither from the east, nor from the west, nor from the south (6). But God is the judge: he putteth down one, and setteth up another. (Ps. 75:6, 7.)
d. From whence come wars and fightings among you? come they not hence, even of your lusts that war in your members? (Js. 4:1.) What fruit had ye then in those things whereof ye are now ashamed? for the end of those things is death. (Rom. 6:21.)
e. Agree with thine adversary quickly, whiles thou art in the way with him; lest at any time the adversary deliver thee to the judge, and the judge deliver thee to the officer, and thou be cast into prison. (Mat.

10 Lest he that heareth it put thee to shame, and thine infamy turn not away.
11 A word fitly spoken is like apples of gold in pictures of silver.
12 As an earring of gold, and an ornament of fine gold, so is a wise reprover upon an obedient ear.
13 As the cold of snow in the time of harvest, so is a faithful messenger to them that send him: for he refresheth the soul of his masters.
14 Whoso boasteth himself of a false gift is like [g]clouds and wind without rain.
15 By long forbearing is a prince persuaded, and a soft tongue breaketh the bone.
16 Hast thou found honey? eat so much as is sufficient for thee, lest thou be filled therewith, and vomit it.
17 Withdraw thy foot from thy neighbour's house; lest he be weary of thee, and so hate thee.
18 A man that heareth false witness against his neighbour [h]is a maul, and a sword, and a sharp arrow.
19 Confidence in an [i]unfaithful man in time of trouble is like a broken tooth, and a foot out of joint.
20 As he that taketh away a garment in cold weather, and as vinegar upon [j]nitre, [k]so is he that singeth songs to an heavy heart.
21 If thine [l]enemy be hungry, give him bread to eat; and if he be thirsty, give him water to drink:
22 For thou shalt heap coals of fire upon his head, [t]and the Lord shall reward thee.
23 The north wind driveth away rain: so doth an angry countenance a backbiting tongue.
24 It is better to dwell in the corner of the house top, than with a brawling woman and in a wide house.
25 As cold waters to a thirsty soul, so is good news from a far country.
26 A righteous [m]man falling down before the wicked is as a troubled fountain, and a corrupt spring.
27 It is not good to eat much honey: so [n]for men to search their own glory is not glory.
28 He that hath no rule over his own spirit is like a city that is broken down, and without walls.

CHAPTER 26.

1 Observations about fools, 13 about sluggards, 17 and about contentious busybodies.

1 As snow in summer, and as rain in harvest, so honour is not seemly for a fool.
2 As the bird by wandering, as the swallow by flying, so the curse causeless [a]shall not come.
3 A whip for the horse, a bridle for the ass, and a rod for the fool's back.
4 Answer [b]not a fool according to his folly, lest thou also be like unto him.
5 Answer a fool according to his folly, lest he be wise in his own conceit.
6 He that sendeth a message by the hand of a fool cutteth off the feet, and drinketh damage.
7 The legs of the lame are not equal: so is a parable in the mouth of fools.
8 As he that bindeth a stone in a sling, so is he that giveth honour to a fool.
9 As a thorn goeth up into the hand of a drunkard, so is a parable in the mouth of fools.
10 The great God that formed all things both rewardeth the fool, and rewardeth transgressors.
11 As a dog returneth to his vomit, so a fool returneth to his folly.
12 Seest thou a man wise in his own conceit? there is more hope of a fool than of him.
13 The slothful man saith, There is a lion in the way; a lion is in the streets.
14 As the door turneth upon his hinges, so doth the slothful upon his bed.
15 The slothful hideth his hand in his bosom; it grieveth him to bring it again to his mouth.
16 The sluggard is wiser in his own conceit than seven men that can render a [i]reason.
17 He that passeth by, and meddleth with strife belonging not to him, is like one that taketh a dog by the ears.
18 As a mad man who casteth firebrands, arrows, and death, 19 So is the man that deceiveth his neighbour, and saith, Am not I in sport?
20 Where no wood is, there the fire goeth out: so where there is no talebearer, the strife ceaseth.
21 As coals are to burning coals, and wood to fire; so is a [c]contentious man to kindle strife.
22 The words of a talebearer are as wounds, and they go down into the innermost parts of the belly.

3. Reveal or tell to others to his hurt.

4. An alkali native to India, Syria, Tripoli, Egypt, Hungary, was called by the natives "soap-earth," and was used in washing clothes.

Ch. 26. B. C. 700.

1. Give a right judgment.

5:25.) Moreover if thy brother shall trespass against thee, go and tell him his fault between thee and him alone: if he shall hear thee, thou hast gained thy brother. (Mat. 18:15.)

f. A tale-bearer revealeth secrets; but he that is of a faithful spirit concealeth the matter. (Prov. 11:13.)

These are spots in your feasts of charity, when they feast with you, feeding themselves without fear: clouds they are without water, carried about of winds; trees whose fruit withereth, without fruit, twice dead, plucked up by the roots. (Jude 12.) And the prophets shall become wind, and the word is not in them: thus shall it be done unto them. [illegible] is a man walking in the spirit and falsehood do lie, [illegible] not to thee of wine and of strong drink; he shall even be the prophet of this people. (Mic. 2:11.)

[illegible] and their tongue like a serpent; adders' poison [illegible] Selah. (Ps. 140:3.) Be not a witness against thy neighbour without cause; and deceive not with thy lips. (Prov. 24:28.) Thou shalt not bear [illegible] against thy neighbor. (Ex. 20:16.)

[illegible] of the broken reed on Egypt; whereon if a man lean, it will go into his hand, and pierce it: so is Pharaoh [illegible] unto him. (Is. 36:6.) At my first answer [illegible] all men forsook me: I pray God that it may [illegible] charge. (II Tim. 4:16.)

[illegible] bless them that curse you, do good to them which hate you, and pray for them which despitefully use you, and persecute you; that ye may [illegible] If thine enemy hunger, feed him; if he thirst, give him drink: [illegible] thou shalt heap coals of fire upon his head, and the Lord shall reward thee openly. (Mat. 6:4.) Render to no man evil for evil. [illegible] Recompense to no man evil for evil. [illegible] Dearly beloved, avenge not yourselves, but rather give place unto wrath: for it is written, Vengeance belongeth unto me; I will recompense, saith the Lord. Therefore if thine enemy hunger, feed him; if he thirst, give him drink: for in so doing thou shalt heap coals of fire on his head. Be not overcome of evil, but overcome evil with good. (Rom. 12:17-21.)

l. It may be that the Lord will look on mine affliction, and that the Lord will requite me good for his cursing this day. (II Sam. 16:12.) For God shall bring every work into judgment, with every secret thing, whether it be good, or whether it be evil. (Ecc. 12:14.) And, behold, I come quickly; and my reward is with me, to give every man according as his work shall be. (Rev. 22:12.) For we know him that hath said, Vengeance belongeth unto me, I will recompense, saith the Lord. And again, The Lord shall judge his people. (Heb. 10:30.)

m. Rejoice not against me, O mine enemy: when I fall, I shall arise; when I sit in darkness, the Lord shall be a light unto me. (Mic. 7:8.) Now Peter sat without in the palace: and a damsel came unto him saying, Thou also wast with Jesus of Galilee (69). But he denied before them all, saying, I know not what thou sayest. (Mat. 26:69, 70.)

n. For whosoever exalteth himself shall be abased; and he that humbleth himself shall be exalted. (Luke 14:11.)

Chapter 26.

a. How shall I curse, whom God hath not cursed? or how shall I defy, whom the Lord hath not defied? (Num. 23:8.) Let them curse, but bless thou: when they arise, let them be ashamed; but let thy servant rejoice. (Ps. 109:28.)

b. But they held their peace, and answered him not a word: for the king's commandment was, saying, Answer him not. (Is. 36:21.) Give not that which is holy unto the dogs, neither cast ye your pearls before swine, lest they trample them under their feet, and turn again and rend you. (Mat. 7:6.)

c. A wrathful man stirreth up strife: but he that is slow to anger appeaseth strife. (Prov. 15:18.) An angry man stirreth up strife, and a furious man aboundeth in transgression. (Prov. 29:22.) Surely the churning of milk bringeth forth butter, and the wringing of the nose bringeth forth blood: so the forcing of wrath bringeth forth strife. (Prov. 30:33.)

23 Burning lips and a [d]wicked heart are like a potsherd covered with silver dross.
24 He that hateth dissembleth with his lips, and layeth up deceit within him;
25 When he speaketh fair, believe him not: for there are seven abominations in his heart.
26 Whose hatred is covered by deceit, his wickedness shall be shewed before the whole congregation.
27 Whoso [e]diggeth a pit shall fall therein: and he that rolleth a stone, it will return upon him.
28 A lying tongue [f]hateth those that are afflicted by it; and a flattering mouth worketh ruin.

CHAPTER 27.

1 Observations of self-love, 5 of true love, 11 of care to avoid offences, 23 and of the household care.

1 Boast [1]not [a]thyself of to morrow; for thou knowest not what a day may bring forth.
2 Let another man praise thee, and not thine own mouth; a stranger, and not thine own lips.
3 A stone is heavy, and the sand weighty; but [b]a fool's wrath is heavier than them both.
4 Wrath is cruel, and anger is outrageous; but [c]who is able to stand before envy?
5 Open rebuke is better than secret love.
6 Faithful are the wounds of a friend; but the kisses of an enemy are deceitful.
7 The full soul [2]loatheth an honeycomb; but to the hungry soul every bitter thing is sweet.
8 As a bird that [d]wandereth from her nest, so is a man that wandereth from his place.
9 Ointment and perfume rejoice the heart: so doth the [3]sweetness of a man's friend by hearty counsel.
10 Thine own friend, and thy father's friend, forsake not; neither go into thy brother's house in the day of thy calamity: for better is a neighbour that is near than a brother far off.
11 My son, be wise, and make my heart glad, [e]that I may answer him that reproacheth me.
12 A prudent man [f]foreseeth the evil, and hideth himself; but the simple pass on, and are punished.
13 Take his garment that is surety for a stranger, and take a pledge of him for a strange woman.
14 He that blesseth his friend with a loud voice, rising early in the morning, it shall be counted a curse to him.
15 A continual dropping in a very rainy day and a contentious woman are alike.
16 Whosoever hideth her hideth the wind, and the ointment of his right hand, which bewrayeth itself.
17 Iron sharpeneth iron; so a man sharpeneth the countenance of his friend.
18 Whoso [g]keepeth the fig tree shall eat the fruit thereof: so he that waiteth on his master shall be honoured.
19 As in water face answereth to face, so the heart of man to man.
20 [h]Hell and destruction are never full; so the eyes of man are never satisfied.
21 As the [4]fining pot for silver, and the furnace for gold; so is a man to his praise.
22 Though thou shouldest [5]bray a fool in a mortar among wheat with a [6]pestle, yet will not his foolishness depart from him.
23 Be thou diligent [i]to know the state of thy flocks, and look well to thy herds.
24 For riches are not for ever: and [j]doth the crown endure to every generation?
25 The hay appeareth, and the tender grass sheweth itself, and herbs of the mountains are gathered.
26 The lambs are for thy clothing, and the goats are the price of the field.
27 And thou shalt have goats' milk enough for thy food, for the food of thy household, and for the maintenance for thy maidens.

CHAPTER 28.

General observations of impiety and religious integrity.

1 The wicked flee when no man pursueth: but the righteous are bold as a lion.
2 For the transgression of a land many are the princes thereof: but by a man of understanding and knowledge the state thereof shall be prolonged.
3 A [a]poor man that oppresseth the poor is like a sweeping rain which leaveth no food.
4 They that forsake the law praise the wicked: [b]but such as keep the law contend with them.

Ch. 27. B. C. 700.

1. Count not too confidently on the future, but redeem the present.

2. Lit., treadeth under foot.

3. Agreeableness.

4. A crucible.

5. Pound, beat.

6. A stone used to crush, to roll, to make fine.

d. And while he yet spake, behold a multitude, and he that was called Judas, one of the twelve, went before them, and drew near unto Jesus to kiss him (47). But Jesus said unto him, Judas, betrayest thou the Son of man with a kiss? (Luke 22:47, 48.)
e. So they hanged Haman on the gallows that he had prepared for Mordecai. Then was the king's wrath pacified. (Est. 7:10.) He made a pit, and digged it, and is fallen into the ditch which he made (15). His mischief shall return upon his own head, and his violent dealing shall come down upon his own pate. (Ps. 7:15, 16.)
f. Righteousness keepeth him that is upright in the way: but wickedness overthroweth the sinner. (Prov. 13:6.) A man that flattereth his neighbor spreadeth a net for his feet. (Prov. 29:5.)
b. And when Haman saw that Mordecai bowed not, nor did him reverence, then was Haman full of wrath (5). And he thought scorn to lay hands on Mordecai alone; for they had shown him the people of Mordecai: wherefore Haman sought to destroy all the Jews that were throughout the whole kingdom of Ahasuerus, even the people of Mordecai. (Est. 3:5, 6.)
c. And wherefore slew he him? Because his own works were evil, and his brother's righteous. (I Jno. 3:12.)
d. Which leaveth her eggs in the earth, and warmeth them in the dust, and forgetteth that the foot may crush them, or that the wild beast may break them. (Job 39:14, 15.)
e. As arrows are in the hand of a mighty man; so are children of the youth (4). Happy is the man that hath his quiver full of them: they shall not be ashamed, but they shall speak with the enemies in the gate. (Ps. 127:4, 5.) So shall I have wherewith to answer him that reproacheth me: for I trust in thy word. (Ps. 119:42.)
f. And a man shall be as an hiding place from the wind, and a covert from the tempest; as rivers of water in a dry place; as the shadow of a great rock in a weary land. (Is. 32:2.)
g. And Joseph found grace in his sight, and he served him: and he made him overseer over his house, and all that he had he put into his hand. (Gen. 39:4.) Who goeth a warfare any time at his own charges? who planteth a vineyard, and eateth not of the fruit thereof? or who feedeth a flock, and eateth not of the milk of the flock? (7). Do ye not know that they which minister about holy things live of the things of the temple? and they which wait at the altar are partakers with the altar? (I Cor. 9:7, 13.) The husbandman that laboreth must be first partaker of the fruits. (II Tim. 2:6.)
h. Yea also, because he transgresseth by wine, he is a proud man, neither keepeth at home, who enlargeth his desire as hell, and is as death, and can not be satisfied, but gathereth unto him all nations, and heapeth unto him all people. (Hab. 2:5.)
i. Hear the word of the Lord, O ye nations, and declare it in the isles afar off, and say, He that scattered Israel will gather him, and keep him, as a shepherd doth his flock. (Jer. 31:10.) As a shepherd seeketh out his flock in the day that he is among his sheep that are scattered; so will I seek out my sheep, and will deliver them out of all places where they have been scattered in the cloudy and dark day. (Ez. 34:12.) To him the porter openeth; and the sheep hear his voice: and he calleth his own sheep by name, and leadeth them out. (Jno. 10:3.)
j. He hath stripped me of my glory, and taken the crown from my head. (Job 19:9.) Thou hast made void the covenant of thy servant: thou hast profaned his crown by casting it to the ground. (Ps. 89:39.) Thus saith the Lord God, Remove the diadem, and take off the crown: this shall not be the same: exalt him that is low, and abase him that is high. (Ez. 21:26.)
a. But the same servant went out, and found one of his fellowservants, which owed him an hundred pence; and he laid hands on him, and took him by the throat, saying, Pay me that thou owest. (Mat. 18:28.)
b. And he answered, I have not troubled Israel; but thou, and thy father's house, in that ye have forsaken the commandments of the Lord, and thou hast followed Baalim. (I Ks. 18:18.) But when he saw many of the Pharisees and Sadducees come to his baptism, he said unto them, O generation of vipers, who hath warned you to flee from the wrath to come? (Mat. 3:7.) For John said unto him, It is not lawful for thee to have her. (Mat. 14:4.) And have no fellowship with the unfruitful works of darkness, but rather reprove them. (Eph. 5:11.)

5 Evil men understand not judgment: but they that seek the Lord understand all things.
6 Better is the poor that walketh in his uprightness, than he that is [1]perverse in his ways, though he be rich.
7 Whoso keepeth the law is a wise son: but he that is a companion of riotous men shameth his father.
8 He that by usury and unjust gain increaseth his substance, he shall gather it for him that will pity the poor.
9 [c]He that turneth away his ear from hearing the law, even his prayer shall be abomination.
10 Whoso causeth the righteous to go astray in an evil way, he shall fall himself into his own pit: but the [d]upright shall have good things in possession.
11 The rich man is wise in his own conceit; but the poor that hath understanding searcheth him out.
12 When righteous men do rejoice, there is great glory: but when the wicked rise, a man is hidden.
13 He that covereth his sins shall not prosper: but whoso confesseth and forsaketh them shall have mercy.
14 Happy is the man that feareth alway: but he that hardeneth his heart shall fall into mischief.
15 As a roaring lion, and a ranging bear; so [e]is a wicked ruler over the poor people.
16 The prince that wanteth understanding is also a great oppressor: but he that hateth covetousness shall prolong his days.
17 A man that doeth violence to the blood of any person shall flee to the pit; let no man stay him.
18 Whoso walketh uprightly shall be saved: but he that is perverse in his ways shall fall at once.
19 He that tilleth his land shall have plenty of bread: but he that followeth after vain persons shall have poverty enough.
20 A faithful man shall abound with blessings: but he that maketh haste to be rich shall not be innocent.
21 To have respect of persons is not good: for [f]for a piece of bread that man will transgress.
22 [g]He that hasteth to be rich hath an evil eye, and considereth not that poverty shall come upon him.
23 He that [2]rebuketh a man afterwards shall find more favour than he that flattereth with the tongue.
24 Whoso robbeth his father or his mother, and saith, It is no transgression; the same is the companion of a destroyer.
25 He that is of a proud heart stirreth up strife: [h]but he that putteth his trust in the Lord shall be made [3]fat.
26 He that [i]trusteth in his own heart is a fool: but whoso walketh wisely, he shall be delivered.
27 He that [j]giveth unto the poor shall not lack: but he that hideth his eyes shall have many a curse.
28 When the wicked rise, men hide themselves: but when they perish, the righteous increase.

CHAPTER 29.

1 Observations of publick government, 15 and of private. 22 Of anger, pride, thievery, cowardice, and corruption.

1 He, that being often reproved hardeneth his neck, shall suddenly be destroyed, and that without remedy.
2 When the righteous are in authority, the people rejoice: but when the wicked beareth rule, the people mourn.
3 Whoso loveth wisdom rejoiceth his father: but he that keepeth company with harlots spendeth his substance.
4 The king by judgment establisheth the land: but he that receiveth gifts overthroweth it.
5 A man that flattereth his neighbour spreadeth a net for his feet.
6 In the transgression of an evil man there is a snare: but the righteous doth sing and rejoice.
7 The [a]righteous considereth the cause of the poor: but the wicked regardeth not to know it.
8 Scornful men bring a city into a snare: but wise men turn away wrath.
9 If a wise man contendeth with a foolish man, whether he rage or laugh, there is no rest.
10 The bloodthirsty hate the upright: but the just seek his soul.
11 A fool uttereth all his mind: but a wise man keepeth it in till afterwards.
12 If a ruler hearken to lies, all his servants are wicked.
13 The poor and the [1]deceitful man meet [2]together: the Lord lighteneth both their eyes.
14 The king that [b]faithfully judgeth the poor, his throne shall be established for ever.
15 The rod and reproof give wisdom: but a child left to himself bringeth his mother to shame.
16 When the wicked are multiplied, transgression increaseth: [c]but the righteous shall see their fall.
17 Correct [d]thy son, and he shall give thee rest; yea, he shall give delight unto thy soul.

c. For the time will come when they will not endure sound doctrine; but after their own lusts shall they heap to themselves teachers, having itching ears. (II Tim. 4:3.)

d. But seek ye first the kingdom of God, and his righteousness; and all these things shall be added unto you. (Mat. 6:33.) That ye be not slothful, but followers of them who through faith and patience inherit the promises. (Heb. 6:12.) Not rendering evil for evil, or railing for railing: but contrariwise blessing; knowing that ye are thereunto called that ye should inherit a blessing. (I Pet. 3:9.)

e. Then Herod, when he saw that he was mocked of the wise men, was exceeding wroth, and sent forth, and slew all the children that were in Bethlehem and in all the coasts thereof, from two years old and under, according to the time which he had diligently enquired of the wise men. (Mat. 2:16.)

f. As I mine hand shall be upon the prophets that see vanity, and that divine lies: they shall not be in the assembly of my people, neither shall they be written in the writing of the house of Israel, neither shall they enter into the land of Israel; and ye shall know that I am the Lord God. (Ezz. 13:9.)

g. And when he had said this, he breathed on them, and saith unto them, Receive ye the Holy Ghost. (Jno. 20:22.) Let the brother of low degree rejoice in that he is exalted (9): But the rich, in that he is made low: because as the flower of the grass he shall pass away. (Js. 1:9, 10.)

h. But godliness with contentment is great gain. (I Tim. 6:6.) The fear of man bringeth a snare: but whoso putteth his trust in the Lord shall be safe. (Prov. 29:25.)

i. Trust in the Lord with all thine heart; and lean not unto thine own understanding. (Prov. 3:5.)

j. There is that scattereth and yet increaseth; and there is that withholdeth more than is meet, but it tendeth to poverty. (Prov. 11:24.) He that hath pity upon the poor lendeth unto the Lord; and that which he hath given will he pay him again. (Prov. 19:17.)

Chapter 29.

a. I was a father to the poor: and the cause which I knew not I searched out. (Job 29:16.) They are waxen fat, they shine: yea, they overpass the deeds of the wicked: they judge not the cause, the cause of the fatherless, yet they prosper; and the right of the needy do they not judge. (Jer. 5:28.) Blessed is he that considereth the poor: the Lord will deliver him in time of trouble. (Ps. 41:1.) Open thy mouth for the dumb in the cause of all such as are appointed to destruction (8). Open thy mouth, judge righteously, and plead the cause of the poor and needy. (Prov. 31:8, 9.)

b. He shall judge the poor of the people, he shall save the children of the needy, and shall break in pieces the oppressor. (Ps. 72:4.) But with righteousness shall he judge the poor, and reprove with equity for the meek of the earth: and he shall smite the earth with the rod of his mouth, and with the breath of his lips shall he slay the wicked. (Is. 11:4.)

c. Yet he passed away, and, lo, he was not: yea, I sought him, but he could not be found. (Ps. 37:36.) The righteous man wisely considereth the house of the wicked: but God overthroweth the wicked for their wickedness. (Prov. 21:12.) The righteous shall rejoice when he seeth the vengeance: he shall wash his feet in the blood of the wicked. (Ps. 58:10.) Only with thine eyes shalt thou behold and see the reward of the wicked. (Ps. 91:8.)

d. He that spareth his rod hateth his son: but he that loveth him chasteneth him betimes. (Prov. 13:24.)

e. And the child Samuel ministered unto the Lord before Eli. And perish: but [f]he that keepeth the law, happy is he.

19 A servant will not be corrected by words: for though he understand he will not answer.

20 Seest thou a man that is hasty in his words? there is more hope of a fool than of him.

21 He that delicately bringeth up his servant from a child shall have him become his son at the length.

22 An angry man stirreth up strife, and a furious man aboundeth in transgression.

23 [g]A man's pride shall bring him low: but honour shall uphold the humble in spirit.

24 Whoso is partner with a thief hateth his own soul: he heareth cursing, and bewrayeth it not.

25 The fear [h]of man bringeth a snare: but whoso [i]putteth his trust in the Lord shall be safe.

26 Many seek the ruler's favour; but every man's judgment cometh from the Lord.

27 An unjust man is an abomination to the just: and he that is upright in the way is abomination to the wicked.

CHAPTER 30.

1 Agur's confession of his faith. 7 The two points of his prayer. 11 Four wicked generations. 15 Four things insatiable. 18 Four things hard to be known. 21 Four things intolerable.

1 [1]The words of Ā'gûr the son of Jā'keh, even the prophecy: the man spake unto Ĭth'-ĭ-el, even unto Ĭth'ĭ-el and Ū'cal,

2 Surely I am more [2]brutish than any man, and have not the understanding of a man.

3 I neither learned wisdom, nor have the knowledge of the holy.

4 Who hath ascended up into heaven, or descended? who hath gathered the wind in his fists? who hath bound the waters in a garment? who hath established all the ends of the earth? what is his name, and what is his son's name, if thou canst tell?

5 Every word of God is pure: he is a shield unto them that put their trust in him.

6 [a]Add thou not unto his words, lest he reprove thee, and thou be found a [3]liar.

7 Two things have I required of thee; deny me them not before I die:

8 Remove far from me [4]vanity and lies: give me neither poverty nor riches; [b]feed me with food convenient for me:

9 [c]Lest I be full, and deny thee, and say, Who is the Lord? or lest I be poor, and steal, and take the name of my God in [5]vain.

10 Accuse not a servant unto his master, lest he curse thee, and thou be found guilty.

11 There is a generation [d]that curseth their father, and doth not bless their mother.

12 There is a generation that are pure in their own eyes, and yet is not washed from their filthiness.

13 There is a generation, O how lofty are their eyes! and their eyelids are lifted up.

14 There is a generation, whose teeth are as swords, and their jaw teeth as knives, to devour the poor from off the earth, and the needy from among men.

15 The horseleach hath two daughters, crying, Give, give. There are three things that are never satisfied, yea, four things say not, It is enough:

16 The grave; and the barren womb; the earth that is not filled with water; and the fire that saith not, It is enough.

17 The eye that mocketh at his father, and despiseth to obey his mother, the ravens of the valley shall pick it out, and the young eagles shall eat it.

18 There be three things which are too wonderful for me, yea, four which I know not:

19 The way of an eagle in the air; the way of a serpent upon a rock; the way of a ship in the midst of the sea; and the way of a man with a maid.

20 Such is the way of an adulterous woman; she eateth, and wipeth her mouth, and saith, I have done no wickedness.

21 For three things the earth is disquieted, and for four which it cannot bear:

22 For a servant when he reigneth; and a fool when he is filled with meat;

23 For an odious woman when she is married; and an handmaid that is heir to her mistress.

24 There be four things which are little upon the earth, but they are exceeding wise:

25 The [e]ants are a people not strong, yet they prepare their meat in the summer;

26 The conies are but a feeble folk, yet make they their houses in the rocks;

27 The locusts have no king, yet go they forth all of them by bands;

28 The spider taketh hold with her hands, and is in king's palaces.

29 There be three things which go well, yea, four are comely in going:

30 A lion which is strongest among beasts, and turneth not away for any;

31 A greyhound; an he goat also; and a king, against whom there is no rising up.

32 If thou hast done foolishly in lifting up thyself, or if thou hast thought evil, [f]lay thine hand upon thy mouth.

33 Surely the churning of milk bringeth forth butter, and the wringing of the nose bringeth forth blood: so the forcing of wrath bringeth forth strife.

4. That is, saucy, contumacious.

1. Ch. 30 is considered the most enigmatical and difficult portion of the Proverbs; it is a ch. of dark sayings, riddles, and on this account has been a ch. of much discussion.

the word of the Lord was precious in those days; there was no open vision. (I Sam. 3:1.) Behold, the days come, saith the Lord God, that I will send a famine in the land, not a famine of bread, nor a thirst for water, but of hearing the words of the Lord. (Amos 8:11.)

f. If ye know these things, happy are ye if you do them. (Jno. 13:17.) But whoso looketh into the perfect law of liberty, and continueth therein, he being not a forgetful hearer, but a doer of the work, this man shall be blessed in his deed. (Js. 1:25.)

g. And whosoever shall exalt himself shall be abased; and he that shall humble himself shall be exalted. (Mat. 23:12.) And immediately the angel of the Lord smote him, because he gave not God the glory: and he was eaten of worms, and gave up the ghost. (Acts 12:23.)

h. Therefore it shall come to pass, when the Egyptians shall see thee, that they shall say, This is his wife: and they will kill me, but they will save thee alive. (Gen. 12:12.) And Abraham said of Sarah his wife, She is my sister; and Abimelech king of Gerar sent, and took Sarah. (Gen. 20:2.) And I say unto you my friends, Be not afraid of them that kill the body, and after that have no more that they can do. (Luke 12:4.) Nevertheless among the chief rulers also many believed on him; but because of the Pharisees they did not confess him, lest they should be put out of the synagogue (42): For they loved the praise of men more than the praise of God. (Jno. 12:42, 43.)

i. The name of the Lord is a strong tower: the righteous runneth into it, and is safe. (Prov. 18:10.) He that is of a proud heart stirreth up strife: but he that putteth his trust in the Lord shall be made fat. (Prov. 28:25.) See Ps. 91:1-16.

a. Ye shall not add unto the word which I command you, neither shall ye diminish ought from it, that ye may keep the commandments of the Lord your God which I command you. (Dt. 4:2.) For I testify unto every man that heareth the words of the prophecy of this book, If any man shall add unto these things, God shall add unto him the plagues that are written in this book. (Rev. 22:18.)

b. Give us this day our daily bread. (Mat. 6:11.) Neither have I gone back from the commandment of his lips; I have esteemed the words of his mouth more than my necessary food. (Job. 23:12.)

c. Lest when thou hast eaten and art full, and hast built goodly houses, and dwelt therein (12). Then thine heart be lifted up, and thou forget the Lord thy God, which brought thee forth out of the land of Egypt; from the house of bondage. (Dt. 8:12, 14.) According to their pasture so were they filled; they were filled, and their heart was exalted; therefore have they forgotten me. (Hos. 13:6.)

d. The Pharisee stood and prayed thus with himself, God, I thank thee, that I am not as other men are, extortioners, unjust, adulterers, or even as this publican. (Luke 18:11.)

e. Go to the ant, thou sluggard; consider her ways, and be wise (6): Which having no guide, overseer, or ruler (7), Provideth her meat in the summer, and gathereth her food in the harvest. (Prov. 6:6-8.)

f. If the spirit of the ruler rise up against thee, leave not thy place; for yielding pacifieth great offences. (Ecc. 10:4.) The nations shall see and be confounded at all their might: they shall lay their hand upon their mouth, their ears shall be deaf. (Mic. 7:16.) Now we know that what things soever the law saith, it saith to them who are under the law: that every mouth may be stopped, and all the world may become guilty before God. (Rom. 3:19.)

CHAPTER 31.

1 Lemuel's lesson of chastity and temperance. 6 The afflicted are to be comforted and defended. 10 The praise and properties of a good wife.

1 The [1]words of king Lĕm'u-el, the prophecy that his mother taught him.

2 What, my son? and what, the son of my womb? and what, the son of my vows?

3 Give not thy strength unto women, nor thy ways [a]to that which destroyeth kings.

4 It is not for kings, [b]O Lĕm'u-el, it is not for kings to drink wine; nor for princes strong drink:

5 Lest [c]they drink, and forget the law, and pervert the judgment of any of the afflicted.

6 Give strong drink unto him that is ready to perish, and wine unto those that be of heavy hearts.

7 Let him drink, and forget his poverty, and remember his misery no more.

8 Open thy mouth for the dumb in the cause of all such as are appointed to destruction.

9 Open thy mouth, [d]judge righteously, and [e]plead the cause of the poor and needy.

10 ¶ [2]Who can find a [3]virtuous woman? for her price is far above rubies.

11 The heart of her husband doth safely trust in her, so that he shall have no need of spoil.

12 She will do him good and not evil all the days of her life.

13 She seeketh wool, and flax, and worketh willingly with her hands.

14 She is like the merchants' ships; she bringeth her food from afar.

15 She riseth also while it is yet night, and giveth meat to her household, and a portion to her maidens.

16 She considereth a field, and buyeth it: with the fruit of her hands she planteth a vineyard.

17 She girdeth her loins with strength, and strengtheneth her arms.

18 She perceiveth that her merchandise is good: her candle goeth not out by night.

19 She layeth her hands to the spindle, and her hands hold the distaff.

20 She stretcheth [f]out her hand to the poor; yea, she reacheth forth her hands to the needy.

21 She is not afraid of the snow for her household: for all her household are clothed with scarlet.

22 She maketh herself coverings of tapestry; her clothing is silk and purple.

23 Her husband is known in the gates, when he sitteth among the elders of the land.

24 She maketh fine linen, and selleth it; and delivereth girdles unto the merchant.

25 Strength and honour are her clothing; and she shall rejoice in time to come.

26 She openeth her mouth with wisdom; and in her tongue is the law of kindness.

27 She looketh well to the ways of her household, and eateth not the bread of idleness.

28 Her children arise up, and call her blessed; her husband also, and he praiseth her.

29 Many daughters have done virtuously, but thou excellest them all.

30 Favour is deceitful, and beauty is vain: but a woman that feareth the Lord, she shall be praised.

31 Give her of the fruit of her hands; and let her own works praise her in the gates.

Ch. 31. B. C. 1015.

1. Lemuel is supposed to have reduced the instructions and precepts which he received from his mother into poetic form and in that manner they became the "Words of Lemuel."

2. Beginning with v. 10, the remaining 22 stanzas constitute a poem on the Model Wife. It has been called "The golden A-B-C for wives." Also "The looking glass for ladies, by which they should dress themselves." The word virtuous has lost its original meaning. The author never intended to bring into this poem any idea whatever concerning the life of chastity, as he had no other character in his mind, but the words "Virtuous" meant strong, valiant, noble-minded, as applying to ability and valour with such modifications as a female character would imply.

Chapter 31.

a. Neither shall he multiply wives to himself, that his heart turn not away: neither shall he greatly multiply to himself silver and gold. (Dt. 17:17.) Did not Solomon king of Israel sin by these things? yet among many nations was there no king like him, who was beloved of his God, and God made him king over all Israel: nevertheless even him did outlandish women cause to sin. (Neh. 13:26.) For she hath cast down many wounded: yea, many strong men have been slain by her. (Prov. 7:26.)

b. Blessed art thou, O land, when thy king is the son of nobles, and thy princes eat in due season, for strength, and not for drunkenness! (Ecc. 10:17.)

c. Do not drink wine nor strong drink, thou, nor thy sons with thee, when ye go into the tabernacle of the congregation, lest ye die: it shall be a statute for ever throughout your generations. (Lev. 10:9.) And it shall be, when he sitteth upon the throne of his kingdom, that he shall write him a copy of this law in a book out of that which is before the priests the Levites. (Dt. 17:18.)

d. Ye shall do no unrighteousness in judgment: thou shalt not respect the person of the poor, nor honor the person of the mighty: but in righteousness shalt thou judge thy neighbor. (Lev. 19:15.)

e. Because I delivered the poor that cried, and the fatherless, and him that had none to help him. (Job 29:12.) Learn to do well; seek judgment, relieve the oppressed, judge the fatherless, plead for the widow. (Is. 1:17.) He judged the cause of the poor and needy; then it was well with him: was not this to know me? saith the Lord. (Jer. 22:16.)

f. We have heard with our ears, O God, our fathers have told us, what work thou didst in their days, in the times of old. (Ps. 44:1.) But to do good and to communicate forget not: for with such sacrifices God is well pleased. (Heb. 13:16.)

g. Praise ye the Lord. Blessed is the man that feareth the Lord, that delighteth greatly in his commandments. (Ps. 112:1.) My son, forget not my law, but let thine heart keep my commandments (1). So shalt thou find favor and good understanding in the sight of God and man. (Prov. 3:1, 4.)

ECCLESIASTES

OR, THE PREACHER

NOTE.—The author of this book has been a subject of much consideration on the part of the critics. Solomon was originally supposed to be the author. At present there are but few who hold this view, however they are unable to select anyone as author. The theme of the book is the path to true happiness. The author seeks to show the vanity of all mere pursuits when made the chief end of life as contrasted with the real blessedness of true wisdom, i. e., religion. All is vanity without God, whose name occurs 43 times in the book while the name Jehovah is not mentioned.

CHAPTER 1.

1 The preacher sheweth that all human courses are vain: 4 because the creatures are restless in their courses, 9 they bring forth nothing new, and all old things are forgotten.

1 The words of the [a]Preacher, the son of Dā'vid, king in Je-rū'sa-lĕm.

2 Vanity [1]of [b]vanities, saith the Preacher, vanity of vanities; all is vanity.

3 What [c]profit hath a man of all his labour which he taketh under [2]the sun?

4 One generation passeth away, and another generation cometh: but the earth abideth for ever.

5 The sun also ariseth, and the sun goeth down, and hasteth to his place where he arose.

6 The [d]wind goeth toward the south, and turneth about unto the north; it whirleth about continually, and the wind returneth again according to his circuits.

7 All the rivers run into the sea; yet the sea is not full; unto the place from whence the rivers come, thither they return again.

8 All things are full of labour; man cannot utter it: [c]the eye is not satisfied with seeing, nor the ear filled with hearing.

9 The thing [3]that hath been, it is that which shall be; and that which is done is that which shall be done: and there is no new [4]thing under the sun.

10 Is there any thing whereof it may be said, See, this is new? it hath been already of old time, which was before us.

11 There is no remembrance of former things; neither shall there be any remembrance of things that are to come with those that shall come after.

12 ¶ I the Preacher was king over Ĭs'ra-el in Je-rū'sa-lĕm.

13 And I gave my heart to seek and search out by wisdom concerning all things that are done under heaven: this sore travail hath God given to the sons of man to be exercised therewith.

14 I have seen all the works that are done under the sun; and, behold, all is vanity and vexation of spirit.

15 That which is crooked cannot be made straight: and that which is wanting cannot be numbered.

Ch. 1. B. C. 977.

1. The author abruptly plunges into his subject by announcing that the struggle to satisfy the heart with worldly things is vain. Vanity of vanities is such a purpose.

2. An expression occurring 21 times in this book but nowhere else in the scriptures and means "on the earth."

3. That which hath been. (R. V.)

4. That is, new source of happiness.

Ch. 2. B. C. 977.

1. Come now.

2. Delusive, unreal.

3. That is, when made the chief end or purpose.

4. Accomplish.

5. All things considered but for themselves alone were vanity.

16 I communed with mine own heart, saying, Lo, I am come to great estate, and have [f]gotten more wisdom than all they that have been before me in Je-rū'sa-lĕm: yea, my heart had great experience of wisdom and knowledge.

17 And [g]I gave my heart to know wisdom, and to know madness and folly: I perceived that this also is vexation of spirit.

18 For [h]in much wisdom is much grief: and he that increaseth knowledge increaseth sorrow.

CHAPTER 2.

1 The vanity of human courses in the works of pleasure. 12 Though the wise be better than the fool, yet both have one event. 24 Nothing better than joy in our labour.

1 I said [a]in mine heart, Go [1]to now, I will prove thee with mirth, therefore enjoy pleasure: and, behold, this also is [2]vanity.

2 I said [b]of laughter, It is [3]mad: and of mirth, What doeth [4]it?

3 I sought in mine heart to give [c]myself unto wine, yet acquainting mine heart with wisdom; and to lay hold on folly, till I might see what was that good for the sons of men, which they should do under the heaven all the days of their life.

4 I made me great works; I builded me houses; I planted me vineyards:

5 I made me gardens and orchards, and I planted trees in them of all kind of fruits:

6 I made me pools of water, to water therewith the wood that bringeth forth trees:

7 I got me servants and maidens and had servants born in my house; also I had great possessions of great and small cattle above all that were in Je-rū'sa-lĕm before me:

8 I gathered me also silver and gold, and the peculiar treasure of kings and of the provinces: I gat me men singers and women singers, and the delights of the sons of men, as musical instruments, and that of all sorts.

9 So [d]I was great, and increased more than all that were before me in Je-rū'sa-lĕm: also my wisdom remained with me.

10 And whatsoever mine eyes desired I kept [5]not from them, I withheld not my heart from any joy; for my heart rejoiced in all my labour: and [e]this was my portion of all my labour.

Ref. Ecclesiastes. Chapter 1.

a. See v. 12.

b. Behold, thou hast made my days as an handbreadth; and mine age is as nothing before thee: verily every man at his best state is altogether vanity. Selah (5). Surely every man walketh in a vain show: surely they are disquieted in vain: he heapeth up riches, and knoweth not who shall gather them. (Ps. 39:5, 6.) Surely men of low degree are vanity, and men of high degree are a lie: to be laid in the balance, they are altogether lighter than vanity. (Ps. 62:9.) For the creature was made subject to vanity, not willingly, but by reason of him who hath subjected the same in hope. (Rom. 8:20.)

c. Then I looked on all the works that my hands had wrought, and on the labor that I had labored to do: and, behold, all was vanity and vexation of spirit, and there was no profit under the sun. (Ecc. 2:11.) What profit hath he that worketh in that wherein he laboreth? (Ecc. 3:9.) And this also is a sore evil, that in all points as he came, so shall he go: and what profit hath he that hath labored for the wind? (Ecc. 5:16.)

d. The wind bloweth where it listeth, and thou hearest the sound thereof, but canst not tell whence it cometh, and whither it goeth: so is every one that is born of the Spirit. (Jno. 3:8.)

e. Hell and destruction are never full; so the eyes of man are never satisfied. (Prov. 27:20.) There is one alone, and there is not a second; yea, he hath neither child nor brother: yet is there no end of all his labor; neither is his eye satisfied with riches; neither saith he, For whom do I labor, and bereave my soul of good? This is also vanity, yea, it is a sore travail. (Ecc. 4:8.)

f. Behold, I have done according to thy words: lo, I have given thee a wise and an understanding heart; so that there was none like thee before thee, neither after thee shall any arise like unto thee. (I Ks. 3:12.) And Solomon's wisdom excelled the wisdom of all the children of the east country, and all the wisdom of Egypt. (I Ks. 4:30.)

g. All this have I proved by wisdom: I said, I will be wise; but it was far from me. (Ecc. 7:23.) Prove all things; hold fast that which is good. (I Thess. 5:21.)

h. And further, by these, my son, be admonished: of making many books there is no end; and much study is a weariness of the flesh. (Ecc. 12:12.) Where is the wise? where is the scribe? where is the disputer of this world? hath not God made foolish the wisdom of this world? (I Cor. 1:20.)

Chapter 2.

a. And I will say to my soul, Soul, thou hast much goods laid up for many years; take thine ease, eat, drink, and be merry. (Luke 12:19.) The heart of the wise is in the house of mourning; but the heart of fools is in the house of mirth. (Ecc. 7:4.) Then I commended mirth, because a man hath no better thing under the sun, than to eat, and to drink, and to be merry: for that shall abide with him of his labor, the days of his life, which God giveth him under the sun. (Ecc. 8:15.)

b. Behold, all ye that kindle a fire, that compass yourselves about with sparks: walk in the light of your fire, and in the sparks that ye have kindled. This shall ye have of mine hand; ye shall lie down in sorrow. (Is. 50:11.)

c. A feast is made for laughter, and wine maketh merry; but money answereth all things. (Ecc. 10:19.) And wine that maketh glad the heart of man, and oil to make his face to shine, and bread which strengtheneth man's heart. (Ps. 104:15.)

d. And she said to the king, It was a true report that I heard in mine own land of thy acts and of thy wisdom (6). Howbeit I believed not the words, until I came, and mine eyes had seen it: and, behold, the half was not told me: thy wisdom and prosperity exceedeth the fame which I heard. (I Ks. 10:6, 7.)

e. Live joyfully with the wife whom thou lovest all the days of the life of thy vanity, which he hath given thee under the sun, all the 11 Then I looked on all the works that my hands had wrought, and on the labour that I had laboured to do: and, behold, all was [6]vanity and vexation of spirit, and there was no profit under the sun.

12 ¶ And I turned myself to behold wisdom, [f]and madness, and folly: for what can the man do that cometh after the king? even that which hath been already done.

13 Then I saw that wisdom excelleth folly, as far as light excelleth darkness.

14 The wise man's eyes are in his head; but the fool walketh in darkness: and I myself perceived also that [g]one [7]event happeneth to them all.

15 Then said I in my heart, As it happeneth to the fool, so it happeneth even to me; and why was I then more wise? Then I said in my heart, that this also is [8]vanity.

16 For there is no remembrance of the wise more than of the fool for ever; seeing that which now is in the days to come shall all be forgotten. And how dieth the wise man? as the fool.

17 Therefore I hated life; because the work that is wrought under the sun is grievous unto me: for all is [8]vanity and vexation of spirit.

18 ¶ Yea, I hated all my labour which I had taken under the sun: because I should leave it unto the man that shall be after me.

19 And who knoweth whether he shall be a wise man or a fool? yet shall he have rule over all my labour wherein I have laboured, and wherein I have shewed myself wise under the sun. This is also vanity.

20 Therefore I went about to cause my heart to despair of all the labour which I took under the sun.

21 For there is a man whose labour is in wisdom, and in knowledge, and in equity; yet to a man that hath not laboured therein shall he leave it for his portion. This also is [8]vanity and a great evil.

22 For what hath man of all his labour, and of the vexation of his heart, wherein he hath laboured under the sun?

23 For all his days are [h]sorrows, and his travail grief; yea, his heart taketh not rest in the night. This is also vanity.

24 ¶ There is nothing [9]better for a man, than that he should eat and drink, and that he should make his soul enjoy good in his labour. This also I saw, that it was from the hand of God.

25 For who can eat, or who else can hasten hereunto, more than I?

6. Unsatisfactory.

7. That is, death.

8. Unsatisfying, delusive, unreal.

9. The Hebrew has it, it is not good for a man that he should eat and drink to the satisfaction of his soul.

10. The advantage of obedience, the end of vanity and the source of all true, satisfying happiness.

Ch. 3. B. C. 977.

1. A fixed time for the animal and vegetable kingdoms, for inanimate nature.

2. A law governing the period of gestation, independent of us.

3. Rejoice.

26 For God giveth [10]to a man that is good in his sight wisdom, and knowledge, and joy: but to the sinner he giveth travail, to gather and to heap up, that he may give to him that is good before God. This also is vanity and vexation of spirit.

CHAPTER 3.

1 By the necessary change of times, vanity is added to human travail. 11 There is an excellency in God's works. 16 As for man, God shall judge his works.

1 To every thing there is a [1]season, and a [a]time to every purpose under the heaven:

2 [b]A time to [2]be born, and a time to die; a time to plant, and a time to pluck up that which is planted;

3 A [c]time to kill, and a time to heal; a time to break down, and a time to build up;

4 A time to weep, and a time to laugh; a time to mourn, and a time to [3]dance;

5 A time to cast away stones, and a time to gather stones together; a time to embrace, and a time to refrain from embracing;

6 A time to get, and a time to lose; a time to keep, and a time to cast away;

7 A time to rend, and a time to sew; a time to keep silence, and a time to speak;

8 A time to love, and a time [d]to hate; a time of war, and a time of peace.

9 What [e]profit hath he that worketh in that wherein he laboureth?

10 I have seen the travail, which God hath given to the sons of men to be exercised in it.

11 He hath made every thing beautiful in his time: also he hath set the world in their heart, so that [f]no man can find out the work that God maketh from the beginning to the end.

12 I know that there is no good in them, but for a man to rejoice, and to do good in his life.

13 And also that every man should eat and drink, and enjoy the good of all his labour, it is the gift of God.

14 I know that, whatsoever God doeth, it shall be for ever: [g]nothing can be put to it, nor any thing taken from it: and God doeth it, that men should fear before him.

15 That which hath been is now; and that which is to be hath already been; and God requireth that which is past.

16 ¶ And moreover [h]I saw under the sun the place of judgment, that wickedness was there; and the place of righteousness, that iniquity was there.

17 I said in mine heart, [i]God shall judge days of thy vanity: for that is thy portion in this life, and in thy labor which thou takest under the sun. (Ecc. 9:9.) Rejoice, O young man, in thy youth; and let thy heart cheer thee in the days of thy youth, and walk in the ways of thine heart, and in the sight of thine eyes: but know thou, that for all these things God will bring thee into judgment. (Ecc. 11:9.) Charge them that are rich in this world, that they be not high-minded, nor trust in uncertain riches, but in the living God, who giveth us richly all things to enjoy. (I Tim. 6:17.)

f. I applied mine heart to know, and to search, and to seek out wisdom, and the reason of things, and to know the wickedness of folly, even of foolishness and madness (25). And I find more bitter than death the woman, whose heart is snares and nets, and her hands as bands: whoso pleaseth God shall escape from her; but the sinner shall be taken by her. (Ecc. 7:25, 26.) See ch. 1:17.

h. Yet man is born unto trouble, as the sparks fly upward. (Job 5:7.) Man that is born of a woman is of few days, and full of trouble (1). He cometh forth like a flower, and is cut down: he fleeth also as a shadow, and continueth not. (Job 14:1, 2.)

Chapter 3.

a. Because to every purpose there is time and judgment, therefore the misery of man is great upon him. (Ecc. 8:6.)

b. And as it is appointed unto men once to die, but after this the judgment (27): So Christ was once offered to bear the sins of many; and unto them that look for him shall he appear the second time without sin unto salvation. (Heb. 9:27, 28.) Seeing his days are determined, the number of his months are with thee, thou hast appointed his bounds that he cannot pass. (Job 14:5.)

c. Whoso sheddeth man's blood, by man shall his blood be shed: for in the image of God made he man. (Gen. 9:6.)

d. If any man come to me, and hate not his father, and mother, and wife, and children, and brethren, and sisters, yea, and his own life also, he cannot be my disciple. (Luke 14:26.) A righteous man hateth lying: but a wicked man is loathsome, and cometh to shame. (Prov. 13:5.) I will set no wicked thing before mine eyes: I hate the work of them that turn aside; it shall not cleave to me. (Ps. 101:3.)

e. And this also is a sore evil, that in all points as he came, so shall he go: and what profit hath he that hath labored for the wind? (Ecc. 5:16.) See ch. 2:11. See ch. 1:3.

f. Then I beheld all the work of God, that a man cannot find out the work that is done under the sun: because though a man labor to seek it out, yet he shall not find it: yea, farther; though a wise man think to know it, yet shall he not be able to find it. (Ecc. 8:17.) O the depth of the riches both of the wisdom and knowledge of God! how unsearchable are his judgments, and his ways past finding out! (Rom. 11:33.)

g. Every good gift and every perfect gift is from above, and cometh down from the Father of lights, with whom is no variableness, neither shadow of turning. (Js. 1:17.)

h. If thou seest the oppression of the poor, and violent perverting of judgment and justice in a province, marvel not at the matter: for he that is higher than the highest regardeth; and there be higher than they. (Ecc. 5:8.)

i. For the work of a man shall he render unto him, and cause every man to find according to his ways. (Job 34:11.) Also unto thee, O Lord, belongeth mercy: for thou renderest to every man according to his work. (Ps. 62:12.) I the Lord search the heart, I try the reins, even to give every man according to his ways, and according to the fruit of his doings. (Jer. 17:10.) For the son of man shall come in the glory of his Father with his angels; and then he shall reward every man according to his works. (Mat. 16:27.) Who will render to every man according to his deeds. (Rom. 2:6.) For we must all appear before the judgment seat of Christ; that every one may receive the things done in his the righteous and the wicked: for there is a time there for every purpose and for every work.

18 I said in mine heart concerning the estate of the sons of men, that God might manifest them, and that they might see that they themselves are beasts.

19 For that which befalleth the sons of men befalleth beasts; even one thing befalleth them: as the one dieth, so dieth the other; yea, they have all one breath; so that a man hath no preeminence above a beast: for all is vanity.

20 All go unto one place; [j]all are of the dust, and all turn to dust again.

21 Who knoweth the spirit of man that [k]goeth upward, and the spirit of the beast that goeth downward to the earth?

22 Wherefore I perceive that there is nothing better, than that a man should rejoice in his own works; for that is his portion: for who [l]shall bring him to see what shall be after him?

CHAPTER 4.

1 Vanity is increased unto men by oppression, 4 by envy, 5 by idleness, 7 by covetousness, 9 by solitariness, 13 by wilfulness.

1 [1]So I returned, and considered all the oppressions that are done under the [2]sun: and behold the tears of such as were oppressed, and they had no comforter; and on the side of their oppressors there was power; but they had no comforter.

2 Wherefore [a]I praised the dead which are already dead more than the living which are yet alive.

3 Yea, better is he than both they, which hath not yet been, who hath not seen the evil work that is done under the sun.

4 ¶ Again, I considered all travail, and every right work, that for this a man is envied of his neighbour. This is also vanity and [3]vexation of spirit.

5 The [b]fool foldeth his hands together, and eateth his own flesh.

6 Better is an handful with quietness, than both the hands full with travail and vexation of spirit.

7 ¶ Then I returned, and I saw [3]vanity under the sun.

8 There is one alone, and there is not a second; yea, he hath neither child nor brother: yet is there no end of all his labour; neither is his eye [c]satisfied with riches; neither saith he, For whom do I labour, and bereave my soul of good? This is also [3]vanity, yea, it is a sore travail.

9 ¶ Two are better than one; because they have a good reward for their labour.

10 For if they fall, the one will lift up his fellow: but woe to him that is alone when he falleth; for he hath not another to help him up.

11 Again, if two lie together, then they heat: but how can one be warm alone?

12 And if one prevail against him, two shall withstand him; and a threefold cord is not quickly broken.

13 ¶ Better is a poor and a wise child than an old and foolish king, who will no more be admonished.

14 For out of prison he cometh to reign; whereas also he that is born in his kingdom becometh poor.

15 I considered all the living which walk under the [2]sun, with the [4]second child that shall stand up in his stead.

16 There is no end of all the people, even of all that have been before them: they also that come after shall not rejoice in him. Surely this also is [3]vanity and vexation of spirit.

CHAPTER 5.

1 Vanities in divine service, 8 in murmuring against oppression, 9 and in riches. 18 Joy in riches is the gift of God.

1 [1]Keep [a]thy [2]foot when thou goest to the house of God, and be more ready to hear, than [b]to give the sacrifice of fools: for they consider not that they do evil.

2 Be not rash [3]with thy mouth, and let not thine heart be hasty to utter any thing before God: for God is in heaven, and thou upon earth: therefore let [c]thy words be few.

3 For a dream cometh through the multitude of business; and a fool's voice is known by multitude of words.

4 When [d]thou vowest a vow unto God, defer not to [d]pay it; for he hath no pleasure in fools: pay that which thou hast vowed.

5 Better [e]is it that thou shouldest not vow, than that thou shouldest vow and not pay.

6 Suffer not thy mouth to cause thy flesh to sin; [f]neither say thou before the angel, that it was an error: wherefore should God be angry at thy voice, and destroy the work of thine hands?

7 For in the multitude of dreams and many words there are also divers vanities: but [g]fear thou God.

8 ¶ If thou seest the oppression of the poor,

Ch. 5. B. C. 977.

body, according to that he hath done, whether it be good or bad. (II Cor. 5:10.)

j. In the sweat of thy face shalt thou eat bread, till thou return unto the ground; for out of it wast thou taken; for dust thou art, and unto dust shall thou return. (Gen. 3:19.)

k. Then shalt the dust return to the earth as it was: and the spirit shall return unto God who gave it. (Ecc. 12:7.) And as it is appointed unto me once to die, but after this judgment (27). So Christ was once offered to bear the sins of many; and unto them that look for him shall he appear the second time without sin unto salvation. (Heb. 9:27, 28.) And I saw the dead, small and great, stand before God; and the books were opened: and another book was opened, which is the book of life: and the dead were judged out of those things which were written in the books, according to their works. (Rev. 20:12.)

l. His sons came to honor, and he knoweth it not; and they are brought low, but he perceiveth it not of them. (Job 14:21.) Take therefore no thought for the morrow: for the morrow shall take thought for the things of itself. Sufficient unto the day is the evil thereof. (Mat. 6:64.)

Chapter 4.

a. There the wicked cease from troubling; and there the weary be at rest. (Job 3:17.) Therefore I hated life; because the work that is wrought under the sun is grievous unto me: for all is vanity and vexation of spirit. (Ecc. 2:17.)

b. Yet a little sleep, a little slumber, a little folding of the hands to sleep (10). So shall thy poverty come as one that traveleth, and thy want as an armed man. (Prov. 6:10, 11.)

c. Hell and destruction are never full; so the eyes of man are never satisfied. (Prov. 27:20.) For all that is in the world, the lust of the flesh, and the lust of the eyes, and the pride of life, is not of the Father, but is of the world. (I Jno. 2:16.)

Chapter 5.

a. And he said, Draw not nigh hither: put off thy shoes from off thy feet, for the place whereon thou standest is holy ground. (Ex. 3:5.) God is greatly to be feared in the assembly of the saints, and to be had in reverence of all them that are about him. (Ps. 89:7.) Thy testimonies are very sure: holiness becometh thine house, O Lord, for ever. (Ps. 93:5.)

b. The sacrifice of the wicked is an abomination to the Lord: but the prayer of the upright is his delight. (Pr. 15:8.) For I desired mercy, and not sacrifice; and the knowledge of God more than burnt offerings. (Hos. 6:6.)

c. In a multitude of words there wanteth not sin: but he that refraineth his lips is wise. (Prov. 10:19.) But when ye pray, use not vain repetitions, as the heathen do: for they think that they shall be heard for their much speaking. (Mat. 6:7.)

d. If a man vow a vow unto the Lord, or swear an oath to bind his soul with a bond; he shall not break his word; he shall do according to all that proceedeth out of his mouth. (Num. 30:2.) I will go into thy house with burnt offerings: I will pay thee my vows. (Ps. 66:13.) Offer unto God thanksgiving; and pay thy vows unto the Most High. (Ps. 50:14.) Vow, and pay unto the Lord your God: let all that be round about him bring presents unto him that ought to be feared. (Ps. 76:11.)

e. Whiles it remained, was it not thine own? and after it was sold, was it not in thine own power? why hast thou conceived this thing in thine heart? thou hast not lied unto men, but unto God. (Acts 5:4.) It is a snare to the man who devoureth that which is holy, and after vows to make enquiry. (Prov. 20:25.)

f. For this cause ought the woman to have power on her head because of the angels. (I Cor. 11:10.) I charge thee before God, and the Lord Jesus Christ, and the elect angels, that thou observe these things without preferring one before another, doing nothing by partiality. (I Tim. 5:21.)

g. Let not thine heart envy sinners: but be thou in the fear of the Lord all the day long. (Prov. 23:17.) Wherefore we receiving a kingdom which cannot be moved, let us have grace, whereby we may serve God acceptably with reverence and godly fear (28). For our God is a consuming fire. (Heb. 12:28, 29.)

and violent perverting of judgment and justice in a province, marvel not at the matter: for [h]he that is higher than the highest regardeth; and there be higher than they.

9 ¶ Moreover the profit of the earth is for all: the king himself is served by the field.

10 He that loveth silver shall not be satisfied [4]with silver; nor he that loveth abundance with increase: this is also [5]vanity.

11 When goods increase, they are increased that eat them: and what good is there to the owners thereof, saving the beholding of them with their eyes?

12 The sleep of a labouring man is sweet, whether he eat little or much: but the abundance of the rich will not suffer him to sleep.

13 There is a sore evil which I have seen under the sun, namely, riches kept for the owners thereof to their hurt.

14 But those riches perish by evil travail: and he begetteth a son, and there is nothing in his hand.

15 As [i]he came forth of his mother's womb, naked shall he return to go as he came, and shall take nothing of his labour, which he may carry away in his hand.

16 And this also is a sore evil, that in all points as he came, so shall he go: and what profit hath he that hath laboured for the wind?

17 All his days also he eateth in darkness, and he hath much sorrow and wrath with his sickness.

18 ¶ Behold that which I have seen: [j]it is good and comely for one to eat and to drink, and to enjoy the good of all his labour that he taketh under the sun all the days of his life, which God giveth him: for it is his portion.

19 Every man also to whom God hath given riches and wealth, and hath given him power to eat thereof, and to take his portion, and to rejoice in his labour; this is the gift of God.

20 For he shall not much remember the days of his life; because God [k]answereth him in the joy of his heart.

CHAPTER 6.

1 The vanity of riches without use. 3 Of children, 6 and old age without riches. 11 The conclusion of vanities.

1 There is an evil which I have seen under the sun, and it is common [1]among men:

2 A man to whom God hath [a]given riches, wealth, and honour, so that he wanteth nothing for his soul of all that he desireth, yet God [b]giveth him not power to eat thereof, but a stranger eateth it: this is [2]vanity, and it is an evil disease.

4. Shall not be satisfied with the love of money.

5. Unsatisfactory.

1. The making of riches the chief aim.

2. Unsatisfactory, delusive.

3. The author now turns to the consideration of the value of common sense in human affairs.

Ch. 7. B. C. 977.

1. In this ch. the author discusses the value of prudence and discretion in all things.

2. That is, he who has achieved a good name, the day of his death is the day of his victory.

3. A fig. expression, meaning the cultivation of sympathy.

4. Sober reflections.

5. Reckless mirth.

6. Unsatisfactory.

3 ¶ If a man beget an hundred children, and live many years, so that the days of his years be many, and his soul be not filled with good, and [c]also that he have no burial; I say, that an untimely birth is better than he.

4 For he cometh in with vanity, and departeth in darkness, and his name shall be covered with darkness.

5 Moreover he hath not seen the sun, nor known any thing: this hath more rest than the other.

6 ¶ Yea, though he live a thousand years twice told, yet hath he seen no good: do not all go to one place?

7 All [d]the labour of man is for his mouth, and yet the appetite is not filled.

8 For what hath the wise more than the fool? what hath the poor, that knoweth to walk before the living?

9 ¶ [3]Better is the sight of the eyes than the wandering of the desire: this is also vanity and vexation of spirit.

10 That which hath been is named already, and it is known that it is man: neither [e]may he contend with him that is mightier than he.

11 ¶ Seeing there be many things that increase vanity, what is man the better?

12 For who knoweth what is good for man in this life, all the days of his vain life which he spendeth as [f]a shadow? for who can tell a man what shall be after him under the sun?

CHAPTER 7.

1 Remedies against vanity are, a good name, 2 mortification, 7 patience, 11 wisdom. 23 The difficulty of wisdom.

1 [1]A good [a]name is better than precious ointment; and [b]the day of [2]death than the day of one's birth.

3 [4]Sorrow is better than [5]laughter: for [d]by the sadness of the countenance the heart is made better.

4 The heart of the wise is in the house of mourning; but the heart of fools is in the house of mirth.

5 It is better to hear the rebuke of the wise, than for a man to hear the song of fools.

6 For as the crackling of thorns under a pot, so is the laughter of the fool: this also is [e]vanity.

7 ¶ Surely oppression maketh a wise man mad; [e]and a gift destroyeth the heart.

8 Better is the end of a thing than the beginning thereof: and the patient in spirit is better than the proud in spirit.

h. So that a man shall say, Verily there is a reward for the righteous: verily he is a God that judgeth in the earth. (Ps. 58:11.) God standeth in the congregation of the mighty; he judgeth among the gods. (Ps. 82:1.)

i. And said, Naked came I out of my mother's womb, and naked shall I return thither: the Lord gave, and the Lord hath taken away; blessed be the name of the Lord. (Job 1:21.) For we brought nothing into this world, and it is certain we can carry nothing out. (I Tim. 6:7.)

j. Charge them that are rich in this world, that they be not high-minded, nor trust in uncertain riches, but in the living God, who giveth us richly all things to enjoy. (I Tim. 6:17.)

k. And ye shall serve the Lord your God, and he shall bless thy bread, and thy water; and I will take sickness away from the midst of thee. (Ex. 23:25.)

Chapter 6.

a. And I have also given thee that which thou hast not asked, both riches, and honour: so that there shall not be any among the kings like unto thee all thy days. (I Ki. 3:13.)

b. But God said unto him, Thou fool, this night thy soul shall be required of thee: then whose shall those things be, which thou hast provided? (Luke 12:20.)

c. And they went to bury her: but they found no more of her than the skull, and the feet, and the palms of her hands. (II Ki. 9:35.) He shall be buried with the burial of an ass, drawn and cast forth beyond the gates of Jerusalem. (Jer. 22:19.)

d. He that laboureth, laboureth for himself; for his mouth craveth it of him. (Prov. 16:26.) But godliness with contentment is great gain (6). For we brought nothing into this world, and it is certain we can carry nothing out (7). And having food and raiment let us be therewith content. (I Tim. 6:6-8.)

e. For he is not a man, as I am, that I should answer him, and we should come together in judgment. (Job 9:32.) Woe unto him that striveth with his Maker! Let the potsherd strive with the potsherds of the earth. Shall the clay say to him that fashioneth it, What makest thou? or thy work, He hath no hands? (Is. 45:9.)

f. My days are like a shadow that declineth; and I am withered like grass. (Ps. 102:11.) I am gone like the shadow when it declineth: I am tossed up and down as the locust. (Ps. 109:23.) Lord, what is man, that thou takest knowledge of him! or the son of man, that thou makest account of him! (3). Man is like to vanity: his days are as a shadow that passeth away. (Ps. 144:3, 4.) Whereas ye know not what shall be on the morrow. For what is your life? It is even a vapor, that appeareth for a little time, and then vanisheth away. (Ja. 4:14.)

a. A good name is rather to be chosen than great riches, and loving favor rather than silver and gold. (Prov. 22:1.)

b. For I am in a strait betwixt two, having a desire to depart, and to be with Christ; which is far better. (Phil. 1:23.) And I heard a voice from heaven saying unto me, Write, Blessed are the dead which die in the Lord from henceforth: Yea, saith the Spirit, that they may rest from their labors; and their works do follow them. (Rev. 14:13.)

c. Blessed are they that mourn: for they shall be comforted. (Mat. 5:4.)

d. For godly sorrow worketh repentance to salvation not to be repented of: but the sorrow of the world worketh death. (II Cor. 7:10.) And ye have forgotten the exhortation which speaketh unto you as unto children, My son, despise not thou the chastening of the Lord, nor faint when thou art rebuked of him (5). For whom the Lord loveth he chasteneth, and scourgeth every son whom he receiveth (6). Now no chastening for the present seemeth to be joyous, but grievous, nevertheless afterward it yieldeth the peaceable fruit of righteousness unto them which are exercised thereby. (Heb. 12:5, 6, 11.)

e. And thou shalt take no gift: for the gift blindeth the wise, and perverteth the words of the righteous. (Ex. 23:8.) Thou shalt not wrest

9 Be [f]not hasty in thy spirit to be angry: for anger resteth in the bosom of fools.

10 Say not thou, What is the cause that the former days were better than these? for thou dost not enquire wisely concerning this.

11 ¶ Wisdom is good with an inheritance: and by it there is profit to them that see the sun.

12 For wisdom is a defence, and money is a defence; but the excellency of knowledge is, that wisdom giveth life to them that have it.

13 Consider the work of God: for [g]who can make that straight, which he hath made crooked?

14 In the day of prosperity be joyful, but in the day of adversity consider: God also hath set the one over against the other, to the end that man should find nothing after him.

15 All things have I seen in the days of my vanity: there is a just man that perisheth in his righteousness, and there is a wicked man that prolongeth his life in his wickedness.

16 [h]Be not righteous over much; neither make thyself over wise: why shouldest thou destroy thyself?

17 Be not over much wicked, neither be thou foolish: [i]why shouldest thou die before thy time?

18 It is good that thou shouldest take hold of this; yea, also from this withdraw not thine hand: for he that feareth God shall come forth of them all.

19 Wisdom strengtheneth the wise more than ten mighty men which are in the city.

20 [j]For there is not a just man upon earth, that doeth good, and sinneth not.

21 [7]Also take no heed unto all words that are spoken; lest thou hear thy servant [8]curse thee:

22 For oftentimes also thine own heart knoweth that thou thyself likewise hast cursed others.

23 ¶ All this have I proved by wisdom: I said, I will be wise; but it was far from me.

24 That which is far off, and exceeding deep, who can find it out?

25 I applied mine heart to know, and to search, and to seek out wisdom, and the reason of things, and to know the wickedness of folly, even of foolishness and madness:

26 And I find more bitter than death the woman, whose heart is snares and nets, and her hands as bands: [k]whoso pleaseth God shall escape from her; but the sinner shall be taken by her.

27 Behold, this have I found, saith the preacher, counting one by one, to find out the account:

28 Which yet my soul seeketh, but I find not: one man among a thousand have I found; but a woman among all those have I not found.

29 Lo, this only have I found, that God [l]hath made man upright; but they have sought out many inventions.

CHAPTER 8.

1 Kings are greatly to be respected. 12 It is better with the godly in adversity, than with the wicked in prosperity.

1 [1]Who is as the wise man? and who knoweth the interpretation of a thing? a man's wisdom maketh his face to shine, and the boldness of his face shall be changed.

2 I counsel thee to keep the king's commandment, [a]and that in regard of the oath of God.

3 Be not hasty to go out of his sight: stand not in an evil thing; for he doeth whatsoever pleaseth him.

4 Where the word of a king is, there is power: and who may say unto him, What doest thou?

5 Whoso keepeth the commandment shall feel no evil thing: and a wise man's heart discerneth both time and judgment.

6 ¶ Because to every purpose there is time and judgment, [2]therefore the misery of man is great upon him.

7 For he knoweth not that which shall be: for who can tell him when it shall be?

8 [b]There is no man that hath power over the spirit to retain the spirit; neither hath he power in the day of death: and there is no discharge in that war; neither shall wickedness deliver those that are given to it.

9 All this have I seen, and applied my heart unto every work that is done under the sun: there is a time wherein one man ruleth over another to his own hurt.

10 And so I saw the wicked buried, who had come and gone from the place of the holy, and they were forgotten in the city where they had so done: this is also vanity.

11 Because [c]sentence against an evil work is not executed speedily, therefore the heart of the sons of men is fully set in them to do evil.

12 ¶ [3]Though a [d]sinner do evil an hundred times, and his days be prolonged, yet surely I know that [e]it shall be well with them that fear God, which fear before him:

13 But it shall not be well with the wicked, neither shall he prolong his days, which are judgment; thou shalt not respect persons, neither take a gift: for a gift doth blind the eyes of the wise, and pervert the words of the righteous. (Dt. 16:19.)

f. He that is slow to anger is better than the mighty; and he that ruleth his spirit than he that taketh a city. (Prov. 16:32.) Wherefore, my beloved brethren, let every man be swift to hear, slow to speak, slow to wrath. (Ja. 1:19.)

g. For the Lord of hosts hath purposed, and who shall disannul it? and his hand is stretched out, and who shall turn it back? (Is. 14:27.)

h. Concerning zeal, persecuting the church, touching the righteousness which is in the law, blameless. (Phil. 3:6.) For I say, through the grace given unto me, to every man that is among you, not to think of himself more highly than he ought to think, but to think soberly, according as God hath dealt to every man the measure of faith. (Rom. 12:3.)

i. It shall be accomplished before his time, and his branch shall not be green. (Job 15:32.) But thou, O God, shalt bring them down into the pit of destruction: bloody and deceitful men shall not live out half their days; but I will trust in thee. (Ps. 55:23.)

j. Who can say, I have made my heart clean, I am pure from my sin? (Prov. 20:9.) For all have sinned, and come short of the glory of God. (Rom. 3:23.) If we say that we have no sin, we deceive ourselves, and the truth is not in us. (I Jno. 1:8.)

k. And it came to pass after these things, that his master's wife cast her eyes upon Joseph; and she said, Lie with me (7). But he refused, and said unto his master's wife, Behold, my master wotteth not what is with me in the house, and he hath committed all that he hath to my hand (8). There is none greater in the house than I; neither hath he kept back any thing from me but thee, because thou art his wife: how then can I do this great wickedness, and sin against God? (Gen. 39:7-9.)

l. So God created man in his own image, in the image of God created he him; male and female created he them. (Gen. 1:27.)

Chapter 8.

a. Wherefore ye must needs be subject, not only for wrath, but also for conscience' sake. (Rom. 13:5.) Put them in mind to be subject to principalities and powers, to obey magistrates, to be ready to every good work. (Tit. 3:1.)

b. They that trust in their wealth, and boast themselves in the multitude of their riches (6). None of them can by any means redeem his brother, nor give to God a ransom for him. (Ps. 49:6, 7.) Seeing his days are determined, the number of his months are with thee, thou hast appointed his bounds that he cannot pass. (Job 14:5.)

c. He hath said in his heart, I shall not be moved: for I shall never be in adversity. (Ps. 10:6.) These things hast thou done, and I kept silence; thou thoughtest that I was altogether such an one as thyself: but I will reprove thee, and set them in order before thine eyes. (Ps. 50:21.) Let favor be shown to the wicked, yet will he not learn righteousness: in the land of uprightness will he deal unjustly, and will not behold the majesty of the Lord. (Is. 26:10.)

d. There shall be no more thence an infant of days, nor an old man that hath not filled his days: for the child shall die an hundred years old: but the sinner being an hundred years old, shall be accursed. (Is. 65:20.) But after thy hardness and impenitent heart treasurest up unto thyself wrath against the day of wrath and revelation of the righteous judgment of God. (Rom. 2:5.)

e. But the meek shall inherit the earth; and shall delight themselves in the abundance of peace. (Ps. 37:11.) Then shall the King say unto them on his right hand, Come, ye blessed of my Father, inherit the kingdom prepared for you from the foundation of the world. (Mat. 25:34.) Thou shalt keep therefore his statutes, and his commandments which I command thee this day, that it may go well with thee, and with thy children after thee, and that thou mayest prolong thy days upon the earth, which the Lord thy God giveth thee, for ever. (Dt. 4:40.) But whoso hearkeneth unto me shall dwell safely, and shall be quiet from fear of evil. (Prov. 1:33.) Say ye to the righteous, that it shall be well with him: for they shall eat the fruit of their doings. (Is. 3:10.)

as a shadow; because he feareth [f]not before God.

14 There is a vanity which is done upon the earth; that there be just men, unto whom it [g]happeneth according to the work of the wicked; again, there be wicked men, to whom it happeneth according to the work of the righteous: I said that this also is vanity.

15 Then I commended mirth, because a man hath no better thing under the sun, than to eat, and to drink, and to be merry: for that shall abide with him of his labour the days of his life, which God giveth him under the sun.

16 ¶ When I applied mine heart to know wisdom, and to see the business that is done upon the earth: (for also there is that neither day nor night seeth sleep with his eyes:)

17 Then I beheld all the work of God, that [h]a man cannot find out the work that is done under the sun: because though a man labour to seek it out, yet he shall not find it; yea farther; though a wise man think to know it, yet shall he not be able to find it.

CHAPTER 9.

1 Like things happen to good and bad. 4 There is a necessity of death unto men. 11 God's providence ruleth over all. 13 Wisdom is better than strength.

1 [1]For all [2]this I considered in my heart even to [3]declare all this, that the [a]righteous, and the wise, and their works, are in the hand of God: no man knoweth either love or hatred by all that is before them.

2 [b]All things come alike to all: there is one [4]event to the righteous, and to the wicked; to the good and to the clean, and to the unclean; to him that sacrificeth, and to him that sacrificeth not: as is the good, so is the sinner; and he that sweareth, as he that feareth, an oath.

3 This is an evil among all things that are done under the sun, that there is one [4]event unto all: yea, also the heart of the sons of men is full of evil, and madness is in their heart while they live, and after that they go to the dead.

4 ¶ For to him that is joined to all the living there is hope: for a living dog is better than a dead lion.

5 For the living know that they shall die: but [c]the dead know not any thing, neither have they any more a reward; for [d]the memory of them is forgotten.

Ch. 9. B. C. 977.

3. To prove.

4. That is, death.

Ch. 10. B. C. 977.

1. In ch. 10, the author discusssos and illustrates the relations existing between folly and wisdom.

6 Also their love, and their hatred, and their envy, is now perished; neither have they any more a portion for ever in any thing that is done under the sun.

7 ¶ Go thy way, [e]eat thy bread with joy, and drink thy wine with a merry heart; for God now accepteth thy works.

8 Let thy garments be always white; and let thy head lack no ointment.

9 Live joyfully with the wife whom thou lovest all the days of the life of thy vanity, which he hath given thee under the sun, all the days of thy vanity: [f]for that is thy portion in this life, and in thy labour which thou takest under the sun.

10 Whatsoever thy hand findeth to do, do it with thy might; for there is no work, nor device, nor knowledge, nor wisdom, in the grave, whither thou goest.

11 ¶ I returned, and saw under the sun, that the race is not to the swift, nor the battle to the strong, neither yet bread to the wise, nor yet riches to men of understanding, nor yet favour to men of skill; but time and chance happeneth to them all.

12 For [g]man also knoweth not his time: as the fishes that are taken in an evil net, and as the birds that are caught in the snare; so are the sons of men [h]snared in an evil time, when it falleth suddenly upon them.

13 ¶ This wisdom have I seen also under the sun, and it seemed great unto me:

14 There was a little city, and few men within it; and there came a great king against it, and besieged it, and built great bulwarks against it:

15 Now there was found in it a poor wise man, and he by his wisdom delivered the city; yet no man remembered that same poor man.

16 Then [i]said I, Wisdom is better than strength: nevertheless [j]the poor man's wisdom is despised, and his words are not heard.

17 The [k]words of wise men are heard in quiet more than the cry of him that ruleth among fools.

18 Wisdom is better than weapons of war: but [l]one sinner destroyeth much good.

CHAPTER 10.

f. See o, ch. 1, Prov.

g. For all the day long have I been plagued, and chastened every morning. (Ps. 73:14.) The wise man's eyes are in his head; but the fool walketh in darkness; and I myself perceived also that one event happeneth to them all. (Ecc. 2:14.)

h. Which doeth great things and unsearchable; marvellous things without number. (Job 5:9.)

Chapter 9.

a. Lord, thou wilt ordain peace for us: for thou also hast wrought all our works in us. (Is. 26:12.) Not that we are sufficient of ourselves to think any thing as of ourselves; but our sufficiency is of God. (II Cor. 3:5.)

b. Wherefore do the wicked live, become old, yea, are mighty in power? (Job 21:7.) And now we call the proud happy; yea, they that work wickedness are set up; yea, they that tempt God are even delivered. (Mal. 3:15.)

c. He sees come to honor, and he knoweth it not; and they are brought low, but he perceiveth it not of them. (Job 14:21.) Doubtless thou art our father, though Abraham be ignorant of us, and Israel acknowledge us not: thou, O Lord, art our father, our redeemer: thy name is from everlasting. (Is. 63:16.)

I. The eye of him that hath seen me shall see me no more: thine eyes are upon me, and I am not. (Job 7:8.) They are dead, they shall not live, they are deceased, they shall not rise: therefore hast thou visited and destroyed them, and made all their memory to perish. (Is. 26:14.)

e. Then I commended mirth, because a man hath no better thing under the sun, than to eat, and to drink, and to be merry: for that shall abide with him of his labor the days of his life, which God giveth him under the sun. (Ecc. 8:15.)

f. And also that every man should eat and drink, and enjoy the good of all his labor, it is the gift of God. (Ecc. 3:13.) Behold that which I have seen: it is good and comely for one to eat and to drink, and to enjoy the good of all his labor that he taketh under the sun all the days of his life, which God giveth him; for it is his portion. (Ecc. 5:18.)

g. Because to every purpose there is time and judgment, therefore the misery of man is great upon him (6). For he knoweth not that which shall be: for who can tell him when it shall be? (Ecc. 8:6, 7.) Watch therefore: for ye know not what hour your Lord doth come (42). But know this, that if the good man of the house had known in what watch the thief would come, he would have watched, and would not have suffered his house to be broken up (43). Therefore be ye also ready: for in such an hour as ye think not the Son of man cometh. (Mat. 24:42-44.) But of the times and the seasons, brethren, ye have no need that I write unto you (1). For yourselves know perfectly that the day of the Lord so cometh as a thief in the night. (I Thess. 5:1, 2.)

h. In the transgression of an evil man there is a snare: but the righteous doth sing and rejoice. (Prov. 29:6.) But God said unto him, Thou fool, this night thy soul shall be required of thee; then whose shall those things be, which thou hast provided? (Luke 12:20.) For when they shall say, Peace and safety; then sudden destruction cometh upon them, as travail upon a woman with child; and they shall not escape. (I Thess. 5:3.)

i. A wise man scaleth the city of the mighty, and casteth down the strength of the confidence thereof. (Prov. 21:22.) A wise man is strong; yea, a man of knowledge increaseth strength. (Prov. 24:5.) For wisdom is a defence, and money is a defence: but the excellency of knowledge is, that wisdom giveth life to them that have it (12). Wisdom strengtheneth the wise more than ten mighty men which are in the city. (Ecc. 7:12, 19.)

j. And when the sabbath day was come, he began to teach in the synagogue: and many hearing him were astonished, saying, From whence hath this man these things? and what wisdom is that which is given unto him, that even such mighty works are wrought by his hands? (Mk. 6:2.)

k. My Father, which gave them me, is greater than all; and no man is able to pluck them out of my Father's hand. (Jno. 10:29.)

l. But the children of Israel committed a trespass in the accursed thing: for Achan, the son of Carmi, the son Zabdi, the son of Zerah, of the tribe of Judah, took of the accursed thing: and the anger of the Lord was kindled against the children of Israel. (Josh. 7:1.)

so doth a little folly him that is in reputation for wisdom and honour.

2 A wise [a]man's heart is at his right hand; but a fool's heart at his left.

3 Yea also, when he that is a fool walketh by the way, his wisdom faileth him, [b]and he saith to every one that he is a fool.

4 If the spirit of the ruler rise up against thee, leave not thy place; for [c]yielding pacifieth great offences.

5 There is an evil which I have seen under the sun, as an error which proceedeth from the ruler:

6 [2]Folly is set in great dignity, and the [3]rich sit in low place.

7 I have seen servants upon horses, and princes walking as servants upon the earth.

8 He that diggeth a pit shall fall into it; and whoso breaketh an hedge, a serpent shall bite him.

9 Whoso removeth stones shall be hurt therewith; and he that cleaveth wood shall be endangered thereby.

10 If the iron be blunt, and he do not whet the edge, then must he put to more strength: but wisdom is profitable to direct.

11 Surely the serpent will [d]bite without enchantment; and a babbler is no better.

12 The words of a wise man's mouth are gracious; but the lips of a fool will swallow up himself.

13 The beginning of the words of his mouth is foolishness: and the end of his talk is mischievous madness.

14 A fool also is full of words: a man cannot tell what shall be; and what shall be [e]after him, who can tell him?

15 The labour of the foolish wearieth every one of them, because he knoweth not how to go to the city.

16 ¶ Woe to thee, O land, when thy king is a [4]child, and thy princes eat in the morning!

17 Blessed art thou, O land, when thy king is the son of nobles, and thy princes eat in due season, for strength, and not for drunkenness!

18 ¶ By much slothfulness the building decayeth; and through idleness of the hands the house droppeth through.

19 ¶ A feast is made for laughter, and wine maketh merry: but money answereth all things.

20 ¶ Curse not the king, no not in thy thought; and curse not the rich in thy bedchamber: for [f]a bird of the air shall carry the voice, and that which hath wings shall tell the matter.

CHAPTER 11.

2. Foolish men.

3. Not in mere wealth but in wisdom, as the antithesis to folly (i. e., foolish men).

4. Given to childish levity.

Ch. 11. B. C. 977.

1. In ch. 11 the matter of perverse things is set aside and the making of life happy by kindness and consideration toward others is taken up.

2. This is a bold figure which refers to the investment of doing good that may prove in the end of much advantage to the doer.

3. Compared with the hereafter.

Ch. 12. B. C. 977.

1. In this ch. are given the cautions, pointing out what should be done.

1 [1]Cast thy bread [2]upon [a]the waters: [b]for thou shalt find it after many days.

2 Give a portion [c]to seven, and also to eight; for thou knowest not what evil shall be upon the earth.

3 If the clouds be full of rain, they empty themselves upon the earth: and if the tree fall toward the south, or toward the north, in the place where the tree falleth, there it shall be.

4 He that observeth the wind shall not sow; and he that regardeth the clouds shall not reap.

5 As [d]thou knowest not what is the way of the spirit, nor how the bones do grow in the womb of her that is with child: even so thou knowest not the works of God who maketh all.

6 In the morning sow thy seed, and in the evening withhold not thine hand: for thou knowest not whether shall prosper, either this or that, or whether they both shall be alike good.

7 ¶ Truly the light is sweet, and a pleasant thing it is for the eyes to behold the sun:

8 But if a man live many years, and rejoice in them all; yet let him remember the days of darkness; for they shall be many. All that cometh is vanity.

9 ¶ Rejoice, O young man, in thy youth; and let thy heart cheer thee in the days of thy youth, and walk in the ways of thine heart, and in the sight of thine eyes: but know thou, that for all these things God [e]will bring thee into judgment.

10 Therefore remove sorrow from thy heart, and [f]put away evil from thy flesh: for childhood and youth are [3]vanity.

CHAPTER 12.

1 The Creator is to be remembered in due time. 13 The fear of God is the chief antidote of vanity.

1 [1]Remember [a]now thy Creator in the days of thy youth, while the evil days come not, nor the years draw nigh, when thou shalt say, I have no pleasure in them;

2 While the sun, or the light, or the moon, or the stars, be not darkened, nor the clouds return after the rain:

3 In the day when the keepers of the house shall tremble, and the strong men shall bow themselves, and the grinders cease because they are few, and those that look out of the windows be darkened,

4 And the doors shall be shut in the streets, when the sound of the grinding is low, and he shall rise up at the voice of the bird, and all the daughters of musick shall be brought low;

Chapter 10.

a. But seek ye first the kingdom of God, and his righteousness; and all these things shall be added unto you. (Mat. 6:33.)

b. Every prudent man dealeth with knowledge: but a fool layeth open his folly. (Prov. 13:16.)

c. And fell at his feet, and said, Upon me, my lord, upon me let this iniquity be: and let thine handmaid, I pray thee, speak in thine audience, and hear the words of thine handmaid. (I Sam. 25:24.) By long forbearing is a prince persuaded, and a soft tongue breaketh the bone. (Prov. 25:15.)

d. For, behold, I will send serpents, cockatrices, among you, which will not be charmed, and they shall bite you, saith the Lord. (Jer. 8:17.)

e. Whereas ye know not what shall be on the morrow. For what is your life? It is even a vapor, that appeareth for a little time, and then vanisheth away. (Ja. 4:14.)

f. And he answered and said unto them, I tell you that if these should hold their peace, the stones would immediately cry out. (Luke 19:40.)

Chapter 11.

a. Blessed are ye that sow beside all waters, that send forth thither the feet of the ox and the ass. (Is. 32:20.)

b. He that hath pity upon the poor lendeth unto the Lord; and that which he hath given will he pay him again. (Prov. 19:17.) And whosoever shall give to drink unto one of these little ones a cup of cold water only in the name of a disciple, verily I say unto you, he shall in no wise lose his reward. (Mat. 10:42.) And let us not be weary in well doing: for in due season we shall reap, if we faint not. (Gal. 6:9.) For God is not unrighteous to forget your work of labor of love, which ye have shown toward his name, in that ye have ministered to the saints, and do minister. (Heb. 6:10.)

c. He hath dispersed, he hath given to the poor; his righteousness endureth for ever; his horn shall be exalted with honor. (Ps. 112:9.)

e. Who will render to every man according to his deeds. (Rom. 2:6.) For God shall bring every work into judgment, with every secret thing, whether it be good, or whether it be evil. (Ecc. 12:14.) And, behold, I come quickly; and my reward is with me, to give every man according as his work shall be. (Rev. 22:12.) Wherefore, if meat make my brother to offend, I will eat no flesh while the world standeth, lest I make my brother to offend. (I Cor. 8:13.) For we know him that hath said, Vengeance belongeth unto me, I will recompense, saith the Lord. And again, The Lord shall judge his people. (Heb. 10:30.)

f. Having therefore these promises, dearly beloved, let us cleanse ourselves from all filthiness of the flesh and spirit, perfecting holiness in the fear of God. (II Cor. 7:1.) Flee also youthful lusts: but follow righteousness, faith, charity, peace, with them that call on the Lord out of a pure heart. (II Tim. 2:22.)

Chapter 12.

a. But thou shalt remember the Lord thy God: for it is he that giveth thee power to get wealth, that he may establish his covenant which he sware unto thy fathers, as it is this day. (Dt. 8:18.) When I remember thee upon my bed, and meditate on thee in the night watches. (Ps. 63:6.) I have remembered thy name, O Lord, in the night, and have kept thy law. (Ps. 119:55.)

5 Also when they shall be afraid of that which is high, and fears shall be in the way, and the almond tree shall flourish, and the grasshopper shall be a burden, and desire shall fail: because man goeth to his long home, and the mourners go about the streets:

6 Or ever the silver cord be loosed, or the golden bowl be broken, or the pitcher be broken at the fountain, or the wheel broken at the cistern.

7 Then shall the dust return to the earth as it was: [b]and the spirit shall return unto God who gave it.

8 ¶ [2]Vanity of vanities, saith the preacher; all is vanity.

9 And moreover, because the preacher was wise, he still taught the people knowledge;

2. The finale, which announces that the proposition stated has been demonstrated.

3. This book began with the vanity of vanities, man's attempt to satisfy himself, and concludes by pointing all things to God, who bringeth all things into judgment and taketh care of his own.

yea, he gave good heed, and sought out, and set in order many proverbs.

10 The preacher sought to find out acceptable words: and that which was written was upright, even words of truth.

11 The words of the wise are as goads, and as nails fastened by the masters of assemblies, which are given from one shepherd.

12 And further, by these, my son, be admonished: of making many books there is no end; and much study is a weariness of the flesh.

13 ¶ Let us hear the conclusion of the whole matter: [c]Fear God, and keep his commandments: for this is the whole duty of man.

14 For [d]God shall bring [3]every work into judgment, with every secret thing, whether it be good, or whether it be evil.

b. Who knoweth the spirit of man that goeth upward, and the spirit of the beast that goeth downward to the earth? (Ecc. 3:21.)

d. But I say unto you, That every idle word that men shall speak, they shall give account thereof in the day of judgment. (Mat. 12:36.) Because he hath appointed a day, in the which he will judge the world in righteousness by that man whom he hath ordained: whereof he hath given assurance unto all men, in that he hath raised him from the dead. (Acts 17:31.) In the day when God shall judge the secrets of men by Jesus Christ according to my gospel. (Rom. 2:16.) Therefore judge nothing before the time, until the Lord come, who both will bring to light the hidden things of darkness, and will make manifest the counsels of the hearts: and then shall every man have praise of God. (I Cor. 4:5.)

SONG OF SOLOMON

NOTE.—This has been styled the "Song of Songs," which expresses its superior excellence, as the heaven of heavens is equivalent to the highest heaven; as the holy of holies is equivalent to the most holy. Therefore the Song of Songs means the most excellent song. Its author is not definitely known. There are those who have always claimed Solomon as the author, and others who believe the book was only written during his age and addressed to him. Jerome says that the Jews would not allow it to be read by anyone until he was 30 years old because of its allegorical nature and typical signification, which render it difficult to be understood. It is universally conceded that the book presents a historical fact or rather a succession of events, which actually occurred, but that these facts are expressed in an allegorical manner. In the book the literal meaning of truth exists, but is of little value, save only as prefiguring and suggesting some spiritual truth.

CHAPTER 1.

1 The church's love unto Christ. 5 She confesseth her deformity, 7 and prayeth to be directed to his flock. 8 Christ directeth her to the shepherds' tents: 11 and giveth her gracious promises.

1 The [a]song of songs, which is Sŏl'o-mon's.

2 Let him [1]kiss me with the kisses of his mouth: for thy love is better than wine.

3 Because of the savour of thy good ointments thy name is as ointment poured forth, therefore do the [2]virgins [b]love thee.

4 [c]Draw me, we will run after thee: the king [d]hath brought me into his chambers: we will be glad and rejoice in thee, we will remember thy love more than wine: the upright love thee.

5 I am black, but comely, O ye daughters of Je-ru'sa-lĕm, as the tents of Kē'dăr, as the curtains of Sŏl'o-mon.

6 Look not upon me, because I am black, because the sun hath looked upon me: my mother's children were angry with me; they made me the keeper of the vineyards; but mine own vineyard have I not kept.

7 Tell me, O thou whom my soul loveth, where thou feedest, where thou makest thy flock to rest at noon: for why should I be as one that turneth aside by the flocks of thy companions?

8 ¶ If thou know not, O thou fairest among women, go thy way forth by the footsteps of the flock, and feed thy kids beside the shepherds' tents.

9 I have compared thee, O my love, to a company of horses in Phā'raōh's chariots.

10 Thy cheeks are comely with rows of jewels, thy neck with chains of gold.

11 We will make thee borders of gold with studs of silver.

12 ¶ While the king sitteth at his table, my [3]spikenard sendeth forth the smell thereof.

13 A bundle of [4]myrrh is my wellbeloved unto me; he shall lie all night [5]betwixt my breasts.

14 My beloved is unto me as a cluster of [6]camphire in the vineyards of [7]Ēn-gē'dī.

15 Behold, thou art fair, my love; behold, thou art fair; thou hast doves' eyes.

16 Behold, thou art fair, my beloved, yea, pleasant: also our bed is green.

17 The beams of our house are cedar, and our rafters of fir.

CHAPTER 2.

1 The mutual love of Christ and his church. 14 Christ's care of the church. 16 The profession of the church, her faith and hope.

1 I am the rose of [1]Shâr'on, and the lily of the valleys.

2 As the lily among thorns, so is my love among the daughters.

3 As the apple tree among the trees of the wood, so is my beloved among the sons. I sat down under his shadow with great delight, [a]and his fruit was sweet to my taste.

4 He brought me to the banqueting house, and his banner over me was love.

5 Stay me with [2]flagons, comfort me with apples: for I am sick of love.

6 His left hand is under my head, and his right hand doth embrace me.

7 I charge you, O ye daughters of Je-ru'salĕm, by the roes, and by the hinds of the field, that ye stir not up, nor awake my love, till he please.

8 ¶ The voice of my beloved! behold, he cometh leaping upon the mountains, skipping upon the hills.

9 My beloved is like a roe or a young hart: behold, he standeth behind our wall, he looketh forth at the windows, shewing himself through the lattice.

10 My beloved spake, and said unto me, Rise up, my love, my fair one, and come away.

11 For, lo, the winter is past, the rain is over and gone;

12 The flowers appear on the earth; the time of the singing of birds is come, and the voice of the turtle is heard in our land;

13 The fig tree putteth forth her green figs, and the vines with the tender grape give a good smell. Arise, my love, my fair one, and come away.

14 ¶ O my dove, that art in the clefts of the rock, in the secret places of the stairs, let me see thy countenance, let me hear thy voice; for sweet is thy voice, and thy countenance is comely.

15 Take us the foxes, the little foxes, that spoil the vines: for our vines have tender grapes.

16 ¶ [b]My beloved is mine, and I am his: he feedeth among the lilies.

17 Until [c]the day break, and the shadows flee away, turn, my beloved, and be thou [d]like a roe or a young hart upon the mountains of [3]Bē'thēr.

Ref. Song of Solomon. Chapter 1.

a. And he spake three thousand proverbs: and his songs were a thousand and five. (I Ks. 4:32.)

b. Then shall the kingdom of heaven be likened unto ten virgins, which took their lamps, and went forth to meet the bridegroom. (Mat. 25:1.) For I have espoused you to one husband, that I may present you as a chaste virgin to Christ. (II Cor. 11:2.)

c. The Lord hath appeared of old unto me, saying, Yea, I have loved thee with an everlasting love: therefore with loving-kindness have I drawn thee. (Jer. 31:3.) I drew them with cords of a man, with bands of love: and I was to them as they that take off the yoke on their jaws, and I laid meat unto them. (Hos. 11:4.) No man can come to me, except the Father which hath sent me draw him. (Jno. 6:44.) And I, if I be lifted up from the earth, will draw all men unto me. (Jno. 12:32.) Not as though I had already attained, either were already perfect; but I follow after, if that I may apprehend that for which also I am apprehended of Christ Jesus (12). Brethren, I count not myself to have apprehended; but this one thing I do, forgetting those things which are behind, and reaching forth unto those things which are before (13). I press toward the mark for the prize of the high calling of God in Christ Jesus. (Phil. 3:12-14.)

d. In my Father's house are many mansions: if it were not so, I would have told you. I go to prepare a place for you. (Jno. 14:2.) And hath raised us up together, and made us sit together in heavenly places in Christ Jesus. (Eph. 2:6.) She shall be brought unto the king in raiment of needlework: the virgins her companions that follow her shall be brought unto thee (14). With gladness and rejoicing shall they be brought: they shall enter into the king's palace. (Ps. 45:14, 15.)

Chapter 2.

a. And he showed me a pure river of water of life, clear as crystal, proceeding out of the throne of God and of the Lamb (1). In the midst of the street of it, and on either side of the river, was there the tree of life, which bare twelve manner of fruits, and yielded her fruit every month: and the leaves of the tree were for the healing of the nations. (Rev. 22:1, 2.)

b. I am my beloved's, and my beloved is mine: he feedeth among the lilies. (Song 6:3.) I am my beloved's, and his desire is toward me. (Song 7:10.)

c. To give knowledge of salvation unto his people, by the remission of their sins (77), Through the tender mercy of our God; whereby the day-spring from on high hath visited us (78). To give light to them that sit in darkness and in the shadow of death, to guide our feet into the way of peace. (Luke 1:77-79.) We have also a more sure word of prophecy; whereunto ye do well that ye take heed, as unto a light that shineth in a dark place, until the day dawn, and the day star arise in your hearts. (II Pet. 1:19.) Until the day break, and the shadows flee away, I will get me to the mountain of myrrh, and to the hill of frankincense. (Song 4:6.)

d. Make haste, my beloved, and be thou like to a roe or to a young hart upon the mountain of spices. (Song 8:14.)

CHAPTER 3.

1 The church's fight and victory in temptation.
6 The church glorieth in Christ.

1 [1]By [a]night on my bed I sought him whom my soul loveth: I sought him, but I found him not.

2 I will rise now, and go about the city in the streets, and in the broad ways I will seek him whom my soul loveth: I sought him, but I found him not.

3 The watchmen that go about the city found me: to whom I said, Saw ye him whom my soul loveth?

4 It was but a little that I [2]passed from them, but I found [b]him whom my soul loveth: I held him, and would not let him go, until I had brought him into my mother's house, and into the chamber of her that conceived me.

5 I charge you, O [3]ye daughters of Je-ru'-sa-lĕm, by the roes, and by the hinds of the field, that ye stir not up, nor awake my love, till he please.

6 ¶ [c]Who is this [4]that cometh out of the wilderness like pillars of smoke, perfumed with myrrh and frankincense, with all powders of the merchant?

7 Behold his bed, which is Sŏl'o-mon's; threescore valiant men are about it, of the valiant of Ĭs'ra-el.

8 They all hold swords, being expert in war: every man hath his sword upon his thigh because of fear in the night.

9 King Sŏl'o-mon made himself a chariot of the wood of Lĕb'a-non.

10 He made the pillars thereof of silver, the bottom thereof of gold, the covering of it of purple, the midst thereof being paved with love, for the daughters of Je-ru'sa-lĕm.

11 Go forth, O ye daughters of [5]Zī'ŏn, and behold king Sŏl'o-mon with the crown wherewith his mother crowned him in the [d]day of his espousals, and in the day of the gladness of his heart.

CHAPTER 4.

1 Christ setteth forth the graces of the church.
16 The church prayeth to be made fit for his presence.

1 Behold, thou art fair, my love; behold, thou art fair; thou hast doves' eyes within thy locks: thy hair is as a [1]flock of goats, that appear from mount Gĭl'e-ăd.

2 Thy teeth [2]are like a flock of sheep that are even shorn, which came up from the washing; whereof every one bear twins, and none is barren among them.

3 Thy lips are like a thread of scarlet, and thy speech is comely: thy temples are like a piece of a pomegranate within thy locks.

4 Thy neck is like the tower of Dā'vid builded [a]for an armoury, whereon there hang a thousand bucklers, all shields of mighty men.

5 Thy two breasts are like two young roes that are twins, which feed among the lilies.

6 Until the day break, and the shadows flee away, I will get me to the mountain of myrrh, and to the hill of frankincense.

7 [b]Thou art all fair, my love; there is no spot in thee.

8 ¶ Come with me from Lĕb'a-non, my spouse, with me from Lĕb'a-non: look from the top of [3]Ām'a-nâ, from the top of Shĕ'nir and Hĕr'mŏn, from the lions' dens, from the mountains of the leopards.

9 Thou hast ravished my heart, my sister, my [c]spouse; thou hast ravished my heart with one of thine eyes, with one chain of thy neck.

10 How fair is thy love, my sister, my spouse! how much better is thy love than wine! and the smell of thine ointments than all spices!

11 Thy lips, O my spouse, drop as the honeycomb: [d]honey and milk are under thy tongue; and the smell of thy garments is like the smell of Lĕb'a-non.

12 A garden inclosed [5]is my sister, my spouse; a spring shut up, a fountain sealed.

13 Thy plants are an orchard of pomegranates, with pleasant fruits; camphire, with [6]spikenard,

14 Spikenard and saffron; calamus and cinnamon, with all trees of frankincense; myrrh and aloes, with all the chief spices:

15 A fountain of gardens, a well of [e]living waters, and streams from Lĕb'a-non.

16 ¶ Awake, O north wind; and come, thou south; blow upon my garden, that the spices thereof may flow out. Let my beloved come into his garden, and eat his pleasant fruits.

CHAPTER 5.

1 Christ awaketh the church with his calling.
2 The church having a taste of Christ's love is sick of love.

1 I am [a]come into my garden, my sister, my spouse: I have gathered my myrrh with my spice; I have eaten my honeycomb with my honey; I have drunk my wine with my milk: eat, O [b]friends; drink, yea, drink abundantly, O beloved.

2 ¶ I sleep, but my heart waketh: it is the voice of my beloved [c]that knocketh, saying, Open to me, my sister, my love, my dove, my undefiled: for my head is filled with dew, and my locks with the drops of the night.

3 I have put off my coat; how shall I put it on? I have washed my feet; how shall I defile them?

4 My beloved put in his hand by the hole of the door, and my [1]bowels were moved for him.

5 I rose up to open to my beloved; and my hands dropped with myrrh, and my fingers with sweet smelling myrrh, upon the handles of the lock.

6 I opened to my beloved; but my beloved

Chapter 3.

b. I love them that love me; and those that seek me early shall find me. (Prov. 8:17.) He that hath my commandments, and keepeth them, he it is that loveth me: and he that loveth me shall be loved of my Father, and I will love him, and will manifest myself to him. (Jno. 14:21.)

c. Who is this that cometh up from the wilderness, leaning upon her beloved? (Song 8:5.)

Chapter 4.

b. That he might present it to himself a glorious church, not having spot, or wrinkle, or any such thing; but that it should be holy and without blemish. (Eph. 5:27.)

c. For I am jealous over you with godly jealousy: for I have espoused you to one husband, that I may present you as a chaste virgin to Christ. (II Cor. 11:2.) And there came unto me one of the seven angels which had the seven vials full of the seven last plagues, and talked with me, saying, Come hither, I will show thee the bride, the Lamb's wife. (Rev. 21:9.)

d. My son, eat thou honey, because it is good; and the honeycomb which is sweet to thy taste (13). So shall the knowledge of wisdom be unto thy soul: when thou hast found it, then there shall be a reward, and thy expectation shall not be cut off. (Prov. 24:13, 14.)

e. Jesus answered and said unto her, If thou knewest the gift of God, and who it is saith to thee, Give me to drink; thou wouldest have asked of him, and he would have given thee living water. (Jno. 4:10.)

Chapter 5.

a. He shall call upon me, and I will answer him: I will be with him in trouble; I will deliver him, and honor him. (Ps. 91:15.) See ch. 4:16.

b. I say unto you, that likewise joy shall be in heaven over one sinner that repenteth, more than over ninety and nine just persons, which need no repentance. (Luke 15:7.) He that hath the bride is the bridegroom, but the friend of the bridegroom, which standeth and heareth him, rejoiceth greatly because of the bridegroom's voice: this my joy therefore is fulfilled. (Jno. 3:29.) Ye are my friends, if ye do whatsoever I command you. (Jno. 15:14.)

c. Unto you, O men, I call; and my voice is to the sons of man (Prov. 8:4.) Behold, I stand at the door, and knock: if any man hear my voice, and open the door, I will come in to him, and will sup with him, and he with me. (Rev. 3:20.)

had withdrawn himself, and was gone: my soul failed when he spake: I sought him, but I could not find him; I called him, but he gave me no answer.

7 The watchmen that went about the city found me, they smote me, they wounded me; the keepers of the walls took away my vail from me.

8 I charge you, O daughters of Je-ru'sa-lĕm, if ye find my beloved, that ye tell him, that I am sick of love.

9 ¶ What is thy beloved more than another beloved, O thou fairest among women? what is thy beloved more than another beloved, that thou dost so charge us?

10 My beloved is white and ruddy, the chiefest among ten thousand.

11 His head is as the most fine gold, his locks are bushy, and black as a raven.

12 [d]His eyes are as the eyes of doves by the rivers of waters, washed with milk, and [2]fitly set.

13 His cheeks are as a bed of spices, as sweet flowers: his lips like lilies, dropping sweet smelling myrrh.

14 His hands are as gold rings set with the beryl: his belly is as bright ivory overlaid with sapphires.

15 His legs are as pillars of marble, set upon sockets of fine gold: his [3]countenance is as Lĕb'a-non, excellent as the cedars.

16 [e]His [4]mouth is most sweet: yea, he is altogether lovely. This is my beloved, and this is my friend, O daughters of Je-ru'sa-lĕm.

CHAPTER 6.

1 The church professeth her faith in Christ.
4 Christ sheweth the graces of the church,
10 and his love towards her.

1 Whither is thy beloved gone, [a]O thou fairest among women? whither is thy beloved turned aside? that we may seek him with thee.

2 My beloved is gone down into his garden, to the beds of spices, to [b]feed in the gardens, and to gather lilies.

3 I am my beloved's, and my beloved is mine: he feedeth among the lilies.

4 ¶ Thou art beautiful, O my love, as Tĭr'zah, comely as [1]Je-ru'sa-lĕm, [c]terrible as an army with banners.

5 Turn away thine eyes from me, for they have [2]overcome me: thy hair is [d]as a flock of goats that appear from Gĭl'e-ăd.

6 Thy teeth are as a flock of sheep which go up from the washing, whereof every one beareth twins, and there is not one barren among them.

7 As a piece of a pomegranate are thy temples within thy locks.

8 There are threescore queens, and fourscore concubines, and virgins without number.

9 My dove, my undefiled is but one; she is the only one of her mother, she is the choice one of her that bare her. The [3]daughters saw her, and blessed her; yea, the queens and the concubines, and they praised her.

10 ¶ Who is she that looketh forth as the morning, fair as the moon, clear as the sun, and terrible as an army with banners?

11 I went down into the garden of nuts to see the fruits of the valley, and [c]to see whether the vine flourished, and the pomegranates budded.

12 Or ever I was aware, my soul made me like the chariots of Ām-mĭn'a-dĭb.

13 Return, return, O [4]Shu'lam-īte; return, return, that we may look upon thee. What will ye see in the Shu'lam-īte? As it were the company of two armies.

CHAPTER 7.

1 A further description of the church's graces.
10 The church professeth her faith and desire.

1 How beautiful are [1]thy feet with shoes, O prince's daughter! the joints of thy thighs are like jewels, the work of the hands of a cunning workman.

2 Thy [2]navel is like a round goblet, which wanteth not liquor: thy [3]belly is like an heap of wheat set about with lilies.

3 Thy two breasts are like two young roes that are twins.

4 Thy neck is as a [4]tower of ivory; thine eyes like the fishpools in Hĕsh'bŏn, by the gate of Băth-răb'bim: thy nose is as the tower of Lĕb'a-non which looketh toward Da-măs'cus.

5 Thine head upon thee is like Căr'mel, and the hair of thine head like purple; the king is held in the galleries.

6 How fair and how pleasant art thou, O love, for delights!

7 This thy stature is like to a palm tree, and thy breasts to clusters of grapes.

8 I said, I will go up to the palm tree, I will take hold of the boughs thereof: now also thy breasts shall be as clusters of the vine, and the smell of thy [5]nose like apples;

9 And the roof of thy mouth like the best wine for my beloved, that goeth down sweetly, causing the lips of those that are asleep to speak.

10 ¶ I [a]am my beloved's, and his desire is toward me.

11 Come, my beloved, let us go forth into the field; let us lodge in the villages.

12 Let us get up early to the vineyards; let us [b]see if the vine flourish, whether the tender grape appear, and the pomegranates bud forth: there will [c]I give thee my loves.

13 The mandrakes give a smell, and at our gates [d]are all manner of pleasant fruits, new and old, which I have laid up for thee, O my beloved.

2. That is, as a stone beautifully set in the foil of a ring.

3. His whole mien and bearing.

4. His voice.

1. The perfection of duty.

2. Unmanned.

3. The maids-in-waiting.

4. A humble country girl. Shunem, a little village; the residence of Abishag, the last wife of David; also the home of the woman whose son Elisha restored to life.

Ch. 7. B. C. 1014.

1. The sandals of eastern ladies were highly ornamented and much noticed.

2. Girdle clasp.

3. Thy waist. (R. V.)

4. Like a tower for symmetry and stateliness and ivory for whiteness.

5. The fragrance of thy breath.

d. Behold, thou art fair, my love; behold, thou art fair; thou hast doves' eyes. (Song 1:15.) Neither is there any creature that is not manifest in his sight: but all things are naked and opened unto the eyes of him with whom we have to do. (Heb. 4:13.) His head and his hairs were white like wool, as white as snow; and his eyes were as a flame of fire. (Rev. 1:14.)

e. More to be desired are they than gold, yea, than much fine gold: sweeter also than honey and the honey comb. (Ps. 19:10.) Thy words were found, and I did eat them; and thy word was unto me the joy and rejoicing of mine heart: for I am called by thy name, O Lord God of hosts. (Jer. 15:16.) And all bare him witness, and wondered at the gracious words which proceeded out of his mouth. And they said, Is not this Joseph's son? (Luke 4:22.)

Chapter 6.

a. And thy renown went forth among the heathen for thy beauty: for it was perfect through my comeliness, which I had put upon thee, saith the Lord God. (Ez. 16:14.)

b. The Lord thy God in the midst of thee is mighty; he will save, he will rejoice over thee with joy; he will rest in his love; he will joy over thee with singing. (Zeph. 3:17.)

c. (For the weapons of our warfare are not carnal, but mighty through God to the pulling down of strong holds) (4); Casting down imaginations, and every high thing that exalteth itself against the knowledge of God, and bringing into captivity every thought to the obedience of Christ. (II Cor. 10:4, 5.)

d. Behold, thou art fair, my love; behold, thou art fair; thou hast doves' eyes within thy locks: thy hair is as a flock of goats, that appear from mount Gilead. (Song 4:1.)

e. The righteous shall flourish like the palm tree, he shall grow like a cedar in Lebanon (12). Those that be planted in the house of the Lord shall flourish in the courts of our God (13). They shall still bring forth fruit in old age; they shall be fat and flourishing. (Ps. 92:12-14.)

Chapter 7.

a. For I through the law am dead to the law, that I might live unto God (19). I am crucified with Christ: nevertheless I live; yet not I, but Christ liveth in me: and the life which I now live in the flesh I live by the faith of the Son of God, who loved me, and gave himself for me. (Gal. 2:19, 20.) I am my beloved's, and my beloved is mine; he feedeth among the lilies. (Song 6:3.)

b. Examine yourselves, whether ye be in the faith; prove your own selves. Know ye not your own selves, how that Jesus Christ is in you, except ye be reprobates? (II Cor. 13:5.)

c. For in mine holy mountain, in the mountain of the height of Israel, saith the Lord God, there shall all the house of Israel, all of them in the land, serve me: there will I accept them, and there will I require your offerings, and the first-fruits of your oblations, with all your holy things. (Ez. 20:40.)

d. Then said he unto them, Therefore every scribe which is instructed unto the kingdom of heaven is like unto a man that is an householder, which bringeth forth out of his treasure things new and old. (Mat. 13:52.)

CHAPTER 8.

1 The love of the church to Christ. 6 The vehemency of love. 8 The calling of the Gentiles.

1 O that thou wert [1]as my brother, that sucked the breasts of my mother! when I should find thee without, I would kiss thee; yea, I should not be despised.

2 I would lead thee, and bring thee into my mother's house, who would instruct me: I would cause thee to drink of spiced wine of the juice of my pomegranate.

3 [a]His left hand should be under my head, and his right hand should embrace me.

4 I charge you, O daughters of Je-ru'sa-lĕm, that ye stir not up, nor awake my love, until he please.

5 Who is this that cometh up from the wilderness, leaning upon her beloved? I raised thee up under the apple tree: there thy mother brought thee forth: there she brought thee forth that bare thee.

6 ¶ Set me as a seal upon thine heart, as a seal upon thine arm: [b]for love is strong as death; jealousy is cruel as the grave: the coals thereof are coals of fire, which hath a most [2]vehement flame.

Ch. 8. B. C. 1014.

1. As innocently familiar as an own brother.

2. The fire flame of Jehovah.

3. Peace.

4. The Mount of Transfiguration.

7 Many waters cannot quench love, neither can the floods drown it: if a man would give all the substance of his house for love, it would utterly be contemned.

8 ¶ We [c]have a little sister, and she hath no breasts: what shall we do for our sister in the day when she shall be spoken for?

9 If she be a wall, we will build upon her a palace of silver: and if she be a [d]door, we will inclose her with boards of cedar.

10 I [e]am a wall, and my [f]breasts like towers: then was I in his eyes as one that found [3]favour.

11 Sŏl'o-mon had a vineyard at Bā'al-hā'-mon; he let out the vineyard unto keepers; every one for the fruit thereof was to bring a thousand pieces of silver.

12 My vineyard, which is mine, is before me: thou, O Sŏl'o-mon, must have a thousand, and those that keep the fruit thereof two hundred.

13 Thou that dwellest in the gardens, the companions hearken to thy voice: cause me to hear it.

14 ¶ [g]Make haste, my beloved, and be thou like to a roe or to a young hart upon the mountains of spices.

Chapter 8.

a. And he said unto me, My grace is sufficient for thee: for my strength is made perfect in weakness. Most gladly therefore will I rather glory in my infirmities, that the power of Christ may rest upon me. (II Cor. 12:9.)

b. Yea doubtless, and I count all things but loss for the excellency of the knowledge of Christ Jesus my Lord: for whom I have suffered the loss of all things, and do count them but dung, that I may win Christ. (Phil. 3:8.)

c. All the ends of the world shall remember and turn unto the Lord: and all the kindreds of the nations shall worship before thee. (Ps. 22:27.)

d. Behold, I stand at the door, and knock: if any man hear my voice, and open the door, I will come in to him, and will sup with him, and he with me. (Rev. 3:20.)

e. Rooted and built up in him, and stablished in the faith, as ye have been taught, abounding therein with thanksgiving. (Col. 2:7.)

THE BOOK OF THE PROPHET ISAIAH

NOTE.—Isaiah lived midway between Moses and Christ. The book is placed in the Hebrew Bible as the head of the prophetic writings. The writer rebukes the wicked, hypocritical Jews, exhorts them to repentance, and assures them of pardon, if they repent. In the boldest and most eloquent language he predicts the overthrow and utter destruction of the great wicked cities of the ancient world. He portrays in the most graphic manner the sufferings and the glory of Christ, the future Messiah, the universal extension of his kingdom, the glory and happiness under his beneficent sway; and, in language of incomparable grandeur, he sets forth the attributes and prerogatives of Jehovah. Upon the whole his prophecies are considered one of the most wonderful books of the ancient world. The book naturally sub-divides itself into three parts: the first 35 chs. constitute a series of prophecies, dealing with the political, social and moral conditions, and outlook of the chosen people; the second division of 5 chs. is largely historical and treats of the time of Hezekiah. The third division, comprising the last 26 chs., has been called the Book of Consolation, because the author treats so copiously of the attributes of Jehovah and of the reign of Christ, the coming Messiah. This portion of the book has been called The Evangelical Prophecies.

There are three schools of opinion concerning the authorship of this book. First, that Isaiah is the author, which opinion was universally accepted until the 12th century, when Aben Ezra, a distinguished Spanish rabbi, intimated that the prophecies of the last part of the book were written by King Jecholiah at the time of the Babylonian captivity. No particular attention, however, was paid to the criticism till 1780, when J. B. Koppe, Prof. at Gottengen, opened the attack concerning the author, claiming that Isaiah himself wrote not more than half the book. This school advances the opinion that Isaiah wrote about half of the book, that another wrote the middle or historical section, and that another (an unknown Isaiah) wrote the third or last division. The third school claimed that Isaiah wrote scarcely half the book, while many and various authors contributed toward the remaining part.

CHAPTER 1.

1 Isaiah complaineth of Judah for her rebellion. 5 He lamenteth her judgments. 16 He exhorteth to repentance. 21 He denounceth God's judgments. 25 He promiseth grace, 28 and threateneth destruction to the wicked.

1 The [a]vision of [1]I-ṣā′iah the son of Ā′moz, which he saw concerning Jū′dah and Je-ru′sa-lĕm in the days of Ūz-zī′ah, Jō′tham, Ā′hāz, and Hĕz-e-kī′ah, kings of Jū′dah.

2 Hear, O heavens, and give ear, O earth: for the [2]Lord hath spoken, I have nourished and brought up children, and they have rebelled against me.

3 The ox knoweth his owner, and the ass his master's crib: but Is′ra-el doth [b]not know, my people doth not consider.

4 [3]Ah sinful nation, a people laden with iniquity, [c]a seed of evildoers, children that are corrupters: they have forsaken the Lord, they have provoked the [4]Holy One of Is′ra-el unto anger, they are [5]gone away backward.

5 ¶ Why should ye be stricken any more? ye will [d]revolt more and more: the whole head is sick, and the whole heart faint.

6 From the sole of the foot even unto the head there is no soundness in it; but wounds, and bruises, and putrifying sores: they have not been closed, neither bound up, neither mollified with ointment.

7 Your country is desolate, your cities are burned with fire: your land, strangers devour it in your presence, and it is desolate, as overthrown by strangers.

8 [6]And the daughter of Zī′ŏn is left as a cottage in a vineyard, as a lodge in a garden of cucumbers, as a besieged city.

9 Except the Lord of hosts had left unto us a very small remnant, we should have been as Sŏd′om, and we should have been like unto Go-mŏr′rah.

10 ¶ Hear the word of the Lord, ye rulers of Sŏd′om; give ear unto the law of our God, ye people of Go-mŏr′rah.

Ch. 1. B. C. 760.

NOTE.—Chs. 1-6 relate to the people's hardening their hearts.

1. A prophet under the reigns of Uzziah, Jotham, Ahaz and Hezekiah, kings of Judah. According to the Jewish tradition, Isaiah was either a brother or nephew of King Amaziah. The age in which this prophet lived was one of the most critical in history, as it was an age when the true mission of Israel was in need of being especially emphasized, and to this mission Isaiah was divinely called. His public service covered about 22 years.

Isaiah was a resident and native of Jerusalem. Like Elijah, his dress was hairy-sackcloth, the symbol of repentance. (Is. 22:12)—"And in that day did the Lord God of hosts call to weeping and to mourning and to baldness and to girding with sackcloth." Thus his very appearance constantly admonished the people, "Repent, repent!"

2. The Hebrew, Jehovah, a name which the Jews never uttered, but used Adonai instead, which means Master, Lord.

3. Alas!

4. This phrase is used by Isaiah more than any other of the prophets. It frequently occurs throughout the Book of Isaiah, and is taken by some as a proof that Isaiah wrote the whole of the book.

5. Alienated or separated.

6. A rude, temporary shelter, erected in the open grounds.

7. Justice.

8. Vs. 21-31 contain an exclamation against the city.

11 To what purpose is the multitude of your [c]sacrifices unto me? saith the Lord: I am full of the burnt offerings of rams, and the fat of fed beasts; and I delight not in the blood of bullocks, or of lambs, or of he goats.

12 When ye come to appear before me, who hath required this at your hand, to tread my courts?

13 Bring no more vain oblations; incense is an abomination unto me; the new moons and sabbaths, the calling of assemblies, I cannot away with; it is iniquity, even the solemn meeting.

14 Your new moons and your appointed feasts my soul hateth: they are a trouble unto me; I am weary to bear them.

15 And [f]when ye spread forth your hands, I will hide mine eyes from you: yea, when ye make many prayers, I will not hear: your hands are full of blood.

16 ¶ Wash you, make you clean; put away the evil of your doings from before mine eyes; [g]cease to do evil;

17 Learn to do well; [h]seek [7]judgment, relieve the oppressed, judge the fatherless, plead for the widow.

18 Come now, and let us reason together, saith the Lord: though your sins be as scarlet, they shall be as white as snow; though they be red like crimson, they shall be as wool.

19 If [i]ye be willing and obedient, ye shall eat the good of the land:

20 But if ye refuse and rebel, ye shall be devoured with the sword: for the mouth of the Lord hath spoken it.

21 ¶ [8]How is the faithful city become an harlot! it was full of judgment; righteousness lodged in it; but now murderers.

22 Thy silver is become dross, thy wine mixed with water:

23 Thy princes are [j]rebellious, and companions of thieves: every one loveth gifts, and followeth after rewards: they judge not the fatherless, neither doth the cause of the widow come unto them.

Ref. Isaiah. Chapter 1.

a. And he said, Hear now my words: If there be a prophet among you, I the Lord will make myself known unto him in a vision, and will speak unto him in a dream. (Num. 12:6.) Of which salvation the prophets have enquired and searched diligently, who prophesied of the grace that should come unto you. (I Pet. 1:10.) For the prophecy came not in old time by the will of man: but holy men of God spake as they were moved by the Holy Ghost. (II Pet. 1:21.)

b. And they bend their tongues like their bow for lies: but they are not valiant for the truth upon the earth; for they proceed from evil to evil, and they know not me, saith the Lord. (Jer. 9:3.)

c. O generation of vipers, who hath warned you to flee from the wrath to come? (Mat. 3:7.) Thou shalt not be joined with them in burial, because thou hast destroyed thy land, and slain thy people: the seed of evil-doers shall never be renowned. (Is. 14:20.) Therefore as the fire devoureth the stubble, and the flame consumeth the chaff, so their root shall be as rottenness, and their blossom shall go up as dust; because they have cast away the law of the Lord of hosts, and despised the word of the Holy One of Israel. (Is. 5:24.)

d. O Lord, are not thine eyes upon the truth? thou hast stricken them, but they have not grieved; thou hast consumed them, but they have refused to receive correction: they have made their faces harder than a rock; they have refused to return. (Jer. 5:3.)

e. I will not reprove thee for thy sacrifices or thy burnt offerings, to have been continually before me. (Ps. 50:8.) He that killeth an ox is as if he slew a man: he that sacrificeth a lamb, as if he cut off a dog's neck; he that offereth an oblation, as if he offered swine's blood; he that burneth incense as if he blessed an idol. Yea, they have chosen their own ways, and their soul delighteth in their abominations. (Is. 66:3.) To what purpose cometh there to me incense from Sheba, and the sweet cane from a far country? your burnt offerings are not acceptable, nor your sacrifices sweet unto me. (Jer. 6:20.)

f. Then shall they call upon me, but I will not answer; they shall seek me early but they shall not find me. (Prov. 1:28.) And Solomon stood before the altar of the Lord, in the presence of all the congregation of Israel, and spread forth his hands toward heaven. (I Ks. 8:22.) And I will wait upon the Lord, that hideth his face from the house of Jacob, and I will look for him. (Is. 8:17.)

g. Let love be without dissimulation. Abhor that which is evil; cleave to that which is good. (Rom. 12:9.) They said, Turn ye again now every one from his evil way, and from the evil of your doings, and dwell in the land that the Lord hath given unto you and to your fathers for ever and ever. (Jer. 25:5.)

h. He hath shown thee, O man, what is good; and what doth the Lord require of thee, but to do justly, and to love mercy, and to walk humbly with thy God? (Mic. 6:8.)

i. And it shall come to pass, if thou shalt hearken diligently unto the voice of the Lord thy God, to observe and to do all his commandments which I command thee this day, that the Lord thy God will set thee on high above all nations of the earth. (Dt. 28:1.)

j. All their wickedness is in Gilgal: for there I hated them: for the wickedness of their doings I will drive them out of mine house, I will love them no more: all their princes are revolters. (Hos. 9:15.)

24 Therefore saith the Lord, the Lord of hosts, the mighty One of Is'ra-el, [3]Ah, [k]I will ease me of mine adversaries, and avenge me of mine enemies:

25 ¶ And I will turn my hand upon thee, and purely purge away thy dross, and take away all thy tin:

26 And I will restore thy judges as at the [9]first, and thy counsellors as at the beginning: afterward thou shalt be called, The city of righteousness, the faithful city.

27 Zi'ŏn shall be redeemed with judgment, and her converts with righteousness.

28 ¶ And the destruction of the transgressors and of the sinners shall be together, and they that forsake the Lord shall be consumed.

29 For they shall be ashamed of the oaks which ye have desired, and ye shall be confounded for the gardens that ye have chosen.

30 For ye shall be as an oak whose leaf fadeth, and as a garden that hath no water.

31 And the strong shall be as tow, and the maker of it as a spark, and they shall both burn together, and none shall quench them.

3 And many people shall go and say, Come ye, and let us go up to the mountain [4]of the Lord, to the house of the God of Jā'cob; and he will teach us of his ways, and we will walk in his paths: [b]for out of Zi'ŏn shall go forth the law, and the word of the Lord from Je-ru'sa-lĕm.

4 And he [c]shall judge [5]among the nations, and shall rebuke many people: and they shall beat their swords into plowshares, and their spears into pruninghooks: nation shall not lift up sword against nation, neither shall they learn war any more.

5 O house [6]of Jā'cob, come ye, and let us walk in the light of the Lord.

6 ¶ Therefore thou hast forsaken thy people the house of Jā'cob, because they be replenished from the east, and are soothsayers like the Phĭ-lĭs'tĭnes, and they please themselves in the children of strangers.

7 Their land also is full of [7]silver and gold, neither is there any end of their treasures; their land is also full of horses, neither is there any end of their chariots:

8 Their land also is full of [d]idols; they worship the work of their own hands, that which their own fingers have made:

9 And the mean man boweth down, and the great man humbleth himself: therefore forgive them not.

10 ¶ Enter into the rock, and hide thee in the dust, for fear of the Lord, and for the glory of his majesty.

11 The lofty looks of man shall be humbled, and the haughtiness of men shall be bowed down, and the Lord alone shall be exalted in that day.

12 [8]For the day of the Lord of hosts shall be upon every one that is proud and lofty, and upon every one that is lifted up; and he shall be brought low:

13 And upon all the cedars of Lĕb'a-non, that are high and lifted up, and upon all the oaks of Bā'shān,

14 And upon all the high mountains, and upon all the hills that are lifted up,

15 And upon every high tower, and upon every fenced wall,

16 And upon all the ships of Tär'shish, and upon all pleasant pictures.

17 And the loftiness of man shall be bowed down, and the haughtiness of men shall be made low: and the Lord alone shall be exalted in that day.

18 And the idols he shall utterly abolish.

19 And they shall go into the [c]holes of the rocks, and into the caves of the earth, for [f]fear of the Lord, and for the glory of his majesty, when he ariseth [g]to shake terribly the earth.

20 In that day a man shall cast his idols of silver, and his idols of gold, which they made each one for himself to worship, to the moles and to the bats;

21 To go into the clefts of the rocks, and into the tops of the ragged rocks, for fear of the Lord, and for the glory of his majesty, when he ariseth to shake terribly the earth.

22 Cease [h]ye from man, whose breath is in his nostrils: for wherein is he to be [9]accounted of?

a. But in the last days it shall come to pass, that the mountain of the house of the Lord shall be established in the top of the mountains, and it shall be exalted above the hills; and people shall flow unto it. (Mic. 4:1.) Then was the iron, the clay, the brass, the silver, and the gold, broken to pieces together, and became like the chaff of the summer threshing floors; and the wind carried them away, that no place was found for them: and the stone that smote the image became a great mountain, and filled the whole earth. (Dan. 2:35.) And I looked, and lo, a Lamb stood on the mount Sion, and with him an hundred forty and four thousand, having his Father's name written in their foreheads. (Rev. 14:1.)

b. Ye worship ye know not what: we know what we worship: for salvation is of the Jews. (Jno. 4:22.)

c. For the Father judgeth no man, but hath committed all judgment unto the Son. (Jno. 5:22.)

d. As concerning therefore the eating of those things that are offered in sacrifice unto idols, we know that an idol is nothing in the world, and that there is none other God but one. (1 Cor. 8:4.)

e. Then shall they begin to say to the mountains, Fall on us; and to the hills, Cover us. (Luke 23:30.) And said to the mountains and rocks, Fall on us, and hide us from the face of him that sitteth on the throne, and from the wrath of the Lamb. (Rev. 6:16.) And in those days shall men seek death, and shall not find it; and shall desire to die, and death shall flee from them. (Rev. 9:6.)

f. And Moses said unto the people, Fear not: for God is come to prove you, and that his fear may be before your faces, that ye sin not. (Ex. 20:20.) The fear of the Lord is the beginning of wisdom: a good understanding have all they that do his commandments: his praise endureth for ever. (Ps. 111:10.) Let us hear the conclusion of the whole matter: Fear God, and keep his commandments: for this is the whole duty of man. (Ecc. 12:13.) That all the people of the earth might know the hand of the Lord, that it is mighty: that ye might fear the Lord your God for ever. (Josh. 4:24.) The fear of the Lord is to hate evil: pride, and arrogancy, and the evil way, and the froward mouth, do I hate. (Prov. 8:13.) By mercy and truth iniquity is purged: and by the fear of the Lord men depart from evil. (Prov. 16:6.)

g. For thus saith the Lord of hosts; Yet once it is a little while, and I will shake the heavens, and the earth, and the sea, and the dry land. (Hag. 2:6.) Whose voice then shook the earth: but now he hath promised, saying, Yet once more I shake not the earth only, but also heaven. (Heb. 12:26.)

h. Labor not to be rich: cease from thine own wisdom. (Prov. 23:4.) Thus saith the Lord; Cursed be the man that trusteth in man, and bour: the child shall behave himself proudly against the ancient, and the base against the honourable.

6 When a man shall take hold of his brother of the house of his father, saying, Thou hast clothing, be thou our ruler, and let this ruin be under thy hand:

7 In that day shall he swear, saying, I will not be an healer; for in my house is neither bread nor clothing: make me not a ruler of the people.

8 For Je-ru'sa-lĕm is ruined, and Jū'dah is fallen: because their tongue and their doings are against the Lord, to [a]provoke the eyes of his glory.

9 ¶ The shew of their countenance doth witness against them; and they declare their sin as Sŏd'om, they hide it not. Woe unto their soul! for they have rewarded evil unto themselves.

10 Say ye to the righteous, that it shall be well with him: for they shall eat the fruit of their doings.

11 Woe unto the wicked! it shall be ill with him: for the reward of his hands shall be given him.

12 ¶ As for my people, children are their oppressors, and women rule over them. O my people, they which lead thee cause thee to err, and destroy the way of thy paths.

13 The Lord standeth up to plead, and standeth to judge the people.

14 The Lord will enter into judgment with the ancients of his people, and the princes thereof: for ye have eaten up [b]the vineyard; the spoil of the poor is in your houses.

15 What mean ye that ye beat my people to pieces, and grind the faces of the poor? saith the Lord God of hosts.

16 ¶ Moreover the Lord saith, Because the daughters of Zī'ŏn are haughty, and walk with stretched forth necks and [4]wanton eyes, walking and [5]mincing as they go, and making a tinkling with their feet:

17 Therefore the Lord will smite with a [6]scab the crown of the head of the daughters of Zī'ŏn, and the Lord will discover their secret parts.

18 In that [7]day the Lord will take away the bravery of their tinkling ornaments about their feet, and their cauls, and their round tires like the moon,

19 The chains, and the bracelets, and the mufflers,

20 The bonnets, and the [8]ornaments of the legs, and the headbands, and the tablets, and the earrings,

21 The rings, and nose jewels,

22 The changeable suits of apparel, and the [9]mantles, and the [10]wimples, and the [11]crisping pins, 23 The glasses, and the fine linen, and the hoods, and the vails.

24 And it shall come to pass, that instead of sweet smell there shall be stink; and instead of a girdle a rent; and instead of well set hair baldness; and instead of a stomacher a girding of sackcloth; and burning instead of beauty.

25 Thy men shall fall by the sword, and thy mighty in the war.

26 And [c]her gates shall lament and mourn; and she being [d]desolate shall sit upon the ground.

3 And it shall come to pass, that he that is left in Zī'ŏn, and he that remaineth in Je-ru'sa-lĕm, shall be called holy, even every one that is written [b]among the living in Je-ru'sa-lĕm:

4 When the Lord shall have washed away the [3]filth of the daughters of Zī'ŏn, and shall have purged the blood of Je-ru'sa-lĕm from the midst thereof by the spirit of judgment, and by the spirit of burning.

5 And the Lord will create upon every dwelling place of mount Zī'ŏn, and upon her assemblies, [c]a cloud and smoke by day, and the shining of a flaming fire by night: for upon all the glory shall be [d]a defence.

a. Thus they provoked him to anger with their inventions: and the plague brake in upon them. (Ps. 106:29.) And let us consider one another to provoke unto love and to good works. (Heb. 10:24.) So they sat down with him upon the ground seven days and seven nights, and none spake a word unto him: for they saw that his grief was very great. (Job 2:8, 13.) The elders of the daughter of Zion sit upon the ground, and keep silence: they have cast up dust upon their heads; they have girded themselves with sackcloth: the virgins of Jerusalem hang down their heads to the ground. Chapter 4.

a. And it shall come to pass in that day, that the mountains shall drop down new wine, and the hills shall flow with milk, and all the rivers of Judah shall flow with waters, and a fountain shall come forth of the house of the Lord, and shall water the valley of Shittim. (Joel 3:18.)

Concerning his Son Jesus Christ our Lord, which was made of the seed of David according to the flesh (3). And declared to be the Son of God with power, according to the spirit of holiness, by the resurrection from the dead. (Rom. 1:3, 4.)

c. And the Lord went before them by day in a pillar of a cloud, to lead them the way; and by night in a pillar of fire, to give them light; to go by day and night. (Ex. 13:21.)

d. They that trust in the Lord shall be as mount Zion, which cannot be removed, but abideth for ever. (Ps. 125:1.) In that day shall this song be sung in the land of Judah; We have a strong city; salvation will God appoint for walls and bulwarks. (Is. 26:1.)

e. For thou hast been a strength to the poor, a strength to the needy in his distress, a refuge from the storm, a shadow from the heat, when the blast of the terrible ones is as a storm against the wall. (Is. 25:4.)

Chapter 5.

a. Thou hast brought a vine out of Egypt: thou hast cast out the heathen, and planted it (8). Thou preparedst room before it, and didst cause it to take deep root, and it filled the land. (Ps. 80:8, 9.) In that day sing ye unto her, A vineyard of red wine (2). I the Lord do keep it; I will water it every moment: lest any hurt it, I will keep it night and day. (Is. 27:2, 3.) Yet I had planted thee a noble vine, wholly a right seed: how then art thou turned into the degenerate plant of a strange vine unto me? (Jer. 2:21.) Then began he to speak to the people this parable, A certain man planted a vineyard, and let it forth to husbandmen, and went into a far country for a long time. (Luke 20:9.)

b. Do ye thus requite the Lord, O foolish people and unwise? is not that it should bring forth grapes, and it brought forth [5]wild grapes.

3 [6]And now, O inhabitants of Je-ru'sa-lĕm, and men of Jū'dah, judge, I pray you, betwixt me and my vineyard.

4 What could have been done more to my vineyard, that I have not done in it? wherefore, when I looked that it should bring forth grapes, brought it forth wild grapes?

5 And now go to; I will tell you what I will do to my vineyard: I will take away the hedge thereof, and it shall be eaten up; and break down the wall thereof, and it shall be trodden down:

6 And I will lay it waste: it shall not be pruned, nor digged; but there shall come up briers and thorns: I will also command the clouds that they rain no rain upon it.

7 For the vineyard of the Lord of hosts is the house of Is'ra-el, and the men of Jū'dah his pleasant plant: and he looked for judgment, but behold oppression; for righteousness, but behold a cry.

8 ¶ [7]Woe unto them that join house to house, that lay field to field, till there be no place, that they may be placed alone in the midst of the earth!

9 In mine ears said the Lord of hosts, Of a truth many houses shall be desolate, even great and fair, without inhabitant.

10 Yea, [8]ten acres of vineyard shall yield one bath, and the seed of an [9]homer shall yield an ephah.

11 ¶ [10]Woe unto them that rise up early in the morning, that they may follow strong drink; that continue until night, till wine inflame them!

12 And the harp, and the [11]viol, the [12]tabret, and [13]pipe, and wine, are in their feasts: but [e]they regard [14]not the work of the Lord, neither consider the operation of his hands.

13 ¶ [d]Therefore [15]my people are gone into captivity, because they have no knowledge: and their honourable men are famished, and their multitude dried up with thirst.

14 Therefore [16]hell hath enlarged herself, and opened her mouth without measure: and their glory, and their multitude, and their pomp, and he that rejoiceth, shall descend into it.

15 And the mean man shall be brought down, and the mighty man shall be humbled, and the eyes of the lofty shall be humbled:

16 But the Lord of hosts shall be exalted in [17]judgment, and [e]God that is holy shall be sanctified in righteousness.

17 Then [18]shall the lambs feed after their manner, and the waste places of the fat ones shall strangers eat.

18 [19]Woe unto them that draw iniquity with cords of vanity, and sin as it were with a cart rope:

19 That say, Let him make speed, and hasten his work, that we may see it: and let the [20]counsel of the Holy One of Is'ra-el draw nigh and come, that we may know it!

20 ¶ Woe unto them [21]that call evil good, and good evil; that put darkness for light, and light for darkness; that put bitter for sweet, and sweet for bitter!

21 Woe unto them that are [22]wise in their own eyes, and prudent in their own sight!

22 Woe unto them that are mighty to drink wine, and men of strength to mingle strong drink:

23 Which justify the wicked for reward, and take away the righteousness of the righteous from him!

24 Therefore as the [g]fire devoureth the stubble, and the flame consumeth the chaff, so their root shall be as rottenness, and their blossom shall go up as dust: because they have cast away the law of the Lord of hosts, and despised the word of the Holy One of Is'ra-el.

25 Therefore is the anger [h]of the Lord kindled against his people, and he hath stretched forth his hand against them, and hath smitten them: and the hills did tremble, and their carcases were torn in the midst of the streets. For all this his anger [i]is not turned away, but his hand is stretched out still.

26 ¶ [23]And he will [24]lift up an ensign to the nations from far, and will hiss unto them from the end of the earth: and, behold, they shall come with speed swiftly:

27 None shall be weary nor stumble among them; none shall slumber nor sleep; neither shall the girdle of their loins be loosed, nor the latchet of their shoes be broken:

28 Whose arrows are sharp, and all their bows bent, their horses' hoofs shall be counted like flint, and their wheels like a whirlwind:

29 Their roaring shall be like a lion, they shall roar like young lions: yea, they shall roar, and lay hold of the prey, and shall carry it away safe, and none shall deliver it.

30 And in that day they shall roar against them like the roaring of the sea: and if one look unto the land, behold darkness and sorrow, and the light is darkened in the heavens thereof.

[illegible] thy father that hath bought thee? hath he not made thee, and [illegible] (Dt. 32:6.) Hear, O heavens, and give ear, O earth: for the Lord hath spoken, I have nourished and brought up children, and [illegible] rebelled against me (2). The ox knoweth his owner, and the [illegible] r's crib: but Israel doth not know, my people doth not consider (Is. [illegible]).

[illegible] Wherefore [illegible] and new wine take away the heart. (Hos. 4:11.) Because they regard not the works of the Lord, nor the operation of his hands, he shall destroy them, and not build them up. (Ps. 28:5.) Because they turned back from him, and would not consider any of his [illegible] (Job 34:27.)

[illegible] My people are destroyed for lack of knowledge: because thou hast rejected knowledge, I will also reject thee, that thou shalt be no priest to me: [illegible] thou hast forgotten the law of thy God, I will also forget thy children (Hos. 4:6.)

[illegible] And to the angel of the church in Philadelphia write; These things saith he that is holy, he that is true, he that hath the key of David, he that openeth [illegible] and shutteth, and no man openeth (Rev. 3:7.) And the four beasts had each of them six wings about him; and they were full of eyes within: and they rest not day and night, saying, Holy, holy, holy, Lord God Almighty, which was, and is, and is to come (Rev. 4:8.)

f. Be of the same mind one toward another. Mind not high things, but condescend to men of low estate. Be not wise in your own conceits. (Rom. 12:16.) Let no man deceive himself. If any man among you seemeth to be wise in this world, let him become a fool, that he may be wise (I Cor. 3:18.)

g. And in the greatness of thine excellency thou hast overthrown them that rose up against thee: thou sentest forth thy wrath, which consumed them as stubble. (Ex. 15:7.)

h. For, behold, the Lord will come with fire, and with his chariots like a whirlwind, to render his anger with fury, and his rebuke with flames of fire. (Is. 66:15.) Go ye, enquire of the Lord for me, and for the people, and for all Judah, concerning the words of this book that is found: for great is the wrath of the Lord that is kindled against us, because our fathers have not hearkened unto the words of this book, to do according unto all that which is written concerning us (13). Because they have forsaken me, and have burned incense unto other gods, that they might provoke me to anger with all the works of their hands; therefore my wrath shall be kindled against this place, and shall not be quenched. (II Ks. 22:13, 17.)

i. The Syrians before, and the Philistines behind; and they shall devour Israel with open mouth. For all this his anger is not turned away, but his hand is stretched out still (12). Therefore the Lord shall have no joy in their young men, neither shall have mercy on their fatherless and widows: for every one is an hypocrite and an evil-doer; and every mouth speaketh folly. For all this his anger is not turned away, but his hand is stretched out still (17). Manasseh, Ephraim; and Ephraim, Manasseh: and they together shall be against Judah. For all this his anger is not turned away, but his hand is stretched out still. (Is. 9:12, 17, 21.) O Lord, according to all thy righteousness, I beseech thee, let thine anger and thy fury be turned away from thy city Jerusalem, thy holy mountain: because for our sins, and for the iniquities of our fathers, Jerusalem and thy people are become a reproach to all that are about us. (Dan. 9:16.)

2 Above it stood the seraphim: each one had six wings; with twain he covered his face, and with twain he covered his feet, and with twain he did fly.

3 And one cried unto another, and said, Holy, holy, holy, is the Lord of hosts: the whole earth is full of his glory.

4 And the posts of the [b]door moved at the voice of him that cried, and the house was filled with smoke.

5 ¶ Then said I, Woe is me! for I am undone; because I am a man of unclean lips, and I dwell in the midst of a people of unclean lips: for mine eyes have seen the King, the Lord of hosts.

6 Then flew [2]one of the seraphim unto me, [c]having a live coal in his hand, which he had taken with tongs from off [d]the altar:

7 And he laid it [3]upon my mouth, and said, Lo, this hath touched thy lips; and thine iniquity is taken away, and thy sin purged.

8 Also I heard the voice of the Lord, saying, Whom shall I send, [4]and who will go for [c]us? Then said I, Here am I; send me.

9 ¶ And he said, Go, and tell this people, Hear ye indeed, but understand not; and see ye indeed, but perceive not.

10 Make the heart of this people fat, and make their ears heavy, and shut their eyes; lest they see with their eyes, and hear with their ears, and understand with their heart, and convert, and be healed.

11 Then said I, Lord, how long? And he answered, Until the cities be wasted without inhabitant, and the houses without man, and the land be utterly desolate, 12 And the Lord have [f]removed men far away, and there be a great forsaking in the midst of the land.

13 ¶ But yet in it shall be a tenth, and it shall return, and shall be eaten: as a teil tree, and as an oak, whose substance is in them, when they cast their leaves: so the holy seed [c]shall be the substance thereof.

CHAPTER 7.

1 Ahaz, being troubled with fear, is comforted by Isaiah. 10 Ahaz, having liberty to choose a sign, and refusing it, hath for a sign, Christ promised.

1 And it came to pass in the days of Ā'hăz the son of Jō'than, the son of Ŭz-zī'ah, king of Jū'dah, that Rē'zin the king of Sȳr'ī-ȧ, and Pē'kah the son of Rĕm-a-lī'ah, king of Īs'ra-el, went up toward Je-ru'sa-lĕm to war against it, but could not prevail against it.

2 And it was told the house of [1]Dā'vid, saying, Sȳr'ī-ȧ is confederate with Ē'phrăĭm. And his heart was moved, and the heart of his people, as the trees of the wood are moved with the wind.

3 Then said the [2]Lord unto I-ṣā'iah, Go forth now to meet Ā'hăz, thou, and Shĕ'ăr-jā'shŭb thy son, at the end of the conduit of the upper pool in the highway of the fuller's field;

4 And say unto him, Take heed, and be quiet; fear not, neither be fainthearted for the two tails of these smoking firebrands, for the fierce anger of Rē'zin with Sȳr'ī-ȧ, and of the son of Rĕm-a-lī'ah.

5 Because Sȳr'ī-ȧ, Ē'phră-ĭm, and the son of Rĕm-a-lī'ah, have taken evil counsel against thee, saying,

6 Let us go up against Jū'dah, and vex it, and let us make a breach therein for us, and set a king in the midst of it, even the son of Tā'be-al:

7 Thus saith the Lord God, It shall not stand, neither shall it come to pass.

8 For the head of Sȳr'ī-ȧ is Da-mās'cus, and the head of Da-mās'cus is Rē'zin; and within threescore and five years shall Ē'phră-ĭm be broken, that it be not a people.

9 And the head of Ē'phră-ĭm is Sa-mā'rĭ-ȧ, and the head of Sa-mā'rĭ-ȧ is Rĕm-a-lī'ah's son. If ye will not believe, surely ye shall not be established.

10 ¶ Moreover the [2]Lord spake [3]again unto Ā'hăz, saying, 11 Ask thee a [a]sign of the [2]Lord thy God; ask it either in the depth, or in the height above.

12 But Ā'hăz said, I will not ask, neither will I tempt the [2]Lord.

13 And he said, Hear ye now, O house of Dā'vid; It is a small thing for you to weary men, but will ye weary my God also?

14 Therefore the [2]Lord himself shall give you a sign; [b]Behold, a virgin shall conceive, and bear [c]a son, and shall call his name [4]Im-măn'ū-el.

15 [5]Butter and honey shall he eat, that he may know to refuse the evil, and choose the good.

16 For before the child shall know to refuse the evil, and choose the good, the land that thou abhorrest shall be forsaken of [d]both her kings.

17 ¶ The [2]Lord shall bring upon [6]thee, and upon thy people, and upon thy father's [7]house, days that have not come, from the day that Ē'phră-ĭm [e]departed from Jū'dah; even the king of Ās-sȳr'ī-ȧ.

18 And it shall come to pass in that day,

Chapter 6.

a. And he said, Hear thou therefore the word of the Lord: I saw the Lord sitting on his throne, and all the host of heaven standing by him on his right hand and on his left. (I Ks. 22:19.) These things said Esaias, when he saw his glory, and spake of him. (Jno. 12:41.) And immediately I was in the spirit; and, behold, a throne was set in heaven, and one sat on the throne (2). And he that sat was to look upon like a jasper and a sardine stone: and there was a rainbow round about the throne in sight like unto an emerald. (Rev. 4:2, 3.)

b. And the sound of the cherubim's wings was heard even to the outer court, as the voice of the Almighty God when he speaketh. (Ez. 10:5.)

c. Wherefore thus saith the Lord God of hosts, Because ye speak this word, behold, I will make my words in thy mouth fire, and this people wood, and it shall devour them. (Jer. 5:14.) I indeed baptize you with water unto repentance: but he that cometh after me is mightier than I, whose shoes I am not worthy to bear: he shall baptize you with the Holy Ghost, and with fire. (Mat. 3:11.)

d. And another angel came and stood at the altar, having a golden censer; and there was given unto him much incense, that he should offer it with the prayers of all saints upon the golden altar which was before the throne. (Rev. 8:3.)

e. And God said, Let us make man in our image, after our likeness: and let them have dominion over the fish of the sea, and over the fowl of the air, and over the cattle, and over all the earth, and over every creeping thing that creepeth upon the earth. (Gen. 1:26.) The grace of the Lord Jesus Christ, and the love of God, and the communion of the Holy Ghost, be with you all. Amen. (II Cor. 13:14.)

f. And the Lord shall scatter thee among all people, from the one end of the earth even unto the other; and there thou shalt serve other gods, which neither thou nor thy fathers have known, even wood and stone. (Dt. 28:64.)

Chapter 7.

a. And this shall be a sign unto thee, Ye shall eat this year such as groweth of itself; and the second year that which springeth of the same: and in the third year sow ye, and reap, and plant vineyards, and eat the fruit thereof. (Is. 37:30.) Instead of the thorn shall come up the fir tree, and instead of the brier shall come up the myrtle tree: and it shall be to the Lord for a name, for an everlasting sign that shall not be cut off. (Is. 55:13.) And this shall be a sign unto thee, Ye shall eat this year such things as grow of themselves, and in the second year that which springeth of the same; and in the third year sow ye, and reap and plant vineyards, and eat the fruits thereof. (II Ks. 19:29.)

b. Now all this was done, that it might be fulfilled which was spoken of the Lord by the prophet, saying (22), Behold, a virgin shall be with child, and shall bring forth a son, and they shall call his name Emmanuel, which being interpreted is, God with us. (Mat. 1:22, 23.) And, behold, thou shalt conceive in thy womb, and bring forth a son, and shalt call his name Jesus. (Luke 1:31.)

c. For unto us a child is born, unto us a son is given: and the government shall be upon his shoulder: and his name shall be called Wonderful, Counsellor, The mighty God, The everlasting Father, The Prince of Peace. (Is. 9:6.)

d. And Hoshea the son of Elah made a conspiracy against Pekah, the son of Remaliah, and smote him, and slew him, and reigned in his stead, in the twentieth year of Jotham, the son of Uzziah. (II Ks. 15:30.) And the king of Assyria hearkened unto him: for the king of Assyria went up against Damascus, and took it, and carried the people of it captive to Kir and slew Rezin. (II Ks. 16:9.)

e. So when all Israel saw that the king hearkened not unto them, the people answered the king, saying, What portion have we in David? neither have we inheritance in the son of Jesse: to your tents, O Israel: now see to thine own house, David. So Israel departed unto their tents. (I Ks. 12:16.)

[s]that the Lord shall hiss for the fly that is in the uttermost part of the rivers of Ē'gўpt, and for the bee that is in the land of Ās-sўr'ĭ-à.

19 And [s]they shall come, and shall rest all of them in the desolate valleys, and in the holes of the rocks, and upon all thorns, and upon all bushes.

20 In the same day shall the [z]Lord shave with a razor that is hired, namely, by them beyond the [10]river, by the king of Ās-sўr'ĭ-à, the head, and the hair of the feet: and it shall also consume the beard.

21 And it shall came to pass in that day, that a man shall nourish a young cow, and two sheep;

22 And it shall come to pass, for the abundance of milk that they shall give he shall eat butter: for butter and honey shall every one eat that is left in the land.

23 And it shall come to pass in that day, that every place shall be, where there were a thousand vines at a thousand silverlings, it shall even be for [f]briers and thorns.

24 With arrows and with bows shall men come thither; because all the land shall become briers and thorns.

25 And on all hills that shall be digged with the mattock, there shall not come thither the fear of briers and thorns: but it shall be for the sending forth of oxen, and for the treading of [11]lesser cattle.

CHAPTER 8.

1 In Maher-shalal-hash-baz, he prophesieth that Syria and Israel shall be subdued by Assyria. 5 Judah likewise for their infidelity. 11 Comfort shall be to them that fear God.

1 Moreover the Lord said unto me, Take thee a great [1]roll, and write in it with a man's [2]pen concerning [3]Mā'hēr-shăl'al-hăsh'-băz.

2 And I took unto me faithful witnesses to record, Ū-rī'ah the priest, and Zĕch-a-rī'ah the son of Je-bĕr-e-chī'ah.

3 And I went unto the prophetess; and she conceived, and bare a son. Then said the Lord to me, Call his name Mā'hēr-shăl'al-hăsh'-băz.

4 For before the child shall have knowledge to cry, My father, and my mother, the riches of Da-măs'cus and the spoil of Sa-mā'rĭ-à shall be taken away before the king of Ās-sўr'ĭ-à.

5 ¶ The Lord spake also unto me again, saying,

6 Forasmuch as this people refuseth the waters of [a]Shi-lō'ah that go softly, and rejoice in Rē'zin and Rĕm-a-lī'ah's son;

7 Now therefore, [4]behold, the Lord bringeth up upon them the waters [5]of the river, strong and many, even the king of Ās-sўr'ĭ-à, and all his glory: and he shall come up over all his channels, and go over all his banks:

8 And he shall pass through Jū'dah; he shall overflow and go over, he shall reach even to the neck; and the stretching out of his wings shall fill the breadth of thy land, O [b]Ĭm-măn'ū-el.

9 ¶ Associate yourselves, O ye people, and ye shall be broken in pieces; and give ear, all ye of far countries: gird yourselves, and ye shall be broken in pieces; gird yourselves, and ye shall be broken in pieces.

10 Take [c]counsel together, and it shall come to nought; speak the word, and it shall not stand: [d]for God is with us.

11 ¶ For the Lord spake thus to me with a strong hand, and instructed me that I should not walk in the way of this people, saying,

12 Say ye not, A confederacy, to all them to whom this people shall say, A confederacy; [e]neither fear ye their fear, nor be afraid.

13 Sanctify [f]the Lord of hosts himself; and [g]let him be your fear, and let him be your dread.

14 And [h]he shall be for a sanctuary; but for a [i]stone of stumbling and for a rock of offence to both the houses of Ĭs'ra-el, for a [6]gin and for a snare to the inhabitants of Je-rū'sa-lĕm.

15 And many among them shall [j]stumble, and fall, and be broken, and be snared, and be taken.

16 Bind up the testimony, seal the law among my disciples.

17 And I will wait upon the Lord, that hideth his face from the house of Jā'cob, and I will look for him.

18 Behold, I and the children whom the Lord hath given me are for signs and for wonders in Is'ra-el from the Lord of hosts, which dwelleth in mount Zī'ŏn.

19 ¶ And when they shall say unto you, Seek unto them that have familiar spirits, and unto wizards that peep, and that mutter: should not a people seek unto their God? for the living to the dead?

20 To the law and to the testimony: if they speak not according to this word, it is because there is no light in them.

21 And they shall pass through it, hardly bestead and hungry: and it shall come to pass, that when they shall be hungry, they shall fret themselves, and curse their king and their God, and look upward.

22 And they shall look unto the earth; and behold trouble and darkness, dimness of anguish; and they shall be driven to darkness.

a. And said unto him, Go, wash in the pool of Siloam, (which is by interpretation, Sent.) He went his way therefore, and washed, and came seeing. (Jno. 9:7.)

b. And the Word was made flesh, and dwelt among us, (and we beheld his glory, the glory as of the only begotten of the Father,) full of grace and truth. (Jno. 1:14.) And a stone of stumbling, and a rock of offence, even to them which stumble at the word, being disobedient: whereunto also they were appointed. (I Pet. 2:8.)

j. Whosoever shall fall upon that stone shall be broken; but on whomsoever it shall fall, it will grind him to powder. (Luke 20:18.) But the word of the Lord was unto them precept upon precept, precept upon precept; line upon line, line upon line; here a little, and there a little; that they might go, and fall backward, and be broken, and snared, and taken. (Is. 28:13.) And whosoever shall fall on this stone shall be broken: but on whomsoever it shall fall, it will grind him to powder. (Mat. 21:44.) Wherefore? Because they sought it not by faith, but as it were by the works of the law. For they stumbled at that stumblingstone. (Rom. 9:32.)

such as was in her vexation, when at the first he lightly afflicted the land of Zĕb'u-lun and the land of Năph'ta-lī, and afterward did more grievously afflict her by the way of the sea, beyond Jor'dan, in Găl'ī-lēe of the nations.

2 The people [a]that walked in darkness have seen a great light: [2]they that dwell in the land of the shadow of death, upon them hath the light shined.

3 Thou hast multiplied the [3]nation, and not increased the joy: they joy before thee according to the joy in harvest, and as men rejoice when they divide the spoil.

4 For thou hast broken the yoke of his burden, and the staff of his shoulder, the rod of his oppressor, as in the day of [b]Mĭd'ĭ-an.

5 For every battle of the warrior is with confused noise, and garments rolled in blood; but this shall be with burning and fuel of fire.

6 For [c]unto us [4]a child is born, unto us a son is given: and the government shall be upon his shoulder: and his name shall be called Wonderful, [5]Counsellor, [d]The mighty God, The everlasting [6]Father, The Prince of Peace.

8 ¶ The [7]Lord sent a word into Jā'cob, and it hath lighted upon Ĭs'ra-el.

9 And all the people shall know, even Ē'phrā-ĭm and the inhabitant of Sa-mā'rĭ-ā, that say in the pride and stoutness of heart,

10 The bricks are fallen down, but we will build with hewn stones: the sycomores are cut down, but we will change them into cedars.

11 Therefore the Lord shall set up the adversaries of Rē'zĭn against him, and join his enemies together;

12 The Sўr'ĭ-anş before, and the Phĭ-lĭs'tĭnes behind; and they shall devour Ĭs'ra-el with open mouth. For all this his anger is not turned away, but his hand is stretched out still.

13 ¶ For the people turneth not unto him that smiteth them, neither do they seek the Lord of hosts.

14 Therefore the Lord will cut off from Ĭs'ra-el head [8]and tail, branch and rush, in one day.

15 The ancient and honourable, he is the head; and the prophet that teacheth lies, he is the tail.

16 For the leaders of this people cause them to err; and they that are led of them are destroyed.

18 ¶ For wickedness burneth as the fire: it shall devour the briers and thorns, and shall kindle in the thickets of the forest, and they shall mount up like the lifting up of smoke.

19 Through the wrath of the Lord of hosts is the land [11]darkened, and the people shall be as the [12]fuel of the fire: no man shall spare his brother.

20 And he shall snatch on the right hand, and be hungry; and he shall eat on the left hand, [f]and they shall not be satisfied: they shall eat every man the flesh of his own arm:

1 The woe of tyrants. 5 Assyria shall be broken. 20 A remnant of Israel shall be saved. 24 Israel is comforted with promise of deliverance from Assyria.

1 Woe unto them [2]that decree unrighteous [a]decrees, and that write grievousness which they have prescribed;

2 To turn [2]aside the needy from judgment, and to take away the right from the poor of my people, that [b]widows may be their prey, and that they may rob the fatherless!

3 And what will ye do in [c]the day of visitation, and in the desolation which shall come from far? to whom will ye flee for help? and where will ye leave your glory?

4 Without me they shall bow down under the prisoners, and they shall fall under the slain. For all this his anger is not turned away, but his hand is stretched out still.

5 ¶ O Ās-sўr'ĭ-an, the rod of mine anger, and the staff in their hand is mine indignation.

Chapter 9.

a. That it might be fulfilled which was spoken by Esaias the prophet, saying (14), The land of Zabulon and the land of Nephthalim, by the way of the sea, beyond Jordan, Galilee of the Gentiles (15). The people which sat in darkness saw great light; and to them which sat in the region and shadow of death light is sprung up. (Mat. 4:14-16.) For ye were sometimes darkness, but now are ye light in the Lord: walk as children of light (8). Wherefore he saith, Awake thou that sleepest, and arise from the dead, and Christ shall give thee light. (Eph. 5:8, 14.)

b. And the three hundred blew the trumpets, and the Lord set every man's sword against his fellow, even throughout all the host: and the host fled to Beth-shittah in Zererath, and to the border of Abel-meholah, unto Tabbath. (Jud. 7:22.) And the Lord of hosts shall stir up a scourge for him according to the slaughter of Midian at the rock of Oreb: and as his rod was upon the sea, so shall he lift it up after the manner of Egypt. (Is. 10:26.)

c. For unto you is born this day in the city of David a Saviour, which is Christ the Lord. (Luke 2:11.) For he shall grow up before him as a tender plant, and as a root out of a dry ground: he hath no form nor comeliness; and when we shall see him, there is no beauty that we should desire him. (Is. 53:2.) For God so loved the world, that he gave his only begotten Son, that whosoever believeth in him should not perish, but have everlasting life. (Jno. 3:16.) For he must reign, till he hath put all enemies under his feet. (I Cor. 15:25.) And Jesus came and spake unto them, saying, All power is given unto me in heaven and in earth. (Mat. 28:18.)

d. Behold, the days come, saith the Lord, that I will raise unto David a righteous Branch, and a King shall reign and prosper and shall execute judgment and justice in the earth (5). In his days Judah shall be saved, and Israel shall dwell safely: and this is his name whereby he shall be called, THE LORD OUR RIGHTEOUSNESS. (Jer. 23:5, 6.) In the beginning was the Word, and the Word was with God, and the Word was God. (Jno. 1:1.) Looking for that blessed hope, and the glorious appearing of the great God and our Saviour Jesus Christ. (Tit. 2:13.)

e. And in the days of these kings shall the God of heaven set up a kingdom, which shall never be destroyed: and the kingdom shall not be left to other people, but it shall break in pieces and consume all these kingdoms, and it shall stand for ever. (Dan. 2:44.) He shall be great, and shall be called the Son of the Highest: and the Lord God shall give unto him the throne of his father David (32). And he shall reign over the house of Jacob for ever; and of his kingdom there shall be no end. (Luke 1:32, 33.)

f. And when I have broken the staff of your bread, ten women shall bake your bread in one oven, and they shall deliver you your bread again by weight: and ye shall eat, and not be satisfied. (Lev. 26:26.)

Chapter 10.

a. That make a man an offender for a word, and lay a snare for him that reproveth in the gate, and turn aside the just for a thing of nought. (Is. 29:21.) None calleth for justice, nor any pleadeth for truth: they trust in vanity, and speak lies; they conceive mischief: and bring forth iniquity (4). In transgressing and lying against the Lord, and departing away from our God, speaking oppression and revolt, conceiving and uttering from the heart words of falsehood. (Is. 59:4, 13.) Shall the throne of iniquity have fellowship with thee, which frameth mischief by a law? (Ps. 94:20.)

b. The Lord will enter into judgment with the ancients of his people, and the princes thereof: for ye have eaten up the vineyard; the spoil of the poor is in your houses (14). What mean ye that ye beat my people to pieces, and grind the faces of the poor? saith the Lord God of hosts. (Is. 3:14, 15.)

c. And shall lay thee even with the ground, and thy children within thee; and they shall not leave in thee one stone upon another; because thou knewest not the time of thy visitation. (Luke 19:44.)

math as Ar'pad? is not Sa-mā'rĭ-à as Da-măs'cus?

10 As my hand hath found the kingdoms of the idols, and whose graven images did excel them of Je-ru'sa-lĕm and of Sa-mā'rĭ-à;

11 Shall I not, as I have done unto Sa-mā'rĭ-à and her idols, so do to Je-ru'sa-lĕm and her idols?

12 Wherefore it shall come to pass, that when the Lord hath performed his whole [4]work upon mount Zī'ŏn and on Je-ru'sa-lĕm, I will punish the fruit of the stout [5]heart of the king of Ās-sўr'ĭ-à, and the glory of his high looks.

13 For he [d]saith, By the strength of my hand I have done it, and by my wisdom; for I am prudent: and I have removed the bounds of the people, and have robbed their treasures, and I have put down the inhabitants like a valiant man:

14 And my hand hath found as a nest the riches of the people: and as one gathereth eggs that are left, have I gathered all the earth; and there was none that moved the wing, or opened the mouth, or peeped.

15 Shall [e]the ax boast itself against him that heweth therewith? or shall the saw magnify itself against him that shaketh it? as if the rod should shake itself against them that lift it up, or as if the staff should lift up itself, as if it were no wood.

16 Therefore shall the Lord, the Lord [6]of hosts, send among his fat ones leanness; and under his glory he shall kindle a burning like the burning of a fire.

17 And the light of Īs'ra-el shall be for a fire, and his Holy One for a flame: and it shall burn and devour his thorns and his [7]briers in one day;

18 And shall consume the glory of his forest, and of his fruitful field, both soul and body: and they shall be as when a standard-bearer fainteth.

19 And the rest of the trees of his forest shall be few, that a child may write them.

20 ¶ And it shall come to pass in that day, that the remnant of Īs'ra-el, and such as are escaped of the house of Jā'cob, shall no more again stay upon him that smote them; but shall stay upon the Lord, the Holy One of Īs'ra-el, in truth.

21 The remnant shall return, even the remnant of Jā'cob, unto the mighty God.

22 [f]For though thy people Īs'ra-el be as the sand of the sea, yet a remnant of them shall return: the consumption decreed shall overflow with righteousness.

23 For [g]the Lord God of hosts shall make a consumption, even determined, in the midst of all the land.

1. The spirit of Jehovah, spirit by which the prophets spake. Seven gifts of the Holy Spirit are here spoken of (the Bible number indicating perfection), thus implying that the perfection of them was to be in him, viz., the spirit of wisdom, understanding, counsel, might, knowledge and fear of the Lord.

24 ¶ Therefore thus saith the Lord God of hosts, O my people that dwellest in Zī'ŏn, be not afraid of the Ās-sўr'ĭ-an: he shall smite thee with a rod, and shall lift up his staff against thee, after the manner of Ē'gўpt.

25 For yet a very little while, [h]and the indignation shall cease, and mine anger in their destruction.

26 And the Lord of hosts shall stir up [i]a scourge for him according to the slaughter of Mĭd'ĭ-an at the rock of Ō'reb: and as his rod was upon the sea, so shall he lift it up after the manner of Ē'gўpt.

27 And it shall come to pass in that day, that his burden shall be taken away from off thy shoulder, and his yoke from off thy neck, and the yoke shall be destroyed because of [j]the anointing.

28 He is come to A-ī'ath, he is passed to Mĭg'rŏn; at Mĭch'mash he hath laid up his carriages:

29 [8]They are gone over the passage: they have taken up their lodging at Gē'bà; Rā'mah is afraid; Gĭb'e-ah of Saul is fled.

30 Lift up thy voice, O daughter of Găl'lĭm: cause it to be heard unto Lā'ish, O poor Ăn'a-thoth.

31 Măd-mē'nah is removed; the inhabitants of Gē'bim gather themselves to flee.

32 As yet shall he remain at Nŏb that day: he shall shake his hand against the mount of the daughter of Zī'ŏn, the hill of Je-ru'sa-lĕm.

33 Behold, the Lord, the Lord of hosts, shall lop the bough with terror: and the high ones of stature shall be hewn down, and the haughty shall be humbled.

34 And he shall cut down the thickets of the forest with iron, and Lĕb'a-non shall fall by a mighty one.

2 And [c]the spirit of the [1]Lord shall rest upon him, the spirit of wisdom and understanding, the spirit of counsel and might, the spirit of knowledge and of the fear of the Lord;

3 And shall make him of quick understanding in the fear of the Lord: and he shall not judge after the sight of his eyes, neither reprove after the hearing of his ears:

d. By thy servants hast thou reproached the Lord, and hath said, By the multitude of my chariots am I come up to the height of the mountains, to the sides of Lebanon; and will cut down the tall cedars thereof, and the choice fir trees thereof: and I will enter into the height of his border, and the forest of his Carmel. (Is. 37:24.)

e. Thou art my battle ax and weapons of war: for with thee will I break in pieces the nations, and with thee will I destroy kingdoms. (Jer. 51:20.) Nay, but, O man, who art thou that repliest against God? Shall the thing formed say to him that formed it, Why hast thou made me thus? (Rom. 9:20.)

f. And I will bring the third part through the fire, and will refine them as silver is refined, and will try them as gold is tried: and they shall call on my name, and I will hear them: I will say, It is my people: and they shall say, The Lord is my God. (Zech. 13:9.) Esaias also crieth concerning Israel, Though the number of the children of Israel be as the sand of the sea, a remnant shall be saved (27). For he will finish the work, and cut it short in righteousness: because a short work will the Lord make upon the earth. (Rom. 9:27, 28.)

g. And he shall confirm the covenant with many for one week: and in the midst of the week he shall cause the sacrifice and the oblation to cease, and for the overspreading of abomination he shall make it desolate, even until the consummation, and that determined shall be poured upon the desolate. (Dan. 9:27.)

h. And the king shall do according to his will; and he shall exalt himself and magnify himself above every god, and shall speak marvellous things against the God of gods, and shall prosper till the indignation be accomplished: for that that is determined shall be done. (Dan. 11:36.)

i. Then the angel of the Lord went forth and smote in the camp of the Assyrians an hundred and four score and five thousand: and when they arose early in the morning, behold, they were all dead corpses (36). So Sennacherib king of Assyria departed, and went and returned, and dwelt at Nineveh (37). And it came to pass, as he was worshipping in the house at Nisroch his god, that Adrammelech and Sharezer his son smote him with the sword; and they escaped into the land of Armenia: and Esar-haddon his son reigned in his stead. (Is. 37:36-38.)

j. He suffered no man to do them wrong: yea, he reproved kings for their sakes (14): Saying, Touch not mine anointed, and do my prophets no harm. (Ps. 105:14, 15.) For of a truth against thy Holy child Jesus, whom thou hast anointed, both Herod, and Pontius Pilate, with the Gentiles, and the people of Israel, were gathered together. (Acts 4:27.)

a. For he shall grow up before him as a tender plant, and as a root out of a dry ground: he hath no form nor comeliness; and when we shall see him, there is no beauty that we should desire him. (Is. 53:2.) And speak unto him, saying, Thus speaketh the Lord of hosts, saying, Behold the man whose name is The BRANCH; and he shall grow up out of his place, and he shall build the temple of the Lord. (Zech. 6:12.)

b. Behold, the days come, saith the Lord, that I will raise unto David a righteous Branch, and a King shall reign and prosper and shall execute judgment and justice in the earth. (Jer. 23:5.) Hear now, O Joshua the high priest, thou, and thy fellows that sit before thee: for they are men wondered at: for, behold, I will bring forth my servant The BRANCH. (Zech. 3:8.)

c. And Jesus, when he was baptized, went up straightway out of the water; and lo, the heavens were opened unto him, and he saw the Spirit of God descending like a dove, and lighting upon him. (Mat. 3:16.) And John bare record, saying, I saw the Spirit descending from heaven like a dove, and it abode upon him. (Jno. 1:32.)

d. He shall judge thy people with righteousness, and thy poor with judgment (2). He shall judge the poor of the people, he shall save the

the earth: and he shall [c]smite the earth with the rod of his mouth, and with the breath of his lips shall he slay the wicked.

5 And [f]righteousness shall be the girdle of his loins, and faithfulness the girdle of his reins.

6 The [g]wolf also shall dwell with the lamb, and the leopard shall lie down with the kid; and the calf and the young lion and the fatling together; and a little child shall lead them.

7 And the cow and the bear shall feed; their young ones shall lie down together: and the lion shall eat straw like the ox.

8 And the sucking child shall play on the hole of the asp, and the weaned child shall put his hand on the [2]cockatrice' den.

9 They shall not hurt nor destroy in all my holy mountain: for [h]the earth shall be full of the [3]knowledge of the [1]Lord, as the waters cover the sea.

10 ¶ And in that day there shall be a root of Jĕs'se, which shall stand for an ensign of the people; to it shall the Gen'tīles [i]seek: and his rest shall be glorious.

11 And it shall come to pass in that day, that the [1]Lord shall set his hand again the second time to recover the remnant of his people, which shall be left, [j]from Ăs-sўr'ĭ-à, and from Ē'gўpt, and from Păth'ros, and from Cŭsh, and from Ē'lăm, and from Shĭ'när, and from Hā'math, and from the islands of the sea.

12 And he shall set up an ensign for the nations, and shall assemble the outcasts of Ĭs'ra-el, and gather together [k]the dispersed of Jū'dah from the four corners of the earth.

13 The envy also of Ē'phrā-ĭm shall depart, and the adversaries of Jū'dah shall be cut off: Ē'phrā-ĭm shall not envy Jū'dah, and Jū'dah shall not vex Ē'phrā-ĭm.

14 But they shall fly upon the shoulders of the Phĭ-lĭs'tĭnes toward the west; they shall spoil them of the east together: they shall lay their hand upon Ē'dom and Mō'ab; and the children of Ām'mŏn shall obey them.

15 And the Lord shall utterly destroy [l]the tongue of the E-gўp'tian sea; and with his mighty wind shall he shake his hand over the river, and shall smite it in the seven streams, and make men go over dryshod.

16 And there shall be an highway for the remnant of his people, which shall be left, from Ăs-sўr'ĭ-à; like as [m]it was to Ĭs'ra-el in the day that he came up out of the land of Ē'gўpt.

Ch. 12. B. C. 713.

1. This ch. is a thanksgiving hymn of the restored and converted Jew.

1 [1]And [a]in that day thou shalt say, O Lord, I will praise thee: though thou wast angry with me, thine anger is turned away, and thou comfortedst me.

2 Behold, God is my salvation; I will trust, and not be afraid: for the Lord JE-HŌ'VAH [b]is my strength and my song; he also is become my salvation.

children of the needy, and shall break in pieces the oppressor. (Ps. 72:2, 4.) Before the Lord; for he cometh to judge the earth: with righteousness shall he judge the world, and the people with equity. (Ps. 98:9.) Judge not according to the appearance, but judge righteous judgment. (Jno. 7:24.) He is the Rock, his work is perfect: for all his ways are judgment: a God of truth and without iniquity, just and right is he. (Dt. 32:4.) The Lord is righteous in all his ways, and holy in all his works. (Ps. 145:17.) Justice and judgment are the habitation of thy throne: mercy and truth shall go before thy face. (Ps. 89:14.) The fear of the Lord is clean, enduring for ever: the judgments of the Lord are true and righteous altogether. (Ps. 19:9.) Therefore the Lord hath recompensed me according to my righteousness; according to my cleanness in his eyesight (25). With the merciful thou wilt show thyself merciful, and with the upright man thou wilt show thyself upright (26). With the pure thou wilt show thyself pure; and with the froward thou wilt show thyself unsavory. (II Sam. 22:25-27.) Thy righteousness also, O God, is very high, who hast done great things: O God, who is like unto thee! (Ps. 71:19.)

e. And he shall turn the heart of the fathers to the children, and the heart of the children to their fathers, lest I come and smite the earth with a curse. (Mal. 4:6.) And then shall that Wicked be revealed, whom the Lord shall consume with a spirit in his mouth, and shall destroy with the brightness of his coming. (II Thes. 2:8.)

f. Stand therefore, having your loins girt about with truth, and having on the breastplate of righteousness. (Eph. 6:14.)

g. And in that day will I make a covenant for them with the beasts of the field, and with the fowls of heaven, and with the creeping things of the ground: and I will break the bow and the sword and the battle out of the earth and will make them to lie down safely. (Hos. 2:18.)

h. For the earth shall be filled with the knowledge of the glory of the Lord, as the waters cover the sea. (Hab. 2:14.) The Lord hath made bare his holy arm in the eyes of all the nations; and all the ends of the earth shall see the salvation of our God. (Is. 52:10.) The Lord hath made known his salvation: his righteousness hath he openly showed in the sight of the heathen (2). He hath remembered his mercy and his truth toward the house of Israel: all the ends of the earth have seen the salvation of our God. (Ps. 98:2, 3.)

i. And again he saith, Rejoice, ye Gentiles, with his people. (Rom. 15:10.) And without controversy great is the mystery of godliness: God was manifest in the flesh, justified in the Spirit, seen of angels, preached unto the Gentiles, believed on in the world, received up into glory. (I Tim. 3:16.)

j. I will bring them again also out of the land of Egypt, and gather them out of Assyria; and I will bring them into the land of Gilead and Lebanon; and place shall not be found for them. (Zech. 10:10.)

k. Then saith the Jews among themselves, Whither will he go, that we shall not find him? will he go unto the dispersed among the Gentiles, and teach the Gentiles? (Jno. 7:35.)

l. Thus saith the Lord, which maketh a way in the sea, and a path in the mighty waters. (Is. 43:16.) That saith to the deep, Be dry and I will dry up thy rivers. (Is. 44:27.) Wherefore, when I came, was there no man? when I called, was there none to answer? Is my hand shortened at all, that it cannot redeem? or have I no power to deliver? behold, at my rebuke I dry up the sea, I make the rivers a wilderness: their fish stinketh, because there is no water, and dieth for thirst. (Is. 50:2.)

m. But the children of Israel walked upon dry land in the midst of the sea; and the waters were a wall unto them on their right hand, and on their left. (Ex. 14:29.) Art thou not it which hath dried the sea, the waters of the great deep; that hath made the depths of the sea a way for the ransomed to pass over? (Is. 51:10.) Then he remembered the days of old, Moses, and his people, saying, Where is he that brought them up out of the sea with the shepherd of his flock? where is he that put his Holy Spirit within him? (11). That led them by the right hand of Moses with his glorious arm, dividing the water before them, to make himself an everlasting name? (12). That led them through the deep, as an horse in the wilderness, that they should not stumble? (Is. 63:11-13.)

Chapter 12.

a. The lofty looks of man shall be humbled, and the haughtiness of men shall be bowed down, and the Lord alone shall be exalted in that day. (Is. 2:11.)

b. He trusted on the Lord that he would deliver him: let him deliver him, seeing he delighted in him. (Ps. 22:8.) Pull me out of the net that they have laid privily for me: for thou art my strength. (Ps. 31:4.) The Lord is my rock, and my fortress, and my deliverer: my God, and my strength, in whom I will trust; my buckler, and the horn of my salvation, and my high tower. (Ps. 18:2.) The Lord is my light and my salvation; whom shall I fear? the Lord is the strength of my life; of whom shall I be afraid? (Ps. 27:1.) But the salvation of the righteous is of the Lord: he is their strength in the time of trouble. (Ps. 37:39.)

c. Jesus answered and said unto her, If thou knewest the gift of God, and who it is that saith to thee, Give me to drink; thou wouldest have asked of him, and he would have given thee living water (10). But whosoever drinketh of the water that I shall give him shall never thirst; but the water that I shall give him shall be in him a well of water springing up into everlasting life. (Jno. 4:10, 14.) In the last day, that great day of the feast, Jesus stood and cried, saying, If any man thirst, let him come unto me, and drink (37). He that believeth on me, as the scripture hath said, out of his belly shall flow rivers of living water. (Jno. 7:37, 38.)

d. Break forth into joy, sing together, ye waste places of Jerusalem: for the Lord hath comforted his people, he hath redeemed Jerusalem. (Is. 52:9.) Sing, O barren, thou that didst not bear; break forth into singing, and cry aloud, thou that didst not travail with child: for more are the children of the desolate than the children of the married wife, saith the Lord. (Is. 54:1.) Sing, O daughter of Zion; shout, O Israel; be glad and rejoice with all the heart, O daughter of Jerusalem. (Zeph. 3:14.) anger, even them that rejoice in my highness.

4 The noise of a multitude in the mountains, like as of a great people; a tumultuous noise of the kingdoms of nations gathered together: the Lord of hosts mustereth the host of the battle.
5 They come from a far country, from the end of heaven, even the Lord, and the weapons of his indignation, to destroy the whole land.
6 ¶ Howl ye; [a]for the day of the Lord is at hand; it shall come as a destruction from the Almighty.
7 Therefore shall all hands be faint, and every man's heart shall melt:
8 And they shall be [2]afraid: pangs and sorrows shall take hold of them; they shall be in pain as a woman that travaileth: they shall be amazed one at another; their faces shall be as flames.
9 Behold, [b]the day of the Lord cometh, cruel both with wrath and a fierce anger, to lay the land desolate: and he shall destroy the sinners thereof out of it.
10 [1]For the stars of heaven and the constellations thereof shall not give their light: the sun shall be [c]darkened in his going forth, and the moon shall not cause her light to shine.
11 And I will punish [3]the [d]world for their evil, and the [e]wicked for their iniquity; and I will cause the [4]arrogancy [f]of the proud to cease, and will lay low the haughtiness of the [5]terrible.
12 I will make a man more [6]precious than fine gold; even a man than the golden wedge of Ō'phīr.
13 [7]Therefore [g]I will shake the heavens, and the earth shall remove out of her place, in the wrath of the Lord of hosts, and in the day of his fierce anger.
14 And [8]it shall be as the [9]chascd roe, and as a sheep that no man taketh up: they shall every man turn to his own people, and flee every one into his own land.
15 Every one that is found shall be thrust through; and every one that is joined unto them shall fall by the sword.
16 Their children also shall be dashed [h]to pieces before their eyes; their houses shall be spoiled, and their wives ravished.
17 Behold, [i]I will stir up the Mēdes against them, which shall not regard silver; and as for gold, they shall not delight in it.
18 Their bows also shall dash the young men to pieces; and they shall have no pity on the fruit of the womb; their eye shall not spare children.
19 ¶ And Băb'ў-lon, the glory of kingdoms, the beauty of the Chăl'dees' excellency, shall be as when God overthrew Sŏd'om and Gomŏr'rah.
20 [j]It shall never be inhabited, neither shall it be dwelt in from generation to generation: neither shall the A-rā'bī-an pitch tent there; neither shall the shepherds make their fold there.
21 But wild beasts of the desert shall lie there; and their houses shall be full of doleful creatures; and [10]owls shall dwell there, and [11]satyrs shall dance there.
22 And the wild beasts of the islands shall cry in their desolate houses, and [12]dragons in their pleasant palaces: and her time is near [k]to come, and her days shall not be prolonged.

2 And the people shall take them, and bring them to their place: and the house of [5]Is'ra-el shall [6]possess them in the land of the Lord for servants and handmaids: and they shall take them [7]captive, whose captives they were; and they shall rule over their oppressors.
3 [8]And it shall come to pass in the day that the Lord shall give thee rest from thy sorrow, and from thy fear, and from the hard bondage wherein thou wast made to serve,

Chapter 13.
a. Upon the four and twentieth day of the eleventh month, which is the month Sebat, in the second year of Darius, came the word of the Lord unto Zechariah, the son of Berechiah, the son of Iddo the prophet, saying. (Zech. 1:7.) For yourselves know perfectly that the day of the Lord so cometh as a thief in the night. (I Thes. 5:2.)
b. For, behold, the day cometh, that shall burn as an oven; and all the proud, yea, and all that do wickedly, shall be stubble: and the day that cometh shall burn them up, saith the Lord of hosts, that it shall leave them neither root nor branch. (Mal. 4:1.) For, behold, the Lord will come with fire, and with his chariots like a whirlwind, to render his anger with fury, and his rebuke with flames of fire. For by fire and by his sword will the Lord plead with all flesh: and the slain of the Lord shall be many. (Is. 66:15, 16.)
c. Immediately after the tribulation of those days shall the sun be darkened, and the moon shall not give her light, and the stars shall fall from heaven, and the powers of the heaven shall be shaken. (Mat. 24:29.)
d. And it came to pass in those days that there went out a decree from Caesar Augustus, that all the world should be taxed. (Luke 2:1.)
e. Woe unto the wicked! it shall be ill with him: for the reward of his hands shall be given him. (Is. 3:11.) But with righteousness shall he judge the poor, and reprove with equity for the meek of the earth: and he shall smite the earth with the rod of his mouth, and with the breath of his lips shall he slay the wicked. (Is. 11:4.) The Lord hath broken the staff of the wicked, and the sceptre of the rulers. (Is. 14:5.)
f. The lofty looks of man shall be humbled, and the haughtiness of men shall be bowed down, and the Lord alone shall be exalted in that day. (Is. 2:11.) The Lord of hosts hath purposed it, to stain the pride of all glory, and to bring into contempt all the honorable of the earth. (Is. 23:9.) And thou his son, O Belshazzar, hast not humbled thine heart, though thou knewest all this; but hast lifted up thyself against the Lord of heaven; and they have brought the vessels of his house before thee, and thou, and thy lords, thy wives, and thy concubines, have drunk wine in them; and thou hast praised the gods of silver, and gold, of brass, iron, wood, and stone, which see not, nor hear, nor know: and the God in whose hand thy breath is, and whose are all thy ways, thou hast not glorified. (Dan. 5:22, 23.)
g. For thus saith the Lord of hosts; Yet once, it is a little while, and I will shake the heavens, and the earth, and the sea, and the dry land. (Hag. 2:6.) Lift up your eyes to the heavens, and look upon the earth beneath: for the heavens shall vanish away like smoke, and the earth shall wax old like a garment, and they that dwell therein shall die in like manner: but my salvation shall be for ever, and my righteousness shall not be abolished. (Is. 51:6.)
h. Yet was she carried away, she went into captivity: her young children also were dashed in pieces at the top of all the streets: and they cast lots for her honorable men, and all her great men were bound in chains. (Nah. 3:10.)
i. Make bright the arrows; gather the shields: the Lord hath raised up the spirit of the kings of the Medes: for his device is against Babylon, to destroy it: because it is the vengeance of the Lord, the vengeance of his temple. (Jer. 51:11.) A grievous vision is declared unto me; the treacherous dealer dealeth treacherously, and the spoiler spoileth. Go up, O Elam: besiege, O Media; all the sighing thereof have I made to cease. (Is. 21:2.)
j. For out of the north there cometh up a nation against her, which shall make her land desolate, and none shall dwell therein: they shall remove, they shall depart, both man and beast. (Jer. 50:3.) It shall not be quenched night nor day; the smoke thereof shall go up for ever: from generation to generation it shall lie a waste; none shall pass through it for ever and ever (10). But the cormorant and the bittern shall possess it; the owl also and the raven shall dwell in it: and he shall stretch out upon it the line of confusion, and the stones of emptiness (11). They shall call the nobles thereof to the kingdom, but none shall be there, and all her princes shall be nothing (12). And thorns shall come up in her palaces, nettles and brambles in the fortresses thereof: and it shall be an habitation of dragons, and a court for owls (13). The wild beasts of the desert shall also meet with the wild beasts of the island, and the satyr shall cry to his fellow; the screech owl also shall rest there and find for herself a place of rest (14). There shall the great owl make her nest, and lay and hatch, and gather under her shadow: there shall the vultures also be gathered, every one with her mate. (Is. 34:10-15.)
k. For thus saith the Lord of hosts, the God of Israel; The daughter of Babylon is like a threshing-floor, it is time to thresh her: yet a little while, and the time of her harvest shall come. (Jer. 51:33.)
Chapter 14.
a. Cry yet, saying, Thus saith the Lord of hosts, My cities through prosperity shall yet be spread abroad; and the Lord shall yet comfort Zion, and shall yet choose Jerusalem. (Zech. 1:17.) Sing and rejoice, O daughter of Zion: for lo, I come, and I will dwell in the midst of thee, saith the Lord (10). And many nations shall be joined to the Lord in that day, and shall be my people; and I will dwell in the midst of thee, and thou shalt know that the Lord of hosts hath sent me unto thee (11). And the Lord shall inherit Judah, his portion in the holy land, and shall choose Jerusalem again. (Zech. 2:10-12.)
b. That at that time ye were without Christ, being aliens from the commonwealth of Israel, and strangers from the covenants of promise, having no hope, and without God in the world (12). But now in Christ Jesus ye who sometimes were far off are made nigh by the blood of Christ (13). For he is our peace, who hath made both one, and hath broken down the middle wall of partition between us. (Eph. 2:12-14.)
c. Shall not all these take up a parable against him, and a taunting against the king of Băb'ў-lon, and say, How hath the oppressor ceased! the golden city ceased!

5 The Lord hath broken the staff of the wicked, and the sceptre of the rulers.

6 He who smote the people in wrath with a continual stroke, he that ruled the nations in anger, is persecuted, and none hindereth.

7 The whole earth is at rest, and is quiet: they break forth into singing.

8 Yea, [d]the fir trees rejoice at thee, and the cedars of Lĕb'a-non, saying, Since thou art laid down, no feller is come up against us.

9 Hell [9]from beneath is moved for thee to meet thee at thy coming: it stirreth up the dead for thee, even all the chief ones of the earth; it hath raised up from their thrones all the kings of the nations.

10 All they shall speak and say unto thee, Art thou also become weak as we? art thou become like unto us?

11 Thy pomp is brought down to the grave, and the noise of thy viols: the worm is spread under thee, and the worms cover thee.

12 How art thou fallen from heaven, O Lu'-cĭ-fĕr, son of the morning! how art thou cut down to the ground, which didst weaken the nations!

13 For thou hast said in thine heart, I will ascend into [10]heaven, I will exalt my throne above the stars of God: I will sit also upon the mount of the congregation, in the sides of the north:

14 I will ascend above the heights of the clouds; [e]I will be like the most High.

15 Yet thou [f]shalt be brought down to [g]hell, to the sides of the pit.

16 They that see thee shall narrowly look upon thee, and consider thee, saying, Is this the man that made the earth to tremble, that did shake kingdoms;

17 That made the world as a wilderness, and destroyed the cities thereof; that opened not the house of his prisoners?

18 All the kings of the nations, even all of them, lie in glory, every one in his own house.

19 But thou art cast out of thy grave like an abominable branch, and as the raiment of those that are slain, thrust through with a sword, that go down to the stones of the pit; as a carcase trodden under feet.

20 Thou shalt not be joined with them in burial, because thou hast destroyed thy land, and slain thy people: the seed of evildoers shall never be renowned.

21 Prepare slaughter for his children [h]for the iniquity of their fathers; that they do not rise, nor possess the land, nor fill the face of the world with cities.

9. Sheol. The Hebrew renders this verse, "The kingdom of the dead below is all in an uproar on account of thee, to meet thee at thy coming."

10. An allusion to the tower of Babel. (Gen. 11:4.)

Ch. 15. B. C. 726.

1. The prophecy of this ch. is doubtless generic, as it covers the character of Moab for at least two centuries.

2. Examples of mourning, humiliation.

22 For I will rise up against them, saith the Lord of hosts, and cut off from Băb'ў-lon the name, and remnant, [i]and son, and nephew, saith the Lord.

23 I will also make it a possession for the bittern, and pools of water: and I will sweep it with the besom of destruction, saith the Lord of hosts.

24 ¶ The Lord of hosts hath sworn, saying, Surely as I have thought, so shall it come to pass; and as I have purposed, so shall it stand:

25 That I will break the Ās-sўr'ĭ-an in my land, and upon my mountains tread him under foot: then shall his yoke depart from off them, and his burden depart from off their shoulders.

26 This is the purpose that is purposed upon the whole earth: and this is the hand that is stretched out upon all the nations.

27 For the Lord of hosts hath [j]purposed, and who shall disannul it? and his hand is stretched out, and who shall turn it back?

28 In the year that king Ā'hăz died was this burden.

29 ¶ Rejoice not thou, whole Păl-es-tī'nà, because the rod of him that smote thee is broken: for out of the serpent's root shall come forth a cockatrice, and his fruit shall be a fiery flying serpent.

30 And the firstborn of the poor shall feed, and the needy shall lie down in safety: and I will kill thy root with famine, and he shall slay thy remnant.

31 Howl, O gate; cry, O city; thou, whole Păl-es-tī'nà, art dissolved: for there shall come from the north a smoke, and none shall be alone in his appointed times.

32 What shall one then answer the messengers of the nation? That the Lord hath founded Zī'ŏn, and the poor of his people shall [k]trust in it.

CHAPTER 15.

The lamentable state of Moab.

1 The [1]burden [a]of Mō'ab. Because in the night Ār of Mō'ab is laid waste, and brought to silence; because in the night Kīr of Mō'ab is laid waste, and brought to silence;

2 He is gone up to Bā'jith, and to Dī'bŏn, the high places, to weep: Mō'ab shall howl over Nē'bo, and over Mĕd'e-bà: on all their heads shall be baldness, and every beard cut off.

3 In their streets they shall gird themselves with [2]sackcloth: on the tops of their houses, and in their streets, every one shall howl, weeping abundantly.

4 And [3]Hĕsh'bŏn shall cry, and Ē-le-ā'leh: their voice shall be heard even unto Jā'hăz:

proverb against him, and say, Woe to him that increaseth that which is not his! how long? and to him that ladeth himself with thick clay! (Hab. 2:6.)

d. I made the nations to shake at the sound of his fall, when I cast him down to hell with them that descended into the pit: and all the trees of Eden, the choice and best of Lebanon, all that drink water, shall be comforted in the nether parts of the earth. (Ez. 31:16.)

e. Therefore hear now this, thou that art given to pleasures, that dwellest carelessly, that sayest in his heart, I am, and none else beside me; I shall not sit as a widow, neither shall I know the loss of children. (Is. 47:8.) Who opposeth and exalteth himself above all that is called God or that is worshipped: so that he as God sitteth in the temple of God, showing himself that he is God. (II Thes. 2:4.)

f. And the beast was taken, and with him the false prophet that wrought miracles before him, with which he deceived them that had received the mark of the beast, and them that worshipped his image. These both were cast alive into a lake of fire, burning with brimstone. (Rev. 19:20.)

g. And his tail drew the third part of the stars of heaven, and did cast them to the earth: and the dragon stood before the woman which was ready to be delivered, for to devour her child as soon as it was born (4). And she brought forth a man child, who was to rule all nations with a rod of iron: and her child was caught up unto God, and to his throne (5). And the woman fled into the wilderness, where she hath a place prepared of God, that they should feed her there a thousand two hundred and threescore days (6). And there was war in heaven: Michael and his angels fought against the dragon; and the dragon fought and his angels (7). And prevailed not; neither was their place found any more in heaven (8). And the great dragon was cast out, that old serpent, called the Devil and Satan, which deceiveth the whole world: he was cast out into the earth, and his angels were cast out with him. (Rev. 12:4-9.)

h. His remembrance shall perish from the earth, and he shall have no name in the street (17). He shall neither have son nor nephew among his people, nor any remaining in his dwellings. (Job. 18:17, 19.) Their fruit shalt thou destroy from the earth, and their seed from among the children of men. (Ps. 21:10.) For the Lord loveth judgment, and forsaketh not his saints; they are preserved for ever: but the seed of the wicked shall be cut off. (Ps. 37:28.)

i. He shall neither have son nor nephew among his people, nor any remaining in his dwellings. (Job 18:19.) That upon you may come all the righteous blood shed upon the earth, from the blood of righteous Abel unto the blood of Zacharias son of Barachias, whom ye slew between the temple and the altar. (Mat. 23:35.)

j. And said, O Lord God of our fathers, art not thou God in heaven? and rulest not thou over all the kingdoms of the heathen? and in thine hand is there not power and might, so that none is able to withstand thee? (II Chr. 20:6.) While the word was in the king's mouth, there fell a voice from heaven, saying, O king Nebuchadnezzar, to thee it is spoken; The kingdom is departed from thee. (Dan. 4:31.)

k. I will also leave in the midst of thee an afflicted and poor people, and they shall trust in the name of the Lord. (Zeph. 3:12.) And it was broken in that day: and so the poor of the flock that waited upon me knew that it was the word of the Lord. (Zech. 11:11.)

Chapter 15.

a. Against Moab thus saith the Lord of hosts, the God of Israel; Woe unto Nebo: for it is spoiled: Kiriathaim is confounded, and taken: Misgah is confounded and dismayed. (Jer. 48:1.) Thus saith the Lord; for three transgressions of Moab, and for four, I will not turn away the punishment thereof; because he burned the bones of the king of Edom into lime. (Amos. 2:1.)

therefore the armed soldiers of Mō'ab shall cry out; his life shall be grievous unto him.

5 My heart shall cry out for Mō'ab; his fugitives shall flee unto Zō'ar, an heifer of three years old: for by the [b]mounting up of Lu'hith with weeping shall they go it up; for in the way of Hōr-o-nā'im they shall raise up a cry of destruction.

6 For the waters of [4]Nim'rim shall be desolate: for the hay is withered away, the grass faileth, there is no green thing.

7 Therefore the abundance they have gotten, and that which they have laid up, shall they carry away to the brook of the willows.

8 For the cry is gone round about the borders of Mō'ab; the howling thereof unto Ēg'-la-īm, and the howling thereof unto Bē'er-ē'-lim.

9 For the waters of Dī'mon shall be full of blood: for I will bring more upon Dī'mon, lions upon him that escapeth of Mō'ab, and upon the remnant of the land.

CHAPTER 16.

1 Moab is exhorted to yield obedience to Christ's kingdom. 6 Moab is threatened for her pride. 12 The judgment of Moab.

1 [a]Send [1]ye the lamb to the ruler of the land from Sē'lā to the wilderness, unto the mount of the daughter of Zī'ŏn.

2 [2]For it shall be, that, as a wandering bird cast out of the nest, so the daughters of [3]Mō'ab shall be at the fords of Är'nŏn.

3 Take [4]counsel, [b]execute judgment; make thy shadow as the night in the midst of the noonday; hide the outcasts; bewray not him that wandereth.

4 Let mine outcasts dwell with thee, Mō'ab; be thou a covert to them from the face of the spoiler: for the extortioner is at an end, the spoiler ceaseth, the oppressors are consumed out of the land.

5 And in mercy [c]shall the throne be established: and he shall sit upon it in truth in the tabernacle of Dā'vid, judging, and seeking judgment, and hasting righteousness.

6 ¶ We have heard of the [d]pride of Mō'ab; he is very proud: even of his haughtiness, and his pride, and his wrath: but his lies shall not be so.

7 Therefore shall Mō'ab howl for Mō'ab, every one shall howl: for the foundations [e]of Kīr-hăr'e-sĕth shall ye mourn; surely they are stricken.

8 For the fields of Hĕsh'bŏn languish, and the vine of Sīb'mah: the lords of the heathen have broken down the principal plants thereof, they are come even unto Jā'zēr, they wandered through the wilderness: her branches are stretched out, they are gone over the sea.

9 ¶ Therefore I will bewail with the weeping of Jā'zēr the vine of Sīb'mah: I will water thee with my tears, O Hĕsh'bon, and Ē-le-ā'-leh: for the shouting for thy summer fruits and for thy harvest is fallen.

10 And gladness is taken away, and joy out of the plentiful field; and in the vineyards there shall be no singing, neither shall there be shouting: the treaders shall tread out no wine in their presses; I have made their vintage shouting to cease.

11 Wherefore [5]my bowels shall sound like an [c]harp for Mō'ab, and mine inward parts for Kīr-hā'resh.

12 ¶ And it shall come to pass, when it is seen that Mō'ab is weary on [f]the high place, that he shall come to his sanctuary to pray; but he shall not prevail.

13 This is the word that the Lord hath spoken concerning Mō'ab since that time.

14 But now the Lord hath spoken, saying, Within three years, as the years of an hireling, and the glory of Mō'ab shall be contemned, with all that great multitude; and the remnant shall be very small and feeble.

CHAPTER 17.

1 Syria and Israel are threatened. 6 A remnant shall forsake idolatry. 9 The rest shall be plagued for their impiety.

1 The [1]burden [a]of Da-măs'cus. Behold, Da-măs'cus is taken [2]away from being a city, and it shall be a ruinous heap.

2 The cities of Ār'ō-ēr are forsaken: they shall be for flocks, which shall lie down, and none shall make them afraid.

3 [b]The fortress also shall cease from Ē'phrā-ĭm, and the kingdom from Da-măs'cus, and the remnant of Sўr'ī-ā: they shall be as the glory of the children of Īs'ra-el, saith the Lord of hosts.

4 And in that day it shall come to pass, that the glory of [3]Jā'cob shall be made thin, and the fatness of his flesh shall wax lean.

5 And [c]it shall be as when the harvestman gathereth the corn, and reapeth the ears with his arm; and it shall be as he that gathereth ears in the valley of Rĕph'a-ĭm.

6 ¶ Yet gleaning grapes shall be left in it, as the shaking of an olive tree, two or three berries in the top of the uppermost bough, four or five in the outmost fruitful branches thereof, saith the Lord God of Īs'ra-el.

7 At that [4]day shall a man [d]look to his Maker, and his eyes shall have respect to the Holy One of Īs'ra-el.

8 And he shall not look to the altars, the work of his hands, neither shall respect that which his fingers have made, either the groves, or the images.

9 ¶ In that day shall his strong cities be as a forsaken bough, and an uppermost branch,

This shall they have for their pride, because they have reproached and magnified themselves against the people of the Lord of hosts. (Zeph. 2:10.)

e. And they beat down the cities, and on every good piece of land cast every man his stone, and filled it; and they stopped all the wells of water, and felled all the good trees: only in Kir-haraseth left they the stones thereof; howbeit the slingers went about it, and smote it. (II Ks. 3:25.) Remember, O Lord, the children of Edom in the day of Jerusalem; who said, Raze it, raze it, even to the foundation thereof. (Ps. 137:7.)

f. Moreover I will cause to cease in Moab, saith the Lord, him that offereth in the high places, and him that burneth incense to his gods. (Jer. 48:35.) He is gone up to Bajith, and to Dibon, the high places, to weep: Moab shall howl over Nebo, and over Medeba: on all their heads shall be baldness, and every beard cut off. (Is. 15:2.)

Chapter 17.

a. Fulfilled 740 B. C.

And the king of Assyria hearkened unto him: for the king of Assyria went up against Damascus, and took it, and carried the people of it captive to Kir, and slew Rezin. (II Ks. 16:9.) Thus saith the Lord; For three transgressions of Damascus, and for four, I will not turn away the punishment thereof; because they have threshed Gilead with threshing instruments of iron. (Amos 1:3.) The burden of the word of the Lord in the land of Hadrach, and Damascus shall be the rest thereof: when the eyes of man, as of all the tribes of Israel, shall be toward the Lord. (Zech. 9:1.)

b. And the carcasses of this people shall be meat for the fowls of the heaven, and for the beasts of the earth; and none shall fray them away. (Jer. 7:33.)

c. For thus saith the Lord of hosts, the God of Israel; The daughter of Babylon is like a threshing-floor, it is time to thresh her: yet a little while, and the time of her harvest shall come. (Jer. 51:33.)

d. I will go and return to my place, till they acknowledge their offence, and seek my face: in their affliction they will seek me early. (Hos. 5:15.) Come, and let us return unto the Lord: for he hath torn, and he will heal us; he hath smitten, and he will bind us up. (Hos. 6:1.) Therefore I will look unto the Lord; I will wait for the God of my salvation: my God will hear me. (Mic. 7:7.)

which they left because of the children of Is'-ra-el: and there shall be desolation.

10 [e]Because thou hast forgotten the God of thy salvation, and hast not been mindful of the rock [f]of thy strength, therefore shalt thou plant pleasant plants, and shalt set it with strange slips:

11 In the day shalt thou make thy plant to grow, and in the morning shalt thou make thy seed to flourish: but the harvest shall be a heap in the day of grief and of desperate sorrow.

12 ¶ Woe to the multitude of many people, which make a noise like the noise of the seas; and to the rushing of nations, that make a rushing like the rushing of [g]mighty waters!

13 The nations shall rush like the rushing of many waters: but God shall rebuke them, and they shall flee far off, and shall be chased as the chaff of the mountains before the wind, and like a rolling thing before the whirlwind.

14 And behold at eveningtide trouble; and before the morning he is not. This is [h]the portion of them that spoil us, and the lot of them that rob us.

CHAPTER 18.

1 God in care of his people will destroy the Ethiopians. 7 An access thereby shall grow unto the church.

1 Woe [1]to the land shadowing with wings, which is beyond the rivers of E-thĭ-ō'pĭ-à:

2 That sendeth ambassadors by the [2]sea, even in vessels of bulrushes upon the waters, saying, Go, ye swift messengers, to a nation scattered and peeled, to a people terrible from their beginning hitherto; a nation meted out and trodden down, whose land the rivers have spoiled!

3 All ye inhabitants of the world, and dwellers on the earth, see ye, when ye lifteth up an ensign on the mountains; and when he bloweth a trumpet, hear ye.

4 For so the Lord said unto me, I will take my rest, and I will consider in my dwelling [a]place like a clear heat [b]upon herbs, and like a cloud of dew in the heat of harvest.

5 For afore the harvest, when the bud is perfect, and the sour grape is ripening in the flower, he shall both cut off the sprigs with pruning hooks, and take away and cut down the branches.

6 They shall be left together unto the fowls of the mountains, and to the beasts of the earth: and the fowls shall summer upon them, and all the beasts of the earth shall winter upon them.

7 ¶ In that time shall [c]the present be brought unto the Lord of hosts of a people scattered and peeled, and from a people terrible from their beginning hitherto; a nation meted out and trodden under foot, whose land the rivers have spoiled, to the place of the name of the Lord of hosts, the mount Zī'ŏn.

Ch. 18. B. C. 714.

1. In this ch. the prophet announces the overthrow of Sennacherib's hosts, and desires the ambassadors of Ethiopia, now in Jerusalem, to take word of it to their own nations.

CHAPTER 19.

1 The confusion of Egypt. 18 The calling of Egypt to the church. 23 The covenant of Egypt, Assyria, and Israel.

1 The burden of [a]E'ġўpt. Behold, the Lord [b]rideth upon a swift cloud, and shall come into E'ġўpt: and the idols of E'ġўpt shall be moved at his presence, and the heart of E'ġўpt shall melt in the midst of it.

2 And I will set the E-ġўp'tians against the [c]E-ġўp'tians: and they shall fight every one against his brother, and every one against his neighbour; city against city, and kingdom against kingdom.

3 And the spirit of E'ġўpt shall fail in the midst thereof; and I will destroy the counsel thereof: and they shall seek to the idols, and to the charmers, and to them that have familiar spirits, and to the wizards.

4 And the [a]E-ġўp'tians will I give over into the hand of a cruel lord; and a fierce king shall rule over them, saith the Lord, the Lord of hosts.

5 [1]And [d]the waters shall fail from the sea, and the river shall be wasted and dried up.

6 And they shall turn the rivers far away; and the brooks of defence shall be emptied and dried up: the reeds and flags shall wither.

7 The paper reeds by the brooks, by the mouth of the brooks, and every thing sown by the brooks, shall wither, be driven away, and be no more.

8 The fishers also shall mourn, and all they that cast angle into the brooks shall lament, and they that spread nets upon the waters shall languish.

9 Moreover they that work in fine flax, and they that weave networks, shall be confounded.

10 And they shall be broken in the purposes thereof, all that make sluices and ponds for fish.

Ch. 19. B. C. 714.

e. They soon forgat his works; they waited not for his counsel (13). They forgat God their saviour, which had done great things in Egypt. (Ps. 106:13, 21.)

f. The Lord is my rock, and my fortress, and my deliverer; my God, my strength, in whom I will trust; my buckler, and the horn of my salvation, and my high tower. (Ps. 18:2.) For thou art my rock and my fortress; therefore for thy name's sake lead me, and guide me (Ps. 31:3.) To show that the Lord is upright: he is my rock, and there is no unrighteousness in him. (Ps. 92:15.) O come, let us sing unto the Lord: let us make a joyful noise to the rock of our salvation. (Ps 95:1.)

g. The voice of the Lord is upon the waters: the God of glory thundereth: the Lord is upon many waters. (Ps. 29:3.) And there came one of the seven angels which had the seven vials, and talked with me, saying unto me, Come hither; I will show unto thee the judgment of the great whore that sitteth upon many waters (1). And he saith unto me, The waters which thou sawest, where the whore sitteth, are peoples, and multitudes and nations, and tongues. (Rev. 17:1, 15.)

h. So let all thine enemies perish, O Lord: but let them that love him be as the sun, when he goeth forth in his might. And the land had rest forty years. (Jud. 5:31.) Do unto them as unto the Midianites; as to Sisera, as to Jabin, at the brook of Kison (9). Which perished at Endor: they became as dung for the earth (10). Make their nobles like Oreb, and like Zeeb; yea, all their princes as Zebah, and as Zalmunna (11); Who said, let us take to ourselves the house of God in possession (12). O my God, make them like a wheel; as the stubble before the wind (13). As the fire burneth a wood, and as the flame setteth the mountains on fire (14); So persecute them with thy tempest, and make them afraid with thy storm (15). Fill their faces with shame; that they may seek thy name, O Lord (16). Let them be confounded and troubled for ever; yea, let them be put to shame and perish. (Ps. 83:9-17.)

Chapter 18.

a. For, behold, the Lord cometh out of his place to punish the inhabitants of the earth for their iniquity: the earth also shall disclose her blood, and shall no more cover her slain. (Is. 26:21.) I will go and return to my place, till they acknowledge their offence, and seek my face: in their affliction they will seek me early. (Hos. 5:15.)

b. He shall come down like rain upon the mown grass: as showers that water the earth. (Ps. 72:6.) And he shall be as the light of the morning, when the sun riseth, even a morning without clouds; as the tender grass springing out of the earth by clear shining after rain. (II Sam. 23:4.) God came from Teman, and the Holy One from mount Paran. Selah. His glory covered the heavens, and the earth was full of his praise. (Hab. 3:3.)

c. From beyond the rivers of Ethiopia my suppliants, even the daughter of my dispersed, shall bring mine offering. (Zeph. 3:10.) For from the rising of the sun even unto the going down of the same my name shall be great among the Gentiles; and in every place incense shall be offered unto my name, and a pure offering: for my name shall be great among the heathen, saith the Lord of hosts. (Mal 1:11.)

Chapter 19.

a. Wherefore say unto the house of Israel, Thus saith the Lord God: Are ye polluted after the manner of your fathers? and commit ye whoredom after their abominations? (30). For when ye offer your gifts, when ye make your sons to pass through the fire, ye pollute yourselves with all your idols, even unto this day: and shall I be enquired of by you, O house of Israel? as I live, saith the Lord God, I will not be enquired of by you (31). And that which cometh into your mind shall not be at all, that ye say, We will be as the heathen, as the families of the country, to serve wood and stone. (Ez. 20:30-32.) See Jer. 46:13-26.

b. He bowed the heavens also, and came down: and darkness was under his feet. And he rode upon a cherub and did fly: yea, he did fly upon the wings of the wind. (Ps. 18:9, 10.) Who layeth the beams of his chambers in the waters: who maketh the clouds his chariot: who walketh upon the wings of the wind. (Ps. 104:3.) Jesus saith unto him, Thou hast said: nevertheless I say unto you, Hereafter shall ye see the Son of man sitting on the right hand of power and coming in the clouds of heaven. (Mat. 26:64.)

c. And the three hundred blew the trumpets, and the Lord set every man's sword against his fellow, even throughout all the host, and the host fled to Beth-shittah, in Zererath, and to the border of Abel-meholah, unto Tabbath. (Jud 7:22.) And the watchmen of Saul in Gibeah of Benjamin looked; and, behold, the multitude melted away, and they went on beating down one another. (I Sam. 14:16.)

d. Therefore thus saith the Lord; Behold, I will plead thy cause, and take vengeance for thee; and I will dry up her sea, and make her springs dry. (Jer. 51:36.) And I will make the rivers dry, and sell the land into the hand of the wicked: and I will make the land waste, and 11 ¶ Surely the princes of Zō'an are fools, the counsel of the wise counsellors of Phā'raōh is become brutish: how say ye unto Phā'raōh, I am the son of the wise, the son of ancient kings?

12 Where [e]are they? where are thy wise men? and let them tell thee now, and let them know [f]what the Lord of hosts hath purposed upon Ē'ġўpt.

13 The princes of Zō'an are become fools, the princes of Nŏph are deceived; they have also seduced Ē'ġўpt, even [g]they that are the stay of the tribes thereof.

14 The Lord hath mingled a [h]perverse spirit in the midst thereof: and they have caused Ē'ġўpt to err in every work thereof, as a drunken man staggereth in his vomit.

15 Neither shall there be any work for Ē'ġўpt, which the head or tail, branch or rush, may do.

16 In that day shall Ē'ġўpt [i]be like unto women: and it shall be afraid and fear because of the shaking of the hand of the Lord of hosts, which he shaketh over it.

17 And the land of Jū'dah shall be a terror unto Ē'ġўpt, every one that maketh mention thereof shall be afraid in himself, because of the counsel of the Lord of hosts, which he hath determined against it.

18 ¶ In that day shall five cities in the land of Ē'ġўpt speak the languages of Cā'năan, and swear to the Lord of hosts; one shall be called, The city of destruction.

19 In that day shall there be an [2]altar to the Lord in the midst of the land of Ē'ġўpt, and a pillar at the border thereof to the Lord.

20 And [j]it shall be for a sign and for a witness unto the Lord of hosts in the land of Ē'ġўpt: for they shall cry [k]unto the Lord because of the oppressors, and he shall send them a saviour, and a great one, and he shall [l]deliver them.

21 And the Lord shall be known to Ē'ġўpt, and the E-ġўp'tiaṇs shall know the Lord in that day, and shall do sacrifice and oblation; yea, they shall vow a vow unto the Lord, and perform it.

22 And the Lord shall smite Ē'ġўpt: he shall smite and heal it: and they shall return even to the Lord, and he shall be intreated of them, and shall heal them.

23 ¶ In that day shall there be a highway out of Ē'ġўpt to Ās-sўr'ĭ-à, and the Ās-sўr'ĭ-an shall come into Ē'ġўpt, and the E-ġўp'tiaṇs into Ās-sўr'ĭ-à, and the E-ġўp'tiaṇs shall serve with the Ās-sўr'ĭ-aṇs.

24 In that day shall Ĭs'ra-el be the third with Ē'ġўpt and with Ās-sўr'ĭ-à, even a blessing in the midst of the land:

25 Whom the Lord of hosts shall bless, saying, Blessed be Ē'ġўpt my people, and Ās-sўr'ĭ-à [m]the work of my hands, and Ĭs'ra-el mine inheritance.

2. The altar here used is in the sense of a memorial of the conversion of the Egyptians to the true religion.

CHAPTER 20.

A type prefiguring the shameful captivity of Egypt and Ethiopia.

1 [1]In the year that [2]Tär'tan came unto Ăsh'dŏd, (when Sär'gon the king of Ās-sўr'ĭ-à sent him,) and fought against Ăsh'dŏd, and took it;

2 At the same time spake the Lord by I-ṣā'iah the son of Ā'moz, saying, Go and loose [a]the [3]sackcloth from off thy loins, and put off thy shoe from thy foot. And he did so, [b]walking naked and barefoot.

3 And the Lord said, Like as my servant I-ṣā'iah hath walked naked and barefoot three years [c]for a sign and wonder upon Ē'ġўpt and upon Ē-thĭ-ō'pĭ-à;

4 So shall the king of Ās-sўr'ĭ-à lead away the E-ġўp'tiaṇs prisoners, and the Ē-thĭ-ō'pĭ-aṇs captives, young and old, naked and barefoot, [d]even with their buttocks uncovered, to the shame of Ē'ġўpt.

5 And [e]they shall be afraid and ashamed of Ē-thĭ-ō'pĭ-à their expectation, and of Ē'ġўpt their glory.

6 And the inhabitant of this [4]isle shall say in that day, Behold, such is our expectation, whither we flee for help to be delivered from the king of Ās-sўr'ĭ-à: and how shall we escape?

Ch. 21. B. C. 714.

1. Ch. 21 contains three prophecies. The first is concerning the downfall of Babylon, which is now at its zenith.

2. Persia or Media.

CHAPTER 21.

1 The prophet seeth in a vision the fall of Babylon by the Medes and Persians. 11 Edom, scorning the prophet, is moved to repentance. 13 The set time of Arabia's calamity.

1 [1]The burden of the desert of the sea. As whirlwinds in the south pass through; so it cometh from the desert, from a [2]terrible land.

all that is therein, by the hand of strangers: I the Lord have spoken it. (Ez. 30:12.)

e. Where is the wise? where is the scribe? where is the disputer of this world? hath not God made foolish the wisdom of this world? (I Cor. 1:20.)

f. The Lord of hosts hath sworn, saying, Surely as I have thought, so shall it come to pass; and as I have purposed, so shall it stand (24). This is the purpose that is purposed upon the whole earth: and this is the hand that is stretched out upon all the nations. (Is. 14:24, 26.) For the scripture saith unto Pharaoh, Even for this same purpose have I raised thee up, that I might show my power in thee, and that my name might be declared throughout all the earth. (Rom. 9:17.)

g. I shall see him, but not now; I shall behold him, but not nigh: there shall come a Star out of Jacob, and a Sceptre shall rise out of Israel and shall smite the corners of Moab, and destroy all the children of Sheth. (Num. 24:17.)

h. And the Lord said unto him, Wherewith? And he said, I will go forth, and I will be a lying spirit in the mouth of all his prophets. And he said, Thou shalt persuade him, and prevail also: go forth, and do so. (I Ks. 22:22.) For the Lord hath poured out upon you the spirit of deep sleep, and hath closed your eyes: the prophets and your rulers, the seers hath he covered. (Is. 29:10.)

i. The mighty men of Babylon have forborne to fight, they have remained in their holds: their might hath failed; they became as women: they have burned their dwelling-places: her bars are broken. (Jer. 51:30.) Behold, thy people in the midst of thee are women: the gates of thy land shall be set wide open unto thine enemies: the fire shall devour thy bars. (Nah. 3:13.)

j. Therefore we said, Let us now prepare to build us an altar, not for burnt offering, nor for sacrifice (26): But that it may be a witness between us, and you, and our generations after us, that we might do the service of the Lord before him with our burnt offerings, and with our sacrifices, and with our peace offerings; that your children may not say to our children in time to come, Ye have no part in the Lord. (Josh. 22:26, 27.)

k. And they cried unto the Lord, and said, We have sinned, because we have forsaken the Lord, and have served Baalim and Ashtaroth: but now deliver us out of the hand of our enemies, and we will serve thee. (I Sam. 12:10.) The Lord is nigh unto all them that call upon him, to all that call upon him in truth. (Ps. 145:18.) Let us lift up our heart with our hands unto God in the heavens. (Lam. 3:41.) Ask, and it shall be given you; seek and ye shall find; knock, and it shall be opened unto you: For every one that asketh receiveth; and he that seeketh findeth; and to him that knocketh it shall be opened. (Mat. 7:7, 8.) And he spake a parable unto them to this end, that men ought always to pray, and not to faint. (Luke 18:1.)

l. Be not afraid of their faces; for I am with thee to deliver thee, saith the Lord. (Jer. 1:8.) So that we may boldly say, The Lord is my helper, and I will not fear what man shall do unto me. (Heb. 13:6.) If it be so, our God whom we serve is able to deliver us from the burning fiery furnace, and he will deliver us out of thine hand, O king. (Dan. 3:17.) And lead us not into temptation, but deliver us from evil: for thine is the kingdom, and the power, and the glory for ever. Amen. (Mat. 6:13.) Him, being delivered by the determinate counsel and foreknowledge of God, ye have taken, and by wicked hands have crucified and slain. (Acts 2:23.) Thou art my hiding place: thou shalt preserve me from trouble; thou shalt compass me about with songs of deliverance. Selah. (Ps. 32:7.) What shall we then say to these things? if God be for us, who can be against us? (Rom. 8:31.)

m. And I will sow her unto me in the earth; and I will have mercy upon her that had not obtained mercy; and I will say to them which were not my people, Thou art my people; and they shall say, Thou art my God. (Hos. 2:23.) Is he the God of the Jews only? is he not also of the Gentiles? Yes, of the Gentiles also. (Rom. 3:29.)

Chapter 20.

a. And it shall come to pass in that day, that the prophets shall be ashamed every one of his vision, when he hath prophesied; neither shall they wear a rough garment to deceive. (Zech. 13:4.)

b. And he stripped off his clothes also, and prophesied before Samuel in like manner, and lay down naked all that day and all that night. Wherefore they say, Is Saul also among the prophets? (I Sam. 19:24.)

c. Behold, I and the children whom the Lord hath given me are for signs and for wonders in Israel, from the Lord of hosts, which dwelleth in mount Zion. (Is. 8:18.)

d. And if thou say in thine heart, Wherefore come these things upon me? For the greatness of thine iniquity are thy skirts discovered, and thy heels made bare. (Jer. 13:22.)

e. Now, behold, thou trustest upon the staff of this bruised reed, even upon Egypt, on which if a man lean, it will go into his hand, and pierce it: so is Pharaoh king of Egypt unto all that trust on him. (II Ks. 18:21.)

2 A grievous vision is declared unto me; the [a]treacherous dealer dealeth treacherously, and the spoiler spoileth. Go up, O Ē'lăm: besiege, O Mē'dĭ-à; all the sighing thereof have I made to cease.

3 Therefore are my loins filled with pain: pangs have taken hold upon me, as the pangs of a woman that travaileth: I was bowed down at the hearing of it; I was dismayed at the seeing of it.

4 My heart panted, fearfulness affrighted me: the night [b]of my pleasure hath he turned into fear unto me.

5 Prepare [c]the table, watch in the watchtower, eat, drink: arise, ye princes, and anoint the shield.

6 For thus hath the Lord said unto me, Go, set a watchman, let him declare what he seeth.

7 And he saw a chariot with a couple of horsemen, a chariot of asses, and a chariot of camels; and he hearkened diligently with much heed:

8 And he cried, [3]A lion: My Lord, I stand continually upon the watchtower in the daytime, and I am set in my ward [4]whole nights:

9 And, behold, here cometh a chariot of men, with a couple of horsemen. And he answered and said, [d]Băb'ў-lon is fallen, is fallen; and all the graven images of her gods he hath broken unto the ground.

10 O [e]my threshing, and the corn of my floor: that which I have heard of the Lord of hosts, the God of Ĭs'ra-el, have I declared unto you.

11 ¶ The burden of [5]Dụ'mah. He calleth to me out of Sē'ĭr, Watchman, what of the night? Watchman, what of the night?

12 The watchman said, The morning cometh, and also the night: if ye will enquire, enquire ye: return, come.

13 ¶ The burden upon A-rā'bĭ-à. In the forest in A-rā'bĭ-à shall ye lodge, O ye travelling companies of Dĕd'a-nĭm.

14 The inhabitants of the land of Tē'mà brought water to him that was thirsty, they prevented with their bread him that fled.

15 For they fled from the swords, from the drawn sword, and from the bent bow, and from the grievousness of war.

16 For thus hath the Lord said unto me, Within a year, according to the years of an hireling, and all the glory of Kē'dăr shall fail:

17 And the residue of the number of archers, the mighty men of the children of Kē'dăr, shall be diminished: for the Lord [f]God of Ĭs'ra-el hath spoken it.

3. As a lion.

4. Every night.

5. Dumah means silence, emblematic of the long silence which is to come over Edom.

Ch. 22. B. C. 712.

1. In this ch. is a prophecy against the people of Jerusalem because of the essentially heathen character which they have taken on.

2. Jerusalem, the seat of divine revelations, and visions, "the nursery of prophets."

3. Vs. 15-25 give the prophecy against Shebna, a scribe, the only instance of an individual being singled out as the subject of a prophecy by Isaiah.

CHAPTER 22.

1 The prophet lamenteth the invasion of Jewry by the Persians. 15 He prophesieth Shebna's deprivation, 20 and Eliakim, prefiguring the kingdom of Christ, his substitution.

1 The [1]burden of the valley [2]of vision. What aileth thee now, that thou art wholly gone up to the house tops?

2 Thou that art full of stirs, a tumultuous city, a joyous city: thy slain men are not slain with the sword, nor dead in battle.

3 All thy rulers are fled together, they are bound by the archers: all that are found in thee are bound together, which have fled from far.

4 Therefore, said I, Look away from me; I will weep bitterly, labour not to comfort me, because of the spoiling of the daughter of my people.

5 For it is a day of trouble, and of treading down, and of perplexity [a]by the Lord God of hosts in the valley of vision, breaking down the walls, and of crying to the mountains.

6 And [b]Ē'lăm bare the quiver with chariots of men and horsemen, and Kīr uncovered the shield.

7 And it shall come to pass, that thy choicest valleys shall be full of chariots, and the horsemen shall set themselves in array at the gate.

8 ¶ And he discovered the covering of Jū'dah, and thou didst look in that day to the armour of the house of the forest.

9 [c]Ye have seen also the breaches of the city of Dā'vid, that they are many: and ye gathered together the waters of the lower pool.

10 And ye have numbered the houses of Je-rụ'sa-lĕm, and the houses have ye broken down to fortify the wall.

11 Ye made also a ditch between the two walls for the water of the old pool: but ye have not looked unto the maker thereof, neither had respect unto him that fashioned it long ago.

12 And in that day did the Lord God of hosts call to weeping, and to mourning, and to baldness, and to girding with sackcloth:

13 And [d]behold joy and gladness, slaying oxen, and killing sheep, eating flesh, and drinking wine: [e]let us eat and drink; for to morrow we shall die.

14 And it was revealed in mine ears by the Lord of hosts, Surely this iniquity [f]shall not be purged from you till ye die, saith the Lord God of hosts.

15 ¶ [3]Thus saith the Lord God of hosts, Go,

Chapter 21.

a. Woe to thee that spoilest, and thou wast not spoiled; and dealest treacherously, and they dealt not treacherously with thee! when thou shalt cease to spoil, thou shalt be spoiled; and when thou shalt make an end to deal treacherously, they shall deal treacherously with thee. (Is. 33:1.) Moreover the light of the moon shall be as the light of the sun, and the light of the sun shall be sevenfold, as the light of seven days, in the day that the Lord bindeth up the breach of his people, and healeth the stroke of their wound. (Is. 30:26.)

b. In the morning thou shalt say, Would God it were even! and at even thou shalt say, Would God that it were morning! for the fear of thine heart wherewith thou shalt fear, and for the sight of thine eyes which thou shalt see. (Dt. 28:67.)

c. In their heat I will make their feast, and I will make them drunken, that they may rejoice, and sleep a perpetual sleep, and not wake, saith the Lord. (Jer. 51:39.)

d. Babylon is suddenly fallen and destroyed: howl for her: take balm for her pain, if so be she may be healed. (Jer. 51:8.) And there followed another angel saying, Babylon is fallen, is fallen, that great city, because she made all nations drink of the wine of the wrath of her fornication. (Rev. 14:8.)

e. For thus saith the Lord of hosts, the God of Israel; The daughter of Babylon is like a threshing-floor, it is time to thresh her: yet a little while, and the time of her harvest shall come. (Jer. 51:33.) Arise and thresh, O daughter of Zion: for I will make thine horn iron, and I will make thy hoofs brass: and thou shalt beat in pieces many people; and I will consecrate their gain unto the Lord, and their substance unto the Lord of the whole earth. (Mic. 4:13.)

f. God is not a man, that he should lie; neither the son of man, that he should repent: hath he said, and shall he not do it? or hath he spoken and shall he not make it good? (Num. 23:19.)

Chapter 22.

a. The Lord hath swallowed up all the habitations of Jacob, and hath not pitied: he hath thrown down in his wrath the strong holds of the daughter of Judah: he hath brought them down to the ground: he hath polluted the kingdom and the princes thereof. (Lam. 2:2.)

b. Thus saith the Lord of hosts; Behold, I will break the bow of Elam, the chief of their might. (Jer. 49:35.) A grievous vision is declared unto me; the treacherous dealer dealeth treacherously, and the spoiler spoileth. Go up, O Elam; besiege, O Media; all the sighing thereof have I made to cease. (Is. 21:2.)

c. So there was gathered much people together who stopped all the fountains, and the brook that ran through the midst of the land, saying, Why should the kings of Assyria come, and find much water? (4). Also he strengthened himself and built up all the wall that was broken, and raised it up to the towers, and another wall without, and repaired Millo in the city of David, and made darts and shields in abundance (5). This same Hezekiah also stopped the upper watercourse of Gihon, and brought it straight down the west side of the city of David. And Hezekiah prospered in all his works. (II Chr. 32:4, 5, 30.)

d. Take thou away from me the noise of thy songs; for I will not hear the melody of thy viols (23), But let judgment run down as waters, and righteousness as a mighty stream. (Amos 5:23, 24.) Ye have lived in pleasure on the earth, and been wanton; ye have nourished your hearts, as in a day of slaughter. (Ja. 5:5.)

e. If after the manner of men, I have fought with beasts at Ephesus, what advantageth it me, if the dead rise not; let us eat and drink; for tomorrow we die. (I Cor. 15:32.) And as it was in the days of Noe, so shall it be also in the days of the Son of man (26). They did eat, they drank, they married wives, they were given in marriage, until the day that Noe entered into the ark, and the flood came, and destroyed them all (27). Likewise also as it was in the days of Lot; they did eat, they drank, they bought, they sold, they planted, they builded (28); But the day came that Lot went out of Sodom it rained fire and brimstone from heaven, and destroyed them all. (Luke 17:26-29.)

f. And therefore I have sworn unto the house of Eli, that the iniquity of Eli's house shall not be purged with sacrifice nor offering for ever. (I Sam. 3:14.) In thy filthiness is lewdness; because I have purged thee, and thou wast not purged, thou shalt not be purged from thy filthiness any more, till I have caused my fury to rest upon thee. (Ez. 24:13.)

get thee unto this treasurer, even unto Shĕb'-nà, which is over the house, and say, 16 What hast thou here? and whom hast thou here, that thou hast hewed thee out a sepulchre here, as he that heweth him out a sepulchre on high, and that graveth an habitation for himself in a rock?

17 Behold, the Lord will carry thee away with a mighty captivity, and will surely cover thee.

18 He will surely violently turn and toss thee like a ball into a large country: there shalt thou die, and there the chariots of thy glory shall be the shame of thy lord's house.

19 And I will [g]drive thee from thy station, and from thy state shall he pull thee down.

20 ¶ And it shall come to pass in that day, that I will call my servant Ē-lī'a-kĭm the son of Hĭl-kī'ah:

21 And I will clothe him with thy robe, and strengthen him with thy girdle, and I will commit thy government into his hand: and he shall be a [h]father to the inhabitants of Je-rụ'-sa-lĕm, and to the house of Jū'dah.

22 And the key of the house of Dā'vid will I lay upon his shoulder; so he shall open, and none shall shut; and he shall shut, and none shall open.

23 And I will fasten him as [i]a nail in a sure place; and he shall be for a glorious throne to his father's house.

24 And they shall hang upon him all the glory of his father's house, the offspring and the issue, all vessels of small quantity, from the vessels of cups, even to all the vessels of flagons.

25 In that day, saith the Lord of hosts, shall the nail that is fastened in the sure place be removed, and be cut down, and fall; and the burden that was upon it shall be cut off: for the Lord hath spoken it.

CHAPTER 23.

1 The miserable overthrow of Tyre. 17 Their unhappy return.

1 The [1]burden of [a]Tyre. Howl, ye ships of Tär'shish; for it is laid waste, so that there is no house, no entering in: from the land of Chĭt'tim it is revealed to them.

2 Be still, ye inhabitants of the isle; thou whom the merchants of Zī'dŏn, that pass over the sea, have replenished.

3 And by great waters the seed of Sī'hor, the harvest of the [2]river, is her revenue; and she is a mart of nations.

4 Be thou ashamed, O Zī'dŏn: for the sea hath spoken, even the strength of the sea, saying, I travail not, nor bring forth children, neither do I nourish up young men, nor bring up virgins.

5 As at the report concerning Ē'gўpt, [b]so shall they be sorely pained at the report of Tўre.

6 Pass ye over to Tär'shish; howl, ye inhabitants of the isle.

7 Is this your joyous city, whose antiquity is of ancient days? her own feet shall carry her afar off to sojourn.

8 Who hath taken this counsel against Tўre, [c]the crowning city, whose merchants are princes, whose traffickers are the honourable of the earth?

9 The Lord of hosts hath purposed it, to stain [d]the pride of all glory, and to bring into contempt all the honourable of the earth.

10 Pass through thy land as a river, O daughter of Tär'shish: there is no more strength.

11 He stretched [e]out his hand over the sea, he shook the kingdoms: the Lord hath given a commandment against the merchant city, to destroy the strong holds thereof.

12 And [3]he said, [f]Thou shalt no more rejoice, O thou oppressed virgin, daughter of Zī'dŏn: arise, pass over Chĭt'tim; there also shalt thou have no rest.

13 Behold the land of the Chăl-dē'ans; this people was not, till the Ăs-sўr'ī-an founded it for them that dwell in the wilderness: they set up the towers thereof, they raised up the palaces thereof; and he brought it to ruin.

14 Howl, ye ships of Tär'shish: for your strength is laid waste.

15 And it shall come to pass in that day, that Tўre shall be forgotten seventy years, according to the days of one king: after the end of seventy years shall Tўre sing as an harlot.

16 Take an harp, go about the city, thou harlot that hast been forgotten; make sweet melody, sing many songs, that thou mayest be remembered.

17 ¶ And it shall come to pass after the end of seventy years, that the Lord will visit Tўre, and she shall turn to her hire, and [g]shall commit fornication with all the kingdoms of the world upon the face of the earth.

18 And her merchandise and her hire [h]shall be holiness to the Lord: it shall not be treasured nor laid up; for her merchandise shall be for them that dwell before the Lord, to eat sufficiently, and for durable clothing.

Ch. 23. B. C. 715.

1. This ch. records the prophecy respecting Tyre, which is the last of the prophecies of Isaiah relating to the heathen city.

2. The delta.

3. He, meaning Jehovah.

g. Cast abroad the rage of thy wrath: and behold every one that is proud, and abase him (11). Look on every one that is proud, and bring him low; and tread down the wicked in their place. (Job 40:11, 12.) And all the trees of the field shall know that I the Lord have brought down the high tree, have exalted the low tree, have dried up the green tree, and have made the dry tree to flourish: I the Lord have spoken, and have done it. (Ez. 17:24.)

h. I was a father to the poor: and the cause which I knew not I searched out. (Job 29:16.) The righteous considereth the cause of the poor: but the wicked regardeth not to know it. (Prov. 29:7.)

i. And now for a little space grace hath been shown from the Lord our God, to leave us a remnant to escape, and to give us a nail in his holy place, that our God may lighten our eyes, and give us a little reviving in our bondage. (Ezra 9:8.)

Chapter 23.

a. Son of man, because that Tyrus hath said against Jerusalem, Aha, she is broken that was the gates of the people; she is turned unto me: I shall be replenished now she is laid waste (2). Therefore thus saith the Lord God; Behold, I am against thee, O Tyrus, and will cause many nations to come up against thee, as the sea causeth his waves to come up. (Ez. 26:2, 3.) Thus saith the Lord; for three transgressions of Tyrus, and for four, I will not turn away the punishment thereof; because they delivered up the whole captivity to Edom, and remembered not the brotherly covenant (9): But I will send a fire on the wall of Tyrus, which shall devour the palaces thereof. (Amos 1:9, 10.) And Hamath also shall border thereby; Tyrus, and Zidon, though it be very wise (2). And Tyrus did build herself a strong hold, and heaped up silver as the dust, and fine gold as the mire of the streets (3). Behold, the Lord will cast her out, and we will smite her power in the sea; and she shall be devoured with fire. (Zech. 9:2-4.)

b. In that day shall Egypt be like unto women: and it shall be afraid and fear because of the shaking of the hand of the Lord of hosts, which he shaketh over it. (Is. 19:16.)

c. Son of man, say unto the prince of Tyrus, Thus saith the Lord God: Because thine heart is lifted up, and thou hast said, I am a God, I sit in the seat of God, in the midst of the seas; yet thou art a man, and not God, though thou set thine heart as the heart of God. (Ez. 28:2.)

d. The lofty looks of man shall be humbled, and the haughtiness of men shall be bowed down, and the Lord alone shall be exalted in that day. (Is. 2:11.) He hath shown strength with his arm; he hath scattered the proud in the imagination of their hearts (51). He hath put down the mighty from their seats, and exalted them of low degree. (Luke 1:51, 52.)

e. That I will break the Assyrian in my land, and upon my mountains tread him under foot; then shall his yoke depart from off them, and his burden depart from off their shoulders (25). This is the purpose that is purposed upon the whole earth: and this is the hand that is stretched out upon all the nations. (Is. 14:25, 26.) And Moses stretched out his hand over the sea; and the Lord caused the sea to go back by a strong east wind all that night, and made the sea dry land; and the waters were divided. (Ex. 14:21.)

f. And the voice of harpers, and musicians, and of pipers, and trumpeters, shall be heard no more at all in thee; and no craftsman, of whatsoever craft he be, shall be found any more in thee; and the sound of a millstone shall be heard no more at all in thee. (Rev. 18:22.)

g. And there came one of the seven angels which had the seven vials and talked with me, saying unto me, Come hither; I will show unto thee the judgment of the great whore that sitteth upon many waters (1): With whom the kings of the earth have committed fornication, and the inhabitants of the earth have been made drunk with the wine of her fornication. (Rev. 17:1, 2.)

h. And the daughter of Tyre shall be there with a gift; even the rich among the people shall entreat thy favor. (Ps. 45:12.) The kings of Tarshish and of the isles shall bring presents: the kings of Sheba and Seba shall offer gifts. (Ps. 72:10.) In that day shall there be upon the bells of the horses, HOLINESS UNTO THE LORD; and the pots in the Lord's house shall be like the bowls before the altar (20). Yea, every pot in Jerusalem and Judah shall be holiness unto the Lord of hosts: and all they that sacrifice shall come and take of them, and seethe therein: and in that day there shall be no more the Canaanite in the house of the Lord of hosts. (Zech. 14:20, 21.)

CHAPTER 24.

1 The doleful judgments of God upon the land. 13 A remnant shall joyfully praise him. 16 God in his judgments shall advance his kingdom.

1 [1]Behold, the Lord [a]maketh the [2]earth empty, and maketh it waste, and turneth it upside down, and scattereth abroad the inhabitants thereof.

2 And it shall be, as with the people, so with the [3]priest; as with the servant, so with his master; as with the maid, so with her mistress; [b]as with the buyer, so with the seller; as with the lender, so with the borrower; as with the taker of usury, so with the giver of usury to him.

3 The [4]land shall be utterly emptied, and utterly spoiled: for the Lord hath spoken this word.

4 The earth mourneth and fadeth away, the world languisheth and fadeth away, the [5]haughty people of the earth do languish.

5 The [c]earth also is defiled under the inhabitants thereof; because they have transgressed the laws, changed the ordinance, broken the everlasting covenant.

6 Therefore hath [d]the curse devoured the earth, and they that dwell therein are desolate: therefore the inhabitants of the earth are burned, and few men left.

7 The new wine [e]mourneth, the vine languisheth, all the merryhearted do sigh.

8 The mirth of tabrets ceaseth, the noise of them that rejoice endeth, the joy of the harp ceaseth.

9 They shall not drink wine with a song; strong drink shall be bitter to them that drink it.

10 The city of confusion is broken down: every house is shut up, that no man may come in.

11 There is a crying for wine in the streets; all joy is darkened, the mirth of the land is gone.

12 In the city is left [7]desolation, and the gate is smitten with destruction.

13 ¶ When thus it shall be in the midst of the land among the people, there shall be as the shaking of an olive tree, and as the gleaning grapes when the vintage is done.

14 They shall lift up their voice, they shall sing for the majesty of the Lord, they shall cry aloud from the sea.

Ch. 24. B. C. 712.

1. The discourse begun in ch. 24 extends to ch. 27, inclusive, and forms one continuous poetical prophecy, concerning the dispersion and successive calamities of the Jews.

2. The land of Judah.

3. Judgments shall be entered upon all alike.

4. The word "land" or "earth" occurs 12 times in this ch. and means the whole land of Israel.

5. The proud in spirit.

6. Because there is none to drink it.

7. Not a trace left of the original city as it was.

8. Wickedness cannot go unpunished.

Ch. 25. B. C. 712.

1. This ch. is a continuation of ch. 24 in the nature of a thanksgiving prophecy for the overthrow of the apostate faction and the establishing of Jehovah's throne. Isaiah is transported in spirit to the day of deliverance and sings of that time in the name of the delivered people.

2. Purposes which were planned long ago.

3. Foreigners, i. e., strangers to the covenant.

4. Nations other than the Jews which Babylon had afflicted.

5. The exiled Jews.

15 Wherefore glorify ye the Lord in the fires, even the name of the Lord God of Is'ra-el in the isles of the sea.

16 ¶ From the uttermost part of the earth have we heard songs, even glory to the righteous. But I said, My leanness, my leanness, woe unto me! [c]the treacherous dealers have dealt treacherously; yea, the treacherous dealers have dealt very treacherously.

17 Fear, [f]and the pit, and the snare, are upon thee, O inhabitant of the earth.

18 And it shall come to pass, that he who fleeth from the noise of the fear shall fall into the pit; and he that cometh up out of the midst of the pit shall be taken in the snare: for the windows from on high are open, and the foundations of the earth do shake.

19 The earth is utterly broken down, the earth is clean dissolved, the earth is moved exceedingly.

20 The earth shall reel to and fro like a drunkard, and shall be removed like a cottage; and the transgression thereof shall be heavy upon it; and it shall fall, and not rise again.

21 And it shall come to pass in that day, that the Lord shall punish the host of the high ones that are on high, and the kings of the earth upon the earth.

22 And they shall be gathered together, as prisoners are gathered in the pit, and shall be shut up in the prison, and after many days shall they be visited.

23 Then the [8]moon shall be confounded, and the sun ashamed, when the Lord of hosts shall [g]reign in mount Zi'on, and in Je-ru'sa-lem, and before his ancients gloriously.

CHAPTER 25.

1 The prophet praiseth God, for his judgments, 6 for his saving benefits, 9 and for his victorious salvation.

1 O [1]Lord, thou art my God; [a]I will exalt thee, I will praise thy name; for thou hast done wonderful things; [2]thy counsels [b]of old are faithfulness and truth.

2 For thou hast made of a [c]city an heap; of a defenced city a ruin: a palace of [3]strangers to be no city; it shall never be built.

3 Therefore shall the [4]strong people glorify thee, the city [d]of the terrible nations shall fear thee.

4 For thou hast been a [e]strength to the [6]poor, a strength to the needy in his distress,

---

Chapter 24.

b. The time is come, the day draweth near: let not the buyer rejoice, nor the seller mourn, for wrath is upon all the multitude thereof (12). For the seller shall not return to that which is sold, although they were yet alive, for the vision is touching the whole multitude thereof, which shall not return; neither shall any strengthen himself in the iniquity of his life. (Ez. 7:12, 13.)

c. And unto Adam he said, Because thou hast hearkened unto the voice of thy wife, and hath eaten of the tree, of which I commanded thee, saying, Thou shalt not eat of it: cursed is the ground for thy sake; in sorrow shalt thou eat of it all the days of thy life. (Gen. 3:17.) And the land is defiled: therefore I do visit the iniquity thereof upon it, and the land itself vomiteth out her inhabitants. (Lev. 18:25.) Therefore the Lord shall have no joy in their young men, neither shall have mercy on their fatherless and widows: for every one is an hypocrite and an evil-doer, and every mouth speaketh folly. For all this his anger is not turned away, but his hand is stretched out still. (Is. 9:17.) So ye shall not pollute the land wherein ye are: for blood it defileth the land: and the land cannot be cleansed of the blood that is shed therein, but by the blood of him that shed it. (Num. 35:33.)

d. But it shall come to pass, if thou wilt not hearken unto the voice of the Lord thy God, to observe to do all his commandments and his statutes which I command thee this day; that all these curses shall come upon thee, and overtake thee. (Dt. 28:15.) And he shall turn the heart of the fathers to the children, and the heart of the children to their fathers, lest I come and smite the earth with a curse. (Mal. 4:6.)

e. For the house of Israel and the house of Judah have dealt very treacherously against me, saith the Lord. (Jer. 5:11). A grievous vision is declared unto me; the treacherous dealer dealeth treacherously, and the spoiler spoileth. Go up, O Elam: besiege, O Media; all the sighing thereof have I made to cease. (Is. 21:2.) Woe to thee that spoilest, and thou wast not spoiled; and dealest treacherously, and they dealt not treacherously with thee! when thou shalt cease to spoil, thou shalt be spoiled; and when thou shalt make an end to deal treacherously, they shall deal treacherously with thee. (Is. 33:1.) Surely as a wife treacherously departeth from her husband, so have ye dealt treacherously with me, O house of Israel, saith the Lord. (Jer. 3:20.)

f. Fear, and the pit, and the snare, shall be upon thee, O inhabitant of Moab, saith the Lord. (Jer. 48:43.) As if a man did flee from a lion, and a bear met him; or went into the house, and leaned his hand on the wall and a serpent bit him. (Amos 5:19.) And it shall come to pass, that him that escapeth the sword of Hazael shall Jehu slay: and him that escapeth from the sword of Jehu shall Elisha slay. (I Ks. 19:17.)

g. But ye are come unto mount Sion, and unto the city of the living God, the heavenly Jerusalem, and to an innumerable company of angels. (Heb. 12:22.) And I saw a new heaven and a new earth: for the first heaven and the first earth were passed away; and there was no more sea. (Rev. 21:1.)

Chapter 25.

a. The Lord is my strength and song, and he is become my salvation: he is my God, and I will prepare him an habitation; my father's God, and I will exalt him. (Ex. 15:2.) Behold, God is my salvation; I will trust, and not be afraid: for the Lord JEHOVAH is my strength and my song; he also is become my salvation. (Is. 12:2.) Exalt ye the Lord our God, and worship at his footstool; for he is holy. (Ps. 99:5.)

b. God is not a man, that he should lie; neither the son of man, that he should repent: hath he said, and shall he not do it? or hath he spoken, and shall he not make it good? (Num. 23:19.)

c. And Babylon shall become heaps, a dwelling-place for dragons, an astonishment, and an hissing, without an inhabitant. (Jer. 51:37.)

d. And the same hour was there a great earthquake, and the tenth part of the city fell, and in the earthquake were slain of men seven thousand: and the remnant were affrighted, and gave glory to the God of heaven. (Rev. 11:13.)

e. The Lord is their strength, and he is the saving strength of his anointed. (Ps. 28:8.) Pull me out of the net that they have laid privily for me: for thou art my strength. (Ps. 31:4.) The Lord is my rock, and my fortress, and my deliverer; my God, my strength, in whom I will [f]a refuge from the storm, a shadow from the heat, when the blast of the terrible ones is as a storm against the wall.

5 Thou shalt bring down the noise of strangers, as the heat in a dry place; even the heat with the shadow of a cloud: the branch of the terrible ones shall be brought low.

6 ¶ And in [6]this mountain shall the Lord of hosts make unto [g]all people a feast of fat [7]things, a feast of wines on the lees, of fat things full of [8]marrow, of wines on the lees well refined.

7 And he will destroy in this mountain the face of the covering cast over all people, and the vail [h]that is spread over all nations.

8 He will [i]swallow up death in victory; and the Lord God will [j]wipe away tears from off all faces; and the rebuke of his people shall he take away from off all the earth: for the Lord hath spoken it.

9 ¶ And it shall be said in that day, Lo, this is our God; we have waited for him, and he will save us: this is the Lord; we [k]have waited for him, we will be glad and rejoice in his salvation.

10 For in this mountain shall the hand of the Lord rest, and Mō'ab shall be trodden down under him, even as straw is trodden down for the dunghill.

11 And he [9]shall spread forth his hands in the midst of them, as he that swimmeth spreadeth forth his hands to swim: and he shall bring down their pride together with the spoils of their hands.

12 And the fortress [10]of the high fort of thy walls shall he bring down, lay low, and bring to the ground, even to the dust.

6. Zion, where the Messiah's kingdom was to have its central seat.

7. The rich mercies of God.

8. A fig. representing the choicest.

9. Jehovah.

10. Babylon.

Ch. 26. B. C. 712.

1. Ch. 26 is a continuation of the prophecy begun in Ps. 24 and 25. The prophet Isaiah continues his vision far into the future when Jehovah has redeemed his people and the world-kingdoms of Assyria and Babylon, which so long oppressed the chosen people, have themselves been conquered.

2. Jerusalem.

3. The union of the two names Lord and Jehovah, expresses in the highest possible manner the unchanging love and power of God.

4. Babylon.

5. That is, the remnant which passes through the judgment.

CHAPTER 26.

1 A song inciting to confidence in God, 5 for his judgments, 12 for his favour to his people. 20 An exhortation to wait on God.

1 In [1]that day [a]shall this song be sung in the land of Jū'dah; We have a strong [2]city; salvation will God appoint for walls and bulwarks.

2 Open [b]ye the gates, that the righteous [c]nation which keepeth the truth may enter in.

3 Thou wilt keep him in [d]perfect peace, whose mind is stayed on thee: because he trusteth [e]in thee.

4 Trust [e]ye in the Lord for ever: for in the Lord [3]JE-HŌ'VAH is [f]everlasting strength:

5 ¶ For he bringeth down them that dwell on high; the lofty city, he layeth it low; he layeth it [4]low, even to the ground; he bringeth it even to the dust.

6 The foot shall tread it down, even the feet of the poor, and the steps of the needy.

7 The way of the just is uprightness: thou, [g]most upright, dost weigh the path of the just.

8 Yea, in the way of thy judgments, O Lord, have we waited for thee; the desire of our soul is to [h]thy name, and to the remembrance of thee.

9 With my soul have I desired thee in the night; yea, with my spirit within me will I [i]seek thee early: for [j]when thy judgments are in the earth, the inhabitants of the world [5]will learn righteousness.

10 Let favour be shewed to the wicked, yet will he not [k]learn righteousness; in the land of uprightness will he deal unjustly, and will not behold the majesty of the Lord.

11 Lord, when thy hand is lifted up, they will not see: but they shall see, and be [l]ashamed for their envy at the people; yea, the fire of thine enemies shall devour them.

trust; my buckler, and the horn of my salvation, and my high tower. (Ps. 18:2.) The Lord is my light and my salvation; whom shall I fear? the Lord is the strength of my life; of whom shall I be afraid? (Ps. 27:1.) But the salvation of the righteous is of the Lord: he is their strength in the time of trouble. (Ps. 37:39.)

f. And there shall be a tabernacle for a shadow in the daytime from the heat, and for a place of refuge, and for a covert from storm and from rain. (Is. 4:6.) And a man shall be as an hiding place from the wind, and a covert from the tempest; as rivers of water in a dry place, as the shadow of a great rock in a weary land. (Is. 32:2.)

g. And I say unto you, That many shall come from the east and west, and shall sit down with Abraham, and Isaac and Jacob, in the kingdom of heaven. (Mat. 8:11.) And they shall come from the east, and from the west, and from the north, and from the south, and shall sit down in the kingdom of God. (Luke 13:29.)

h. But even unto this day, when Moses is read, the vail is upon their heart. (II Cor. 3:15.) Having the understanding darkened, being alienated from the life of God through the ignorance that is in them, because of the blindness of their heart. (Eph. 4:18.)

i. I will ransom them from the power of the grave; I will redeem them from death: O death, I will be thy plagues; O grave, I will be thy destruction: repentance shall be hid from mine eyes. (Hos. 13:14.) Then cometh the end, when he shall have delivered up the kingdom to God, even the Father; when he shall have put down all rule and all authority and power. (I Cor. 15:24.) And death and hell were cast into the lake of fire. This is the second death. (Rev. 20:14.)

j. For the Lamb which is in the midst of the throne shall feed them, and shall lead them unto living fountains of water: and God shall wipe away all tears from their eyes. (Rev. 7:17.) And God shall wipe away all tears from their eyes; and there shall be no more death, neither sorrow, nor crying, neither shall there be any more pain: for the former things are passed away. (Rev. 21:4.)

k. And his father refused, and said, I know it, my son, I know it: he also shall become a people, and he also shall be great: but truly his younger brother shall be greater than he, and his seed shall become a multitude of nations. (Gen. 48:19.) Looking for that blessed hope, and the glorious appearing of the great God and our Saviour Jesus Christ. (Tit. 2:13.)

Chapter 26.

a. In that day shall the branch of the Lord be beautiful and glorious, and the fruit of the earth shall be excellent and comely for them that are escaped of Israel. (Is. 4:2.) And in that day thou shalt say, O Lord, I will praise thee: though thou wast angry with me, thine anger is turned away, and thou comfortedst me. (Is. 12:1.)

b. Open to me the gates of righteousness: I will go into them, and I will praise the Lord (19). This gate of the Lord into which the righteous shall enter. (Ps. 118:19, 20.)

c. In the Lord shall all the seed of Israel be justified, and shall glory. (Is. 45:25.) In righteousness shalt thou be established, thou shalt be far from oppression; for thou shalt not fear: and from terror; for it shall not come near thee (14). No weapon that is formed against thee shall prosper; and every tongue that shall rise against thee in judgment thou shalt condemn. This is the heritage of the servants of the Lord, and their righteousness is of me, saith the Lord. (Is. 54:14, 17.) To appoint unto them that mourn in Zion, to give unto them beauty for ashes, the oil of joy for mourning, the garment of praise for the spirit of heaviness; that they might be called trees of righteousness, the planting of the Lord, that he might be glorified. (Is. 61:3.)

d. Peace I leave with you, my peace I give unto you: not as the world giveth, give I unto you. Let not your heart be troubled, neither let it be afraid. (Jno. 14:27.) And the peace of God, which passeth all understanding, shall keep your hearts and minds through Christ Jesus. (Phil. 4:7.)

e. Judge me, O Lord; for I have walked in mine integrity: I have trusted also in the Lord; therefore I shall not slide. (Ps. 26:1.) I have hated them that regard lying vanities: but I trust in the Lord. (Ps. 31:6.) In God I will praise his word, in God I have put my trust; I will not fear what flesh can do unto me. (Ps. 56:4.) In thee, O Lord, do I put my trust: let me never be put to confusion (1). Deliver me in thy righteousness, and cause me to escape: incline thine ear unto me, and save me (2). Be thou my strong habitation, whereunto I may continually resort: thou hast given commandment to save me; for thou art my rock and my fortress. (Ps. 71:1-3.) Let your conversation be without covetousness; and be content with such things as ye have: for he hath said, I will never leave thee, nor forsake thee (5). So that we may boldly say, The Lord is my helper, and I will not fear what man shall do unto me. (Heb. 13:5, 6.)

g. He is the rock, his work is perfect: for all his ways are judgment: a God of truth and without iniquity, just and right is he. (Dt. 32:4.) Show me thy ways, O Lord; teach me thy paths (4). Lead me in thy truth, and teach me: for thou art the God of my salvation: on thee do I wait all the day. (Ps. 25:4, 5.) Teach me thy way, O Lord, and lead me in a plain path, because of mine enemies. (Ps. 27:11.)

h. And in that day shall ye say, Praise the Lord, call upon his name, declare his doings among the people, make mention that his name is exalted. (Is. 12:4.) Wherefore glorify ye the Lord in the fires, even the name of the Lord God of Israel in the isles of the sea. (Is. 24:15.) See v. 13.

i. Ask, and it shall be given you; seek, and ye shall find; knock, and it shall be opened unto you. (Mat. 7:7.) And they that know thy name will put their trust in thee: for thou, Lord, hast not forsaken them that seek thee. (Ps. 9:10.) And he went out to meet Asa, and said unto him, Hear ye me, Asa, and all Judah and Benjamin; The Lord is with you, while ye be with him; and if ye seek him, he will be found of you; but if ye forsake him, he will forsake you. (II Chr. 15:2.) I sought the Lord, and he heard me, and delivered me from all my fears. (Ps. 34:4.)

j. Fill their faces with shame; that they may seek thy name, O Lord. (Ps. 83:16.)

k. Teach me to do thy will; for thou art my God: thy spirit is good; lead me into the land of uprightness. (Ps. 143:10.)

l. For the scripture saith, Whosoever believeth on him shall not 12 ¶ Lord, thou wilt ordain peace for us: for thou also hast wrought all our works in us.

13 O Lord our God, other lords beside thee have had dominion over us: but by thee only will we make mention of thy name.

14 They are dead, they shall not live; they are deceased, they shall not rise: therefore hast thou visited and destroyed them, and made all their memory to perish.

15 Thou hast increased the nation, O Lord, thou hast increased the nation: thou art glorified: thou hast removed it far unto all the ends of the earth.

16 Lord, [m]in trouble have they visited thee, they poured out a prayer when thy chastening was upon them.

17 Like as a woman with child, that draweth near the time of her delivery, is in pain, and crieth out in her pangs; so have we been in thy sight, O Lord.

18 We have been with child, we have been in pain, we have as it were brought forth wind; we have not wrought any deliverance in the earth; neither have the inhabitants of the world fallen.

19 Thy dead men shall live, together with my dead body shall they arise. Awake and sing, ye that dwell in dust: for thy dew is as the dew of herbs, and the earth shall cast out the dead.

20 ¶ Come, my people, enter [o]thou into thy chambers, and shut thy doors about thee: hide thyself as it were [n]for a little moment, until the indignation be overpast.

21 For, behold, the Lord [o]cometh out of his place to punish the inhabitants of the earth for their iniquity: the earth also shall disclose her [7]blood, and shall no more cover her slain.

CHAPTER 27.

1 The care of God over his vineyard. 7 His chastisements differ from judgments. 12 The church of Jews and Gentiles.

1 In [1]that day the Lord with his sore and great and strong sword shall punish [2]leviathan the piercing serpent, even [2]leviathan that crooked serpent; and he shall slay the dragon that is in the sea.

2 In that [3]day sing ye unto her, A vineyard of red wine.

3 I the Lord do keep it; I will water it every moment: lest any hurt it, I will keep it night and day.

4 Fury is not in me: who would set [a]the briers and thorns against me in battle? I would go through them, I would burn them together.

5 Or let him take hold of my strength, that he may make peace with me; and he shall make peace with me.

6 He shall cause them that come of Jā'cob to [b]take root: Is'ra-el shall blossom and bud, and fill the face of the world with fruit.

7 ¶ Hath he smitten him, as he smote those that smote [4]him? or is he slain according to the slaughter of them that are slain by him?

8 [c]In measure, when it shooteth forth, thou wilt debate with it: he stayeth his rough wind in the day of the east wind.

9 By this therefore shall the iniquity of Jā'cob be purged; and this is all the fruit to take away his sin; when he maketh all the stones of the altar as chalkstones that are beaten in sunder, the groves and images shall not stand up.

10 Yet the defenced city shall be desolate, and the habitation forsaken, and left like a wilderness: there [d]shall the calf feed, and there shall he lie down, and consume the branches thereof.

11 When the boughs thereof are withered, they shall be broken off: the women come, and set them on fire: for [e]it is a people of no understanding: therefore he that made them will not have mercy on them, and [f]he that formed them will shew them no favour.

12 ¶ And it shall come to pass in that day, that the Lord shall beat off from the channel of the river unto the stream of Ē'ġўpt, and ye shall be gathered one by one, O ye children of Is'ra-el.

13 And it shall come to pass in that day, that the great [g]trumpet shall be blown, and they shall come which were ready to perish in the land of Ās-sўr'ī-â, and the outcasts in the land of Ē'ġўpt, and shall worship the Lord in the holy mount at Je-ru'sa-lĕm.

CHAPTER 28.

1 The prophet threateneth Ephraim for their pride and drunkenness. 16 Christ the sure foundation is promised. 23 They are incited to the consideration of God's discreet providence.

1 [1]Woe to [2]the crown of pride, to the drunkards of Ē'phră-ĭm, whose glorious beauty is a fading flower, which are on the [3]head of the fat valleys of them that are overcome with wine!

2 Behold, the Lord hath a mighty and [4]strong one, [a]which as a tempest of hail and a destroying storm, as a flood of mighty waters overflowing, shall cast down to the earth with the hand.

3 The crown of pride, the drunkards of Ē'phră-ĭm, shall be trodden under feet:

4 And the glorious beauty, which is on the

Ch. 27. B. C. 712.

1. Ch. 27 is the closing part of chs. 24, 25 and 26. It completes the picture of God's true Israel and the fate of those who have been her oppressors.

2. Meaning all kinds of sea serpents and crocodiles.

3. The day when leviathan is destroyed.

4. Israel.

Ch. 28. B. C. 725.

1. Beginning with ch. 28 is a series of historic prophecies, a mingling of history with prophecy. This ch. is devoted to the denunciation or woes pronounced against Israel.

2. An expression announcing an impending calamity.

4. An invading army.

be ashamed. (Rom. 10:11.) In thee, O Lord, do I put my trust; let me never be ashamed: deliver me in thy righteousness. (Ps. 31:1.) O my God, I trust in thee: let me not be ashamed, let not mine enemies triumph over me. (Ps. 25:2.)

m. I will go and return to my place, till they acknowledge their offence, and seek my face: in their affliction they will seek me early. (Hos. 5:15.) And they said unto him, Thus saith Hezekiah, This day is a day of trouble, and of rebuke, and of blasphemy: for the children are come to the birth, and there is not strength to bring forth. (Is. 37:3.)

n. For his anger endureth but a moment; in his favor is life; weeping may endure for a night, but joy cometh in the morning. (Ps. 30:5.) For our light affliction, which is but for a moment, worketh for us a far more exceeding and eternal weight of glory. (II Cor. 4:17.)

o. Our God shall come, and shall not keep silence: a fire shall devour before him, and it shall be very tempestuous round about him. (Ps. 50:3.) For, behold, the Lord cometh forth out of his place, and will come down, and tread upon the high places of the earth. (Mic. 1:3.) And Enoch also, the seventh from Adam, prophesied of these, saying, Behold, the Lord cometh with ten thousands of his saints. (Jude 14.)

a. But the sons of Belial shall be all of them as thorns thrust away, because they cannot be taken with hands. (II Sam. 23:6.)

b. I will be as the dew unto Israel: he shall grow as the lily, and cast forth his roots as Lebanon (5). His branches shall spread, and his beauty shall be as the olive tree, and his smell as Lebanon. (Hos. 14:5, 6.)

c. Will he plead against me with his great power? No; but he would put strength in me. (Job 23:6.) There hath no temptation taken you but such as is common to man: but God is faithful, who will not suffer you to be tempted above that ye are able; but will with the temptation also make a way to escape, that ye may be able to bear it. (I Cor. 10:13.)

d. The cities of Aroer are forsaken: they shall be for flocks, which shall lie down, and none shall make them afraid. (Is. 17:2.) Because the palaces shall be forsaken; the multitude of the city shall be left; the forts and towers shall be for dens for ever, the joy of wild asses, a pasture of flocks. (Is. 32:14.)

e. For they are a nation void of counsel, neither is there any understanding in them. (Dt. 32:28.) The ox knoweth his owner, and the ass his master's crib: but Israel doth not know, my people doth not consider. (Is. 1:3.) Yea, the stork in the heaven knoweth her appointed times; and the turtle and the crane and the swallow observe the time of their coming; but my people know not the judgment of the Lord. (Jer. 8:7.)

f. Of the Rock that begat thee thou art unmindful, and hast forgotten God that formed thee. (Dt. 32:18.) But now thus saith the Lord that created thee, O Jacob, and he that formed thee, O Israel, Fear not: for I have redeemed thee, I have called thee by thy name; thou art mine. (Is. 43:1.)

g. Make thee two trumpets of silver; of a whole piece shalt thou make them: that thou mayest use them for the calling of the assembly, and for the journeying of the camps. (Num. 10:2.) And he shall send his angels with a great sound of a trumpet, and they shall gather together his elect from the four winds, from one end of heaven to the other. (Mat. 24:31.) And the seventh angel sounded; and there were great voices in heaven, saying, The kingdoms of this world are become the kingdoms of our Lord, and of his Christ; and he shall reign for ever and ever. (Rev. 11:15.)

Chapter 28.

a. And the Lord shall cause his glorious voice to be heard, and shall show the lighting down of his arm, with the indignation of his anger, and with the flame of a devouring fire, with scattering, and tempest, and hailstones. (Is. 30:30.) Say unto them which daub it with untempered mortar that it shall fall: there shall be an overflowing shower; and ye, O great hailstones, shall fall; and a stormy wind shall rend it. (Ez. 13:11.)

head of the fat valley, shall be a fading flower, and as the hasty fruit before the summer; which when he that looketh upon it seeth, while it is yet in his hand he eateth it up.

5 ¶ In that [5]day shall the Lord of hosts be for a crown of glory, and for a diadem of beauty, unto the residue of his people,

6 And for a spirit of judgment to him that sitteth in judgment, and for strength to them that turn the battle to the gate.

7 ¶ But they also [b]have erred through wine, and through strong drink are out of the way; the priest [c]and the prophet have erred through strong drink, they are swallowed up of wine, they are out of the way through strong drink; they err in vision, they stumble in judgment.

8 For all tables are full of vomit and filthiness, so that there is no place clean.

9 ¶ Whom [d]shall he teach knowledge? and whom shall he make to understand doctrine? them that are weaned from the milk, and drawn from the breasts.

10 For [6]precept must be upon precept, precept upon precept; line upon line, line upon line; here a little, and there a little:

11 For with [e]stammering lips and another tongue will he speak to this people.

12 To whom he [7]said, This [f]is the rest wherewith ye may cause the weary to rest; and this is the refreshing: yet they would not hear.

13 But the word of the Lord was unto them precept upon precept, precept upon precept; line upon line, line upon line; here a little, and there a little; that they might go, and fall backward, and be broken, and snared, and taken.

14 ¶ Wherefore hear the word of the Lord, ye scornful [8]men, that rule this people which is in Je-ru'sa-lĕm.

15 Because ye have said, We have made a covenant with death, and with hell are we at agreement; when the overflowing scourge shall pass through, it shall not come unto us: for we have made lies our refuge, and under falsehood have we hid ourselves:

16 ¶ Therefore [9]thus saith the Lord God, Behold, I lay in Zi'ŏn for a foundation [g]a stone, a tried stone, a precious corner stone, a sure foundation: he that believeth shall not make haste.

17 Judgment also will I lay [10]to the line, and righteousness to the plummet: and the [11]hail shall sweep away the refuge of lies, and the waters shall overflow the hiding place.

18 ¶ And your covenant with death shall be disannulled, and your agreement with hell shall not stand; when the overflowing scourge shall pass through, then ye shall be trodden down by it.

20 For the bed is shorter than that a man can stretch himself on it: and the covering narrower than that he can wrap himself in it.

21 For the Lord shall rise up as in mount Pĕr'a-zim, he shall be wroth as in the valley of Gĭb'e-on, that he may do his work, his strange work; and bring to pass his act, his strange act.

22 Now therefore be ye not mockers, lest your bands be made strong: for I have heard from the Lord God of hosts a [12]consumption, even determined upon the whole earth.

23 ¶ Give ye ear, and hear my voice; hearken, and hear my speech.

24 Doth the plowman plow all day to sow? doth he open and break the clods of his ground?

25 When he hath made plain the face thereof, doth he not cast abroad the fitches, and scatter the cummin, and cast in the principal wheat and the appointed barley and the rie in their place?

26 For his God doth instruct him to discretion, and doth teach him.

27 For the fitches are not threshed with a threshing instrument, neither is a cart wheel turned about upon the cummin; but the fitches are beaten out with a staff, and the cummin with a rod.

28 Bread corn is bruised; because he will not ever be threshing it, nor break it with the wheel of his cart, nor bruise it with his horsemen.

29 This also cometh forth from the Lord of hosts, [h]which is wonderful in counsel, and excellent in working.

CHAPTER 29.

1 God's heavy judgment upon Jerusalem. 7 The unsatiableness of her enemies. 9 The senselessness, 13 and deep hypocrisy of the Jews. 18 A promise of sanctification to the godly.

1 [1]Woe to Ā'rĭ-el, to [2]Ā'rĭ-el, the city where Dā'vid dwelt! add ye year to [3]year; let them kill sacrifices.

2 Yet I will distress [4]Ā'rĭ-el, and there shall be heaviness and sorrow: and it shall be unto me as Ā'rĭ-el.

3 And I will camp against thee round about,

6. The attempt of the scornful, drunken scoffers to mimic the prophet. They are selfwise and righteous and want no more of this elementary, childish teaching.

7. Jehovah.

8. The drunken, debased priests and false prophets, scorning the true prophets.

9. Therefore, on account of their sins, a terrible threatening is pronounced upon the evil ones.

10. All will be judged according to the exact justice of the law, the scoffer and the believer alike.

11. Divine judgments.

12. Destruction.

Ch. 29. B. C. 712.

1. Ch. 29 begins with the prophecy announcing the invasion of Jerusalem, its ultimate failure and unbelief, or the invasion of Judea under Sennacherib.

2. Referring to Jerusalem, "the lion of God."

3. That is, go on from year to year in your sinful sacrifices.

4. That is, Jerusalem shall be severely purged.

b. Wine is a mocker, strong drink is raging: and whosoever is deceived thereby is not wise. (Prov. 20:1.) Who hath woe? who hath sorrow? who hath contentions? who hath babbling? who hath wounds without cause? who hath redness of eyes? (29). They that tarry long at the wine; they that go to seek mixed wine (30). Look not thou upon the wine when it is red, when it giveth his color in the cup, when it moveth itself aright (31). At the last it biteth like a serpent, and stingeth like an adder. (Prov. 23:29-32.) It is not for kings, O Lemuel, it is not for kings to drink wine; nor for princes strong drink (4). Lest they drink, and forget the law, and pervert the judgment of any of the afflicted. (Prov. 31:4, 5.) Whoredom and wine and new wine take away the heart. (Hos. 4:11.) And take heed to yourselves, lest at any time your heart be overcharged with surfeiting, and drunkenness, and cares of this life, and so that day come upon you unawares. (Luke 21:34.) And be not drunk with wine, wherein is excess; but be filled with the Spirit. (Eph. 5:18.)

c. His watchmen are blind: they are all ignorant, they are all dumb dogs, they cannot bark; sleeping, lying down, loving to slumber. (Is. 56:10.) For a bishop must be blameless, as the steward of God; not self-willed, not soon angry, not given to wine, no striker, not given to filthy lucre. (Tit. 1:7.)

d. To whom shall I speak, and give warning, that they may hear? behold, their ear is uncircumcised and they cannot hearken: behold, the word of the Lord is unto them a reproach; they have no delight in it. (Jer. 6:10.) And though the Lord give you the bread of adversity, and the water of affliction, yet shall not thy teachers be removed into a corner any more, but thine eyes shall see thy teachers. (Is. 30:20.) The Lord God hath given me the tongue of the learned, that I should know how to speak a word in season to him that is weary: he wakeneth morning by morning, he wakeneth mine ear to hear as the learned. (Is. 50:4.) See v. 26.

e. In the law it is written, With men of other tongues and other lips will I speak unto this people; and yet for all they will not hear me, saith the Lord. (I Cor. 14:21.)

f. Therefore he said unto Judah, Let us build these cities, and make about them walls, and towers, gates, and bars, while the land is yet before us; because we have sought the Lord our God, we have sought him, and he hath given us rest on every side. So they built and prospered. (II Chr. 14:7.)

g. This is the stone which was set at nought of you builders, which is become the head of the corner. (Acts 4:11.) As it is written, Behold, I lay in Zion a stumblingstone and rock of offence: and whosoever believeth on him shall not be ashamed. (Rom. 9:33.) For the scripture saith, Whosoever believeth on him shall not be ashamed (11). For there is no difference between the Jew and the Greek: for the same Lord over all is rich unto all that call upon him. (Rom. 10:11, 12.) And are built upon the foundation of the apostles and prophets, Jesus Christ himself being the chief corner stone (20). In whom all the building fitly framed together groweth unto a holy temple in the Lord (21). In whom ye also are builded together for an habitation of God through the Spirit. (Eph. 2:20-22.) Wherefore also it is contained in the scripture, Behold, I lay in Zion a chief corner stone, elect, precious: and he that believeth on him shall not be confounded (6). Unto you therefore which believe he is precious: but unto them which be disobedient, the stone which the builder disallowed, the same is made the head of the corner. (I Pet. 2:6, 7.)

h. Let us come before his presence with thanksgiving, and make a joyful noise unto him with psalms. (Ps. 95:2.) How precious also are thy thoughts unto me, O God! how great is the sum of them! (17). If I should count them, they are more in number than the sand: when I awake, I am still with thee. (Ps. 139:17, 18.) Great in counsel, and mighty in work: for thine eyes are open upon all the ways of the sons of men: to give every one according to his ways and according to the fruit of his doings. (Jer. 32:19.) O the depth of the riches both of the wisdom and knowledge of God! how unsearchable are his judgments, and his ways past finding out! (Rom. 11:33.)

and will lay siege against thee with a mount, and I will raise forts against thee.

4 And thou shalt be brought down, and shalt speak out of the ground, and thy speech shall be low out of the dust, and thy voice shall be, as of one that hath a familiar spirit, out of the ground, and thy speech shall whisper out of the dust.

5 Moreover the multitude of thy strangers shall be like small dust, and the multitude of the terrible ones shall be as chaff that passeth away: yea, it shall be at an instant suddenly.

6 Thou shalt [a]be [b]visited of the Lord of hosts [b]with thunder, and with earthquake, and great noise, with storm and tempest, and the flame of devouring fire.

7 ¶ And the multitude of all the nations that fight against Ā'rĭ-el, even all that fight against her and her munition, and that distress her, shall be as a dream of a night vision.

8 It shall even be as when an hungry man dreameth, and, behold, he eateth; but he awaketh, and his soul is empty: or as when a thirsty man dreameth, and, behold, he drinketh; but he awaketh, and, behold, he is faint, and his soul hath appetite: so shall the multitude of all the nations be, that fight against mount Zĭ'ŏn.

9 ¶ Stay yourselves, and wonder; cry ye out, and cry: they are drunken, but not with wine; they stagger, but not with strong drink.

10 For [c]the Lord hath poured out upon you the spirit of deep sleep, and hath closed your eyes: the prophets and your rulers, the seers hath he covered.

11 And the vision of all is become unto you as the words of a book that is sealed, which men deliver to one that is learned, saying, Read this, I pray thee: and he saith, I cannot; for it is sealed:

12 And the book is delivered to him that is not learned, saying, Read this, I pray thee: [d]and he saith, I am not learned.

13 ¶ Wherefore the Lord said, Forasmuch [e]as this people draw near me with their mouth, and with their lips do honour me, but have removed their heart far from me, and their fear toward me is taught by [f]the precept [g]of men:

14 Therefore, behold, I will proceed to do a marvellous work among this people, even a marvellous work and a wonder: [g]for the wisdom of their wise men shall perish, and the understanding of their prudent men shall be [h]hid.

15 Woe unto them that seek deep to hide their counsel from the Lord, and their works are in the dark, and they say, Who seeth us? and who knoweth us?

16 Surely your turning of things upside down shall be esteemed as the potter's clay: for shall the work say of him that made it, He [h]made me not? or shall the thing framed say of him that framed it, He had no understanding?

17 Is it not yet a very little while, and Lĕb'-a-non shall be turned into a fruitful field, and the fruitful field shall be esteemed as a forest?

18 ¶ And in that [i]day shall the deaf hear the words of the book, and the eyes of the blind shall see out of obscurity, and out of darkness.

19 [i]The meek also shall increase their joy in the Lord, and [j]the poor among men shall rejoice in the Holy One of Ĭs'ra-el.

20 For the terrible one is brought to nought, and the scorner is consumed, and all that watch for iniquity are cut off:

21 That make a man an offender for a word, and lay a snare for him that reproveth in the gate, and turn aside the just [k]for a thing of nought.

22 Therefore thus saith the Lord, who redeemed Ā'brā-hăm, concerning the house of Jā'-cob, Jā'cob shall not now be ashamed, neither shall his face now wax pale.

23 But when he seeth his children, [l]the work of mine hands, in the midst of him, they shall sanctify [m]my name, and sanctify the Holy One of Jā'cob, and shall [n]fear the God of Ĭs'-ra-el.

24 They also that erred in spirit shall come to understanding, and they that murmured shall learn doctrine.

CHAPTER 30.

1 The prophet threateneth the people for their confidence in Egypt, 8 and contempt of God's word. 18 God's mercies towards his church. 27 God's wrath, and the people's joy, in the destruction of Assyria.

7. The day when Jehovah shall make the moral changes mentioned in v. 17.

Ch. 30. B. C. 713.

1. The prophecy of ch. 30 was probably delivered in the fall preceding the summer of 714 B. C., which was the year the Jews sent their ambassadors to Egypt to form an alliance, thus seeming to rely upon Egypt instead of Jehovah. Isaiah denounces this conduct, as God had prohibited alliances with heathen nations, it being a leading feature of Jewish policy that they should be a separate nation.

2. To keep secret.

Chapter 29.

a. And what will ye do in the day of visitation, and in the desolation which shall come from far? to whom will ye flee for help? and where will ye leave your glory? (Is. 10:3.) They are dead, they shall not live; they are deceived, they shall not rise: therefore hast thou visited and destroyed them, and made all their memory to perish (14). For, behold, the Lord cometh out of his place to punish the inhabitants of the earth for their iniquity: the earth also shall disclose her blood, and shall no more cover her slain. (Is. 26:14, 21.) Behold, the Lord hath a mighty and strong one, which as a tempest of hail and a destroying storm, as a flood of mighty waters overflowing, shall cast down to the earth with the hand. (Is. 28:2.)

b. For nation shall rise against nation, and kingdom against kindom: and there shall be famines, and pestilences, and earthquakes, in divers places. (Mat. 24:7.) For nation shall rise against nation, and kingdom against kingdom: and there shall be earthquakes in divers places, and there shall be famines and troubles: these are the beginnings of sorrows. (Mk. 13:8.) And great earthquakes shall be in divers places, and famines, and pestilences; and fearful sights and great signs shall there be from heaven. (Luke 21:11.)

c. (According as it is written, God hath given them the spirit of slumber, eyes that they should not see, and ears that they should not hear); unto this day. (Rom. 11:8.) And with all deceivableness of unrighteousness in them that perish; because they receive not the love of truth, that they might be saved. (II Thes. 2:10.) Let their eyes be darkened, that they see not; and make their loins continually to shake. (Ps. 69:23.) Make the heart of this people fat, and make their ears heavy, and shut their eyes; lest they see with their eyes, and hear with their ears, and understand with their heart, and convert, and be healed. (Is. 6:10.)

d. But thou, O Daniel, shut up the words, and seal the book, even to the time of the end: many shall run to and fro, and knowledge shall be increased. (Dan. 12:4.) And I saw in the right hand of him that sat on the throne, a book written within and on the back side, sealed with seven seals. (Rev. 5:1.) And I saw when the Lamb opened one of the seals, and I heard, as it were the noise of thunder, one of the four beasts saying, Come and see. (Rev. 6:1.)

e. And they come unto thee as the people cometh, and they sit before thee as my people, and they hear thy words, but they will not do them: for with their mouth they show much love, but their heart goeth after their covetousness. (Ez. 33:31.) Ye hypocrites, well did Esaias prophesy of you, saying (7), This people draws nigh unto me with their mouth, and honoreth me with their lips; but their heart is far from me. (Mat. 15:7, 8.)

f. (Touch not; taste not; handle not (21); Which are all to perish with the using;) After the commandments and doctrines of men? (Col. 2:21, 22.)

g. Concerning Edom, thus saith the Lord of hosts, Is wisdom no more in Teman? is counsel perished from the prudent? is their wisdom vanished? (Jer. 49:7.) For it is written, I will destroy the wisdom of the wise, and will bring to nothing the understanding of the prudent. (I Cor. 1:19.)

h. Nay, but, O man, who art thou that repliest against God? shall a thing formed say to him that formed it, why hast thou made me thus? (Rom. 9:20.)

i. These things have I spoken unto you that my joy might remain in you, and that your joy might be full. (Jno. 15:11.)

j. Hearken, my beloved brethren, Hath not God chosen the poor of this world rich in faith, and heirs of the kingdom which he hath promised to them that love him? (Js. 2:5.) For ye see your calling, brethren, how that not many wise men after the flesh, not many mighty, not many noble, are called (26). But God hath chosen the foolish things of the world to confound the wise; and God hath chosen the weak things of the world to confound the things which are mighty. (I Cor. 1:26, 27.)

k. To have respect of persons is not good: for a piece of bread that man will transgress. (Prov. 28:21.)

l. Thy people also shall be all righteous; they shall inherit the land for ever, the branch of my planting, the work of my hands, that I may be glorified. (Is. 60:21.) For we are his workmanship, created in Christ Jesus unto good works, which God hath before ordained that we should walk in them. (Eph. 2:10.)

m. If any man speak, let him speak as the oracles of God; if any man minister, let him do it as of the ability which God giveth: that God in all things may be glorified through Jesus Christ, to whom be praise and dominion for ever and ever. Amen. (I Pet. 4:11.)

n. See c, ch. 12, Ecc.

Chapter 30.

a. But evil men and seducers shall wax worse and worse, deceiving, and being deceived. (II Tim. 3:13.)

have not asked at my mouth; to strengthen themselves in the strength of Phā'raōh, and to trust in the shadow of [a]Ē'gўpt!

3 Therefore shall the strength of Phā'raōh be your [4]shame, and the trust in the shadow of Ē'gўpt your [4]confusion.

4 For his princes were at Zō'an, and his ambassadors came to Hā'nēs.

6 The burden of the beasts of the south: into the land of trouble and anguish, from whence come the young and old lion, the viper and fiery flying serpent, they will carry their riches upon the shoulders of young asses, and their treasures upon the bunches of camels, to a people that shall not profit them.

7 For [b]the E-gўp'tians shall help in vain, and to no purpose: therefore have I cried concerning this, Their strength is to sit still.

8 ¶ Now go, write it before them in a table, and note it in a book, that it may be for the time to come for ever and ever:

9 That [c]this is a rebellious people, lying [5]children, children that will not hear the law of the Lord:

10 Which [d]say to the seers, See not; and to the prophets, Prophesy not unto us right things, [e]speak unto us smooth things, prophesy deceits:

11 Get [f]you out of the way, turn aside out of the path, cause the Holy One of Ĭs'ra-el to cease from before us.

12 Wherefore thus saith the Holy One of Ĭs'ra-el, Because ye despise this word, and trust in oppression and perverseness, and stay thereon:

13 Therefore this iniquity shall be to you as a breach ready to fall, swelling out in a high wall, whose breaking cometh suddenly at an instant.

14 And [g]he shall break it as the breaking of the potters' vessel that is broken in pieces; he shall not spare: so that there shall not be found in the bursting of it a sherd to take fire from the hearth, or to take water withal out of the pit.

15 For thus saith the Lord God, the Holy One of Ĭs'ra-el; In returning and rest shall ye be saved; in quietness and in confidence shall be your strength: [h]and ye would not.

16 But ye said, No; for we will flee upon horses; therefore shall ye flee: and, We will ride upon the swift; therefore shall they that pursue you be swift.

17 [i]One [6]thousand shall flee at the rebuke of one; at the rebuke of five shall ye flee: till ye be left as a beacon upon the top of a mountain, and as an ensign on an hill.

18 ¶ And therefore [7]will the [j]Lord wait, that he may be gracious unto you, and therefore will he be exalted, that he may have [k]mercy upon you: for the Lord is a God of judgment: [l]blessed are all they that wait for him.

19 For the people shall dwell in Zī'ŏn at Je-rų'sa-lĕm: thou shalt weep no more: he will be very gracious unto thee at the voice of thy cry; when he shall hear it, he will answer thee.

20 And though the Lord give you the bread of adversity, and the water of affliction, yet shall not thy teachers be removed into a corner any more, but thine eyes shall see thy teachers:

21 And thine ears shall hear a word behind thee, saying, This is the way, walk ye in it, when ye turn to the right hand, and when ye turn to the left.

22 [m]Ye shall defile also the covering of thy graven images of silver, and the ornament of thy molten images of gold: thou shalt cast them away as a menstruous cloth; thou shalt say unto it, Get thee hence.

23 Then [n]shall he give the rain of thy seed, that thou shalt sow the ground withal; and bread of the increase of the earth, and it shall be fat and plenteous: in that day shall thy cattle feed in large pastures.

24 The oxen likewise and the young asses that ear the ground shall eat clean provender, which hath been winnowed with the shovel and with the fan.

25 And there shall be upon every high mountain, and upon every high hill, rivers and streams of waters in the day of the great slaughter, when the towers fall.

26 Moreover the light [o]of the moon shall be as the light of the sun, and the light of the sun shall be sevenfold, as the light of seven days, in the day that the Lord bindeth up the breach of his people, and healeth the stroke of their wound.

27 ¶ Behold, the name of the Lord cometh from far, burning with his anger, and the burning thereof is heavy: his lips are full of indignation, and his tongue as a devouring fire:

3. Rather than to trust in the protection of Jehovah.

4. Disappointment.

5. Because unfaithful to Jehovah. They had covenanted with him as his adopted children, but had proven false to their vows.

6. A thousand shall flee as one man.

7. On account of their wickedness.

b. Thus saith the Lord, the God of Israel; Thus shall ye say to the king of Judah, that sent you unto me to enquire of me; Behold, Pharaoh's army which is come forth to help you, shall return to Egypt, into their own land. (Jer. 37:7.)

c. And he said, I will hide my face from them, I will see what their end shall be; for they are a very froward generation, children in whom is no faith. (Dt. 32:20.) Ah, sinful nation, a people laden with iniquity, a seed of evil doers, children that are corrupters: they have forsaken the Lord, they have provoked the Holy One of Israel unto anger, they are gone away backward. (Is. 1:4.)

d. Therefore thus saith the Lord of hosts, Behold, I will punish them: the young men shall die by the sword; their sons and their daughters shall die by famine. (Jer. 11:22.) But ye gave the Nazarites wine to drink, and commanded the prophets, saying, Prophesy not. (Amos 2:12.) Prophesy ye not, say they to them that prophesy: they shall not prophesy to them, that they shall not take shame. (Mic. 2:6.)

e. And the messenger that was gone to call Micaiah spake unto him, saying, Behold now, the words of the prophets declare good unto the king with one mouth: let thy word, I pray thee, be like the word of one of them, and speak that which is good. (I Ks. 22:13.) If a man walking in the spirit and falsehood do lie, saying, I will prophesy unto thee of wine and of strong drink; he shall even be the prophet of this people. (Mic. 2:11.)

f. But Elymas the sorcerer (for so is his name by interpretation) withstood them, seeking to turn away the deputy from the faith. (Acts 13:8.)

g. Thou shalt break them with a rod of iron; thou shalt dash them in pieces like a potter's vessel. (Ps. 2:9.) And I will make Jerusalem heaps and a den of dragons; and I will make the cities of Judah desolate, without an inhabitant. (Jer. 9:11.)

h. O Jerusalem, Jerusalem, thou that killest the prophets, and stonest them which are sent unto thee, how often would I have gathered thy children together, even as a hen gathereth her chickens under her wings, and ye would not! (Mat. 23:37.) As an eagle stirreth up her nest, fluttereth over her young, spreadeth abroad her wings, taketh them, beareth them on her wings (11); So the Lord alone did lead him, and there was no strange God with him. (Dt. 32:11, 12.)

i. And five of you shall chase an hundred, and an hundred of you shall put ten thousand to flight: and your enemies shall fall before you by the sword. (Lev. 26:8.) The Lord shall cause thee to be smitten before thine enemies: thou shalt go out one way against them, and flee seven ways before them, and shalt be removed into all the kingdoms of the earth. (Dt. 28:25.)

j. The Lord is not slack concerning his promise, as some men count slackness: but is long-suffering to us-ward, not willing that any should perish, but that all should come to repentance. (II Pet. 3:9.)

k. And the Lord passed by before him, and proclaimed, The Lord, The Lord God, merciful and gracious, long-suffering, and abundant in goodness and truth. (Ex. 34:6.) With the merciful thou wilt show thyself merciful; with an upright man thou wilt show thyself upright. (Ps. 18:25.) Go and proclaim these words toward the north, and say, Return, thou backsliding Israel, saith the Lord; and I will not cause mine anger to fall upon you: for I am merciful, saith the Lord, and I will not keep anger for ever. (Jer. 3:12.) Be ye therefore merciful, as your Father also is merciful. (Luke 6:36.) Hear me when I call, O God of my righteousness; thou hast enlarged me when I was in distress; have mercy upon me, and hear my prayer. (Ps. 4:1.) Be merciful unto me, O God, be merciful unto me: for my soul trusteth in thee: yea, in the shadow of thy wings will I make my refuge, until these calamities be overpast. (Ps. 57:1.)

l. Blessed is the man that trusteth in the Lord, and whose hope the Lord is. (Jer. 17:7.) O taste and see that the Lord is good: blessed is the man that trusteth in him. (Ps. 34:8.)

m. Now when all this was finished, all Israel that were present went out to the cities of Judah, and brake the images in pieces, and cut down the groves, and threw down the high places, and the altars out of all Judah and Benjamin, and Ephraim also and Manasseh, until they had utterly destroyed them all. Then all the children of Israel returned, every man to his possession, into their own cities. (II Chr. 31:1.)

n. But seek ye first the kingdom of God, and his righteousness; and all these things shall be added unto you. (Mat. 6:33.) For bodily exercise profiteth little: but godliness is profitable unto all things, having promise of the life that now is, and of that which is to come. (I Tim. 4:8.)

o. The sun shall be no more thy light by day; neither for brightness shall the moon give light unto thee: but the Lord shall be unto thee an everlasting light, and thy God thy glory. (Is. 60:19.)

28 And his breath, as an overflowing stream, shall reach to the midst of the neck, to [p]sift the nations with the sieve of vanity: and there shall be a bridle in the jaws of the people, causing them to err.

29 Ye shall have a song, as in the night when a holy solemnity is kept; and gladness of heart, as when one goeth with a pipe to come into the mountain of the Lord, to the mighty One of Ĭs'ra-el.

30 And the Lord shall cause his glorious voice to be heard, and shall shew the lighting down of his arm, with the indignation of his anger, and with the flame of a devouring fire, with scattering, and tempest, and hailstones.

31 For through the voice of the Lord shall the Ăs-sўr'ĭ-an be beaten down, which smote with a rod.

32 And in every place where the grounded staff shall pass, which the Lord shall lay upon him, it shall be with [8]tabrets and harps: and in battles of shaking will he fight with it.

33 [q]For [9]Tō'phet is ordained of old; yea, for the king it is prepared; he hath made it deep and large: the pile thereof is fire and much wood; the breath of the Lord, like a stream of brimstone, doth kindle it.

CHAPTER 31.

1 The prophet showeth the cursed folly in trusting to Egypt, and forsaking of God.
8 He sheweth the fall of Assyria.

1 [1]Woe to them [a]that go down to Ē'ġўpt for help; and stay on horses, [b]and trust in chariots, because they are many; and in horsemen, because they are very strong; but they look not unto the Holy One of Ĭs'ra-el, [c]neither seek the Lord!

2 Yet he also is wise, and will bring evil, and will not call back his words: but will arise against the house of the evildoers, and against the help of them that work iniquity.

3 Now the Ē-ġўp'tians are [d]men, and not God; and their horses flesh, and not spirit. When the Lord shall stretch out his hand, both he that helpeth shall fall, and he that is holpen shall fall down, and they all shall fail together.

4 For thus hath the Lord spoken unto me, Like as the lion and the young lion roaring on his prey, when a multitude of shepherds is called forth against him, he will not be afraid of their voice, nor abase himself for the noise of them: so shall the Lord of hosts come down to fight for mount Zī'ŏn, and for the hill thereof.

8. A tambourine.

9. The place or grove where the tambourines were prominent in the music.

Ch. 31. B. C. 713.

1. The prophecy of ch. 31 is a continuation of the same woes as given in the prophecy of ch. 30, but was issued some time after the prophecy of ch. 30.

2. Turn, because of the power and love of Jehovah just mentioned.

Ch. 32. B. C. 713.

1. In ch. 32 the scene changes from that of woe pronounced on the Jews because of their alliance with Egypt forward to the time when their punishment has been sufficient. They have returned to Jehovah, their God, and their desolations are represented as being succeeded by lasting peace and prosperity in the newly established kingdom of the Messiah.

2. One who knows, but unwisely, viciously.

3. Noble.

4. One who is niggardly or stingy, who refuses to do his part.

5. Beginning with v. 9, the prophet addresses himself to the women, particularly in high life.

6. Emblem of mourning and humiliation.

5 As birds flying, so will the Lord of hosts [e]defend Je-rų'sa-lĕm; defending also he will deliver it; and passing over he will preserve it.

6 ¶ Turn [2]ye unto him from whom the children of Ĭs'ra-el have deeply revolted.

7 For in that day every man shall cast away his idols of silver, and his idols of gold, which your own hands have made unto you for a sin.

8 ¶ Then shall the Ăs-sўr'ĭ-an [f]fall with the sword, not of a mighty man; and the sword, not of a mean man, shall devour him: but he shall flee from the sword, and his young men shall be discomfited.

9 And he shall pass over to his strong hold for fear, and his princes shall be afraid of the ensign, saith the Lord, whose [g]fire is in Zī'ŏn, and his furnace in Je-rų'sa-lĕm.

CHAPTER 32.

1 The blessings of Christ's kingdom. Desolation is foreshewn. 15 Restoration is promised to succeed.

1 Behold, [1]a [a]king shall reign in righteousness, and princes shall rule in judgment.

2 And a man shall be as an hiding place from the wind, and a covert from the tempest; as rivers of water in a dry place, as the shadow of a great rock in a weary land.

3 And [b]the eyes of them that see shall not be dim, and the ears of them that hear shall hearken.

4 The heart also of the rash shall understand knowledge, and the tongue of the stammerers shall be ready to speak plainly.

5 The vile [2]person shall be no more called [3]liberal, nor the [4]churl said to be bountiful.

6 For the vile person will speak villany, and his heart will work iniquity, to practise hypocrisy, and to utter error against the Lord, to make empty the soul of the hungry, and he will cause the drink of the thirsty to fail.

7 The instruments also of the churl are evil: he deviseth wicked devices to destroy the poor with lying words, even when the needy speaketh right.

8 But the liberal deviseth liberal things; and by liberal things shall he stand.

9 ¶ Rise [5]up, ye women [c]that are at ease; hear my voice, ye careless daughters; give ear unto my speech.

10 Many days and years shall ye be troubled, ye careless women: for the vintage shall fail, the gathering shall not come.

11 Tremble, ye women that are at ease; be troubled, ye careless ones: strip you, and make you bare, and gird [6]sackcloth upon your loins.

p. And then shall that Wicked be revealed, whom the Lord shall consume with the spirit of his mouth, and shall destroy with the brightness of his coming. (II Thes. 2:8.)

q. And they have built the high places of Tophet, which is in the valley of the son of Hinnom, to burn their sons and their daughters in the fire; which I commanded them not, neither came it into my heart. (Jer. 7:31.)

Chapter 31.

a. But he rebelled against him in sending his ambassadors into Egypt, that they might give him horses and much people. Shall he prosper? shall he escape that doeth such things? or shall he break the covenant, and be delivered? (Ez. 17:15.)

b. Some trust in chariots, and some in horses; but we will remember the name of the Lord our God. (Ps. 20:7.) An horse is a vain thing for safety: neither shall he deliver any by his great strength. (Ps. 33:17.) At the mouth of two witnesses, or three witnesses, shall he that is worthy of death be put to death; but at the mouth of one witness he shall not be put to death. (Dt. 17:6.)

c. As it is written in the law of Moses, all this evil is come upon us: yet made we not our prayer before the Lord our God, that we might turn from our iniquities, and understand thy truth. (Dan. 9:13.) They are all hot as an oven, and have devoured their judges; all their kings are fallen: there is none among them that calleth unto me. (Hos. 7:7.)

d. Put not your trust in princes, nor in the son of man, in whom there is no help. (Ps. 146:3.) Wilt thou yet say before him that slayeth thee, I am God? but thou shalt be a man, and know God, in the hand of him that slayeth thee. (Ez. 28:9.) Who opposeth and exalteth himself above all that is called God, or that is worshipped; so that he as God sitteth in the temple of God, showing himself that he is God. (II Thes. 2:4.)

e. He shall cover thee with his feathers, and under his wings shalt thou trust: his truth shall be thy shield and buckler. (Ps. 91:4.) As an eagle stirreth up her nest, fluttereth over her young, spreadeth abroad her wings, taketh them, beareth them on her wings. (Dt. 32:11.) For I will defend this city to save it for mine own sake, and for my servant David's sake. (Is. 37:35.)

f. And it came to pass that night, that the angel of the Lord went out, and smote in the camp of the Assyrians an hundred fourscore and five thousand: and when they arose early in the morning, behold, they were all dead corpses. (II Ks. 19:35.)

g. The fire shall ever be burning upon the altar; it shall never go out. (Lev. 6:13.) Thou shalt make them as a fiery oven in the time of thine anger: the Lord shall swallow them up in his wrath, and the fire shall devour them. (Ps. 21:9.) For I, saith the Lord, will be unto her a wall of fire round about, and will be the glory in the midst of her. (Zech. 2:5.)

Chapter 32.

a. Behold the days come, saith the Lord, that I will raise unto David a righteous Branch, and a King shall reign and prosper, and shall execute judgment and justice in the earth. (Jer. 23:5.) Give the king thy judgments, O God, and thy righteousness unto the king's son (1). He shall judge thy people with righteousness, and thy poor with judgment (2). The mountains shall bring peace to the people, and the little hills by righteousness (3). He shall judge the poor of the people, he shall save the children of the needy, and shall break in pieces the oppressor. (Ps. 72:1-4.) And David my servant shall be king over them: and they all shall have one shepherd: they shall also walk in my judgment, and observe my statutes, and do them. (Ez. 37:24.)

b. And in that day shall the deaf hear the words of the book, and the eyes of the blind shall see out of obscurity, and out of darkness. (Is. 29:18.) For God, who commanded the light to shine out of darkness, hath shined in our hearts, to give the light of the knowledge of the glory of God in the face of Jesus Christ. (II Cor. 4:6.) From henceforth let no man trouble me: for I bear in my body the marks of the Lord Jesus (17). Brethren, the grace of our Lord Jesus Christ be with your spirit. Amen. (Gal. 6:17, 18.)

c. Woe to them that are at ease in Zion, and trust in the mountain of Samaria, which are named chief of the nations, to whom the house of Israel came! (Amos 6:1.)

12 They shall lament for the [7]teats, for the pleasant fields, for the fruitful vine.
13 Upon [d]the land of my people shall come up thorns and briers; yea, upon all the houses of joy in the joyous city:
14 Because the palaces shall be forsaken; the multitude of the city shall be left; the forts and towers shall be for dens for ever, a joy of wild asses, a pasture of flocks;
15 Until [e]the spirit be poured upon us from on high, and the wilderness be a fruitful field, and the fruitful field be counted for a forest.
16 [f]Then [8]judgment shall dwell in the wilderness, and righteousness remain in the fruitful field.
17 And the work of righteousness shall be peace; and the effect of righteousness quietness and assurance for ever.
18 And my people shall dwell in a peaceable habitation, and in sure dwellings, and in quiet resting places;
19 When it shall hail, coming down on the forest; and the city shall be low in a low place.
20 Blessed are ye that sow beside all waters, that send forth thither the feet of [g]the ox and the ass.

CHAPTER 33.

1 God's judgments against the enemies of the church. 13 The privileges of the godly.

1 [1]Woe to thee that spoilest, and thou wast not spoiled; and dealest treacherously, and they dealt not treacherously with thee! when thou [a]shalt cease to spoil, thou shalt be spoiled; and when thou shalt make an end to deal treacherously, they shall deal treacherously with thee.
2 O Lord, be [b]gracious unto us; we have waited for thee: be thou their arm every morning, our salvation also in the time of trouble.
3 At the noise of the [2]tumult the people fled; at the lifting up of thyself the nations were scattered.
4 And your spoil shall be gathered like the gathering of the caterpiller: as the running to and fro of locusts shall he run upon them.
5 The Lord is exalted; for he dwelleth on high: he hath filled Zī'ŏn with judgment and righteousness.
6 And wisdom [3]and knowledge shall be the stability of thy times, and strength of salvation: the fear of the Lord is his treasure.
7 Behold, their valiant ones shall cry without: [c]the ambassadors of peace shall weep bitterly.
8 The highways lie waste, the wayfaring man ceaseth: he hath broken the covenant, he hath despised the cities, he regardeth no man.
9 The earth mourneth and languisheth: Lĕb'a-non is ashamed and hewn down: Shâr'on is like a wilderness; and Bā'shăn and Căr'mel shake off their fruits.
10 Now [d]will I rise, saith the Lord; now will I be exalted; now will I lift up myself.
11 Ye shall conceive [c]chaff, ye shall bring forth stubble: your breath, as fire, shall devour you.
12 And the people shall be as the burnings of lime: as thorns cut up shall they be burned in the fire.
13 ¶ Hear, ye that are far off, what I have done; and, ye that are near, acknowledge my might.
14 The sinners in Zī'ŏn are afraid; fearfulness hath surprised the hypocrites. Who [4]among us shall dwell with the devouring fire? who among us shall dwell with everlasting burnings?
15 He [5]that walketh [f]righteously, and speaketh uprightly; he that despiseth the gain of oppressions, that shaketh his hands from holding of bribes, that stoppeth his ears from hearing of blood, and shutteth his eyes from seeing evil;
16 He shall dwell on high: his place of defence shall be the munitions of rocks: bread shall be given him; his waters shall be sure.
17 Thine eyes shall see the king in his beauty: they shall behold the land that is very far off.
18 Thine heart shall meditate terror. Where is the scribe? where is the receiver? where is he that counted the towers?
19 Thou shalt not see a fierce people, [g]a people of a deeper speech than thou canst perceive; of a stammering tongue, that thou canst not understand.
20 Look upon Zī'ŏn, the city of our solemnities: thine eyes shall see Je-ru'sa-lĕm a quiet habitation, a tabernacle that shall not be taken down; not one of the stakes thereof shall ever be removed, neither shall any of the cords thereof be broken.
21 But there the [h]glorious Lord will be unto us a place of broad rivers and streams; wherein shall go no galley with oars, neither shall gallant ship pass thereby.
22 For the Lord is our judge, the Lord is our lawgiver, the Lord is our king; he will save us.
23 Thy tacklings are loosed; they could not well strengthen their mast, they could not spread the sail: then is the prey of a great spoil divided; the lame take the prey.

7. Meaning fertile fields which nourished life.

8. Justice.

Ch. 33. B. C. 713.

1. This ch. closes the last of Isaiah's prophecies respecting the overthrow of Sennacherib. It should be observed that Sennacherib seems to be constantly growing in pride, oppression, arrogance, and strength. Also that in each of these woes pronounced in the last three chs. there is a gradual and constant gain in the element of promise to Judah, which is, doubtless, the cause of the reforms under Hezekiah, during whose reign these prophecies were uttered.

2. Thus the coming of Jehovah is likened to the approach of a storm.

3. Sacred wisdom or piety.

4. If Jehovah's wrath could consume such a host in one night, who could endure it if continued for ever? (Mk. 9:44-48.)

5. Contains the answer to v. 14.

d. For lo, they are gone because of destruction: Egypt shall gather them up, Memphis shall bury them: the pleasant places for their silver, nettles shall possess them: thorns shall be in their tabernacles. (Hos. 9:6.)
e. Thou sendest forth thy spirit, they are created: and thou renewest the face of the earth. (Ps. 104:30.) But ye shall receive power, after that the Holy Ghost is come upon you: and ye shall be witnesses unto me both in Jerusalem, and in all Judea, and in Samaria, and unto the uttermost part of the earth. (Acts 1:8.)
f. Thus saith the Lord; I am returned unto Zion and will dwell in the midst of Jerusalem: and Jerusalem shall be called a city of truth; and the mountain of the Lord of hosts the holy mountain. (Zech. 8:3.)
g. Howbeit many of them which heard the word believed; and the number of the men was about five thousand. (Acts 4:4.) Unto me, who am less than the least of all saints, is this grace given, that I should preach among the Gentiles the unsearchable riches of Christ; And to make all men see what is the fellowship of the mystery, which from the beginning of the world hath been hid in God, who created all things by Jesus Christ. (Eph. 3:8, 9.) The oxen likewise and the young asses that eat the ground shall eat clean provender, which hath been winnowed with the shovel and with the fan. (Is. 30:24.)

Chapter 33.

a. He that leadeth into captivity shall go into captivity: he that killeth with the sword must be killed with the sword. Here is the patience and the faith of the saints. (Rev. 13:10.)
b. And therefore will the Lord wait, that he may be gracious unto you, and therefore will he be exalted, that he may have mercy upon you: for the Lord is a God of judgment, blessed are all they that wait for him. For the people shall dwell in Zion at Jerusalem: thou shalt weep no more: he will be very gracious unto thee at the voice of thy cry; when he shall hear it, he will answer thee. (Is. 30:18, 19.)
c. And when they had called to the king, there came out to them Eliakim the son of Hilkiah, which was over the household, and Shebna the scribe, and Joah the son of Asaph the recorder (18). Then came Eliakim the son of Hilkiah, which was over the household, and Shebna the scribe, and Joah the son of Asaph the recorder, to Hezekiah, with their clothes rent, and told him the words of Rabshakeh. (II Ks. 18:18, 37.)
d. For the oppression of the poor, for the sighing of the needy, now will I arise, saith the Lord; I will set him in safety from him that puffeth at him. (Ps. 12:5.) And they shall go into the holes of the rocks, and into the caves of the earth, for fear of the Lord, and for the glory of his majesty, when he ariseth to shake terribly the earth (19). To go into the clefts of the rocks, and into the tops of the ragged rocks, for fear of the Lord, and for the glory of his majesty, when he ariseth to shake terribly the earth. (Is. 2:19, 21.)
e. We have been with child, we have been in pain, we have as it were brought forth wind; we have not wrought any deliverance in the earth, neither have the inhabitants of the world fallen. (Is. 26:18.) If I have rewarded evil unto him that was at peace with me; (yea, I have delivered him that without cause is mine enemy). (Ps. 7:4.) Then, when lust hath conceived, it bringeth forth sin; and sin, when it is finished, bringeth forth death. (Js. 1:15.)
f. Lord, who shall abide in thy tabernacle? who shall dwell in thy holy hill? (Ps. 15:1.) Who shall ascend into the hill of the Lord? or who shall stand in his holy place? He that hath clean hands, and a pure heart; who hath not lifted up his soul unto vanity, nor sworn deceitfully. (Ps. 24:3, 4.)

h. There is a river, the streams whereof shall make glad the city of God, the holy place of the tabernacles of the Most High. (Ps. 46:4.) For I, saith the Lord, will be unto her a wall of fire round about, and will be the glory in the midst of her. (Zech. 2:5.)

24 And the inhabitants shall not say, I am sick: [i]the people that dwell therein shall be forgiven their iniquity.

CHAPTER 34.

1 The judgments wherewith God revengeth his church. 11 The desolation of her enemies. 16 The certainty of the prophecy.

1 Come [1]near, ye [2]nations, to hear; and hearken, ye people: let the earth hear, and all that is therein; the world, and all things that come forth of it.

2 For the indignation of the Lord is upon all nations, and his fury upon all their armies: he hath utterly destroyed them, he hath delivered them to the slaughter.

3 Their slain also shall be cast out, and their stink shall come up out of their carcases, and the mountains shall be melted with their blood.

4 And [a]all the host of heaven shall be dissolved, and the heavens shall be rolled together as a scroll: and all their host shall fall down, as the leaf falleth off from the vine, and as a falling fig from the fig tree.

5 For [b]my sword shall be bathed in heaven: behold, it shall come down upon I-dŭ-mē'ā, and upon the people of my curse, to judgment.

6 The sword of the Lord is filled with blood, it is made fat with fatness, and with the blood of lambs and goats, with the fat of the kidneys of rams: [c]for the Lord hath a sacrifice in Bŏz'rah, and a great slaughter in the land of I-dŭ-mē'ā.

7 And the [3]unicorns shall come down with them, and the bullocks with the bulls; and their land shall be soaked with blood, and their dust made fat with fatness.

8 [d]For it is the day of the Lord's vengeance, and the year of recompences for the controversy of Zī'ŏn.

9 And the streams thereof shall be turned into pitch, and the dust thereof into brimstone, and the land thereof shall become burning pitch.

10 It shall not be [d]quenched night nor day; the smoke thereof shall go up for ever: from generation to generation it shall lie waste; none shall pass through it for ever and ever.

11 ¶ But the cormorant and the bittern shall possess it; the owl also and the raven shall dwell in it: and he shall stretch out upon it the line of confusion, and the stones of emptiness.

Ch. 34. B. C. 713.

1. Chs. 34, 35 contain one prophecy, the last issued during the active life of Isaiah. The second series, beginning with ch. 40 (chs. 36-39 being largely historical), were prepared for the more private use of Isaiah's disciples in the prophetic school at Jerusalem. In this ch. are pronounced woes upon the enemies of God everywhere of whom Edom is the representative. The main truth of all the prophecies is now being rapidly developed—i. e., God's enemies shall be punished; his own rebellious people disciplined, and finally delivered from all their enemies, when happier and more prosperous times shall come under Messiah.

2. All creation is summoned to witness the final fate of Jehovah's enemies.

3. Buffaloes.

4. All wrongdoers everywhere must be punished and the cause of the church vindicated.

Ch. 35. B. C. 713.

1. See note 1, ch. 34.

2. "The solitary place" mentioned in ch. 34, but now blossoming in luxuriant growth.

12 They shall call the nobles thereof to the kingdom, but none shall be there, and all her princes shall be nothing.

13 And [e]thorns shall come up in her palaces, nettles and brambles in the fortresses thereof: and it shall be an habitation of dragons, and a court for owls.

14 The wild beasts of the desert shall also meet with the wild beasts of the island, and the satyr shall cry to his fellow; the screech owl also shall rest there, and find for herself a place of rest.

15 There shall the great owl make her nest, and lay, and hatch, and gather under her shadow: there shall the vultures also be gathered, every one with her mate.

16 ¶ Seek ye out of [f]the book of the Lord, and read: no one of these shall fail, none shall want her mate: [g]for my mouth it hath commanded, and his spirit it hath gathered them.

17 And he hath cast the [h]lot for them, and his hand hath divided it unto them by line: they shall possess it for ever, from generation to generation shall they dwell therein.

CHAPTER 35.

1 The joyful flourishing of Christ's kingdom. 3 The weak are encouraged by the virtues and privileges of the gospel.

1 The [1]wilderness and the [2]solitary place shall be glad for them; and the desert shall rejoice, and blossom as the rose.

2 It shall blossom abundantly, and rejoice even with joy and singing: the glory of Lĕb'-a-non shall be given unto it, the excellency of Căr'mel and Shâr'on, they shall see the glory of the Lord, and the excellency of our God.

3 ¶ Strengthen ye the weak hands, and confirm the feeble knees.

4 Say to them that are of a fearful heart, Be strong, fear not: behold, your God will come with vengeance, even God with [a]a recompence; he will come and save you.

5 Then the [b]eyes of the blind shall be opened, and [c]the ears of the deaf shall be unstopped.

6 Then shall the [d]lame man leap as an hart, and the tongue of the dumb sing: for in the wilderness shall waters break out, and streams in the desert.

7 And the parched ground shall become a pool, and the thirsty land springs of water: in the habitation of dragons, where each lay, shall be grass with reeds and rushes.

---

i. In those days, and in that time, saith the Lord, the iniquity of Israel shall be sought for, and there shall be none; and the sins of Judah, and they shall not be found: for I will pardon them whom I reserve. (Jer. 50:20.) And so all Israel shall be saved: as it is written, There shall come out of Sion the Deliverer, and shall turn away ungodliness from Jacob: For this is my covenant unto them, when I shall take away their sins. (Rom. 11:26, 27.) And I heard a great voice out of heaven, saying, Behold, the tabernacle of God is with men, and he will dwell with them, and they shall be his people, and God himself shall be with them, and be their God. And God shall wipe away all tears from their eyes; and there shall be no more death, neither sorrow, nor crying, neither shall there be any more pain: for the former things are passed away. (Rev. 21:3, 4.)

Chapter 34.

a. And when I shall put thee out, I will cover the heaven, and make the stars thereof dark; I will cover the sun with a cloud, and the moon shall not give her light. (Ez. 32:7.) The sun and the moon shall be darkened, and the stars shall withdraw their shining. (Joel 3:15.)

b. For this is the day of the Lord God of hosts, a day of vengeance, that he may avenge him of his adversaries: and the sword shall devour, and it shall be satiate and made drunk with their blood; for the Lord God of hosts hath a sacrifice in the north country by the river Euphrates. (Jer. 46:10.) Whereas Edom saith, We are impoverished, but we will return and build the desolate places; thus saith the Lord of hosts. They shall build, but I will throw down; and they shall call them The border of wickedness, and, The people against whom the Lord hath indignation for ever. (Mal. 1:4.)

c. For I have sworn by myself, saith the Lord, that Bozrah shall become a desolation, a reproach, a waste, and a curse; and all the cities thereof shall be perpetual wastes. (Jer. 49:13.) Hold thy peace at the presence of the Lord God: for the day of the Lord is at hand: for the Lord hath prepared a sacrifice, he hath bid his guests. (Zeph. 1:7.)

d. Then shall he say also unto them on the left hand, Depart from me, ye cursed, into everlasting fire, prepared for the devil and his angels. (Mat. 25:41.) And again they said, Alleluia! And her smoke rose up for ever and ever. (Rev. 19:3.)

e. For, lo, they are gone because of destruction. Egypt shall gather them up, Memphis shall bury them: the pleasant places for their silver, nettles shall possess them: thorns shall be in their tabernacles. (Hos. 9:6.)

f. And I will walk at liberty: for I seek thy precepts. (Ps. 119:45.) Then they that feared the Lord spake often one to another: and the Lord hearkened, and heard it, and a book of remembrance was written before him for them that feared the Lord, and that thought upon his name. (Mal. 3:16.)

g. God is not a man, that he should lie; neither the son of man, that he should repent: hath he said, and shall he not do it? or hath he spoken, and shall he not make it good? (Num. 23:19.) And also the Strength of Israel will not lie nor repent: for he is not a man, that he should repent. (I Sam. 15:29.) The grass withereth, the flower fadeth; but the word of our God shall stand for ever. (Is. 40:8.) For verily I say unto you, Till heaven and earth pass, one jot or one tittle shall in no wise pass from the law, till all be fulfilled. (Mat. 5:18.) Heaven and earth shall pass away; but my words shall not pass away. (Luke 21:33.)

h. He cast out the heathen also before them, and divided them an inheritance by line, and made the tribes of Israel to dwell in their tents. (Ps. 78:55.)

Chapter 35.

a. See d, ch. 11, Is.

b. When he had thus spoken, he spat on the ground, and made clay of the spittle, and he anointed the eyes of the blind man with the clay, And said unto him, Go, wash in the pool of Siloam (which is, by interpretation, Sent). He went his way therefore, and washed, and came seeing. (Jno. 9:6, 7.)

c. Jesus answered and said unto them, Go and show John again those things which ye do hear and see: The blind receive their sight, and the lame walk, the lepers are cleansed, and the deaf hear, the dead are raised up, and the poor have the Gospel preached to them. (Mat. 11:4, 5.)

d. Jesus saith unto him, Rise, take up thy bed, and walk. And immediately the man was made whole, and took up his bed, and walked: and on the same day was the sabbath. (Jno. 5:8, 9.) Then Philip went down to the city of Samaria, and preached Christ unto them. And the people with one accord gave heed unto those things which Philip spake, hearing and seeing the miracles which he did. For unclean spirits, crying with loud voice, came out of many that were possessed with them:

8 And an highway shall be there, and a way, and it shall be called The way of holiness; [c]the unclean shall not pass over it; but it shall be for those: the wayfaring men, though fools, shall not err therein.

9 [f]No lion shall be there, nor any ravenous beast shall go up thereon, it shall not be found there; but the redeemed shall walk there:

10 And the [g]ransomed of the Lord shall return, and come to Zī'ŏn with songs and everlasting joy upon their heads: they shall obtain joy and gladness, and [h]sorrow and [3]sighing shall flee away.

CHAPTER 36.

1 Sennacherib invadeth Judah. 4 Rabshakeh, sent by Sennacherib, by blasphemous persuasions soliciteth the people to revolt.

1 Now [3]it [c]came to pass in the fourteenth year of king Hĕz-e-kī'ah, that Sĕn-năch'e-rĭb king of Ās-sўr'ĭ-à came up against all the defenced cities of Jū'dah, and took them.

2 And the king of Ās-sўr'ĭ-à sent Răb'sha-keh from Lā'chish to Je-rų'sa-lĕm unto king Hĕz-e-kī'ah with a great army. And he stood by the conduit of the upper pool in the highway of the fuller's field.

3 Then came forth unto him E-lī'a-kĭm, Hĭl-kī'ah's son, which was over the house, and Shĕb'nà the scribe, and Jō'ah, Ā'saph's son, the recorder.

4 ¶ And Răb'sha-keh said unto them, Say ye now to Hĕz-e-kī'ah, Thus [3]saith the great king, the king of Ās-sўr'ĭ-à, What confidence is this wherein thou trustest?

5 I say, sayest thou, (but they are but vain words) I have counsel and strength for war: now on whom dost thou trust, that thou rebellest against me?

6 Lo, thou trustest in the [b]staff of this broken reed, on Ē'gўpt; whereon if a man lean, it will go into his hand, and pierce it: so is Phā'raōh king of Ē'gўpt to all that trust in him.

7 But if thou say to me, We [c]trust in the Lord our God: is it not he, whose high places and whose altars Hĕz-e-kī'ah hath taken away, and said to Jū'dah and to Je-rų'sa-lĕm, Ye shall worship before this altar?

8 Now therefore give pledges, I pray thee, to my master the king of Ās-sўr'ĭ-à, and I will give thee two thousand horses, if thou be able on thy part to set riders upon them.

9 How then wilt thou turn away the face of one captain of the least of my master's servants, and put thy trust on Ē'gўpt for chariots and for horsemen?

10 And am I now come up without the Lord against this land to destroy it? the Lord said unto me, Go up against this land, and destroy it.

11 ¶ Then said E-lī'a-kĭm and Shĕb'nà and Jō'ah unto Răb'sha-keh, Speak, I pray thee, unto thy servants in the Sўr'ĭ-an language; for we understand it: and speak not to us in the Jews' language, in the ears of the people that are on the wall.

12 ¶ But Răb'sha-keh said, Hath my master sent me to thy master and to thee to speak these words? hath he not sent me to the men that sit upon the wall, that they may eat their own dung, and drink their own piss with you?

13 Then Răb'sha-keh stood, and cried with a loud voice in the Jews' language, and said, Hear ye the words of the great king, the king of Ās-sўr'ĭ-à.

14 [2]Thus saith the king, Let not Hĕz-e-kī'ah deceive you: for he shall not be able to deliver you.

15 Neither let Hĕz-e-kī'ah make you [c]trust in the Lord, saying, The Lord will surely deliver us: this city shall not be delivered into the hand of the king of Ās-sўr'ĭ-à.

16 Hearken not to Hĕz-e-kī'ah: for thus saith the king of Ās-sўr'ĭ-à, [d]Make an agreement with me by a present, and come out to me: [e]and eat ye every one of his vine, and every one of his fig tree, and drink ye every one the waters of his own cistern;

17 Until I come and take you away to a land like your own land, a land of corn and wine, a land of bread and vineyards.

18 Beware lest Hĕz-e-kī'ah persuade you, saying, The Lord will deliver us. Hath any of the gods of the nations delivered his land out of the hand of the king of Ās-sўr'ĭ-à?

19 Where are the gods of Hā'math and Ăr'phad? where are the gods of Sĕph-ar-vā'ĭm? and have they delivered Sa-mā'rĭ-à out of my hand?

20 Who are they among all the gods of these lands, that have delivered their land out of my hand, that the [f]Lord should deliver Je-rų'sa-lĕm out of my hand?

21 But they held their peace, and answered [g]him not a word: for the king's commandment was, saying, Answer him not.

22 ¶ Then came E-lī'a-kĭm, the son of Hĭl-

3. The enemies of God shall be scattered and no longer give trouble. Thus are embraced all the Gospel promises in this complete and perfect redemption.

1. Chs. 36-39 form the historical appendage closing the first division of Isaiah, which were added to make more intelligible the parts of the prophecies referring to Assyria. These chs. record Sennacherib's invasion and the great slaughter of his armies.

2. Vs. 14-18 contain the special pleadings with the people against Hezekiah's influence and also against Jehovah.

and many taken with palsies, and that were lame, were healed. And there was great joy in that city. (Acts 8:5-8.)

e. Awake! awake! put on thy strength, O Zion; put on thy beautiful garments, O Jerusalem, the holy city: for henceforth there shall no more come into thee the uncircumcised and the unclean. (Is. 52:1.) And there shall in no wise enter into it any thing that defileth, neither whatsoever worketh abomination or maketh a lie; but they which are written in the Lamb's book of life. (Rev. 21:27.)

f. And I will make with them a covenant of peace, and will cause the evil beasts to cease out of the land: and they shall dwell safely in the wilderness, and sleep in the woods. And I will make them and the places round about my hill a blessing; and I will cause the shower to come down in his season; there shall be showers of blessing. (Ez. 34:25, 26.)

g. Therefore the redeemed of the Lord shall return, and come with singing unto Zion; and everlasting joy shall be upon their head: they shall obtain gladness and joy; and sorrow and mourning shall flee away. (Is. 51:11.)

h. And I will rejoice in Jerusalem, and joy in my people: and the voice of weeping shall be no more heard in her, nor the voice of crying. (Is. 65:19.) And God shall wipe away all tears from their eyes; and there shall be no more death, neither sorrow, nor crying, neither shall there be any more pain: for the former things are passed away. (Rev. 21:4.)

Chapter 36.

a. Now in the fourteenth year of king Hezekiah did Sennacherib king of Assyria come up against all the fenced cities of Judah, and took them. (II Ks. 18:13.)

b. And all the inhabitants of Egypt shall know that I am the Lord, because they have been a staff of reed to the house of Israel. When they took hold of thee by thy hand, thou didst break, and rend all their shoulders; and when they leaned upon thee, thou breakest and madest all their loins to be at a stand. (Ez. 29:6, 7.)

c. Judge me, O Lord; for I have walked in mine integrity: I have trusted also in the Lord; therefore I shall not slide. (Ps. 26:1.) I have hated them that regard lying vanities; but I trust in the Lord. (Ps. 31:6.) In God I will praise his word: in God I have put my trust; I will not fear what flesh can do unto me. (Ps. 56:4.) I will say of the Lord, He is my refuge and my fortress: my God; in him will I trust. (Ps. 91:2.) And again, I will put my trust in him. And again, Behold I and the children which God hath given me. (Heb. 2:13.) Blessed is the man that trusteth in the Lord, and whose hope the Lord is. (Jer. 17:7.) Let your conversation be without covetousness; and be content with such things as ye have: for he hath said, I will never leave thee, nor forsake thee. So that we may boldly say, The Lord is my helper, and I will not fear what man shall do unto me. (Heb. 13:5, 6.)

d. Take, I pray thee, my blessing that is brought to thee; because God hath dealt graciously with me, and because I have enough. And he urged him, and he took it. (Gen. 33:11.) Then David put garrisons in Syria of Damascus: and the Syrians became servants to David, and brought gifts. And the Lord preserved David whithersoever he went. (II Sam. 8:6.)

e. But they shall sit every man under his vine and under his fig tree; and none shall make them afraid: for the mouth of the Lord of hosts hath spoken it. (Mic. 4:4.)

f. These things hast thou done, and I kept silence; thou thoughtest that I was altogether such an one as thyself: but I will reprove thee, and set them in order before thine eyes. (Ps. 50:21.) They are corrupt, and speak wickedly concerning oppression: they speak loftily. They set their mouth against the heavens; and their tongue walketh through the earth. (Ps. 73:8, 9.) Now if ye be ready that at what time ye hear the sound of the cornet, flute, harp, sackbut, psaltery, and dulcimer, and all kinds of music, ye fall down and worship the image which I have made, well: but if ye worship not, ye shall be cast the same hour into the midst of a burning fiery furnace; and who is that God that shall deliver you out of my hands. (Dan. 3:15.) And he opened his mouth in blasphemy against God, to blaspheme his name, and his tabernacle, and them that dwell in heaven. (Rev. 13:6.)

g. He that reproveth a scorner getteth to himself shame; and he that rebuketh a wicked man getteth himself a blot. (Prov. 9:7.) Answer not a fool according to his folly, lest thou also be like unto him. (Prov. 26:4.) Give not that which is holy unto the dogs, neither cast ye your pearls before swine, lest they trample them under their feet, and turn again and rend you. (Mat. 7:6.)

kī'ah, that was over the household, and Shĕb'-nà the scribe, and Jō'ah, the son of Ā'saph, the recorder, to Hĕz-e-kī'ah with their clothes rent, and told him the words of Răb'sha-keh.

CHAPTER 37.

1 Hezekiah mourning sendeth to Isaiah to pray for them. 8 Sennacherib sendeth a blasphemous letter to Hezekiah. 21 Isaiah's prophecy of the pride and destruction of Sennacherib, and the good of Zion. 37 Sennacherib is slain at Nineveh by his own sons.

Ch. 37. B. C. 710.

1 [1]And [a]it came to pass, when king Hĕz-e-kī'ah heard it, that he rent his clothes, and covered himself with [2]sackcloth, and went [b]into the house of the Lord.

2 And he sent E-lī'a-kĭm, who was over the household, and Shĕb'nà the scribe, and the elders of the priests covered with [2]sackcloth, unto I-ṣā'iah the prophet the son of Ā'moz.

3 And they said unto him, Thus saith Hĕz-e-kī'ah, This day is a day of trouble, and of rebuke, and of blasphemy: for the children are come to the birth, and there is not strength to bring forth.

4 It may [3]be the Lord thy God will hear the words of Răb'sha-keh, whom the king of Ās-sўr'ĭ-à his master hath sent to reproach the living God, and will reprove the words which the Lord thy God hath heard: wherefore [c]lift up thy prayer for the remnant that is left.

5 So the servants of king Hĕz-e-kī'ah came to I-ṣā'iah.

6 ¶ And I-ṣā'iah said unto them, Thus shall ye say unto your master, Thus saith the Lord, Be not afraid of the words that thou hast heard, wherewith the servants of the king of Ās-sўr'ĭ-à have blasphemed me.

7 Behold, I will [d]send a blast upon him, and he shall hear a rumour, and return to his own land; and I will cause him to fall by the sword in his own land.

8 ¶ So Răb'sha-keh returned, and found the king of Ās-sўr'ĭ-à warring against [e]Lĭb'nah: for he had heard that he was departed from Lā'chish.

9 And he heard say concerning Tīr'ha-kah king of Ē-thĭ-ō'pĭ-à, He is come forth to make war with thee. And when he heard it, he sent messengers to Hĕz-e-kī'ah, saying,

10 [4]Thus shall ye speak to Hĕz-e-kī'ah king of Jū'dah, saying, Let not thy God, in whom thou trustest, deceive thee, saying, Je-rų'sa-lĕm shall not be given into the hand of the king of Ās-sўr'ĭ-à.

11 Behold, thou hast heard what the kings of Ās-sўr'ĭ-à have done to all lands by destroying them utterly; and shalt thou be delivered?

12 Have the gods of the nations delivered them which my fathers have destroyed, as Gō'zan, and Hā'ran, and Rē'zeph, and the children of Ē'dĕn which were in Te-lās'sar?

13 Where is the king of Hā'math, and the king of Ăr'phad, and the king of the city of Sĕph-ar-vā'ĭm, Hē'nà, and Ī'vah?

14 ¶ [5]And Hĕz-e-kī'ah received the letter from the hand of the messengers, and read it: and Hĕz-e-kī'ah went up unto the house of the Lord, and spread it before the Lord.

15 And Hĕz-e-kī'ah prayed unto the Lord, saying,

16 O Lord of hosts, God of Ĭs'ra-el, that dwellest [f]between the [6]cherubim, thou art the God, even thou alone, of all the kingdoms of the earth: thou hast made heaven and earth.

17 Incline [g]thine ear, O Lord, and hear; open thine eyes, O Lord, and see: and hear all the words of Sĕn-năch'e-rĭb, which hath sent to reproach the living God.

18 Of a truth, Lord, the kings of Ās-sўr'ĭ-à have laid waste all the nations, and their countries, 19 And have cast their gods into the fire: for they were no gods, but the work of men's hands, wood and stone: therefore they have destroyed them.

20 Now therefore, O Lord our God, save us from his hand, that all the kingdoms of the earth may know that thou art the Lord, even thou only.

21 ¶ Then I-ṣā'iah the son of Ā'moz sent unto Hĕz-e-kī'ah, saying, Thus saith the Lord God of Ĭs'ra-el, Whereas thou hast prayed to me against Sĕn-năch'e-rĭb king of Ās-sўr'ĭ-à:

22 This is the word which the Lord hath spoken concerning him; The virgin, the daughter of Zī'ŏn, hath despised thee, and laughed thee to scorn; the daughter of Je-rų'sa-lĕm hath shaken her head at thee.

23 Whom hast thou reproached and blasphemed? and against whom hast thou exalted thy voice, and lifted up thine eyes on high? even against the Holy One of Ĭs'ra-el.

24 By thy servants hast thou reproached the Lord, and hast said, By the multitude of my chariots am I come up to the height of the mountains, to the sides of Lĕb'a-non; and I will cut down the [h]tall cedars thereof, and the choice fir trees thereof: and I will enter into the height of his border, and [i]the forest of his Cär'mel.

25 I have digged, and drunk water; and with the sole of my feet have I dried up all the rivers of the besieged places.

26 [j]Hast thou not heard long ago, how I have done it; and of ancient times, that I have formed it? now have I brought it to pass, that thou shouldest be to lay waste defenced cities into ruinous heaps.

27 Therefore their inhabitants were [k]of small power, they were dismayed and confounded: they were as the grass of the field, and as the green herb, as the grass on the house tops, and as corn blasted before it be grown up.

28 But I know thy abode, and thy going out, and thy coming in, and thy rage against me.

29 Because thy rage against me, and thy

2. Emblem of mourning and humiliation.

3. Possibly.

4. In vs. 10-14 Sennacherib again insults Jehovah by placing him on a level with the heathen gods.

5. Vs. 14-20 record the actions of Hezekiah regarding the letter he received containing the insulting message of vs. 10-13.

6. The visible symbols of God's presence.

Chapter 37.

b. If my people, which are called by my name, shall humble themselves, and pray, and seek my face, and turn from their wicked ways; then will I hear from heaven, and will forgive their sin, and will heal their land. (II Chr. 7:14.) He shall call upon me, and I will answer him: I will be with him in trouble; I will deliver him, and honor him. (Ps. 91:15.)

c. Is any sick among you? let him call for the elders of the church; and let them pray over him, anointing him with oil in the name of the Lord: And the prayer of faith shall save the sick, and the Lord shall raise him up; and if he have committed sins, they shall be forgiven him. Confess your faults one to another, and pray one for another, that ye may be healed. The effectual fervent prayer of a righteous man availeth much. (Js. 5:14-16.)

d. But the Spirit of the Lord departed from Saul, and an evil spirit from the Lord troubled him. (I Sam. 16:14.)

e. Thus they gave to the children of Aaron the priest Hebron with her suburbs, to be a city of refuge for the slayer, and Libnah with her suburbs. (Josh. 21:13.) When the king of Babylon's army fought against Jerusalem, and against all the cities of Judah that were left, against Lachish and against Azekah: for these defenced cities remained of the cities of Judah. (Jer. 34:7.)

f. And there I will meet with thee, and I will commune with thee from above the mercyseat, from between the two cherubim which are upon the ark of the testimony, of all things which I will give thee in commandment unto the children of Israel. (Ex. 25:22.)

g. O my God, incline thine ear, and hear; open thine eyes, and behold our desolations, and the city which is called by thy name: for we do not present our supplications before thee for our righteousness, but for thy great mercies. (Dan. 9:18.)

h. And shall consume the glory of his forest, and of his fruitful field, both soul and body: and they shall be as when a standard-bearer fainteth. (Is. 10:18.)

i. Feed thy people with thy rod, the flock of thine heritage, which dwelt solitarily in the wood, in the midst of Carmel: let them feed in Bashan and Gilead, as in the days of old. (Mic. 7:14.)

j. Hast thou not heard long ago how I have done it, and of ancient times that I have formed it? now have I brought it to pass, that thou shouldest be to lay waste fenced cities into ruinous heaps. (II Ks. 19:25.)

k. And the Lord said unto Moses, Is the Lord's hand waxed short? thou shalt see now whether my word shall come to pass unto thee or not. (Num. 11:23.) Go ye up upon her walls, and destroy; but make not a full end: take away her battlements; for they are not the Lord's. (Jer. 5:10.)

tumult, is come up into mine ears, therefore [l]will I put my hook in thy nose, and my bridle in thy lips, and I will turn thee back by the way by which thou camest.

30 And this shall be a sign unto thee, Ye shall eat this year such as groweth of itself; and the second year that which springeth of the same: and in the third year sow ye, and reap, and plant vineyards, and eat the fruit thereof.

31 And the remnant that is escaped of the house of Jū'dah shall again take root downward, and bear fruit upward:

32 For out of Je-rū'sa-lĕm shall go forth a remnant, and [m]they that escape out of mount Zī'ŏn: the [n]zeal of the Lord of hosts shall do this.

33 Therefore thus saith the Lord concerning the king of Ās-sȳr'ī-à, He shall not come into this city, nor shoot an arrow there, nor come before it with shields, nor cast a bank against it.

34 By the way that he came, by the same shall he return, and shall not come into this city, saith the Lord.

35 For I will [o]defend this city to save it for mine own sake, and for my servant Dā'vid's sake.

36 Then the [7]angel [p]of the Lord went forth, and smote in the camp of the Ās-sȳr'ī-anş a hundred and fourscore and five thousand: and when they arose early in the morning, behold, they were all dead corpses.

37 ¶ So Sĕn-năch'e-rĭb king of Ās-sȳr'ī-à departed, and went and returned, and dwelt at Nĭn'e-veh.

38 And it came to pass, as he was worshipping in the house of Nĭs'rŏch his god, that A-drăm'me-lech and Sha-rē'zer his sons smote him with the sword; and they escaped into the land of [q]Är-mē'nī-à: and Ē'sar-hăd'don his son reigned in his stead.

CHAPTER 38.

1 Hezekiah, having received a message of death, by prayer hath his life lengthened. 8 The sun goeth ten degrees backward, for a sign of that promise. 9 His song of thanksgiving.

1 [1]In [a]those [2]days was Hĕz-e-kī'ah sick unto [3]death. And I-şā'iah the prophet the son of Ā'moz came unto him, and said unto him, Thus saith the Lord, Set thine house in order: for thou shalt [4]die, and not live.

2 Then Hĕz-e-kī'ah turned his face toward the wall, and [5]prayed unto the Lord,

3 And said, [b]Remember now, O Lord, I beseech thee, how I have walked before thee in truth and with a perfect heart, and have done that which is good in thy sight. And Hĕz-e-kī'ah wept sore.

4 ¶ Then came the word of the Lord to I-şā'iah, saying,

5 Go, and say to Hĕz-e-kī'ah, Thus saith the Lord, the God of Dā'vid thy father, I have heard thy prayer, I have seen thy tears: behold, I will add unto thy days fifteen years.

6 And I will deliver thee and this city out of the hand of the king of Ās-sȳr'ī-à: and I will defend this city.

7 And this shall be [6]a sign [c]unto thee from the Lord, that the Lord will do this thing that he hath spoken;

8 Behold, I will bring again the shadow [7]of the degrees, which is gone down in the sun dial of Ā'hăz, ten degrees backward. So the sun returned ten degrees, by which degrees it was gone down.

9 ¶ The writing of Hĕz-e-kī'ah king of Jū'dah, when he had been sick, and was recovered of his sickness:

10 I said in the cutting off of my days, I shall go to the gates of the grave: I am deprived of the residue of my years.

11 I said, I shall not see the Lord, even the Lord, [d]in the land of the living: I shall behold man no more with the inhabitants of the world.

12 [e]Mine age is departed, and is removed from me as a shepherd's tent: I have cut off like a weaver my life: he will cut me off with pining sickness: from day even to night wilt thou make an end of me.

13 I reckoned till morning, that, as a lion, so will he break all my bones: from day even to night wilt thou make an end of me.

14 Like a crane or a swallow, so did I chatter: I did mourn as a dove: mine eyes fail with looking upward: O Lord, I am oppressed; [8]undertake for me.

15 What shall I say? he hath both spoken unto me, and himself hath done it: I shall go softly all my years in the bitterness of my soul.

16 O Lord, by these things men live, and in all these things is the life of my spirit: so wilt thou recover me, and make me to live.

17 Behold, for peace I had great bitterness: but thou hast in love to my soul delivered it from the pit of corruption: for thou hast cast all my sins behind thy back.

18 For [f]the grave cannot praise thee, death cannot celebrate thee: they that go down into the pit cannot hope for thy truth.

19 The living, the living, he shall praise thee, as I do this day: [g]the father to the children shall make known thy truth.

20 The Lord was ready to save me: therefore we will sing my songs to the stringed

7. Egyptian records have been found corroborating this statement.

Ch. 38. B. C. 713.

1. In this ch. are recorded Hezekiah's great sickness and his 15 years increased lease of life in answer to prayer.

2. About the time when Sennacherib was providentially routed from the land.

3. A sickness which from all appearances was to prove fatal.

4. Which was an indication of the ordinary course of the disease. But this 15 years of new lease of life was an illustration, not of a change of God's mind, but an illustration of God's dealings being unchangeably regulated by man's relations to him.

5. Earnestly plead with Jehovah.

6. A proof that God will fulfill his promise that Hezekiah should go up into the house of the Lord. (II Ks. 20:5-8.)

7. The sun dial was to be made to throw its shadows backward as a sign to Hezekiah. (Josh. 10:12-14.)

8. Assure me.

l. And his breath, as an overflowing stream, shall reach to the midst of the neck, to sift the nations with the sieve of vanity: and there shall be a bridle in the jaws of the people, causing them to err. (Is. 30:28.) And I will turn thee back, and put hooks into thy jaws, and I will bring thee forth, and all thine army, horses and horsemen, all of them clothed with all sorts of armor, even a great company with bucklers and shields, all of them handling swords. (Ez. 38:4.)

m. Yet a small number that escaped the sword shall return out of the land of Egypt into the land of Judah, and all the remnant of Judah, that are gone into the land of Egypt to sojourn there, shall know whose words shall stand, mine, or theirs. (Jer. 44:28.)

n. For out of Jerusalem shall go forth a remnant, and they that escape out of mount Zion: the zeal of the Lord of hosts shall do this. (II Ks. 19:31.) Of the increase of his government and peace there shall be no end, upon the throne of David, and upon his kingdom, to order it, and to establish it with judgment and with justice from henceforth even for ever. The zeal of the Lord of hosts will perform this. (Is. 9:7.)

o. And I will add unto thy days fifteen years; and I will deliver thee and this city out of the hand of the king of Assyria, and I will defend this city for mine own sake, and for my servant David's sake. (II Ks. 20:6.) And I will deliver thee and this city out of the hand of the king of Assyria: and I will defend this city. (Is. 38:6.)

p. And it came to pass that night, that the angel of the Lord went out, and smote in the camp of the Assyrians an hundred fourscore and five thousand: and when they arose early in the morning, behold, they were all dead corpses. (II Ks. 19:35.) And the Lord sent an angel, which cut off all the mighty men of valor, and the leaders and captains in the camp of the king of Assyria. So he returned with shame of face to his own land. And when he was come into the house of his God, they that came forth of his own bowels slew him there with the sword. (II Chr. 32:21.)

q. And the ark rested in the seventh month, on the seventeenth day of the month, upon the mountains of Ararat. (Gen. 8:4.)

Chapter 38.

a. See II Ks. ch. 2.

b. Remember me, O my God, concerning this, and wipe not out my good deeds that I have done for the house of my God, and for the offices thereof. (Neh. 13:14.)

c. And Hezekiah said unto Isaiah, What shall be the sign that the Lord will heal me, and that I shall go up into the house of the Lord the third day? (II Ks. 20:8.) Moreover the Lord spake again unto Ahaz, saying, Ask thee a sign of the Lord thy God; ask it either in the depth, or in the height above. (Is. 7:10, 11.)

d. One thing have I desired of the Lord, that will I seek after; that I may dwell in the house of the Lord all the days of my life, to behold the beauty of the Lord, and to enquire in his temple (4). I had fainted, unless I had believed to see the goodness of the Lord in the land of the living. (Ps. 27:4, 13.)

e. My days are swifter than a weaver's shuttle, and are spent without hope. (Job 7:6.) My days are like a shadow that declineth; and I am withered like grass. (Ps. 102:11.)

f. For in death there is no remembrance of thee: in the grave who shall give thee thanks? (Ps. 6:5.) What profit is there in my blood, when I go down to the pit? Shall the dust praise me? shall it declare thy truth? (Ps. 30:9.) Shall thy loving-kindness be declared in the grave? or thy faithfulness in destruction? (Ps. 88:11.) Whatsoever thy hand findeth to do, do it with thy might; for there is no work, nor device, nor knowledge, nor wisdom, in the grave, whither thou goest. (Ecc. 9:10.)

g. And thou shalt teach them diligently unto thy children, and shalt talk of them when thou sittest in thine house, and when thou walkest by the way, and when thou liest down, and when thou risest up. (Dt.

instruments all the days of our life in the house of the Lord.

21 For [h]I-ṣā'iah had said, Let them take a lump of figs, and lay it for a plaister upon the boil, and he shall recover.

22 Hĕz-e-kī'ah also had said, What [9]is the sign that I shall go up to the house of the Lord?

CHAPTER 39.

1 Merodach-baladan, sending to visit Hezekiah, hath notice of his treasures. 3 Isaiah foretelleth the Babylonian captivity.

1 [1]At that [2]time Me-rō'dăch-băl'a-dăn, the son of Băl'a-dăn, king of Băb'ў-lon, sent letters and a present to Hĕz-e-kī'ah: for he had heard that he had been sick, and was recovered.

2 And Hĕz-e-kī'ah was glad of them, and shewed them the house of his precious things, the silver, and the gold, and the spices, and the precious ointment, and all the house of his armour, and all that was found in his treasures: there was nothing in his house, nor in all his dominion, that Hĕz-e-kī'ah shewed them not.

3 ¶ Then came I-ṣā'iah the prophet unto king Hĕz-e-kī'ah, and said unto him, What said these men? and from whence came they unto thee? And Hĕz-e-kī'ah said, They are come from a far country unto me, even from Băb'ў-lon.

4 Then said he, What have they seen in thine house? And Hĕz-e-kī'ah answered, All that is in mine house have they seen: there is nothing among my treasures that I have not shewed them.

5 Then said I-ṣā'iah to Hĕz-e-kī'ah, Hear the word of the Lord of hosts:

6 [3]Behold, the days come, [a]that all that is in thine house, and that which thy fathers have laid up in store until this day, shall be carried to Băb'ў-lon: nothing shall be left, saith the Lord.

7 And of thy sons that shall issue from thee, which thou shalt beget, shall they take away; and they shall be eunuchs in the palace of the king of Băb'ў-lon.

8 Then said Hĕz-e-kī'ah to I-ṣā'iah, Good [4][b]is the word of the Lord which thou hast spoken. He said moreover, For there shall be peace and truth in my days.

9. What is the import or meaning of the sign?

Ch. 39. B. C. 712.

1. In which is recorded the prophecy of the Jews' capture by Babylon.

2. Soon after the recovery of Hezekiah.

3. Days of captivity which were fulfilled in 120 years. This is the first intimation that the Jews had that they would be taken to Babylon. The prophecies of Moses (Lev. 26:33; Dt. 28:64 and I Ks. 14:15) are all general.

4. Hezekiah was pronounced the noblest royal character since David; and, as a reward for his loyalty to Jehovah, his days were closed in peace.

Ch. 40. B. C. 712.

1. Beginning with ch. 40 the remaining portion of the book constitutes what is known as the later prophecies of Isaiah. The 40th ch. records the prophecy known as "the prophecy of comfort to the fearful in Zion."

2. The remnant, who are to be holy, purified of the idolatrous taint.

3. Another name for God's people.

4. The Jews understood it to be Elijah. (F.)

5. That is, transitory. Only God's promises are permanent and steadfast.

6. Rather, wind of Jehovah.

7. Fearlessly proclaimed the words.

CHAPTER 40.

1 The promulgation of the gospel. 3 The preaching of John Baptist. 9 The preaching of the apostles. 12 The prophet, by the omnipotency of God, 26 comforteth the people.

1 Comfort [1]ye, [a]comfort ye [2]my people, saith your God.

2 Speak ye comfortably to [3]Je-ru'sa-lĕm, and cry unto her, that her warfare [b]is accomplished, that her iniquity is pardoned: for she hath received of the Lord's hand double for all her sins.

3 ¶ The voice of him that [4]crieth in the wilderness, Prepare [c]ye the way of the Lord, make straight in the desert a highway for our God.

4 Every valley shall be exalted, and every mountain and hill shall be made low: and the crooked shall be made straight, and the rough places plain:

5 And the glory [d]of the Lord shall be revealed, and all flesh [5]shall see it together: for the mouth of the Lord hath spoken it.

6 The voice said, Cry. And he said, What shall I cry? All flesh is grass, and all the goodliness thereof is as the flower of the field:

7 The grass withereth, the flower fadeth: because the spirit [6]of the Lord bloweth upon it: surely the people is grass.

8 The grass withereth, the flower fadeth: but [c]the word of our God shall stand for ever.

9 ¶ O Zī'ŏn, that bringest good tidings, get thee up into the high mountain; O Je-ru'sa-lĕm, that bringest good tidings, lift up thy voice [7]with strength; lift it up, be not afraid; say unto the cities of Jū'dah, Behold your God!

10 Behold, the Lord God will come with strong hand, and his arm shall rule for him: behold, his reward is with him, and his work before him.

11 He shall [f]feed his flock like a shepherd: he shall gather the lambs with his arm, and carry them in his bosom, and shall gently lead those that are with young.

12 ¶ Who hath measured the waters in the hollow of his hand, and meted out heaven with the span, and comprehended the dust of the earth in a measure, and weighed the mountains in scales, and the hills in a balance?

13 Who hath directed the Spirit of the Lord, or being [9]his counsellor hath taught him?

14 With whom took he counsel, and who

6:7.) Which we have heard and known, and our fathers have told us. (Ps. 78:3.) We have heard with our ears, O God, our fathers have told us, what work thou didst in their days, in the times of old. (Ps. 44:1.)

h. And Isaiah said, Take a lump of figs. And they took and laid it on the boil, and he recovered. (II Ks. 20:7.)

Chapter 39.

a. And I will scatter you among the heathen, and will draw out a sword after you: and your land shall be desolate, and your cities waste. (Lev. 26:33.) And the Lord shall scatter thee among all people, from the one end of the earth even unto the other; and there thou shalt serve other gods, which neither thou nor thy fathers have known, even wood and stone. (Dt. 28:64.) For the Lord shall smite Israel, as a reed is shaken in the water, and he shall root up Israel out of this good land, which he gave to their fathers, and shall scatter them beyond the river, because they have made their groves, provoking the Lord to anger. (I Ks. 14:15.)

b. And Samuel told him every whit, and hid nothing from him. And he said, It is the Lord: let him do what seemeth him good. (I Sam. 3:18.) And said, Naked came I out of my mother's womb, and naked shall I return thither: the Lord gave, and the Lord hath taken away; blessed be the name of the Lord. (Job 1:21.) I was dumb, I opened not my mouth; because thou didst it. (Ps. 39:9.)

Chapter 40.

a. And in that day thou shalt say, O Lord, I will praise thee: though thou wast angry with me, thine anger is turned away, and thou comfortedest me. (Is. 12:1.) Sing, O heaven; and be joyful, O earth; and break forth into singing, O mountains: for the Lord hath comforted his people, and will have mercy upon his afflicted. (Is. 49:13.) Hear the word of the Lord, O ye nations, and declare it in the isles afar off, and say, He that scattered Israel will gather him, and keep him as a shepherd doth his flock. For the Lord hath redeemed Jacob, and ransomed him from the hand of him that was stronger than he. Therefore they shall come and sing in the height of Zion, and shall flow together to the goodness of the Lord, for wheat, and for wine, and for oil, and for the young of the flock, and of the herd; and their soul shall be as a watered garden: And they shall not sorrow any more at all. Then shall the virgin rejoice in the dance, both young men and old together: for I will turn their mourning into joy, and will comfort them, and make them rejoice from their sorrow. And I will satiate the soul of the priests with fatness, and my people shall be satisfied with my goodness, saith the Lord. (Jer. 31:10-14.) Who comforteth us in all our tribulation, that we may be able to comfort them which are in any trouble by the comfort wherewith we ourselves are comforted of God. (II Cor. 1:4.)

b. Is there not an appointed time to man upon earth? are not his days also like the days of an hireling? (Job 7:1.) But when the fulness of the time was come, God sent forth his Son, made of a woman, made under the law, To redeem them that were under the law, that we might receive the adoption of sons. (Gal. 4:4, 5.)

c. Behold, I will send my messenger, and he shall prepare the way before me: and the Lord, whom ye seek, shall suddenly come to his temple, even the messenger of the covenant, whom ye delight in: behold, he shall come, saith the Lord of hosts. (Mal. 3:1.) And thou, child, shalt be called the Prophet of the Highest: for thou shalt go before the face of the Lord to prepare his ways. (Luke 1:76.)

d. And blessed be his glorious name for ever: and let the whole earth be filled with his glory. Amen, and Amen. (Ps. 72:19.) And the Word was made flesh, and dwelt among us, (and we beheld his glory, the glory as of the only begotten of the Father,) full of grace and truth. (Jno. 1:14.) Who verily was foreordained before the foundation of the world, but was manifest in these last times for you, Who by him do believe in God, that raised him up from the dead, and gave him glory; that your faith and hope might be in God. (I Pet. 1:20, 21.)

e. The people answered him, We have heard out of the law that Christ abideth for ever: and how sayest thou, The Son of man must be lifted up? who is this Son of man? (Jno. 12:34.)

f. I am the good shepherd: the good shepherd giveth his life for the sheep. (Jno. 10:11.) And I will set up one Shepherd over them, and he shall feed them, even my servant David; he shall feed them, and he shall be their shepherd. (Ez. 34:23.)

g. For who hath known the mind of the Lord? or who hath been his counsellor? Or who hath first given to him, and it shall be recompensed unto him again? (Rom. 11:34, 35.) For who hath known the mind of the Lord, that he may instruct him? But we have the mind of Christ. (I Cor. 2:16.)

[h]instructed him, and taught him in the path of judgment, and taught him knowledge, and shewed to him the way of understanding?

15 Behold, the nations are as a drop of a bucket, and are counted as the small dust of the balance: behold, he taketh up the isles as a very little thing.

16 And Lĕb'a-non [s]is not sufficient to burn, nor the beasts thereof sufficient for a burnt offering.

17 All nations before him are as nothing; and they are counted to him less than nothing, and vanity.

18 ¶ To whom then will ye liken God? or what likeness will ye compare unto him?

19 The workman melteth a graven image, and the goldsmith spreadeth it over with gold, and casteth silver chains.

20 He that is so impoverished that he hath no oblation chooseth a tree that will not rot; he seeketh unto him a cunning workman to prepare a graven image, that shall not be moved.

21 Have [i]ye not known? have ye not heard? hath it not been told you from the beginning? have ye not understood from the foundations of the earth?

22 It is he that sitteth upon the circle of the earth, and the inhabitants thereof are as grasshoppers; [j]that stretcheth out the heavens as a curtain, and spreadeth them out as a tent to dwell in:

23 That bringeth the princes to nothing; he maketh the judges of the earth as vanity.

24 Yea, they shall not be planted; yea, they shall not be sown: yea, their stock shall not take root in the earth: and he shall also blow upon them, and they shall wither, and the whirlwind shall take them away as stubble.

25 [k]To whom then will ye liken me, or shall I be equal? saith the Holy One.

26 Lift up your eyes on high, and behold who hath created these things, that bringeth out their host by number: he calleth them all by names by the greatness of his might, for that he is strong in power; not one faileth.

27 Why sayest thou, O Jā'cob, and speakest, O Ĭs'ra-el, My way is hid from the Lord, and my judgment is passed over from my God?

28 ¶ Hast thou not known? hast thou not heard, that the everlasting God, the Lord, the Creator of the ends of the earth, fainteth not, neither is weary? [l]there is no searching of his understanding.

29 He giveth power to the faint; and to them that have no might he increaseth strength.

30 Even the youths shall faint and be weary, and the young men shall utterly fall:

31 But they that [m]wait upon the Lord shall renew their strength; they shall mount up with wings as eagles; they shall run, and not be weary; and they shall walk, and not faint.

8. All the forests of Lebanon could not furnish sufficient fuel to burn sacrifices worthy the glory of God.

Ch. 41. B. C. 712.

1. In ch. 41 the prophet gives many reasons why the Jews should have confidence in God's promises of delivering them: also he challenges the heathen nations, which are devoted to idolatry, to make a test of their powers with his claims.

2. The greatness of Israel's persecutors shall be turned into desolation and, like their idols in which they place their trust, come to naught.

CHAPTER 41.

1 God expostulateth with his people about his mercies to the church, 10 and about his promises.

1 [1]Keep [a]silence before me, O islands; and let the people renew their strength: let them come near; then let them speak: let us come near together to judgment.

2 Who raised up the righteous man from the east, called him to his foot, gave the nations before him, and made him rule over kings? he gave them as the dust to his sword, and as driven stubble to his bow.

3 He pursued them, and passed safely; even by the way that he had not gone with his feet.

4 Who hath wrought and done it, calling the generations from the beginning? I the Lord, the first, and with the last; I am he.

5 The isles saw it, and feared; the ends of the earth were afraid, drew near, and came.

6 They helped every one his neighbour; and every one said to his brother, Be of good courage.

7 So the carpenter encouraged the goldsmith, and he that smooth with the hammer him that smote the anvil, saying, It is ready for the sodering: and he fastened it with nails, that it should not be moved.

8 But thou, Ĭs'ra-el, art my servant, Jā'cob whom I have chosen, the seed of Ā'brā-hăm my [b]friend.

9 Thou whom I have taken from the ends of the earth, and called thee from the chief men thereof, and said unto thee, Thou art my servant; I have chosen thee, and not cast thee away.

10 ¶ Fear thou not; [c]for I am with thee: be not dismayed; for I am thy God: I will strengthen thee; yea, I will help thee; yea, I will uphold thee with the right hand of my righteousness.

11 Behold, all [2]they that were incensed against thee shall be [d]ashamed and confounded: they shall be as nothing; and they that strive with thee shall perish.

12 Thou shalt seek them, and shalt not find them, even them that contended with thee: they that war against thee shall be as nothing, and as a thing of nought.

13 For I the Lord thy God will hold thy right hand, saying unto thee, [c]Fear not; I will help thee.

14 [c]Fear not, thou worm Jā'cob, and ye men of Ĭs'ra-el; I will help thee, saith the Lord, [e]and thy redeemer, the Holy One of Ĭs'ra-el.

h. Shall any teach God knowledge? seeing he judgeth those that are high. (Job 21:22.) Behold, God exalteth by his power: who teacheth like him? (Job 36:22.)

i. The heavens declare the glory of God; and the firmament showeth his handiwork. (Ps. 19:1.) Nevertheless he left not himself without witness, in that he did good, and gave us rain from heaven, and fruitful seasons, filling our hearts with food and gladness. (Acts 14:17.) Because that which may be known of God is manifest in them; for God hath shown it unto them. For the invisible things of him from the creation of the world are clearly seen, being understood by the things that are made, even his eternal power and Godhead; so that they are without excuse. (Rom. 1:19, 20.)

j. Which alone spreadeth out the heavens, and treadeth upon the waves of the sea. (Job 9:8.) Who coverest thyself with light as with a garment; who stretchest out the heavens like a curtain. (Ps. 104:2.) He hath made the earth by his power, he hath established the world by his wisdom, and hath stretched out the heavens by his discretion. (Jer. 10:12.)

k. Take ye therefore good heed unto yourselves, (for ye saw no manner of similitude on the day that the Lord spake unto you in Horeb out of the midst of the fire,) Lest ye corrupt yourselves, and make you a graven image, the similitude of any figure, the likeness of male or female, The likeness of any beast that is on the earth, the likeness of any winged fowl that flieth in the air, The likeness of any thing that creepeth on the ground, the likeness of any fish that is in the waters beneath the earth (15-18). Take heed unto yourselves, lest ye forget the covenant of the Lord your God, which he made with you, and make you a graven image, or the likeness of any thing which the Lord thy God hath forbidden thee. (Dt. 4:15-18, 23.)

l. Great is our Lord, and of great power: his understanding is infinite. (Ps. 147:5.) O the depth of the riches both of the wisdom and knowledge of God! how unsearchable are his judgments, and his ways past finding out! (Rom. 11:33.)

m. Yea, let none that wait on thee be ashamed: let them be ashamed which transgress without cause. (Ps. 25:3.) And he said unto me, My grace is sufficient for thee; for my strength is made perfect in weakness. Most gladly therefore will I rather glory in my infirmities, that the power of Christ may rest upon me. (II Cor. 12:9.)

Chapter 41.

a. But the Lord is in his holy temple: let all the earth keep silent before him. (Hab. 2:20.) Be silent, O all flesh, before the Lord: for he is raised up out of his holy habitation. (Zech. 2:13.)

b. Art not thou our God, who didst drive out the inhabitants of this land before thy people Israel, and gavest it to the seed of Abraham thy friend for ever? (II Chr. 20:7.) And the scripture was fulfilled which saith, Abraham believed God, and it was imputed unto him for righteousness. and he was called the Friend of God. (Js. 2:23.)

c. Be strong, and of a good courage, fear not, nor be afraid of them: for the Lord thy God, he it is that doth go with thee; he will not fail thee, nor forsake thee. (Dt. 31:6.) What shall we then say to these things? If God be for us, who can be against us? (Rom. 8:31.) Thou shalt not be afraid of them; but shalt well remember what the Lord thy God did unto Pharaoh, and unto all Egypt. (Dt. 7:18.) For the Lord your God is he that goeth with you, to fight for you against your enemies, to save you. (Dt. 20:4.)

d. But if thou shalt indeed obey his voice, and do all that I speak; then I will be an enemy unto thine enemies, and an adversary unto thine adversaries. (Ex. 23:22.)

e. For I know that my Redeemer liveth, and that he shall stand at the latter day upon the earth. (Job 19:25.)

15 Behold, [f]I will make thee a new sharp threshing instrument having teeth: thou shalt thresh the mountains, and beat them small, and shalt make the hills as chaff.

16 Thou shalt fan them, and the wind shall carry them away, and the whirlwind shall scatter them: and thou shalt rejoice in the Lord, and shalt glory in the Holy One of Is'ra-el.

17 When the poor and needy seek water, and there is none, and their tongue faileth for thirst, [g]I the Lord will hear them, I the God of Is'ra-el will not forsake them.

18 I will open rivers in high places, and fountains in the midst of the valleys: I will make the wilderness a pool of water, and the dry land springs of water.

19 I will plant in the wilderness the cedar, the shittah tree, and the myrtle, and the oil tree; I will set in the desert the fir tree, and the pine, and the box tree together:

20 That they may see, and know, and consider, and understand together, that the hand [h]of the Lord hath done this, and the Holy One of Is'ra-el hath created it.

21 [3]Produce your cause, saith the Lord; bring forth your strong reasons, saith the King of Jā'cob.

22 Let them bring them forth, and shew us what shall happen: let them shew the former things, what they be, that we may consider them, and know the latter end of them; or declare us things for to come.

23 Shew the things that are to come hereafter, that we may know that ye are gods: yea, do good, or do evil, that we may be dismayed, and behold it together.

24 Behold, ye are of nothing, and your work of nought: an abomination is he that chooseth you.

26 Who hath declared from the beginning, that we may know? and beforetime, that we may say, He is righteous? yea, there is none that sheweth, yea, there is none that declareth, yea, there is none that heareth your words.

27 The first shall say to Zī'ŏn, Behold, behold them: and I will give to Je-rū'sa-lĕm one that bringeth good tidings.

28 For I beheld, and there was no man; even among them, and there was no counsellor, that, when I asked of them, could answer a word.

29 Behold, they are [4]all vanity; their works are nothing: their molten images are wind and confusion.

3. Jehovah here addresses himself to the idolatrous people, telling them to produce the proof of the power of their gods.

4. Nothingness.

Ch. 42. B. C. 712.

1. In ch. 42 God continues his controversy with the heathen nations, in this ch. calling their attention to the unsearchable riches of his love, having already in chs. 40, 41 directed their attention to his omnipotence and omniscience—three attributes which the idol gods have not.

2. Servant was the position assumed by the Son of God throughout his humiliation.

3. The divine rule and principle of judgment founded on justice.

4. Established his religion.

5. In vs. 5-9 addresses himself to his servant.

CHAPTER 42.

1 The office of Christ, graced with meekness and constancy. 10 An exhortation to praise God for his gospel. 17 He reproveth the people of incredulity.

1 [1]Behold [a]my [2]servant, whom I uphold; mine elect, in whom my soul [b]delighteth; [c]I have put my spirit upon him: he shall bring forth judgment to the Gĕn'tīleş.

2 He shall not cry, nor lift up, nor cause his voice to be heard in the street.

3 A bruised reed shall he not break, and the smoking flax shall he not quench: he shall bring [3]forth [d]judgment unto truth.

4 He shall not fail nor be discouraged, till he have set [4]judgment in the earth: and the isles shall wait for his law.

5 ¶ [5]Thus saith God the Lord, he that created the heavens, and stretched them out; he that spread forth the earth, and that which cometh out of it; he that giveth breath unto the people upon it, and spirit to them that walk therein:

6 I [c]the Lord have called thee in righteousness, and will hold thine hand, and will keep thee, and give thee for a covenant of the people, for a light of the Gĕn'tīleş;

7 To open the blind eyes, to [f]bring out the prisoners from the prison, and them that sit in darkness out of the prison house.

8 I [g]am the [6]Lord: that is [7]my name: and my glory will I not give to another, neither my praise to graven images.

9 Behold, the [8]former things are come to pass, and new [9]things do I declare: before they spring forth I tell you of them.

10 [10]Sing unto the Lord a new song, and his praise from the end of the earth, ye that go down to the sea, and all that is therein; the isles, and the inhabitants thereof.

11 Let the wilderness and the cities thereof lift up their voice, the villages that [11]Kē'dăr doth inhabit: let the inhabitants of the rock sing, let them shout from the top of the mountains.

12 Let them give glory unto the Lord, and declare his praise in the islands.

13 The Lord shall go forth as a mighty man, he shall stir up jealousy like a man of war: he shall cry, yea, roar; he shall prevail against his enemies.

14 I have long time holden my peace; I have been still, and refrained myself: now will I cry like a travailing woman; I will destroy and devour at once.

15 I will make waste mountains and hills, and dry up all their herbs; and I will make the rivers islands, and I will dry up the pools.

16 And I will bring the blind by a way that they knew not; I will lead them in paths that

f. Arise and thresh, O daughter of Zion: for I will make thine horn iron, and I will make thy hoofs brass; and thou shalt beat in pieces many people: and I will consecrate their gain unto the Lord, and their substance unto the Lord of the whole earth. (Mic. 4:13.) (For the weapons of our warfare are not carnal, but mighty through God to the pulling down of strong holds.) (II Cor. 10:4.)

g. The beasts of the field shall honor me, the dragons and the owls: because I give waters in the wilderness, and rivers in the desert, to give drink to my people, my chosen. (Is. 43:20.) For I will pour water upon him that is thirsty, and floods upon the dry ground: I will pour my Spirit upon thy seed, and my blessing upon thine offspring. (Is. 44:3.) Ho, every one that thirsteth, come ye to the waters, and he that hath no money; come ye, buy and eat; yea, come, buy wine and milk without money, and without price. (Is. 55:1.)

h. And when ye see this, your heart shall rejoice, and your bones shall flourish like an herb; and the hand of the Lord shall be known toward his servants, and his indignation toward his enemies. (Is. 66:14.) Who knoweth not in all these that the hand of the Lord hath wrought this? (Job 12:9.)

Chapter 42.

a. Behold, my servant shall deal prudently, he shall be exalted and extolled, and be very high. (Is. 52:13.) That it might be fulfilled which was spoken by Esaias the prophet, saying, Behold my servant, whom I have chosen; my beloved, in whom my soul is well pleased: I will put my Spirit upon him, and he shall show judgment to the Gentiles. (Mat. 12:17, 18.)

b. And lo a voice from heaven, saying, This is my beloved Son, in whom I am well pleased. (Mat. 3:17.) To the praise of the glory of his grace, wherein he hath made us accepted in the Beloved. (Eph. 1:6.)

c. And the Spirit of the Lord shall rest upon him, the spirit of wisdom and understanding, the spirit of counsel and might, the spirit of knowledge and of the fear of the Lord. (Is. 11:2.) For he whom God hath sent speaketh the words of God: for God giveth not the Spirit by measure unto him. (Jno. 3:34.)

d. He shall judge thy people with righteousness, and thy poor with judgment (2). He shall judge the poor of the people, he shall save the children of the needy, and shall break in pieces the oppressor. (Ps. 72:2, 4.) Before the Lord; for he cometh, for he cometh to judge the earth: he shall judge the world with righteousness, and the people with his truth. (Ps. 96:13.)

e. Who raised up the righteous man from the east, called him to his foot, gave the nations before him, and made him rule over kings? he gave them as the dust to his sword, and as driven stubble to his bow. (Is. 41:2.) Behold, the days come, saith the Lord, that I will raise unto David a righteous Branch, and a King shall reign and prosper, and shall execute judgment and justice in the earth. In his days Judah shall be saved, and Israel shall dwell safely: and this is his name whereby he shall be called, THE LORD OUR RIGHTEOUSNESS. (Jer. 23:5, 6.)

f. And that they may recover themselves out of the snare of the devil, who are taken captive by him at his will. (II Tim. 2:26.) Forasmuch then as the children are partakers of flesh and blood, he also himself likewise took part of the same; that through death he might destroy him that had the power of death, that is, the devil. (Heb. 2:14.)

g. And God said unto Moses, I AM THAT I AM: and he said, Thus shalt thou say unto the children of Israel, I AM hath sent me unto you. (Ex. 3:14.)

they have not known: I will make darkness light before them, and crooked things straight. These things will I do unto them, and not forsake them.

17 ¶ They shall be turned back, they shall be greatly ashamed, that trust in graven images, that say to the molten images, Ye are our gods.

18 Hear, ye deaf; and look, ye blind, that ye may see.

19 Who [h]is blind, but my servant? or deaf, as my messenger that I sent? who is blind as he that is perfect, and blind as the Lord's servant?

20 Seeing many things, [i]but thou observest not; opening the ears, but he heareth not.

21 The Lord is well pleased for his righteousness' sake; he will magnify the law, and make it honourable.

22 [12]But this is a people robbed and spoiled; they are all of them snared in holes, and they are hid in prison houses: they are for a prey, and none delivereth; for a spoil, and none saith, Restore.

23 Who among you will give ear to this? who will hearken and hear for the time to come?

24 Who gave Jā'cob for a spoil, and Ĭs'ra-el to the robbers? did not the Lord, he against whom we have sinned? for they would not walk in his ways, neither were they obedient unto his law.

CHAPTER 43.

1 The Lord comforteth the church with his promises. 14 He foretelleth them the destruction of Babylon, 18 and his wonderful deliverance of his people. 22 He reproveth the people as inexcusable.

1 [1]But now thus saith the Lord that created thee, O Jā'cob, and he that formed thee, O Ĭs'ra-el, [a]Fear not: for I have redeemed thee, [b]I have called thee by thy name; thou art mine.

2 When thou passest through the waters, [c]I will be with thee; and through the rivers, they shall not overflow thee: when thou [d]walkest through the fire, thou shalt not be burned; neither shall the flame kindle upon thee.

3 For I am the Lord thy God, the Holy One of Ĭs'ra-el, thy Saviour: I [e]gave Ē'gўpt for thy [2]ransom, Ē-thĭ-ō'pĭ-à and Sē'bà for thee.

4 Since thou [f]wast precious in my sight, thou hast been honourable, and I have loved thee: therefore will I give men for thee, and people for thy life.

5 Fear [g]not: for I am with thee: I will bring thy seed from the east, and gather thee from the west;

6 I will say to the north, Give up; and to the south, Keep not back: bring my sons from far, and my daughters from the ends of the earth;

7 Even every one that is called by my name: for [h]I have created him for my glory, I have formed him; yea, I have made him.

8 ¶ [3]Bring forth the blind people that have eyes, and the deaf that have ears.

9 Let all the nations be gathered together, and let the people be assembled: who among them can declare this, and shew us former things? let them bring forth their witnesses, that they may be justified: or let them hear, and say, It is truth.

10 Ye [i]are my witnesses, saith the Lord, and my servant whom I have chosen: that ye may know and believe me, and understand that I am he: before me there was no God formed, neither shall there be after me.

11 I, even I, am the Lord; and beside me there is no [j]saviour.

12 I have declared, and have saved, and I have shewed, when there was no [k]strange god among you: therefore ye are my witnesses, saith the Lord, that I am God.

13 Yea, before the day was I am he; and there is none that can deliver out of my hand: I will work, and who shall let it?

14 ¶ Thus saith the Lord, your redeemer, the Holy One of Ĭs'ra-el; For your sake I have sent to Băb'ў-lon, and have brought down all their nobles, and the Chăl-dē'ans, whose cry is in the ships.

15 I am the Lord, your Holy One, the creator of Ĭs'ra-el, your [l]King.

16 Thus saith the Lord, which [4]maketh a way in the sea, and a path in the mighty waters;

17 Which bringeth forth the chariot and

12. Notwithstanding.

13. Knew not the lesson of repentance which the judgments were intended to teach. (Jer. 5:3) —"Oh, Lord, art not thine eyes upon the truth? Thou hast stricken them, but they have not grieved; thou hast consumed them, but they have refused to receive correction; they have made their faces harder than a rock; they have refused to return."

Ch. 43. B. C. 712.

1. In this ch. Jehovah presents a series of arguments to assure Israel that notwithstanding her perversities toward him, he will deliver them and restore them.

2. It was apparent that either Israel or Egypt must perish. God chose that the mighty idol worship in Egypt should be destroyed and thus give way to Israel, the chosen people.

3. In vs. 8-13 God challenges the heathen nation to argue with him, his superiority to their idols.

4. Alluding to the passage through the Red Sea.

h. And Jesus said, For judgment I am come into this world, that they which see not might see, and that they which see might be made blind. (Jno. 9:39.) Bring forth the blind people that have eyes, and the deaf that have ears. (Is. 43:8.)

i. Thou therefore which teachest another, teachest thou not thyself? thou that preachest a man should not steal, dost thou steal? (Rom. 2:21.)

Chapter 43.

a. And Moses said unto the people, Fear not: for God is come to prove you, and that his fear may be before your faces, that ye sin not. (Ex. 20:20.) The fear of the Lord is the beginning of wisdom: a good understanding have all they that do his commandments: his praise endureth for ever. (Ps. 111:10.) Let us hear the conclusion of the whole matter: Fear God, and keep his commandments: for this is the whole duty of man. (Ecc. 12:13.) That all the people of the earth might know the hand of the Lord, that it is mighty; that ye might fear the Lord your God for ever. (Josh. 4:24.) The fear of the Lord is to hate evil: pride, and arrogancy, and the evil way, and the froward mouth, do I hate. (Prov. 8:13.) How much better is it to get wisdom than gold? and to get understanding rather to be chosen than silver? (Prov. 16:16.)

b. I the Lord have called thee in righteousness, and will hold thine hand, and will keep thee, and give thee for a covenant to the people, for a light of the Gentiles. (Is. 42:6.) For Jacob my servant's sake, and Israel mine elect, I have even called thee by thy name: I have surnamed thee, though thou hast not known me. (Is. 45:4.)

c. Be strong, and of a good courage, fear not, nor be afraid of them: for the Lord thy God, he it is that doth go with thee; he will not fail thee, nor forsake thee (6). And the Lord, he it is that doth go before thee; he will be with thee, he will not fail thee, neither forsake thee: fear not, neither be dismayed. (Dt. 31:6, 8.) Thou shalt not be afraid of them; but shalt well remember what the Lord thy God did unto Pharaoh, and unto all Egypt. (Dt. 7:18.)

d. He answered and said, Lo, I see four men loose, walking in the midst of the fire, and they have no hurt; and the form of the fourth is like the Son of God (25). And the princes, governors, and captains, and the king's counsellors, being gathered together, saw these men, upon whose bodies the fire had no power, nor was an hair of their head singed, neither were their coats changed, nor the smell of fire had passed on them. (Dan. 3:25, 27.)

e. The righteous is delivered out of trouble, and the wicked cometh in his stead. (Prov. 11:8.)

f. Now therefore, if ye will obey my voice indeed, and keep my covenant, then ye shall be a peculiar treasure unto me above all people: for all the earth is mine. And ye shall be unto me a kingdom of priests, and an holy nation. These are the words which thou shalt speak unto the children of Israel. (Ex. 19:5, 6.) For the Lord hath chosen Jacob unto himself, and Israel for his peculiar treasure. (Ps. 135:4.)

g. Therefore fear thou not, O my servant Jacob, saith the Lord; neither be dismayed, O Israel: for, lo, I will save thee from afar, and thy seed from the land of their captivity; and Jacob shall return, and shall be in rest, and be quiet, and none shall make him afraid. (Jer. 30:10.) Let us hear the conclusion of the whole matter: Fear God, and keep his commandments: for this is the whole duty of man. (Ecc. 12:13.) By mercy and truth iniquity is purged; and by the fear of the Lord men depart from evil. (Prov. 16:6.)

h. For we are his workmanship, created in Christ Jesus unto good works, which God hath before ordained that we should walk in them. (Eph. 2:10.)

i. Fear ye not, neither be afraid: have not I told thee from that time, and have declared it? ye are even my witnesses. Is there a God besides me? yea, there is no God; I know not any. (Is. 44:8.) Nevertheless he left not himself without witness, in that he did good, and gave us rain from heaven, and fruitful seasons, filling our hearts with food and gladness. (Acts 14:17.) He that believeth on the Son of God hath the witness in himself: he that believeth not God hath made him a liar; because he believeth not the record that God gave of his Son. (I Jno. 5:10.)

j. Tell ye, and bring them near; yea, let them take counsel together: who hath declared this from ancient time? who hath told it from that time? have not I the Lord. and there is no God else besides me; a just God, and a Saviour; there is none besides me. (Is. 45:21.) Yet I am the Lord thy God from the land of Egypt, and thou shalt know no god but me; for there is no saviour besides me. (Hos. 13:4.)

k. They provoked him to jealousy with strange gods, with abominations provoked they him to anger. (Dt. 32:16.) There shall no strange god be in thee; neither shalt thou worship any strange god. (Ps. 81:9.)

l. I will be thy king: where is any other that may save thee in all thy cities? and thy judges of whom thou saidst, Give me a king and princes? (Hos. 13:10.)

horse, the army and the power; they shall lie down together, they shall not rise: they are extinct, they are quenched as tow.

18 ¶ Remember ye not the former things, neither consider the things of old.

19 Behold, I will do a [m]new thing; now it shall spring forth; shall ye not know it? I will even make a way in the wilderness, and rivers in the desert.

20 The beast of the field shall honour me, the dragons and the owls: because I give waters in the wilderness, and rivers in the desert, to give drink to my people, my chosen.

21 This people have I formed for myself; they shall shew forth my praise.

22 ¶ But thou hast not called upon me, O Jā'cob; but thou hast been weary of me, O Īs'ra-el.

23 Thou hast not brought me the small cattle of thy burnt offerings; neither hast thou honoured me with thy sacrifices. I have not caused thee to serve with an offering, nor wearied thee with incense.

24 Thou hast bought me no sweet cane with money, neither hast thou filled me with the fat of thy sacrifices: but thou hast made me to serve with thy sins, thou hast [n]wearied me with thine iniquities.

25 I, even I, am he that [o]blotteth out thy transgressions [p]for mine own sake, and [q]will not remember thy sins.

26 Put me in remembrance: let us plead together: declare thou, that thou mayest be justified.

27 Thy [r]first father hath sinned, and thy teachers have transgressed against me.

28 Therefore I [s]have profaned the princes of the sanctuary, and have given Jā'cob to the curse, and Īs'ra-el to reproaches.

CHAPTER 44.

1 God comforteth the church with his promises. 21 He exhorteth to praise God for his redemption and omnipotency.

1 [1]Yet [2]now hear, [a]O Jā'cob my servant; and Īs'ra-el, whom I have chosen:

2 Thus saith the Lord that made thee, and formed thee from the womb, which will help thee; [b]Fear not, O Jā'cob, my servant; and thou, [3]Jĕs'u-rŭn, whom I have chosen.

3 For I will pour water upon him that is thirsty, and floods upon the dry ground: I will pour my spirit upon thy seed, and my blessing upon thine offspring:

4 And they shall spring up as among the grass, as willows by the water courses.

Ch. 44. B. C. 712.

1. Ch. 41 is a continuation of ch. 43.

2. Though thou hast sinned, still hear God's promise.

3. Elect people, people of deepest affection. (Gesenius.)

4. Vs. 6-28 declare the foolishness of idols.

5. That is, the makers are witnesses against idols and the idols are witnesses against their makers. The made cannot rise above its makers.

6. Irony, a man-made god, a god worshiped by its own maker.

7. As in a court of justice, to try an issue

5 One shall say, I am the Lord's; and another shall call himself by the name of Jā'cob; and another shall subscribe with his hand unto the Lord, and surname himself by the name of Īs'ra-el.

6 [4]Thus saith the Lord the King of Īs'ra-el, and his redeemer the Lord of hosts; [c]I am the first, and I am the last; and beside me there is no God.

7 And who, as I, shall call, and shall declare it, and set it in order for me, since I appointed the ancient people? and the things that are coming, and shall come, let them shew unto them.

8 Fear ye not, neither be afraid: have not I told thee from that time, and have declared it? ye are even my witnesses. Is there a God beside me? yea, [d]there is no God; I know not any.

9 ¶ They that make a graven image are all of them vanity: and their delectable things shall not profit; and they are [5]their own witnesses; they see not, nor know; that they may be ashamed.

10 Who hath [6]formed a god, or molten a graven image [e]that is profitable for nothing?

11 Behold, all his fellows shall be [f]ashamed: and the workmen, they are of men: let them all be gathered together, let them [7]stand up; yet they shall fear, and they shall be ashamed together.

12 The smith with the tongs both worketh in the coals, and fashioneth it with hammers, and worketh it with the strength of his arms: yea, he is hungry, and his strength faileth: he drinketh no water, and is faint.

13 The carpenter stretcheth out his rule; he marketh it out with a line; he fitteth it with planes, and he marketh it out with the compass, and maketh it after the figure of a man, according to the beauty of a man; that it may remain in the house.

14 He heweth him down cedars, and taketh the cypress and the oak, which he strengtheneth for himself among the trees of the forest: he planteth an ash, and the rain doth nourish it.

15 Then shall it be for a man to burn: for he will take thereof, and warm himself; yea, he kindleth it, and baketh bread; yea, he maketh a god, and worshippeth it; he maketh it a [f]graven image, and falleth down thereto.

16 He burneth part thereof in the fire; with part thereof he eateth flesh; he roasteth roast, and is satisfied: yea, he warmeth himself, and saith, Aha, I am warm, I have seen the fire:

m. Therefore, if any man be in Christ, he is a new creature: old things are passed away; behold, all things are become new. (II Cor. 5:17.) He that overcometh shall inherit all things; and I will be his God, and he shall be my son. (Rev. 21:7.)

n. Ye have wearied the Lord with your words: yet ye say, Wherein have we wearied him? When ye say, Every one that doeth evil is good in the sight of the Lord, and he delighteth in them; or, Where is the God of judgment? (Mal. 2:17.)

o. In those days, and in that time, saith the Lord, the iniquity of Israel shall be sought for, and there shall be none; and the sins of Judah, and they shall not be found: for I will pardon them whom I reserve. (Jer. 50:20.) Repent ye therefore, and be converted, that your sins may be blotted out, when the times of refreshing shall come from the presence of the Lord. (Acts 3:19.)

p. Therefore say unto the house of Israel, Thus saith the Lord God; I do not this for your sakes, O house of Israel, but for mine holy name's sake, which ye have profaned among the heathen, whither ye went. (Ez. 36:22.) For I will defend this city to save it, for mine own sake, and for my servant David's sake. (Is. 37:35.) For my name's sake will I defer mine anger, and for my praise will I refrain for thee, that I cut thee not off (9). For mine own sake, even for mine own sake, will I do it: for how should my name be polluted? and I will not give my glory unto another. (Is. 48:9, 11.)

q. Come now, and let us reason together, saith the Lord: Though your sins be as scarlet, they shall be as white as snow; though they be red like crimson, they shall be as wool. (Is. 1:18.) Keep silence before me, O islands; and let the people renew their strength: let them come near, then let them speak: let us come near together to judgment. (Is. 41:1.) He is near that justifieth me; who will contend with me? let us stand together: who is mine adversary? let him come near to me. (Is. 50:8.)

r. Wherefore, as by one man sin entered into the world, and death by sin; and so death passed upon all men, for that all have sinned. (Rom. 5:12.)

s. The Lord hath swallowed up all the habitations of Jacob, and hath not pitied; he hath thrown down in his wrath the strong holds of the daughter of Judah; he hath brought them down to the ground: he hath polluted the kingdom and the princes thereof (2). The Lord hath cast off his altar, he hath abhorred his sanctuary, he hath given up into the hand of the enemy the walls of her palaces; they have made a noise in the house of the Lord, as in the day of a solemn feast. (Lam. 2:2, 7.)

Chapter 44.

a. Therefore fear thou not, O my servant Jacob, saith the Lord; neither be dismayed, O Israel: for, lo, I will save thee from afar, and thy seed from the land of their captivity; and Jacob shall return, and shall be in rest, and be quiet, and none shall make him afraid. (Jer. 30:10.)

b. See g, ch. 43.

c. Hearken unto me, O Jacob and Israel, my called; I am he; I am the first; I also am the last. (Is. 48:12.) I am Alpha and Omega, the beginning and the ending, saith the Lord, which is, and which was, and which is to come, the Almighty. (Rev. 1:8.)

d. Unto thee it was shown, that thou mightest know that the Lord he is God; there is none else beside him. (Dt. 4:35.) There is none holy as the Lord: for there is none besides thee; neither is there any rock like our God. (I Sam. 2:2.)

e. They are upright as the palm tree, but speak not: they must needs be borne, because they cannot go. Be not afraid of them; for they cannot do evil, neither also is it in them to do good. (Jer. 10:5.)

f. Confounded be all they that serve graven images, that boast themselves of idols: worship him, all ye gods. (Ps. 97:7.) Every man is brutish in his knowledge; every founder is confounded by the graven image: for his molten image is falsehood, and there is no breath in them. They are vanity, and the work of errors: in the time of their visitation they shall perish. (Jer. 10:14, 15.) Forasmuch then as we are the offspring of God, we ought not to think that the Godhead is like unto gold, or silver, or stone, graven by art and man's device. (Acts 17:29.) But where are thy gods that thou hast made thee? let them arise, if they can save thee in the time of thy trouble: for according to the number of thy cities are thy gods, O Judah. (Jer. 2:28.)

17 And the residue thereof he maketh a god, even his graven [f]image: he falleth down unto it, and worshippeth it, and prayeth unto it, and saith, Deliver me; for thou art my god.

18 They have not known nor understood: for he hath shut their eyes, that they cannot see; and their hearts, that they cannot understand.

19 And none considereth in his heart, neither is there knowledge nor understanding to say, I have burned part of it in the fire; yea, also I have baked bread upon the coals thereof; I have roasted flesh, and eaten it: and shall I make the residue thereof an abomination? shall I fall down to the stock of a tree?

20 He feedeth on ashes: [g]a deceived heart hath turned him aside, that he cannot deliver his soul, nor say, Is there not a lie in my right hand?

21 ¶ Remember these, O Jā'cob and Īs'ra-el; for thou art my servant: I have formed thee; thou art my servant: O Īs'ra-el, thou shalt not be forgotten of me.

22 I have blotted out, as a thick cloud, thy transgressions, and, as a cloud, thy sins: return unto me; for I have [h]redeemed thee.

23 Sing, [i]O ye heavens; for the Lord hath done it: shout, ye lower parts of the earth: break forth into singing, ye mountains, O forest, and every tree therein: for the Lord hath redeemed Jā'cob, and glorified himself in Īs'ra-el.

24 Thus saith the Lord, thy [h]redeemer, and he that formed thee from the womb, I am the Lord that maketh all things; that stretcheth [j]forth the heavens alone; that spreadeth abroad the earth by myself;

25 That frustrateth the tokens of the liars, and maketh diviners mad; that turneth wise men backward, and maketh their knowledge foolish;

26 That confirmeth the word of his servant, and performeth the counsel of his messengers; that saith to Je-rū'sa-lĕm, Thou shalt be inhabited; and to the cities of Jū'dah, Ye shall be built, and I will raise up the decayed places thereof:

27 [k]That saith to the deep, Be dry, and I will dry up thy rivers:

28 That saith of [8]Çȳ'rus, He is my shepherd, and shall perform all my pleasure: even saying to Je-rū'sa-lĕm, Thou shalt be built; and to the temple, Thy foundation shall be laid.

CHAPTER 45.

1 God calleth Cyrus for his church's sake. 5 By his omnipotency he challengeth obedience. 20 He convinceth the idols of vanity by his saving power.

8. Cyrus is here mentioned 170 years before his coming; is here spoken of as the Lord's servant.

Ch. 45. B. C. 712.

1. Ch. 45 is a continuation of the last verse of 44 and is descriptive of the times of Cyrus and Messiah.

2. Hidden riches. Cyrus received from Croesus in Lydia alone over 100,000,000 sterling.

3. The holy spirit that righteousness may spring up.

4. Woe is human presumption.

5. Cyrus.

1 [1]Thus saith the Lord to his anointed, to Çȳ'rus, whose right hand I have holden, to subdue nations before him; and I will loose the loins of kings, to open before him the two leaved gates; and the gates shall not be shut;

2 I will go before thee, and make the crooked places straight: I will break in pieces the gates of brass, and cut in sunder the bars of iron:

3 And I will give thee the [2]treasures of darkness, and hidden riches of secret places, that thou mayest know that I, the Lord, which call thee by thy name, am the God of Īs'ra-el.

4 For Jā'cob my servant's sake, and Īs'ra-el mine elect, I have even called thee by thy name: I have surnamed thee, though thou hast not known me.

5 ¶ I am the Lord, and there is none else, there is no [a]God beside me: I girded thee, though thou hast not known me:

6 That [b]they may know from the rising of the sun, and from the west, that there is none beside me. I am the Lord, and there is none else.

7 I form the light, and create darkness: I make peace, and create evil: I the Lord do all these things.

8 Drop down, ye heavens, from above, and let the skies pour [3]down righteousness: let the earth open, and let them bring forth salvation, and let righteousness spring up together; I the Lord have created it.

9 Woe unto him [4]that striveth with his Maker! Let the potsherd strive with the potsherds of the earth. Shall the clay say to him that [c]fashioneth it, What makest thou? or thy work, He hath no hands?

10 Woe unto him that saith unto his father, What begettest thou? or to the woman, What hast thou brought forth?

11 Thus saith the Lord, the Holy One of Īs'ra-el, and his Maker, Ask me of things to come concerning my sons, and concerning [d]the work of my hands command ye me.

12 [e]I have made the earth, and created man upon it: I, even my hands, have stretched out the heavens, and all their host have I commanded.

13 I have raised him [5]up in righteousness, and I will direct all his ways: he shall build [f]my city, and he shall let go my captives, not for price nor reward, saith the Lord of hosts.

14 Thus saith the Lord, The labour of Ē'gў̆pt, and merchandise of Ē-thĭ-ō'pĭ-à and of the Sa-bē'ans, men of stature, shall come over unto thee, and they shall be thine: they shall come after thee; in chains they shall come over, and they shall fall down unto thee, they

g. My people ask counsel at their stocks, and their staff declareth unto them: for the spirit of whoredoms hath caused them to err, and they have gone a whoring from under their God. (Hos. 4:12.) And for this cause God shall send them strong delusion, that they should believe a lie. (II Thess. 2:11.)

h. For ye are bought with a price: therefore glorify God in your body, and in your spirit, which are God's. (I Cor. 6:20.) Forasmuch as ye know that ye were not redeemed with corruptible things, as silver and gold, from your vain conversation received by tradition from your fathers; But with the precious blood of Christ, as of a lamb without blemish and without spot. (I Pet. 1:18, 19.)

i. Let the heaven and earth praise him, the seas, and every thing that moveth therein. (Ps. 69:34.) Rejoice over her, thou heaven, and ye holy apostles and prophets; for God hath avenged you on her. (Rev. 18:20.) Sing unto the Lord a new song, and his praise from the end of the earth, ye that go down to the sea, and all that is therein; the isles, and the inhabitants thereof. (Is. 42:10.)

j. Which alone spreadeth out the heavens, and treadeth upon the waves of the sea. (Job 9:8.) Who coverest thyself with light as with a garment; who stretchest out the heavens like a curtain. (Ps. 104:2.) It is he that sitteth upon the circle of the earth, and the inhabitants thereof are as grasshoppers; that stretcheth out the heavens as a curtain, and spreadeth them out as a tent to dwell in. (Is. 40:22.) Thus saith God the Lord, he that created the heavens, and stretched them out; he that spread forth the earth, and that which cometh out of it; he that giveth breath unto the people upon it, and spirit to them that walk therein. (Is. 42:5.)

k. A drought is upon her waters; and they shall be dried up: for it is the land of graven images, and they are mad upon their idols. (Jer. 50:38.) One post shall run to meet another, and one messenger to meet another, to show the king of Babylon that his city is taken at one end. And that the passages are stopped, and the reeds they have burned with fire, and the men of war are affrighted (31, 32). Therefore thus saith the Lord; Behold, I will plead thy cause, and take vengeance for thee; and I will dry up her sea, and make her springs dry. (Jer. 51:31, 32, 36.)

Chapter 45.

a. It is God that girdeth me with strength, and maketh my way perfect. (Ps. 18:32.)

b. So the heathen shall fear the name of the Lord, and all the kings of the earth thy glory. (Ps. 102:15.) For from the rising of the sun, even unto the going down of the same, my name shall be great among the Gentiles; and in every place incense shall be offered unto my name, and a pure offering: for my name shall be great among the heathen, saith the Lord of hosts. (Mal. 1:11.)

c. But now, O Lord, thou art our Father; we are the clay, and thou our potter; and we all are the work of thy hand. (Is. 64:8.) Nay but, O man, who art thou that repliest against God? Shall the thing formed say to him that formed it, Why hast thou made me thus? (Rom. 9:20.)

d. But when he seeth his children, the work of mine hand, in the midst of him, they shall sanctify my name, and sanctify the Holy One of Jacob, and shall fear the God of Israel. (Is. 29:23.) Lord, thou wilt ordain peace for us: for thou also hast wrought all our works in us. (Is. 26:12.) But now, O Lord, thou art our Father; we are the clay, and thou our potter; and we all are the work of thy hand. (Is. 64:8.)

e. Thus saith God the Lord, he that created the heavens, and stretched them out; he that spread forth the earth, and that which cometh out of it; he that giveth breath unto the people upon it, and spirit to them that walk therein. (Is. 42:5.) I have made the earth, the man and the beast that are upon the ground, by my great power and by my outstretched arm, and have given it unto whom it seemed meet unto me. (Jer. 27:5.) See v. 18.

f. Thus saith Cyrus king of Persia, the Lord God of heaven hath shall make supplication unto thee, saying, [g]Surely God is in thee; and there is none else, there is no God.

15 Verily thou art a God that hidest thyself, O God of Ĭs'ra-el, the Saviour.

16 They shall be ashamed, and also confounded, all of them: they shall go to confusion together that are makers of idols.

17 But Ĭs'ra-el shall be saved in the Lord with an everlasting salvation: ye shall not be ashamed nor confounded world without end.

18 For thus saith the Lord that created the heavens; God himself that formed the earth and made it; he hath established it, he created it not in vain, he formed it to be inhabited: I am the Lord; and there is none else.

19 I have not spoken in secret, in a dark place of the earth: I said not unto the seed of Jā'cob, Seek ye me in vain: [h]I the Lord speak righteousness, I declare things that are right.

20 ¶ Assemble yourselves and come; draw near together, ye that are [i]escaped of the nations: they have no knowledge that set up the wood of their graven image, and pray unto a god that cannot save.

21 Tell ye, and bring them near; yea, let them take counsel together: who hath declared this from ancient time? who hath told it from that time? have not I the Lord? and there is no God else beside me; a just God and a Saviour; there is none beside me.

22 Look unto me, and be ye saved, all the ends of the earth: for I am God, and there is none else.

23 [j]I have sworn by myself, the word is gone out of my mouth in righteousness, and shall not return, That unto me every [k]knee shall bow, [l]every tongue shall swear.

24 Surely, shall one say, in the Lord have I [m]righteousness and strength: even to him shall men come; and all that are incensed against him shall be ashamed.

25 In the Lord shall all the seed of Ĭs'ra-el be justified, and shall glory.

CHAPTER 46.

1 The idols of Babylon could not save themselves. 3 God saveth his people to the end. 5 Idols are not comparable to God for power.

1 [1]Bĕl [2]boweth [a]down, [3]Nē'bo stoopeth, their idols were upon the beasts, and upon the cattle: your carriages were heavy loaden; [b]they are a burden to the weary beast.

2 They stoop, they bow down together; they could not deliver the burden, but themselves are gone into captivity.

3 ¶ Hearken unto me, O [4]house of Jā'cob, and all the remnant of the house of Ĭs'ra-el, which are borne by me from the belly, which are carried from the womb:

Ch. 46. B. C. 712.

1. In ch. 46 the idols are overthrown—hence, if they could not save themselves, much less could they save Babylon; but Jehovah can and will save Israel, and Cyrus is to be his instrument.

2. Baal.

3. The Mercury of the Greeks.

4. Israel.

Ch. 47. B. C. 712.

1. In ch. 46 was the downfall of Babylon's gods, in this ch. is the downfall of Babylon. Judgment cannot be complete till both of them are destroyed.

2. The proud, heretofore uncaptured, city.

3. Alluding to the prostitution of all classes at religious rites.

4. Take off thy veil, which is a mark of the lowest degradation.

5. Divine threat against Babylon.

6. Of all generations.

7. The attitude of mourning.

8. Mistress of the world.

9. The hand of the Chaldeans or Babylonians. (II Chr. 36:17)—"Therefore he brought upon them the king of the Chaldees, who slew their young men with the sword in the house of their sanctuary and had no compassion upon young man or maiden, old man or him who stooped for age; he gave them all into his hands."

4 And even to your old age I am he; and even to hoar hairs will I carry you: I have made, and I will bear; even I will carry, and will deliver you.

5 ¶ To whom will ye liken me, and make me equal, and compare me, that we may be like?

6 They lavish gold out of the bag, and weigh silver in the balance, and hire a goldsmith; and he maketh it a god: they fall down, yea, they worship.

7 They [c]bear him upon the shoulder, they carry him, and set him in his place, and he standeth; from his place shall he not remove: yea, one shall cry unto him, yet can he not answer, nor save him out of his trouble.

8 Remember this, and shew yourselves men: bring it again to mind, O ye transgressors.

9 [d]Remember the former things of old: for I am God, and there is none else; I am God, and there is none like me,

10 Declaring the end from the beginning, and from ancient times the things that are not yet done, saying, [e]My counsel shall stand, and I will do all my pleasure:

11 Calling a ravenous bird from the east, the man that executeth my counsel from a far country: yea, [f]I have spoken it, I will also bring it to pass; I have purposed it, I will also do it.

12 ¶ Hearken unto me, ye stouthearted, that [g]are far from righteousness:

13 [h]I bring near my righteousness; it shall not be far off, and my salvation shall not tarry: and I will place salvation in Zī'ŏn for Ĭs'ra-el my glory.

CHAPTER 47.

1 God's judgment upon Babylon and Chaldea, 6 for their unmercifulness, 7 pride, and overboldness, 11 shall be unresistible.

1 Come [1]down, and sit in the dust, O [2]virgin daughter of Băb'ў-lon, sit on the ground: there is no throne, O daughter of the Chăl-dē'anş: for thou shalt no more be called tender and [3]delicate.

2 Take the [a]millstones, and grind meal; uncover [4]thy locks, make bare the leg, uncover the thigh, pass over the rivers.

3 Thy nakedness shall be uncovered, yea, thy shame shall be seen: [b]I will take [5]vengeance, and I will not meet thee as a man.

4 [6]As for our redeemer, the Lord of hosts is his name, the Holy One of Ĭs'ra-el.

5 Sit [7]thou [c]silent, and get thee into darkness, O daughter of the Chăl-dē'anş: for thou shalt no more be called, the lady [8]of kingdoms.

6 ¶ I was wroth with my people, I have polluted mine inheritance, and given them into [9]thine hand: thou didst shew them no mercy; given me all the kingdoms of the earth; and he hath charged me to build him an house at Jerusalem, which is in Judah. (Ezra 1:2.)

g. And thus are the secrets of his heart made manifest: and so falling down on his face he will worship God, and report that God is in you of a truth. (I Cor. 14:25.)

h. The statutes of the Lord are right, rejoicing the heart: the commandment of the Lord is pure, enlightening the eyes. (Ps. 19:8.)

i. Yet will I leave a remnant, that ye may have some that shall escape the sword among the nations, when ye shall be scattered through the countries. (Ez. 6:8.)

j. For when God made promise to Abraham, because he could swear by no greater, he sware by himself. (Heb. 6:13.)

k. For it is written, As I live, saith the Lord, every knee shall bow to me, and every tongue shall confess to God. (Rom. 14:11.)

l. Thou shalt fear the Lord thy God, and serve him, and shalt swear by his name. (Dt. 6:13.)

m. But of him are ye in Christ Jesus, who of God is made unto us wisdom, and righteousness, and sanctification, and redemption. (I Cor. 1:30.)

Chapter 46.

a. And I will punish Bel in Babylon, and I will bring forth out of his mouth that which he hath swallowed up: and the nations shall not flow together any more unto him: yea, the wall of Babylon shall fall. (Jer. 51:44.)

b. They are upright as the palm tree, but speak not: they must needs be borne, because they cannot go. Be not afraid of them; for they cannot do evil, neither also is it in them to do good. (Jer. 10:5.)

c. For they being ignorant of God's righteousness, and going about to establish their own righteousness, have not submitted themselves unto the righteousness of God. (Rom. 10:3.)

d. Remember the days of old, consider the years of many generations: ask thy father, and he will show thee; thy elders, and they will tell thee. (Dt. 32:7.)

e. The counsel of the Lord standeth for ever, the thoughts of his heart to all generations. (Ps. 33:11.)

f. In hope of eternal life, which God, that cannot lie, promised before the world began. (Tit. 1:2.)

g. For they being ignorant of God's righteousness, and going about to establish their own righteousness, have not submitted themselves unto the righteousness of God. (Rom. 10:3.)

h. For therein is the righteousness of God revealed from faith to faith: as it is written, The just shall live by faith. (Rom. 1:17.) But now the righteousness of God without the law is manifested, being witnessed by the Law and the Prophets. (Rom. 3:21.)

Chapter 47.

a. Therefore by the deeds of the law there shall no flesh be justified him down to Gaza, and bound him with fetters of brass; and he did grind in the prison house. (Jud. 16:21.)

b. Dearly beloved, avenge not yourselves, but rather give place unto wrath: for it is written, Vengeance is mine; I will repay, saith the Lord. (Rom. 12:19.) To me belongeth vengeance and recompense; their foot shall slide in due time: for the day of their calamity is at hand, and the things that shall come upon them make haste. (Dt. 32:35.)

c. He will keep the feet of his saints, and the wicked shall be silent in darkness; for by strength shall no man prevail. (I Sam. 2:9.)

upon the [10]ancient hast thou very heavily laid thy yoke.

7 ¶ And thou saidst, I shall be a lady for ever: so that thou didst not lay these things to thy heart, neither didst remember the latter end of it.

8 [11]Therefore hear now this, thou that art given to pleasures, that dwellest carelessly, that sayest in thine heart, I am, and none else beside me; I shall not sit as a widow, neither shall I know the loss of children:

9 But these two things shall come to thee in a moment in one day, the loss of children, and widowhood: they shall come upon thee in their perfection for the multitude of thy sorceries, and for the great abundance of thine enchantments.

10 ¶ For thou [d]hast trusted in thy wickedness: thou hast said, None seeth me. Thy wisdom and thy knowledge, it hath perverted thee; and thou hast said in thine heart, I am, and none else beside me.

11 ¶ Therefore shall evil come upon thee; thou shalt not know from whence it riseth: and mischief shall fall upon thee; thou shalt not be able to put it off: and desolation [e]shall come upon thee suddenly, which thou shalt not know.

12 Stand now with thine enchantments, and with the multitude of thy sorceries, wherein thou hast laboured from thy youth; if so be thou shalt be able to profit, if so be thou mayest prevail.

13 Thou art wearied in the multitude of thy counsels. Let now the astrologers, the stargazers, the monthly prognosticators, stand up, and save thee from these things that shall come upon thee.

14 Behold, they shall be as [f]stubble; the fire shall burn them; they shall not deliver themselves from the power of the flame: there shall not be a coal to warm at, nor fire to sit before it.

15 Thus shall they be unto thee with whom thou hast laboured, even thy merchants, from thy youth: they shall wander every one to his quarter; none shall save thee.

CHAPTER 48.

1 God, to convince the people of obstinacy, revealed his prophecies. 12 He exhorteth them to obedience.

1 [1]Hear ye this, O house of Jā'cob, which are called by the name of Ĭs'ra-el, and are come forth out of the waters of Jū'dah, [a]which swear by the name of the Lord, and make mention of the God of Ĭs'ra-el, but not in truth, nor in righteousness.

2 For they call themselves of the holy city, and stay themselves upon the God of Ĭs'ra-el; The Lord of hosts is his name.

3 I have declared the [2]former things from the beginning; and they went forth out of my mouth, and I shewed them; I did them [3]suddenly, [b]and they came to pass.

4 Because I knew that thou art [4]obstinate, and [c]thy neck is an iron sinew, and thy brow brass;

5 I have even from the beginning declared it to thee; before it came to pass I shewed it thee: lest thou shouldest say, Mine idol hath done them, and my graven image, and my molten image, hath commanded them.

6 Thou hast heard, see all this; and will not ye declare it? I have shewed thee new things from this time, even hidden things, and thou didst not know them.

7 They are created now, and not from the beginning; even before the day when thou heardest them not; lest thou shouldest say, Behold, I knew them.

8 Yea, thou heardest not; yea, thou knewest not; yea, from that time that thine ear was not opened: for I knew that thou wouldest deal very treacherously, and wast called a transgressor from the womb.

9 ¶ For [d]my name's sake will I defer mine anger, and for my praise will I refrain for thee, that I cut thee not off.

10 Behold, I have refined thee, but not with silver; I have chosen thee in the furnace of affliction.

11 For mine own sake, even for mine own sake, will I do it: [e]for how should my name be polluted? and [f]I will not give my glory unto another.

12 ¶ Hearken unto me, O Jā'cob and Ĭs'ra-el, my called; [g]I am he; I am the first, I also am the last.

13 [h]Mine hand also hath laid the foundation of the earth, and my right hand hath spanned the heavens: when I call unto them, they stand up together.

14 All ye, assemble yourselves, and hear; which among them hath declared these things? The Lord hath loved him: he will do his pleasure on Băb'ў-lon, and his arm shall be on the Chăl-dē'ans.

15 I, even I, have spoken; yea, I have called him: I have brought him, and he shall make his way prosperous.

16 ¶ Come ye near unto me, hear ye this; I have not spoken in secret from the beginning; from the time that it was, there am I: and now the [i]Lord God, and his Spirit, hath sent me.

17 Thus saith the Lord, thy Redeemer, the Holy One of Ĭs'ra-el; I am the Lord thy God which teacheth thee to profit, [j]which leadeth thee by the way that thou shouldest go.

18 O that thou hadst hearkened to my commandments! then had thy peace been as a river, and thy righteousness as the waves of the sea:

19 [k]Thy seed also had been as the sand, and the offspring of thy bowels like the gravel

4. Unbelieving.

d. Lo, this is the man that made not God his strength; but trusted in the abundance of his riches, and strengthened himself in his wickedness. (Ps. 52:7.) The iniquity of the house of Israel and Judah is exceeding great, and the land is full of blood, and the city full of perverseness: for they say, The Lord hath forsaken the earth, and the Lord seeth not. (Ez. 9:9.)

e. In that night was Belshazzar the king of the Chaldeans slain. (Dan. 5:30.) They did eat, they drank, they married wives, they were given in marriage, until the day that Noe entered into the ark, and the flood came, and destroyed them all. (Luke 17:27.)

f. For while they be folden together as thorns, and while they are drunken as drunkards, they shall be devoured as stubble fully dry. (Nah. 1:10.) For, behold, the day cometh that shall burn as an oven; and all the proud, yea, and all that do wickedly, shall be stubble. (Mal. 4:1.)

Chapter 48.

d. Nevertheless he saved them for his name's sake, that he might make his mighty power to be known. (Ps. 106:8.) See v. 11.

e. But I wrought for my name's sake, that it should not be polluted before the heathen, among whom they were, in whose sight I made myself known unto them, in bringing them forth out of the land of Egypt. (Ez. 20:9.)

f. I am the Lord; that is my name: and my glory will I not give to another, neither my praise to graven images. (Is. 42:8.)

h. Of old hast thou laid the foundation of the earth; and the heavens are the work of thy hands. (Ps. 102:25.)

20 ¶ Go ye forth of Băb'ў-lon, flee ye from the Chăl-dē'ans, with a voice of singing declare ye, tell this, utter it even to the end of the earth; say ye, The Lord hath redeemed his servant Jā'cob.

21 And they thirsted not when he led them through the deserts: he caused the waters to flow out of the rock for them: he clave the rock also, and the waters gushed out.

22 There [l]is no peace, saith the Lord, unto the wicked.

CHAPTER 49.

1 Christ, being sent to the Jews, complaineth of them. 5 He is sent to the Gentiles with gracious promises. 13 God's love is perpetual to his church.

Ch. 49. B. C. 712.

1 [1]Listen, O isles, unto me; and [e]hearken, ye people, from far; [a]The Lord hath called me from the womb; from the bowels of my mother hath he made mention of my name.

1. In chs. 49-60, which embrace the series of the prophet's later utterances, he goes far beyond the time of the captivity of Cyrus, to the coming Messiah, the promised Immanuel.

2 And he hath made [2]my [b]mouth like a sharp sword; in the shadow of his hand hath he hid me, and made me a polished shaft; in his quiver hath he hid me;

3 And said unto me, Thou art my servant, O Ĭs'ra-el, [c]in whom I will be glorified.

2. My words. Cutting, because painful to guilty souls.

4 Then [d]I said, I have laboured in vain, I have spent my strength for nought, and in vain: yet surely my judgment [3]is with the Lord, and my work with my God.

3. Reward.

5 ¶ And now, saith the Lord that formed me from the womb to be his servant, to bring Jā'cob again to him, Thou Ĭs'ra-el be not gathered, yet shall I be glorious in the eyes of the Lord, and my God shall be my strength.

6 And he said, It is a light thing that thou shouldest be my servant to raise up the tribes of Jā'cob, and to restore the preserved of Ĭs'ra-el: I will also give thee for a light [e]to the Gĕn'tīles, that thou mayest be my salvation unto the end of the earth.

4. The servant of God, the Messiah, has been speaking, but now the words change to those of Jehovah.

7 [4]Thus saith the Lord, the Redeemer of Ĭs'ra-el, and his Holy One, [f]to him whom man despiseth, to him whom the nations abhorreth, to a servant of rulers, Kings shall see and arise, princes also shall worship, because of the Lord that is faithful, and the Holy One of Ĭs'ra-el, and he shall choose thee.

8 Thus saith the Lord, [g]In an acceptable time have I heard thee, and in a day of salvation have I helped thee: and I will preserve thee, and give thee for a covenant of the people, to establish the earth, to cause to inherit the desolate heritages;

9 That thou mayest say to the prisoners, Go forth; to them that are in darkness, Shew yourselves. They shall feed in the ways, and their pastures shall be in all high places.

10 They shall not [h]hunger nor thirst; neither shall the heat nor sun smite them: for he that hath mercy [i]on them shall lead them, even by the springs of water shall he guide them.

11 And I will make all my mountains a way, and my highways shall be exalted.

12 Behold, these shall come from far: and, lo, these from the north and from the west; and these from the land of Sī'nim.

13 ¶ Sing, O heavens; and be joyful, O earth; and break forth into singing, O mountains: for the Lord hath comforted his people, and will have [i]mercy upon his afflicted.

14 But Zī'ŏn said, The Lord hath forsaken me, and my Lord hath forgotten me.

15 [j]Can a woman forget her sucking child, that she should not have compassion on the son of her womb? yea, they may forget, yet will [k]I not forget thee.

16 Behold, I have graven thee upon the palms of my hands; thy walls are continually before me.

17 Thy children shall make haste; thy destroyers and they that made thee waste shall go forth of thee.

18 ¶ Lift up thine eyes round about, and behold: all these gather themselves together, and come to thee. As I live, saith the Lord, thou shalt surely clothe thee with them all, as with an ornament, and bind them on thee, as a bride doeth.

19 For thy waste and thy desolate places, and the land of thy destruction, shall even now be too narrow by reason of the inhabitants, and they that swallowed thee up shall be far away.

20 The children which thou shalt have, after [l]thou hast lost the other, shall say again in thine ears, The place is too strait for me: give place to me that I may dwell.

21 Then shalt thou say in thine heart, Who hath begotten me these, seeing I have lost my children, and am desolate, a captive, and removing to and fro? and who hath brought up these? Behold, I was left alone; these, where had they been?

22 Thus saith the Lord God, Behold, I will lift up mine hand to the Gĕn'tīles, and set up my standard to the people: and they shall bring thy sons in their arms, and thy daughters shall be carried upon their shoulders.

23 And kings shall be thy [m]nursing fathers, and their queens thy nursing mothers: they shall bow down to thee with their face toward

l. There is no peace, saith my God, to the wicked. (Is. 57:21.)

Chapter 49.

a. Before I formed thee in the belly I knew thee; and before thou camest forth out of the womb I sanctified thee, and I ordained thee a prophet unto the nations. (Jer. 1:5.) For he shall be great in the sight of the Lord, and shall drink neither wine nor strong drink; and he shall be filled with the Holy Ghost, even from his mother's womb. (Luke 1:15.)

b. Therefore have I hewed them by the prophets; I have slain them by the words of my mouth: and thy judgments are as the light that goeth forth. (Hos. 6:5.) For the word of God is quick, and powerful, and sharper than any two-edged sword, piercing even to the dividing asunder of soul and spirit, and of the joints and marrow, and is a discerner of the thoughts and intents of the heart. (Heb. 4:12.)

c. Therefore, when he was gone out, Jesus said, Now is the Son of man glorified, and God is glorified in him. (Jno. 13:31.) To the praise of the glory of his grace, wherein he hath made us accepted in the Beloved. (Eph. 1:6.)

d. Yet if thou warn the wicked, and he turn not from his wickedness, nor from his wicked way, he shall die in his iniquity; but thou hast delivered thy soul. (Ez. 3:19.) Wherefore I take you to record this day, that I am pure from the blood of all men. (Acts 20:26.)

e. A light to lighten the Gentiles, and the glory of thy people Israel. (Luke 2:32.) For so hath the Lord commanded us, saying, I have set thee to be a light of the Gentiles, that thou shouldest be for salvation unto the ends of the earth. (Acts 13:47.)

f. He is despised and rejected of men; a man of sorrows, and acquainted with grief: and we hid as it were our faces from him; he was despised, and we esteemed him not. (Is. 53:3.) Then did they spit in his face, and buffeted him; and others smote him with the palms of their hands, Saying, Prophesy unto us, thou Christ, Who is he that smote thee? (Mat. 26:67, 68.)

g. But as for me, my prayer is unto thee, O Lord, in an acceptable time: O God, in the multitude of thy mercy hear me, in the truth of thy salvation. (Ps. 69:13.)

h. They shall hunger no more, neither thirst any more; neither shall the sun light on them, nor any heat. (Rev. 7:16.)

i. Hear me when I call, O God of my righteousness: thou hast enlarged me when I was in distress; have mercy upon me, and hear my prayer. (Ps. 4:1.) Hear me, O Lord; for thy loving-kindness is good: turn unto me according to the multitude of thy tender mercies. (Ps. 69:16.) Go and proclaim these words toward the north, and say, Return, thou backsliding Israel, saith the Lord; and I will not cause mine anger to fall upon you: for I am merciful, saith the Lord, and I will not keep anger for ever. (Jer. 3:12.) And the publican, standing afar off, would not lift up so much as his eyes unto heaven, but smote upon his breast saying, God be merciful to me a sinner. (Luke 18:13.)

j. And they shall be mine, saith the Lord of hosts, in that day when I make up my jewels; and I will spare them, as a man spareth his own son that serveth him. (Mal. 3:17.)

k. As concerning the Gospel, they are enemies for your sakes: but as touching the election, they are beloved for the fathers' sakes. For the gifts and calling of God are without repentance. (Rom. 11:28, 29.)

l. And think not to say within yourselves, We have Abraham to our father: for I say unto you, that God is able of these stones to raise up children unto Abraham. (Mat. 3:9.) I say then, Have they stumbled that they should fall? God forbid: but rather through their fall salvation is come unto the Gentiles, for to provoke them to jealousy. (Rom. 11:11.)

m. The kings of Tarshish and of the isles shall bring presents: the kings of Sheba and Seba shall offer gifts. Yea, all kings shall fall down before him, all nations shall serve him. (Ps. 72:10, 11.) Thou shalt also suck the milk of the Gentiles, and shalt suck the breast of kings: and thou shalt know that I the Lord am thy Saviour and thy Redeemer, the Mighty One of Jacob. (Is. 60:16.)

the earth, and lick up the dust of thy feet; and thou shalt know that I am the Lord: [n]for they shall not be ashamed that wait for me.

24 ¶ Shall the prey be taken from the mighty, or the lawful captive delivered?

25 But thus saith the Lord, Even the captives of the mighty shall be taken away, and the prey of the terrible shall be delivered: for I will contend with him that contendeth with thee, and I will save thy children.

26 And I will feed them that oppress thee with their own flesh; and they shall be drunken with their own [o]blood, as with sweet wine: and all flesh shall know that I the Lord am thy Saviour and thy Redeemer, the mighty One of Jā'cob.

CHAPTER 50.

1 Christ sheweth that the dereliction of the Jews is not to be imputed to him, by his ability to save, 7 and by his confidence in that assistance. 10 An exhortation to trust in God.

1 [1]Thus saith the Lord, Where is the bill [2]of your mother's divorcement, whom I have put away? or which of my [a]creditors is it to whom I have sold you? Behold, for your iniquities have ye sold yourselves, and for your transgressions is your mother put away.

2 Wherefore, when I came, was there no man? when I called, was there none to answer? Is my hand shortened at all, that it cannot redeem? or have I no power to deliver? behold, at my rebuke I [3]dry up the sea, I make the rivers a wilderness: their fish stinketh, because there is no water, and dieth for thirst.

3 I clothe the heavens with [4]blackness, and I make sackcloth their covering.

4 [5]The [b]Lord God hath given me the tongue of the learned, that I should know how to speak a word in season to him that [c]is weary: he wakeneth morning by morning, he wakeneth mine ear to hear as the learned.

5 ¶ The Lord God hath opened mine ear, and [d]I was not rebellious, neither turned away back.

6 [e]I gave my back to the smiters, and my cheeks to them that plucked off the hair: I hid not my face from shame and spitting.

Ch. 50. B. C. 712.

1. In this ch. is recorded the Messiah's message to Israel, showing the cause of Zion's being forsaken. The explanation is given under the fig. of marital infidelity. The warning is followed by promises of blessings.

2. Zion is the mother, the Jews are the children, and God the husband and Father. God here asks them to show their bill of divorcement, but, as it has never been granted, they have sold themselves; thus it was not through any fault of his, but their own that they and Zion were put away and sold. (Gesenius.) Lowth gives the following translation: "I have never given your mother a regular bill of divorcement, I have merely put her away for a time and can, therefore, by right as husband, still take her back on her submission. I have not made you (the children) over to any creditor to satisfy a debt; I therefore have the right of a father over you, and can take you back on repentance, though, as rebellious children, you have sold yourselves to sin and its penalty."

8 He is near that justifieth me; who will contend with me? let us stand together: who is mine adversary? let him come near to me.

9 Behold, the Lord God will help me; who is he that shall condemn me? lo, they all shall wax old as a garment; the moth shall eat them up.

10 ¶ Who is among you that feareth the Lord, that obeyeth the voice of his servant, that walketh in darkness, and hath no light? [g]let him trust in the name of the Lord, and stay upon his God.

11 Behold, all ye that kindle a fire, that compass yourselves about with sparks: walk in the light of your fire, and in the sparks [h]that ye have kindled. This shall ye have of mine hand; ye shall lie [i]down [c]in sorrow.

CHAPTER 51.

1 An exhortation to trust in Christ, 3 by reason of his comfortable promises, 4 of his righteous salvation, 7 and man's mortality. 9 Christ by his sanctified arm defendeth his from the fear of man. 17 He bewaileth the afflictions of Jerusalem.

1 [1]Hearken to me, ye [a]that follow after righteousness, [2]ye that seek [b]the Lord: look unto the [3]rock whence ye are hewn, and to the hole of the pit whence ye are digged.

2 Look unto Ā'brā-hăm your father, and unto Sā'rah that bare you: for I called him [4]alone, and blessed him, and increased him.

3 For the Lord shall comfort Zī'ŏn: he will comfort all her waste places; and he will make her wilderness like Ē'dĕn, and her desert [c]like the garden of the Lord; joy and gladness shall be found therein, thanksgiving, and the voice of melody.

4 ¶ Hearken unto me, my [5]people; and give ear unto me, O my nation: for a law [6]shall proceed from me, and I will make [d]my [7]judgment to rest for a light of the people.

5 My [e]righteousness is [5]near; my salvation is gone forth, and mine arms shall judge the n. The Lord redeemeth the soul of his servants; and none of them that trust in him shall be desolate. (Ps. 34:22.) For the scripture saith, Whosoever believeth on him shall not be ashamed. (Rom. 10:11.)

For they have shed the blood of saints and prophets, and thou hast given them blood to drink; for they are worthy. (Rev. 16:6.)

Chapter 50.

a. But forasmuch as he had not to pay, his lord commanded him to be sold, and his wife and children, and all that he had, and payment to be made. (Mat. 18:25.) Now there cried a certain woman of the wives of the sons of the prophets unto Elisha, saying, Thy servant my husband is dead; and thou knowest that thy servant did fear the Lord: and the creditor is come to take unto him my two sons to be bondmen. (II Ks. 4:1.)

b. And the Lord said unto him, Who hath made man's mouth? or who maketh the dumb, or deaf, or the seeing, or the blind? have not I the Lord? (Ex. 4:11.)

c. Come unto me, all ye that labor and are heavy laden, and I will give you rest. (Mat. 11:28.)

d. But that the world may know that I love the Father; and as the Father gave me commandment, even so I do. Arise, let us go hence. (Jno. 14:31.) And being found in fashion as a man, he humbled himself, and became obedient unto death, even the death of the cross. (Phil. 2:8.)

e. Then did they spit in his face, and buffeted him; and others smote him with the palms of their hands. (Mat. 26:67.) And when he had thus spoken, one of the officers which stood by struck Jesus with the palm of his hand, saying, Answerest thou the high priest so? (Jno. 18:22.) He giveth his cheek to him that smiteth him: he is filled full with reproach. (Lam. 3:30.)

f. What shall we then say to these things? If God be for us, who can be against us? (Rom. 8:31.)

g. And they rose early in the morning, and went forth into the wilderness of Tekoa: and as they went forth, Jehoshaphat stood and said, Hear me, O Judah, and ye inhabitants of Jerusalem; believe in the Lord your God, so shall ye be established; believe his prophets, so shall ye prosper. (II Chr. 20:20.) Judge me, O Lord; for I have walked in mine integrity: I have trusted also in the Lord; therefore I shall not slide. (Ps. 26:1.) In God I will praise his word: in God I have put my trust; I will not fear what flesh can do unto me. (Ps. 56:4.) I will say of the Lord, He is my refuge and my fortress: my God; in him will I trust. (Ps. 91:2.) And again, I will put my trust in him. And again, Behold I and the children which God hath given me. (Heb. 2:13.) Blessed is the man that trusteth in the Lord, and whose hope the Lord is. (Jer. 17:7.)

a. Therefore by the deeds of the law there shall no flesh be justified in his sight: for by the law is the knowledge of sin. (Rom. 3:20.)

b. Ask, and it shall be given you; seek, and ye shall find; knock, and it shall be opened unto you. (Mat. 7:7.) And they that know thy name will put their trust in thee: for thou, Lord, hast not forsaken them that seek thee. (Ps. 9:10.) And he went out to meet Asa, and said unto him, Hear ye me, Asa, and all Judah and Benjamin; The Lord is with you, while ye be with him; and if ye seek him, he will be found of you, but if ye forsake him, he will forsake you. (II Chr. 15:2.) I sought the Lord, and he heard me, and delivered me from all my fears. (Ps. 34:4.)

c. A fire devoureth before them, and behind them a flame burneth: the land is as the garden of Eden before them, and behind them a desolate wilderness: yea, and nothing shall escape them. (Joel 2:3.)

d. Before the Lord: for he cometh to judge the earth: with righteousness shall he judge the world, and the people with equity. (Ps. 98:9.) Judge not according to the appearance, but judge righteous judgment. (Jno. 7:24.) He is the Rock, his work is perfect; for all his ways are judgment: a God of truth, and without iniquity, just and right is he. (Dt. 32:4.) Therefore the Lord hath recompensed me according to my righteousness; according to my cleanness in his eyesight. With the merciful thou wilt show thyself merciful, and with the upright man thou wilt show thyself upright. With the pure thou wilt show thyself pure; and with the froward thou wilt show thyself unsavory. (II Sam. 22:25-27.)

e. I bring near my righteousness; it shall not be far off, and my salvation shall not tarry: and I will place salvation in Zion for Israel my glory. (Is. 46:13.) No weapon that is formed against thee shall prosper; and every tongue that shall rise against thee in judgment thou shalt condemn. This is the heritage of the servants of the Lord, and their righteousness is of me, saith the Lord. (Is. 54:17.)

people; the isles shall wait upon me, and [f]on mine arm shall they trust.

6 Lift up your eyes to the heavens, and look upon the earth beneath: for the [g]heavens shall [g]vanish away like smoke, and the earth shall wax old like a garment, and they that dwell therein shall die in like manner: but my salvation shall be for ever, and my righteousness shall not be abolished.

7 ¶ Hearken unto me, ye that know righteousness, the people in whose heart is my law; [h]fear ye not the [i]reproach of men, neither be ye afraid of their revilings.

8 For the moth shall eat them up like a garment, and the worm shall eat them like wool: but my righteousness shall be for ever, and my salvation from generation to generation.

9 ¶ Awake, awake, put on strength, O arm of the Lord; awake, as in the ancient days, in the generations of old. Art thou not it that hath cut Rā'hāb, and wounded the [10]dragon?

10 Art thou not it which [j]hath dried the sea, the waters of the great deep; that hath made the depths of the sea a way for the ransomed to pass over?

11 Therefore the [k]redeemed of the Lord shall return, and come with singing unto Zī'ŏn; and everlasting joy shall be upon their head: they shall obtain gladness and joy; and sorrow and mourning shall flee away.

12 I, even I, am he [l]that comforteth you: who art thou, that thou shouldest be afraid of a man that shall die, and of the son of man which shall be made as grass;

13 And forgettest the Lord thy maker, that hath stretched forth the heavens, and laid the foundations of the earth; and hast feared continually every day because of the fury of the oppressor, as if he were ready to destroy? [m]and where is the fury of the oppressor?

14 The captive exile hasteneth that he may be loosed, and that he should not die in the [11]pit, nor that his bread should fail.

15 But I am the Lord thy God, that divided [12]the sea, whose waves roared: The Lord of hosts is his name.

16 And I have put my words in thy mouth, and I have covered thee in the shadow of mine hand, that I may plant the [13]heavens, and lay the foundations of the earth, and say unto Zī'ŏn, Thou art my people.

17 ¶ Awake, awake, stand up, O [14]Je-rụ'sa-lĕm, which hast drunk at the hand of the Lord the cup of his fury; thou [n]hast drunken the dregs of the cup of [15]trembling, and wrung them out.

19 These two [16]things are come unto thee; who shall be sorry for thee? desolation, and destruction, and the famine, and the sword: [o]by whom shall I comfort thee?

20 Thy sons have fainted, they lie at the head of all the streets, as a wild bull [17]in a net: they are full of the fury of the Lord, the rebuke of thy God.

21 ¶ Therefore hear now this, thou afflicted, and drunken, but not with wine:

22 Thus saith thy Lord the Lord, and thy God that pleadeth the cause of his people, Behold, I have taken out of thine hand the cup of trembling, even the dregs of the cup of my fury; thou shalt no more drink it again:

23 But I will put it into the hand of them that afflict thee; which have said to thy soul, Bow down, that we may go over: and thou hast laid thy body as the ground, and as the street, to them that went over.

CHAPTER 52.

1 Christ persuadeth the church to believe his free redemption, 7 to receive the ministers thereof, 11 and to free themselves from bondage. 13 Christ's kingdom shall be exalted.

1 [1]Awake, awake; put on thy [2]strength, O Zī'ŏn; put on thy beautiful [3]garments, O Je-rụ'sa-lĕm, the holy city: for henceforth there shall no more come into thee the uncircumcised [a]and the unclean.

2 Shake thyself from the dust; arise, and sit down, O Je-rụ'sa-lĕm: loose thyself from the bands of thy neck, O captive daughter of Zī'ŏn.

3 For thus saith the Lord, Ye have sold yourselves for nought; and ye shall be redeemed without money.

4 For thus saith the Lord God, [4]My people went down aforetime into Ē'gўpt to sojourn there; and the [5]Ās-sўr'ĭ-an oppressed them without cause.

5 Now therefore, what have I here, saith the Lord, that my people is taken away for nought? they that rule over them make them to howl, saith the Lord; and my name continually every day is [6]blasphemed.

6 Therefore my people shall know my [7]name: therefore they shall know in that [8]day that I am he that doth speak: behold, it is I.

7 ¶ How beautiful [9]upon the mountains are the feet of him that bringeth good tidings, that publisheth peace; that bringeth good tid-

f. For I am not ashamed of the gospel of Christ: for it is the power of God unto salvation to every one that believeth; to the Jew first, and also to the Greek. (Rom. 1:16.) But exhort one another daily, while it is called Today; lest any of you be hardened through the deceitfulness of sin. (Heb. 3:13.) Let them be confounded and consumed that are adversaries to my soul; let them be covered with reproach and dishonor that seek my hurt. (Ps. 71:13.)

g. Heaven and earth shall pass away, but my words shall not pass away. (Mat. 24:35.) Of old hast thou laid the foundation of the earth; and the heavens are the work of thy hands. They shall perish, but thou shalt endure: yea, all of them shall wax old like a garment, as a vesture shalt thou change them, and they shall be changed. (Ps. 102:25, 26.) And all the host of heaven shall be dissolved, and the heavens shall be rolled together as a scroll: and all their host shall fall down, as the leaf falleth off from the vine, and as a falling fig from the fig tree. (Is. 34:4.)

h. And I say unto you, my friends, Be not afraid of them that kill the body, and after that have no more that they can do. (Luke 12:4.)

i. Blessed are ye when men shall revile you, and persecute you, and shall say all manner of evil against you falsely, for my sake. (Mat. 5:11.) And they departed from the presence of the council, rejoicing that they were counted worthy to suffer shame for his name. (Acts 5:41.) Fear not: for thou shalt not be ashamed: neither be thou confounded; for thou shalt not be put to shame: for thou shalt forget the shame of thy youth, and shalt not remember the reproach of thy widowhood any more. (Is. 54:4.)

j. And Moses stretched out his hand over the sea; and the Lord caused the sea to go back by a strong east wind all that night, and made the sea dry land, and the waters were divided. (Ex. 14:21.) At the same time spake the Lord by Isaiah the son of Amoz, saying, Go and loose the sackcloth from off thy loins, and put off thy shoe from thy foot. And he did so, walking naked and barefoot. (Is. 20:2.) Then he remembered the days of old, Moses, and his people, saying, Where is he that brought them up out of the sea with the shepherd of his flock? where is he that put his Holy Spirit within him? That led them by the right hand of Moses with his glorious arm, dividing the water before them, to make himself an everlasting name? (Is. 63:11, 12.)

k. And the ransomed of the Lord shall return, and come to Zion, with songs and everlasting joy upon their heads: they shall obtain joy and gladness, and sorrow and sighing shall flee away. (Is. 35:10.) Thus saith the Lord; Behold, I will bring again the captivity of Jacob's tents, and have mercy on his dwelling places; and the city shall be builded upon her own heap, and the palace shall remain after the manner thereof. (Jer. 30:18.) The voice of joy, and the voice of gladness; the voice of the bridegroom, and the voice of the bride; the voice of them that shall say, Praise the Lord of hosts: for the Lord is good; for his mercy endureth for ever: and of them that shall bring the sacrifice of praise into the house of the Lord. For I will cause to return the captivity of the land, as at the first, saith the Lord. (Jer. 33:11.)

l. Blessed be God, even the Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, the Father of mercies, and the God of all comfort. (II Cor. 1:3.) Who is a God like unto thee, that pardoneth iniquity, and passeth by the transgression of the remnant of his heritage? he retaineth not his anger for ever, because he delighteth in mercy. (Mic. 7:18)

m. Yet he shall perish for ever like his own dung: they which have seen him shall say, Where is he? (Job 20:7.)

n. The Lord shall smite thee with madness, and blindness, and astonishment of heart. (Dt. 28:28.)

o. Thus hath the Lord God shown unto me; and, behold, the Lord God called to contend by fire, and it devoured the great deep, and did eat up a part. (Amos 7:4.)

Chapter 52.

a. And there shall in no wise enter into it any thing that defileth, neither whatsoever worketh abomination or maketh a lie; but they which are written in the Lamb's book of life. (Rev. 21:27.)

ings of good, that publisheth salvation; that saith unto Zĭ'ŏn, Thy God reigneth!

8 Thy watchmen shall lift up the voice; with the voice together shall they sing: for they shall see eye to eye, when the Lord shall bring again Zĭ'ŏn.

9 ¶ [10]Break forth into joy, sing together, ye waste places of Je-rŭ'sa-lĕm: for the Lord hath comforted his people, he hath redeemed Je-rŭ'sa-lĕm.

10 The Lord hath made bare his holy arm in the eyes of all the nations; and all the ends of the earth shall see the salvation of [11]our God.

11 ¶ [b]Depart ye, depart ye, go ye out from thence, touch no unclean thing; go ye out of the midst of her; be ye clean, that bear the vessels of the Lord.

12 For ye shall not go out with haste, nor go by flight: for the Lord will go before you; and the God of Ĭs'ra-el will be your rereward.

13 ¶ Behold, [c]my servant shall deal prudently, he shall be exalted and extolled, and be very high.

14 As many were astonied at thee; his visage was so marred more than any man, and his form more than the sons of men:

15 So [d]shall he sprinkle many nations; the kings shall shut their mouths at him: for that which had not been told them shall they see; and that which they had not heard shall they consider.

CHAPTER 53.

1 The prophet, complaining of incredulity, excuseth the scandal of the cross, 4 by the benefit of his passion, 10 and the good success thereof.

1 [1]Who [a]hath believed our report? and to whom is the arm of the Lord revealed?

2 For he shall grow up before him as a tender plant, and as a root out of a dry ground: he hath no form nor comeliness; and when we shall see him, there is no beauty that we should desire him.

3 He is despised and rejected of men; a man of sorrows, and acquainted with grief: and we hid as it were our faces from him; he was despised, and we esteemed [2]him not.

4 ¶ Surely [b]he hath borne our griefs, and carried our sorrows: yet we did esteem him stricken, smitten of God, and afflicted.

5 But he was wounded for our transgressions, he was bruised for our iniquities: the [3]chastisement of our peace was upon him; and with his stripes we are healed.

6 All we like sheep have gone astray; we have turned every one to his own way; and the [5]Lord hath laid on him the iniquity of us all.

7 He was oppressed, and he was afflicted, yet he opened not his mouth: he is brought as [c]a lamb to the slaughter, and as a sheep before her shearers is dumb, so [e]he openeth not his mouth.

8 He was taken from prison and from judgment: and who shall declare his generation? for [d]he was cut off out of the land of the living: for the transgression of my people was he stricken.

9 And he made his grave with the wicked, and with the rich in his death; because he had done no violence, neither was any deceit in [e]his mouth.

10 ¶ Yet it pleased the Lord to bruise him; he hath put him to grief: when thou shalt make his soul an offering for sin, he shall see his seed, he shall prolong his days, and [f]the pleasure of the Lord shall prosper in his hand.

11 He shall see [4]of the travail of his soul, and shall be satisfied: [g]by his knowledge shall my righteous servant justify many; for he shall bear their iniquities.

12 Therefore will I divide him a portion with the great, and he shall divide the spoil with the strong; because he hath poured out his soul unto death: and he was [h]numbered with the transgressors; and he bare the sin of many, and [i]made intercession for the transgressors.

CHAPTER 54.

1 The prophet, for the comfort of the Gentiles, prophesieth the amplitude of their church, 6 their certain deliverance out of affliction, 15 and their sure preservation.

1 [1]Sing, O [2]barren, thou that didst not bear; break forth into singing, and cry aloud, thou that didst not travail with child: for more are the children of the desolate than the children of the married wife, saith the [3]Lord.

2 Enlarge the place of thy tent, and let them stretch forth the curtains of thine habitations: spare not, lengthen thy cords, and strengthen thy stakes;

3 For thou shalt break forth on the right hand and on the left; and thy seed shall inherit the Gĕn'tīles, and make the desolate cities to be inhabited.

4 Fear not; for thou shalt not be ashamed: neither be thou confounded; for thou shalt not be put to shame: for thou shalt forget the shame of thy youth, and shalt not remember the reproach of thy widowhood any more.

5 For thy Maker is [a]thine husband; the Lord of hosts is his name; and thy Redeemer the Holy One of Ĭs'ra-el; [b]The God of the whole earth shall he be called.

6 For the Lord hath called thee as a woman forsaken and grieved in spirit, and a wife of

10. The picture changes because Zion has been restored and the exiles returned home, and the people break forth in joyful song.

11. Partially fulfilled in the restoration of Egypt; absolutely fulfilled in the Gospel of Christ.

Ch. 53. B. C. 712.

1. Ch. 53 is concerning the coming and suffering of the Messiah. His coming has been announced until the people are looking for him, but they are looking for a king to reign amidst earthly splendor, hence are slow to accept him in his lowly station. He suffers a self-imposed humiliation, not on account of any fault of his, for he was without fault; but, through his willing, the faults of the human race meet on him.

2. Undervalued him.

3. Not punishment, strictly speaking, for punishment can come only where there is guilt, and he was without guilt, but he took on himself the chastisement whereby peace was to be effected between the children and the Father.

4. Much fruit.

5. Jehovah.

Ch. 54. B. C. 712.

1. In ch. 54 is continued an account of the Messiah's sufferings, also Israel's penitence at her unbelief, she confesses her mistake of rejecting the Messiah and is joyfully restored by Jehovah. Israel converted is compared to a wife who has been put away for her unfaithfulness but now forgiven and taken home again. The pre-eminence of the Hebrew church, as the mother church of the world, is presented, while the converted Gentile is accepted as a new progeny of the restored wife.

2. The Jewish church.

3. Jehovah.

b. Wherefore come out from among them, and be ye separate, saith the Lord, and touch not the unclean thing; and I will receive you. (II Cor. 6:17.)

c. Behold my servant, whom I uphold; mine elect, in whom my soul delighteth; I have put my Spirit upon him; he shall bring forth judgment to the Gentiles. (Is. 42:1.)

d. Then will I sprinkle clean water upon you, and ye shall be clean: from all your filthiness, and from all your idols, will I cleanse you. (Ez. 36:25.)

Chapter 53.

a. But though he had done so many miracles before them, yet they believed not on him: That the saying of Esaias the prophet might be fulfilled, which he spake, Lord, who hath believed our report? and to whom hath the arm of the Lord been revealed? (Jno. 12:37, 38.)

b. That it might be fulfilled which was spoken by Esaias the prophet, saying, Himself took our infirmities, and bare our sicknesses. (Mat. 8:17.)

c. The place of the scripture which he read was this, He was led as a sheep to the slaughter; and like a lamb dumb before his shearer, so opened he not his mouth. (Acts 8:32.)

d. And after threescore and two weeks shall Messiah be cut off, but not for himself: and the people of the prince that shall come shall destroy the city and the sanctuary; and the end thereof shall be with a flood, and unto the end of the war desolations are determined. (Dan. 9:26.)

e. Who did no sin, neither was guile found in his mouth. (I Pet. 2:22.) And ye know that he was manifested to take away our sins, and in him is no sin. (I Jno. 3:5.)

f. Having predestinated us unto the adoption of children by Jesus Christ to himself, according to the good pleasure of his will. (Eph. 1:5.) Wherefore also we pray always for you, that our God would count you worthy of this calling, and fulfil all the good pleasure of his goodness, and the work of faith with power. (II Thess. 1:11.)

g. And this is life eternal, that they might know thee the only true God, and Jesus Christ, whom thou hast sent. (Jno. 17:3.) According as his divine power hath given unto us all things that pertain unto life and godliness, through the knowledge of him that hath called us to glory and virtue. (II Pet. 1:3.) My little children, these things write I unto you, that ye sin not. And if any man sin, we have an advocate with the Father, Jesus Christ the righteous. (I Jno. 2:1.)

h. And the scripture was fulfilled, which saith, And he was numbered with the transgressors. (Mk. 15:28.)

i. Then said Jesus, Father, forgive them; for they know not what they do. And they parted his raiment, and cast lots. (Luke 23:34.) Wherefore he is able also to save them to the uttermost that come unto God by him, seeing he ever liveth to make intercession for them. (Heb. 7:25.) My little children, these things write I unto you, that ye sin not. And if any man sin, we have an advocate with the Father, Jesus Christ the righteous. (I Jno. 2:1.)

Chapter 54.

a. Turn, O backsliding children, saith the Lord; for I am married unto you: and I will take you one of a city, and two of a family, and I will bring you to Zion. (Jer. 3:14.) And I will betroth thee unto me for ever; yea, I will betroth thee unto me in righteousness, and in judgment, and in loving-kindness, and in mercies. (Hos. 2:19.)

b. Is he the God of the Jews only? is he not also of the Gentiles? Yes of the Gentiles also. (Rom. 3:29.)

youth, when thou wast refused, saith thy God.
7 For a [c]small moment have I forsaken thee; but with great mercies will I gather thee.
8 In a little wrath I hid my face from thee for a moment; but with everlasting kindness will I have mercy on thee, saith the Lord thy Redeemer.
9 For this is as the waters of [4]Nō'ah unto me: for as I have sworn that the waters of [4]Nō'ah should no more go over the earth; so have I [4]sworn that I would not be wroth with thee, nor rebuke thee.
10 For [d]the mountains shall depart, and the hills be removed; but my kindness [c]shall not depart from thee, neither shall the covenant of my peace be removed, saith the Lord that hath mercy on thee.
11 ¶ O thou afflicted, tossed with tempest, and not comforted, behold, I will lay thy stones with fair colours, and lay thy foundations with sapphires.
12 And I will make thy windows of agates, and thy gates of carbuncles, and all thy borders of pleasant stones.
13 And all thy children shall be taught [f]of the Lord; and great shall be the peace [g]of thy children.
14 In righteousness shalt thou be established: thou shalt be far from oppression; for thou shalt not fear: and from terror; for it shall not come near thee.
15 Behold, they shall surely gather together, but not by me: whosoever shall gather together against thee shall fall for thy sake.
16 Behold, I have created the smith that bloweth the coals in the fire, and that bringeth forth an instrument for his work; and I have created the waster to destroy.
17 ¶ No [h]weapon that is formed against thee shall prosper; and every tongue that shall rise against thee in judgment thou shalt condemn. This is the heritage of the servants of the Lord, and their righteousness is of me, saith the Lord.

CHAPTER 55.

1 The prophet, with the promises of Christ, calleth to faith, 6 and to repentance. 8 The happy success of them that believe.

1 [1]Ho, [a]every one that [2]thirsteth, come ye to the waters, and he that hath no money; [b]come ye, buy, and eat; yea, come, buy wine and milk without [3]money and without price.
2 Wherefore do ye spend money for that which is not bread? and your labour for that

4. As I kept my promise with Noah, that there should be no return of the flood, so do I swear to my people now that there shall be no return of the deluge of my wrath upon them.

Ch. 55. B. C. 712.

1. In ch. 55 the Messiah's call to the Gentile world is recorded. Israel has been made to understand that her sins have been so great that a sacrifice of much greater value than the blood of animals is necessary for her salvation, therefore she must have faith in Christ, the coming Messiah.

2. Who has a keen sense of need

3. We are to buy, not with money, but by parting with everything which comes between us and Christ, who has paid the sacrificial price for us all.

4. Monitor, instructor.

5. The Gentile world.

6. Because man does not see his own thoughts regarding himself as God sees them, therefore he does not see himself the sinner that God does; consequently repentance is the first and immdiate duty.

Ch. 56. B. C. 712.

1. In ch. 56 is detailed and made plain the preparation needed by all who would be admitted to the kingdom of the Messiah. This ch. looks forward into the age of John the Baptist.

2. Equity, justice. John the Baptist preached a similar return to righteousness as necessary to prepare men for the coming of the Messiah (Luke 3:3 and 8:14), and so it shall be at the second coming (Mal. 4:4-6).

which satisfieth not? hearken diligently unto me, and eat ye that which is good, and let your soul delight itself in fatness.
3 Incline your ear, and [c]come unto me: hear, and your soul shall live; and I will [d]make an everlasting covenant with you, even the sure mercies of Dā'vid.
4 Behold, I have given him for [4]a witness to the people, a leader and commander to the people.
5 Behold, thou shalt call a nation that thou knowest [5]not, and nations that knew not thee shall run unto thee because of the Lord thy God, and for the Holy One of Is'ra-el; for he hath glorified thee.
6 ¶ Seek [c]ye the Lord while he may be found, call ye upon him while he is near:
7 Let the wicked forsake [6]his way, and the unrighteous man [f]his [6]thoughts: and let him return unto the Lord, [g]and he will have mercy [h]upon him; and to our God, for he will abundantly pardon.
8 ¶ For my thoughts are not [i]your thoughts, neither are your ways my ways, saith the Lord.
9 For as the heavens are higher than the earth, so are my ways higher than your ways, and my thoughts than your thoughts.
10 For as the rain cometh down, and the snow from heaven, and returneth not thither, but watereth the earth, and maketh it bring forth and bud, that it may give seed to the sower, and bread to the eater:
11 So shall my word be that goeth forth out of my mouth: it shall not return unto me void, but it shall accomplish that which I please, and it shall prosper in the thing whereto I sent it.
12 For ye shall go out with joy, and be led forth with peace: the mountains and the hills shall break forth before you into singing, and all the trees of the field shall clap their hands.
13 Instead of the thorn shall come up the fir tree, and instead of the brier shall come up the myrtle tree: and it shall be to the Lord for a name, for an everlasting sign that shall not be cut off.

CHAPTER 56.

1 The prophet exhorteth to sanctification. 3 He promiseth it shall be general. 9 He inveigheth against blind watchmen.

1 [1]Thus saith the Lord, Keep ye [2]judgment, and do justice: [a]for my salvation is near to come, and my righteousness to be revealed.

c. For our light affliction, which is but for a moment, worketh for us a far more exceeding and eternal weight of glory. (II Cor. 4:17.)
d. God is our refuge and strength, a very present help in trouble. Therefore will not we fear, though the earth be removed, and though the mountains be carried into the midst of the sea. (Ps. 46:1, 2.)
e. Nevertheless my loving-kindness will I not utterly take from him, nor suffer my faithfulness to fail. (Ps. 89:33.)
f. It is written in the Prophets, And they shall be all taught of God. Every man therefore that hath heard, and hath learned of the Father, cometh unto me. (Jno. 6:45.)
g. Peace I leave with you, my peace I give unto you: not as the world giveth, give I unto you. Let not your heart be troubled, neither let it be afraid. (Jno. 14:27.)
h. Now thanks be unto God, which always causeth us to triumph in Christ, and maketh manifest the savor of his knowledge by us in every place. (II Cor. 2:14.)
Chapter 55.
a. But whosoever drinketh of the water that I shall give him shall never thirst; but the water that I shall give him shall be in him a well of water springing up into everlasting life. (Jno. 4:14.) And the Spirit and the bride say, Come. And let him that heareth say, Come. And let him that is athirst come. And whosoever will, let him take the water of life freely. (Rev. 22:17.)
b. Again, the kingdom of heaven is like unto treasure hid in a field; the which when a man hath found, he hideth, and for joy thereof goeth and selleth all that he hath, and buyeth that field. (Mat. 13:44.)
c. Come unto me, all ye that labor and are heavy laden, and I will give you rest. (Mat. 11:28.)
d. And I will make an everlasting covenant with them, that I will not turn away from them, to do them good; but I will put my fear in their hearts, that they shall not depart from me. (Jer. 32:40.) And as concerning that he raised him up from the dead, now no more to return to corruption, he said on this wise, I will give you the sure mercies of David. (Acts 13:34.)
e. Agree with thine adversary quickly, whilst thou art in the way with him; lest at any time the adversary deliver thee to the judge, and the judge deliver thee to the officer, and thou be cast into prison. (Mat. 5:25.) Ask, and it shall be given you; seek, and ye shall find; knock, and it shall be opened unto you. (Mat. 7:7.) For thou, Lord, hast not forsaken them that seek thee. (Ps. 9:10.) I sought the Lord, and he heard me, and delivered me from all my fears. (Ps. 34:4.)
f. And let none of you imagine evil in your hearts against his neighbor; and love no false oath: for all these are things that I hate, saith the Lord. (Zech. 8:17.) The instruments also of the churl are evil: he deviseth wicked devices to destroy the poor with lying words, even when the needy speaketh right. (Is. 32:7.) Their feet run to evil, and they make haste to shed innocent blood: their thoughts are thoughts of iniquity; wasting and destruction are in their paths. (Is. 59:7.)
g. Go and proclaim these words toward the north, and say, Return thou backsliding Israel, saith the Lord; and I will not cause mine anger to fall upon you: for I am merciful, saith the Lord, and I will not keep anger for ever. (Jer. 3:12.)
h. Hear me when I call, O God of my righteousness: thou hast enlarged me when I was in distress; have mercy upon me, and hear my prayer. (Ps. 4:1.) Hear me, O Lord; for thy loving-kindness is good: turn unto me according to the multitude of thy tender mercies. (Ps. 69:16.) And he remembered for them his covenant, and repented according to the multitude of his mercies. (Ps. 106:45.) Be merciful unto me, O God, be merciful unto me; for my soul trusteth in thee: yea, in the shadow of thy wings will I make my refuge, until these calamities be overpast. (Ps. 57:1.) And the publican, standing afar off, would not lift up so much as his eyes unto heaven, but smote upon his breast, saying, God be merciful to me a sinner. (Luke 18:13.) And the Lord passed by before him, and proclaimed, The Lord, The Lord God, merciful and gracious, long-suffering, and abundant in goodness and truth. (Ex. 34:6.)
Chapter 56.
a. And saying, Repent ye: for the kingdom of heaven is at hand. (Mat. 3:2.) From that time Jesus began to preach, and to say, Repent: for the kingdom of heaven is at hand. (Mat. 4:17.) There is none that understandeth, there is none that seeketh after God. They are all gone out of the way, they are together become unprofitable; there is none that doeth good, no, not one. (Rom. 3:11, 12.)

2 Blessed is the man that doeth this, and the son of man that layeth hold on it; [b]that keepeth the sabbath from polluting it, and keepeth his hand from doing any evil.

3 ¶ Neither let the [c]son of the [3]stranger, that hath joined himself to the Lord, speak, saying, The Lord hath utterly separated me from his people: neither let the [4]eunuch say, Behold, I am a dry tree.

4 For thus saith the Lord unto the [4]eunuchs that [d]keep my sabbaths, and choose the things that please me, and take hold of my covenant;

5 Even unto them will I give in [c]mine house and within my walls a place [f]and a name better than of sons and of daughters: I will give them an everlasting name, that shall not be cut off.

6 Also the sons of the [3]stranger, that join themselves to the Lord, to serve him, and to love the name of the Lord, to be his servants, every one that keepeth the [d]sabbath from polluting it, and taketh hold of my covenant;

7 Even them will I bring to my holy mountain, and make them joyful in my house of prayer: [g]their burnt offerings and their sacrifices shall be accepted upon mine altar; for [h]mine house shall be called an house of prayer for all people.

8 The Lord God which gathereth the outcasts of Is'ra-el saith, [i]Yet will I gather others to him, beside those that are gathered unto him.

9 ¶ All ye beasts of the field, come to devour, yea, all ye beasts in the forest.

10 His watchmen are blind: they are all ignorant, they are all dumb dogs, they cannot bark; sleeping, lying down, loving to slumber.

11 Yea, they are [5]greedy dogs which can never have enough, and they are shepherds that cannot understand: they all look to their own way, every one for his gain, from his quarter.

12 Come ye, say they, I will fetch wine, and we will fill ourselves with strong drink; and to morrow shall be as this day, and much more abundant.

CHAPTER 57.

1 The blessed death of the righteous. 3 God reproveth the Jews for their idolatry. 13 He giveth evangelical promises to the penitent.

1 [1]The righteous perisheth, and no man layeth it to heart: and merciful men are taken away, none considering that the righteous is taken away from the evil to come.

2 He shall enter into peace: they shall rest in their beds, each one walking in his uprightness.

3 ¶ But draw near hither, [a]ye sons of the sorceress, the seed of the [2]adulterer and the whore.

4 Against whom do ye sport yourselves? against whom make ye a wide mouth, and draw out the tongue? are ye not children of transgression, a seed of falsehood,

5 Enflaming yourselves with idols under every green tree, slaying the children in the valleys under the clifts of the rocks?

6 Among the smooth stones of the stream is thy portion; they, they are thy lot: even to them hast thou poured a drink offering, thou hast offered a meat [3]offering. Should I receive comfort in these?

7 Upon a lofty and high mountain hast thou set thy bed: even thither wentest thou up to offer sacrifice.

8 Behind the doors also and the posts hast thou set up thy remembrance: for thou hast discovered thyself to another than me, and art gone up; thou hast enlarged thy bed, and made thee a covenant with them; thou lovedst their bed where thou sawest it.

9 And thou wentest to the king with ointment, and didst increase thy perfumes, and didst send thy messengers far off, and didst debase thyself even unto hell.

10 Thou art wearied in the greatness of thy way; yet saidst thou not, There is no hope: thou hast found the [4]life of thine hand; therefore thou wast not grieved.

11 And of whom [5]hast thou been afraid or feared, that thou hast lied, and hast not remembered me, nor laid it to thy heart? [b]have not I held my peace even of old, and thou fearest [c]me not?

12 I will declare thy righteousness, and thy works; for they shall not profit thee.

13 ¶ When thou criest, let thy companies deliver thee; but the wind shall carry them all away; vanity shall take them: but he that putteth [d]his trust in me shall possess the land, and shall inherit my holy mountain;

14 And shall say, Cast ye up, cast ye up, prepare the way, take up the stumblingblock out of the way of my people.

3. Gentiles.

4. Court ministers.

5. Strong of appetite.

Ch. 57. B. C. 698.

1. In ch. 57 is proclaimed the retribution and death of the many because of ungodliness, although a remnant of the faithful ones shall survive the general judgment and be restored by God.

2. Adultery is a word uniformly used throughout the Old Testament for idolatry because the relation existing between Jehovah and Israel, through the covenant, was a marriage covenant.

3. Meal or food offering.

4. Living.

5. Israel did not want to deny God altogether, therefore they lied to him. He asked them "Why doest thou so? Whom dost thou fear? Certainly it cannot be me, seeing that thou hast not remembered me."

b. If thou turn away thy foot from the sabbath, from doing thy pleasure on my holy day; and call the sabbath a delight, the holy of the Lord, honorable; and shalt honor him, not doing thine own ways, nor finding thine own pleasure, nor speaking thine own words: Then shalt thou delight thyself in the Lord; and I will cause thee to ride upon the high places of the earth, and feed thee with the heritage of Jacob thy father: for the mouth of the Lord hath spoken it. (Is. 58:13, 14.)

c. There was a certain man in Cesarea called Cornelius, a centurion of the band called the Italian band, A devout man, and one that feared God with all his house, which gave much alms to the people, and prayed to God alway. (Acts 10:1, 2.) And some of them believed, and consorted with Paul and Silas; and of the devout Greeks a great multitude, and of the chief women not a few. (Acts 17:4.)

d. Remember the sabbath day, to keep it holy. Six days shalt thou labor, and do all thy work: But the seventh day is the sabbath of the Lord thy God; in it thou shalt not do any work, thou, nor thy son, nor thy daughter, thy man-servant, nor thy maid-servant, nor thy cattle, nor thy stranger that is within thy gates. For in six days the Lord made heaven and earth, the sea, and all that in them is, and rested the seventh day: wherefore the Lord blessed the sabbath day, and hallowed it. (Ex. 20:8-11.) Ye shall keep my sabbaths, and reverence my sanctuary: I am the Lord. (Lev. 26:2.)

e. These things write I unto thee, hoping to come unto thee shortly: But if I tarry long, that thou mayest know how thou oughtest to behave thyself in the house of God, which is the church of the living God, the pillar and ground of the truth. (I Tim. 3:14, 15.)

f. Behold what manner of love the Father hath bestowed upon us, that we should be called the sons of God! therefore the world knoweth us not, because it knew him not. (I Jno. 3:1.)

g. I beseech you therefore, brethren, by the mercies of God, that ye present your bodies a living sacrifice, holy, acceptable unto God, which is your reasonable service. (Rom. 12:1.) Ye also, as lively stones, are built up a spiritual house, an holy priesthood, to offer up spiritual sacrifices, acceptable to God by Jesus Christ. (I Pet. 2:5.)

h. Saying unto them, It is written, My house is the house of prayer: but ye have made it a den of thieves. (Luke 19:46.) For from the rising of the sun, even unto the going down of the same, my name shall be great among the Gentiles; and in every place incense shall be offered unto my name, and a pure offering: for my name shall be great among the heathen, saith the Lord of hosts. (Mal. 1:11.)

i. And other sheep I have, which are not of this fold: them also I must bring, and they shall hear my voice; and there shall be one fold, and one shepherd. (Jno. 10:16.) That in the dispensation of the fulness of times he might gather together in one all things in Christ, both which are in heaven, and which are on earth, even in him. (Eph. 1:10.) For he is our peace, who hath made both one, and hath broken down the middle wall of partition between us; Having abolished in his flesh the enmity, even the law of commandments contained in ordinances; for to make in himself of twain one new man, so making peace; And that he might reconcile both unto God in one body by the cross, having slain the enmity thereby. (Eph. 2:14-16.)

Chapter 57.

a. And I will come near to you to judgment; and I will be a swift witness against the sorcerers, and against the adulterers, and against false swearers, and against those that oppress the hireling in his wages, the widow, and the fatherless, and that turn aside the stranger from his right, and fear not me, saith the Lord of hosts. (Mal. 3:5.)

b. These things hast thou done, and I kept silence; thou thoughtest that I was altogether such an one as thyself: but I will reprove thee, and set them in order before thine eyes. (Ps. 50:21.)

c. And Moses said unto the people, Fear not: for God is come to prove you, and that his fear may be before your faces, that ye sin not. (Ex. 20:20.) Let us hear the conclusion of the whole matter: Fear God, and keep his commandments: for this is the whole duty of man. (Ecc. 12:13.) The fear of the Lord is to hate evil: pride, and arrogancy, and the evil way, and the froward mouth, do I hate. (Prov. 8:13.) By mercy and truth iniquity is purged; and by the fear of the Lord men depart from evil. (Prov. 16:6.)

d. And again, I will put my trust in him. And again, Behold I and the children which God hath given me. (Heb. 2:13.) Let your conversation be without covetousness; and be content with such things as ye have: for he hath said, I will never leave thee, nor forsake thee. So that we may boldly say, The Lord is my helper, and I will not fear what man shall do unto me. (Heb. 13:5, 6.) In God I will praise his word, in God I have put my trust; I will not fear what flesh can do unto me. (Ps. 56:4.) In thee, O Lord, do I put my trust; let me never be put to confusion. Deliver me in thy righteousness, and cause me to escape: incline thine ear unto me, and save me. Be thou my strong habitation, whereunto I may continually resort: thou hast given commandment to save me; for thou art my rock and my fortress. (Ps. 71:1, 3.)

15 For [e]thus saith the high and lofty One that inhabiteth eternity, whose [e]name is Holy; I dwell in the high and holy place, [f]with him also that is of a contrite and humble spirit, to revive the spirit of the humble, and to revive the heart of the contrite ones.

16 [g]For I will not contend for ever, neither will I be always wroth: for the spirit should fail before me, and the souls which I have made.

17 For the iniquity of his [h]covetousness was I wroth, and smote him: I hid me, and was wroth, and he went on frowardly in the way of his heart.

18 I have seen his ways, and will heal him: I will lead him also, and restore comforts unto him and to his mourners.

19 I create [i]the fruit of the lips; Peace, peace to him that is far off, and [j]to him that is near, saith the Lord; and I will heal him.

20 But the [7]wicked are like the troubled [8]sea, when it cannot rest, whose waters cast up mire and dirt.

21 There is no peace, saith my God, to the [8]wicked.

CHAPTER 58.

1 The prophet, being sent to reprove hypocrisy,
3 expresseth a counterfeit fast and a true.
8 He declareth what promises are due unto godliness, 13 and to the keeping of the sabbath.

1 [1]Cry aloud, spare not, lift up thy voice like a trumpet, and shew my people their transgression, and the house of Jā'cob their sins.

2 Yet [a]they seek me daily, and delight to know my ways, as a nation that did [b]righteousness, and forsook [c]not the ordinance of their God: they ask of me the ordinances of justice; they take delight [d]in approaching to God.

3 ¶ Wherefore [e]have we fasted, say they, and thou seest not? wherefore have we afflicted our soul, and thou takest no knowledge? Behold, in the day of your fast ye find pleasure, and exact all your labours.

4 Behold, ye fast for strife and debate, and to smite with the fist of wickedness: ye shall not fast as ye do this day, to make your voice to be heard on high.

5 Is it [f]such a fast that I have chosen? a day for a man to afflict his soul? is it to bow down his head as a bulrush, and to spread sackcloth and ashes under him? wilt thou call this a fast, and an acceptable day to the Lord?

6 Is not this the fast that I have chosen? to loose the bands of wickedness, to undo the heavy burdens, and to let the oppressed go free, and that ye break every yoke?

7 Is it not [g]to [2]deal thy bread to the hungry, and that thou bring the poor that are cast out to thy house? when thou seest the naked, that thou cover him; and that thou hide not thyself from thine own flesh?

8 ¶ Then shall thy [3]light break forth as the morning, and thine health shall spring forth speedily: and thy righteousness shall go before thee; the glory of the Lord shall be thy rereward.

9 Then shalt thou call, and the Lord shall answer; thou shalt cry, and he shall say, Here I am. If thou take away from the midst of thee the yoke, the putting forth of the finger, and speaking vanity;

10 And if thou draw out thy soul to the hungry, and satisfy the afflicted soul; then shall thy light rise in obscurity, and thy darkness be as the noon day:

11 And the Lord shall guide thee continually, and satisfy thy soul in drought, and make fat thy bones: and thou shalt be like a watered garden, and like a spring of water, whose waters fail not.

12 And they that shall be of thee shall build the old waste places: thou shalt raise up the foundations of many generations; and thou shalt be called, The repairer of the breach, The restorer of paths to dwell in.

13 ¶ If [h]thou turn away thy foot from the sabbath, from doing thy pleasure on my holy day; and call the sabbath a delight, the holy of the Lord, honourable; and shalt honour him, not doing thine own ways, nor finding thine own pleasure, nor speaking [i]thine own words:

14 [j]Then shalt thou delight thyself in the Lord; and I will cause thee to ride [k]upon the high places of the earth, and feed thee with the heritage of Jā'cob thy father: for the mouth of the Lord hath spoken it.

CHAPTER 59.

1 The damnable nature of sin. 3 The sins of the Jews. 9 Calamity is for sin. 20 The covenant of the Redeemer.

1 [1]Behold, the Lord's hand is not [a]shortened,

Ch. 58. B. C. 698.

1. No sooner had Jehovah succeeded in largely destroying the direct idol worship than selfrighteous formalism was established and rapidly rose to a withering height. It is strongly condemned in this ch. and the worship which is to take its place enjoined.

2. Distribute.

3. Spiritual light.

Ch. 59. B. C. 698.

1. In ch. 59 the people's great sin is rebuked and they acknowledge it to be the cause of their judgments. In the hour of their extremity the Messiah interposes in their behalf.

6. "For" states the reason for casting up the highways of v. 14.

7. The incorrigible.

8. The symbol of a perpetual disturbance of the soul.

9. Those who have unconditionally selected their lot.

e. Then should I yet have comfort; yea, I would harden myself in sorrow: let him not spare; for I have not concealed the words of the Holy One. (Job 6:10.) For he that is mighty hath done to me great things; and holy is his name. (Luke 1:49.)

f. The Lord is nigh unto them that are of a broken heart; and saveth such as be of a contrite spirit. (Ps. 34:18.) Though the Lord be high, yet hath he respect unto the lowly: but the proud he knoweth afar off. (Ps. 138:6.)

g. Who is a God like unto thee, that pardoneth iniquity, and passeth by the transgression of the remnant of his heritage? he retaineth not his anger for ever, because he delighteth in mercy. (Mic. 7:18.)

h. And they come unto thee as the people cometh, and they sit before thee as my people, and they hear thy words, but they will not do them: for with their mouth they show much love, but their heart goeth after their covetousness. (Ez. 33:31.)

i. By him therefore let us offer the sacrifice of praise to God continually, that is, the fruit of our lips, giving thanks to his name. (Heb. 13:15.)

j. For the promise is unto you, and to your children, and to all that are afar off, even as many as the Lord our God shall call. (Acts 2:39.) And came and preached peace to you which were afar off, and to them that were nigh. (Eph. 2:17.)

Chapter 58.

a. Ask, and it shall be given you; seek, and ye shall find; knock, and it shall be opened unto you. (Mat. 7:7.) And they that know thy name will put their trust in thee: for thou, Lord, hast not forsaken them that seek thee. (Ps. 9:10.) And he went out to meet Asa, and said unto him, Hear ye me, Asa, and all Judah and Benjamin; The Lord is with you, while ye be with him; and if ye seek him, he will be found of you; but if ye forsake him, he will forsake you. (II Chr. 15:2.) I sought the Lord, and he heard me, and delivered me from all my fears. (Ps. 34:4.)

b. Hear ye this, O house of Jacob, which are called by the name of Israel, and are come forth out of the waters of Judah, which swear by the name of the Lord, and make mention of the God of Israel, but not in truth, nor in righteousness. (Is. 48:1.) Will ye steal, murder, and commit adultery, and swear falsely, and burn incense unto Baal, and walk after other gods whom ye know not? And come and stand before me in this house, which is called by my name, and say, We are delivered to do all these abominations? (Jer. 7:9, 10.)

c. Ah sinful nation, a people laden with iniquity, a seed of evildoers, children that are corrupters! They have forsaken the Lord, they have provoked the Holy One of Israel unto anger, they are gone away backward (4). And the destruction of the transgressors and of the sinners shall be together, and they that forsake the Lord shall be consumed. (Is. 1:4, 28.) In transgressing and lying against the Lord, and departing away from our God, speaking oppression and revolt, conceiving and uttering from the heart words of falsehood. (Is. 59:13.)

d. Wherefore the Lord said, Forasmuch as this people draw near me with their mouth, and with their lips do honor me, but have removed their heart far from me, and their fear toward me is taught by the precept of men. (Is. 29:13.) They draw nigh that follow after mischief: they are far from thy law. (Ps. 119:150.) Draw nigh to God, and he will draw nigh to you. Cleanse your hands, ye sinners; and purify your hearts, ye double-minded. (Js. 4:8.)

e. Ye have said, It is vain to serve God; and what profit is it that we have kept his ordinance, and that we have walked mournfully before the Lord of hosts? (Mal. 3:14.)

f. Speak unto all the people of the land, and to the priests, saying, When ye fasted and mourned in the fifth and seventh month, even those seventy years, did ye at all fast unto me, even to me? (Zech. 7:5.)

g. And hath not oppressed any, but hath restored to the debtor his pledge, hath spoiled none by violence, hath given his bread to the hungry, and hath covered the naked with a garment. (Ez. 18:7.) Then all those virgins arose, and trimmed their lamps. (Mat. 25:7.)

h. Remember the sabbath day, to keep it holy. (Ex. 20:8.) Ye shall keep my sabbaths, and reverence my sanctuary: I am the Lord. (Lev. 19:30.) Blessed is the man that doeth this, and the son of man that layeth hold on it; that keepeth the sabbath from polluting it, and keepeth his hand from doing any evil. (Is. 56:2.)

i. But I say unto you, That every idle word that men shall speak, they shall give account thereof in the day of judgment. (Mat. 12:36.)

j. For then shalt thou have thy delight in the Almighty, and shalt lift up thy face unto God. (Job 22:26.)

k. He made him ride on the high places of the earth, that he might eat the increase of the fields; and he made him to suck honey out of the rock, and oil out of the flinty rock. (Dt. 32:13.)

Chapter 59.

a. And the Lord said unto Moses, Is the Lord's hand waxed short? thou shalt see now whether my word shall come to pass unto thee or that it cannot save; neither his ear heavy, that it cannot hear:

2 But your [b]iniquities have separated between you and your God, and your sins have hid his face from you, that he will not hear.

3 For [c]your hands are defiled with blood, and your fingers with iniquity; your lips [d]have spoken lies, your tongue hath muttered perverseness.

4 None calleth for justice, nor [e]any pleadeth for truth: they trust in vanity, and speak lies; [f]they conceive mischief, and bring forth iniquity.

5 They hatch [z]cockatrice' eggs, and weave the spider's web: he that eateth of their eggs dieth, and that which is crushed breaketh out into a viper.

6 Their webs shall not become garments, neither shall they cover themselves with their works: their works are works of iniquity, and the act of violence is in their hands.

7 [g]Their feet run to evil, and they make haste to shed innocent blood: their thoughts are thoughts of iniquity; wasting and destruction are in their paths.

8 The way of peace they know not; and there is no [3]judgment in their goings: [h]they have made them crooked paths: whosoever goeth therein shall not know peace.

9 ¶ [4]Therefore is [5]judgment far from us, neither doth justice overtake us: we wait for light, but behold obscurity; for brightness, but we walk in darkness.

11 We roar all like bears, and mourn sore like doves: we look for judgment, but there is none; for salvation, but it is far off from us.

12 For our transgressions are multiplied before thee, and our sins testify against us: for our transgressions are with us; and as for our iniquities, we know them;

13 In transgressing and lying against the Lord, and departing away from our God, speaking oppression and revolt, conceiving and uttering from the heart words of falsehood.

14 [6]And judgment is turned away backward, and justice standeth afar off: for truth is fallen in the street, and equity cannot enter.

15 Yea, truth faileth; and he that departeth from evil maketh himself a prey: and the Lord saw it, and it displeased him that there was no judgment.

16 ¶ And [j]he saw that there was no man, and wondered that there was no intercessor: therefore his arm brought salvation unto him; and his righteousness, it sustained him.

17 For he [7]put on righteousness as a breastplate, and an helmet of salvation upon his head; and he put on the garments of vengeance for clothing, and was clad with zeal as a cloke.

18 According to their deeds, accordingly he will repay, fury to his adversaries, recompence to his enemies; to the islands he will repay recompence.

19 [k]So shall they [8]fear the name of the Lord from the [9]west, and his glory from the rising of the sun. When the enemy shall come in like a flood, the Spirit of the Lord shall lift up a standard against him.

20 ¶ And [l]the Redeemer shall come to Zĭ'ŏn, and unto them that turn from transgression in Jā'cob, saith the Lord.

21 [m]As for me, this is my covenant with them, saith the Lord; [n]My spirit that is upon thee, and my words which I have put in thy mouth, shall not depart out of thy mouth, nor out of the mouth of thy seed, nor out of the mouth of thy seed's seed, saith the Lord, from henceforth and for ever.

CHAPTER 60.

1 The glory of the church in the abundant access of the Gentiles, 15 and the great blessings after a short affliction.

1 [1]Arise, [2]shine; for thy light is come, and [a]the glory of the Lord is risen upon thee.

2 For, behold, the darkness shall cover the earth, and gross darkness the people: but the Lord shall arise upon thee, and his glory shall be seen upon thee.

3 And the [b]Gĕn'tīleş shall come to thy light, and kings to the brightness of thy rising.

4 Lift up thine eyes round about, and see: all they gather themselves together, they come to thee: thy sons shall come from far, and thy daughters shall be nursed at thy side.

5 Then thou shalt see, and flow together, and thine heart shall fear, and be enlarged; because the abundance of the sea shall be converted unto thee, the forces of the Gĕn'tīleş shall come unto thee.

8. Those at enmity with him.

Ch. 60. B. C. 698.

1. In ch. 60 is proclaimed the glory of the faithful remnant which had been spared through Israel's afflictions and were now to be restored.

2. Addresses to the delivered children of God.

not. (Num. 11:23.) Wherefore, when I came, was there no man? when I called, was there none to answer? Is my hand shortened at all, that it cannot redeem? or have I no power to deliver? behold, at my rebuke I dry up the sea, I make the rivers a wilderness: their fish stinketh, because there is no water, and dieth for thirst. (Is. 50:2.)

b. And when ye spread forth your hands, I will hide mine eyes from you; yea, when ye make many prayers, I will not hear: your hands are full of blood. (Is. 1:15.) Thus saith the Lord, Where is the bill of your mother's divorcement whom I have put away? or which of my creditors is it to whom I have sold you? Behold, for your iniquities have ye sold yourselves, and for your transgressions is your mother put away. (Is. 50:1.)

c. Their feet are swift to shed blood. (Rom. 3:15.) In vain have I smitten your children; they received no correction: your own sword hath devoured your prophets, like a destroying lion (30). Also in thy skirts is found the blood of the souls of the poor innocents: I have not found it by secret search, but upon all these. (Jer. 2:30, 34.) Make a chain; for the land is full of bloody crimes, and the city is full of violence. (Ez. 7:23.) By swearing, and lying, and killing, and stealing, and committing adultery, they break out, and blood toucheth blood. (Hos. 4:2.)

d. Because ye have said, We have made a covenant with death, and with hell are we at agreement; when the overflowing scourge shall pass through, it shall not come unto us: for we have made lies our refuge, and under falsehood have we hid ourselves. (Is. 28:15.) That this is a rebellious people, lying children, children that will not hear the law of the Lord. (Is. 30:9.) See v. 13.

e. And judgment is turned away backward, and justice standeth afar off: for truth is fallen in the street, and equity cannot enter. Yea, truth faileth; and he that departeth from evil maketh himself a prey: and the Lord saw it, and it displeased him that there was no judgment. (Is. 59:14, 15.)

f. They conceive mischief, and bring forth vanity, and their belly prepareth deceit. (Job 15:35.) Behold, he travaileth with iniquity, and hath conceived mischief, and brought forth falsehood. (Ps. 7:14.)

g. For their feet run to evil, and make haste to shed blood. (Prov. 1:16.) A proud look, a lying tongue, and hands that shed innocent blood. (Prov. 6:17.)

h. As for such as turn aside unto their crooked ways, the Lord shall lead them forth with the workers of iniquity: but peace shall be upon Israel. (Ps. 125:5.) Whose ways are crooked, and they froward in their paths. (Prov. 2:15.)

i. And thou shalt grope at noon-day, as the blind gropeth in darkness, and thou shalt not prosper in thy ways: and thou shalt be only oppressed and spoiled evermore, and no man shall save thee. (Dt. 28:29.) They meet with darkness in the day-time, and grope in the noon-day as in the night. (Job 5:14.) And it shall come to pass in that day, saith the Lord God, that I will cause the sun to go down at noon, and I will darken the earth in a clear day. (Amos 8:9.)

j. And I sought for a man among them, that should make up the hedge, and stand in the gap before me for the land, that I should not destroy it; but I found none. Therefore have I poured out mine indignation upon them; I have consumed them with the fire of my wrath: their own way have I recompensed upon their heads, saith the Lord God. (Ez. 22:30, 31.)

k. From the rising of the sun unto the going down of the same the Lord's name is to be praised. (Ps. 113:3.) For from the rising of the sun, even unto the going down of the same, my name shall be great among the Gentiles; and in every place incense shall be offered unto my name, and a pure offering: for my name shall be great among the heathen, saith the Lord of hosts. (Mal. 1:11.)

l. And so all Israel shall be saved: as it is written, There shall come out of Zion the Deliverer, and shall turn away ungodliness from Jacob. (Rom. 11:26.)

m. This is the covenant that I will make with them after those days, saith the Lord, I will put my laws into their hearts, and in their minds will I write them. (Heb. 10:16.)

n. And I will put my Spirit within you, and to cause you to walk in my statutes, and ye shall keep my judgments, and do them. (Ez. 36:37.)

Chapter 60.

a. Wherefore he saith, Awake thou that sleepest, and arise from the dead, and Christ shall give thee light. (Eph. 5:14.) But unto you that fear my name shall the Sun of righteousness arise with healing in his wings; and ye shall go forth, and grow up as calves of the stall. (Mal. 4:2.)

b. And the nations of them which are saved shall walk in the light of it: and the kings of the earth do bring their glory and honor into it. (Rev. 21:24.)

6 The multitude of camels shall cover thee, the dromedaries of Mĭd'ī-an and Ē'phah; all they from Shē'bà shall come: they shall bring gold and incense; and they shall shew forth the praises of the Lord.

7 All the flocks of Kē'dăr shall be gathered together unto thee, the rams of Ne-bā'ioth shall minister unto thee: they shall come up with acceptance on mine altar, and [c]I will glorify the house of my glory.

8 Who are these that fly as a cloud, and as the doves to their windows?

9 Surely the isles shall wait for me, and the ships of Tär'shish first, to bring thy sons from far, their silver and their gold with them, unto [d]the name of the Lord thy God, and to the Holy One of Ĭs'ra-el, because [e]he hath glorified thee.

10 And the sons of [3]strangers shall build up thy walls, and their kings shall minister unto thee: for in my wrath I smote thee, but in my favour have I had mercy on thee.

11 Therefore thy gates shall be open continually; they shall not be shut day nor night; that men may bring unto thee the forces of the Gĕn'tīleş, and that their kings may be brought.

12 For the nation and [f]kingdom that will not serve thee shall perish; yea, those nations shall be utterly wasted.

13 The glory of Lĕb'a-non shall come unto thee, the fir tree, the pine tree, and the box together, to beautify the place [g]of my sanctuary; and I will make the place of my feet glorious.

14 The sons also of them that afflicted thee shall come bending unto thee; and all they that despised thee shall [h]bow themselves down at the soles of thy feet; and they shall call thee, The city of the Lord, The Zī'ŏn of the Holy One of Ĭs'ra-el.

15 Whereas thou hast been forsaken and hated, so that no man went through thee, I will make thee an eternal excellency, a joy of many generations.

16 Thou shalt also suck the milk of the Gĕn'tīleş, and shalt suck the breast of kings: and thou shalt know that I the Lord am thy Saviour and thy Redeemer, the mighty One of Jā'cob.

17 For brass I will bring gold, and for iron I will bring silver, and for wood brass, and for stones iron: I will also make thy officers peace, and thine exactors righteousness.

18 Violence shall no more be heard in thy land, wasting nor destruction within thy borders; but thou shalt call thy walls Salvation, and thy gates Praise.

19 The [i]sun shall be no more thy light by day; neither for brightness shall the moon give light unto thee: but the Lord shall be unto thee an everlasting light, and thy God thy glory.

20 [j]Thy sun shall no more go down; neither shall thy moon withdraw itself: for the Lord shall be thine everlasting light, and the days of thy mourning shall be ended.

21 Thy people also shall be all righteous: they [k]shall inherit the land for ever, the branch of my planting, the work of my hands, that I may be glorified.

22 [l]A little one shall become a thousand, and a small one a strong nation: I the Lord will hasten it in his time.

CHAPTER 61.

1 The office of Christ. 4 The forwardness, 7 and blessings of the faithful.

1 [1]The [a]Spirit of the Lord God is upon [2]me; because the [3]Lord hath anointed me to preach good tidings unto the meek; he hath sent me [b]to bind up the brokenhearted, to proclaim [c]liberty to the captives, and the opening of the prison to them that are bound;

2 To proclaim the acceptable year of the Lord, and the day of [4]vengeance of our God; [d]to comfort all that mourn;

3 To appoint unto them that mourn in Zī'ŏn, to give unto them beauty for ashes, the oil of joy for mourning, the garment of praise for the spirit of heaviness; that they might be called trees of righteousness, the planting of the Lord, [e]that he might be glorified.

4 ¶ And they shall [f]build the old wastes, they shall raise up the former desolations, and they shall repair the waste cities, the desolations of many generations.

5 And strangers shall stand and feed your flocks, and the sons of the alien shall be your plowmen and your vinedressers.

6 But ye shall be named the Priests of the Lord: men shall call you the Ministers of our God: ye shall eat the riches of the Gĕn'tīleş, and in their glory shall ye boast yourselves.

7 ¶ For your shame ye shall have double; and for confusion they shall rejoice in their portion: therefore in their land they shall possess the double: everlasting joy shall be unto them.

8 For I the Lord love judgment, I hate rob-

3. Those of foreign religions who have been converted to the true religion.

Ch. 61. B. C. 698.

1. Beginning with ch. 61 and continuing through the rest of the book is recorded an account of the Messiah's work of mercy and judgment—two of the chief characteristics which shall proclaim his work.

2. This passage was quoted by Jesus, given as his credentials in preaching, in Luke 4:18-21; also in Luke 1:35.

3. Jehovah.

4. Not to be till his second coming. (II Thess. 1:7-9)—"And to you who are troubled rest with us, when the Lord Jesus shall be revealed from heaven with his mighty angels, in flaming fire, taking vengeance on them that know not God, and that obey not the gospel of our Lord Jesus Christ: Who shall be punished with everlasting destruction from the presence of the Lord, and from the glory of his power."

c. And I will shake all nations, and the Desire of all nations shall come: and I will fill this house with glory, saith the Lord of hosts (7). The glory of this latter house shall be greater than of the former, saith the Lord of hosts: and in this place will I give peace, saith the Lord of hosts. (Hag. 2:7, 9.)

d. At that time they shall call Jerusalem the throne of the Lord; and all the nations shall be gathered unto it, to the name of the Lord, to Jerusalem: neither shall they walk any more after the imagination of their evil heart. (Jer. 3:17.)

e. Behold, thou shalt call a nation that thou knowest not, and nations that knew not thee shall run unto thee because of the Lord thy God, and for the Holy One of Israel; for he hath glorified thee. (Is. 55:5.)

f. And whosoever shall fall on this stone shall be broken: but on whomsoever it shall fall, it will grind him to powder. (Mat. 21:44.)

g. Then David the king stood up upon his feet, and said, Hear me, my brethren, and my people: As for me, I had in mine heart to build an house of rest for the ark of the covenant of the Lord, and for the footstool of our God, and had made ready for the building. (I Chr. 28:2.) But ye are come unto mount Zion, and unto the city of the living God, the heavenly Jerusalem, and to an innumerable company of angels. (Heb. 12:22.)

h. Behold, I will make them of the synagogue of Satan, which say they are Jews, and are not, but do lie; behold, I will make them to come and worship before thy feet, and to know that I have loved thee. (Rev. 3:9.)

i. And the city had no need of the sun, neither of the moon, to shine in it: for the glory of God did lighten it, and the Lamb is the light thereof. (Rev. 21:23.) And there shall be no night there, and they need no candle, neither light of the sun; for the Lord God giveth them light: and they shall reign for ever and ever. (Rev. 22:5.)

j. And it shall come to pass in that day, saith the Lord God, that I will cause the sun to go down at noon, and I will darken the earth in the clear day. (Amos 8:9.)

k. But the meek shall inherit the earth; and shall delight themselves in the abundance of peace (11). For such as be blessed of him shall inherit the earth; and they that be cursed of him shall be cut off. (Ps. 37:11, 22.) Blessed are the meek: for they shall inherit the earth. (Mat. 5:5.)

l. Another parable put he forth unto them, saying, The kingdom of heaven is like to a grain of mustard seed, which a man took, and sowed in his field. (Mat. 13:31.)

Chapter 61.

a. And there was delivered unto him the book of the prophet Esaias. And when he had opened the book, he found the place where it was written, The Spirit of the Lord is upon me, because he hath anointed me to preach the Gospel to the poor; he hath sent me to heal the broken-hearted, to preach deliverance to the captives, and recovering of sight to the blind, to set at liberty them that are bruised. (Luke 4:17, 18.)

b. He healeth the broken in heart, and bindeth up their wounds. (Ps. 147:3.)

c. If the Son therefore shall make you free, ye shall be free indeed. (Jno. 8:36.) Now the Lord is that Spirit: and where the Spirit of the Lord is, there is liberty. (II Cor. 3:17.) Stand fast therefore in the liberty wherewith Christ hath made us free, and be not entangled again with the yoke of bondage. (Gal. 5:1.) And they sung a new song, saying, Thou art worthy to take the book, and to open the seals thereof: for thou wast slain, and hast redeemed us to God by thy blood out of every kindred, and tongue, and people, and nation. (Rev. 5:9.)

d. Blessed are they that mourn: for they shall be comforted. (Mat. 5:4.) And our hope of you is stedfast, knowing, that as ye are partakers of the sufferings, so shall ye be also of the consolation. (II Cor. 1:7.) And God shall wipe away all tears from their eyes; and there shall be no more death, neither sorrow, nor crying, neither shall there be any more pain: for the former things are passed away. (Rev. 21:4.)

e. Herein is my Father glorified, that ye bear much fruit; so shall ye be my disciples. (Jno. 15:8.)

f. Thus saith the Lord God; In the day that I shall have cleansed you from all your iniquities, I will also cause you to dwell in the cities, and the wastes shall be builded. (Ez. 36:33.)

bery for burnt offering; and I will direct their work in truth, [g]and I will make an everlasting covenant with them.

9 And their seed shall be known among the Gĕn'tīleş, and their offspring among the people: all that see them shall acknowledge them, that they are the seed which the Lord hath blessed.

10 I will greatly rejoice in the Lord, my soul shall be joyful in my God; for he hath clothed me with the garments of salvation, he hath covered me with the robe of righteousness, as a bridegroom decketh himself with ornaments, and as a bride adorneth herself with her jewels.

11 For as the earth bringeth forth her bud, and as the garden causeth the things that are sown in it to spring forth; so the Lord God will cause [h]righteousness and praise to spring forth before all the nations.

CHAPTER 62.

1 The desire of the prophet to confirm the church in God's promises. 5 The office of the ministers (unto which they are incited) in preaching the gospel, 10 and preparing the people thereto.

1 [1]For Zī'ŏn's sake will I not hold my peace, and for Je-ru sa-lĕm's sake I will not rest, until the righteousness thereof go forth as brightness, and the salvation thereof as a lamp that burneth.

2 And the Gĕn'tīleş shall see thy righteousness, and all kings thy glory: [a]and thou shalt be called by a new name, which the mouth of the Lord shall name.

3 Thou shalt also be a crown of glory in the hand of the Lord, and a royal diadem in the hand of thy God.

4 Thou [b]shalt no more be termed Forsaken; neither shall thy land any more be termed Desolate: but thou shalt be called [2]Hĕph'zī-bah, and thy land [3]Beū'lah: for the Lord delighteth in thee, and thy land shall be married.

5 ¶ For as a young man marrieth a virgin, so shall thy sons marry thee: and as the bridegroom rejoiceth over the bride, so shall thy God rejoice over thee.

6 [c]I have set watchmen upon thy walls, O Je-ru'sa-lĕm, which shall never hold their peace day nor night: ye that make mention of the Lord, keep not silence,

7 And give him no rest, till he establish, and till he make Je-ru'sa-lĕm [d]a praise in the earth.

8 The Lord hath sworn by his right hand, and by the arm of his strength, Surely I will no more give [e]thy corn to be meat for thine enemies; and the sons of the stranger shall not drink thy wine, for the which thou hast laboured:

9 But they that have gathered it shall eat it, and praise the Lord; and they that have brought it together shall drink it [f]in the courts of my holiness.

10 ¶ Go through, go through the gates; prepare ye the way of the people; cast up, cast up the highway; gather out the stones; lift up a standard for the people.

11 Behold, the Lord hath proclaimed unto the end of the world, Say ye to the daughter of Zī'ŏn, Behold, thy salvation cometh; behold, his reward is with him, and his work before him.

12 And they shall call them, The holy people, The redeemed of the Lord; and thou shalt be called, Sought out, A city not forsaken.

Ch. 62. B. C. 698.

2. The name of Hezekiah's wife, a type of Jerusalem as Hezekiah was one of the Messiah.

3. Thou art married.

CHAPTER 63.

1 Christ sheweth who he is, 2 what his victory over his enemies, 7 and what his mercy toward his church. 15 The church in their prayer, 17 and complaint, profess their faith.

1 [1]Who is this that cometh from Ē'dom, with dyed garments from [2]Bŏz'rah? this that is glorious in his apparel, travelling in the greatness of his strength? I that speak in righteousness, mighty to save.

2 Wherefore [a]art thou red in thine apparel, and thy garments like him that treadeth in the [3]winefat?

3 I have [b]trodden the winepress alone; and of the people there was none with me: for I will tread them in mine anger, and trample them in my fury; and their blood shall be sprinkled upon my garments, and I will stain all my raiment.

4 For the day of [4]vengeance is in mine heart, and the year of my redeemer is come.

5 And I looked, and [c]there was none to help; and I wondered that there was none to uphold: therefore mine own arm brought salvation unto me; and my fury, it upheld me.

6 And I will tread down the people in mine anger, and make them drunk in my fury, and I will bring down their strength to the earth.

7 ¶ [5]I will mention the lovingkindnesses of the Lord, and the praises of the Lord, according to all that the Lord hath bestowed on us, and the great goodness toward the house of Ĭs'ra-el, which he hath bestowed on them according to his [d]mercies, and according to the multitude of his lovingkindnesses.

8 For he [e]said, Surely they are my people, children that will not lie: so he was their Saviour.

Ch. 63. B. C. 698.

1. In ch. 63 the Messiah is represented as a returning conqueror who had achieved complete victory over his people's foes. His appearance is in answer to the prayer of his people.

2. A town within the limits of Edom.

3. The winepress.

4. After the second coming. See note 4. ch. 61.

5. From v. 7 to the close of the ch. is recorded the last controversy with Israel, stating her former mercies and sins.

g. Incline your ear, and come unto me: hear, and your soul shall live; and I will make an everlasting covenant with you, even the sure mercies of David. (Is. 55:3.)

h. Truth shall spring out of the earth; and righteousness shall look down from heaven. (Ps. 85:11.) Drop down, ye heavens, from above, and let the skies pour down righteousness: let the earth open, and let them bring forth salvation, and let righteousness spring up together; I the Lord have created it. (Is. 45:8.) For he hath made him to be sin for us, who knew no sin; that we might be made the righteousness of God in him. (II Cor. 5:21.)

Chapter 62.

a. Him that overcometh will I make a pillar in the temple of my God, and he shall go no more out: and I will write upon him the name of my God, and the name of the city of my God, which is new Jerusalem, which cometh down out of heaven from my God: and I will write upon him my new name. (Rev. 3:12.)

b. Which in time past were not a people, but are now the people of God: which had not obtained mercy, but now have obtained mercy. (I Pet. 2:10.)

c. Son of man, I have made thee a watchman unto the house of Israel: therefore hear the word at my mouth, and give them warning from me. (Ez. 3:17.) Thy watchmen shall lift up the voice; with the voice together shall they sing: for they shall see eye to eye, when the Lord shall bring again Zion. (Is. 52:8.)

d. At that time will I bring you again, even in the time that I gather you: for I will make you a name and a praise among all people of the earth, when I turn back your captivity before your eyes, saith the Lord. (Zeph. 3:20.)

e. Thine ox shall be slain before thine eyes, and thou shalt not eat thereof: thine ass shall be violently taken away from before thy face, and shall not be restored to thee: thy sheep shall be given unto thine enemies, and thou shalt have none to rescue them. (Dt. 28:31.) And they shall eat up thine harvest, and thy bread, which thy sons and thy daughters should eat; they shall eat up thy flocks and thine herds; they shall eat up thy vines and thy fig trees; they shall impoverish thy fenced cities, wherein thou trustedst, with the sword. (Jer. 5:17.)

f. And ye shall rejoice before the Lord your God, ye, and your sons, and your daughters, and your men-servants, and your maid-servants, and the Levite that is within your gates; forasmuch as he hath no part nor inheritance with you. (Dt. 12:12.)

Chapter 63.

a. And he was clothed with a vesture dipped in blood: and his name is called The Word of God. (Rev. 19:13.)

b. The Lord hath trodden under foot all my mighty men in the midst of me: he hath called an assembly against me to crush my young men: the Lord hath trodden the virgin, the daughter of Judah, as in a wine-press. (Lam. 1:15.) And out of his mouth goeth a sharp sword, that with it he should smite the nations: and he shall rule them with a rod of iron: and he treadeth the wine-press of the fierceness and wrath of Almighty God. (Rev. 19:15.)

c. Behold, the hour cometh, yea, is now come, that ye shall be scattered, every man to his own, and shall leave me alone: and yet I am not alone, because the Father is with me. (Jno. 16:32.)

d. Hear me when I call, O God of my righteousness: thou hast enlarged me when I was in distress; have mercy upon me, and hear my prayer. (Ps. 4:1.) Hear me, O Lord; for thy loving-kindness is good: turn unto me according to the multitude of thy tender mercies. (Ps. 69:16.) And he remembered for them his covenant, and repented according to the multitude of his mercies. (Ps. 106:45.) Go and proclaim these words toward the north, and say, Return, thou backsliding Israel, saith the Lord; and I will not cause mine anger to fall upon you: for I am merciful, saith the Lord, and I will not keep anger for ever. (Jer. 3:12.) Be ye therefore merciful, as your Father also is merciful. (Luke 6:36.)

9 In [c]all their affliction he was afflicted, [f]and the angel of his presence saved them: [g]in his love and in his pity he redeemed them; and he bare them, and carried them all the days of old.

10 ¶ But they rebelled, and [h]vexed his holy Spirit: therefore he was turned to be their enemy, and he fought against them.

11 Then he remembered the days of old, Mō'ṣeṣ, and his people, saying, Where is he that brought them up out of the sea with the shepherd of his flock? where is he that put his holy Spirit within him?

12 That led them by the right hand of Mō'ṣeṣ with his glorious arm, dividing the water before them, to make himself an everlasting name?

13 That led them through the deep, as an horse in the wilderness, that they should not stumble?

14 As a beast goeth down into the valley, the Spirit of the Lord caused him to rest: so didst thou lead thy people, to make thyself a glorious name.

15 ¶ Look down from heaven, and behold from the habitation of thy holiness and of thy glory: where is thy zeal and thy strength, the sounding of thy bowels and of thy mercies toward me? are they restrained?

16 Doubtless thou art our father, [i]though Ā'brā-hām be ignorant of us, and Īs'ra-el acknowledge us not: thou, O Lord, art our father, our redeemer; thy name is from everlasting.

17 ¶ O Lord, why [j]hast thou made us to err from thy ways, and hardened [k]our heart from thy fear? Return for thy servants' sake, the tribes of thine inheritance.

18 The people of thy holiness have possessed it but a little while: our adversaries have trodden down thy sanctuary.

19 We are thine: thou never barest rule over them; they were not called by thy name.

CHAPTER 64.

1 The church prayeth for the illustration of God's power. 5 Celebrating God's mercy, it maketh confession of their natural corruptions. 9 It complaineth of their affliction.

1 [1]Oh that thou wouldest rend the heavens, that thou wouldest come down, that the mountains might flow down at thy presence,

2 As when the melting fire burneth, the fire causeth the waters to boil, to make thy name known to thine adversaries, that the nations may tremble at thy presence!

3 When thou didst terrible things which we looked not for, thou camest down, the mountains [2]flowed down at thy presence.

4 For since the beginning of the world men [a]have not heard, nor perceived by the ear, neither hath the eye seen, O God, beside thee, what he hath prepared for him that waiteth for him.

5 Thou meetest him that rejoiceth [b]and worketh righteousness, those that remember thee in thy ways: behold, thou art wroth; for we have sinned: in those is continuance, and we shall be saved.

6 But we are all as an [3]unclean thing, and all [c]our righteousnesses are as filthy rags; and we all do fade as a leaf; and our iniquities, like the wind, have taken us away.

7 And there is none that calleth upon thy name, that stirreth up himself to take hold of thee: for thou hast hid thy face from us, and hast consumed us, because of our iniquities.

8 But now, O Lord, thou art our father; we are the clay, [d]and thou our potter; and we all are [e]the work of thy hand.

9 ¶ Be not wroth very sore, O Lord, neither remember iniquity for ever: behold, see, we beseech thee, we are all thy people.

10 Thy holy cities are a wilderness, Zī'ŏn is a wilderness, Je-ru'sa-lĕm a desolation.

11 Our holy and our beautiful house, where our fathers praised thee, is burned up with fire: and all [f]our pleasant things are laid waste.

12 Wilt thou refrain thyself for these things, O Lord? wilt thou hold thy peace, and afflict us very sore?

CHAPTER 65.

1 The calling of the Gentiles. 2 The Jews, for their incredulity, idolatry, and hypocrisy, are rejected. 11 Judgments on the wicked, and blessings on the godly.

1 [1]I [a]am sought [2]of them that asked not for me; I am found [3]of them that sought me not: I said, Behold me, behold me, unto a nation that was not called by my name.

2 I have spread out my hands all the day unto a [4]rebellious people, which walketh in a way that was not good, after their own thoughts;

3 A people that [5]provoketh me to anger continually to my face; [b]that sacrificeth in gardens, and burneth incense upon altars of brick;

4 Which remain among the graves, and lodge in the monuments, which eat swine's flesh, and broth of abominable things is in their vessels;

5 [c]Which say, Stand by thyself, come not

G. Jehovah.

1. In this ch. is recorded Israel's importunate prayer for an illustration of God's power.

2. Trembled, alluding to the giving of the law at Sinai.

3. Legally unclean, as a leper; especially true of Israel at this time, as, through her unbelief, she is cut off from God's judgments, from the congregation of the righteous.

Ch. 65. B. C. 698.

1. Ch. 65 contains God's reply in justification of his dealings with Israel, and a reproof of their misdoings, also a promise of restoration.

2. The Gentiles.

3. Heathens who had found and accepted salvation.

4. The Jews.

5. Offended.

e. And he fell to the earth, and heard a voice saying unto him, Saul, Saul, why persecutest thou me? (Acts 9:4.)

f. And the angel of God, which went before the camp of Israel, removed and went behind them; and the pillar of the cloud went from before their face, and stood behind them. (Ex. 14:19.) And when Peter was come to himself, he said, Now I know of a surety, that the Lord hath sent his angel, and hath delivered me out of the hand of Herod, and from all the expectation of the people of the Jews. (Acts 12:11.) For in him dwelleth all the fulness of the Godhead bodily. (Col. 2:9.)

g. The Lord did not set his love upon you, nor choose you, because ye were more in number than any people; for ye were the fewest of all people. (Dt. 7:7.)

h. And grieve not the Holy Spirit of God, whereby ye are sealed unto the day of redemption. (Eph. 4:30.) Of how much sorer punishment, suppose ye, shall he be thought worthy, who hath trodden under foot the Son of God, and hath counted the blood of the covenant, wherewith he was sanctified, an unholy thing, and hath done despite unto the Spirit of grace? (Heb. 10:29.)

i. There is neither Jew nor Greek, there is neither bond nor free, there is neither male nor female: for ye are all one in Christ Jesus. (Gal. 3:28.)

j. O let me not wander from thy commandments. (Ps. 119:10.)

k. Make the heart of this people fat, and make their ears heavy, and shut their eyes; lest they see with their eyes, and hear with their ears, and understand with their heart, and convert, and be healed. (Is. 6:10.) Therefore hath he mercy on whom he will have mercy, and whom he will he hardeneth. (Rom. 9:18.)

Chapter 64.

a. O how great is thy goodness, which thou hast laid up for them that fear thee; which thou hast wrought for them that trust in thee before the sons of men! (Ps. 31:19.) Eye hath not seen, nor ear heard, neither have entered into the heart of man, the things which God hath prepared for them that love him. (I Cor. 2:9.)

b. But in every nation he that feareth him, and worketh righteousness, is accepted with him. (Acts 10:35.) (For not the hearers of the law are just before God, but the doers of the law shall be justified.) (Rom. 2:13.) For by one Spirit are we all baptized into one body, whether we be Jews or Gentiles, whether we be bond or free; and have been all made to drink into one Spirit. (I Cor. 12:13.)

c. And be found in him, not having mine own righteousness, which is of the law, but that which is through the faith of Christ, the righteousness which is of God by faith. (Phil. 3:9.)

d. O house of Israel, cannot I do with you as this potter? saith the Lord. Behold, as the clay is in the potter's hand, so are ye in mine hand, O house of Israel. (Jer. 18:6.) Nay but, O man, who art thou that repliest against God? Shall the thing formed say to him that formed it, Why hast thou made me thus? (Rom. 9:20.)

e. For we are his workmanship, created in Christ Jesus unto good works, which God hath before ordained that we should walk in them. (Eph. 2:10.)

f. Thus saith the Lord God; Behold, I will profane my sanctuary, the excellency of your strength, the desire of your eyes, and that which your soul pitieth: and your sons and your daughters whom ye have left shall fall by the sword. (Ez. 24:21.)

Chapter 65.

a. I was found of them that sought me not; I was made manifest unto them that asked not after me. (Rom. 10:20.) That at that time ye were without Christ, being aliens from the commonwealth of Israel, and strangers from the covenants of promise, having no hope, and without God in the world. (Eph. 2:12.)

b. To the end that the children of Israel may bring their sacrifices, which they offer in the open field, even that they may bring them unto the Lord, unto the door of the tabernacle of the congregation, unto the priest, and offer them for peace offerings unto the Lord. (Lev. 17:5.)

c. Why eateth your Master with publicans and sinners? (Mat. 9:11.) The Pharisee stood and prayed thus with himself, God, I thank thee, that I am not as other men are, extortioners, unjust, adulterers, or even as this publican. (Luke 18:11.) These be they who separate themselves, sensual, having not the Spirit. (Jude 19.)

near to me; for I am holier than thou. These are a smoke in my nose, a fire that burneth all the day.

6 Behold, [d]it is written before me: I will not keep silence, but will recompense, even recompense into their bosom,

7 Your iniquities, and the iniquities of your fathers together, saith the Lord, which have burned incense upon the mountains, and blasphemed me upon the hills: therefore will I measure their former work into their bosom.

8 ¶ Thus saith the Lord, As the new wine is found in the cluster, and one saith, Destroy it not; for a blessing is in it: so will I do for my servants' sakes, that I may not destroy them all.

9 And I will bring forth a seed out of Jā'cob, and out of Jū'dah an inheritor of my mountains: and mine elect shall inherit it, and my servants shall dwell there.

10 And Shâr'on shall be a fold of flocks, and the valley of Ā'chor a place for the herds to lie down in, for my people that have sought me.

11 ¶ But ye are they that forsake the Lord, that forget my holy [g]mountain, that prepare [e]a table for that troop, and that furnish the drink offering unto that number.

12 Therefore will I [7]number you to the sword, and ye shall all bow down to the slaughter: because when I called, ye did not answer; when I spake, ye did not hear; but did evil before mine eyes, and did choose that wherein I delighted not.

13 Therefore thus saith the Lord God, Behold, my servants shall eat, but ye shall be [8]hungry: behold, my servants shall drink, but ye shall be thirsty: behold, my servants shall rejoice, but ye shall be ashamed.

14 Behold, my servants shall sing for joy of heart, but ye shall cry for sorrow of heart, and shall howl for vexation of spirit.

15 And ye shall leave your name [f]for a curse unto my chosen: for the Lord God shall slay thee, and call his servants by another [9]name:

16 That he who blesseth himself in the earth shall bless himself in the God of truth; and he that sweareth in the earth shall swear by the God of truth; because the former troubles are forgotten, and because they are hid from mine eyes.

17 ¶ For, behold, I create [g]new heavens and a new earth: and the former shall not be remembered, nor come into mind.

18 But be ye glad and rejoice for ever in that which I create: for, behold, I create Je-rū'sa-lĕm a rejoicing, and her people a joy.

19 And I will rejoice in Je-rū'sa-lĕm, and joy in my people: and the [h]voice of weeping shall be no more heard in her, nor the voice of crying.

20 There shall be no more thence an infant of days, nor an old man that hath not filled his days: for the child shall die an hundred years old; but the sinner being an hundred years old shall be accursed.

21 And they shall build houses, and inhabit them; and they shall plant vineyards, and eat the fruit of them.

22 They shall not build, and another inhabit; they shall not plant, and another eat: for as the days of a tree are the days of my people, and mine elect shall long enjoy the work of their hands.

23 They shall not labour in vain, nor bring forth for trouble; for they are the seed of the blessed of the Lord, and their offspring with them.

24 And it shall come to pass, that [i]before they call, I will answer; and while they are yet speaking, I will hear.

25 The wolf and the lamb shall feed together, and the lion shall eat straw like the bullock: [j]and dust [10]shall be the serpent's meat. They shall not hurt nor destroy in all my [k]holy mountain, saith the Lord.

CHAPTER 66.

1 God will be served in humble sincerity. 5 He comforteth the humble with the marvellous generation, 10 and with the gracious benefits of the church. 19 The Gentiles shall have an holy church.

1 [1]Thus saith the Lord, [a]The [2]heaven is my throne, and the earth is my footstool: where is the house that ye build unto me? and where is the place of my rest?

2 For all those things hath mine hand made, and all those things have been, saith the Lord: but to this man will I look, even [b]to him that is poor and of a contrite spirit, and [3]trembleth at my word.

3 He that killeth an ox is as if he slew a man; he that sacrificeth a lamb, as if he cut off a dog's neck; he that offereth an oblation, as if he offered swine's blood; he that burneth incense, as if he blessed an idol. Yea, they have chosen their own ways, and their soul delighteth in their abominations.

4 I also will choose their delusions, and will bring their fears upon them; [c]because when I called, none did answer; when I spake, they did not hear: but they did evil before mine eyes, and chose that in which I delighted not.

5 ¶ Hear the word of the Lord, ye that tremble at his word; Your brethren that [d]hated you, that cast you out for my name's sake, said, [e]Let the Lord be glorified: but he shall appear to our joy, and they shall be ashamed.

6 A voice of noise from the city, a voice from the temple, a voice of the Lord that rendereth recompence to his enemies.

7 Before she travailed, she brought forth; before her pain came, she was delivered of a man child.

8 Who hath heard such a thing? who hath seen such things? Shall the earth be made to bring forth in one day? or shall a nation be

7. Doomed.

8. An allusion to the siege of Jerusalem under Titus, where 1,100,000 are said to have perished by famine.

9. Without distinction to Jew or Gentile, i. e., Christians.

10. An allusion to the first promise. (Gen. 3:14, 15)—"And Jehovah. God, said unto the serpent, Because thou hast done this, cursed art thou above all cattle and above every beast of the field; upon thy belly shalt thou go and dust shalt thou eat all the days of thy life: And I will put enmity between thee and the woman and between thy seed and her seed." It should be here observed that while all human afflictions are constantly blending together in harmony and peace under the rule of the Messiah, the primeval curse upon Satan continues with ever increasing weight until he is finally vanquished, finally biting only the dust in which he writhes.

Ch. 66. B. C. 698.

1. In ch. 66 is proclaimed the full and complete redemption of Zion, embracing the last conflict and perfect deliverance. It is an expressed prophecy of a complete change from the Mosaic dispensation to the Messianic dispensation.

2. A restatement of 1, ch. 6.

3. That is, the spiritual temple of the heart is God's favorite dwelling (Jno. 14:23), though it is not to supplant the outward place of worship. "Jesus answered and said unto him, if a man love me, he will keep my word; and my Father will love him and we will come unto him and make our abode with him."

d. Then they that feared the Lord spake often one to another: and the Lord hearkened, and heard it, and a book of remembrance was written before him for them that feared the Lord, and that thought upon his name. (Mal. 3:16.)

e. Ye cannot drink the cup of the Lord, and the cup of devils: ye cannot be partakers of the Lord's table, and of the table of devils. (I Cor. 10:21.)

f. And it shall come to pass, that as ye were a curse among the heathen, O house of Judah, and house of Israel; so will I save you, and ye shall be a blessing: fear not, but let your hands be strong. (Zech. 8:13.)

g. Nevertheless we, according to his promise, look for new heavens and a new earth, wherein dwelleth righteousness. (II Pet. 3:13.) For as the new heavens, and the new earth, which I will make, shall remain before me, saith the Lord, so shall your seed and your name remain. (Is. 66:22.)

h. For the Lamb which is in the midst of the throne shall feed them, and shall lead them unto living fountains of waters; and God shall wipe away all tears from their eyes. (Rev. 7:17.)

i. Be not ye therefore like unto them: for your Father knoweth what things ye have need of before ye ask him. (Mat. 6:8.)

j. And the Lord God said unto the serpent, Because thou hast done this, thou art cursed above all cattle, and above every beast of the field. (Gen. 3:14.) And the God of peace shall bruise Satan under your feet shortly. (Rom. 16:20.)

k. I am returned unto Zion, and will dwell in the midst of Jerusalem; and Jerusalem shall be called, A city of truth; and the mountain of the Lord of hosts, The holy mountain. (Zech. 8:3.)

Chapter 66.

a. But will God indeed dwell on the earth? Behold, the heaven, and heaven of heavens, cannot contain thee; how much less this house that I have builded! (I Ks. 8:27.)

b. The Lord is nigh unto them that are of a broken heart; and saveth such as be of a contrite spirit. (Ps. 34:18.)

c. Because I have called, and ye refused; I have stretched out my hand, and no man regarded. (Prov. 1:24.) But they refused to hearken, and pulled away the shoulder, and stopped their ears, that they should not hear. (Zech. 7:11.)

d. If the world hate you, ye know that it hated me before it hated you. (Jno. 15:18.) Marvel not, my brethren, if the world hate you. (I Jno. 3:13.) And ye shall be hated of all nations for my name's sake. (Mat. 24:9.)

e. Woe unto them that draw iniquity with cords of vanity, and sin as it were with a cart rope: That say, Let him make speed, and hasten his work, that we may see it: and let the counsel of the Holy One of Israel draw nigh and come, that we may know it! (Is. 5:18, 19.)

born at once? for as soon as Zī'ŏn travailed, she brought forth her children.

9 Shall I bring to the birth, and not cause to bring forth? saith the Lord: shall I cause to bring forth, and shut the womb? saith thy God.

10 Rejoice ye with [4]Je-rụ'sa-lĕm, and be glad with her, all ye that love her: rejoice for joy with her, all ye that mourn for her:

11 That ye may suck, and be satisfied with the breasts of her consolations; that ye may milk out, and be delighted with the abundance of her glory.

12 For thus saith the Lord, Behold, I will extend peace to her like a river, and the glory of the Gĕn'tīleṣ like a flowing stream: then shall ye suck, ye shall be borne upon her sides, and be dandled upon her knees.

13 As one whom his mother comforteth, so will I comfort you; and ye shall be comforted in Je-rụ'sa-lĕm.

14 And when ye see this, your heart shall rejoice, and your bones shall flourish like an herb: and the hand of the Lord shall be known toward his servants, and his indignation toward his enemies.

15 For, [f]behold, the Lord will come with fire, and with his chariots like a whirlwind, to render his anger with fury, and his rebuke with flames of fire.

16 For by fire and by [g]his sword will the Lord plead with all flesh: and the slain of the Lord shall be many.

17 They that sanctify themselves, and purify themselves in the gardens behind one tree in the midst, eating swine's flesh, and the abomination, and the mouse, shall be consumed together, saith the Lord.

18 For I [h]know their works and their thoughts: it shall come, that I will gather all nations and tongues; and they shall come, and see my glory.

19 And I will set a [5]sign among them, and I will send those that [6]escape of them unto the nations, to [7]Tär'shish, [8]Pŭl, and [8]Lŭd, that draw the bow, to [9]Tụ'bal, and [10]Jā'văn, to the isles afar off, that have not heard my fame, neither have seen my glory; [i]and they shall declare my glory among the Gĕn'tīleṣ.

20 And they shall bring all your brethren for an offering unto the Lord out of all nations upon horses, and in chariots, and in litters, and upon mules, and upon swift beasts, to my holy mountain Je-rụ'sa-lĕm, saith the Lord, as the children of Ĭs'ra-el bring an offering in a clean vessel into the house of the Lord.

21 And I will also take of them for [j]priests and for Lē'vītes, saith the Lord.

22 For as the [k]new heavens and the new earth, which I will make, shall remain before me, saith the Lord, so shall your seed and your name remain.

23 And it shall come to pass, that from one new moon to another, and from one sabbath to another, shall all [11]flesh come to worship before me, saith the Lord.

24 And they shall go forth, and look upon the carcases of the men that have transgressed against me: for their worm shall not die, neither shall their fire be quenched; and they shall be an abhorring unto all flesh.

4. Jerusalem is now represented as a mother rejoicing over the birth of a new-born son, the world-embracing Zion.

f. For every battle of the warrior is with confused noise, and garments rolled in blood; but this shall be with burning and fuel of fire. (Is. 9:5.) In flaming fire taking vengeance on them that know not God, and that obey not the gospel of our Lord Jesus Christ. (II Thess. 1:8.)

g. In that day the Lord with his sore and great and strong sword shall punish leviathan the piercing serpent, even leviathan that crooked serpent; and he shall slay the dragon that is in the sea. (Is. 27:1.)

h. For the word of God is quick, and powerful, and sharper than any two-edged sword, piercing even to the dividing asunder of soul and spirit, and of the joints and marrow, and is a discerner of the thoughts and intents of the heart. (Heb. 4:12.) I know thy works, and thy labor, and thy patience, and how thou canst not bear them which are evil: and thou hast tried them which say they are apostles, and are not, and hast found them liars. (Rev. 2:2.)

i. For from the rising of the sun, even unto the going down of the same, my name shall be great among the Gentiles; and in every place incense shall be offered unto my name, and a pure offering: for my name shall be great among the heathen, saith the Lord of hosts. (Mal. 1:11.)

j. But ye are a chosen generation, a royal priesthood, an holy nation, a peculiar people; that ye should show forth the praises of him who hath called you out of darkness into his marvellous light. (I Pet. 2:9.)

k. Nevertheless we, according to his promise, look for new heavens and a new earth, wherein dwelleth righteousness. (II Pet. 3:13.) And I saw a new heaven and a new earth. (Rev. 21:1.) For, behold, I create new heavens, and a new earth: and the former shall not be remembered, nor come into mind. (Is. 65:17.)

THE BOOK OF THE PROPHET JEREMIAH

NOTE.—As Moses appeared at the time of the sunrise of Jewish history, and Solomon at its noonday splendor, whose reign marked the very zenith of the nation, proudly spreading its limits out from the Euphrates to the Red Sea, so Jer. appeared at the sunset, when the once great nation had shrunk to the narrow limits of southern Palestine, in the hilly country of Judea, scarcely 50 miles square. So great the change, that its hope of safety and immunity came no longer from its invincible strength and wonderful resources, but from its insignificance.

The Book of Jer. is two-fold in its purpose: first, prophecies concerning the Jewish people; second, moral and spiritual instructions to keep before them the fact of and the character of the divine administration; and through it all is revealed as a woven thread, the sad refrain of impending calamity and judgment, which the prophet connects with the religious apostasy and moral corruption of the people. The book may be said to divide itself into four parts: (1) The historical, which is presented in the headings of particular prophecies and many incidental allusions, also many direct statements, shedding much light on the life of Jerusalem at this time. Many authorities claim that no other book of the Old Testament, not of itself historical, contains so much valuable historical matter as Jer.; (2) admonitions, embracing gentle reproofs for past faults and friendly cautions to guard against future dangers. It is the prophet's special purpose to awaken the people to a just sense of God and spiritual things, and to cause them to realize how far they had departed from the purity and simplicity of the divine plans. In order to convince them how widely they had departed from God's plans for them and to what depths they had fallen in sin, he drags to life some of their fearful abominations; (3) the mandatory threatening element. In this part of the book are portrayed some of the most terribly vivid and terrific descriptions of future evils which are recorded in the Old Testament; (4) prophecies, embracing promises and encouragement. "The one great truth that casts its glory over the whole picture is the truth of God's faithful covenant with His people. On the dark background of the people's sins the prophet ever seeks to place the glory of the Messianic salvation. And so, 'in that stormy sunset of prophecy, he beholds in spirit the dawn of a brighter and eternal day.'" Jer. seeks to draw the people's mind away from all things external—sacrifices, temples, art and law—back to things inward and real. People spoke much of reform. He would have said, "Break up the fallow ground and sow not among thorns" (Jer. 4:3). "Circumcise yourselves to the Lord and take away the foreskins of your heart" (Jer. 4:4). "O Jerusalem, wash thine heart from wickedness" (Jer. 4:14). Sin is "Stubbornness of the evil heart" (Jer. 7:24). With the prophets, sin is individually universal.

CHAPTER 1.

1 The time, 3 and the calling of Jeremiah. 11 His prophetical visions of an almond rod and a seething pot. 15 His heavy message against Judah. 17 God encourageth him.

1 [1]The words of [2]Jĕr-e-mī'ah the son of Hĭl-kī'ah, of the priests that were in [3]Ăn'a-thŏth in the land of Bĕn'ja-min:

2 To whom [a]the word of the [4]Lord came in the days of [5]Jo-sī'ah the son of Ā'mon king of Jū'dah, in the thirteenth year of his reign.

3 It came also in the days of Je-hoi'a-kim the son of Jo-sī'ah king of Jū'dah, unto the end of the eleventh year of Zĕd-e-kī'ah the son of Jo-sī'ah king of Jū'dah, unto the carrying away of Je-ru'sa-lĕm captive in the fifth month.

4 [6]Then the word of the Lord came unto me, saying,

5 Before I formed thee in the belly I knew thee; and before thou camest forth out of the womb I [b]sanctified thee, and I ordained thee a prophet unto the nations.

6 Then said I, Ah, Lord God! behold, I cannot speak: for I am a child.

7 ¶ But the Lord said unto me, Say not, I am a child: for [c]thou shalt go to all that I shall send thee, and whatsoever I command thee thou shalt speak.

8 Be not afraid of their faces: for [d]I am with thee to deliver [e]thee, saith the Lord.

9 Then the Lord put forth his hand, and touched [f]my mouth. And the Lord said unto me, Behold, I have [g]put my words in thy mouth.

10 See, I have this day set thee over the nations and over the kingdoms, to root out, and [7]to pull down, and to destroy, and to throw down, to build, and to plant.

11 ¶ Moreover the word of the Lord came unto me, saying, Jĕr-e-mī'ah, what seest thou? And I said, I see a rod of an almond tree.

12 Then said the Lord unto me, Thou hast well seen: for I will hasten my word to perform it.

13 And the word of the Lord came unto me the second time, saying, What seest thou? And I said, I see a seething pot; and the face thereof is toward the north.

14 Then the Lord said unto me, Out of the north an evil shall break forth upon all the inhabitants of the land.

15 For, lo, I will call all the families of the kingdoms of the north, saith the Lord; and they shall come, and they shall [h]set every one his throne at the entering of the gates of Je-ru'sa-lĕm, and against all the walls thereof round about, and against all the cities of Jū'dah.

16 And I will [i]utter my judgments against them touching all their wickedness, [j]who have forsaken me, and have burned incense unto other gods, and worshipped the works of their own hands.

17 ¶ Now therefore gird up thy loins, and arise, and speak unto them all that I command thee: be not dismayed at their faces, lest I confound thee before them.

18 For, behold, I have made thee this day a defenced city, and an iron pillar, and brasen walls against the whole land, against the kings of Jū'dah, against the princes thereof, against the priests thereof, and against the people of the land.

19 And they shall fight against thee; but they shall not prevail against thee; [k]for I am with thee, saith the Lord, to deliver thee.

CHAPTER 2.

1 God, having shewed his former kindness, expostulated with the Jews their causeless revolt. 14 They are the causes of their own calamities. 20 The sins of Judah.

1 [1]Moreover the word of the Lord came to me, saying,

2 Go and cry in the ears of Je-ru'sa-lĕm, saying, Thus saith the Lord; I remember thee, the kindness of thy youth, the love of thine espousals, when thou wentest after me in the wilderness, in a land that was not sown.

3 Is'ra-el was holiness unto the Lord, and the firstfruits of his increase: all that devour him shall offend; evil shall come upon them, saith the Lord.

4 [2]Hear ye the word of the Lord, O house of

Ch. 1. B. C. 629.

1. The first three verses constitute a heading for the entire book. The title was probably written by Jer. himself, when he made a collection of his writings for his countrymen to take with them to Babylon.

2. Jer., the great prophet, called to his work when he says himself he was but a child, i. e., in young manhood, presents one of the strongest figures in Jewish history. In his life are found two characteristics of almost opposite import, viz., a heart full of tenderness and sympathy, as sensitive and delicate as a woman's, and a will of the firmness of the rockribbed mountain. In his character are combined the characteristics of both Peter and John—Petine in his quick, sympathetic and courageous actions, Johnian in his simplicity, spirituality and tenderness. He was called among his people at such a period as made it a life and death struggle. Though he was as prompt and courageous in the discharge of his duties as was Jehovah in his commands, of exquisite sensibility, timid and desponding, "he was as fearless when he had to face the whole world as he was cast down and dispirited when alone with God." He has been called "the weeping prophet."

3. A city three miles from Jerusalem.

4. Jehovah, the covenant-name of God.

5. The 16th year of Judah after the separation of Israel.

6. Vs. 4-19. Jer. called to the prophetical office.

7. Because a prophet of evil to his countrymen.

Ch. 2. B. C. 629.

1. In this ch. Jehovah is remonstrating with the Jews, reminding them of their former devotedness and the consequent blessings they received from Jehovah, also warning them not to rely on a heathen nation, as they had done.

2. Vs. 4-13 detail Jehovah's faithfulness and Israel's apostasy.

Ref. Jeremiah. Chapter 1.

a. For the prophecy came not in old time by the will of man: but holy men of God spake as they were moved by the Holy Ghost. (II Pet. 1:21.)

b. But when it pleased God, who separated me from my mother's womb, and called me by his grace, To reveal his Son in me, that I might preach him among the heathen; immediately I conferred not with flesh and blood. (Gal. 1:15, 16.)

c. Teaching them to observe all things whatsoever I have commanded you: and, lo, I am with you alway, even unto the end of the world. Amen. (Mat. 28:20.)

d. So that we may boldly say, The Lord is my helper, and I will not fear what man shall do unto me. (Heb. 13:6.) The Lord is my light and my salvation; whom shall I fear? the Lord is the strength of my life; of whom shall I be afraid? (Ps. 27:1.)

e. Deliver my soul from the sword; my darling from the power of the dog. (Ps. 22:20.) Deliver my soul from the wicked, which is thy sword. (Ps. 17:13.) Deliver me in thy righteousness, and cause me to escape. (Ps. 71:2.) Bow down thine ear to me; deliver me speedily. (Ps. 31:2.)

f. And he laid it upon my mouth, and said, Lo, this hath touched thy lips; and thine iniquity is taken away, and thy sin purged. (Is. 6:7.)

g. And I have put my words in thy mouth, and I have covered thee in the shadow of mine hand, that I may plant the heavens, and lay the foundations of the earth, and say unto Zion, Thou art my people. (Is. 51:16.)

h. Behold, I will send and take Nebuchadnezzar the king of Babylon, my servant, and will set his throne upon these stones that I have hid; and he shall spread his royal pavilion over them. (Jer. 43:10.)

i. And if ye shall despise my statutes, or if your soul abhor my judgments, so that ye will not do all my commandments, but that ye break my covenant, I also will do this unto you. (Lev. 26:15.)

j. The Lord shall send upon thee cursing, vexation, and rebuke, in all that thou settest thine hand unto for to do, until thou be destroyed, and until thou perish quickly; because of the wickedness of thy doings, whereby thou hast forsaken me. (Dt. 28:20.)

k. What shall we then say to these things? If God be for us, who can be against us? (Rom. 8:31.)

Jā'cob, and all the families of the house of Ĭs'ra-el:

5 ¶ Thus saith the Lord, What iniquity have your fathers found in me, that they are gone far from me, and have walked after vanity, and [a]are become vain?

6 Neither said [3]they, Where is the Lord that brought us up out of the land of Ē'gў̆pt, that led us through the wilderness, through a land of deserts and of pits, through a land of drought, and of the shadow of death, through a land that no man passed through, and where no man dwelt?

7 And I brought you into a plentiful country, to eat the fruit thereof and the goodness thereof; but when ye entered, ye defiled my land, and made mine heritage an abomination.

8 The priests said not, Where is the Lord? and they that handle the [b]law knew me not: the pastors also transgressed against me, and the prophets prophesied by Bā'al, and walked after things that do not profit.

9 ¶ Wherefore [c]I will yet [4]plead with you, saith the Lord, and with your children's children will I plead.

10 For pass over the isles of Chĭt'tim, and see; and send unto Kē'dăr, and consider diligently, and see if there be such a thing.

11 [d]Hath a nation changed their gods, which are yet no gods? but my people have changed their glory for that which doth not profit.

12 Be astonished, O ye heavens, at this, and be horribly afraid, be ye very desolate, saith the Lord.

13 For my people have committed two evils; they have forsaken me the [e]fountain of living waters, and hewed them out cisterns, broken cisterns, that can hold no water.

14 ¶ [5]Is Ĭs'ra-el a servant? is he a home-born slave? why is he spoiled?

15 The young [6]lions roared upon him, and yelled, and they made his land waste: his cities are burned without inhabitant.

16 Also the children of Nōph [7]and Ta-hăp'a-nēs have broken the crown of thy head.

17 Hast thou not procured this unto thyself, in that thou hast forsaken the Lord thy God, when he led thee by the way?

18 And now what hast thou to do [f]in the way of Ē'gў̆pt, to drink the waters of Sī'hor? or what hast thou to do in the way of Ās-sў̆r'ĭ-â, to drink the waters of the [8]river?

19 Thine own wickedness shall correct thee, and thy backslidings shall reprove thee: know therefore and see that it is an evil thing and bitter, that thou hast forsaken the Lord thy God, and that my fear is not in thee, saith the Lord God of hosts.

20 ¶ [9]For of old [10]time I have broken thy yoke, and burst thy bands; and [g]thou saidst, I will not transgress; when upon every high hill and under every green tree thou wanderest, playing the harlot.

21 Yet I had [h]planted thee a noble vine, wholly a right seed: how then art thou turned into the degenerate plant of a strange vine unto me?

22 For though thou wash thee with [11]nitre, and take thee much [12]sope, yet thine iniquity is marked before me, saith the Lord God.

23 [i]How canst thou say, I am not polluted, I have not gone after Bā'al-ĭm? see thy way in the valley, know what thou hast done: thou art a swift dromedary traversing her ways;

24 A [13]wild ass used to the wilderness, that snuffeth up the wind at her pleasure; in her occasion who can turn her away? all they that seek her will not weary themselves; in her month they shall find her.

25 Withhold thy foot from being unshod, and thy throat from thirst: but thou saidst, There is no hope: no; for I have loved strangers, and after them will I go.

26 As the thief is ashamed when he is found, so is the house of Ĭs'ra-el ashamed; they, their kings, their princes, and their priests, and their prophets.

27 Saying to a stock, Thou art my father; and to a stone, Thou hast brought me forth: for they have turned their back unto me, and not their face: but in the time of their [j]trouble they will say, Arise, and save us.

28 But [k]where are thy gods that thou hast made thee? let them arise, if they can save thee in the time of thy [l]trouble: for according to the number of thy cities are thy gods, O Jū'dah.

29 [14]Wherefore will ye plead with me? ye all have transgressed against me, saith the Lord.

30 In vain have I smitten your children; they received no correction: your own sword hath devoured [m]your prophets, like a destroying lion.

31 ¶ O generation, see ye the word of the Lord. Have I been a wilderness unto Ĭs'ra-el? a land of darkness? wherefore say my people, We are lords; we will come no more unto thee?

32 Can a maid forget her ornaments, or a bride her attire? yet my people [n]have forgotten me days without number.

33 Why trimmest thou thy way to seek love? therefore hast thou also taught the wicked ones thy ways.

34 Also in thy skirts is found [o]the blood of the souls of the poor innocents: I have not found it by secret search, but upon all these.

35 Yet thou sayest, Because I am innocent, surely his anger shall turn from me. Behold, I will plead with thee, [p]because thou sayest, I have not sinned.

36 Why gaddest thou about so much to

h. Thou hast brought a vine out of Egypt: thou hast cast out the heathen, and planted it. (Ps. 80:8.) There was a certain householder, which planted a vineyard, and hedged it round about, and digged a wine-press in it, and built a tower, and let it out to husbandmen, and went into a far country. (Mat. 21:33.)

i. There is a generation that are pure in their own eyes, and yet is not washed from their filthiness. (Prov. 30:12.)

j. We have sinned against thee, both because we have forsaken our God, and also served Baalim. (Jud. 10:10.)

k. Where are their gods, their rock in whom they trusted? (Dt. 32:37.)

l. Assemble yourselves and come; draw near together, ye that are escaped of the nations: they have no knowledge that set up the wood of their graven image, and pray unto a god that cannot save. (Is. 45:20.)

m. Woe unto you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites! because ye build the tombs of the prophets, and garnish the sepulchres of the righteous, And say, If we had been in the days of our fathers, we would not have been partakers with them in the blood of the prophets. (Mat. 23:29, 30.) Which of the prophets have not your fathers persecuted? and they have slain them which showed before of the coming of the Just One; of whom ye have been now the betrayers and murderers. (Acts 7:52.)

n. For Israel hath forgotten his Maker, and buildeth temples; and Judah hath multiplied fenced cities: but I will send a fire upon his cities, and it shall devour the palaces thereof. (Hos. 8:14.)

o. Yea, they sacrificed their sons and their daughters unto devils. And shed innocent blood, even the blood of their sons and of their daughters, whom they sacrificed unto the idols of Canaan: and the land was polluted with blood. (Ps. 106:37, 38.)

change thy way? thou also shalt be ashamed of Ē'gўpt, as thou wast ashamed of Ăs-sўr'ĭ-ȧ.

37 Yea, thou shalt go forth from him, and thine hands upon thine head: for the Lord hath rejected thy confidences, and thou shalt not prosper in them.

CHAPTER 3.

1 God's great mercy in Judah's vile whoredom. 6 Judah is worse than Israel. 12 The promises of the gospel to the penitent. 20 Israel reproved, and called by God, maketh a solemn confession of their sins.

1 [1]They say, If a man put away his wife, and she go from him, and become another man's, [a]shall he return unto her again? shall not that land be greatly polluted? but thou hast played the harlot with many lovers; yet return again to me, saith the Lord.

2 Lift up thine eyes unto the [b]high places, and see where thou hast not been lien with. In the ways hast thou sat for them, as the A-rā'bĭ-an in the wilderness; and thou hast polluted the land with thy whoredoms and with thy wickedness.

3 Therefore the [c]showers have been withholden, and there hath been no latter rain; and thou hadst a [d]whore's forehead, thou refusedst to be ashamed.

4 Wilt thou not from this time cry unto me, My father, thou art the guide of my youth?

5 Will he [e]reserve his anger for ever? will he keep it to the end? Behold, thou hast spoken and done evil things as thou couldest.

6 ¶ [2]The Lord said also unto me in the days of Jo-sī'ah the king, Hast thou seen that which [3]backsliding Ĭs'ra-el hath done? she is gone up upon every high mountain and under every green tree, and there hath played the harlot.

7 [f]And I said after she had done all these things, Turn thou unto me. But she returned not. And her [4]treacherous sister Jū'dah saw it.

8 And I saw, when for all the causes whereby backsliding Ĭs'ra-el committed adultery I had put her away, and given her a bill of divorce; yet her treacherous sister Jū'dah feared not, but went and played the harlot also.

9 And it came to pass through the lightness of her whoredom, that she defiled the land, and committed adultery with stones and with stocks.

10 And yet for all this her treacherous sister Jū'dah hath not turned unto me with her whole heart, but feignedly, saith the Lord.

11 [5]And the Lord said unto me, The backsliding Ĭs'ra-el hath justified herself more than [4]treacherous Jū'dah.

Ch. 3. B. C. 629-612.

1. Vs. 1-5, Israel's sin and punishment.

2. Vs. 6-10, Judah persists in following Israel.

3. That is, nearly a hundred years ago, Israel did as Judah is now doing, and she now ceases to exist as a kingdom.

4. Faithless.

5. Vs. 11-18, the call to return.

6. This passage is one of the sublimest in its reflection of the divine tenderness in the Old Testament. In spite of the faithlessness of his people, God remembers his covenant with them and, in his compassion, turns suppliant himself and pleads with them to return.

7. Though but one or two Israelites were in a foreign city, they should be remembered and restored; so in his spiritual kingdom, God gathers single converts and loses not one. (Mat. 18:14)—"Even so it is not the will of your Father which is in heaven that one of these little ones should perish."

8. That is, they shall not seek the symbol because they have the reality.

9. Vs. 19-25 detail the conditions upon which the restoration will be made.

10. Just.

12 ¶ Go and proclaim these words toward the north, and say, Return, thou [g]backsliding Ĭs'ra-el, saith the Lord; and I will not cause mine anger to fall upon you: for I am merciful, saith the Lord, and I will not keep anger for ever.

13 [h]Only acknowledge thine iniquity, that thou hast transgressed against the Lord thy God, and hast scattered thy ways to the strangers under every green tree, and ye have not obeyed my voice, saith the Lord.

14 Turn, O backsliding children, saith the Lord; for I am [6]married unto you: and I will take you [7]one of a city, and two [7]of a family, and I will bring you to Zī'ŏn:

15 And I will give you pastors according to mine heart, which shall [i]feed you with knowledge and understanding.

16 And it shall come to pass, when ye be multiplied and increased in the land, in those days, saith the Lord, [j]they shall say no more, The [8]ark of the covenant of the Lord: neither shall it come to mind: neither shall they remember it; neither shall they visit it; neither shall that be done any more.

17 At that time they shall call Je-rў'sa-lĕm the throne of the Lord; and all the nations shall be gathered unto it, to the name of the Lord, to Je-rў'sa-lĕm: neither shall they walk any more after the imagination of their evil heart.

18 In those days the house of Jū'dah shall walk with the house of Ĭs'ra-el, and they shall come together out of the land of the north to the land that I have given for an inheritance unto your fathers.

19 [9]But I said, How shall I put thee among the children, and give thee a pleasant land, a goodly heritage of the hosts of nations? and I said, Thou shalt call me, My father; and shalt not turn away from me.

20 ¶ Surely [10]as a wife treacherously departeth from her husband, so have ye dealt treacherously with me, O house of Ĭs'ra-el, saith the Lord.

21 A voice was heard upon the high places, weeping and supplications of the children of Ĭs'ra-el: for they have perverted their way, and they have forgotten the Lord their God.

22 Return, ye backsliding children, and I [k]will heal your backslidings. Behold, we come unto thee; for thou art the Lord our God.

23 Truly in vain is salvation hoped for from the hills, and from the multitude of mountains: truly in the Lord our God is the salvation of Ĭs'ra-el.

24 [l]For shame hath devoured the labour of

Chapter 3.

a. Her former husband, which sent her away, may not take her again to be his wife, after that she is defiled; for that is abomination before the Lord: and thou shalt not cause the land to sin, which the Lord thy God giveth thee for an inheritance. (Dt. 24:4.)

b. Ye shall utterly destroy all the places wherein the nations which ye shall possess served their gods, upon the high mountains, and upon the hills, and under every green tree. (Dt. 12:2.)

c. And I will break the pride of your power; and I will make your heaven as iron, and your earth as brass. (Lev. 26:19.) For thus saith the Lord to the men of Judah and Jerusalem, Break up your fallow ground, and sow not among thorns. Circumcise yourselves to the Lord, and take away the foreskins of your heart, ye men of Judah and inhabitants of Jerusalem; lest my fury come forth like fire, and burn that none can quench it, because of the evil of your doings. Declare ye in Judah, and publish in Jerusalem; and say, Blow ye the trumpet in the land: cry, gather together, and say, Assemble yourselves, and let us go into the defenced cities. Set up the standard toward Zion: retire, stay not; for I will bring evil from the north, and a great destruction. (Jer. 4:3-6.)

d. But the house of Israel will not hearken unto thee; for they will not hearken unto me: for all the house of Israel are impudent and hard-hearted. Behold, I have made thy face strong against their faces, and thy forehead strong against their foreheads. (Ez. 3:7, 8.) Were they ashamed when they had committed abomination? nay, they were not at all ashamed, neither could they blush: therefore they shall fall among them that fall: at the time that I visit them they shall be cast down, saith the Lord. (Jer. 6:15.)

e. He will not always chide; neither will he keep his anger for ever. (Ps. 103:9.) For I will not contend for ever, neither will I be always wroth. (Is. 57:16.) See v. 12.

f. Turn ye from your evil ways, and keep my commandments and my statutes, according to all the law which I commanded your fathers, and which I sent to you by my servants the prophets. (II Ks. 17:13.)

g. As I live, saith the Lord God, I have no pleasure in the death of the wicked; but that the wicked turn from his way and live: turn ye, turn ye, from your evil ways; for why will ye die, O house of Israel? (Ez. 33:11.)

h. If we confess our sins, he is faithful and just to forgive us our sins, and to cleanse us from all unrighteousness. (Jno. 1:9.) And it shall come to pass, when all these things are come upon thee, the blessings and the curse, which I have set before thee, and thou shalt call them to mind among all the nations whither the Lord thy God hath driven thee, And shalt return unto the Lord thy God, and shalt obey his voice, according to all that I command thee this day, thou and thy children, with all thine heart, and with all thy soul; That then the Lord thy God will turn thy captivity, and have compassion upon thee, and will return and gather thee from all the nations, whither the Lord thy God hath scattered thee. (Dt. 30:1-3.) We acknowledge, O Lord, our wickedness, and the iniquity of our fathers: for we have sinned against thee. (Jer. 14:20.)

i. Take heed therefore unto yourselves, and to all the flock over the which the Holy Ghost hath made you overseers, to feed the church of God, which he hath purchased with his own blood. (Acts 20:28.)

j. Jesus saith unto her, Woman, believe me, the hour cometh, when ye shall neither in this mountain, nor yet at Jerusalem, worship the Father (21). God is a Spirit: and they that worship him must worship him in spirit and in truth. (Jno. 4:21, 24.)

k. Come, and let us return unto the Lord: for he hath torn, and he will heal us; he hath smitten, and he will bind us up. (Hos. 6:1.) I will heal their backsliding, I will love them freely; for mine anger is turned away from him. (Hos. 14:4.) For I will restore health unto thee, and I will heal thee of thy wounds, saith the Lord. (Jer. 30:17.)

l. I found Israel like grapes in the wilderness; I saw your fathers our fathers from our youth; their flocks and their herds, their sons and their daughters.

25 We lie down in our shame, and our confusion covereth us: for we have sinned against the Lord our God, we and our fathers, from our youth even unto this day, and have not obeyed the voice of the Lord our God.

CHAPTER 4.

1 God calleth Israel by his promise. 3 He exhorteth Judah to repentance by fearful judgments.

1 [1]If thou wilt return, O Is'ra-el, saith the Lord, [a]return unto me: and if thou wilt put away thine abominations out of my sight, then shalt thou not remove.

2 And thou [b]shalt swear, The Lord liveth, in truth, in judgment, and in righteousness; and the nations shall [c]bless themselves in him, and in him shall they glory.

3 ¶ For thus saith the Lord to the men of Jū'dah and Je-rū'sa-lĕm, Break [d]up your fallow [2]ground, and sow not among thorns.

4 [3]Circumcise [e]yourselves to the Lord, and take away the foreskins of your heart, ye men of Jū'dah and inhabitants of Je-rū'sa-lĕm: lest my fury [4]come forth like fire, and burn that none can quench it, because of the evil of your doings.

5 Declare ye in Jū'dah, and publish in Je-rū'sa-lĕm; and say, Blow ye the trumpet in the land: cry, gather together, and say, Assemble yourselves, and let us go into the defenced cities.

6 Set up the standard toward Zī'ŏn: retire, stay not: for I will bring evil from the north, and a great destruction.

7 The lion is come up from his thicket, and the destroyer of the Gĕn'tīleṣ is on his way; he is gone forth from his place to make thy land desolate; and thy cities shall be laid waste, without an inhabitant.

8 For this gird you with sackcloth, lament and howl: for the fierce anger of the Lord is not turned back from us.

9 And it shall come to pass at that day, saith the Lord, that the heart of the king shall perish, and the heart of the princes; and the priests shall be astonished, and the prophets shall wonder.

10 Then said I, Ah, Lord God! surely thou [f]hast greatly deceived this people and Je-rū'sa-lĕm, saying, Ye shall have peace; whereas the sword reacheth unto the soul.

11 At that time shall it be said to this people and to Je-rū'sa-lĕm, A [5]dry wind of the high places in the wilderness toward the daughter of my people, not to fan, nor to cleanse, 12 Even a full wind from those places shall come unto me: now also will I give sentence against them.

13 Behold, he shall come up as clouds, and his chariots shall be as a whirlwind: his horses are swifter than eagles. Woe unto us! for we are spoiled.

Ch. 4. B. C. 612.

1. In vs. 1-18 is recorded the call to Israel to return. It is unfortunate that a ch. division is made here, as ch. 4 is really a continuation of ch. 3. Vs. 1 and 2 of this ch. are the words of Jehovah answering the 25th verse of ch. 3 and must be read in this connection to be appreciated.

2. That is, enter upon a new life, prepare the soil of your hearts, that the seeds of repentance may fall upon good ground and not among thorns. (Mat. 13:7, 8)—"And some fell among thorns; and the thorns sprung up and choked them; but others fell into good ground and brought forth fruit, some 100 fold, some 60 fold, some 30 fold."

3. A call to entire consecration.

4. Sin is a fuel which will surely be ignited by the divine fury and become a consuming fire.

5. A hot wind, that is, the simoon.

6. Vs. 19-31 record the lament for the coming desolation and ruin.

14 O Je-rū'sa-lĕm, wash thine heart from wickedness, that thou mayest be saved. How long shall thy vain thoughts lodge within thee?

15 For a voice declareth from Dăn, and publisheth affliction from mount E'phrā-ĭm.

16 Make ye mention to the nations; behold, publish against Je-rū'sa-lĕm, that watchers come from a far country, and give out their voice against the cities of Jū'dah.

17 As keepers of a field, are they against her round about; because she hath been rebellious against me, saith the Lord.

18 Thy way and thy doings have procured these things unto thee; this is thy wickedness, because it is bitter, because it reacheth unto thine heart.

19 ¶ [6]My bowels, my bowels! I am pained at my very heart; my heart maketh a noise in me; I cannot hold my peace, because thou hast heard, O my soul, the sound of the trumpet, the alarm of war.

20 Destruction upon destruction is cried; for the whole land is spoiled: suddenly are my tents spoiled, and my curtains in a moment.

21 How long shall I see the standard, and hear the sound of the trumpet?

22 For my people is foolish, they have not known me; they are sottish children, and they have none understanding: they are wise to do evil, but to do good they have no knowledge.

23 I beheld the earth, and, lo, it was without form, and void; and the heavens, and they had no light.

24 I beheld the mountains, and, lo, they trembled, and all the hills moved lightly.

25 I beheld, and, lo, there was no man, and [g]all the birds of the heavens were fled.

26 I beheld, and, lo, the fruitful place was a wilderness, and all the cities thereof were broken down at the presence of the Lord, and by his fierce anger.

27 For thus hath the Lord said, The whole land shall be desolate; yet will I not make a full end.

28 For this [h]shall the earth mourn, and the heavens above be black: because I have spoken it, I have purposed it, and will not repent, neither will I turn back [i]from it.

29 The [j]whole city shall flee for the noise of the horsemen and bowmen; they shall go into thickets, and climb up upon the rocks: every city shall be forsaken, and not a man dwell therein.

30 And when thou art spoiled, what wilt thou do? Though thou clothest thyself with crimson, though thou deckest thee with ornaments of gold, though thou rentest thy face with painting, in vain shalt thou make thyself fair; thy [k]lovers will despise thee, they will seek thy life.

31 For I have heard a voice as of a woman in travail, and the anguish as of her that bringeth forth her first child, the voice of the daughter of Zī'ŏn, that bewaileth herself, that spreadeth her hands, saying, Woe is me now! for my soul is wearied because of murderers.

as the first-ripe in the fig tree at her first time: but they went to Baal-peor, and separated themselves unto that shame; and their abominations were according as they loved. (Hos. 9:10.)

Chapter 4.

a. Therefore also now, saith the Lord, Turn ye even to me with all your heart, and with fasting, and with weeping, and with mourning. (Joel 2:12.)

b. Thou shalt fear the Lord thy God; him shalt thou serve, and to him shalt thou cleave, and swear by his name. (Dt. 10:20.) And I will bring them, and they shall dwell in the midst of Jerusalem; and they shall be my people, and I will be their God, in truth and in righteousness. (Zech. 8:8.)

c. And the scripture, foreseeing that God would justify the heathen through faith, preached before the gospel unto Abraham, saying, In thee shall all nations be blessed. (Gal. 3:8.)

d. Sow to yourselves in righteousness, reap in mercy; break up your fallow ground: for it is time to seek the Lord, till he come and rain righteousness upon you. (Hos. 10:12.)

e. In whom also ye are circumcised with the circumcision made without hands, in putting off the body of the sins of the flesh by the circumcision of Christ. (Col. 2:11.)

f. And for this cause God shall send them strong delusion, that they should believe a lie. (II Thess. 2:11.) And if the prophet be deceived when he hath spoken a thing, I the Lord have deceived that prophet; and I will stretch out my hand upon him, and will destroy him from the midst of my people Israel. (Ez. 14:9.) For many shall come in my name, saying, I am Christ; and shall deceive many. (Mat. 24:5.)

g. I will consume man and beast; I will consume the fowls of the heaven, and the fishes of the sea, and the stumblingblocks with the wicked; and I will cut off man from off the land, saith the Lord. (Zeph. 1:3.)

h. Therefore shall the land mourn, and every one that dwelleth therein shall languish, with the beasts of the field, and with the fowls of heaven; yea, the fishes of the sea also shall be taken away. (Hos. 4:3.) I clothe the heavens with blackness, and I make sackcloth their covering. (Is. 50:3.)

i. God is not a man, that he should lie; neither the son of man, that he should repent: hath he said, and shall he not do it? or hath he spoken, and shall he not make it good? (Num. 23:19.)

j. And the city was broken up, and all the men of war fled by night by the way of the gate between two walls, which is by the king's garden; and the king went the way toward the plain. (II Ks. 25:4.)

k. She weepeth sore in the night, and her tears are on her cheeks:

CHAPTER 5.

1 The judgments of God upon the Jews, for their perverseness, 7 for their adultery, 10 for their impiety, 19 for their contempt of God, 25 and for their great corruption.

1 [1]Run ye to and fro through the streets of Je-ru'sa-lĕm, and see now, and know, and seek in the broad places thereof, [a]if ye can find [2]a man, if there be any that executeth judgment, that seeketh the [3]truth; and I will pardon it.

2 And [b]though they say, The Lord liveth; surely they swear falsely.

3 O Lord, are not [c]thine eyes upon the truth? thou hast stricken them, but they have not grieved; thou hast consumed them, but [d]they have refused to receive correction: they have made their faces harder than a rock; they have refused to return.

4 Therefore I said, Surely these are poor; they are foolish: for [e]they know not the way of the Lord, nor the judgment of their God.

5 I will get me unto the great men, and will speak unto them; for they have known the way of the Lord, and the [4]judgment of their God: but these have altogether broken the yoke, and burst the bonds.

6 Wherefore a [5]lion out of the forest shall slay them, and a [5]wolf of the [6]evenings shall spoil them, a [5]leopard shall watch over their cities: every one that goeth out thence shall be torn in pieces: because their transgressions are many, and their backslidings are increased.

7 ¶ [7]How shall I pardon thee for this? thy children have forsaken me, and [f]sworn by them that are [g]no gods: when I had fed them to the full, they then committed adultery, and assembled themselves by troops in the [8]harlots' houses.

8 They were as fed horses in the morning: every one [9]neighed after his neighbour's wife.

9 Shall I not visit for these things? saith the Lord: [h]and shall not my soul be avenged on such a nation as this?

10 ¶ Go ye up upon her walls, and destroy; but make not a full end: take away her battlements; for they are not the Lord's.

11 [10]For the house of Is'ra-el and the house of Jū'dah have dealt very treacherously against me, saith the Lord.

12 [i]They have [11]belied the Lord, and said, It is not he; neither shall evil come upon us; neither shall we see sword nor famine:

13 And the prophets shall become wind, and the word is not in them: thus shall it be done unto them.

14 Wherefore thus saith the Lord God of hosts, Because ye speak this word, [j]behold, I will make my words in thy mouth [12]fire, and this people wood, and it shall devour them.

Ch. 5. B. C. 612.

1. In ch. 5 the cause of the judgments is proclaimed to be the universal corruption of the people. In vs. 1-10 universal corruption is declared to make pardon impossible.

2. A godly man.

3. The truth of character.

4. Justice.

5. A detailing of the curse denounced in Lev. 26:22 —"I will also send wild beasts among you."

6. Plains.

7. Why?

8. An expression symbolizing both carnal and spiritual uncleanness.

9. Inflamed with lust.

10. In vs. 11-18 it is declared that God's word by his prophets shall be fulfilled in punishment.

11. Denied.

12. Like fire in its devouring energy.

13. Judah, which now represents the true Israel of God.

14. In vs. 19-31 it is declared that the obstinacy of Judah will call ruin down upon her.

15. The penalty shall be in keeping with the sin.

15 Lo, I will bring a nation upon you from far, O house of [13]Is'ra-el, saith the Lord: it is a mighty nation, it is an ancient nation, a nation whose language thou knowest not, neither understandest what they say.

16 Their quiver is as an open sepulchre, they are all mighty men.

17 And they shall eat up thine harvest, and thy bread, which thy sons and thy daughters should eat: they shall eat up thy flocks and thine herds: they shall eat up thy vines and thy fig trees: they shall impoverish thy fenced cities, wherein thou trustedst, with the sword.

18 Nevertheless in those days, saith the Lord, I will not make a full end with you.

19 ¶ [14]And it shall come to pass, when ye shall say, Wherefore doeth the Lord our God all these things unto us? then shalt thou answer them, [15]Like as ye have forsaken me, and served strange gods in your land, so [k]shall ye serve strangers in a land that is not your's.

20 Declare this in the house of Jā'cob, and publish it in Jū'dah, saying,

21 Hear now this, O [l]foolish people, and without understanding; which have eyes, and see not; which have ears, and hear not:

22 Fear ye not me? saith the Lord: will ye not tremble at my presence, which have placed the sand for the bound of the sea by a perpetual decree, that it cannot pass it: and though the waves thereof toss themselves, yet can they not prevail; though they roar, yet can they not pass over it?

23 But this people hath a revolting and a rebellious heart; they are revolted and gone.

24 Neither say they in their heart, Let us now fear the Lord our God, that giveth [m]rain, both the former and the latter, in his season: he reserveth unto us the appointed weeks of the harvest.

25 ¶ Your iniquities have turned away these things, and your sins have withholden good things from you.

26 For among my people are found wicked men: they lay wait, as he that setteth snares; they set a trap, they catch men.

27 As a cage is full of birds, so are their houses full of deceit: therefore they are become great, and waxen rich.

28 They are waxen fat, they shine: yea, they overpass the deeds of the wicked: they judge not the cause, the cause of the fatherless, yet they prosper; and the right of the needy do they not judge.

29 [n]Shall I not visit for these things? saith the Lord: shall not my soul be avenged on such a nation as this?

30 ¶ A wonderful and horrible thing is committed in the land; among all her lovers she hath none to comfort her: all her friends have dealt treacherously with her, they are become her enemies. (Lam. 1:2.)

Chapter 5.

a. And I sought for a man among them, that should make up the hedge, and stand in the gap before me for the land, that I should not destroy it; but I found none. (Ez. 22:30.)

b. They profess that they know God; but in works they deny him, being abominable, and disobedient, and unto every good work reprobate. (Tit. 1:16.) Hear ye this, O house of Jacob, which are called by the name of Israel, and are come forth out of the waters of Judah, which swear by the name of the Lord, and make mention of the God of Israel, but not in truth, nor in righteousness. (Is. 48:1.) And yet for all this her treacherous sister Judah hath not turned unto me with her whole heart, but feignedly, saith the Lord. (Jer. 3:10.)

c. For the eyes of the Lord run to and fro throughout the whole earth, to show himself strong in the behalf of them whose heart is perfect toward him. Herein thou hast done foolishly; therefore from henceforth thou shalt have wars. (II Chr. 16:9.)

d. She obeyed not the voice; she received not correction; she trusted not in the Lord; she drew not near to her God. (Zeph. 3:2.)

e. Yea, the stork in the heaven knoweth her appointed times; and the turtle and the crane and the swallow observe the time of their coming; but my people know not the judgment of the Lord. (Jer. 8:7.)

f. That ye come not among these nations, these that remain among you; neither make mention of the name of their gods, nor cause to swear by them, neither serve them, nor bow yourselves unto them. (Josh. 23:7.) And it shall come to pass, if they will diligently learn the ways of my people, to swear by my name, The Lord liveth; as they taught my people to swear by Baal; then shall they be built in the midst of my people. (Jer. 12:16.)

g. Howbeit then, when ye knew not God, ye did service unto them which by nature are no gods. (Gal. 4:8.) And I will move them to jealousy with those which are not a people; I will provoke them to anger with a foolish nation. (Dt. 32:21.)

h. So that the Lord could no longer bear, because of the evil of your doings, and because of the abominations which ye have committed; therefore is your land a desolation, and an astonishment, and a curse, without an inhabitant, as at this day. (Jer. 44:22.)

i. But they mocked the messengers of God, and despised his words, and misused his prophets, until the wrath of the Lord arose against his people, till there was no remedy. (II Chr. 36:16.)

j. Therefore have I hewed them by the prophets; I have slain them by the words of my mouth: and thy judgments are as the light that goeth forth. (Hos. 6:5.)

k. Therefore shalt thou serve thine enemies, which the Lord shall send against thee, in hunger, and in thirst, and in nakedness, and in want of all things: and he shall put a yoke of iron upon thy neck, until he have destroyed thee. (Dt. 28:48.)

l. And in them is fulfilled the prophecy of Esaias, which saith, By hearing ye shall hear, and shall not understand; and seeing ye shall see, and shall not perceive. (Mat. 13:14.)

m. Nevertheless he left not himself without witness, in that he did good, and gave us rain from heaven, and fruitful seasons, filling our hearts with food and gladness. (Acts 14:17.)

n. And I will come near to you to judgment; and I will be a swift witness against the sorcerers, and against the adulterers, and against false swearers, and against those that oppress the hireling in his wages, the widow, and the fatherless, and that turn aside the stranger from his right, and fear not me, saith the Lord of hosts. (Mal. 3:5.)

31 The prophets prophesy [o]falsely, and the priests bear rule by their means; and my people [16]love [p]to have it so: and what will ye do in the [17]end thereof?

CHAPTER 6.

1 The enemies sent against Judah 4 encourage themselves. 9 The prophet lamenteth the judgments of God because of their sins. 26 He calleth the people to mourn for the judgment on their sins.

1 O [1]ye children of Bĕn'ja-min, gather yourselves to flee out of the midst of Je-ru'sa-lĕm, and blow the trumpet in [2]Te-kō'a, and set up a sign of [3]fire in [4]Bĕth-hăc'çĕ-rĕm: for evil appeareth out of the north, and great destruction.

2 I have likened the daughter of Zī'ŏn to a comely and delicate woman.

3 The shepherds with their flocks shall come unto her; [a]they shall pitch their tents against her round about; they shall feed every one in his place.

4 Prepare ye war against her; arise, and let us go up at noon. Woe unto us! for the day goeth away, for the shadows of the evening are stretched out.

5 Arise, and let us go by night, and let us destroy her palaces.

6 ¶ [5]For thus hath the Lord of hosts said, Hew ye down trees, and cast a mount against Je-ru'sa-lĕm: this is the city to be visited; she is wholly oppression in the midst of her.

7 As a fountain casteth out her waters, so she casteth out her wickedness: violence and [b]spoil is heard in her; before me continually is grief and wounds.

8 Be thou [c]instructed, O Je-ru'sa-lĕm, lest my soul depart from thee; lest I make thee desolate, a land not inhabited.

9 ¶ [7]Thus saith the Lord of hosts, They shall thoroughly glean the remnant of Is'ra-el as a vine: turn back thine hand as a grapegatherer into the baskets.

10 To whom shall I speak, and give warning, that they may hear? behold, their ear [c]is uncircumcised, and they cannot hearken: behold, the word of the Lord is unto them a reproach; they have no delight in it.

11 Therefore I am full of the fury of the Lord; I am weary with holding in: I will pour it out upon the children abroad, and upon the assembly of young men together: for even the husband with the wife shall be taken, the aged with him that is full of days.

12 And [d]their houses shall be turned unto others, with their fields and wives together: for I will stretch out my hand upon the inhabitants of the land, saith the Lord.

13 For from the least of them even unto the greatest of them every one is given to [e]covetousness; and from the prophet even unto the priest every one dealeth falsely.

14 They have healed also the hurt of the daughter of my people slightly, saying, Peace, peace; when there is no peace.

15 Were they ashamed when they had committed abomination? nay, they were not at all ashamed, neither could they blush: therefore they shall fall among them that fall: at the time that I visit them they shall be cast down, saith the Lord.

16 [8]Thus saith the Lord, Stand ye in the ways, and see, and ask for the [9]old [f]paths, where is the good way, and walk therein, and ye shall find [g]rest for your souls. But they said, We will not walk therein.

17 Also I set [h]watchmen over you, saying, Hearken to the sound of the trumpet. But they said, We will not hearken.

18 ¶ Therefore hear, ye nations, and know, O congregation, what is among them.

19 Hear, O earth: behold, I will bring evil upon this people, even the fruit [i]of their thoughts, because they have not hearkened unto my words, nor to my law, but rejected it.

20 [j]To what purpose cometh there to me incense from Shē'bà, and the sweet cane from a far country? your burnt offerings are not acceptable, nor your sacrifices sweet unto me.

21 Therefore thus saith the Lord, Behold, [k]I will lay [10]stumblingblocks before this people, and the fathers and the sons together shall fall upon them; the neighbour and his friend shall perish.

22 [11]Thus saith the Lord, Behold, a people cometh from the north [12]country, and a great nation shall be raised from the sides of the earth.

23 They shall lay hold on bow and [13]spear; they are cruel, and have no mercy; their voice roareth like the sea; and they ride upon horses, set in array as men for war against thee, O daughter of Zī'ŏn.

24 We have heard the fame thereof: our hands wax feeble: anguish hath taken hold of us, and pain, as of a woman in travail.

25 Go not forth into the field, nor walk by the way; for the sword of the enemy and fear is on every side.

26 ¶ O daughter of my people, gird thee with sackcloth, and wallow [14]thyself in ashes: [l]make thee mourning, as for an only son, most bitter

Chapter 6.

a. And it came to pass in the ninth year of his reign, in the tenth month, in the tenth day of the month, that Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon came, he, and all his host against Jerusalem, and pitched against it; and they built forts against it round about. (II Ks. 25:1.)

b. Violence is risen up into a rod of wickedness: none of them shall remain, nor of their multitude, nor of any of theirs; neither shall there be wailing for them (11). Make a chain; for the land is full of bloody crimes, and the city is full of violence. (Ez. 7:11, 23.)

c. And Moses spake before the Lord, saying, Behold, the children of Israel have not hearkened unto me; how then shall Pharaoh hear me, who am of uncircumcised lips? (Ex. 6:12.) Egypt, and Judah, and Edom, and the children of Ammon, and Moab, and all that are in the utmost corners, that dwell in the wilderness: for all these nations are uncircumcised, and all the house of Israel are uncircumcised in the heart. (Jer. 9:26.) Ye stiff-necked and uncircumcised in heart and ears, ye do always resist the Holy Ghost: as your fathers did, so do ye. (Acts 7:51.)

d. Thou shalt betroth a wife, and another man shall lie with her: thou shalt build an house, and thou shalt not dwell therein: thou shalt plant a vineyard, and shalt not gather the grapes thereof. (Dt. 28:30.)

e. Yea, they are greedy dogs which can never have enough, and they are shepherds that cannot understand: they all look to their own way, every one for his gain, from his quarter. (Is. 56:11.) Thus saith the Lord concerning the prophets that make my people err, that bite with their teeth, and cry, Peace; and he that putteth not into their mouths, they even prepare war against him. (Mic. 3:5.)

f. To the law and to the testimony: if they speak not according to this word, it is because there is no light in them. (Is. 8:20.) i. Therefore shall they eat of the fruit of their own way, and be filled with their own devices. (Prov. 1:31.) For God shall bring every work into judgment, with every secret thing, whether it be good, or whether it be evil. (Ecc. 12:14.) And, behold, I come quickly; and my reward is with me, to give every man according as his work shall be. (Rev. 22:12.) Wherefore, if meat make my brother to offend, I will eat no flesh while the world standeth, lest I make my brother to offend. (I Cor. 8:13.) For we know him that hath said, Vengeance belongeth unto me, I will recompense, saith the Lord. And again, The Lord shall judge his people. (Heb. 10:30.)

j. Sacrifice and offering thou didst not desire; mine ears hast thou opened; burnt offering and sin offering hast thou not required. (Ps. 40:6.) To what purpose is the multitude of your sacrifices unto me? saith the Lord: I am full of the burnt offerings of rams, and the fat of fed beasts; and I delight not in the blood of bullocks, or of lambs, or of he-goats. (Is. 1:11.) I hate, I despise your feast days, and I will not smell in your solemn assemblies. (Amos 5:21.)

k. He disappointeth the devices of the crafty, so that their hands cannot perform their enterprise. (Job 5:12.)

CHAPTER 7.

1 Jeremiah is sent to call for true repentance, to prevent the Jews' captivity. 17 He threateneth them for their idolatry. 29 He exhorteth to mourn for their abominations in Tophet.

1 [1]The word [2]that came to Jĕr-e-mī'ah from the [3]Lord, saying,

2 Stand in the [4]gate of the Lord's house, and proclaim there this word, and say, Hear the word of the Lord, all ye of [5]Jū'dah, that enter in at these gates to worship the Lord.

3 Thus saith the Lord of hosts, the God of Ĭs'ra-el, Amend your ways and your doings, and I will cause you to dwell in this place.

4 Trust ye not in lying words, saying, The temple of the Lord, The temple of the Lord, The temple of the Lord, are [6]these.

5 For if ye thoroughly [a]amend your ways and your doings; if ye thoroughly [b]execute [7]judgment between a man and his neighbour;

6 If ye oppress not the stranger, the fatherless, and the widow, and shed not [8]innocent blood in this place, [c]neither walk after other gods to your hurt:

7 Then [d]will I cause you to dwell in this place, in the land that I gave to your fathers, for ever and ever.

8 ¶ Behold, ye trust in [e]lying words, that cannot profit.

9 Will [f]ye steal, murder, and commit adultery, and swear falsely, and burn incense unto Bā'al, and [g]walk after other gods whom ye know not;

10 [h]And come and stand before me in this house, which is called by my name, and say, We are [9]delivered to do all these abominations?

11 Is this house, which is called by my name, become a [i]den of robbers in your eyes? Behold, even I have seen it, saith the Lord.

12 But go ye now unto my place which was in Shī'lōh, [j]where I set my name at the first, and see what I did to it for the wickedness of my people Ĭs'ra-el.

13 And now, because ye have done all these works, saith the Lord, and I spake unto you, rising up early and speaking, but ye heard not; and I [k]called you, but ye answered not;

14 Therefore [10]will I do unto this house, which is called by my name, wherein ye trust, and unto the place which I gave to you and to your fathers, as I have done to Shī'lōh.

15 And I will cast you out of my sight, as I have cast out all your brethren, even the whole seed of Ē'phrā-ĭm.

16 Therefore pray not thou for this people, neither lift up cry nor prayer for them, neither make intercession to me: for I will not hear thee.

17 ¶ [11]Seest thou not what they do in the cities of Jū'dah and in the streets of Je-rū'sa-lĕm?

18 The children gather wood, and the fathers kindle the fire, and the women knead their dough, to make cakes to the [12]queen of heaven, and to pour out drink offerings unto other gods, that they may provoke me to anger.

19 Do they provoke me to anger? saith the Lord: do they not provoke themselves to the confusion of their own faces?

20 Therefore thus saith the Lord God; Behold, mine anger and my fury shall be poured out upon this place, upon man, and upon beast, and upon the trees of the field, and upon the fruit of the ground; and it shall burn, and shall not be quenched.

21 ¶ Thus saith the Lord of hosts, the God of Ĭs'ra-el; Put your burnt offerings unto your sacrifices, and eat flesh.

22 For I spake not unto your fathers, nor commanded them in the day that I brought them out of the land of Ē'gўpt, concerning burnt offerings or sacrifices:

23 But this thing commanded I them, saying, [l]Obey my voice, and [m]I will be your God, and ye shall be my people: and walk ye in all the ways that I have commanded you, that it may be well unto you.

24 But they hearkened not, nor inclined their ear, but walked in the [n]counsels and in the

Ch. 7. B. C. 600.

1. Chs. 7-10 must be taken together, as they constitute one discourse, delivered at some public gathering. The prophet stood at the public gate of the temple and delivered his prophecy, that the people might all hear. For the historical setting of this discourse, read ch. 26. The purpose of this prophecy was to awaken the people to a conviction of their sins and appreciation of their danger, and through penitence and humiliation to lead them back to God. It was when Jer. referred to the ruin of Shiloh, declaring that Jerusalem might share a like fate, that the people were going to put him to death. (Jer. 26:1-9.)

2. In vs. 1-16 is declared the vanity or utter folly of putting their trust in the temple.

3. Jehovah.

4. One of the three gates leading to the inner court.

5. Spoken during one of the annual feasts.

6. The temple buildings.

7. Justice.

8. Referring to Molech, the national god of the Ammonites, to whom children were sacrificed by fire.

9. That is, that the mere standing in the temple will free them from all guilt.

10. After the delivery of this thought, the priests, prophets, and people took Jer. and said, "Thou shalt surely die." (Jer. 26.)

11. In vs. 17-28 hypocritical worship of Jehovah, joined to idolatry, is condemned.

12. The sun, moon and planets.

as one mourneth for his only son, and shall be in bitterness for him, as one that is in bitterness for his first-born. (Zech. 12:10.)

Chapter 7.

a. Except the Lord of hosts had left unto us a very small remnant, we should have been as Sodom, and we should have been like unto Gomorrah. (Is. 1:9.) If thou wilt return, O Israel, saith the Lord, return unto me; and if thou wilt put away thine abominations out of my sight, then shalt thou not remove. And thou shalt swear, The Lord liveth, in truth, in judgment, and in righteousness; and the nations shall bless themselves in him, and in him shall they glory. (Jer. 4:1, 2.)

b. O house of David, thus saith the Lord; Execute judgment in the morning, and deliver him that is spoiled out of the hand of the oppressor, lest my fury go out like fire, and burn that none can quench it, because of the evil of your doings. (Jer. 21:12.) Thus saith the Lord; Execute ye judgment and righteousness, and deliver the spoiled out of the hand of the oppressor: and do no wrong, do no violence to the stranger, the fatherless, nor the widow, neither shed innocent blood in this place. (Jer. 22:3.) Concerning this house which thou art in building, if thou wilt walk in my statutes, and execute my judgments, and keep all my commandments to walk in them; then will I perform my word with thee, which I spake unto David thy father. And I will dwell among the children of Israel, and will not forsake my people Israel. (I Ks. 6:12, 13.)

c. Ye shall not go after other gods, of the gods of the people which are round about you, (For the Lord thy God is a jealous God among you,) lest the anger of the Lord thy God be kindled against thee, and destroy thee from off the face of the earth. (Dt. 6:14, 15.) And it shall be, if thou do at all forget the Lord thy God, and walk after other gods, and serve them, and worship them, I testify against you this day, that ye shall surely perish. (Dt. 8:19.)

d. They said, Turn ye again now every one from his evil way, and from the evil of your doings, and dwell in the land that the Lord hath given unto you and to your fathers for ever and ever. (Jer. 25:5.) If thou wilt return, O Israel, saith the Lord, return unto me; and if thou wilt put away thine abominations out of my sight, then shalt thou not remove. (Jer. 4:1.) Thou shalt keep therefore his statutes, and his commandments, which I command thee this day, that it may go well with thee, and with thy children after thee, and that thou mayest prolong thy days upon the earth, which the Lord thy God giveth thee, for ever. (Dt. 4:40.)

e. This is thy lot, the portion of thy measures from me, saith the Lord; because thou hast forgotten me, and trusted in falsehood. (Jer. 13:25.) Behold, I am against them that prophesy false dreams, saith the Lord, and do tell them, and cause my people to err by their lies, and by their lightness; yet I sent them not, nor commanded them: therefore they shall not profit this people at all, saith the Lord. (Jer. 23:32.) Then said the prophet Jeremiah unto Hananiah the prophet, Hear now, Hananiah; The Lord hath not sent thee; but thou makest this people to trust in a lie. (Jer. 28:15.)

f. Hear the word of the Lord, ye children of Israel: for the Lord hath a controversy with the inhabitants of the land, because there is no truth, nor mercy, nor knowledge of God in the land. (Hos. 4:1.)

g. Thou shalt have no other gods before me. (Ex. 20:3.)

h. For when they had slain their children to their idols, then they came the same day into my sanctuary to profane it; and, lo, thus have they done in the midst of mine house. (Ez. 23:39.)

i. Saying unto them, It is written, My house is the house of prayer: but ye have made it a den of thieves. (Luke 19:46.)

j. Then there shall be a place which the Lord your God shall choose to cause his name to dwell there: thither shall ye bring all that I command you; your burnt offerings, and your sacrifices, your tithes, and the heave offering of your hand, and all your choice vows which ye vow unto the Lord. (Dt. 12:11.)

k. Because I have called, and ye refused; I have stretched out my hand, and no man regarded. (Prov. 1:24.) I also will choose their delusions, and will bring their fears upon them; because when I called, none did answer; when I spake, they did not hear: but they did evil before mine eyes, and chose that in which I delighted not. (Is. 66:4.)

l. And said, If thou wilt diligently hearken to the voice of the Lord thy God, and wilt do that which is right in his sight, and wilt give ear to his commandments, and keep all his statutes, I will put none of these diseases upon thee, which I have brought upon the Egyptians: for I am the Lord that healeth thee. (Ex. 15:26.)

m. Now therefore, if ye will obey my voice indeed, and keep my covenant, then ye shall be a peculiar treasure unto me above all people: for all the earth is mine. (Ex. 19:5.)

n. So I gave them up unto their own hearts' lust; and they walked in their own counsels. (Ps. 81:12.)

imagination of their evil heart, and went backward, and not forward.

25 Since the [13]day that your fathers came forth out of the land of Ē'gўpt unto this day I have even sent unto you all my servants the prophets, daily rising up early and sending them:

26 Yet they hearkened not unto me, nor inclined their ear, but [o]hardened their neck: they did worse than their fathers.

27 Therefore thou shalt speak all these words unto them; but they will not hearken to thee: thou shalt also call unto them; but they will not answer thee.

28 But thou shalt say unto them, This is a nation that obeyeth not the voice of the Lord their God, nor receiveth correction: truth is [14]perished, and is cut off from their mouth.

29 ¶ [15]Cut off thine [16]hair, O Je-rụ'sa-lĕm, and cast it away, and take up a lamentation on high places; for the Lord hath rejected and forsaken the generation of his wrath.

30 For the children of Jū'dah have done evil in my sight, saith the Lord: they have set their [17]abominations in the house which is called by my name, to pollute it.

31 And they have built the [18]high places of Tō'phet, which is in the valley of the son of Hĭn'nom, to [19]burn their sons and their daughters in the fire; which I commanded them not, neither came it into my heart.

32 ¶ Therefore, behold, the days come, saith the Lord, that it shall no more be called Tō'phet, nor the valley of the son of Hĭn'nom, but the valley of [20]slaughter: for they shall bury in Tō'phet, till there be no [21]place.

33 And the carcases of this people shall be meat for the fowls of the heaven, and for the beasts of the earth; and none shall [22]fray them away.

34 Then will I cause to [p]cease from the cities of Jū'dah, and from the streets of Je-rụ'sa-lĕm, the voice of mirth, and the voice of gladness, the voice of the bridegroom, and the voice of the bride: for [q]the land shall be desolate.

CHAPTER 8.

1 The calamity of the Jews, both dead and alive. 4 He upbraideth their foolish and shameless impenitency. 13 He sheweth their grievous judgment, 18 and bewaileth their desperate estate.

1 [1]At that time, saith the [2]Lord, they shall bring out the bones of the kings of Jū'dah, and the bones of his princes, and the bones of the priests, and the bones of the prophets, and the bones of the inhabitants of Je-rụ'sa-lĕm, out of their graves:

2 And they shall spread them before the sun, and the moon, and all the host of heaven, whom they have loved, and whom they have served, and after whom they have walked, and [a]whom they have sought, and whom they have worshipped: they shall not be gathered, nor be buried; [b]they shall be for dung upon the face of the earth.

3 And [c]death shall be chosen rather than life by all the residue of them that remain of this evil family, which remain in all the places whither I have driven them, saith the Lord of hosts.

4 ¶ [3]Moreover thou shalt say unto them, Thus saith the Lord; Shall they fall, and not arise? shall he turn away, and not return?

5 Why then is this people of Je-rụ'sa-lĕm slidden back by a perpetual backsliding? they hold fast deceit, they refuse to return.

6 [4]I [d]hearkened and heard, but they spake not aright: no man repented him of his wickedness, saying, What have I done? every one turned to his course, as the horse rusheth into the battle.

7 Yea, the stork in the heaven knoweth her [5]appointed times; and [e]the turtle and the crane and the swallow observe the time of their coming; but my people know not the judgment of the [2]Lord.

8 How do ye say, We are wise, and the law of the [2]Lord is with us? Lo, certainly in vain made he it; the pen of the scribes is in vain.

9 The wise men are ashamed, they are dismayed and taken: lo, they have rejected the word of the [2]Lord; and what wisdom is in them?

10 Therefore [f]will I give their wives unto others, and their fields to them that shall inherit them: for every one from the least even unto the greatest is given to covetousness, [g]from the prophet even unto the priest every one dealeth falsely.

11 For they have healed the hurt of the daughter of my people slightly, saying, Peace, peace; when there is no peace.

12 Were they [h]ashamed when they had committed abomination? nay, they were not at all ashamed, neither could they blush: therefore shall [i]they fall among them that fall: in the time of their visitation they shall be cast down, saith the Lord.

13 ¶ [6]I will surely consume them, saith the Lord: there shall be no grapes [j]on the vine, nor figs on the [k]fig tree, and the leaf shall fade; and the things that I have given them shall pass away from them.

14 Why do we sit still? assemble yourselves, and let us enter into the defenced cities, and let us be silent there: for the Lord our God

a. And he put down the idolatrous priests, whom the kings of Judah had ordained to burn incense in the high places in the cities of Judah, and in the places round about Jerusalem; them also that burnt incense unto Baal, to the sun, and to the moon, and to the planets, and to all the host of heaven. (II Ks. 23:5.)

b. Wherefore they came again, and told him. And he said, This is the word of the Lord, which he spake by his servant Elijah the Tishbite, saying, In the portion of Jezreel shall dogs eat the flesh of Jezebel. (II Ks. 9:36.) Which perished at Endor: they became as dung for the earth. (Ps. 83:10.)

c. Which long for death, but it cometh not; and dig for it more than for hid treasures. (Job 3:21.) And in those days shall men seek death, and shall not find it; and shall desire to die, and death shall flee from them. (Rev. 9:6.)

d. The Lord is not slack concerning his promise, as some men count slackness; but is long-suffering to us-ward, not willing that any should perish, but that all should come to repentance. (II Pet. 3:9.)

e. The ox knoweth his owner, and the ass his master's crib: but Israel doth not know, my people doth not consider. (Is. 1:3.) The flowers appear on the earth; the time of the singing of birds is come, and the voice of the turtle is heard in our land. (Song 2:12.)

f. Thou shalt betroth a wife, and another man shall lie with her: thou shalt build an house, and thou shalt not dwell therein: thou shalt plant a vineyard, and shalt not gather the grapes thereof. (Dt. 28:30.)

g. Yea, they are greedy dogs which can never have enough, and they are shepherds that cannot understand: they all look to their own way, every one for his gain, from his quarter. (Is. 56:11.) For the iniquity of his covetousness was I wroth, and smote him: I hid me, and was wroth, and he went on frowardly in the way of his heart. (Is. 57:17.)

h. The just Lord is in the midst thereof; he will not do iniquity: every morning doth he bring his judgment to light, he faileth not; but the unjust knoweth no shame. (Zeph. 3:5.) Why boastest thou thyself in mischief, O mighty man? the goodness of God endureth continually (1). Lo, this is the man that made not God his strength; but trusted in the abundance of his riches, and strengthened himself in his wickedness. (Ps. 52:1, 7.) The show of their countenance doth witness against them; and they declare their sin as Sodom, they hide it not. Woe unto their soul! for they have rewarded evil unto themselves. (Is. 3:9.)

i. Therefore thus saith the Lord, Behold, I will lay stumblingblocks before this people, and the fathers and the sons together shall fall upon them; the neighbor and his friend shall perish. (Jer. 6:21.) Therefore the Lord will cut off from Israel head and tail, branch and rush, in one day. (Is. 9:14.) For they shall eat, and not have enough; they shall commit whoredom, and shall not increase; because they have left off to take heed to the Lord. (Hos. 4:10.)

j. Now will I sing to my well-beloved a song of my beloved touching his vineyard. My well-beloved hath a vineyard in a very fruitful hill. (Is. 5:1.) He hath laid my vine waste, and barked my fig tree: he hath made it clean bare, and cast it away; the branches thereof are made white. (Joel 1:7.)

k. And when he saw a fig tree in the way, he came to it, and found nothing thereon, but leaves only, and said unto it, Let no fruit grow hath put us to silence, and given us [l]water of gall to drink, because we have [m]sinned against the Lord.

15 We [n]looked for peace, but no good came; and for a time of health, and behold trouble!

16 The snorting of his horses was heard from Dăn: the whole land trembled at the sound of the neighing of his strong ones; for they are come, and have devoured the land, and all that is in it; the city, and those that dwell therein.

17 For, behold, I will send serpents, cockatrices, among you, which will not be charmed, and they shall bite you, saith the Lord.

18 ¶ [1]When I would comfort myself against sorrow, my heart is faint in me.

19 Behold the voice of the cry of the daughter of my people because of them that dwell in a far country: [s]Is not the Lord in Zī'ŏn? is not her king in her? Why have they provoked [o]me to anger with their graven images, and with strange vanities?

20 The harvest is past, the summer is ended, and we are not saved.

21 For the hurt of the daughter of my people am I hurt; [p]I am black; astonishment hath taken hold on me.

22 Is there no balm in [2]Gĭl'e-ăd; is there no physician there? why then is not the health of the daughter of my people recovered?

CHAPTER 9.

1 Jeremiah lamenteth the Jews for their manifold sins, 9 and for their judgment. 17 He exhorteth to mourn for their destruction, 23 and to trust not in themselves, but in God.

1 [1]Oh that my head were waters, and mine eyes a fountain of tears, that I might weep day and night for the slain of the daughter of my people!

2 Oh that I had in the wilderness a lodging place of wayfaring men; that I might leave my people, and go from them! for they be all adulterers, an assembly of treacherous men.

3 And they bend their tongues like their bow for lies: but they are not valiant for the truth upon the earth; for they proceed from evil to evil, and they [q]know not me, saith the Lord.

4 Take ye heed every one of his neighbour, and trust ye not in any brother: for every brother will utterly supplant, and every neighbour will walk with slanders.

5 And they will [b]deceive every one his neighbour, and will not speak the truth: they have taught their tongue to speak lies, and weary themselves to commit iniquity.

6 Thine habitation is in the midst of deceit; through deceit they refuse to know me, saith the Lord.

7 Therefore thus saith the Lord of hosts, Behold, I will [r]melt them, and try them; for how shall [3]I do for the daughter of my people?

8 Their tongue is as an arrow shot out; it speaketh deceit: one speaketh peaceably to his neighbour with his mouth, but in heart he layeth his wait.

9 ¶ [4]Shall I not visit them for these things? saith the Lord: shall not [c]my soul be avenged on such a nation as this?

10 For the mountains will I take up a weeping and wailing, and for the habitations of the wilderness a lamentation, because they are [d]burned up, so that none can pass through them; neither can men hear the voice of the cattle; both the fowl of the heavens and the beast are fled; they are gone.

11 And I will make [e]Je-ru'sa-lĕm heaps, and a den of [5]dragons; and I will make the cities of Jū'dah desolate, without an inhabitant.

12 ¶ Who [f]is the wise man, that may understand this? and who is he to whom the mouth [g]of the Lord hath spoken, that he may declare it, for what the land perisheth and is burned up like a wilderness, that none passeth through?

13 [6]And the Lord saith, Because they [h]have forsaken my law which I set before them, and have not obeyed my voice, neither walked therein;

14 But have [i]walked after the imagination

7. Vs. 18-22 detail the captivity and sorrow.

Ch. 9. B. C. 600.

2. Their punishment is to be corrective as well as retributive; they are to be put in the crucible and purified.

3. That is, what else can I do?

4. In vs. 9-15 are detailed the desolation of the land and the dispersion of the Jews.

5. Jackals.

on thee henceforward for ever. And presently the fig tree withered away. (Mat. 21:19.)

l. Therefore thus saith the Lord of hosts concerning the prophets; Behold, I will feed them with wormwood, and make them drink the water of gall: for from the prophets of Jerusalem is profaneness gone forth into all the land. (Jer. 23:15.) They gave him vinegar to drink mingled with gall: and when he had tasted thereof, he would not drink. (Mat. 27:34.) They gave me also gall for my meat; and in my thirst they gave me vinegar to drink. (Ps. 69:21.) Remembering mine affliction and my misery, the wormwood and the gall. (Lam. 3:19.)

m. We lie down in our shame, and our confusion covereth us: for we have sinned against the Lord our God, we and our fathers, from our youth even unto this day, and have not obeyed the voice of the Lord our God. (Jer. 3:25.) We acknowledge, O Lord, our wickedness, and the iniquity of our fathers: for we have sinned against thee. (Jer. 14:20.)

n. Hast thou utterly rejected Judah? hath thy soul loathed Zion? why hast thou smitten us, and there is no healing for us? We looked for peace, and there is no good; and for the time of healing, and behold trouble! (Jer. 14:19.)

o. Take heed to yourselves, that your heart be not deceived, and ye turn aside, and serve other gods, and worship them; And then the Lord's wrath be kindled against you, and he shut up the heaven, that there be no rain, and that the land yield not her fruit; and lest ye perish quickly from off the good land which the Lord giveth you. (Dt. 11:16, 17.) Now therefore fear the Lord, and serve him in sincerity and in truth: and put away the gods which your fathers served on the other side of the flood, and in Egypt; and serve ye the Lord. (Josh. 24:14.) And the Lord plagued the people, because they made the calf which Aaron made. (Ex. 32:35.) Then my anger shall be kindled against them in that day, and I will forsake them, and I will hide my face from them, and they shall be devoured, and many evils and troubles shall befall them; so that they will say in that day, Are not these evils come upon us, because our God is not among us? (Dt. 31:17.)

p. Before their face the people shall be much pained; all faces shall gather blackness. (Joel 2:6.) She is empty, and void, and waste; and the heart melteth, and the knees smite together, and much pain is in all loins, and the faces of them all gather blackness. (Nah. 2:10.)

Chapter 9.

a. And also all that generation were gathered unto their fathers. And there arose another generation after them, which knew not the Lord, nor yet the works which he had done for Israel. (Jud. 2:10.) Therefore they say unto God, Depart from us; for we desire not the knowledge of thy ways. (Job 21:14.) Hear the word of the Lord, ye children of Israel: for the Lord hath a controversy with the inhabitants of the land, because there is no truth, nor mercy, nor knowledge of God in the land. (Hos. 4:1.) And even as they did not like to retain God in their knowledge, God gave them over to a reprobate mind, to do those things which are not convenient. (Rom. 1:28.) Awake to righteousness, and sin not; for some have not the knowledge of God: I speak this to your shame. (I Cor. 15:34.)

b. The good man is perished out of the earth; and there is none upright among men: they all lie in wait for blood; they hunt every man his brother with a net. (Mic. 7:2.)

c. Shall I not visit for these things? saith the Lord: and shall not my soul be avenged on such a nation as this? (9). Shall I not visit for these things? saith the Lord: shall not my soul be avenged on such a nation as this? (Jer. 5:9, 29.) Therefore saith the Lord, the Lord of hosts, the mighty One of Israel, Ah, I will ease me of mine adversaries, and avenge me of mine enemies. (Is. 1:24.)

d. How long shall the land mourn, and the herbs of every field wither, for the wickedness of them that dwell therein? the beasts are consumed, and the birds; because they said, He shall not see our last end (4). Many pastors have destroyed my vineyard, they have trodden my portion under foot, they have made my pleasant portion a desolate wilderness. (Jer. 12:4, 10.) If I cause noisome beasts to pass through the land, and they spoil it, so that it be desolate, that no man may pass through because of the beasts. (Ez. 14:15.)

e. And Babylon shall become heaps, a dwelling-place for dragons, an astonishment, and an hissing, without an inhabitant. (Jer. 51:37.) It shall blossom abundantly, and rejoice even with joy and singing: the glory of Lebanon shall be given unto it, the excellency of Carmel and Sharon; they shall see the glory of the Lord, and the excellency of our God. (Is. 35:2.)

f. Whoso is wise, and will observe these things, even they shall understand the loving-kindness of the Lord. (Ps. 107:43.) Who among you will give ear to this? who will hearken, and hear for the time to come? (Is. 42:23.) Who is wise, and he shall understand these things? prudent, and he shall know them? for the ways of the Lord are right, and the just shall walk in them: but the transgressors shall fall therein. (Hos. 14:9.)

g. Thus saith the Lord of hosts, Hearken not unto the words of the prophets that prophesy unto you: they make you vain: they speak a vision of their own heart, and not out of the mouth of the Lord. (Jer. 23:16.)

h. And it shall come to pass, when ye shall say, Wherefore doeth the Lord our God all these things unto us? Then shalt thou answer them, Like as ye have forsaken me, and served strange gods in your land, so shall ye serve strangers in a land that is not yours. (Jer. 5:19.) Then they shall answer, Because they have forsaken the covenant of the Lord their God, and worshipped other gods, and served them. (Jer. 22:9.) But if ye turn away, and forsake my statutes and my commandments, which I have set before you, and shall go and serve other gods, and worship them. (II Chr. 7:19.) If his children forsake my law, and walk not in my judgments. (Ps. 89:30.)

i. Yet they obeyed not, nor inclined their ear, but walked every one in the imagination of their evil heart: therefore I will bring upon of their own heart, and after Bā'al-ĭm, which their fathers taught them:

15 Therefore thus saith the Lord of hosts, the God of Ĭs'ra-el; Behold, I will [j]feed them, even this people, with wormwood, and give them water of gall to drink.

16 [7]I will scatter them also among the heathen, whom neither they nor their fathers have known: [k]and I will send a sword after them, till I have consumed them.

17 ¶ Thus saith the Lord of hosts, Consider ye, and call for the mourning women, that they may come; and send for [8]cunning women, that they may come:

18 And let them make haste, and take up a wailing for us, that our eyes may run down with tears, and our eyelids gush out with waters.

19 For a voice of wailing is heard out of Zĭ'ŏn. How are we spoiled! we are greatly confounded, because we have forsaken the land, because our dwellings have cast us out.

20 Yet hear the word of the Lord, O ye women, and let your ear receive the word of his mouth, and teach your daughters [9]wailing, and every one her neighbour lamentation.

21 For death is come up into our windows, [10]and is entered into our palaces, to cut off the children from without, and the young men from the streets.

22 Speak, Thus saith the Lord, Even the carcases of men shall fall as dung upon the open field, and as the handful after the harvestman, and none shall gather them.

23 ¶ [11]Thus saith the Lord, Let not the wise man glory in his wisdom, neither let the mighty man glory in his might, let not the rich man glory in his riches.

24 But [l]let him that glorieth glory in this, that he understandeth and knoweth me, that I am the Lord which exercise lovingkindness, judgment, and righteouness, in the earth: [m]for in these things I delight, saith the Lord.

25 ¶ [12]Behold, the days come, saith the Lord, that [n]I will punish all them which are circumcised with the uncircumcised;

26 Ē'gўpt, and Jū'dah, and Ē'dom, and the children of Ām'mŏn, and Mō'ab, and all that are in the utmost [13]corners, that dwell in the wilderness: for all these nations are uncircumcised, and all the house of Ĭs'ra-el are [o]uncircumcised in the heart.

7. In vs. 16-21 is recorded the terrible carnival of death.

8. Skilled in wailing.

CHAPTER 10.

1 The unequal comparison of God and idols. 17 The prophet exhorteth to flee from the calamity to come. 19 He lamenteth the spoil of the tabernacle by foolish pastors.

1 [1]Hear ye the word which the [2]Lord speaketh unto you, O house of Ĭs'ra-el:

2 Thus saith the Lord, Learn [a]not the way of the [3]heathen, and be not dismayed at the signs of heaven; for the heathen are dismayed at them.

3 For the customs of the people are vain: for one cutteth a tree out of the forest, the work of the hands of the workman, with the ax.

4 They deck it with silver and with gold; they fasten it with nails and with hammers, that it move not.

5 They are upright as the palm tree, [b]but speak not: they must needs be [c]borne, because they cannot go. Be not afraid of them; for [d]they cannot do evil, neither also is it in them to do good.

6 [4]Forasmuch as there is none like unto thee, O [2]Lord; thou art great, and thy name is great in might.

7 Who would not fear thee, O King of nations? for to thee doth it appertain: forasmuch as among all the wise men of the nations, and in all their kingdoms, there is none like unto thee.

8 But they are altogether brutish and foolish: the stock is a doctrine of vanities.

9 Silver spread into plates is brought from [5]Tär'shish, and gold from [6]Ū'phăz, the work of the workman, and of the hands of the founder: blue and purple is their clothing: they are all the work of cunning men.

10 But the [2]Lord is the true God, he is [e]the living God, and an everlasting king: at his wrath the earth shall tremble, and the nations shall not be able [f]to abide his indignation.

11 Thus shall ye say unto them, The gods that have not made the heavens and the earth, even they shall perish from the earth, and from under these heavens.

12 [7]He [g]hath made the earth by his power, he hath established the world by his wisdom, and hath stretched out the heavens by his discretion.

13 When he uttereth his voice, there is a them all the words of this covenant, which I commanded them to do; but they did them not. (Jer. 11:8.) Because that, when they knew God, they glorified him not as God, neither were thankful; but became vain in their imaginations, and their foolish heart was darkened. Professing themselves to be wise, they became fools, And changed the glory of the uncorruptible God into an image made like to corruptible man, and to birds, and four-footed beasts, and creeping things. Wherefore God also gave them up to uncleanness through the lusts of their own hearts, to dishonor their own bodies between themselves. (Rom. 1:21-24.)

j. Thou feedest them with the bread of tears; and givest them tears to drink in great measure. (Ps. 80:5.) He hath filled me with bitterness, he hath made me drunken with wormwood. (Lam. 3:15.)

k. Thou shalt burn with fire a third part in the midst of the city, when the days of the siege are fulfilled: and thou shalt take a third part, and smite about it with a knife; and a third part thou shalt scatter in the wind; and I will draw out a sword after them. (Ez. 5:2.)

l. Some trust in chariots, and some in horses; but we will remember the name of the Lord our God. (Ps. 20:7.)

m. He hath shown thee, O man, what is good; and what doth the Lord require of thee, but to do justly, and to love mercy, and to walk humbly with thy God? (Mic. 6:8.) Who is a God like unto thee, that pardoneth iniquity, and passeth by the transgression of the remnant of his heritage? He retaineth not his anger for ever, because he delighteth in mercy. (Mic. 7:18.)

n. But unto them that are contentious, and do not obey the truth, but obey unrighteousness, indignation and wrath, Tribulation and anguish, upon every soul of man that doeth evil, of the Jew first, and also of the Gentile. (Rom. 2:8, 9.) Judge not according to the appearance, but judge righteous judgment. (Jno. 7:24.) Justice and judgment are the habitation of thy throne: mercy and truth shall go before thy face. (Ps. 89:14.)

o. And that I also have walked contrary unto them, and have brought them into the land of their enemies; if then their uncircumcised hearts be humbled, and they then accept of the punishment of their iniquity: Then will I remember my covenant with Jacob, and also my covenant with Isaac, and also my covenant with Abraham will I remember; and I will remember the land. (Lev. 26:41, 42.) For he is not a Jew which is one outwardly; neither is that circumcision which is outward in the flesh: But he is a Jew which is one inwardly; and circumcision is that of the heart, in the spirit, and not in the letter; whose praise is not of men, but of God. (Rom. 2:28, 29.)

Chapter 10.

a. And ye shall not walk in the manners of the nations which I cast out before you: for they committed all these things, and therefore I abhorred them. (Lev. 20:23.) After the doings of the land of Egypt, wherein ye dwelt, shall ye not do: and after the doings of the land of Canaan, whither I bring you, shall ye not do; neither shall ye walk in their ordinances. (Lev. 18:3.) Take heed to thyself that thou be not snared by following them, after that they be destroyed from before thee; and that thou enquire not after their gods, saying, How did these nations serve their gods? even so will I do likewise. (Dt. 12:30.)

b. They have mouths, but they speak not; eyes have they, but they see not. (Ps. 115:5.) Wce unto him that saith to the wood, Awake; to the dumb stone, Arise, it shall teach! Behold, it is laid over with gold and silver, and there is no breath at all in the midst of it. (Hab. 2:19.) Ye know that ye were Gentiles, carried away unto these dumb idols, even as ye were led. (I Cor. 12:2.)

c. Bel boweth down, Nebo stoopeth, their idols were upon the beasts, and upon the cattle: your carriages were heavy loaded; they are a burden to the weary beast (1). They bear him upon the shoulder, they carry him, and set him in his place, and he standeth; from his place shall he not remove: yea, one shall cry unto him, yet can he not answer, nor save him out of his trouble. (Is. 46:1, 7.)

d. Show the things that are to come hereafter, that we may know that ye are gods: yea, do good, or do evil, that we may be dismayed, and behold it together. Behold, ye are of nothing, and your work of nought: an abomination is he that chooseth you. (Is. 41:23, 24.)

e. Which in his times he shall show, who is the blessed and only Potentate, the King of kings, and Lord of lords. (I Tim. 6:15.) These shall make war with the Lamb, and the Lamb shall overcome them: for he is Lord of lords, and King of kings: and they that are with him are called, and chosen, and faithful. (Rev. 17:14.)

f. Thou, even thou, art to be feared: and who may stand in thy sight when once thou art angry? (Ps. 76:7.)

g. He hath made the earth by his power, he hath established the world by his wisdom, and hath stretched out the heaven by his understanding. When he uttereth his voice, there is a multitude of waters in the heavens; and he causeth the vapors to ascend from the ends of the earth: he maketh lightnings with rain, and bringeth forth the wind out of his treasures. Every man is brutish by his knowledge; every founder is confounded by the graven image: for his molten image is falsehood, and there is no breath in them. They are vanity, the work of errors:

multitude of waters in the heavens, and he causeth the vapours to ascend from the ends of the earth; he maketh lightnings with rain, and bringeth forth the wind out of his treasures.

14 Every man is brutish in his knowledge: every founder is confounded by the graven image: for his molten image is falsehood, and there is no breath in them.

15 They are vanity, [h]and the work of [8]errors: in the time of their visitation they shall perish.

16 The [i]portion of Jā'cob is not like them: for he is the former of all things; and Ĭs'ra-el is the rod of his inheritance: The [2]Lord of hosts is his name.

17 ¶ [9]Gather up thy wares out of the land, O inhabitant of the fortress.

18 For thus saith the Lord, Behold, I will sling out the inhabitants of the land at this once, and will distress them, that they may find it so.

19 ¶ Woe is me for my hurt! my wound is grievous: but I said, Truly this is a grief, and [j]I must bear it.

20 My tabernacle is spoiled, and all my cords are broken: my children are gone forth of me, and they are not: there is none to stretch forth my tent any more, and to set up my curtains.

21 For the pastors are become brutish, and have not sought the [2]Lord: therefore they shall not prosper, and all their flocks shall be scattered.

22 Behold, the noise of the [10]bruit is come, and a great commotion out of the north country, to make the cities of Jū'dah desolate, and a den of dragons.

23 ¶ O Lord, I know that the [k]way of man is not in himself: it is not in man that walketh to direct his steps.

24 O Lord, correct me, [l]but with judgment; not in thine anger, lest thou bring me to nothing.

25 Pour out thy fury upon the heathen that [m]know thee not, and upon the families that call not on thy name: for they have eaten up Jā'cob, and devoured him, and consumed him, and have made his habitation desolate.

CHAPTER 11.

1 Jeremiah proclaimeth God's covenant, 8 rebuketh the Jews' disobeying thereof, 11 prophesieth evils to come upon them, 18 and upon the men of Anathoth, for conspiring to kill Jeremiah.

1 [1]The word that came to Jĕr-e-mī'ah from the Lord, saying,

2 [2]Hear ye the words of this [3]covenant, and speak unto the men of Jū'dah, and to the inhabitants of Je-rū'sa-lĕm;

3 And say thou unto them, Thus saith the Lord God of Ĭs'ra-el; [4]Cursed [a]be the man that obeyeth not the words of this covenant,

4 Which I commanded your fathers in the day that I brought them forth out of the land of Ē'gўpt, from the iron furnace, saying, [b]Obey my voice, and do them, according to all which I command you: so shall ye be my people, and I will be your God:

5 That I may perform the [c]oath which I have sworn unto your fathers, to give them a land flowing with milk and honey, as it is this day. Then answered I, and said, So be it, O Lord.

6 Then the Lord said unto me, Proclaim all these [5]words in the cities of Jū'dah, and in the streets of Je-rū'sa-lĕm, saying, Hear ye the words of this covenant, [d]and do them.

7 For I earnestly protested unto your fathers in the day that I brought them up out of the land of Ē'gўpt, even unto this day, rising early and protesting, saying, Obey my voice.

8 Yet they obeyed not, nor inclined their ear, but walked every one in the [6]imagination of their evil heart: therefore I will bring upon them all the words of this covenant, which I commanded them to do; but they did them not.

9 [7]And the Lord said unto me, [e]A conspiracy is found among the men of Jū'dah, and among the inhabitants of Je-rū'sa-lĕm.

10 They are turned back to [f]the iniquities of their forefathers, which refused to hear my words; and they went after other gods to serve them: the house of Ĭs'ra-el and the house of Jū'dah have broken my covenant which I made with their fathers.

11 ¶ Therefore thus saith the Lord, Behold, I will bring evil upon them, which they shall not be able to escape; and [g]though they shall cry unto me, I will not hearken unto them.

12 Then shall the cities of Jū'dah and inhabitants of Je-rū'sa-lĕm go, and cry unto the gods unto whom they offer incense: but they

Ch. 11. B. C. 608.

1. In ch. 11 is given a brief epitome of the covenant or the book of the law (i. e., Dt., which was found in the temple in Josiah's reign), also Judah's revolt and the consequent wrath of God. In this and ch. 12 are the teachings which were instrumental in bringing about the wonderful revival during the reign of Josiah.

2. In vs. 2-8 is proclaimed the covenant between Jehovah and Israel.

3. An allusion to the Book of the Law found by Hilkiah, the priest.

4. A quotation from Dt. 27:26.

5. Book of the Law.

6. Stubbornness.

7. In vs. 9-13 is recorded the breaking of the covenant by Judah.

8. Mockery.

9. Vs. 17-25 detail the misery of the people.

10. The noise or rumor of invasion.

in the time of their visitation they shall perish. The Portion of Jacob is not like them; for he is the former of all things; and Israel is the rod of his inheritance: The Lord of hosts is his name. (Jer. 51:15-19.) Where wast thou when I laid the foundations of the earth? declare, if thou hast understanding. Who hath laid the measures thereof, if thou knowest? or who hath stretched the line upon it? Whereupon are the foundations thereof fastened, or who laid the corner stone thereof, When the morning stars sang together, and all the sons of God shouted for joy? (Job 38:4-7.) Praise him, ye heavens of heavens, and ye waters that be above the heavens. Let them praise the name of the Lord: for he commanded, and they were created. (Ps. 148:4, 5.)

h. Behold the voice of the cry of the daughter of my people because of them that dwell in a far country: Is not the Lord in Zion? is not her King in her? Why have they provoked me to anger with their graven images, and with strange vanities? (Jer. 8:19.) Behold, ye are of nothing, and your work of nought: an abomination is he that chooseth you. (Is. 41:24.)

i. The Lord is the portion of mine inheritance and of my cup: thou maintainest my lot. (Ps. 16:5.) My flesh and my heart faileth: but God is the strength of my heart, and my portion for ever. (Ps. 73:26.) Thou art my portion, O Lord: I have said that I would keep thy words. (Ps. 119:57.) The Lord is my portion, saith my soul; therefore will I hope in him. (Lam. 3:24.)

j. I will bear the indignation of the Lord, because I have sinned against him, until he plead my cause, and execute judgment for me: he will bring me forth to the light, and I shall behold his righteousness. (Mic. 7:9.)

k. The preparations of the heart in man, and the answer of the tongue, is from the Lord. (Prov. 16:1.) Man's goings are of the Lord; how can a man then understand his own way? (Prov. 20:24.) Not that we are sufficient of ourselves to think any thing as of ourselves; but our sufficiency is of God. (II Cor. 3:5.) But when they deliver you up, take no thought how or what ye shall speak: for it shall be given you in that same hour what ye shall speak. (Mat. 10:19.)

l. O Lord, rebuke me not in thy wrath: neither chasten me in thy hot displeasure. (Ps. 38:1.)

m. Surely such are the dwellings of the wicked, and this is the place of him that knoweth not God. (Job 18:21.) Not in the lust of concupiscence, even as the Gentiles which know not God. (I Thess. 4:5.) Inflaming fire taking vengeance on them that know not God, and that obey not the gospel of our Lord Jesus Christ. (II Thess. 1:8.)

Chapter 11.

a. Cursed be he that confirmeth not all the words of this law to do them. And all the people shall say, Amen. (Dt. 27:26.) For as many as are of the works of the law are under the curse: for it is written, Cursed is every one that continueth not in all things which are written in the book of the law to do them. (Gal. 3:10.)

b. If ye walk in my statutes, and keep my commandments, and do them; Then I will give you rain in due season, and the land shall yield her increase, and the trees of the field shall yield their fruit. (Lev. 26:3, 4.) Then shalt thou prosper, if thou takest heed to fulfil the statutes and judgments which the Lord charged Moses with concerning Israel: be strong, and of good courage; dread not, nor be dismayed. (I Chr. 22:13.) My son, forget not my law; but let thine heart keep my commandments. (Prov. 3:1.) Say ye to the righteous, that it shall be well with him; for they shall eat the fruit of their doings. (Is. 3:10.)

c. Wherefore it shall come to pass, if ye hearken to these judgments, and keep and do them, that the Lord thy God shall keep unto thee the covenant and the mercy which he sware unto thy fathers. (Dt. 7:12.) Which covenant he made with Abraham, and his oath unto Isaac. (Ps. 105:9.)

d. If ye know these things, happy are ye if ye do them. (Jno. 13:17.) For not the hearers of the law are just before God, but the doers of the law shall be justified. (Rom. 2:13.) But be ye doers of the word, and not hearers only, deceiving your own selves (22). But whoso looketh into the perfect law of liberty, and continueth therein, he being not a forgetful hearer, but a doer of the work, this man shall be blessed in his deed. (Js. 1:22, 25.)

e. There is a conspiracy of her prophets in the midst thereof, like a roaring lion ravening the prey: they have devoured souls; they have taken the treasure and precious things; they have made her many widows in the midst thereof. (Ez. 22:25.)

f. But I said unto their children in the wilderness, Walk ye not in the statutes of your fathers, neither observe their judgments, nor defile yourselves with their idols: I am the Lord your God; walk in my statutes, and keep my judgments, and do them. (Ez. 20:18, 19.) Ye shall observe to do therefore as the Lord your God hath commanded you: ye shall not turn aside to the right hand or to the left. (Dt. 5:32.)

g. They cried, but there was none to save them; even unto the Lord, but he answered them not. (Ps. 18:41.) Then shall they call upon me, but I will not answer; they shall seek me early, but they shall not find me. (Prov. 1:28.) And when ye spread forth your hands, I will hide shall not save them at all in the time of their trouble.

13 For according to the number of thy cities were thy gods, O Jū'dah; and according to the number of the streets of Je-rū'sa-lĕm have ye set up altars to that shameful thing, even altars to burn incense unto Bā'al.

14 [8]Therefore [h]pray [9]not thou for this people, neither lift up a cry [g]or prayer for them: for I will not hear them in the time that they cry unto me for their trouble.

15 What hath my beloved to do in mine house, seeing she hath wrought [i]lewdness with many, and the holy flesh is passed from thee? when thou doest evil, then thou rejoicest.

16 The Lord called thy name, A green olive tree, fair, and of goodly fruit: with the noise of a great tumult he hath kindled fire upon it, and the branches of it are broken.

17 For the Lord of hosts, [j]that planted thee, hath pronounced evil against thee, for the evil of the house of Īs'ra-el and of the house of Jū'dah, which they have done against themselves to provoke me to anger in offering incense unto Bā'al.

18 ¶ [10]And the Lord [k]hath given me knowledge of it, and I know it: then thou shewedst me their doings.

19 But I was like a lamb or an ox that is brought to the slaughter; and I knew not that they had devised devices against me, saying, Let us destroy the tree with the fruit thereof, and let us cut him off from the land of the living, that his name may be no more remembered.

20 But, O Lord of hosts, [l]that judgest righteously, that [m]triest the reins and the heart, let me see thy vengeance on them: for unto thee have I revealed my cause.

21 Therefore thus saith the Lord of the men of Ān'a-thŏth, that seek thy life, saying, Prophesy not in the name of the Lord, that thou die not by our hand:

22 Therefore thus saith the Lord of hosts, Behold, I will [n]punish them: the young [o]men shall die by the sword; their sons and their daughters shall die by famine:

23 And there shall be no remnant of them: for I will bring evil upon the men of Ān'a-thŏth, even the year of their visitation.

8. In vs. 14-17 is detailed the calamity which came upon the people as a result of breaking the covenant.

9. Because they had passed beyond the point of limit of intercessory prayer.

10. In vs. 18-23 is recorded the conspiracy of the people of Anathoth.

Ch. 12. B. C. 608.

1. In ch. 12 is Jer.'s complaint of the prosperity of the wicked compared with his own hard lot. Jehovah answers him that his own punishment is yet to increase, even at the hands of his own people, although the severest punishment would be visited on the faithless people. (Jer. 7:13, 14.) Mercy is still to be extended to Israel, if she will repent.

2. Undisturbed, free from punishment.

3. In v. 5 Jehovah tells Jer. that his present afflictions, compared with those which are to come, are like running a race with footmen compared to a race with horsemen.

4. Vs. 7-13 are the language of Jehovah, describing with great pathos the punishment of Israel.

CHAPTER 12.

1 Jeremiah, complaining of the wicked's prosperity, by faith seeth their ruin. 5 God admonisheth him of his brethren's treachery against him, 7 and lamenteth his heritage. 14 He promiseth to the penitent return from captivity.

1 [1]Righteous [a]art thou, O Lord, when I plead with thee: yet let me talk with thee of thy judgments: Wherefore doth the [b]way of the wicked prosper? wherefore are all they [2]happy that deal very treacherously?

2 Thou hast planted them, yea, they have taken root: they grow, yea, they bring forth fruit: [c]thou art near in their mouth, and far from their reins.

3 But thou, O Lord, [d]knowest me: thou hast seen me, and tried mine heart toward thee: pull them out like sheep for the slaughter, and prepare them for the day of slaughter.

4 How long shall the land mourn, and the herbs of every field wither, for the wickedness of them that dwell therein? the beasts are consumed, and the birds; because they said, He shall not see our last end.

5 ¶ [3]If thou hast run with the footmen, and they have wearied thee, then how canst thou contend with horses? and if in the land of peace, wherein thou trustedst, they wearied thee, then how wilt thou do in the swelling of Jor'dan?

6 For even thy brethren, and the house of thy father, even they have dealt treacherously with thee; yea, they have called a multitude after thee: believe them not, though they speak fair words unto thee.

7 ¶ [4]I have forsaken mine house, I have left mine heritage; I have given the dearly beloved of my soul into the hand of her enemies.

8 Mine heritage is unto me as a lion in the forest; it crieth out against me: therefore [e]have I hated it.

9 Mine heritage is unto me as a speckled bird, the birds round about are against her; mine eyes from you; yea, when ye make many prayers, I will not hear: your hands are full of blood. (Is. 1:15.) When they fast, I will not hear their cry; and when they offer burnt offering and an oblation, I will not accept them: but I will consume them by the sword, and by the famine, and by the pestilence. (Jer. 14:12.)

h. Now therefore let me alone, that my wrath may wax hot against them, and that I may consume them, and I will make of thee a great nation. (Ex. 32:10.) If any man see his brother sin a sin which is not unto death, he shall ask and he shall give him life for them that sin not unto death. There is a sin unto death: I do not say that he shall pray for it. (I Jno. 5:16.)

i. Thou hast built thy high place at every head of the way, and hast made thy beauty to be abhorred, and hast opened thy feet to every one that passed by, and multiplied thy whoredoms. (Ez. 16:25.) Unto the pure all things are pure: but unto them that are defiled and unbelieving is nothing pure; but even their mind and conscience is defiled. (Tit. 1:15.)

j. Your riches are corrupted, and your garments are moth-eaten. (Js. 5:2.)

k. Will the men of Keilah deliver me up into his hand? will Saul come down, as thy servant hath heard? O Lord God of Israel, I beseech thee, tell thy servant. And the Lord said, He will come down. Then said David, Will the men of Keilah deliver me and my men into the hand of Saul? And the Lord said, They will deliver thee up. (I Sam. 23:11, 12.) And the man of God sent unto the king of Israel, saying, Beware that thou pass not such a place; for thither the Syrians are come down. And the king of Israel sent to the place which the man of God told him and warned him of, and saved himself there, not once nor twice. (II Ks. 6:9, 10.) He said furthermore unto me, Son of man, seest thou what they do? even the great abominations that the house of Israel committeth here, that I should go far off from my sanctuary? But turn thee yet again, and thou shalt see greater abominations. (Ez. 8:6.)

l. The Lord shall judge the people: judge me, O Lord, according to my righteousness, and according to mine integrity that is in me. (Ps. 7:8.) Before the Lord: for he cometh to judge the earth: with righteousness shall he judge the world, and the people with equity. (Ps. 98:9.) Judge not according to the appearance, but judge righteous judgment. (Jno. 7:24.) He is the Rock, his work is perfect; for all his ways are judgment: a God of truth, and without iniquity, just and right is he. (Dt. 32:4.) Justice and judgment are the habitation of thy throne: mercy and truth shall go before thy face. (Ps. 89:14.)

m. But the Lord said unto Samuel, Look not on his countenance, or on the height of his stature; because I have refused him: for the LORD seeth not as man seeth; for man looketh on the outward appearance, but the Lord looketh on the heart. (I Sam. 16:7.) Oh let the wickedness of the wicked come to an end; but establish the just; for the righteous God trieth the hearts and reins. (Ps. 7:9.)

n. But I will punish you according to the fruit of your doings, saith the Lord; and I will kindle a fire in the forest thereof, and it shall devour all things round about it. (Jer. 21:14.)

o. Therefore he brought upon them the king of the Chaldees, who slew their young men with the sword in the house of their sanctuary, and had no compassion upon young man or maiden, old man, or him that stoopeth for age; he gave them all into his hand. (II Chr. 36:17.) Therefore deliver up their children to the famine, and pour out their blood by the force of the sword; and let their wives be bereaved of their children, and be widows; and let their men be put to death; let their young men be slain by the sword in battle. (Jer. 18:21.)

Chapter 12.

a. The Lord is righteous: he hath cut asunder the cords of the wicked. (Ps. 129:4.) O Lord God of Israel, thou art righteous; for we remain yet escaped, as it is this day: behold, we are before thee in our trespasses; for we cannot stand before thee because of this. (Ezra 9:15.) See ch. 11:20.

b. And now we call the proud happy; yea, they that work wickedness are set up; yea, they that tempt God are even delivered. (Mal. 3:15.) Therefore the law is slacked, and judgment doth never go forth: for the wicked doth compass about the righteous; therefore wrong judgment proceedeth. (Hab. 1:4.) As a cage is full of birds, so are their houses full of deceit: therefore they are become great, and waxen rich. They are waxen fat, they shine: yea, they overpass the deeds of the wicked: they judge not the cause, the cause of the fatherless, yet they prosper; and the right of the needy do they not judge. (Jer. 5:27, 28.)

c. Wherefore the Lord said, Forasmuch as this people draw near me with their mouth, and with their lips do honor me, but have removed their heart far from me, and their fear toward me is taught by the precept of men. (Is. 29:13.) And they come unto thee as the people cometh, and they sit before thee as my people, and they hear thy words, but they will not do them: for with their mouth they show much love, but their heart goeth after their covetousness. (Ez. 33:31.) They profess that they know God; but in works they deny him, being abominable, and disobedient, and unto every good work reprobate. (Tit. 1:16.)

d. And what can David say more unto thee? for thou, Lord God, knowest thy servant. (II Sam. 7:20.)

e. But they mocked the messengers of God, and despised his words, and misused his prophets, until the wrath of the Lord arose against his people, till there was no remedy. (II Chr. 36:16.) All their wickedness is in Gilgal; for there I hated them: for the wickedness of their doings I will drive them out of mine house. I will love them no more: all their princes are revolters. (Hos. 9:15.) The Lord God hath sworn by himself, saith the Lord the God of hosts, I abhor the excellency of Jacob.

come ye, assemble all the beasts of the field, come to devour.

10 Many [5]pastors have destroyed my vineyard, [f]they have trodden my portion under foot, they have made my pleasant portion a desolate wilderness.

11 They have made it desolate, and being desolate it mourneth unto me; the whole land is made desolate, because [g]no man layeth it to heart.

12 The spoilers are come upon all high places through the wilderness: for the sword of the Lord [h]shall devour from the one end of the land even to the other end of the land: no flesh shall have peace.

13 They [i]have sown wheat, but shall reap thorns: they have put themselves to pain, but shall not profit: and they shall be ashamed of your revenues because of the fierce [j]anger of the Lord.

14 ¶ [6]Thus saith the Lord against all mine evil neighbours, that [k]touch the [7]inheritance which I have caused my people Is'ra-el to inherit; Behold, I will pluck them out of their land, and pluck out the house of Jū'dah from among them.

15 And it shall come to pass, after that I have plucked them out I will return, and have compassion on them, and [l]will bring them again, every man to his heritage, and every man to his land.

16 And it shall come to pass, if they will diligently learn the ways of my people, to swear by my name, The Lord liveth; as they taught my people to swear by Bā'al; then shall they be [m]built in the midst of my people.

17 But if they will not [n]obey, I will utterly pluck up and destroy that nation, saith the Lord.

CHAPTER 13.

1 In the type of a linen girdle, hidden at Euphrates, God prefigureth the destruction of his people. 12 Under the parable of the bottles filled with wine he foretelleth their drunkenness in misery.

1 [1]Thus saith the Lord unto me, Go and get thee a linen girdle, and put it upon thy loins, and put [2]it not in water.

2 So I got a girdle according to the word of the Lord, and put it on my loins.

3 And the word of the Lord came unto me the second time, saying,

4 Take the girdle that thou hast got, which is upon thy loins, and arise, go to [3]Eū-phrā'tēs, and hide it there in a [4]hole of the rock.

5 So I went, and hid it by Eū-phrā'tēs, as the Lord commanded me.

6 And it came to pass after [5]many days, that the Lord said unto me, Arise, go to Eū-phrā'tēs, and take the girdle from thence, which I commanded thee to hide there.

7 Then I went to Eū-phrā'tēs, and digged, and took the girdle from the place where I had hid it: and, behold, the girdle was marred, it was profitable for nothing.

8 Then the word of the Lord came unto me, saying,

9 Thus saith the Lord, After this manner [a]will I [6]mar the pride of Jū'dah, and the great pride of Je-rū'sa-lēm.

10 This evil people, which [b]refuse to hear my words, which walk in the imagination of their heart, and walk after other gods, to serve them, and to worship them, shall even be as this girdle, which is good for nothing.

11 For as the girdle cleaveth to the loins of a man, so have I caused to cleave unto me the whole house of Is'ra-el and the whole house of Jū'dah, saith the Lord; that [c]they might be unto me for a [7]people, and [7]for a name, and for a [7]praise, and for a [7]glory: but they would not hear.

12 ¶ Therefore thou shalt speak unto them this word; Thus saith the Lord God of Is'ra-el, Every bottle shall be filled with wine: and they shall say unto thee, Do we not certainly know that every bottle shall be filled with wine?

13 Then shalt thou say unto them, Thus saith the Lord, Behold, I will fill all the inhabitants of this land, even the kings that sit upon Dā'vid's throne, and the priests, and the prophets, and all the inhabitants of Je-rū'sa-lēm, with [8]drunkenness.

14 And [d]I will dash them one against another, even the fathers and the sons together,

5. Shepherds. The word "pastor," meaning shepherds, is not used in any other portion of the Old Testament than Jer.

6. In vs. 14-17 are promised pardon and restoration, conditioned upon the people's repentance.

7. Viz., Philistines, Ammonites, Moabites, Syrians, Edomites, etc.

Ch. 13. B. C. 602.

1. Ch. 13 is a complete whole and has been called the symbolical prophecy, as it is couched in figures and symbols which existed only in the prophet's mind.

2. Do not wash it.

3. The future scene of their captivity.

4. Typifying the prisons in which they are to be cast.

5. Time enough to become marred or mildewed. For answer to this figure, see v. 9.

6. Fulfilled in the loss of temporal greatness.

7. It is interesting to observe the many expressions used to explain the relation between Jehovah and his people, as if the language were almost too sterile to convey the meaning.

8. Which comes from the wine of God's wrath.

and hate his palaces: therefore will I deliver up the city, with all that is therein. (Amos 6:8.)

f. And now go to; I will tell you what I will do to my vineyard: I will take away the hedge thereof, and it shall be eaten up; and break down the wall thereof, and it shall be trodden down. (Is. 5:5.) The people of thy holiness have possessed it but a little while: our adversaries have trodden down thy sanctuary. (Is. 63:18.)

g. Therefore he hath poured upon him the fury of his anger, and the strength of battle: and it hath set him on fire round about, yet he knew not; and it burned him, yet he laid it not to heart. (Is. 42:25.)

h. O thou sword of the Lord, how long will it be ere thou be quiet? Put up thyself into thy scabbard, rest, and be still. (Jer. 47:6.) The sword of the Lord is filled with blood; it is made fat with fatness, and with the blood of lambs and goats, with the fat of the kidneys of rams: for the Lord hath a sacrifice in Bozrah, and a great slaughter in the land of Idumea. (Is. 34:6.) And though they go into captivity before their enemies, thence will I command the sword, and it shall slay them: and I will set mine eyes upon them for evil, and not for good. (Amos 9:4.)

i. I also will do this unto you; I will even appoint over you terror, consumption, and the burning ague, that shall consume the eyes, and cause sorrow of heart: and ye shall sow your seed in vain, for your enemies shall eat it. (Lev. 26:16.) Thou shalt sow, but thou shalt not reap; thou shalt tread the olives, but thou shalt not anoint thee with oil; and sweet wine, but shalt not drink wine. (Mic. 6:15.) Ye have sown much, and bring in little; ye eat, but ye have not enough; ye drink, but ye are not filled with drink; ye clothe you, but there is none warm; and he that earneth wages, earneth wages to put it into a bag with holes. (Hag. 1:6.)

j. I beheld, and, lo, the fruitful place was a wilderness, and all the cities thereof were broken down at the presence of the Lord, and by his fierce anger. (Jer. 4:26.) And the peaceable habitations are cut down because of the fierce anger of the Lord. He hath forsaken his covert, as the lion, for their land is desolate because of the fierceness of the oppressor, and because of his fierce anger. (Jer. 25:37, 38.)

k. For thus saith the Lord of hosts; After the glory hath he sent me unto the nations which spoiled you; for he that toucheth you toucheth the apple of his eye. (Zech. 2:8.)

l. And I will bring again the captivity of my people of Israel, and they shall build the waste cities, and inhabit them; and they shall plant vineyards, and drink the wine thereof; they shall also make gardens, and eat the fruit of them. (Amos 9:14.)

m. And are built upon the foundation of the apostles and prophets, Jesus Christ himself being the chief corner stone. (Eph. 2:20.) Ye also, as lively stones, are built up a spiritual house, an holy priesthood, to offer up spiritual sacrifices, acceptable to God by Jesus Christ. (I Pet. 2:5.) O Lord, my strength, and my fortress, and my refuge in the day of affliction, the Gentiles shall come unto thee from the ends of the earth, and shall say, Surely our fathers have inherited lies, vanity, and things wherein there is no profit. (Jer. 16:19.)

n. For the nation and kingdom that will not serve thee shall perish; yea, those nations shall be utterly wasted. (Is. 60:12.) Ask of me, and I shall give thee the heathen for thine inheritance, and the uttermost parts of the earth for thy possession. Thou shalt break them with a rod of iron; thou shalt dash them in pieces like a potter's vessel. Be wise now therefore, O ye kings; be instructed, ye judges of the earth. Serve the Lord with fear, and rejoice with trembling. Kiss the Son, lest he be angry, and ye perish from the way, when his wrath is kindled but a little. Blessed are all they that put their trust in him. (Ps. 2:8-12.)

Chapter 13.

a. Thou hast made us as the off-scouring and refuse in the midst of the people. (Lam. 3:45.) And I will break the pride of your power; and I will make your heaven as iron, and your earth as brass. (Lev. 26:19.) Enter into the rock, and hide thee in the dust, for fear of the Lord, and for the glory of his majesty. The lofty looks of man shall be humbled, and the haughtiness of men shall be bowed down, and the Lord alone shall be exalted in that day. For the day of the Lord of hosts shall be upon every one that is proud and lofty, and upon every one that is lifted up, and he shall be brought low: And upon all the cedars of Lebanon, that are high and lifted up, and upon all the oaks of Bashan, And upon all the high mountains, and upon all the hills that are lifted up, And upon every high tower, and upon every fenced wall, And upon all the ships of Tarshish, and upon all pleasant pictures. And the loftiness of man shall be bowed down, and the haughtiness of men shall be made low; and the Lord alone shall be exalted in that day. (Is. 2:10-17.)

b. But they mocked the messengers of God, and despised his words, and misused his prophets, until the wrath of the Lord rose against his people, till there was no remedy. (II Chr. 36:16.) Now, if thou shalt kill all this people as one man, then the nations which have heard the fame of thee will speak, saying. (Num. 14:15.)

c. Now therefore, if ye will obey my voice indeed, and keep my covenant, then ye shall be a peculiar treasure unto me above all people: for all the earth is mine. (Ex. 19:5.) And it shall be to me a name of joy, a praise and an honor before all the nations of the earth, which shall hear all the good that I do unto them: and they shall fear and tremble for all the goodness, and for all the prosperity, that I procure unto it. (Jer. 33:9.)

d. And he shall snatch on the right hand, and be hungry; and he shall eat on the left hand, and they shall not be satisfied: they shall eat every man the flesh of his own arm: Manasseh, Ephraim: and Ephraim, Manassen: and they together shall be against Judah. For all this his anger is not turned away, but his hand is stretched out still.

saith the Lord: I will [c]not pity, nor spare, nor have mercy, but destroy them.

15 ¶ Hear ye, and give ear; be not proud: for the Lord hath spoken.

16 [f]Give glory to the Lord your God, before he cause [g]darkness, and before your feet stumble upon the dark mountains, and, while ye look for light, [h]he turn it into the shadow of death, and make it gross darkness.

17 But if ye will not hear it, my soul shall weep in secret places for your pride; and mine eye shall weep sore, and run down with tears, because the Lord's flock is carried away captive.

18 Say unto the king and to the queen, Humble yourselves, sit down: for your principalities shall come down, even the crown of your glory.

19 The cities of the south shall be shut up, and none shall open them: Jū'dah shall be carried away captive [i]all of it, it shall be wholly carried away captive.

20 Lift up your eyes, and behold them that come [8]from the north: where is the flock that was given thee, thy beautiful flock?

21 What wilt thou say when he shall punish thee? for thou hast taught them to be captains, and as chief over thee: shall not sorrows take thee, as a woman in travail?

22 ¶ And if thou say in thine heart, Wherefore come these things upon me? For the greatness of thine iniquity are thy skirts discovered, and thy heels made bare.

23 Can the Ē-thĭ-ō'pĭ-an change [j]his skin, or the leopard his spots? then may ye also do good, that are accustomed to do evil.

24 Therefore will I scatter them as the stubble that passeth away by the wind of the wilderness.

25 [10]This [k]is thy lot, the portion of thy measures from me, saith the Lord; because thou hast [l]forgotten me, and trusted in falsehood.

26 Therefore [m]will I discover thy skirts upon thy face, that thy shame may appear.

27 I have seen thine adulteries, and thy neighings, the lewdness of thy whoredom, and thine abominations [n]on the hills in the fields. Woe unto thee, O Je-rū'sa-lĕm! wilt thou not be made clean? when shall it once be?

9. Nebuchadnezzar and his army. (Jer. 1:14; also Jer. 6:22.)

10. In vs. 25-27 is drawn a fearfully vivid picture of the idolatry and apostasy of the people.

CHAPTER 14.

1 The grievous famine. 7 causeth Jeremiah to pray. 10 The Lord will not be entreated for the people. 13 Lying prophets are no excuse for them. 17 Jeremiah is moved to complain for them.

Ch. 14. B. C. 601.

1. In this ch. is recorded the description of the physical calamity of the people and the prophet's twice repeated prayer, which was twice refused.

1 The [1]word of the Lord that [2]came to Jĕr-e-mī'ah concerning the dearth.

2. In vs. 1-6 is described the terrible drouth, which shall parch the entire country of the Jews.

2 Jū'dah mourneth, and the [3]gates [a]thereof languish; they are black unto the ground; and the cry of Je-rū'sa-lĕm is gone up.

3. Meaning the cities.

3 And their nobles have sent their [4]little ones to the waters: they came to the [5]pits, and found no water; they returned with their vessels empty; they were [b]ashamed and confounded, and covered their heads.

4. The common people in contrast with the nobles. The word children is also used in the same sense in ch. 48:4 "Moab is destroyed; her little ones have caused a cry to be heard." The only other place in the Bible of such a use of the word.

4 Because the ground is chapt, for there was no rain in the earth, the plowmen were ashamed, they covered their heads.

5. Cisterns.

5 Yea, the hind [6]also calved in the field, and forsook it, because there was no grass.

6. Especially mentioned to show the extent of the drouth.

6 And the wild asses did stand in the high places, they snuffed up the wind like [7]dragons; their eyes did fail, because there was no grass.

7. Jackals.

7 ¶ [8]O Lord, though our [c]iniquities testify against us, do thou it for thy name's [d]sake: for our backslidings are many; we have sinned against thee.

8. In vs. 7-9, also 19-22, is recorded the prophet's prayer in behalf of the suffering people.

8 O the hope of Ĭs'ra-el, the [e]saviour thereof in time of trouble, why shouldest thou be as a stranger in the land, and as a wayfaring man that turneth aside to tarry for a night?

9 Why shouldest thou be as a man astonied, as a mighty man that cannot save? yet thou, O Lord, [f]art in the midst of us, and we are called by thy name; leave us not.

9. In vs. 10-18 the prophet's prayer is refused.

10 ¶ [9]Thus saith the Lord unto this people, Thus have they loved to wander, they have not refrained their feet, therefore the Lord doth not accept them; [g]he will now remember their iniquity, and visit their sins.

(Is. 9:20, 21.) And I will cause them to eat the flesh of their sons, and the flesh of their daughters, and they shall eat every one the flesh of his friend, in the siege and straitness wherewith their enemies, and they that seek their lives, shall straiten them. Then shalt thou break the bottle in the sight of the men that go with thee, And shalt say unto them, Thus saith the Lord of hosts, Even so will I break this people, and this city, as one breaketh a potter's vessel, that cannot be made whole again: and they shall bury them in Tophet, till there be no place to bury. (Jer. 19:9-11.)

e. The Lord will not spare him, but then the anger of the Lord and his jealousy shall smoke against that man, and all the curses that are written in this book shall lie upon him, and the Lord shall blot out his name from under heaven. (Dt. 29:20.)

f. And Joshua said unto Achan, My son, give, I pray thee, glory to the Lord God of Israel, and make confession unto him; and tell me now what thou hast done; hide it not from me. (Josh. 7:19.)

g. And they shall look unto the earth; and behold trouble and darkness, dimness of anguish; and they shall be driven to darkness. (Is. 8:22.) And it shall come to pass in that day, saith the Lord God, that I will cause the sun to go down at noon, and I will darken the earth in the clear day: And I will turn your feasts into mourning, and all your songs into lamentation; and I will bring up sackcloth upon all loins, and baldness upon every head; and I will make it as the mourning of an only son, and the end thereof as a bitter day. (Amos 8:9, 10.)

h. Therefore is judgment far from us, neither doth justice overtake us: we wait for light, but behold obscurity; for brightness, but we walk in darkness. (Is. 59:9.) Though thou hast sore broken us in the place of dragons, and covered us with the shadow of death. (Ps. 44:19.)

i. And I will make your cities waste, and bring your sanctuaries unto desolation, and I will not smell the savor of your sweet odors. (Lev. 26:31.)

j. Though thou shouldest bray a fool in a mortar among wheat with a pestle, yet will not his foolishness depart from him. (Prov. 27:22.) Why should ye be stricken any more? ye will revolt more and more. The whole head is sick, and the whole heart faint. (Is. 1:5.) And again I say unto you, It is easier for a camel to go through the eye of a needle, than for a rich man to enter into the kingdom of God. (Mat. 19:24.)

k. This is the portion of a wicked man from God, and the heritage appointed unto him by God. (Job 20:29.) Upon the wicked he shall rain snares, fire and brimstone, and an horrible tempest: this shall be the portion of their cup. (Ps. 11:6.) Tribulation and anguish, upon every soul of man that doeth evil, of the Jew first, and also of the Gentile. (Rom. 2:9.) Evil pursueth sinners; but to the righteous good shall be repaid. (Prov. 13:21.) He is the Rock, his work is perfect; for all his ways are judgment: a God of truth, and without iniquity, just and right is he. (Dt. 32:4.)

l. The wicked shall be turned into hell, and all the nations that forget God. (Ps 9:17.) They forgat God their Saviour, which had done great things in Egypt. Wondrous works in the land of Ham, and terrible things by the Red sea. (Ps. 106:21, 22.) Can a maid forget her ornaments, or a bride her attire? yet my people have forgotten me days without number. (Jer. 2:32.)

m. Jerusalem hath grievously sinned; therefore she is removed: all that honored her despise her, because they have seen her nakedness; yea, she sigheth, and turneth backward. (Lam. 1:8.) And now will I discover her lewdness in the sight of her lovers, and none shall deliver her out of mine hand. (Hos. 2:10.)

n. Your iniquities, and the iniquities of your fathers together, saith the Lord, which have burnt incense upon the mountains, and blasphemed me upon the hills: therefore will I measure their former work into their bosom. (Is. 65:7.)

Chapter 14.

a. And her gates shall lament and mourn: and she, being desolate, shall sit upon the ground. (Is. 3:26.) And the men that died not were smitten with the emerods: and the cry of the city went up to heaven. (I Sam. 5:12.)

b. Let them be ashamed and confounded together that seek after my soul to destroy it; let them be driven backward and put to shame that wish me evil. (Ps. 40:14.) And David went up by the ascent of mount Olivet, and wept as he went up, and had his head covered; and he went barefoot: and all the people that was with him covered every man his head, and they went up, weeping as they went up. (II Sam. 15:30.)

c. For our transgressions are multiplied before thee, and our sins testify against us; for our transgressions are with us; and as for our iniquities, we know them. (Is. 59:12.) And the pride of Israel doth testify to his face: therefore shall Israel and Ephraim fall in their iniquity; Judah also shall fall with them. (Hos. 5:5.)

d. For thy name's sake, O Lord, pardon mine iniquity; for it is great. (Ps. 25:11.) Help us, O God of our salvation, for the glory of thy name; and deliver us, and purge away our sins, for thy name's sake. (Ps. 79:9.) Quicken me, O Lord, for thy name's sake: for thy righteousness' sake bring my soul out of trouble. (Ps. 143:11.)

e. God is our refuge and strength, a very present help in trouble. (Ps. 46:1.) For thou art my rock and my fortress; therefore for thy name's sake lead me, and guide me. Pull me out of the net that they have laid privily for me; for thou art my strength. (Ps. 31:3, 4.) The Lord is my light and my salvation; whom shall I fear? the Lord is the strength of my life; of whom shall I be afraid? (Ps. 27:1.)

f. And I will dwell among the children of Israel, and will be their God. (Ex. 29:45.) And I will set my tabernacle among you: and my soul shall not abhor you. And I will walk among you, and will be your God, and ye shall be my people. (Lev. 26:11, 12.)

g. They sacrifice flesh for the sacrifices of mine offerings, and eat it; but the Lord accepteth them not: now will he remember their iniquity, and visit their sins: they shall return to Egypt. (Hos. 8:13.)

11 Then said the Lord unto me, [h]Pray not for this people for their good.

12 When they fast, I will [i]not hear their cry; and when they offer burnt offering and an oblation, I will not accept them: but I will consume them by the sword, and by the famine, and by the pestilence.

13 ¶ Then said I, Ah, Lord God! behold, the prophets say unto them, Ye shall not see the sword, neither shall ye have famine; but I will give you assured peace in this place.

14 Then the Lord said unto me, The prophets prophesy lies in my name: I sent them not, neither have I commanded them, neither spake unto them: they prophesy unto you a false vision and divination, and a thing of nought, and the deceit of their heart.

15 Therefore thus saith the Lord concerning the prophets that prophesy in my name, and I sent them not, yet they say, Sword and famine shall not be in this land; By sword and famine shall [j]those prophets be consumed.

16 And the people to whom they prophesy shall be cast out in the streets of Je-rụ́sa-lĕm because of the famine and the sword; and they shall have none to bury them, them, their wives, nor their sons, nor their daughters: for I will pour their wickedness upon them.

17 ¶ Therefore thou shalt say this word unto them; Let mine eyes run down with tears night and day, and let them not cease: for the virgin daughter of my people is broken with a great breach, with a very grievous blow.

18 If I go forth into the field, then behold the slain with the sword! and if I enter into the city, then behold them that are sick with famine! yea, both the prophet and the priest go about into a land that they know not.

19 Hast thou utterly rejected Jū́dah? hath thy soul lothed Zī́ŏn? why hast thou smitten us, and there is no healing for us? we looked for peace, and there is no good; and for the time of healing, and behold trouble!

20 We [k]acknowledge, O Lord, our wickedness, and the iniquity of our fathers: for [l]we have sinned against thee.

21 Do not abhor us, for thy name's sake, do not disgrace the throne of thy glory: remember, break not thy covenant with us.

22 Are there any among the vanities of the Gĕn'tīles that can cause rain? or can the heavens give showers? art not thou he, O Lord our God? therefore we will wait upon thee: for thou hast made all these things.

CHAPTER 15.

1 The utter rejection and manifold judgments of the Jews. 10 Jeremiah, complaining of their spite, receiveth a promise for himself, 12 and a threatening for them. 15 He prayeth.

1 [1]Then said the Lord unto me, Though [a]Mṓses and [2]Săm'u-el stood before me, yet my mind could not be toward this people: cast them out of my sight, and let them go forth.

2 And it shall come to pass, if they say unto thee, Whither shall we go forth? then thou shalt tell [3]them, Thus saith the Lord; Such as are [4]for death, to death; and such as are for the sword, to the sword; and such as are for the famine, to the famine; and such as are for the captivity, to the captivity.

3 And I will [b]appoint over them four [4]kinds, saith the Lord: the sword to slay, and the dogs to tear, and the fowls of the heaven, and the beasts of the earth, to devour and destroy.

4 And I will cause them to be removed into all kingdoms of the earth, because of Ma-năs'seh the son of Hĕz-e-kī'ah king of Jū'dah, for that which he did in Je-rụ́sa-lĕm.

5 For who [5]shall have pity upon thee, O Je-rụ́sa-lĕm? or who shall bemoan thee? or who shall go aside to ask how thou doest?

6 Thou [c]hast [6]forsaken me, saith the Lord, thou art gone backward: therefore will I stretch out my hand against thee, and destroy thee; I am weary with [7]repenting.

7 And I will fan them with a fan in the gates of the land; I will bereave them of children, I will destroy my people, since they return not from their ways.

8 Their widows are increased to me above the sand of the seas: I have brought upon them against the mother of the young men a spoiler at noonday: I have caused him to fall upon it suddenly, and terrors upon the city.

9 She that hath borne seven [8]languisheth: she hath given up the ghost; her sun is gone down while it was [9]yet day: she hath been ashamed and confounded: and the residue of them will I deliver to the sword before their enemies, saith the Lord.

10 ¶ [10]Woe is [11]me, my mother, that thou hast borne me a man of [12]strife and a man of contention to the whole earth! I have neither lent on usury, nor men have lent to me on usury; yet every one of them doth curse me.

11 The Lord said, Verily it shall be well with thy remnant; verily [d]I will cause the enemy to entreat thee well in the time of evil and in the time of affliction.

12 [13]Shall iron break the northern iron and the steel?

13 Thy substance and thy treasures will I give to the spoil without price, and that for all thy sins, even in all thy borders.

14 And I will make thee to pass with thine enemies into a land which thou knowest not: for a fire is kindled in mine anger, which shall burn upon you.

15 ¶ O Lord, thou knowest: remember me, and visit me, and [14]revenge me of my persecutors; take me not away in thy longsuffering: know that for thy sake I have suffered rebuke.

16 Thy words were found, and I did eat them; and thy word was unto me the joy and rejoicing of mine heart: for I am called by thy name, O Lord God of hosts.

Ch. 15. B. C. 601.

1. Ch. 15 is an unfortunate ch. division, as the discourse is directly continued from ch. 14. In the last verses of that ch. the prophet delivers an urgent, importunate prayer and in the first nine verses of ch. 15 is recorded an emphatic refusal.

2. The sin of the people has become so great that not even such holy men as Moses and Samuel, who had so often saved the people, could do any good now.

3. Each to his own faith, according to his sins, either to death, sword, famine or captivity.

4. Punishments.

5. They have rejected Jer., their best friend and most influential one with God, who now will pity them? How like their descendants, when they rejected and crucified Christ.

6. Rejected.

7. That is, Jehovah has so often spared them, and seen no repentance on their part in response to his forbearance, that now there can be no further delay.

8. That is, not one of her seven sons now remained.

9. A symbol of violence and calamity.

10. In vs. 10-21 the prophet is set right and comforted.

11. An expression showing the burden on the heart of Jer., similar to the language of Job, in Job 3:3—"Let the day perish wherein I was born and the night in which it was said, There is a man child conceived."

12. A prophet of evil omen.

13. Can one break iron? even iron and brass from the north? (R. V.)

14. Not a cry for vindictive revenge, but a prayer for vindication as a prophet of God, because the honor of God's cause is bound up in his (as God's representative) success or failure.

---

h. Now therefore let me alone, that my wrath may wax hot against them, and that I may consume them, and I will make of thee a great nation. (Ex. 32:10.)

i. Then shall they call upon me, but I will not answer; they shall seek me early, but they shall not find me. (Prov. 1:28.) And when ye spread forth your hands, I will hide mine eyes from you; yea, when ye make many prayers, I will not hear: your hands are full of blood. (Is. 1:15.) Therefore thus saith the Lord, Behold, I will bring evil upon them, which they shall not be able to escape; and though they shall cry unto me, I will not hearken unto them. (Jer. 11:11.)

j. Therefore thus saith the Lord of hosts concerning the prophets; Behold, I will feed them with wormwood, and make them drink the water of gall: for from the prophets of Jerusalem is profaneness gone forth into all the land. (Jer. 23:15.)

k. And at the evening sacrifice I rose up from my heaviness; and, having rent my garment and my mantle, I fell upon my knees, and spread out my hands unto the Lord my God, And said, O my God, I am ashamed and blush to lift up my face to thee, my God: for our iniquities are increased over our head, and our trespass is grown up unto the heavens. (Ezra 9:5, 6.)

l. O Lord, to us belongeth confusion of face, to our kings, to our princes, and to our fathers, because we have sinned against thee. (Dan. 9:8.) I acknowledged my sin unto thee, and mine iniquity have I not hid. I said, I will confess my transgressions unto the Lord; and thou forgavest the iniquity of my sin. Selah. (Ps. 32:5.) If we confess our sins, he is faithful and just to forgive us our sins, and to cleanse us from all unrighteousness. (I Jno. 1:9.)

Chapter 15.

a. Moses and Aaron among his priests, and Samuel among them that call upon his name; they called upon the Lord, and he answered them. (Ps. 99:6.) And Samuel took a sucking lamb, and offered it for a burnt offering wholly unto the Lord; and Samuel cried unto the Lord for Israel; and the Lord heard him. (I Sam. 7:9.)

b. I also will do this unto you; I will even appoint over you terror, consumption, and the burning ague, that shall consume the eyes, and cause sorrow of heart: and ye shall sow your seed in vain, for your enemies shall eat it. (Lev. 26:16.)

c. Hear, O earth: behold, I will bring evil upon this people, even the fruit of their thoughts, because they have not hearkened unto my words, nor to my law, but rejected it. (Jer. 6:19.) The wise men are ashamed, they are dismayed and taken: lo, they have rejected the word of the Lord; and what wisdom is in them? (Jer. 8:9.)

d. Now Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon gave charge concerning Jeremiah to Nebuzaradan the captain of the guard, saying, Take him, and look well to him, and do him no harm; but do unto him even as he shall say unto thee. (Jer. 39:11, 12.) And now, behold, I loose thee this day from the chains which were upon thine hand. If it seem good unto thee to come with me into Babylon, come; and I will look well unto 17 [c]I sat not in the assembly of the mockers, nor rejoiced; I sat alone because of thy hand: for thou hast filled me with indignation.

18 Why is my [f]pain perpetual, and my wound incurable, which refuseth to be healed? wilt thou be altogether unto me as a liar, and as waters that fail?

19 ¶ Therefore thus saith the Lord, If thou return, then will I bring thee again, and thou shalt stand before me: and if thou take forth the precious from the vile, thou shalt be as my mouth: let them return unto thee; but return not thou unto them.

20 And I will make thee unto this people a fenced brasen wall: and they shall fight against thee, but they shall not prevail against thee: for I am with thee to save thee and to deliver thee, saith the Lord.

21 And I will [g]deliver thee out of the hand of the wicked, and I will redeem thee out of the hand of the terrible.

CHAPTER 16.

1 The prophet, under the types of abstaining from marriage, from houses of mourning and feasting, foresheweth the utter ruin of the Jews, 10 because they were worse than their fathers.

1 [1]The word of the Lord came also unto me, saying,

2 Thou shalt not take [2]thee a wife, neither shalt thou have sons or daughters in [3]this place.

3 For thus saith the Lord concerning the sons and concerning the daughters that are born in this place, and concerning their mothers that bare them, and concerning their fathers that begat them in this land;

4 They shall die of grievous deaths; they shall not be lamented; neither shall they be buried; but they shall be as dung upon the face of the earth: and they shall be consumed by the sword, and by famine; and their carcases shall be meat for the fowls of heaven, and for the beasts of the earth.

5 For thus saith the Lord, Enter not into the house of mourning, neither go to lament nor bemoan them: for I have taken away my peace from this people, saith the Lord, even lovingkindness and mercies.

6 Both the great and the small shall die in this land: they shall not be buried, neither shall men lament for them, nor cut [4]themselves, nor make themselves bald for them:

7 Neither shall men tear themselves for them in mourning, to comfort them for the dead; neither shall men give them the cup of consolation to drink for their father or for their mother.

8 Thou shalt not also go into the house of feasting, to sit with them to eat and to drink.

9 For thus saith the Lord of hosts, the God of Ĭs'ra-el; Behold, [a]I will cause to cease out of this place in your eyes, and in your days, the voice of mirth, and the voice of gladness, the voice of the bridegroom, and the voice of the bride.

10 ¶ [5]And it shall come to pass, when thou shalt shew this people all these words, and they shall say unto thee, [b]Wherefore hath the Lord pronounced all this great evil against us? or what is our iniquity? or what is our sin that we have committed against the Lord our God?

11 Then shalt thou say unto them, [c]Because your fathers have forsaken me, saith the Lord, and have walked after other gods, and have served them, and have worshipped them, and have forsaken me, and have not kept my law;

12 And ye have done [d]worse than your fathers; for, behold, ye walk every one after the [6]imagination of his evil heart, that they may not hearken unto me:

13 Therefore will I cast you out of this land into a land that ye know not, neither ye nor your fathers; and there shall ye serve other gods day and night; where I will not shew you favour.

14 ¶ Therefore, behold, the days come, saith the Lord, that it shall no more be said, The Lord liveth, that brought up the children of Ĭs'ra-el out of the land of Ē'gўpt;

15 But, The Lord liveth, that brought up the children of Ĭs'ra-el from the land of the north, and from all the lands whither he had driven them: and I will bring them again into their land that I gave unto their fathers.

16 ¶ [7]Behold, I will send for many fishers, saith the Lord, and they shall fish them; and after will I send for many hunters, and they shall hunt them from every mountain, and from every hill, and out of the holes of the rocks.

17 For mine [e]eyes are upon all their ways: they are not hid from my face, neither is their iniquity hid from mine eyes.

18 And first I will recompense their iniquity and their sin double; because they have [f]defiled my land, they have filled mine inheritance with the carcases of their detestable and abominable things.

19 O Lord, [g]my strength, and my fortress, and my refuge in the day of affliction, the Gĕn'tīleş shall come unto thee from the ends of the earth, and shall say, Surely our fathers have inherited lies, vanity, and things wherein there is no profit.

Ch. 16. B. C. 601.

1. In ch. 16 is continued the prophecy concerning the cause and judgments now impending.

2. A command given because of the great catastrophe which was before the people. This prohibition should be compared with I Chr. 7:26 and Ez. 24:15-17.

3. Judea.

4. Forms of mourning forbidden in the law. (Lev. 19:28)—"Ye shall not make any cuttings in your flesh for the dead nor print any marks upon you."

5. In vs. 10-15 is recorded the cause of the impending judgment.

6. Stubbornness.

7. In vs. 16-21 are given many details of the exile.

thee; but if it seem ill unto thee to come with me into Babylon, forbear: behold, all the land is before thee: whither it seemeth good and convenient for thee to go, thither go. (Jer. 40:4.)

e. Blessed is the man that walketh not in the counsel of the ungodly, nor standeth in the way of sinners, nor sitteth in the seat of the scornful. (Ps. 1:1.) Wherefore come out from among them, and be ye separate, saith the Lord, and touch not the unclean thing; and I will receive you. (II Cor. 6:17.) And I heard another voice from heaven, saying, Come out of her, my people, that ye be not partakers of her sins, and that ye receive not of her plagues. (Rev. 18:4.)

f. Why criest thou for thine affliction? thy sorrow is incurable for the multitude of thine iniquity: because thy sins were increased, I have done these things unto thee. (Jer. 30:15.)

g. But thus saith the Lord, Even the captives of the mighty shall be taken away, and the prey of the terrible shall be delivered: for I will contend with him that contendeth with thee, and I will save thy children. (Is. 49:25.) Be not afraid of their faces: for I am with thee to deliver thee, saith the Lord. (Jer. 1:8.) So that we may boldly say, The Lord is my helper, and I will not fear what man shall do unto me. (Heb. 13:6.) And lead us not into temptation, but deliver us from evil: For thine is the kingdom, and the power, and the glory, for ever. Amen. (Mat. 6:13.)

Chapter 16.

a. The new wine mourneth, the vine languisheth, all the merryhearted do sigh. (Is. 24:7.) And I will cause the noise of thy songs to cease; and the sound of thy harps shall be no more heard. (Ez. 26:13.) I will also cause all her mirth to cease, her feast days, her new moons, and her sabbaths, and all her solemn feasts. (Hos. 2:11.)

b. Even all nations shall say, Wherefore hath the Lord done thus unto this land? what meaneth the heat of this great anger? (Dt. 29:24.) And many nations shall pass by this city, and they shall say every man to his neighbor, Wherefore hath the Lord done thus unto this great city? (Jer. 22:8.) And if thou say in thine heart, Wherefore come these things upon me? For the greatness of thine iniquity are thy skirts discovered, and thy heels made bare. (Jer. 13:22.)

c. And they shall answer, Because they forsook the Lord their God, who brought forth their fathers out of the land of Egypt, and have taken hold upon other gods, and have worshipped them, and served them; therefore hath the Lord brought upon them all this evil. (I Ks. 9:9.) Then they shall answer, Because they have forsaken the covenant of the Lord their God, and worshipped other gods, and served them. (Jer. 22:9.)

d. Yet they hearkened not unto me, nor inclined their ear, but hardened their neck: they did worse than their fathers. (Jer. 7:26.) But evil men and seducers shall wax worse and worse, deceiving, and being deceived. (II Tim. 3:13.)

e. For his eyes are upon the ways of man, and he seeth all his goings. (Job 34:21.) For the ways of man are before the eyes of the Lord, and he pondereth all his goings. (Prov. 5:21.) For there is nothing covered, that shall not be revealed; neither hid, that shall not be known. (Luke 12:2.) Therefore judge nothing before the time, until the Lord come, who both will bring to light the hidden things of darkness, and will make manifest the counsels of the hearts: and then shall every man have praise of God. (I Cor. 4:5.) Thou hast set our iniquities before thee, our secret sins in the light of thy countenance. (Ps. 90:8.)

f. The earth also is defiled under the inhabitants thereof; because they have transgressed the laws, changed the ordinance, broken the everlasting covenant. (Is. 24:5.)

g. The Lord is my rock, and my fortress, and my deliverer; my God, my strength, in whom I will trust; my buckler, and the horn of my salvation, and my high tower. (Ps. 18:2.) The Lord is their strength, 20 Shall a man make gods unto himself, and they are no gods?

21 Therefore, behold, I will this once cause them to know, I will cause them to know mine hand and my might; and they shall know that my name is [h]The Lord.

CHAPTER 17.

1 The captivity of Judah for her sin. 5 Trust in man is cursed, 7 in God is blessed. 12 The salvation of God. 15 The prophet complaineth of the mockers of his prophecy.

1 [1]The sin of Jū'dah is written with a pen of iron, and with the point of a diamond: it is [a]graven upon the table of [2]their heart, and upon the horns of your altars;

2 Whilst their children remember their altars and their [b]groves by the green trees upon the high hills.

3 O my mountain in the field, I will give thy substance and all thy treasures to the spoil, and thy high places for sin, throughout all thy borders.

4 And thou, even thyself, shalt discontinue from thine heritage that I gave thee; and I will cause thee to serve thine enemies in the land which thou knowest not: for ye have kindled a fire in mine anger, which shall burn for ever.

5 ¶ [3]Thus saith the Lord; [c]Cursed be the man that trusteth in man, and maketh flesh his arm, and whose heart departeth from the Lord.

6 For he shall be like the [4]heath in the desert, and shall not see when good cometh; but shall inhabit the parched places in the wilderness, in a [5]salt land and not inhabited.

7 [d]Blessed [6]is the man that trusteth in the Lord, and whose hope the Lord is.

8 For he shall be as a tree planted by the waters, and that spreadeth out her roots by the river, and shall not see when heat cometh, but her leaf shall be green; and shall not be careful in the year of drought, neither shall cease from yielding fruit.

9 ¶ [e]The heart is deceitful above all things, and desperately wicked: [7]who can know it?

10 I the Lord [f]search the heart, I try the reins, even to give [g]every man according to his ways, and according to the fruit of his doings.

11 As the partridge sitteth on eggs, and hatcheth them not; so he that getteth riches, and not by right, shall leave them in the midst of his days, and at his end shall be [h]a fool.

12 ¶ A glorious high throne from the beginning is the place of our sanctuary.

13 O Lord, the hope of Īs'ra-el, [i]all that forsake thee shall be ashamed, and they that depart from me shall be written in the earth, because they have forsaken the Lord, the fountain of living waters.

14 [8]Heal me, O Lord, and I shall be healed; save me, and I shall be saved: for thou art my praise.

15 ¶Behold, they say unto me, [j]Where is the word of the Lord? let it come now.

16 As for me, I have not hastened from being a [9]pastor to follow thee: neither have I desired the woeful day; thou knowest: that which came out of my lips was right before thee.

17 Be not a terror unto me: thou art my hope in the day of evil.

18 Let them be confounded that persecute me, but let not me be confounded: let them be dismayed, but let not me be dismayed: bring upon them the day of evil, and destroy them with double destruction.

19 ¶ [10]Thus said the Lord unto me; Go and stand in the gate of the children of the people, whereby the kings of Jū'dah come in, and by the which they go out, and in all the gates of Je-ru'sa-lĕm;

20 And say unto them, Hear ye the word of the Lord, ye kings of Jū'dah, and all Jū'dah, and all the inhabitants of Je-ru'sa-lĕm, that enter in by these gates:

21 Thus saith the Lord; [k]Take heed to yourselves, and bear no burden on the sabbath day, nor bring it in by the gates of Je-ru'sa-lĕm;

22 Neither carry forth a burden out of your houses on the sabbath day, neither do [l]ye any work, but hallow ye the sabbath day, as I commanded your fathers.

23 But they obeyed not, neither inclined their ear, but made their neck stiff, that they might not hear, nor receive instruction.

24 And it shall come to pass, if ye diligently hearken unto me, saith the Lord, to bring in no burden through the gates of this city on the sabbath day, but hallow the sabbath day, to do no work therein;

Ch. 17. B. C. 601.

2. Instead of writing the law of God upon their hearts, according to his will, they had instead written sin.

3. Vs. 5-13 give the sources of ruin.

4. Shrub.

5 Barren.

6. In v. 6 is a description of the man who puts his trust in man, and in v. 8 is given a simile describing the man who puts his trust in God.

7. The answer is given in v. 10, i. e., God and he alone.

8. In vs. 14-18 is recorded the prayer of Jer. for protection.

10. In vs. 19-27 is the exhortation to hallow the Sabbath.

and he is the saving strength of his anointed. (Ps. 28:8.) Pull me out of the net that they have laid privily for me; for thou art my strength. (Ps. 31:4.) The Lord is my light and my salvation; whom shall I fear? the Lord is the strength of my life; of whom shall I be afraid? (Ps. 27:1.) But the salvation of the righteous is of the Lord; he is their strength in the time of trouble. (Ps. 37:39.)

h. That men may know that thou, whose name alone is JEHOVAH, art the Most High over all the earth. (Ps. 83:18.)

Chapter 17.

a. Let not mercy and truth forsake thee: bind them about thy neck; write them upon the table of thine heart. (Prov. 3:3.) Forasmuch as ye are manifestly declared to be the epistle of Christ ministered by us, written not with ink, but with the Spirit of the living God; not in tables of stone, but in fleshy tables of the heart. (II Cor. 3:3.)

b. And the children of Israel did evil in the sight of the Lord, and forgat the Lord their God, and served Baalim and the groves. (Jud. 3:7.) For they shall be ashamed of the oaks which ye have desired, and ye shall be confounded for the gardens that ye have chosen. (Is. 1:29.) Enflaming yourselves with idols under every green tree, slaying the children in the valleys under the clifts of the rocks? (Is. 57:5.)

c. Woe to the rebellious children, saith the Lord, that take counsel, but not of me; and that cover with a covering, but not of my Spirit, that they may add sin to sin. (Is. 30:1.)

d. He that handleth a matter wisely shall find good; and whoso trusteth in the Lord, happy is he. (Prov. 16:20.) Judge me, O Lord; for I have walked in mine integrity: I have trusted also in the Lord; therefore I shall not slide. (Ps. 26:1.) I have hated them that regard lying vanities: but I trust in the Lord. (Ps. 31:6.) And again, I will put my trust in him. And again, Behold I and the children which God hath given me. (Heb. 2:13.) Let your conversation be without covetousness; and be content with such things as ye have: for he hath said, I will never leave thee, nor forsake thee. So that we may boldly say, The Lord is my helper, and I will not fear what man shall do unto me. (Heb. 13:5, 6.) Blessed is the man that trusteth in the Lord, and whose hope the Lord is. (Jer. 17:7.)

e. And God saw that the wickedness of man was great in the earth, and that every imagination of the thoughts of his heart was only evil continually. (Gen. 6:5.) For from within, out of the heart of men, proceed evil thoughts, adulteries, fornications, murders, Thefts, covetousness, wickedness, deceit, lasciviousness, an evil eye, blasphemy, pride, foolishness. (Mk. 7:21, 22.) But in vain they do worship me, teaching for doctrines the commandments of men. (Mat. 15:9.) For sin, taking occasion by the commandment, deceived me, and by it slew me. (Rom. 7:11.) That ye put off, concerning the former conversation, the old man, which is corrupt according to the deceitful lusts. (Eph. 4:22.)

f. And thou, Solomon my son, know thou the God of thy father, and serve him with a perfect heart, and with a willing mind; for the Lord searcheth all hearts, and understandeth all the imaginations of the thoughts: if thou seek him, he will be found of thee; but if thou forsake him, he will cast thee off for ever. (I Chr. 28:9.) The fining pot is for silver, and the furnace for gold: but the Lord trieth the hearts. (Prov. 17:3.) And he that searcheth the hearts knoweth what is the mind of the Spirit, because he maketh intercession for the saints according to the will of God. (Rom. 8:27.)

g. Also unto thee, O Lord, belongeth mercy: for thou renderest to every man according to his work. (Ps. 62:12.) For God shall bring every work into judgment, with every secret thing, whether it be good, or whether it be evil. (Ecc. 12:14.) He that is unjust, let him be unjust still: and he which is filthy, let him be filthy still; and he that is righteous, let him be righteous still: and he that is holy, let him be holy still. (Rev. 22:11.) Wherefore, if meat make my brother to offend, I will eat no flesh while the world standeth, lest I make my brother to offend. (I Cor. 8:13.) For we know him that hath said, Vengeance belongeth unto me, I will recompense, saith the Lord. And again, The Lord shall judge his people. (Heb. 10:30.)

h. But God said unto him, Thou fool, this night thy soul shall be required of thee: then whose shall those things be which thou hast provided? (Luke 12:20.)

i. For, lo, they that are far from thee shall perish: thou hast destroyed all them that go a whoring from thee. (Ps. 73:27.)

j. Woe unto you that desire the day of the Lord! to what end is it for you? the day of the Lord is darkness, and not light. (Amos 5:18.)

k. And while the children of Israel were in the wilderness, they found a man that gathered sticks upon the sabbath day (32). And the Lord said unto Moses, The man shall be surely put to death: all the congregation shall stone him with stones without the camp. (Num. 15:32, 35.)

l. Remember the sabbath day, to keep it holy. Six days shalt thou labor and do all thy work: But the seventh day is the sabbath of the Lord thy God: in it thou shalt not do any work, thou, nor thy son, nor thy daughter, thy man-servant, nor thy maid-servant, nor thy cattle, nor thy stranger that is within thy gates. (Ex. 20:8-10.) Six days thou

25 Then [m]shall there enter into the gates of this city kings and princes sitting upon the throne of Dā'vid, riding in chariots and on horses, they, and their princes, the men of Jū'dah, and the inhabitants of Je-rū'sa-lĕm: and this city shall remain for ever.

26 And they shall come from the cities of Jū'dah, and from the places about Je-rū'sa-lĕm, and from the land of Bĕn'ja-min, and from the plain, and from the mountains, and from the south, bringing burnt offerings, and sacrifices, and meat offerings, and incense, and bringing [n]sacrifices of praise, unto the house of the Lord.

27 But if ye will not hearken unto me to hallow the sabbath day, and not to bear a burden, even entering in at the gates of Je-rū'sa-lĕm on the sabbath day; then [o]will I kindle a fire in the gates thereof, and it shall devour the palaces of Je-rū'sa-lĕm, and it shall not be quenched.

CHAPTER 18.

1 Under the type of a potter is shewed God's absolute power in disposing of nations. 11 Judgments threatened to Judah for her strange revolt. 18 Jeremiah prayeth against his conspirators.

1 [1]The word which came to [2]Jĕr-e-mī'ah from the Lord, saying,

2 Arise, and go down to the potter's house, and there I will cause thee to hear my words.

3 Then I went down to the potter's house, and, behold, he wrought a work on the wheels.

4 And the vessel that he made of clay was marred in the hand of the potter: so he made it again another vessel, as seemed good to the potter to make it.

5 [3]Then the word of the Lord came to me, saying,

6 O house of Īs'ra-el, [a]cannot I do with you as this potter? saith the Lord. Behold, [b]as the clay is in the potter's hand, so are ye in mine hand, O house of Īs'ra-el.

7 At what instant I shall speak concerning a nation, and concerning a kingdom, to pluck up, and to pull down, and to destroy it;

8 If [c]that nation, against whom I have pronounced, turn from their evil, I will repent of the evil that I thought to do unto them.

9 And at what instant I shall speak concerning a nation, and concerning a kingdom, to build and to plant it;

10 If it do evil in my sight, that it obey not my voice, then I will repent of the good, wherewith I said I would benefit them.

Ch. 18. B. C. 605.

1. In ch. 18, by the symbol of the potter, moulding his vessel of clay, God, as sole sovereign, shows his absolute power in disposing of nations.

2. Vs. 1-4, the illustration of the potter.

3. In vs. 5-10 the parable is interpreted.

4. In vs. 11-17 the parable is applied to the condition of the Jews.

5. "Shall the snow of Lebanon fall from the rock of the field? or shall the cold waters that flow down from afar be dried up? for my people have forgotten me, they have burned incense to false gods; and they have been made to stumble in their ways in the ancient paths, to walk in bypaths, in a way not cast up."

6. In vs. 18-23 is recorded the manner in which people received the prophecy.

11 ¶ [4]Now therefore go to, speak to the men of Jū'dah, and to the inhabitants of Je-rū'sa-lĕm, saying, Thus saith the Lord; Behold, I frame evil against you, and devise a device against you: [d]return ye now every one from his evil way, and make your ways and your doings good.

12 And they said, There is no hope: but we will walk after our own devices, and we will every one do the imagination of his evil heart.

13 Therefore thus saith the Lord; [e]Ask ye now among the heathen, who hath heard such things: the virgin of Īs'ra-el hath done a very horrible thing.

14 [5]Will a man leave the snow of Lĕb'a-non which cometh from the rock of the field? or shall the cold flowing waters that come from another place be forsaken?

15 Because my people [f]hath forgotten me, they have burned incense to vanity, and they have caused them to stumble in their ways from the [g]ancient paths, to walk in paths, in a way not cast up;

16 To make their land desolate, and a perpetual hissing; every one that passeth thereby shall be astonished, and wag his head.

17 I will scatter them as with an east wind before the enemy; I will shew them the back, and not the face, in the day of their calamity.

18 ¶ [6]Then said they, [h]Come, and let us devise devices against Jĕr-e-mī'ah; for the law shall not perish from the priest, nor counsel from the wise, nor the word from the prophet. Come, and let us smite him with the tongue, and let us not give heed to any of his words.

19 Give heed to me, O Lord, and hearken to the voice of them that contend with me.

20 Shall evil be recompensed for good? for they have digged a pit for my soul. Remember that I stood before thee to speak good for them, and to turn away thy wrath from them.

21 Therefore deliver up their children to the famine, and pour out their blood by the force of the sword; and let their wives be bereaved of their children, and be widows; and let their men be put to death; let their young men be slain by the sword in battle.

22 Let a cry be heard from their houses, when thou shalt bring a troop suddenly upon them: for they have digged a pit to take me, and hid snares for my feet.

23 Yet, Lord, thou knowest all their counsel against me to slay me: [i]forgive not their iniquity, neither blot out their sin from thy sight, but let them be overthrown before thee; deal thus with them in the time of thine anger.

shalt work; but on the seventh day thou shalt rest: in earing time and in harvest thou shalt rest. (Ex. 34:21.) Speak thou also unto the children of Israel, saying, Verily my sabbaths ye shall keep: for it is a sign between me and you throughout your generations; that ye may know that I am the Lord that doth sanctify you. Ye shall keep the sabbath therefore; for it is holy unto you: every one that defileth it shall surely be put to death: for whosoever doeth any work therein, that soul shall be cut off from among his people. (Ex. 31:13, 14.)

m. Thou shalt keep therefore his statutes, and his commandments, which I command thee this day, that it may go well with thee, and with thy children after thee, and that thou mayest prolong thy days upon the earth, which the Lord thy God giveth thee, for ever. (Dt. 4:40.)

n. And let them sacrifice the sacrifices of thanksgiving, and declare his works with rejoicing. (Ps. 107:22.) I will offer to thee the sacrifice of thanksgiving, and will call upon the name of the Lord. (Ps. 116:17.)

o. The Lord hath accomplished his fury; he hath poured out his fierce anger, and hath kindled a fire in Zion, and it hath devoured the foundations thereof. (Lam. 4:11.)

Chapter 18.

a. Nay but, O man, who art thou that repliest against God? Shall the thing formed say to him that formed it, Why hast thou made me thus? Hath not the potter power over the clay, of the same lump to make one vessel unto honor, and another unto dishonor? (Rom. 9:20, 21.)

b. But now, O Lord, thou art our Father; we are the clay, and thou our potter; and we all are the work of thy hand. (Is. 64:8.)

c. But if the wicked will turn from all his sins that he hath committed, and keep all my statutes, and do that which is lawful and right, he shall surely live, he shall not die. (Ez. 18:21.) Say unto them, As I live, saith the Lord God, I have no pleasure in the death of the wicked; but that the wicked turn from his way and live: turn ye, turn ye from your evil ways; for why will ye die, O house of Israel? (Ez. 33:11.) And God saw their works, that they turned from their evil way; and God repented of the evil that he had said that he would do unto them; and he did it not. (Jon. 3:10.)

d. Yet the Lord testified against Israel and against Judah by all the prophets, and by all the seers, saying, Turn ye from your evil ways, and keep my commandments and my statutes, according to all the law which I commanded your fathers, and which I sent to you by my servants the prophets. (II Ks. 17:13.) Then spake Jeremiah unto all the princes, and to all the people, saying, The Lord sent me to prophesy against this house and against this city all the words that ye have heard. Therefore now amend your ways and your doings, and obey the voice of the Lord your God; and the Lord will repent him of the evil that he hath pronounced against you. (Jer. 26:12, 13.)

e. Who hath heard such a thing? who hath seen such things? Shall the earth be made to bring forth in one day? or shall a nation be born at once? for as soon as Zion travailed, she brought forth her children. (Is. 66:8.) For pass over the isles of Chittim, and see; and send unto Kedar, and consider diligently, and see if there be such a thing: Hath a nation changed their gods, which are yet no gods? but my people have changed their glory for that which doth not profit. (Jer. 2:10, 11.)

f. For my people have committed two evils; they have forsaken me, the fountain of living waters, and hewed them out cisterns, broken cisterns, that can hold no water. (Jer. 2:13.) A voice was heard upon the high places, weeping and supplications of the children of Israel: for they have perverted their way, and they have forgotten the Lord their God. (Jer. 3:21.)

g. They have moved me to jealousy with that which is not God; they have provoked me to anger with their vanities: and I will move them to jealousy with those which are not a people; I will provoke them to anger with a foolish nation. (Dt. 32:21.) Thus saith the Lord, Stand ye in the ways, and see, and ask for the old paths, where is the good way, and walk therein, and ye shall find rest for your souls. But they said, We will not walk therein. (Jer. 6:16.) All we like sheep have gone astray; we have turned every one to his own way; and the Lord hath laid on him the iniquity of us all. (Is. 53:6.)

h. Ye stiff-necked and uncircumcised in heart and ears, ye do always resist the Holy Ghost: as your fathers did, so do ye. (Acts 7:51.) For the time will come when they will not endure sound doctrine; but after their own lusts shall they heap to themselves teachers, having itching ears. (II Tim. 4:3.)

i. And cover not their iniquity, and let not their sin be blotted out

CHAPTER 19.

Under the type of breaking a potter's vessel is foreshewed the desolation of the Jews for their sins.

1 [1]Thus saith the Lord, Go and get a potter's earthen bottle, and take of the [2]ancients of the people, and of the [2]ancients of the priests;

2 And go forth unto the valley of the son of Hĭn'nom, which is by the entry of the east gate, and proclaim there the words that I shall tell thee,

3 And say, Hear ye the word of the Lord, O kings of Jū'dah, and inhabitants of Je-rū'sa-lĕm; Thus saith the Lord of hosts, the God of Ĭs'ra-el; Behold, I will bring evil upon this place, the which whosoever heareth, his ears shall tingle.

4 Because they [a]have forsaken me, and have estranged this place, and have burned incense in it unto other gods, whom neither they nor their fathers have known, nor the kings of Jū'dah, and have filled this place with [b]the blood of innocents;

5 They have built also the high places of Bā'al, to burn their sons with fire for burnt offerings unto Bā'al, which I commanded not, nor spake it, neither came it into my mind:

6 Therefore, behold, the days come, saith the Lord, that this place shall no more be called Tō'phet, nor The valley of the son of Hĭn'nom, but The valley of slaughter.

7 And I will make void the counsel of Jū'dah and Je-rū'sa-lĕm in this place; [c]and I will cause them to fall by the sword before their enemies, and by the hands of them that seek their lives: and their carcases will I give to be meat for the fowls of the heaven and for the beasts of the earth.

8 And I will make this city desolate, and an hissing; every one that passeth thereby shall be astonished and hiss because of all the plagues thereof.

9 And I will cause them to [3]eat the [d]flesh of their sons and the flesh of their daughters, and they shall eat every one the flesh of his friend in the siege and straitness, wherewith their enemies, and they that seek their lives, shall straiten them.

10 Then shalt thou break the bottle in the sight of the men that go with thee,

11 And shalt say unto them, Thus saith the Lord of hosts; [e]Even so will I break this people and this city, as one breaketh a potter's vessel, that cannot be made whole again: and they shall bury them in Tō'phet, till there be no place to bury.

12 Thus will I do unto this place, saith the Lord, and to the inhabitants thereof, and even make this city as Tō'phet:

13 And the houses of Je-rū'sa-lĕm, and the houses of the kings of Jū'dah, shall be defiled as the place of Tō'phet, because of all the houses upon whose roofs they have burned incense unto all the host of heaven, and have poured out drink offerings unto other gods.

14 [4]Then came Jĕr-e-mī'ah from Tō'phet, whither the Lord had sent him to prophesy; and he stood in [f]the court of the Lord's house; and said to all the people,

15 Thus saith the Lord of hosts, the God of Ĭs'ra-el; Behold, I will bring upon this city and upon all her towns all the evil that I have pronounced against it, because they have hardened their necks, that they might not hear my words.

CHAPTER 20.

1 Pashur, smiting Jeremiah, receiveth a new name, and a fearful doom. 7 Jeremiah complaineth of contempt, 10 of treachery, 14 and of his birth.

1 [1]Now Păsh'ŭr the son of Ĭm'mēr the priest, who was also chief governor in the house of the Lord, heard that Jĕr-e-mī'ah prophesied these things.

2 Then Păsh'ŭr smote [2]Jĕr-e-mī'ah the prophet, and put him in the [3]stocks that were in the high gate of Bĕn'ja-min, which was by the house of the Lord.

3 And it came to pass on the morrow, that Păsh'ŭr brought forth Jĕr-e-mī'ah out of the stocks. Then said Jĕr-e-mī'ah unto him, The Lord hath not called thy name Păsh'ŭr, but Mā'gor-mĭs'sa-bīb.

4 For thus saith the Lord, Behold, I will make thee a [a]terror to thyself, and to all thy friends: and they shall fall by the sword of their enemies, and thine eyes shall behold it: and I will give all Jū'dah into the hand of the king of Băb'ў-lon, and he shall carry them captive into Băb'ў-lon, and shall slay them with the sword.

5 Moreover I will deliver all the strength of this city, and all the labours thereof, and all the precious things thereof, and all the treasures of thē kings of Jū'dah will I give into the hand of their enemies, which shall spoil them, and take them, and carry them to Băb'ў-lon.

6 And thou, Păsh'ŭr, and all that dwell in thine house shall go into captivity: and thou shalt come to Băb'ў-lon, and there thou shalt die, and shalt be buried there, thou, and all thy friends, to whom thou hast [b]prophesied lies.

7 ¶ [4]O Lord, thou hast deceived me, and I was deceived: thou art stronger than I, and hast prevailed: I am in derision daily, every one mocketh me.

8 For since I spake, I cried out, I cried [5]violence and spoil; because the word of the Lord was made a reproach unto me, and a derision, daily.

9 Then I said, I will not make mention of him, nor speak any more in his name. But his word was in mine heart as a burning fire shut up in my bones, and I was weary with forbearing, and [c]I could not stay.

Ch. 19. B. C. 605.

1. In ch. 19, through the symbol of breaking a water pitcher is foretold the destruction of the Jews.

2. Elders.

3. A terrible famine to follow the other judgments to make the destruction complete. This part of the prophecy was fulfilled in Lam. 20:22.

4. Vs. 14, 15 properly belong to ch. 20, and give Jeremiah's message in the temple.

Ch. 20. B. C. 605.

1. In ch. 20 Jer. renews his predictions against Jerusalem, and Pashur, principal officer of the temple, places him in the stocks for prophesying within the temple.

2. This is the first occurrence mentioned showing that Jer. has a public recognition in his prophetical character.

3. An instrument of torture, having five holes in it, one for the neck, each hand and each foot, thus holding the body in a stooping posture. Paul and Silas were likewise punished. (Acts 16:24)—"Who, having received such a charge, thrust them into the inner prison and made their feet fast into stocks."

4. In vs. 7-18 is recorded Jer.'s complaint.

5. That is, could not speak calmly and quietly, but through pain cried out.

from before thee: for they have provoked thee to anger before the builders. (Neh. 4:5.) Let the iniquity of his fathers be remembered with the Lord; and let not the sin of his mother be blotted out. (Ps. 109:14.) And the mean man boweth down, and the great man humbleth himself: therefore forgive them not. (Is. 2:9.)

Chapter 19.

a. The Lord shall send upon thee cursing, vexation, and rebuke, in all that thou settest thine hand unto for to do, until thou be destroyed, and until thou perish quickly; because of the wickedness of thy doings, whereby thou hast forsaken me. (Dt. 28:20.) Thou hast forsaken me, saith the Lord, thou art gone backward: therefore will I stretch out my hand against thee, and destroy thee; I am weary with repenting. (Jer. 15:6.) O Lord, the hope of Israel, all that forsake thee shall be ashamed, and they that depart from me shall be written in the earth, because they have forsaken the Lord, the fountain of living waters. (Jer. 17:13.)

b. Moreover Manasseh shed innocent blood very much, till he had filled Jerusalem from one end to another: besides his sin wherewith he made Judah to sin, in doing that which was evil in the sight of the Lord. (II Ks. 21:16.)

c. And I will set my face against you, and ye shall be slain before your enemies: they that hate you shall reign over you; and ye shall flee when none pursueth you. (Lev. 26:17.) The Lord shall cause thee to be smitten before thine enemies: thou shalt go out one way against them, and flee seven ways before them; and shalt be removed into all the kingdoms of the earth. (Dt. 28:25.)

d. And ye shall eat the flesh of your sons, and the flesh of your daughters shall ye eat. (Lev. 26:29.) The hands of the pitiful women have sodden their own children: they were their meat in the destruction of the daughters of my people. (Lam. 4:10.)

e. Thou shalt break them with a rod of iron; thou shalt dash them in pieces like a potter's vessel. (Ps. 2:9.) The precious sons of Zion, comparable to fine gold, how are they esteemed as earthen pitchers, the work of the hands of the potter! (Lam. 4:2.)

f. And Jehoshaphat stood in the congregation of Judah and Jerusalem, in the house of the Lord, before the new court. (II Chr. 20:5.)

Chapter 20.

a. Terrors shall make him afraid on every side, and shall drive him to his feet. (Job 18:11.) Wherefore have I seen them dismayed and turned away back? and their mighty ones are beaten down, and are fled apace, and look not back: for fear was round about, saith the Lord. (Jer. 46:5.)

b. Then said I, Ah, Lord God! behold, the prophets say unto them, Ye shall not see the sword, neither shall ye have famine; but I will give you assured peace in this place. Then the Lord said unto me, The prophets prophesy lies in my name: I sent them not, neither have I commanded them, neither spake unto them: they prophesy unto you a false vision and divination, and a thing of nought, and the deceit of their hearts. (Jer. 14:13, 14.)

c. For I am full of matter; the spirit within me constraineth me. Behold, my belly is as wine which hath no vent; it is ready to burst like 10 ¶ For I heard the defaming of many, fear on every side. Report, say they, and we will report it. All my familiars watched for my halting, saying, Peradventure he will be enticed, and we shall prevail against him, and we shall take our revenge on him.

11 But [d]the Lord is with me as a mighty terrible one: therefore my persecutors shall stumble, and they shall not [e]prevail: they shall be greatly ashamed; for they shall not prosper: their everlasting confusion shall never be forgotten.

12 But, O Lord of hosts, that [f]triest the righteous, and seest the reins and the heart, [g]let me see thy vengeance on them: for unto thee have I opened my cause.

13 Sing unto the Lord, praise ye the Lord: for he hath delivered the soul of the poor from the hand of evildoers.

14 ¶ Cursed be the day wherein I was born: let not the day wherein my mother bare me be blessed.

15 Cursed be the man who brought tidings to my father, saying, A man child is born unto thee; making him very glad.

16 And let that man be as the cities which the Lord overthrew, and repented not: and let him hear the cry in the morning, and the shouting at noontide;

17 Because he slew me not from the womb; or that my mother might have been my grave, and her womb to be always great with me.

18 Wherefore came I forth out of the womb to see labour and sorrow, that my days should be consumed [h]with shame?

CHAPTER 21.

1 Zedekiah sendeth to Jeremiah to enquire the event of Nebuchadrezzar's war. 3 Jeremiah foretelleth a hard siege and miserable captivity. 8 He counselleth the people to fall to the Chaldeans, 11 and upbraideth the king's house.

1 [1]The word which came unto Jĕr-e-mī'ah from the [2]Lord, when king Zĕd-e-kī'ah sent unto him Păsh'ŭr the son of Mĕl-chī'ah, and Zĕph-a-nī'ah the son of Mā-a-sē'iah the priest, saying,

2 Enquire, [a]I pray thee, of the Lord for us; for Nĕb-u-chăd-rĕz'zar king of Băb'ў-lon maketh war against us; if so be that the Lord will deal with us according to all his wondrous works, that he may go up from us.

Ch. 21. B. C. 589.

1. With this ch. and extending to ch. 33, begins a series of prophecies concerning the judgments to be accomplished by the Chaldeans and of the Messianic salvation. In this ch. Zedekiah consults the prophet regarding the event of the war and receives God's answer.

2. For the historical setting of this ch. see chs. 37 and 38, between which it logically belongs.

3. Vs. 3-14 record the prophet's answer to the king's questions in vs. 1, 2.

4. The arm which so many times has been outstretched to fight for them will now, because of their sins, fight against them.

5. Will deliver into the hands of the enemy.

3 ¶ [3]Then said Jĕr-e-mī'ah unto them, Thus shall ye say to Zĕd-e-kī'ah:

4 Thus saith the Lord God of Ĭs'ra-el; Behold, I will turn back the weapons of war that are in your hands, wherewith ye fight against the king of Băb'ў-lon, and against the Chăl-dē'ans, which besiege you without the walls, and I will assemble them into the midst of this city.

5 And I myself will fight against you with an [b]outstretched [4]hand and with a strong arm, even in anger, and in fury, and in great wrath.

6 And I will smite the inhabitants of this city, both man and beast: they shall die of a great pestilence.

7 And afterward, saith the Lord, I will deliver [5]Zĕd-e-kī'ah king of Jū'dah, and his servants, and the people, and such as are left in this city from the pestilence, from the sword, and from the famine, into the hand of Nĕb-u-chăd-rĕz'zar king of Băb'ў-lon, and into the hand of their enemies, and into the hand of those that seek their life: and he shall smite them with the edge of the sword; [c]he shall not spare them, neither have pity, nor have mercy.

8 ¶ And unto this people thou shalt say, Thus saith the Lord; Behold, [d]I set before you the way of life, and the way of death.

9 He that abideth in this city shall die by the sword, and by the famine, and by the pestilence: but he that goeth out, and falleth to the Chăl-dē'ans that besiege you, he shall live, and [e]his life shall be unto him for a prey.

10 For I have set my face against this city for evil, and not for good, saith the Lord: it shall be given into the hand of the king of Băb'ў-lon, and he shall burn it with fire.

11 ¶ And touching the house of the king of Jū'dah, say, Hear ye the word of the Lord;

12 O house of Dā'vid, thus saith the Lord; Execute judgment in the morning, and deliver him that is spoiled out of the hand of the oppressor, lest my fury go out like fire, and burn that none can quench it, because of the evil of your doings.

13 Behold, [f]I am against thee, O inhabitant of the valley, and rock of the plain, saith the Lord; which say, Who shall come down against us? or who shall enter into our habitations?

14 But I will punish you [g]according to the fruit of your doings, saith the Lord: and I will kindle a fire in the forest thereof, and it shall devour all things round about it.

new bottles. I will speak, that I may be refreshed: I will open my lips and answer. (Job 32:18-20.) And when Silas and Timotheus were come from Macedonia, Paul was pressed in the spirit, and testified to the Jews that Jesus was Christ. (Acts 18:5.)

d. Be not afraid of their faces: for I am with thee to deliver thee, saith the Lord. (Jer. 1:8.) What shall we then say to these things? If God be for us, who can be against us? (Rom. 8:31.)

e. And I will make thee unto this people a fenced brasen wall: and they shall fight against thee, but they shall not prevail against thee: for I am with thee to save thee, and to deliver thee, saith the Lord. (Jer. 15:20.)

f. I the Lord search the heart, I try the reins, even to give every man according to his ways, and according to the fruit of his doings. (Jer. 17:10.)

g. For he hath delivered me out of all trouble; and mine eye hath seen his desire upon mine enemies. (Ps. 54:7.) The God of my mercy shall prevent me: God shall let me see my desire upon mine enemies. (Ps. 59:10.)

h. For I think that God hath set forth us the apostles last, as it were appointed to death: for we are made a spectacle unto the world, and to angels, and to men. We are fools for Christ's sake, but ye are wise in Christ; we are weak, but ye are strong; ye are honorable, but we are despised. Even unto this present hour we both hunger, and thirst, and are naked and are buffeted, and have no certain dwelling-place; And labor, working with our own hands: being reviled, we bless; being persecuted, we suffer it; Being defamed, we entreat: we are made as the filth of the world, and are the off-scouring of all things unto this day. (I Cor. 4:9-13.) Thou hast known my reproach, and my shame, and my dishonor: mine adversaries are all before thee. (Ps. 69:19.)

Chapter 21.

a. Entreat the Lord (for it is enough) that there be no more mighty thunderings and hail; and I will let you go, and ye shall stay no longer. (Ex. 9:28.)

b. Wherefore say unto the children of Israel, I am the Lord, and I will bring you out from under the burdens of the Egyptians, and I will rid you out of their bondage, and I will redeem you with a stretched-out arm, and with great judgments. (Ex. 6:6.)

c. A nation of fierce countenance, which shall not regard the person of the old, nor show favor to the young. (Dt. 28:50.) And mine eye shall not spare, neither will I have pity: I will recompense thee according to thy ways and thine abominations that are in the midst of thee; and ye shall know that I am the Lord that smiteth. (Ez. 7:9.) For, lo, I raise up the Chaldeans, that bitter and hasty nation, which shall march through the breadth of a land, to possess the dwelling places that are not theirs. They are terrible and dreadful: their judgment and their dignity shall proceed of themselves. Their horses also are swifter than the leopards, and are more fierce than the evening wolves: and their horsemen shall spread themselves, and their horsemen shall come from far; they shall fly as the eagle that hasteth to eat. They shall come all for violence: their faces shall sup up as the east wind, and they shall gather the captivity as the sand. And they shall scoff at the kings, and the princes shall be a scorn unto them: they shall deride every strong hold; for they shall heap dust, and take it. (Hab. 1:6-10.)

d. I call heaven and earth to record this day against you, that I have set before you life and death, blessing and cursing: therefore choose life, that both thou and thy seed may live. (Dt. 30:19.) If ye be willing and obedient, ye shall eat the good of the land: But if ye refuse and rebel, ye shall be devoured with the sword: for the mouth of the Lord hath spoken it. (Is. 1:19, 20.)

e. For I will surely deliver thee, and thou shalt not fall by the sword, but thy life shall be for a prey unto thee; because thou hast put thy trust in me, saith the Lord. (Jer. 39:18.)

f. Therefore, thus saith the Lord God; Because ye have spoken vanity, and seen lies, therefore, behold, I am against you, saith the Lord God. (Ez. 13:8.) Therefore, behold, I am against the prophets, saith the Lord, that steal my words every one from his neighbor. Behold, I am against the prophets, saith the Lord, that use their tongues, and say, He saith. Behold, I am against them that prophesy false dreams, saith the Lord, and do tell them, and cause my people to err by their lies, and by their lightness; yet I sent them not, nor commanded them: therefore they shall not profit this people at all, saith the Lord. (Jer. 23:30-32.

g. For God shall bring every work into judgment, with every secret thing, whether it be good, or whether it be evil. (Ecc. 12:14.) And, behold, I come quickly; and my reward is with me, to give every man according as his work shall be. (Rev. 22:12.) Wherefore, if meat make

CHAPTER 22.

1 He exhorteth to repentance, with promises and threats. 10 The judgment of Shallum, 13 of Jehoiakim, 20 and of Coniah.

1 [1]Thus saith the Lord; Go down to the house of the king of Jū'dah, and speak there this word,

2 And say, Hear the word of the Lord, O king of Jū'dah, that sittest upon the throne of Dā'vid, thou, and thy servants, and thy people that enter in by these gates:

3 Thus saith the Lord; [a]Execute ye judgment and righteousness, and deliver the spoiled out of the hand of the oppressor: and do no wrong, do no violence to the stranger, the fatherless, nor the widow, neither shed innocent blood in this place.

4 For if ye do this thing indeed, then shall there enter in by the gates of this house kings sitting upon the throne of Dā'vid, riding in chariots and on horses, he, and his servants, and his people.

5 But if ye will not hear these words, [b]I swear by myself, saith the Lord, that this house shall become a desolation.

6 For thus saith the Lord unto the king's house of Jū'dah; Thou art Gĭl'e-ăd [2]unto me, and the [2]head of Lĕb'a-non: yet surely I will make thee [c]a wilderness, and cities which are not inhabited.

7 And I will prepare destroyers against thee, every one with his weapons: and they shall cut down thy choice cedars, and cast them into the fire.

8 And many nations shall pass by this city, and they shall say every man to his neighbour, [d]Wherefore hath the Lord done thus unto this great city?

9 Then they shall answer, [e]Because they have forsaken the covenant of the Lord their God, and worshipped other gods, and served them.

10 ¶ [3]Weep ye not for the [4]dead, neither bemoan him: but weep sore for him that goeth away: for he shall return no more, nor see his native country.

11 For thus saith the Lord touching Shăl'lum the son of Jo-sī'ah king of Jū'dah, which reigned instead of Jo-sī'ah his father, which went forth out of this place; He shall not return thither any more:

12 But he shall die in the place whither they have led him captive, and shall see this land no more.

13 ¶ Woe [5]unto him that buildeth his house by unrighteousness, and his chambers by wrong; [f]that useth his neighbour's service without wages, and giveth him not for his work;

14 That saith, I will build me a wide house and large chambers, and cutteth him out windows; and it is [6]cieled with cedar, and painted with vermilion.

15 Shalt thou reign, because thou closest thyself in cedar? did not thy father eat and drink, and do judgment and justice, [g]and then it was well with him?

16 He judged the cause of the poor and needy; then [g]it was well with him: was not this to know me? saith the Lord.

17 But thine eyes and thine heart are not but for thy covetousness, and for to shed innocent blood, and for oppression, and for violence, to do it.

18 Therefore thus saith the Lord concerning Je-hoi'a-kim the son of Jo-sī'ah king of Jū'dah; They shall not lament for him, saying, Ah my brother! or, Ah sister! they shall not lament for him, saying, Ah lord! or, Ah his glory!

19 He shall be buried with the burial of an ass, drawn and cast forth beyond the gates of Je-ru'sa-lĕm.

20 ¶ Go up to Lĕb'a-non, and cry; and lift up thy voice in Bā'shăn, and cry from the passages: for all thy lovers are destroyed.

21 I spake unto thee in thy prosperity; but thou saidst, I will not hear. [h]This hath been thy manner from thy youth, that thou obeyedst not my voice.

22 The wind shall eat up all thy pastors, and thy lovers shall go into captivity: surely then shalt thou be ashamed and [i]confounded for all thy wickedness.

23 O inhabitant of [7]Lĕb'a-non, that makest thy nest in the cedars, how gracious shalt thou be when pangs come upon thee, the pain as of a woman in travail!

24 As I live, saith the Lord, though Co-nī'ah the son of Je-hoi'a-kim king of Jū'dah were the signet upon my right hand, yet would I pluck thee thence;

25 [j]And I will give thee into the hand of them that seek thy life, and into the hand of them whose face thou fearest, even into the hand of Nĕb-u-chăd-rĕz'zar king of Băb'y-lon, and into the hand of the Chăl-dē'ans.

26 And I will cast thee out, and thy mother that bare thee, into another country, where ye were not born; and there shall ye die.

27 But to the land whereunto they desire to return, thither shall they not return.

28 Is this man Co-nī'ah a despised broken idol? is he [k]a vessel wherein is no pleasure?

Ch. 22. B. C. 609.

1. In this ch. is a short exhortation to repentance, and judgments are pronounced upon Shallum, Jehoiakim and Coniah. In vs. 1-9 is recorded the exhortation to righteousness.

2. Gilead, the most beautiful forest in all the holy land, and Lebanon, the symbol of stateliness and magnificence; therefore they were strong figures typifying Jehovah's feelings toward the house of Judah.

3. In vs. 10-30 are detailed the judgments on the three kings, Shallum, Jehoiakim and Coniah.

4. Those dying in God are not to be mourned for as much as those living in sin are to be pitied.

5. Jehoiakim.

my brother to offend, I will eat no flesh while the world standeth, lest I make my brother to offend. (I Cor. 8:13.) For we know him that hath said, Vengeance belongeth unto me, I will recompense, saith the Lord. And again, The Lord shall judge his people. (Heb. 10:30.)

Chapter 22.

a. For if ye thoroughly amend your ways and your doings; if you thoroughly execute judgment between a man and his neighbor. (Jer. 7:5.) And say unto them, Hear ye the word of the Lord, ye kings of Judah, and all Judah, and all the inhabitants of Jerusalem, that enter in by these gates. (Jer. 17:20.) O house of David, thus saith the Lord; Execute judgment in the morning, and deliver him that is spoiled out of the hand of the oppressor, lest my fury go out like fire, and burn that none can quench it, because of the evil of your doings. (Jer. 21:12.)

b. For when God made promise to Abraham, because he could swear by no greater, he sware by himself. (Heb. 6:13.)

c. Therefore shall Zion for your sake be plowed as a field, and Jerusalem shall become heaps, and the mountain of the house as the high places of the forest. (Mic. 3:12.) A fruitful land into barrenness, for the wickedness of them that dwell therein. (Ps. 107:34.) Then said I, Lord, how long? And he answered, Until the cities be wasted without inhabitant, and the houses without man, and the land be utterly desolate. (Is. 6:11.)

d. Even all nations shall say, Wherefore hath the Lord done thus unto this land? what meaneth the heat of this great anger? Then men shall say, Because they have forsaken the covenant of the Lord God of their fathers, which he made with them when he brought them forth out of the land of Egypt. (Dt. 29:24, 25.)

e. Because they have forsaken me, and have burnt incense unto other gods, that they might provoke me to anger with all the works of their hands; therefore my wrath shall be kindled against this place, and shall not be quenched. (II Ks. 22:17.)
